FUEL DEALERS CUT PRICES BITUMINOUS COAL IN THE WEST VIRGINIA DISTRICTS

PROFITEERING EVIDENCE INVESTIGATED BY ATTORNEY-GENERAL PALMER—A BIG BREAK IN THE COAL MARKET.

WASHINGTON, August 25.—On the heels of Attorney-General Palmer's instructions of yesterday to all United States District Attorneys to put an end to all profiteering in bituminous coal, the Federal Trade Commission to-day made public its findings on bituminous coal costs, based on its latest monthly returns. The information contained in this report is understood to have been in the hands of the Department of Justice when the Attorney-General issued his order to District Attorneys to put a stop on alleged coal profiteers.

Admiral Benson, chairman of the United States Shipping Board, complained on Friday that he has to pay from $20.00 to $22.00 a ton for coal for bunker purposes. The report made public by the Federal Trade Commission to-day states that if the operators reporting for the West Virginia fields are representative of the State, average reported sales realisation of West Virginian operators f.o.b. the mine, which is $3.40, plus transportation, which amount to about $2.00, lays coal down f.o.b. cars at railroad terminals serving Hampton Roads at about $5.40 per ton net. This is coal for which the Shipping Board had had to pay from $20.00 to $22.00 a ton.

Simultaneously with the making public to-day of the Federal Trade Commission's report, and following Attorney-General Palmer's orders of yesterday to the District Attorneys, the District Attorney's office at Baltimore this afternoon informed the Attorney-General's office that there had been a great break in the bituminous coal market at Baltimore.

According to the information telephoned by the Baltimore District Attorney, bituminous coal at Baltimore to-day first dropped to $12.75 a ton, then to $9.75 a ton, and then broke to $8.75 a ton. Even at the latter figure there were refusals to buy by those who seemed to think there would a further drop in the price of soft coal.

Committee to Hear Firemen's Complaints

FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT COMMITTEE APPOINTED BY THE COUNCIL TO DEAL WITH GRIEVANCES IN A FORM OF PRELIMINARY HEARING—REPORT TO COUNCIL IF COMMITTEE IMPRESSED.

The Trades and Labour Council's request for a public investigation of the Fire Department and its affairs was referred to the Fire, Water and Light committee at the special meeting last night Several letters from the Firemen's Union bearing on the same subject and on the dismissal of the three firemen on the ground of inefficiency were similarly disposed of.

"Let the complaints come through the proper channel," said Ald. Whitehouse, who contended that they should follow the prescribed course through committee which in turn would make a report to the Council.

The Labour Council's petition was supported by a large deputation, with Messrs. T. Tooms, M.L.A. and T. H. Lane, president of the Trades Council, as spokesmen, and by ex-Ald. Murray, who said he was not now a member of the Labour Council, but as a citizen was interested in the Fire Department and its efficiency.

"With all due respects to the Trades Council," Ald. Whitehouse said, "the complaints should be aired before the Fire, Water and Light committeee. They will be dealt with properly and without prejudice. Lay them first before the committee and if an investigation is found necessary then it can be made public before the Council, but let it come through the proper channel."

Have Twenty-six Cases.

Ald. Gordon asked whether the firemen had any specific complaints made out in a manner that gave them weight as evidence.

Mr. Tooms held up several sheets of paper on which, he said, there were twenty-six complaints set out in detail, and the firemen were prepared to sign them and vouch for their truth.

"Bring it out in the open here," Ald. Gainey proposed. "I am not a member of the Fire, Water and Light committee and would have no voice in the hearing."

Ald. Gordon's other legal self spoke in the suggestion that before the committee the firemen would be called in one by one to make their complaints and give evidence. This was the proper way, he said, instead of all the witnesses being together at an open meeting.

Appearance of Bias.

Ald. Crowe remarked that some members of the Council appeared to have formed their opinions already. If there was no prejudice there wouldn't be any objection to the committee hearing.

"I have kept away from the firemen, chief and everybody, but it appears to me that some members have already formed their opinions," said Ald. Crowe.

Aldermen Morrison, Jones and Whitehouse objected to this statement and demanded that it be withdrawn.

Ald. Morrison—I don't care where the resolution goes before, but I don't want Ald. Crowe to say that I'm committed. If he's of that stamp I'm not."

The Trades Council request and the supporting appeals of the deputation's speakers urged that the usual committee red tape be dispensed with in the investigation, and when the resolution was finally passed and the audience had dispersed, Mr. Tooms and Mr. Murray returned for a further explanation of the procedure the Council purposed following.

They were assured that the press would be admitted to the meeting of the Fire, Water and Light committee and were told, in effect, that if the complaints were considered by the committee to warrant an investigation in open Council that a recommendation would be brought in as a report.

Dismissed Men Experienced.

Addressing the Council, Mr. Tooms said that the three firemen dismissed by Chief Grange had years of experience. If they were inefficient whose fault was it? That there were lax methods in the Fire Department was common knowledge. The firemen's statement that they had appealed to the chairman of the committee and to the Chief would come out in the investigation and that was one reason why it was desired. The men declare they have had no drill in two years. How can we have an efficient force if they are untrained, Mr. Tooms asked.

"The public holds the head of the department responsible for the efficiency of his force. In Toronto, Hamilton and other cities the firemen have daily drill. A competitive system is employed in climbing and hoisting ladders and other details of their routine. Here there has been no drill and even the horses are untrained. In the case of the Peterborough Canoe Company fire one horse trotted out of the hall and off toward Charlotte street instead of taking its place at the waggon. The firemen are there to

LAVISH BUTLER HELD AS THIEF

NEW YORK, August 25.—Joseph Cagnotto received less than $100.00 a month during the years he had served as a butler in the homes of various prominent residents of Westchester County and New Jersey, but, according to the authorities of Westchester County he has made two trips, first-class, to Italy during the last three years; he has sent $10,000.00 back to the old country each year; he owns forty-five suits of clothing, and he has more than $25,000.00 in the bank. And besides that he owns several blocks of stock, believed by the authorities to be of considerable value.

Now Cagnotto is in jail at Bedford, N.Y., on a specific charge of stealing a gold watch and several pieces of silverware from the home of Sevin Breding, a stockbroker living in Bedford, where he had been a butler for the last two years. The other property was unearthed when Cagnotto was arrested last Friday.

Mr. Breding discovered some time ago that his best watch was missing, and shortly after that he found that silverware was beginning to disappear. He called in George Mills, chief of the Bedford Police, who in turn communicated with Deputy-Sheriff Cherico. They investigated Cagnotto's record, and found that he had previously been a butler in the home of Mrs. Elziabeth Berkey, of Spring Lake, N.J. From the Berkey home had disappeared a large ring with three diamonds, a horseshoe pin set with diamonds, and shortly after these things had vanished Cagnotto left also.

The officers immediately arrested Cagnotto. When Chief Mills and Patrolman Thomas H. Wade questioned him the butler maintained that he was innocent, but the authorities say he confessed when Cherico began talking to him in Italian. The authorities say that he admitted robbing the home of Mrs. Berkey, and ring settings, believed to have been the ones stolen then, were found in his home. Deputy Cherico said that Cagnotto admitted having sold the rings for $900.00 and $475.00. In his home the police found evidences of elegance, with costly antiques and bric-a-brac and a number of fine paintings.

Women Fight For a Bootlegger's Body

DISTRICT ATTORNEY MALLOY SEEKS TWO MORE MEN IN STATEN ISLAND MURDER—NET DRAWS ON SUSPECTS.

NEW YORK, August 25.—While the police net was being drawn tighter yesterday around the men District Attorney Joseph H. Malloy, of Richmond County, believes guilty of the murder of Frederick Eckert, Staten Island bootlegger, his wife and mother disputed the privilege of removing his body from the morgue at Four Corners and giving it a Christian burial.

Dr. George Mord, medical examiner for Richmond Borough, would not issue a burial permit until Mrs. Eckert, Jr., established her legal right to it. Edward Hulmes, the slain man's brother-in-law, claimed the body on behalf of the mother. Both women engaged attorneys and prepared to take the fight into Court. In the meantime the body remains at the morgue.

Four men were held yesterday as witnesses in addition to those who already have been examined and detained. They are Abraham Solomon, a truckman, 10 Monroe Street, and three acquaintances of Eckert from Orange, N.J., where he had a garage. The latter gave their names as Mike Shiue, proprietor of a saloon; Frank "Chuck" Connors, a hackman, and John Beneditto, an expressman. Their testimony, District Attorney Malloy said, was of the greatest value to the State's case.

"The facts that we have learned this afternoon," he declared, after questioning the four men for more than two hours, "confirm my belief that the men we have arrested, Kane and Moloney, are implicated in Eckert's murder.

Two Other Men Sought.

"The three men from Orange were at Moloney's hotel at South Beach on the night of the murder. Their testimony is of great importance. I am convinced now that there were three men in the bar with Eckert when he was shot. One of these was Moloney I think, but Kane was not there. That leaves two men to be accounted for.

"They are not Staten Islanders. I understand they were bootleggers and worked with Eckert. Their motive is not entirely clear, but probably grew out of their desire to get Eckert out of the way. His release from the Tombs on bail last Wednesday embarrassed them."

"I cannot say who they were. However, I feel convinced there are revenue men mixed up in this bootlegging business, whether they actually participated in Eckert's murder or not. Eckert himself had an internal revenue shield and a telegram purporting to be his credentials from Enforcement Agent Shevlin, I understand.

"Mr. Shevlin's attorney, August Hassenflug, has been here to-day and assures me the enforcement bureau will co-operate with me in every possible way. To-night we will prepare our case for Court to-morrow, when Kane and Moloney will be arraigned before Magistrate Mullen in Stapleton Park Court.

The statement that one or more of his men was working with the bootleggers surprised Mr. Shevlin. He said he had heard nothing more than he had seen in the newspapers. He had not heard stories current about town of revenue agents raiding saloons and subsequently turning over the seized liquor to bootleggers for re-sale.

That Agent's Payroll.

He had not heard of the "payroll," an institution with which all saloonkeepers who are selling whisky are acquainted. The "payroll" is the name given to the long list of saloons that stand for a "shakedown" from time to time. The dishonest revenue agent, according to reliable information, enters the saloon and mentions the word "payroll" to the proprietor. If the saloonkeeper hands over a ten or twenty dollar tip he is left unmolested; but if he defies the system he is a candidate for a dry raid.

His stock is sold back to other saloonkeepers by the crooked revenue man's partner, and the man who buys it is "shaken down" in his turn. Boby Hayes, the name Eckert used in his whisky deals, is reported to have played this game with profit. Mr. Shevlin seemed interested in these stories, but professed ignorance.

Mrs. Florence Eckert appeared at District Attorney Malloy's office in the County Court House and was questioned by him. She had little to tell, Malloy said. The young woman appeared to be suffering from the shock of her husband's death.

"I would like to see the men punished," she said. "I don't know who did it." (This does not agree with the statement she made on Saturday to Mr. Malloy.) "I loved him. I think everybody loved him. He left his garage in Orange to me, and I intend to run it. We were lawfully married in April, 1914, in the 'Little Church Around the Corner.'

"I am his wife, and I am going to bury him. His mother says she will get an injunction to stop me, but she is just trying to frighten me. I will have the funeral from my home in Orange."

Mrs. Eckert showed a marriage license, but there was question whether her first husband, Harry Vail, was dead at the time she married Eckert. This point is holding up her claim, and Dr. Mord is waiting to see Vail's death certificate.

Mrs. Margaret Eckert, the mother, also visited the Court House with her attorney, William Lewis of Brooklyn. Mr. Lewis sought to get an injunction against Mrs. Florence Eckert on the ground that Harry Vail died on 13th February, 1915, and therefore the Eckert wedding was void.

Dr. Mord, medical examiner, was served last night with an injunction restraining the junior Mrs. Eckert from interfering with the plans of Mrs. Eckert senior. This probably means the wife has lost her fight to secure Eckert's body.

BOLSHEVIKI ENEMIES OF HUMANITY

PRECIOUS HERITAGE

(Canadian Press)

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 25.—The Bolsheviki were pictured as enemies of democracy, of Lincoln's ideal of government of the people, by the people, in an address by Sir Auckland Geddes, delivered before the American Bar Association's annual convention here to-day. The British Ambassador declared that the Bolsheviki were the real reactionaries, endeavoring to establish a privileged class called the proletariat; to force on society a great idea, regardless of whether society wanted it.

Trustees for World.

Sir Auckland declared that Great Britain and the United States "are co-trustees for humanity, that the theory and practice of democracy shall not suffer distortion or diminution in spite of avalanches of assault loosed upon it by its enemies" He said that democracy should be protected from the attacks by "all who desire to benefit humanity through some great idea of incalculable good by all who as individuals seek for themselves privileges over their fellows and deny the equality of men before the law."

Precious Heritage.

Sir Auckland defined the idea of government that constitutes the precous heritage for which the two nations are co-trustees as being: "First, that the revelation of the divine will is made to man through the understanding of all men; second ,that this can be expressed in laws made by the people for the governance of the executive officers whom they appoint, as well as for the maintenance of national discipline among themselves."

Sir Auckland said that Lincoln best epitomized the best form of government the human race had been able to devise as "by the people, for the people," but, he added, "I wonder how many realize what a tremendous revolution this relatively new idea is producing in all human relationships, or even how new the idea itself is and how little it has been tested. Only a trifling minority of the peoples of the world understand it. I doubt if even in Europe there is a minority which supports it, certainly there is not a majority which understands it. I would like to be convinced that there was a majority really understandingly in favor of it in the British Isles.

The Big Idea.

"If the idea is to continue without a serious setback, we people who believe in it will have to stand firmly together for there are powerful forces opposed to it. So far as we know, the millions of Asia have opposed the idea throughout all their history, although a small number of Asiatics are now loud in its support. Islam necessarily is opposed to it. The Bolsheviki are naturally violently opposed to it. So, too, is everyone who has what he regards as a big idea or great principle of incalculable good which he or she wishes to force upon the people, whether they wish it or no.

"Theocracy and autocracy, forceful application of the big idea, inevitably lead to inequality before the law and so to tyranny, revolution and chaos or to decadence, conquest and chaos. That way lies no hope. Let the Bolsheviki and their supporters in all lands prate as they will of reactionaries and imperialists. They, themselves are the reactionaries. Their admitted doctrine is to establish a privileged class which they call the proletariat, but they mean by that term a select body of their own supporters. Their whole creed is to force on society a great idea which has been revealed to them and to them alone; and, like it or dislike it, society is to swallow it whole—and that is nothing but pure theocracy.

Must Stand Together.

"We have to maintain the heritage of freedom against assault from within and without, the priceless heritage of a great idea now in danger from its popularity. Even its enemies try to conceal their actions behind its phrases.

"Whatever difficulties might arise between our nations, I believe nothing is more important than this, that you and we stand together to defend the hard won hope of mankind that through law made by the people for their own disciplining, man will at last escape from the toils that have snared the feet of his ancestors and will have taken a great stride toward solution of the problem how he shall live in communities in peace and ordered freedom."

BOLSHEVISTS ARE READY TO SURRENDER TO POLES

LLOYD GEORGE DECLARES WILSON IS INCONSISTENT

LUCERNE, Aug. 25.—Premier Lloyd George, replying to a question of the newspaper correspondents, said he considered President Wilson's present policy as regards Russia as inconsistent with his declaration with regard to the Prinkipo conference. The Premier added that he had no wish or intention of mixing into American internal matters. He made the same comment concerning France when he was asked about the recognition of Wrangel, says "that is their affair."

ARMY OF QUARTER OF A MILLION MEN DEMORALIZED—DETACHMENTS SHOT TO PIECES.

POLAND REJECTS THE PEACE TERMS

Canadian Press.

LONDON, August 25. — Negotiations leading to surrender to the Poles have been begun by the northern Russian Bolshevik army, according to the despatches received here.

The latest information from Warsaw indicates the advance of the Polish armies continues rapidly and that the Bolsheviki seem anxious only to lose contact with the Poles.

Warsaw advices report the capture of Kolno, near the East Prussian frontier, north of Lonza. More than ten thousand prisoners were captured in this region. Reports from various fronts, particularly the northern sectors of the line, indicate the Bolsheviki are demoralized and fleeing everywhere in great disorder. The Polish minister of war has issued a statement stating that of 250,000 Bolsheviki troops participating in the offensive on Warsaw more than 140,000 have been accounted for and that nearly all other detachments have been shot to pieces.

POLAND'S REPLY.

Canadian Press.

LONDON, August 25. — Poland's reply to the peace terms presented by the Russian Soviet delegation at Minsk amounts to a flat rejection, says the Manchester Guardian's Minsk correspondent, in a wireless despatch filed in that city on Monday.

"Out of the 15 Russian demands," he continues, "only one, that relative to demobilization, and that only on condition that Russia takes a similar course simultaneously, was acceptable. The terms relative to disarmament ,the closing of the munition plants and the delivery of munitions to Russia, are indignantly rejected. Bolshevik terms relative to Polish workers, militia and control by Russians of the railway line from Bialystok southward, are declared to be beyond discussion."

IN AGREEMENT.

Canadian Press.

PARIS, August 25. — The French Foreign Office announced to-day that the French government was in entire accord with the United States government, that the Polish armies should remain within Poland's ethnographic fronier.

It was added that definite ethnographic frontiers were not yet determined.

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, Aug. 25.—An immediate rupture of Russo-Polish peace negotiations at Minsk will result if Poles adhere to their demand for withdrawal of the main Russian terms, says message received here from George Tchitcherin, Russian Soviet Foreign Minister, dated Monday at Moscow.

Protects Retailers

CONSUMERS WILL HAVE TO WAIT AWHILE FOR CHEAPER SUGAR.

Practically the only hope of cheaper sugar for Canada in time for the preserving season lies in speculators bringing in cargoes from the sugar growing countries and several independent dealers are said to be negotiating with the grocers at the present time. A local sugar dealer stated today that it is a fairly well based supposition amongst the retail men that heavy pressure is being brought to bear upon the refineries by the wholesale men in order to keep up the price until the bulk of the preserving is over, otherwise they stand to lose money. At the wind-up of the peach crop the price will drop to somewhere about 15 cents a pound.

Fruit Sales.

Thirty per cent. of the people are able to buy sugar for preserving at the present high price, thirty will struggle to do so and the others will go without stores for the winter. Therefore the sale of fruit is cut down fully thirty per cent. This condition is having a very serious effect upon the fruit growers, so much so that even locally the farmers are letting the apples rot upon the trees rather than bring them in to sell at practically nothing. A large percentage of the cherry crop was sacrificed and probably the same amount of peaches will be let decay.

Panic Over.

Practically assured that the big drop in sugar is several weeks off, the panic amongst sugar hoarders is over and the price remains pretty steady at 25 cents a pound retail.

PETERBORO JOINS MOVEMENT TO OPPOSE NEW TELEPHONE RATES

MAYOR M'INTYRE AND MR. C. R. WIDDIFIELD ATTENDING CONFERENCE OF MUNICIPALITIES IN MONTREAL TO-DAY—APPLICATION FOR M.O.H. POSITION.

The ingratiating smile of Mr. G. O. Cameron, local manager of the Bell Telephone Company, and his quiet, forceful appeal for a fair hearing, in so far as Peterboro was concerned, of the company's aplication to the Dominion Railway Board for increased rates, didn't deter the Council last night from deciding to cooperate with the Union of Canadian Muncipalities in the concerted opposition which will be mapepd out at ocnf:rence in Montreal to-day.

Mayor McIntyre and City Solicitor Widdifield were authorized to attend this confcrence and to obtain information as to the form of the defence the Canadian municipalities are preparing. They left on the midnight train shortly after the conclusion of the meeting.

The resolution by Ald. Gordon, seconded by Ald. Crowe, referred to the action of the leading municipalities in arranging to oppose the Bell Telephone Company's application, and declared that the city's interests should be protected.

The solicitor was instructed to prepare an objection to the proposed increases, and this document to be forwarded to the Railway Board, will be signed by the Mayor and City Clerk Armstrong.

Ald. Crowe asked whether there was any way of retaliating against the company by increasing their taxes, but Ald. Gordon pointed out that the company held a Dominion charter, "and can do nearly anything they like even to chopping off the tops of your trees."

NEED THE MONEY,

The case for the Telephone Company has already been fully circulated, Mr. Cameron pointed out that the cost of the material had increased 16 per cent. last year, and labour 36 per cent. Not one dollar of the Bell stock was watered and the company had never paid more than 8 per cent. They desired to spend ten million dollars next year on extensions, and Mr. Cameron remarked that he wanted to get a share of that for the Peterboro branch. All the company asked was a fair hearing before the Railway Board.

WILL SEEK DAMAGES,

J. F. Strickland wrote on behalf of George Farrance, whose son's leg was broken while playing around the captured German "whizz-bang," in the Central Park, that compensation would be sought from the city for the boy's injury. This letter was referred to the Legal Committee.

Ald. Gainey said he did not think the city was liable and explained that the Parks Committee had instructed the City Engineer to fix the trail of the gun to a cement block. When this had not been carried out up to August 3rd, a temporary fastening had been made with wire by Mr. Grierson, the caretaker of the park, but the boys apparently had pulled this up.

M.O.H. APPLICATIONS.

Applications for the position of Medical Officer of Health, which Dr. A. W. McPherson has resigned, were received from Dr. N. H. Sutton, Dr. T. W. H. Young and Dr. D. C. King. They were referred to the Property Committee.

Ald. Gordon sugested that when the new offical is appointed City Solicitor Widifield draft an agreement requiring the Medical Officer of Health to report monthly to the council the number of indigent patients that he attends and whatever similar duties he has performed.

SIDING ON PERRY STREET.

Ald. Whitehouse called attention to the new siding under construction across Perry street into the premises of the Canadian Nashua Company. It crossed the new sidewalk on Perry street, which was being laid for the convenience of the Raybestos factory, and would obstruct the drainage at that point.

Ald. Whitehouse asked whether the company had obtained permission to build this siding or whether they were obliged to secure permission.

Mr. Widdifield stated that the extent of the G.T.R. right of way would have to be known before it could be said that the siding was trespassing on Perry street.

Ald. Gordon proposed that a telegram be sent to the G. T. R. asking for information about the location of this siding.

A STRIKING TESTIMONIAL

Mrs. R. Collins, 213 Wheeler Ave., Toronto, says:

Gentlemen,—For over eleven years I have suffered with kidney and Stomach Trouble. And during that time I have treated with different doctors but they did not seem to help me. About five years ago I was advised to try Dr. Henderson's Herb Treatment and Special Stomach Tablets. I purchased two boxes and took them according to directions and I am pleased to inform you that in about three months time I was completely cured. I firmly believe that I would have been in my grave long ago if it had not been for them. You can use this testimonial for the benefit of others who are suffering in the same way. I will do all that I can to recommend them to others.

Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets and Special Stomach Tablets are for sale at Warne's Drug Store, Peterboro. Price 25c, 50c and 1 per box. Stomach Tablets $1 per box. Ask for Pamphlet and free sample of the Herb Tablets.

WEEKLY REPORT ON FARM CROPS

HARVESTING IS COMING TO A CLOSE —ROOTS GOOD.

The following is a summary of the weekly reports made by the Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

The bulk of the spring grains has been cut and this week will probably see the finish of that class of harvesting, with the exception of some late oats, etc. Considerable cut grain is lying in the fields, as this year most of the cereal crops ripened close together ,and labor at present is very scarce owing to the annual rush to the western grain fields. Many farmers could not have got through with their havesting but for the help of their wives and daughters. Oats and barley are giving large yields in practically every part of the province, with straw to match.

Lambton, however, reports injury by the army worm to a six acre field of oats in the township of Dawn, about one half of the crop being lost. Practically every army worm examined had from one to five eggs of the parasite known as the machine-fly deposited on it,

References to buckwheat are of a favourable nature. New fall wheat is threshing out well. As a rule the sample is plump and well up to or over the standard weight; Bruce reports some making 65 lbs to the bushel.

About the usual acreage of fall wheat is likely to be sown, but much of it will go in late to avoid injury from the Hessian fly. Some farmers clubs in Lambton are trying to arrange for their members to sow their fall wheat on the same date and as late as possible.

Potatoes Good.

There will be a large yield of potatoes, speaking generally, and so far most of the tubers appear to be unusually clean and wholesome looking.

All classes of roots have been making great growth during August. Sugar beets are setting up a record for yield and general appearance.

Corn also has picked up considerably during the last few weeks and will give a fair return, although fears are expressed as to all of the crops fully maturing.

Lennox and Addington reports that a number of farmers in that county are raising alfalfa for seed.

Summer and fall apples are unusually plentiful. Plums and peaches will give a fair yield. Fruit baskets and other containers are scarce; so also are pickers.

The land at present is said to be in excellent condition for plowing and general cultivation.

All classes of live stock are in good condition ,as the pastures have kept up well. Lambton reports a fair number of choice cattle on grass, although some herds have been marketed recently.

Cheese has been selling at local boards at from 26 1-8 to 21 1-2 a lb.

A carload of horses were shipped from Ontario county a few days ago, ranging in value from $160 to $225.

FARMERS SAY NO CAR SHORTAGE

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—The first survey of freight cars ever taken by the farmers of a state has just been completed through the Illinois Agricultural Association, Secretary D. O. Thompson announced to-day. On the basis of this census he said, Illinois farmers did not believe there was a car shortage. The trouble with transportation he characterized as "immobility" and he declared the farmers meant to find out whose fault it was.

Secretary Thompson said the association undertook its census after receiving reports from farmers over the state that they saw many cars standing idle on country tracks.

"Members of the association made daily records of the car initials and numbers of all cars at 494 stations located in 46 different counties for seven consecutive days," the state farm bureau executive said. "Of these 494 stations, 146 or 29.5 per cent reported some of the same cars on tracks the last day of the count as were on the tracks the first day of the count.

Ejected From Yards.

"At all stations, 9,294 cars were listed the first day and of these cars, 938 out of 9,294 cars had not been moved from the country point for seven consecutive days. This is just a little over 10 per cent. of the cars at such points.

No count was made in Chicago. In several other large yards the association enumerators were ejected from the yards by railroad officials.

"Mine operators say they were forced to idleness many days each week leading to the strike of the miners which recently tied up the mines just when the farmers were needing coal for threshing. At this same time before the strike in Christian county, at Clarksdale and at Willeys, trains of coal totaling 53 cars were reported empty at both first and last days of the count.

"If we take the total number of freight cars of the country on December 31, 1918, as a basis for computation and consider that the percentage of immobility of cars is as great in Chicago, Toledo and New York as in country points like Clarksdale, Fidelity and Low Point, it is very moderate when we say that the total number of new cars which the railroads say they need to meet the transportation requirements of the present moment, is not a patch to the total of immobile cars now idling by the weeks and months in terminal yards and on side tracks at country points.

Shortage Camouflage,

"This survey shows pretty clearly to the farmers of Illinois the excuse of 'car shortage' is largely camouflage, given to cover up some real, deeper reason for the present transportation inefficiency. And to search for that reason will be the next job of the farmers' business organization."

LATE SUMMER,

In regal splendor, supple, full of ease,
She walks the hills and trails her shining gown,
Loosening the purpling roses of her crown
And scattering showers of gold dust to the breeze.
She laughing spies in green of rustling trees,
All but concealed, the coat of russet brown
Where jolly Autumn, ambushed, tosses down
Audaciously a few, small crimson leaves.

Matilda holds a teacup poised for me,
Undimmed by years her blue eyes softly smile,
And, matron-like, she chatters to me while
The shadows creep. But in her glance I see
She feels the purpling on the wall,

Sight

The greatest of all our possessions

THE beauties of nature—the wonders of creation—the works of man—spread themselves before our eyes day after day. We read and study—exclaim over forms of art—combinations of shades and colors—that reach our senses through our eyes. Do we realize that our eyesight is the greatest of our possessions? Do we guard it as such?

Human eyes are wonderful in construction—but of infinite delicacy. Parodoxical as it may seem—not many people give their eyes the care that is lavished on their hair—their teeth—or even the appearance of their skin! Yet their eyes are more important than any of these.

If we suffer bodily injury—nature—through pain—gives us unmistakeable notice of it. But the eyes of many people may be impaired and suffering strain and tension that is slowly, imperceptibly wrecking and impairing them. Eyes often are the source of ill-health—or nervous strain—and we may not be aware of it.

The questions you should ask yourself are: "Are my eyes strong and healthy?" "Are my eyes affecting my health?" "Should I wear glasses?" "Are the glasses I got years ago the best for my eyes to-day?"

You cannot answer these questions yourself.

But there are men who can—whose study, experience and lifework is the care of our most priceless possession—eyesight. These men are members of the Optometrical Association of Ontario, and by training and study and experience they are equipped to be the guardians of your sight.

Don't wait till nature drives you to consult these men. If your eyes are not 100% perfect—to-day is the time they need professional attention.

"Save your eyes."

The citizens want the light thrown on the department. They know that fire protection in Peterborough involves a very heavy expenditure and if the fire brigade is in the condition that the men themselves claim it is the citizens want to know why first and then they want to know how quickly a re-organization can be affected. There are many who deprecate the fact that the men's grievances were not brought before the Fire, Water and Light committee instead of the Trades Council, but after all the chief point is that there are serious complaints as to the manner in which the chief of the Department has carried out his duties and the public demands a report as to whether or not these charges can be substantiated.

THE RED CROSS SOCIETY.

Dr. James W. Robertson, chairman of the executive committee of the Canadian Red Cross Society, has issued a very interesting pamphlet explaining the peace-time policy of the society. With the end of the war it was thought that the labours of the Red Cross were at an end, but events at the peace conference when it was decided that some agency should be devised to cope with world problems of disease and disaster made it necessary for the society in Canaad to continue its work. The magnificent results secured by the organization during the days of war are a guarantee that its efforts "for the improvement of health, the prevention of diseases and the mitigation of suffering" will be equally crowned with success. The duties of the Red Cross Society in the field of health service as decided upon by the League of Red Cross Societies are to stimulate and maintain interest in public health work, to support and if need be supplement, the work of government agencies and to disseminate useful knowledge concerning health through demonstration, education and otherwise. The work is under the control of the Red Cross division of each province which is acting in the closest co-operation with the provincial department of health and education from one end of Canada to the other. While the accomplishments up to the present have not been spectacular yet considerable progress has been made. The suggestion of the Society that courses of instruction in Public Health Nursing in the University of Toronto, the University of British Columbia and the McGill University has been carried out. This is a most important initial step, for public health nurses are in great demand and are necessary for the education of the public in matters of public health.

The public will have every confidence in the ability of the Red Cross to carry on successfully in peace as it did in war.

In other words Mr. Morrison's theory is that the Farmers' clubs shall rule Ontario—the members are only to be the mouthpieces of the U.F.O.—merely puppets who will dance when the strings are pulled by the riding headquarters. Premier Drury, on the other hand, has vision enough to appreciate a purely class government cannot hope to remain in power. He realizes that to be successful and retain the confidence of the electors the government must legislate as far as possible for the whole people and he has repeatedly declared his intention of giving Ontario an administration of that kind. Between the Premier's position and Secretary Morrison's avowed intention of preaching class on all occasions there is a wide gap which daily grows broader.

There must be re-adjustment before long, for unless the U.F.O. secretary is made to understand that he cannot dictate the policies of the whole province he may succeed in wrecking the government. There are strong reasons why women should have equal rights with men in the matter of voting; but it is not necessary to believe that the granting of equal rights will completely revolutionise political methods. Miraculous charges are not to be looked for. The probability is that neither the expectations of the advocates of equal suffrage nor the fears of its opponents will be realised.

The women have placed in their hands a very powerful weapon for good or evil; a heavy responsibility rests on them for the way they use it. It would be unreasonable to expect them to always use it wisely from the start. Men, at any rate, have no right to demand too much. Their own success, so far, in the use of the franchise has not been a cause for much boasting. — Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

WORLD'S MASTER MAGICIAN WILL BE HERE FOR TWO DAYS.

The Great Blackstone, the world's foremost magician, will be the coming attraction Sept. 1 and 2 at the Grand for 2 days, commencing Wednesday. It will be the first appearance here of the great magician, and from the great interest his coming engagement has aroused among playgoers and those who are fond of magic and mysticism, he will be assured of a crowded house at each and every performance.

For this engagement Blackstone will offer the cream of his most sensational illusions, the same which created such a furore of awe and excitement during his last New York engagement, including almost the same cast of clever assistants, a company of twenty-two people, mostly girls. Practically everything he produces in the realm of magic he is the originator and inventor of. He runs his illusions at aeroplane speed, offering thrills and sensations every minute of his performance. His production is truly an eclipse. His achievement in the creation of illusions, transformations, levitation and human disintegration are wonderful. His manipulation of cards is supreme. His sleight-of-hand work is beyond description—the star working right under the eyes of the spectators without fear of detection. His spiritualistic phenomena are startling. His creation of humans wonderful and difficult to conceive. It happens and cannot truly be doubted. His whole performance is marvelous. Those who have not seen it truly will miss the treat of their lives, if they do not take in this performance.

GERMAN COLONY FOR BRAZIL

BERLIN.—Four hundred and twenty-eight Gemran emigrants have sailed from Hamburg on the steamer Cuyaba from Brazil. This is the first contingent of a total of 2,500 German settlers who will go to Brazil at the expense of that Government, the other contingents planning to sail in September or October.

Among the passengers was a small group of representatives of the learned professions who are going to Brazil to organize the German settlements. They carried credentials from the Imperial Emigration Bureau.

SHARKS GROW TO ENORMOUS SIZE

As the "open season" for sharks approaches South American liners arriving in New York report the sighting of these sea monsters, a fact which lends interest to the following communication to the National Geographic Society by Dr. Hugh M. Smith, an authority on fish:

"When giant fishes are mentioned most people will at once think of the shark, among which, indeed, are to be found the largest fish now existing. Of the many species of sharks noteworthy on account of their size, there are about half a dozen which are preeminent. These differ much in their disposition, some being as harmless as doves and others the incarnation of ferocity. The sleeper shark appears to have developed its body at the expense of its brain, for it is a sluggish, stupid glutton, about six times as long as the average man. Its home is in the Arctic region but it sometimes makes visits as far south Cape Cod, the British Isles and Oregon. It is most often observed lying quietly on the surface, apparently dozing and easily aproached; but at times when hungry it arouses itself, and fiercely attacks whales.

"One of the most prodigious and perhaps the most formidable of the sharks is the 'man-eater.' It roams through all temperate and tropical seas and everywhere is an object of dread. Its maximum length is forty feet and its teeth are three inches long. While there are few authentic instances of sharks attacking human beings prior to the recent tragedies, there have undoubtedly been many cases where sharks simply swallowed people who had fallen overboard just as they would swallow any other food. How easy it would be for a man eater to devour a person whole may be judged from the finding of an entire 100-pound scalion in the stomach of a 30 foot shark on the California Coast.

"In former years the basking shark was hunted for its oil on the coasts of Norway and Iceland; it was also harpooned on the shore of Massachusetts in the early part of the last century, and as many as twelve barrels of oil were obtained from the liver of one shark. There are many records of basking sharks twenty-five to thirty-eight feet long from the coast of New York, Massachusetts and Maine, but the species has not been common in our waters in recent years.

"The largest of all fishes, the largest of all cold-blooded animals, and the largest of all existing animals, with the exception of a few species of whales, is the whale shark, originally described as from Good Hope, but now known from India, Japan, Sauth America, Panama, California, and various other places, a small specimen having been obtained on the Florida coast a few years ago.

This shark has a very broad and obtuse snout and an exceedingly wide mouth, armed with numerous minute teeth. The very dark colored body is marked with many small whitish spots. The species is stated to attain a length of 70 feet and is known to exceed fifty feet. It is harmless to man unless attacked and feeds on the small creatures for which its teeth are adapted."—New York Times

The women have placed in their hands a very powerful weapon for good or evil; a heavy responsibility rests on them for the way they use it. It would be unreasonable to expect them to always use it wisely from the start. Men, at any rate, have no right to demand too much. Their own success, so far, in the use of the franchise has not been a cause for much boasting. — Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

The Great Blackstone, the world's foremost magician, will be the coming attraction Sept. 1 and 2 at the Grand for 2 days, commencing Wednesday. It will be the first appearance here of the great magician, and from the great interest his coming engagement has aroused among playgoers and those who are fond of magic and mysticism, he will be assured of a crowded house at each and every performance.

For this engagement Blackstone will offer the cream of his most sensational illusions, the same which created such a furore of awe and excitement during his last New York engagement, including almost the same cast of clever assistants, a company of twenty-two people, mostly girls. Practically everything he produces in the realm of magic he is the originator and inventor of. He runs his illusions at aeroplane speed, offering thrills and sensations every minute of his performance. His production is truly an eclipse. His achievement in the creation of illusions, transformations, levitation and human disintegration are wonderful. His manipulation of cards is supreme. His sleight-of-hand work is beyond description—the star working right under the eyes of the spectators without fear of detection. His spiritualistic phenomena are startling. His creation of humans wonderful and difficult to conceive. It happens and cannot truly be doubted. His whole performance is marvelous. Those who have not seen it truly will miss the treat of their lives, if they do not take in this performance.

GERMAN COLONY FOR BRAZIL

BERLIN.—Four hundred and twenty-eight Gemran emigrants have sailed from Hamburg on the steamer Cuyaba from Brazil. This is the first contingent of a total of 2,500 German settlers who will go to Brazil at the expense of that Government, the other contingents planning to sail in September or October.

Among the passengers was a small group of representatives of the learned professions who are going to Brazil to organize the German settlements. They carried credentials from the Imperial Emigration Bureau.

SHARKS GROW TO ENORMOUS SIZE

As the "open season" for sharks approaches South American liners arriving in New York report the sighting of these sea monsters, a fact which lends interest to the following communication to the National Geographic Society by Dr. Hugh M. Smith, an authority on fish:

"When giant fishes are mentioned most people will at once think of the shark, among which, indeed, are to be found the largest fish now existing. Of the many species of sharks noteworthy on account of their size, there are about half a dozen which are preeminent. These differ much in their disposition, some being as harmless as doves and others the incarnation of ferocity. The sleeper shark appears to have developed its body at the expense of its brain, for it is a sluggish, stupid glutton, about six times as long as the average man. Its home is in the Arctic region but it sometimes makes visits as far south Cape Cod, the British Isles and Oregon. It is most often observed lying quietly on the surface, apparently dozing and easily aproached; but at times when hungry it arouses itself, and fiercely attacks whales.

"One of the most prodigious and perhaps the most formidable of the sharks is the 'man-eater.' It roams through all temperate and tropical seas and everywhere is an object of dread. Its maximum length is forty feet and its teeth are three inchgs long. While there are few authentic instances of sharks attacking human beings prior to the recent tragedies, there have undoubtedly been many cases where sharks simply swallowed people who had fallen overboard just as they would swallow any other food. How easy it would be for a man eater to devour a person whole may be judged from the finding of an entire 100-pound sealion in the stomach of a 30 foot shark on the California Coast.

"In former years the basking shark was hunted for its oil on the coasts of Norway and Iceland; it was also harpooned on the shore of Massachusetts in the early part of the last century, and as many as twelve barrels of oil were obtained from the liver of one shark. There are many records of basking sharks twenty-five to thirty-eight feet long from the coast of New York, Massachusetts and Maine, but the species has not been common in our waters in recent years.

"The largest of all fishes, the largest of all cold-blooded animals, and the largest of all existing animals, with the exception of a few species of whales, is the whale shark, originally described as from Good Hope, but now known from India, Japan, Sauth America, Panama, California, and various other places, a small specimen having been obtained on the Florida coast a few years ago.

This shark has a very broad and obtuse snout and an exceedingly wide mouth, armed with numerous minute teeth. The very dark colored body is marked with many small whitish spots. The species is stated to attain a length of 70 feet and is known to exceed fifty feet. It is harmless to man unless attacked and feeds on the small creatures for which its teeth are adapted."—New York Times

Amy Forrester went down with the crowd elbowed and carried along down to the pier, where the men were coming up,—Challoner and the crew of the White Streak, dipping and exhausted, and presently up the steps came Monte, acclaimed and feted—Monte, who had done the dramatic thing, but as always, had come in second. She went to him directly nd held out her hand resolutely, without flinching. His eyes had been waiting for her from the first. They said no word—her look and the answering comprehension in his were enough. Each felt the solemnity of the act—the decision once and for all.

IX

To Andrew Forrester, too, the situation had grown intolerable. After the explanation with his wife he had waited day by day for the only decision it seemed possible that she could make. Any other—to go on living under the same roof when they had ceased to love each other—was in his philosophy a spiritual slavery. Yet the thought that she shrank with pain from the decisive word hurt him more than he could have believed. He had lovedil her she had been part of his life; he could not remain indifferent to her. That she still hesitated, he ascribed not to any vestige of affection for him but to timidity before the censorship of that world whose vassal she had become. Each day in the mail he looked eagerly for a letter from her that would tell him that her decision had been made. The suspense wore on him. At times he feared for his own strength, that he could be tricked sentimentally into a belief that he still loved her.

Then there was the other woman to whom in his loyalty he felt bound. She had her right to happiness, too. For never for a moment had he a doubt that once Irma knew him free to act, she, too, would free herself from the long horror in which she had lived. Dellabarre's condition had become so shockingly apparent to every one that no action of hers could surprise. What wore on him was that everything in his situation was horrib false, the assumed attitude before the world to Amy, the mask he was forced to wear when he offered his hand to Monte Bracken or Rudolph Dellabarre, and last, the prohibition Irma had placed on their intimate meetings. Every day that this masquerade continued it seemed to him that all of them lost something of their pride—were a little soiled by ugly contact.

He arrived at Chilton three days after the yacht race. Tha night there would be the weekly dance at the yacht club, and he had come down impatiently, knowing that there at least he would have a chance to meet Irma Dellabarre. An hour afer his arrival Amy had said the words to him which he had been waiting for, and yet which struck him cold with their suddenness. She had chosen the moment when the porch was gay with their suddenness. She had chosen the moment when the porch was gay with callers at the tea hour, to leave her guests and signal him.

"Little private consultation with the head of the house," she said in laughing explanation.

They went down the piazza and turned the corner, where they were hidden from the chaffing and the gossip which buzzed behind them.

"I wanted to say to you, Andrew," she said, without preliminaries, "that I have come to your point of view. I have decided that there is nothing else to do but to separate and divorce. That is what you wish, isn't it?"

He was taken back by the suddenness of her announcement. Why had she chosen such a formal moment for so mortal a thing? To steel herself against crying out? To surround herself with the discipline of the world—her world? That must be it.

'Yes, that is what I wish," he said gravely. He felt embarrassed before her calm. He added awkwardly, "Thank you."

"It is best for both—the only thing. What I have decided to do I will let you know later."

"When?" he asked gravely.

"Perhaps to-morrow," she said, hesitating. "And perhaps sooner."

He looked at her, wondering, inclined to question, restrained by a feeling of generosity.

"I have been rather a failure with you, Andrew," she said hurriedly, and then stopped, a lump in her throat.

"Don't!" he said hastily. "That's all too trivial now. Let's be generous—both of us—now."

"Yes, of course—" She turned away, started to speak, shook her head; and he, seized with the cold horror of seeing her tears, said hastily:

"Be careful, Amy—they're—they're here."

"Yes, thank God for that!"

'And it's no use saying anything—we understand,"

'Of course we do."

She stood a moment, her hands resting on the balustrade, smiling down at the canterbury-bells which stretched their dainty cups up to her. Then she left him and went humming back to her guests. He had no such power over himself, he turned and went to his room. He did not attempt to see her again alone. They dined in company of others and went off to the club. It was all distressingly tragic—and so needless. He had not expected to suffer as he did, nor that she would quiver under it. Whatever else came, they had been man and wife—and there had been moments of unshaken faith!

They dined at the Challoner's and went over to the Yacht Club for the dance. Amy's composure amazed him. Whatever her faults, she met a crisis like a thoroughbred. He had endured the dinner gloomily, conscious of his equivocal position, exaggerating the malice that he believed in the eyes of every one. At the Club he drifted away into the billiard rooms, where the smoke was hazy and the green tables under the hooded electric lights looked like green valleys dropped far below him. The talk was a of war in this shattering first week of August, 1914, and in the stupefaction of the imagination social lines disappeared. He listened to a group in the corner nearest him, who were arguing that a conflict was inevitable, and from time to time, as phrases detached themselves, he frowned.

"What do you think?" said a man next to him, whom he did not know.

"There won't be any war," he said obstinately. "Germany's trying to bluff France into deserting Russia."

"Paper to-night says they've started through Belgium."

The Allen Theatre Enterprise

Canada moves on toward great things, while just beyond to-morrow lie even greater opportunities to be achieved.

If any intangible thing may be named in connection with the progress of the Dominion it might be called the giving of things Canadian a distinct and recognized identity. Canada has commenced to put her trade-mark on the things which are hers by right of discovery and development.

In the evolution and upbuilding of the motion picture as a factor in our national life, the institution known as the Allen Theatre Enterprises has played a vital and outstanding part.

From the days of the first little Allen Nickleodeon, when the pictures shown might be properly described as "shakin' pictures!" until the present time, when the Allen Theatres extend from coast to coast in Canada to the number of more than sixty, when Allen Theatres become factors in the entertainment of the people of Great Britain and the United States—there has been the aspiration and the determination to sail a clearly-laid course to the ultimate in Allen achievement, with a Canadian craft and a Canadian crew.

It has been a voyage of discovery, a constant facing and mastering of the problems of storm and calm, a period of oft-changing fortunes—always with the compass of public opinion pointing true, challenging the vision and good judgment of those at the helm—

But always with the greatly gratifying knowledge that a readiness to serve and to achieve beyond the ordinary was surely rewarded, and with the richest of all rewards, public confidence.

Every great growth has begun in obscurity. To bring to achievement such an institution as the Allen Theatre Enterprises entailed much in effort, sacrifice, struggle and everlasting sticktoitiveness. But upon the foundation laid will be reared a structure worthy of its name and of the country.

It will be the purpose of a series of advertisements, of which this is the first, to reveal to the public the structural plan, the policies and the aspirations of Allen Theatre Enterprises, and to open the opportunity for an association even closer than that which now exists.

We look to the past with gratitude and to the future with high hopes for the chance to achieve.

CANADIAN SCIENTIST DEAD.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—William James Wilson, prominent Canadian scientist, and for many years paleobotanist with the geological survey, mines branch, Dominion Government died here Saturday afternoon after a prolonged illness. Since the death of Prof. Penhallow, of McGill University some nine years ago, Mr. Wilson was reputed to be the leading paleobotanist in the country. Mr. Wilson was 69 years old.

STATUS OF DIVORCE COURTS.

Opposition to divorce courts comes from various sources, but a close inspection of the Senate divorce machinery at Ottawa should convince even the clericals that divorce courts would be far superior to the present system and a protection to the honour of womankind, making divorce harder to get, but not so expensive.—Guelph Herald.

VISCOUNT CAVE IN CANADA.

Is Your Blood Starving For Want of Iron?

Without Plenty of Iron In Your Blood You Don't Get the Strength and Nourishment Out of the Food You Eat

When over-work, lack of sleep, improper food and impure air sap the iron from your blood and make you feel weak, nervous, irritable and out-of-sorts, it is important that you should at once put more iron into your blood. Without iron the blood loses the power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing that you eat does you the proper amount of good because you don't get the full strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. Because of this steady starvation of the blood and nerves people often become weakened, tired-out, nervous and rundown and frequently develop all sorts of symptoms. But the moment organic iron—Nuxated Iron—is supplied a multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear in most cases, the flesh becomes firmer, the muscles get back their strength and the roses of health bloom in cheeks that were pale and sickly looking.

No matter what other so-called remedies you may have tried, if you are not strong, vigorous, hearty and well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next, take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. You can obtain Nuxated Iron from your druggist on the distinct understanding that if you are not fully satisfied your money will be refunded.

ARM GROUND TO A PULP.

Lyman Godfrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Godfrey, of Tweed village, was the victim of a painful and very serious accident on Tuesday of last week.

The young man was employed at the Lehigh Valley Cement Works at Point Anne, and while applying some dressing to a large carrier belt he was thrown across the motor and his left arm was ground to a pulp by the rapidly revolving belt. He had the presence of mind to raise himself up and kick the switch off that controlled the motor, otherwise he would probably have had his arm torn completely off.

BELLEVILLE MAN FELL UNDER PILOT OF ENGINE IN YARD.

LINDSAY, August 25. — Yesterday afternoon between three and four o'clock a serious accident occurred at the Grand Trunk yards immediately in front of the station.

A resident of Belleville named Robert Turner, a member of the gang engaged in laying the cement platform, was standing between the platform and the track when engine No. 2439 in charge of Engineer Jeffries, apeared in view. The engineer seeing the man close to the track sounded the whistle and the brakeman also shouted a warning. The engine was travelling at a low rate of speed but Turner evidently became confused as he failed to step clear of it. He was dragged only a short distance, but fell under the pilot. The engine was stopped in the length of a yard or so and the unfortunate man was carried to the platform. One of his legs was badly crushed, his head was bruised and blood was pouring from his mouth. He was rushed in the ambulance to the hospital.

SAYS VALUE OF HIS LOT ON UNOPENED PART OF WOLFE STREET IS SERIOUSLY AFFECTED BY A SIDING TO WHICH COUNCIL ASSENTED.

Some months ago the Council assented to the plans for the C.P.R. sidings across George street into the Canadian Packing Company's factory. They provided for the alteration of the position of the two old sidings and for the construction of a third new one. Mr. John Green told the Council last night that this siding would seriously depreciate the value of his property on Wolfe street and he asked that the Dominion Railway Board be notified that the city's approval had been given under a misunderstanding of his interests.

Mr. Green's lot fronts on an unopened part of Wolfe street immediately west of George street. When the other sidings were built, he said, the north half of that part of Wolfe street had been closed without his consent, and now the new siding virtually meant the closing of the entire street thus cutting off access to his lot.

"This new siding will run along the street in front of my property," he explained to the Council, "and will bar me out entirely from a right of way."

Ald. Gordon—Send your objection to the Railway Board. This Council is not a court. We merely approved of the crossing on George street.

Mr. Green stirred up Ald. Gordon's ire by a remark that Ald. Gordon was with the railway and acting for it.

"I'm not," replied Ald. Gordon sharply. "I haven't acted for them in years and I want you to take that back.

Mr. Green—I was informed that you were and understood so. I want the Council to tell the Railway Board that nothing can be done until I am settled with.

Ald. Gordon—We have no right to fight other people's affairs.

Mr. Green— The Council has already granted permission for the siding by a mistake and I want it rectified. I don't think any member wants to be a party to injuring my property and rights.

Ald. Crowe— What will rectify it now?

Ald. Gordon—Money. Mr. Green is a lawyer and knows how to protect his rights if he has any. He has his remedy by placing his objections before the Railway Board or by process of law.

Mayor McIntyre—We permitted the crossing of the street. I think we should be neutral and take whatever steps necesasry for that.

Mr. Green contended that he hadn't been informed of the C.P.R. programme and that he wasn't given the time or opportunity to get in touch with the Railway Board.

City Solicitor Widdifield — Mr. Green knew the facts. I wrote him when the matter was coming up in Council. The city simply consented to the laying of the siding across the highway.

Mr. Green—I never received a notice. You remember me telling you that I didn't get your letter and when I asked to be shown the duplicate you said you couldn't find it.

Mr. Widdifield replied that he had business with other clients at the time and hadn't time to look up the duplicate.

Mr. Green contended that the Council should notify the Railway Board that their assent had been given under a misapprehension and that no order should be given the C.P.R. until his rights had been considered.

Ald. Whitehouse moved, seconded by Ald. Gordon, that a letter be written to the Railway Board requesting them not to issue an order for the siding until Mr. Green "has had an opportunity of submitting his objections to the Board."

This didn't exactly comply with Mr. Green's demand, but the Council decided that it was the extent of their duty.

M'DONNEL STREET RESIDENTS PRESS FOR PROMISED WORK ON DOWNIE ST. CREEK

ASK COUNCIL FOR PROTECTION AGAINST RECURRENCE OF FLOODS OF RECENT SPRINGS—ENGINEER TO ESTIMATE COST OF NEW DRAIN.

Tobias Fredenburg and George Hardill, McDonnel street residents within the district annually saturated by the Downie street creek's freshet, reminded the Council that winter was approaching and that the promises of relief made last spring had not yet been carried out. They asked pointedly whether any improvement would be made this year.

City Engineer Parsons replied that the course of the creek would be cleared temporarily but that there wasn't sufficient money on hand for permanent work. There was also considerable doubt as to whether the city could enter the land through which the creek flows.

"We've got to spend the money some time," said Ald. Crowe, "so what's the use of delaying."

Ald. Jones also pressed for immediate and adequate protection against future inundations.

"We haven't got the appropriation for permanent work there," said Ald. Whitehouse, who showed that the Board of Works had already spent $18,000 this year and had only $15,000 left.

Mr. Hardill took up Ald. Whitehouse's cue that the drainage of the McDonnel street district was necessary by suggesting that part of the available $15,000 be spent there.

"Let some other work go," he recommended. "You all realize that what we ask for is necessary."

Ald. Gordon said there was some question as to the city's right to go on the property traversed by the creek, but Mr. Fredenburg answered that Mr. Dumble owned nearly all that property.

"He doesn't own all that in the block above," Ald .Gordon replied, "and we've got to make a thorough job when we start it."

Ald. Jones moved, seconded by Ald. Crowe, that City Engineer Parsons bring in an estimate of the cost of a concrete drain and that he also interview the property owners to ascertain whether they will permit the city to build the proposed drain.

WOMAN FOUGHT ALL NIGHT WITH RATS

THRILLING EXPERIENCE AT STIRLING WHEN ROJENTS ATTACKED.

STIRLING, Aug. 25.—Miss Knox, who resides in the west end of the village, was awakened in the night by hearing a noise down stairs. Upon investigation she found a large rat in the pantry. She struck it with a broom and the rat sprang at her face several times before she succeeded in killing it. At 2 a.m. she heard a noise in the pantry again, and she found another rat. Using the same weapon she battled with it for some time, but it got away and she finally found it hiding under a sofa cushion in the living room. She struck it again, and it attacked her, fighting viciously. The battle continued until daylight, when she succeeded in killing it.

JUMPED INTO LAKE.

A summer visitor at Pleasant Point happened with a mishap the other day, but is none the worse except for a ducking in the lake. The young visitor was promenading on the dock and when the St. Lintonia arrived he proceeded to do a little jazz step between the boat and the wharf. When the boat pulled out our friend hapened to be on the wrong end of the jazz—on the boat. It was too far to jump to terra firma, so the visitor took a running jump into the lake, clothes and all.—Lindsay Post.

The advent of the Hydro is already bringing a wave of prosperity to the village which it has not had for nearly ten years. Lakefield has a future ahead, nd the time has surely come to "boost and boom" the village and not to belittle it to strangers, who are too apt to take it at our valuation.

PAINTING SAFETY ZONES ON STREETS

The police are painting safety zones on the streets and have already completed the work on Charlotte street. In the future the Jackson Park street car will wait at Park and Charlotte streets 20 feet from the intersection of the streets in order that the vision of automobilists at this dangerous corner may not be blocked.

BOBBED HAIR IS OUT OF FASHION

Here is a jolt for the young women who have recently been bobbing their hair to make themselves look "modern," or "advanced," or whatever bobbed hair may be thought to indicate. According to reports from the fashionable world of London, the craze for bobbed hair, which was at its height about two years ago, has completely died out in England. Short hair went well with uniform and service caps ,and it was the war worker who first set the fashion.

Those splendid women who served in Salonica, Serbia and places where typhius and other terrible epidemics raged, were practically obliged to bob their hair. Then the land girls, who had little time to spare for hairdressing when on farm work, almost unanimously followed suit.

It was unfortunate that this became a fashion which everyone copied. Women of all ages and classes, from the flapper of 16 to the mature lady of 40, went to have their hair bobbed, and a fashionable West-End hairdresser has declared that he had to spoil hundreds of lovely heads when this craze was at its height.

Many soon regretted the step, as no woman looks really smart with schoolboy locks. But it takes at least three years for the hair to grow long, if it ever regains its former length again.

Bobbed hair is now altogether demode in London, and Spanish and Grecian styles are to be the vogue for hairdressing. The aim of the present-day coiffure is to be smooth and neat, ofte pushed straight back from the forehead and quite innocent of wave. To soften this method of dressing the hair, side curls are allowed, but the fashionable woman decrees that these must not be the untidy bunch, but a neat, smart arrangement, harmonizing with the whole effect.

THE BELL TELEPHONE ARMY s over th rteen thousand strong; an organization with high morale and a keen sense of its duties and respons bilit es.

They are neighbours, friends, customers, and clients of yours. Thei prosperity is reflected in your prosperity.

The advanced cost of living affected this army as it affected everyone else, and The Bell Telephone Company increased the average wage since 1915 by 95.1%.

The scale of wages now in effect would exceed by more than $3,845,000 a year, the amount payable on the scale in force November 30th, 1918, when our last application for rate increase was made.

Almost 65 cents out of every dollar of revenue goes to our employees.

This increased, and increasing pay roll is another reason for the advance in telephone rates.

U.S. BEEF SUPPLY IS THREATENED

MONEY STRINGENCY RESPONSIBLE FOR DEPLETION OF STOCK IN TEXAS.

(Canadian Press)

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 25. — Texas cattlemen are facing a very serious situation, which has its bearing on the country's beef supply, due to their inability to get loans, according to A. C. Williams, assistant secreary of the Cattle Raisers Association of Texas. He said that the money stringency was bringing about the depletion of existing herds and preventing the building up of new ones.

"More good pasturage is going to waste in the cattle country than for many years," Mr. Williams said. "Range conditions in Texas and elsewhere have been ideal for the past year, and prices, though unsatisfactory, hav not in general meant actual loss to the stockmen. The relatively low prices prevailing have been in goodly measure as a result of the inability to obtain credits.

"The present financial situation, however, following on the heels of severe drouths in both the Southwest and Northwest, is bringing about a reduction of the cattle population which must in the end mean mounting beef prices and nation-wide economic loss.

"On a recent trip through West Texas and New Mexico, I had occasion to observe that many pastures were unstocked, or thinly stocked, and inquiry developed the fact that owners were anxious to stock and had plenty of security but could not obtain loans.

"Many cattlemen whose ranches were stocked were being compelld to liquidate, and thousands of cattle which should normally be used for breeding, or at least for development into finished beef, were being sold for slaughter.

"The sheep-raising interests of the San Angelo country are even more seriously threatened than the cattle interests. This is due in part to the financial stringency, and is having its bearing on the cattle situation.

"The principal factor in the sheep men's problem, however, appears to be the virtual withdrawal of the wool buyers from the market. The wool crop this year in the San Angelo territory is estimated at between 8,000,000 and 9,000,000 pounds, an increase of about 3,000,000 pounds over former years.

"Comparatively little of that has been marketed because the buyers, having comfortable stocks on hand, are not offering anything like a fair price. The growers are endeavoring to hold, and have several million pounds stored at San Angelo and neighboring points."

LOCAL MARKETS

Very few articles on the local market have changed in price this week, but a drop is looked for in meat in about three weeks time when the fat cattle begin to come in.

Olomargarine has practically disappeared from the stores but its popularity will probably return when butter rises in price this fall.

TRUNK MURDER SUSPECT SOUGHT FOR IN CANADA

MYSTERY HAS MANY RAMIFICATIONS EXTENDING ALL OVER CONTINENT OF AMERICA.

LEROY IS ELUSIVE

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK. Aug. 25. — The "trunk murder" mystery in connection with which Eugene Leroy is being sought by detectives all over the country and in Canada and Mexico, has ramifications which extend from New York to Michigan, Mississippi and Alabama.

A few minutes after a employe of the American Railway Express Company here had discovered the nude and mutilated body of a young woman in a trunk stored in the unclaimed baggage warehouse, police of New York and Detroit began following the train of evidence which led to the victim's identification as Mrs. Katherine Lou Jackson, of Sturgis, Miss., and the location of A. A. Tatum, whose name and a Detroit street address were found marked on the trunk which concealed the crime for more than a month.

At 105 Harper street, Detroit, Tatum was unknown, but someone there told detectives that a young couple known as Mr. and Mrs. E. Leroy had disappeared from that address about June 10, the date on which the trunk was shipped to New York.

Remembers the Trunk.

The publicity given these two names Leroy and Tatum brought forward Andrew J. Branic, a New York expressman who said he knew Leroy under the name of Fernandez. He told the police he had handled a trunk for Fernandez or Leroy, who, he said, also used the name of O. J. Woods. He produced a letter from Leroy, enclosing a check for the trunk, in which the body was later found, asking that it be removed from the express warehouse and stored by Branic until Leroy should call for it.

Knew the Victim.

A Detroit policeman, Leo Trumbull, then came to the front, declaring that he and his wife, knew the young woman who lived with Leroy as his wife at the Harper avenue address. When the body of the murdered woman arrived in Detroit, Trumbull and his wife identified it as 'Mrs. Leroy."

Then from the south came positive word that "Mrs. Leroy" was really Mrs. Jackson, wife of Kid McCoy Jackson, of Sturgis, Mississippi.

"The town was too small for Kitty Lou and she went away," Jackson said, when asked to tell what he knew of his wife's wanderings.

Next Tatum, the man whose name appeared on the mysterious trunk, walked into police headquarters at Birmingham, Alabama, and explained his conniection with the case.

He told the authorities that he had known Mrs. Jackson in Birmingham, where he works as a linotype operator. At her invitation, he said, he visited her in Detroit, where she told him she had married Leroy and that he was "terribly jealous." Shortly afterward, Tatum said, he returned to Birmingham. He declared that the next he heard of the woman was when he read of the discovery of her body.

Search Stimulated.

Reports have poured in from every quarter of the continent indicating that Leroy had been seen in this or that place. A $5,000 reward offered by the police of Detroit stimulated the search and he was reported variously as escaping to Canada, hiding in Mexico, sailing for Brazil and the Bahamas and under arrest in Chicago.

Voice Of The People

Peterborough, Aug. 25th, 1920.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—Mr. Tuggey's letter advising the Firemen not to strike is quite unnecessary. The Firemen realize their responsibility to the citizens of Peterborough. We sincerely hope the City Council realize their responsibility to the public also. For the information of every one concerned the Firemen's Union is a non-strike organization, and we have only the public to rely upon that justice is done. If justice is not done there is nothing on earth to prevent the men from quitting the job. It is not the Firemen's intention of leaving our fellow citizens open to the danger of a conflagration, unattended.

The cause of the present commotion will certainly come before the public if an investigation is held in the interests of the people.

NO MAN SINCE NAPOLEON HAS BEEN SO EMINENT AS LLOYD GEORGE IS TO-DAY

AS LONG AS THERE ARE EMERGENCIES THERE WILL BE LLOYD GEORGE, SAYS AMERICAN CORRESPONDENT.

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—An interesting sketch of Mr. Lloyd George, from the point of view of a disinterested onlooker, is written for the Wall Street Journal by its London correspondent, Herbert H. Casson. "As long as there are emergencies there will be Lloyd George," is this writer's conclusion.

"Probably no one in Europe since Napoleon has been as central and as eminent as Lloyd George is to-day," says the article. "As the generals have fallen back one by one into the background, Lloyd George has come steadily to the front, until he has become the foremost figure of Europe.

Has No Rival.

"At the moment he has no rival. He has not Parliamentary opposition worth worrying about. He has confounded his political enemies; and since the Spa Convention he has come back to England with more prestige than ever. Even the French editors are applauding him. In Parliament, he and no one else holds the reins of power. More and more he is establishing himself as the government.

"Lloyd George is a master of opportunism. He deals with emergencies as they arise. He is the most successful destroyer of emergncies in the world. This is his genius and the secret of his power. He is not at all like President Wilson, who is a fixed and immovable man. Lloyd George has mobility above everything else. He is not a doctrinaire. He has never had an opinion that he would not light-heartedly throw out of the window.

Lets Things Drift.

"His policy is to let things drift. Then when a crash threatens he springs to action and prevents it. He loves emergencies. He prefers them to all else. They enable him ten or twelve times a year to rescue his country from disaster. Anyone can go to a British news-stand and buy two different biographies of Lloyd George. The one is Pro and the other is Anti. One testifies that Lloyd George has got Great Britain into most of her messes and muddles, and the other testifies that he has triumphantly got her out. The probability is that both are right.

"As he has no plans, neither can he really be said to have any advisers. He takes short views of life. He deals with each day as it comes. He has learned in thirty years of British public life that the British public prefers the leader who deals with trouble rather the one who prevents it. He has a personal staff, whom he consults constantly. This staff changes, as the problems come and go. At the moment it consists of Mr. Bonar Law, Lord Riddell, Lord Reading and Sir Philip Sassoon.

Bonar Law is Loyal.

"Lloyd George's greatest strength is Bonar Law, who, if he had wished, might without much difficulty have been Prime Minister himself. For four years Bonar Law has been the most faithful and devoted assistant that Lloyd George has ever had. As to Lord Riddell, he is the owner of the principal Sunday newspaper in Britain—The News of the World. This publication has a circulation of 3,500,000 copies. As for Lord Reading, he was orignally a most shrewd and artful lawyer, who by ability and daring climbed to the topmost pinnacle of the British bar. As for Sir Philip Sassoon, he is a remarkable young diplomat of 32—a member of the Rothschild family. Rich, ambitious, and as silent as the Sphinx. Many people look upon him as a young Disraeli.

Two Dangerous Enemies.

"The two most dangerous enemies of Lloyd George are Lord Northcliffe and Sir Edward Carson. The latter recently voted against the government and led 100 voters temporarily out of the coalition. Mr. Asquith, too, is an enemy in a sense, but he is not dangerous. He is not even serious in his enemity. In a recent speech he became almost an apologist for the government. Mr. Asquith has very few supporters in Parliament. His only stronghold is the National Liberal Club, of which he controls nine-tenths of the members.

"So, it seems quite possible that Lloyd George may succeed in creating his own party, in case the coalition fails. In the coming year there will be no end of emergencies. We shall be 'on the verge' of something or other almost every week; and as long as there are emergencies there will be Lloyd George."

JUDGMENT IN A PETERBORO CASE

HENRY G. WHITE MUST START ALL OVER AGAIN.

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—In the bankruptcy court Justice Order has given judgment refusing to ratify proceedings taken in the assignment of Henry G. White of Peterborough, under the Ontario Assignments and Preferences Act. He was asked to a general meeting of creditors of August 10th to have been held under and by virtue of the Bankruptcy Act. His Lordship points out that all the proceedings under Ontario Act are declared void by the Bankruptcy Act and the requirement to advertise a general meeting of creditors in the Canada Gazette had not been complied with. He rules that all that took place prior to August 13th, 1920, must be disregarded and the trustee must begin anew by publishing the proper notices. Mr. White assigned to W. R. Morris, of Peterborough prior to August 10th. His liabilities totalled $16,415 and creditors representing $13,484 were at the meeting held on that date.

FRANK CARVELL WILL BE ON JOB

ONLY SMALL SHAREHOLDER IN TELEPHONE COMPANY.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Aug. 25.—"You can say that I will be on the bench when the application of the Bell Telephone Co. for increased rates comes up for hearing," said Hon. Frank Carvell, chairman of the Railway Commissioners to the Canadian Press this morning, when attention was drawn to newspaper reports that he would not be able to hear the Bell Telephone Co.'s application for increased rates because of his connection with the New Brunswick Telephone Co. Mr. Carvell said he had been director and a small shareholder of the telephone company, which is operated under the Utility Board of New Brunswick and does not come under the jurisdiction of the Railway Commission.

TRANS-CANADA AIR FLIGHT NEXT MONTH

Canadian Press.

OTTAWA, August 25. — While no definite choice has yet been made it is practically certain that the first trans-Canada flight to be attempted next month, under the auspices of the Canadian Air Board will seee Col. R. Leck, Superintendent of the Certificate Branch of the C.A.F., as pilot.

It is understood that the first half of the trip will be made by seaplane and from Winnipeg west by airplane.

While the general operations of the Air Board are for exploration, survey and fire protection purposes the Board proposes to test out commercially the possibilities of air transport. The Board itself does not propose to make any commercial ventures but will supply general information on the subject.

AWAIT ACTION ON PART OF COUNCIL

FIREMEN'S UNION IS A NON-STRIKE ORGANIZATION.

There is considerable resentment among the members of the Fire Dedepartment for what they consider the side-tracking of their request for an investigation of their grievances by the City Council last evening.

Asked this morning what further measures, if any, the firemen intended to take, Fireman Victor Lebarr stated that in all probability they would merely await further action on the part of the Council.

The public's impression that the firemen contemplate a strike, he emphatically discounted.

"The International Fire Fighters' Union is essentially a non-strike organization," he stated.

"Should matters not be settled satisfactorily by the City Council, we have the right to hand in our resignations. But in such an eventuality we would hold ourselves ready to answer the call of any serious fire until such time, within six months, as a new force should be installed and trained in the performance of their duties. This was our promise to Mayor McIntyre and the citizens need have no fear that the city will be left without fire proection."

HUNGER STRIKER GETTING WORSE

M'SWEENEY WILL NOT BE RELEASED FROM JAIL.

(Canadian Press.)

LUCERNE, Aug. 25. — Premier Lloyd George in a statement to-day concerning the case of Lord Mayor McSweeney of Cork, whose condition is grave because of the hunger strike in Brixton jail, said in substance that whatever the consequences the government could not take the responsibility of releasing McSweney. Premier declared he regretted McSweney had decided to starve himself, but said that if he were released then all the hunger strikers would have to be released.

"The law which is respector of persons in no law," he continued in a statement. "If the Cabinet therefore departed from its decision, a complete breakdown of the whole machinery of law and government in Ireland inevitably would follow."

PRICES TOOK A TUMBLE TO-DAY

To-day the High Cost of Living lapsed into a temporary state of coma when all the leading stores in the city marked their stocks down to something like normal, and in many cases below, in contributing to make Dollar Day a date to be remembered by all.

Throughout the city the people made a wonderful response to the day of days for bargains and turned out in such numbers that it looked as though all previous records for Dollar Day would be broken. Long before nine o'clock the dry goods stores which were the principal source of attraction were surrounded by eager multitudes who had found out either from former experience or from the press that there was something worth turning out for and at the time of opening with caterpillar like rapidity moved about, picking up a bargain here and a bargain there, each person telling in awed tones what she had got and directing her neighbour to the counter.

Nobody was disappointed. Every one got just what she wanted and went home happy, confident that she had taken a rise out of the High Cost of Living for once in the year.

DANCE AT CHEMONG

About seventy-five couples, employees of Cressman's store, visitors from the city and cottagers at Chemong Park attended the dance given in the Chemong pavilion last evening under the auspices of the Cressman Athletic Club and a very substantial amount was realized to be devoted to the Serbian Relief Fund. Under the chaperonage of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cressman the young people had a most enjoyable evening and the hall and music, the latter supplied by the Syncopated Three, left nothing to be desired. The committee in charge are indebted to the generosity of Mr. Sullivan who supplied the hall free, and all who in any way contributed to making the dance the success it proved to be.

VETERANS WON—SCORE WAS 1-0.

The G.W.V.A. and De Loval football elevens met last night on the Exhibition Grounds in what resembled more of a friendly game than a League match. The play throughout was exceedingly tame and listless. The only goal scored was that by the Veterans in the first half. But in fairness to the De Laval team, it must be noted that they had experienced considerable difficulty in getting together a team for this event.

The last five minutes of the match was played in all but total darkness, although the ball was kicked off at 6.15 o'clock.

THE AMBASSADOR DENIES CHARGES

(Canadian Press.)

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 25. — Charges of Congressman Britten of Illinois that the British Parliament appropriated $87,500 to be expended by the British Ambassador at Washington for "entertainment purposes" in furthering the democratic presidential campaign were declared to-day to be "perfectly absurd" by Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, who is here attending the convention of the American Bar Association.

Sir Auckland said that the "British Government has not made any contribution of any sort to any party in any state for any purpose. The only fund which the British government has placed at my disposal is the one covering the living expenses of myself and 30 other persons connected with the British Embassy. The amount is about $87,000, or less than $3,000 a year for each person, and as prices now are, it is an insufficient amount."

AN EVEN FIRST HALF, NO SCORE—YOUNG'S FINE DISPLAY IN GOAL—HOPKINS GETS THE FIRST GOAL—DUNKLEY THE SECOND—CHAMBERS INJURED BUT RESUMED.

The Canadian Woollens and the Comrades met in their first game in the 1920-21 season at the Oval last evening and resulted in a win for the Comrades, the score being 2-0.

There was a good crowd in attendance and a good class of football was put up for their entertainment.

The first half was very even, both sides missing chances of scoring, and the good goal keeping of Calladine and Young helped to keep the score sheet blank. Half time arrived with neither team having found the net.

From the kick-off on resuming, McDougall made a nice run and passed to Warman who centred the ball to Jolliffe, who skimmed the bar by inches.

After fifteen minutes of play, with neither side dangerous, McDougall passed the ball, after a nice run, to Dunkley, who in turn passed to Hopkins, who had no difficulty in registering the Comrades' first goal.

With about ten minutes to go, Cowie intercepted a pass from Thorpe, and swung the ball out to Warman, who without waiting passed into the centre for Dunkley to seize upon, and with a fast ground shot registered the second goal for the Comrades.

The teams lined up as follows:

Canadian Woollens — Calladine, Cridland, Hillman, Montgomery, Thorpe, Jackson, Stiles, Chambers, Hodson, Clark, Roberts and Baldwin.

Comrades —J. Young, W. Carter, R. Leach, T. Bolam, H. Cowie, A. Nicholls, T. Hopkins, R. Joliffe, M. Dunkley, W. McDougall, W. Warman.

BOHUNKS DEFEATED CRESSMANS IN A SEVEN INNINGS BATTLE

Bohunks and Cressman's played great baseball at Riverside Park last evening, Bohunks winning a seven-innings battle by 5 to 2. Fast work by Cherrett kept the Bohunks away from the plate in the third and fourth, but after two were gone in the fifth, Soden pulled Cobb off the bag after missing the third strike on Thirnbeck, and Manager White's lads hit five singles in a row, giving them four runs.

Ecobichon had the Big Store gang baffled, allowing only one healthy hit, a drive into right by Graham in the seventh. Fast fielding should have stopped the other two credited to Cressman's. "Cobby" also fanned nine batters and struck out the side in the third.

Other features of the play included a perfect bunt by Thirnbeck down third, his sniping of Hunter at first on a hard chance, and two catches by McGee and M. Long. Fred Rutherford had a double killing unassisted at third.

The team managers did a good stroke of business in getting the services of Alex. Kay and "Curly" LeBarr to handle the games. Other teams might do likewise, and thus rid the games of much wrangling.

Retirement in order greeted the teams in the first innings. In the second Cherrett stole a hit when White left his bag instead of allowing Doughty to field the ball. Cherrett reached third, but nobody could hit him home.

Doughty hit between third and short and when White drove one at Cherrett, the latter missed tagging Doughty and then threw wide to Cobb, Doughty making third. McGee grounded to Cherrett, who with a pretty peg got Doughty at the plate. Meredith fanned for the third out.

Ecobichon fanned Long, Bartley, and Rutherford in the third.

In Bohunks' half with one gone, Cobb dropped a peg from Cherrett, and Bergoine was safe. Thirnbeck laid down a perfect bunt, and Herbison's hit back of third filled the bags. Another accurate peg by Cherrett on Doughty's biff caught Bergoine at the plate. White grounded out.

Nothing developed until Bohunks' half of the fifth, when they cashed in four runs. Cobb took Ecobichon's liner and Long took a long fly from Bergoine. Thirnbeck fanned, Soden dropping the last one. He threw wide, and the runner was safe. The next five batters hit safely, Tudhope's single into middle acounting for two of the four tallies. Hunter finally stopped it by taking Meredith's fly.

In the sixth a bad throw by Bergoine allowed F. Rutherford to come in from third for Cressman's first run, and Thirnbeck, with a hit into right, scored Ecobichon, who beat out his clout and made second when Cherrett failed to handle Bergoine's grounder. Bergoine got to third, but was doubled by Rutherford, who picked off a low drive from Herbison.

In the seventh, with Cherrett out on a foul fly to Bergoine, Cobb drew the first and only pass of the game. He stole second, at the expense of his left ankle. Cherrett took his place at the bag, and he was well away when Graham dumped a single into right, scoring the runner. The next two went out.

THE CALEDONIAN AND DE LAVAL TEAMS WILL CLASH.

The Caledonians and the De Laval football elevens will play on the oval on Thursday night. Kick off at 6.15 sharp. It is important to note the changed time, as the last ten minutes of the match between the Canadian Woollens and Comrades, starting last evening at 6.30, was played in pitch darkness.

"MAPLE LEAF"

Captain M. W. Plunkett will present the famous fourth division "Maple Leafs" in their original overseas revue, "Camouflage" at the Grand Opera House for 2 days, commencing Monday, Aug. 30.

The "Maple Leafs" proved to be one of the most successful of all the theatrical parties of soldier entertainers in France, and their present homecoming tour of Canada will be heartily appreciated by all the returned men ,as well as by the usual theatregoers, who appreciate a good show, put on by a regular bunch of fellows. And everybody knows that the "Maple Leafs" are regular fellows, all of whom have done their bit in the trenches before being chosen by Captain Plunkett as members of the entertainment corps.

There are some gorgeous "girls" with the company, who apply the camouflage with such artistry, and prove such delightful dimpled darlings that the show was named for them.

"SLEEPING PARTNERS"

"Sleeping Partners" with beautiful Edna Goodrich, herself, in the leading female role, will be the attraction at the Grand Saturday, August 28th.

The play is a comedy of the Paris boulevard, telling the story of the misadventure of a radiant Parisienne and her wayward husband, and relating how a sophisticated American saves both from the penalty of their folly. Edna Goodrich as the French wife is dazzling, alluring and becomingly coy.

Miss Goodrich has been seen here in pictures and as leading woman and co-star with Nat C. Goodwin. In her present role she will wear what are promised to be some of the handsomest Lucille gowns ever seen on the American stage.

"THE LITTLE SHEPHERD OF KINGDOM COME"

The valley of Kingdom Come in Kentucky is the setting for the tale of John Fox, Jr., "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come." Fox's novel was an inspiration for the adapter and the play that was made, now at the beginning of what promises to be a notable career, will be offered here with the original cast and the superb production that has been acclaimed in some of the leading Eastern cities. The engagement of the company at the Grand, Thursday, Aug. 26th, will be for one night only. There is a feud as a part of the excitement, but the play is really a romance of delightful character with plenty of wholesome fun and with some stirring happenings as well.

TRAIN YOUR DOG

The advantages of having a well trained dog in the house were never better exemplified than in Tom Moore's latest Goldwyn production, "The Great Accident," in which Tom Moore as care-free son of the town's political illuminary, Wint Chase, who comes home embued with too much high spirits, and finds difficulty with the laces of his shoes. Having knotted the laces Wint is about to retire with his shoes on, when his faithful dog Muldoon, comes to the rescue, and unknots the troublesome laces.

500 CADETS COMING FOR LOCAL CAMP OPENING TO-MORROW

Five hundred cadets are expected to go into camp here to-morrow at the Exhibition Park. They are coming from Kingston, Belleville, Stirling, Campbellford, Millbrook, Lakefield, Lindsay, Bowmanville, Newcastle, Port Hope, Cobourg, and Peterborough.

The staff is composed of Colonel G. H. Gillespie, Camp Commandant, Capt. C. E. Jamieson, A.A. and Q.-M.-G., Capt. J. Edwards, M.C., musketry instructor, and Capt. E. C. Wood, M.D., medical officer.

Some of the tents have already been set up, and the others will be erected by the cadets to-morrow as part of their training.

Arrangements for their needs and comfort have been completed. Mr. T. H. Hooper, the caterer, is preparing one of the buildings as a dining-hall. The Y.M.C.A. are sending representatives to take charge of and direct the sports, and to instruct the boys in swimming. There will be musketry practice at the ranges every day under Capt. Edwards, who is one of the most expert musketry instructors in Canada.

Arrangements have been made for the transportation of the cadets to the ranges, and Col. Gillespie will be greatly obliged if citizens will provide motor cars to assist in this transportation. It is hoped that some musketry teams may be selected to compete for the cadet trophies at the annual competition in October at the Longbranch Ranges.

The forenoons will be given over to physical training, military drill, lectures, and rifle shooting, and the afternoons to organised sports and swimming. The Y.M.C.A. will give moving pictures at night.

DIED

do what they are told, and there would be no trouble if there were proper discipline. I hope the Council will be unprejuriced and see that the three men get justice. Were they dismissed for inefficiency or because they attended the Trades Council? Surely it is a function of the Trades Council to bring public questions to the attention of the City Council and to co-operate for the welfare of the city."

Mr. T. H. Lane.

Mr. T. H. Lane said that the Trades Council simply asked for an immediate and public investigation of the Department. If the men were inefficient through their own fault they should be displaced, if it was not through their fault then the Council should remove whoever was responsible.

Mr. Alex. Murray.

Mr. Murray said he was present as a citizen interested in the Fire Department. If members of the Council had tried to find out the conditions at the fire hall they could have done so themselves. Mr. Murray said he had visited the hall occasionally and he had known that everytning wasn't all right. He recalled the fire in a house on McDonnel street near the end or Waterford street. The woman who gave the alarm walked down to the police station and one of the constables telephoned the fire hall. The woman had passed an alarm box on the way and the firemen had laughed at her ignorance. They attended the fire with only the chemical waggon and when they found they needed other apparatus instead of ringing up the fire hall from the nearby box they sent the waggon down to the hall.

"They laughed at the woman for passing the alarm box and they did the same thing themselves because they hadn't been trained better. If an investigation means wiping out the whole department the Council should hew to the line without fear or favor. That's what we're here to ask for."

Ald. Morrison.

Ald. Morrison stated that he had never received any communication from the men. At the time of the C. G.E. strike they had approached him and he asked them whether they considered that the best time. They asked the chairman what he would do and he replied that it was in their own hands. As a result no further action was taken then, and Ald. Morrison said he had never heard anything since from the men.

SUGAR TEN CENTS IN NEAR FUTURE

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Aug 25.—A Government expert on the sugar situation is quoted as stating that while sugar prices are tumbling in the United States, and it is selling in certain places at 17 cents a pound retail, Canadian wholesalers, jobbers and others maintain their united front to the effect that it is not going down in Canada.

He prophesies tha sugar will be around 10 cents a pound in the not distant future. He says, of course the refiners and wholesalers will try to keep up the price, but economic laws may work in such a way as to make it impossible.

The present situation in Canada is that sugar is selling on the average of 26 cents a pound retail. There is no excuse for this, he maintains. Refiners in Canada, it is true, paid 18 or 19 cents a pound for their last lot of raw sugar, but since then the bottom has been knocked out of the boom in the United States and sugar is slumping.

The announcement states that the new price represents an advance to subscribers of about one-third the increased cost of publication, and that the average percentage increase in costs has been 170 per cent., in the past six years.

Chiropractic For Bladder Trouble

There is nothing seriously wrong with a child who is troubled with nocturnal micturition. Nerve pressure at the spine upon the nerves which control the bladder has rendered the organ weak and unable to respond to natural impulses.

By taking the child to the Chiropractor for a series of Chiropractic adjustments you will not only afford him relief from broken rest and this unpleasant habit but you will also provide against the development of serious, injurious consequences in adult life.

There is no excuse for a parent neglecting his child's health because of a lack of knowledge of a new science. Investigation will reveal the remarkable results which can be obtained in a short time by this new health mode. Russia Offers to Waive All Peace Terms Save Those Submitted

BOLSHEVIK ESCAPE NET

SOVIET TROOPS CARRIED OUT REGROUPING MOVEMENTS—HEAVY FIGHTING CONTINUES.

(United Press.)

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Russia offers to waive all peace terms save those submitted to Lloyd George.

(Canadian Press)

WARSAW, Aug. 26.—Remnants of the fourth Bolshevik army which were cut off by the Polish advance in the region of Kolno, have succeeded in cutting their way through to the eastward after a battle lasting ten hours, according to an official statement issued here. Soviet troops carried out regrouping, manoeuvres and succeeded in making their way out of a trap which had closed upon them, but at last accounts were surrounded by more numerous forces of the fourth Polish army. The fifth Polish army continues its work of rounding up detachments of Bolshevik in the region west of the railroad running from Modlin to Mlawa.

Troops Concentrating.

Soviet troops are reported to be concentrating in great numbers along the Beresina River and military observers ar speculating as to possibility that they may launch an attack against the Central Polish front. It is believed possible that the Bolsheviki may make a stand in the event of the Poles continuing their pursuit of the retreating Soviet armies eastward from River Bug on south and Grodno on the north.

CAPTURED FORTRESS.

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Polish troops yesterday, after a hard fighting, captured the fortress of Ostrolenka, twenty-two miles south-west of Lomza, and forced a passage of the Narew River, Central News Warsaw correspondent says it is officially posted in the Polish capital to-day. Warsaw advices say that Soviet reserves are reported being brought up on the southern front in great numbers. According to information in the hands of the Polish, General Haller reserves some distance behind the Bolshevist north front and are being brought up.

Town Recaptured.

Persian Cossacks have recaptured Resht, Persia, on Caspian Sea, from Bolsheviki, according to official despatches which have reached London. Bolsheviki made only slight resis-

AMEND TERMS.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, August 26. — The Soviet government is prepared to withdraw the clause from the peace terms to Poland concerning the formation of armed militia of two hundred thousand working men in Poland, says a Moscow wireless picked up by the Eiffel Tower to-day.

The Moscow government however insists that peace negotiations must be discussed with Poland alone — "without any outside intervention whatever"

The wireless says this concession is made in an effort to meet Lloyd George's objection to the clause and try to arrive at a complete understanding with the British government.

SOME OF THE CADET CORPS REACHED THE CITY THIS MORNING—CAMP ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED—LECTURE HALL FITTED UP.

The Cadet Camp lost considerable valuable time to-day when the units which were expected to arrive this morning did not put in an appearance until the noon trains, and some have not arrived yet, though it is expected that they will come in on the late afternoon trains.

Stirling and Campbellford were the only units which arrived this morning and as a result the erection of tents and distribution of equipment was delayed slightly.

Camp Arrangements.

The camp will occupy most of the area inside of the race track. About 60 tents, each accomodating ten, will be raised. The stage in front of the grand stand is being used as an orderly room. One of the large buildings to the east of the camp is being fitted up as a dining room. Two long tables extend the length of the building, and the "cook house," where the firm of T. Hooper will cater, is located at the rear. Hoopers are erecting a large canteen where the thirst and sweet tooths of the boys can be appeased. Another of the exhibition buildings is being fitted up as a lecture hall and here lectures on various military matters will be given, religious services will be held, and the Y. M. C. A. will provide recreation by means of motion picture shows. A large hospital tent will be located at a distance from the camp in order to secure quiet. The large level area to the east of the race track will be used as a parade ground.

To-day the Cadets are erecting their tents and drawing their equipment. With the exception of the entainment to be given by the Y.M.C.A. this evening there will be no other activities at the camp to-day.

Cost of Camp.

Water and electric light connections are being made and the camp will be supplied with running water and lights.

Asked this morning how great the expenditure here would be, Lt.-Col. Gillespie of Kingston, O.C., Cadet Corps, District No. 3, stated that would depend on the number of cadets who attended. The cost of food per man a day was about $1, he stated. It is thought that the expenditure will be in the neighborhood of $10,000. About 500 cadets are expected.

The boys will be given passes out of the camp until 11:30 o'clock in the evening.

ADLDERMAN DUBS PETERBORO FIREHALL "LODGING HOUSE"

ALDERMEN EXPRESS SURPRISE WHEN INFORMED THAT THE NIGHT PLATOON SLEPT ON DUTY.

That the City Council must have had some doubt of the alleged inefficiency of the Fire Department, is recalled from a casual discussion at a comparatively recent meeting in which one of the aldermen ironically referred to the fire hall as a "lodging house." Some members of the Council then learned for the first time that the night shift under the Department's two platoon system slept all night on duty and had their days at home to employ as they saw fit with the condition that they were to respond to any alarm that might be sounded.

Surprise was expressed at this arrangement by some of the aldermen who were unaware of the practice, although it had obtained from the inception of the two platoon system. Ald. G. N. Gordon asked whether it wasn't preferable that the men remain awake and on duty downstairs as required of the day shift, but Ald. Morrison explained that he had been informed that the men could get out of bed and go to a fire as quickly as if they remained awake and dressed downstairs.

In the passing discussion it was broadly insinuated that some firemen after sleeping on the night shift took up other work during the day, and it was at that stage that the comment was made to the amusement of the Council that the fire hall was a "lodging house."

In the light of recent events and the charges of inefficiency made by the firemen themselves there is the significant fact that some members of the Council were so out of touch with the Fire Department affairs that they were ignorant of the established practice of the night shift's slepeing while on duty. Whether this followed the example of other Fire Departments is aside from the lack of knowledge some of the aldermen displayed in the administration of an important public service for which they were ultimately responsible to the ratepayers. The Council's conversation and the facetious allusion to the fire hall as a "lodging house" and the insinuation that some of the firemen were not giving their time solely in the service of the city may not have suggested to the aldermen that the Department was inefficient at least to the extent alleged by the firemen. This is assumed from statements at the special meeting of the Council on Tuesday night that the request of the Trades and Labour Council for an investigation occasioned surprise. Ald. Whitehouse said it was strange that the complaints of the men had cropped up so suddenly.

The City Council was so satisfied with the Fire Department that they could complacently bear the fire hall dubbed a "lodging house" without any misgiving of the internal conditions. Other citizens who had simply seen the methods of the brigade in fighting fires would perhaps not have dismissed the "lodging house" reflection as casually had they been in the places of the aldermen. Certainly the Trades and Labour didn't hesitate to demand an investigation after waht they heard. They of course had the recital of some of the firemen before them. The City Council had only vague insinuations pointed with aldermanic wit and let go at that.

Different prepossessions may explain the different attitudes. The Trades Council, apart from their interests in the efficiency of the Department, resented the Chief's convention address as reported. The City Council had sung the praises of the Department when increasing their wages and had nothing more than the "lodging house" reference to arouse any doubts. They may have felt that if the fire hall had become a "lodging house" such was the general practice, although aldermanic curiosity had on some other questions aroused itself to inquire into the methods adopted by other cities.

Some ratepayers hearing of the "lodging house" term under the present circumstances might suggest that the light of the proposed inquiry be turned upon the Council and its methods of supervising civic departments.

IMPRESSED BY BEAUTY OF CITY

MR. ALEX. GIBSON RETURNS AFTER LONG ABSENCE.

Much impressed by the beauty of the city, Mr. Alex. Gibson, who returned to the city to visit Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McDonald, 385 Queen Street, after an absence of some twelve years, started on his return trip to his home in Los Angeles on Saturday.

While missing practically all his old acquaintances, who have joined the "great majority" since he conducted his blacksmith shop on Simcoe Street, on the site of Mr. Walter Oke's wholesale fruit store, Mr. Gibson had a most enjoyable time in the city, and stated that its growth since his last visit here was almost unbelievable. The last time he was here the site of the present Sacred Heart Church was a swamp, and the residential district of the west end a common. Asked what he thought of the industrial possibilities of the city, he said that he considered it had as many opportunities as any of the big cities in the States, and had grown in proportion as rapidly as any town in Canada or the States. He said he was particularly impressed by the evident prosperity of the business section of the city.

ESTIMATED COST OF COMPLETING THE HUNTER STREET BRIDGE—COUNCIL WANTS DETAILED STATEMENT.

ANOTHER BY-LAW LIKELY

Another $100,000 will be needed to cover the cost of completing the Hunter street bridge!

The statement of H. S. Seymour representing Frank Barber, presented to the Bridge Committee recently, estimated a total requirement of $73,840.64, exclusive of interest on future loans, discount on debentures, and similar items.

The committee realized and was advised by Mr. Seymour that to take care of contingent expenses the additional sum required for finishing the work should be set at $100,000.

On Ald. Gordon's suggestion, Mr. Seymour has been asked for as complete a report as he can provide, showing deductions that should be made on acccount of salvage, loss on sale of debentures, interest and other costs. This report is expected shortly and the council faces the necessity of submitting another $100,000 bylaw to the people for their approval.

Details of Statement.

Mr. Seymour's first report to the Bridge Committee showed the amount available from various sources for the bridge was $410,435.20, and there had been expended up to Aug. 18th, $359,954.71, leaving available $50,480.59. Deducting from this the estimated expense sheet to August 21, of $12,210.15, leaves $38,270.44. The $5,000 from the Dominion Railway Board brings the sum to $43,270.44.

Ont the other side the contractors' estimate on July 15th for labor and material to complete the bridge, was $122,071.00, from which is deducted $35,459.92, the interim expense statements to August 21st leaving $86,611.08. To this sum is added $30,500, covering land damages and estimated balance of fees and salaries for engineering and contracting.

This brings the total estimates expenditure to $117,111.08. Deduct from that sum the available $43,270.44 shown above and there is left a deficiency of $73,840.64 which, as stated, does not provide for interest on future loans, debenture discount and some other items.

LITTLE SUPPORT FOR INSPECTOR

HEALTH DEPARTMENT SAID TO IGNORE MANY COMPLAINTS.

In reference to the case of the man charged with a breach of the sanitary regulations, who was given ten days to-day by Magistrate Dumble, in which to remedy the unsanitary conditions, Sanitary Inspector Stapleton states that he has already given the man several chances to clean up and that at last when he threatened to bring him into the police court, the man practically defied him.

Mr. Stapleton is dissatisfied with the support which he has received from the Medical Health Department in his efforts to clean up the city and states that the public has no idea of the condition with which he has to contend.

His efforts have been frustrated many times, he says, and the complaints of both himself and citizens regarding the extremely unsanitary conditions which exist in some parts of the city, have been completely ignored by the Medical Health Department.

ONE DOLLAR CASH PROFIT IN TEN DAYS

BANKER PUTS ON ADVERTISING STUNT IN HAMILTON.

(Special to The Examiner)

HAMILTON, Aug. 26.—Advertising in a local newspaper yesterday afternoon a private banker of this city agreed to pay on September 4 the sum of two dollars to every citizen who deposited with him to-day one dollar bill. "One dollar cash profit in ten days" reads the ad. in part. In an interview with the press, the banker said it was purely an advertising stunt and he did not expect more than about 30 or 40 people would subscribe.

New Hydro Movement Said to be Started and Officers Named

LATER REPORT SAYS THE INFORMATION IS PREMATURE—PRESIDENTS OF U.F.O. REPORTED BEHIND SCHEME.

Special to the Examiner:

TORONTO, Aug. 26.—The publication by the morning paper of a list of the executive and officials of the newly-formed Hydro Information Association is premature, according to the secretary, Ex-Mayor J. M. Elson, of St. Catharines. The list is incomplete and incorrect. The full list, together with an official statement, will be issued later.

"The statement that the organization is antagonistic to the Hydro is not correct," said Mr. Elson. "I would not be in it if it were, and if anything developed showing the ulterior motives I would immediately get out."

"Who is behind the movement?"—"The various presidents of the U.F.O. initiated the movement."

"Is the U.F.O. financing the organization?"—"No; at present we are doing some preliminary work, but we have no funds at all yet."

Mr. Elson takes strong exception to statements appearing in a morning paper to the effect that his anti-Hydro policy was the cause of his defeat at St. Catharines, and that with him he brought down ex-Ald. C. H. Nash.

The Earlier Report.

To-day's "Globe" contained the following:

From the fountain-head of information on Hydro, "The Ontario Hydro Information Association," 57 Colborne Street, news is shortly to flow out to the Province which is declared to be "the true state of affairs regarding the Hydro-radial situation on this continent."

The new association now announces its officers and Executive men, and the public will be able to see the source from which the waters of information will flow. As set forth in a billhead, these officers are as follows:

President, Lieut.-Col. J. Z. Fraser of Burford; Secretary-Treasurer, ex-Mayor J. M. Elson, of St. Catharines; Executive—F. L. Mason, ex-Mayor of Oshawa, also ex-Warden of Ontario County; G. D. Conant, ex-Mayor of Oshawa; J. W. Willis, ex-Mayor of Whitby; C. H. Nash, ex-Alderman of St. Catharines; Mayor R. R. Hall, M.P.P., Parry Sound; Major J. R. Eden, Kitchener; Thomas Baker, Reeve of Darlington; A. C. Garden, Hamilton; Senator Robert Beith, Bowmanville; A. A. Powers, President United Farmers' Co-operative Company; J. J. Morrison, Secretary-Treasurer United Farmers' Co-operative Company; F. H. McGuigan, Toronto; Hugh Blain, Toronto; Dr. P. E. Doolittle, Toronto; F. G. H. Pattison, Winona, and Arthur Hawkes, Toronto.

THE BOARD OF COMMERCE TO INVESTIGATE SUGAR PRICES

BUYING PUBLIC IS GETTING RESTIVE—SPECULATION IN SUGAR.

OTTAWA, Aug. 26.—Action as to the price of sugar in Canada can be expected before the end of the week.

It is understood that Mr. F. A. Acland and Major Dillon, two of the Board of Commerce Commissioners, are leaving for Montreal to-day to make a final investigation on the spot of the situation, and that before Monday a statement will be made.

The low prices at which sugar is being sold in the United States at present, coupled with reports that Canadian refineries are exporting sugar to Michigan at prices lower than the same sugar is sold for in Canada, is making the Canadian public very restive.

Big Losses Claimed.

On behalf of the refiners it is urged that they are stocked up with raw sugar bought at high prices, and that falling prices would spell tremendous losses. One refinery is claimed to have lost $300,000 already, and to be on the verge of bankruptcy. There is a disposition here to be sceptical on the point, as it is known that large Canadian companies bought Cuban raws last December at as low as eight cents a pound, and even lower, and bought in larger quantities than ever before.

When the speculation began which drove the price up to 24 cents a pound for raws these companies obtained tremendous profits in collaboration with New York brokerage firms and sold their raws to American buyers who had to have it to fill contracts. Therefore if they sold so much of their Cuban raws that they had later to purchase at the enhanced prices, the tumble in rates would only take from the companies referred to what they had earlier gained in speculation, it is alleged here.

It may be that there were one or two companies that did not participate in the cheap buying and speculative selling, but it is not supposed that the market can be sustained just to protect them. It is believed, however, that there is sufficient sugar in Canada for all Canadian needs, and a respectable surplus for export. Canadian refineries can fill all Canadian needs at any time by working to sixty per cent. of their capacity, and they usually expect to keep working to full capacity by exporting the other forty per cent. to the mid-Western States. This process was interrupted this spring by the export embargo on sugar and the greater profits offered by speculation. Some tens of thousands of tons were permitted to be exported, but other contracts made at low figures lapsed because of the embargo. Some are yet being filled.

There has been a great lessening in the Canadian demand since prices broke in the United States. The public has practically stopped buying in expectation of a break. This move on the part of the public might bring the break even without action from the Board of Commerce, but action will probably be taken. A great deal of information on the situation has already been collected by the board.

Reaping the Profits.

The public disquiet with regard to sugar prices is not lessened in any way by the knowledge that the price of Cuban raws, which is now 12 cents a pound in New York, has varied from 8 cents to 24 cents for the same crop, and that, presumably, there has been a profit in it for the original growers at all these figures. The speculative intermediaries in Cuba, New York and Canada have combed in the extra profit.

MIMICO LACROSSE TEAM MEET LOCALS HERE ON SATURDAY

The lacrosse team had a fast workout last night, and are ready for Saturday's game with Mimico at Riverside Park. The followers of lacrosse realise that Mimico haven't been defeated this year, and that with their strongest line-up they will be hard to beat. Johnnie Sutherland's men are equally determined to take this round of the O. A. L. A. A win would bring them close to the finals, and this prospect has spurred them in their practices, and will bring out their best game here on Saturday, and in Toronto on 4th September.

The team has worked harmoniously all summer and have kept in condition in preparation for their first game.

BOYS ALLOWED TO GO WITH WARNING

Two cases of juvenile theft were heard in Police Court this morning. One boy charged with stealing $5.50, was allowed to go on suspended sentence. Another trio, one of whom was charged with stealing $40 from his grandmother and dividing it with his two friends, and the others with receiving, appeared. The boy who stole the money was remanded to the Children's Shelter for a week and the other two were allowed to go on suspended sentences

A man charged with breach of the sanitary regulations was given ten days in which to remedy the unsanitary conditions.

ALD. CROWE IN ROLE OF CENSOR SPEAKS FROM EXPERIENCE

How Ald Crowe went down to the Pollack shows and fell among gamblers was told to the Council on Tuesday evening.

"Rumours had come to me that everything was wide open at the Pollack shows so I went down to find out for myself, and dang it all I wasn't there ten minutes before I was gambling with the rest of them," said Ald. Crowe. "There was a terrible amount of gambling. Of course I know it's outside the city and the local police have no jurisdiction, but some one was lax. Is that kind of entertainment good for the people. Can't we have amusements without gambling that attracts old and young alike. I think the Exhibition Board could put a stop to it by telling these summer shows that they mustn't have gambling devices. And while I'm on this subject I want to say that I didn't think much of that display in front of a theatre a few weeks ago when a line of children's and women's clothes, lingerie and dresses was strung above the sidewalk in front of a moving picture house. That was a rude advertisement. Surely we don't want things like these and others that could be mentioned. I hope the press will take note of what I say and let these people know that many citizens disapprove of the things I have referred to."

Ald. Gordon agreed with Ald. Crowe and stated that the Exhibition Board was receiving financial assistance from thef city which could, if necessary be cut off if gambling was permitted at the Fair or the travelling carnival shows.

A resolution was passed calling the attention of the Exhibition Board to the Council's wish that gambling be forbidden on the Fair grounds henceforth.

DECLARED FEE SYSTEM MUST GO

MAGISTRATES AS WELL AS COUNTY OFFICIALS WILL BE AFFECTED BY CHANGES.

LONDON, Aug 25.—Not only in the county police system of the province is the fee system of remuneration likely to be abolished, but, according to E. A. Pocock, the London member of the commission appointed to re-organize the outside offices of the Attorney-General's Department, the magistrates' and all other offices through which justice is administered will in all likelihood be put on a permanent basis. The fee system is not considered to be conducive to the awarding of fair and disinterested judgments.

Although no recommendations have yet been presented to the Government, nor has any definite decision been reached by the commission yet, the consensus of opinion is that the entire system of appointing squires and inexperienced and improperly trained magistrates, who at times cannot even sign their names, is all wrong, said Mr. Pocock. The fact that these officials are remunerated only by the fees for convictions made has a tendency to induce them to make convictions when the case dos not warrant it.

Travelling Magistrates.

Along with a plan to put a permanent police force in each county, the London member has prepared a plan of appointing magistrates and other offices, which he will lay before the commission. In the opinion of Mr. Pocock, travelling magistrates in career should be appointed to administer justice in the counties.

These officials must be the best that can be had, properly trained and educated. Instead of a magistrate or a squire in each town and village, the travelling magistrate would hold court in one town one day, and in another the next. Paid a permanent salary, they could give disinterested judgments.

From the data gathered from the legal profession and others in the province, it is almost certain that the sheriff's office has outlived its usefulness. The majority of the lawyers according to Mr. Pocock, favor its abolition. The duties now accomplished by the sheriffs could be easily combined with those of different other offices. The doing away with this appointment would mean a big saving to the province.

An Evil Practice.

One other thing which, Mr. Pocock said, had been brought to the attention of the commission as working much evil is the practice of allowing every part-time magistrate and justice of the peace to issue warrants on complaints sworn by anyone. By this system many characters are injured through spitefulness.

In proof of this was the case, it was proved to the commission, that 80 per cent. of the rape cases on which warrants have been issued were sworn out for the express purpose of injuring someone. In the majority of the cases the county magistrates and justices of the peace do not know enough about law to know whether a person has sufficient grounds for a warrant.

To remedy this evil, Mr. Pocock said that the warrants should be sworn out by crown attorneys who were trained lawyers, and could prevent anyone taking revenge by this means. When a person went to his office to lay a complaint the crown attorney would be able to talk the case over with him and would know whether there was sufficient ground to warrant an arrest.

CARS COLLIDE ON GEORGE STREET

Yesterday afternoon an automobile driven by J. T. Lang, Chemong Road, struck the car driven by Miss Lillian Hurley at the intersection of George and Simcoe Streets. At the time of the accident, Miss Hurley was proceeding south on George Street and Mr. Lang was going west on Simcoe Street. Miss Hurley, the police say, had the right of way. Lang, however, did not stop when he saw Miss Hurley's car approaching. She endeavoured to avoid an accident by accelerating her car, but Lang's car struck one of the rear wheels, bursting a tire.

ADVANCE IN FISH NETS.

(Canadian Press

VANCOUVER, B.C., Aug. 26. — Fishermen in British Columbia are faced with another and serious advance in the price of nets and net twine. A net which has sold for $300 up to the present time will henceforth command $450.

The scarcity of the basis of the twine, flax, is given as the cause for the increase

Many fishermen declare that they will be unable to follow their craft this fall on account of lack of capital to finance high-priced nets, unless there is an improvement in the market for salted dog salmon in the Orient.

SCIENCE PROVES THE DANGER OF BLEEDING GUMS

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause serious ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced, in many cases to the Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time, and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean.

35c and 60c tubes in Canada and U. S. If your druggist cannot supply you, send price to us direct and we will mail tube postpaid.

RULER OF JAPAN SERIOUSLY ILL

(United Press).

TOKIO, August 26.—While for some years the poor health of the Emperor Yoshibito has been the subject of serious concern to his subjects, and while it has often been rumoured that he was far more seriously ill than proved to be the case, it is evident that during recent weeks his condition has become fairly serious.

During the past week rumours have several times had it that the Emperor had died. Such reports gain credence owing to the fact that in Japan the death of an illustrious person is often concealed for many days. One of the first indications that matters were becoming serious was the announcement that the Lady Aiko Yankahara Niino Tsubone, the Emperor's mother, has gone to the great shrine at Ise, to pray for his health.

One daring newspaper even stated that the Emperor was suffering from brain trouble, as has been quite generally reported, but this paper was very soon visited by the police. It is understood that it has been warned that a second offence of this kind will result in its suspension for good.

In the meantime the Emperor returned to Tokio from the country, with the expecation of going to Nikko at the end of July, as he generally spends the summer at his villa there. The fact that he was not able to carry out the programme was probably what led to the announcement being made by the Imperial household to the effect that the Emperor "has been "seriously ill, but is now recovering." It adds that he is suffering from "glucoria, "hip gout," nervous trouble and difficulty of speech. While the official announcement speaks hopefully of his improvement and probably speedy recovery, it is quite generally believed that his illness has taken a serious turn, and the worst news would come as no surprise to the thinking elements.

WEIGHING SCHOOL CHILDREN MONTHLY

Oshawa Board of Education has rejected Trustee Smith's proposition that scales be purchased for use in the schools.

A weighing system is maintained in Brantford schools, where all pupils are weighed monthly and a record kept of their weight. The idea is to report to parents in the case of children who are losing weight so that proper measures may be taken to safeguard their health.

The Ottawa School nurse expresses herself much in favour of this monthly weighing.

The scales proposed were also equipped with measuring rods so that the pupil's height could be taken at the same time.

ALLEGED "RED" WAS EXPELLED

KINGSTON, Aug. 26.—At a meeting of the Army and Navy Veterans here, a member was expelled as a dangerous 'Bolsheviki.' For some time past he had been using seditious and treasonable utterances against His Majesty the King and other members of the Royal family and promulgating matters against the Crown and constituted authority, as well as stirring up strife of a most serious character calculated to produce in peaceful Canada the coidition which now prevails in parts of Europe. It was decided to draw the attention of Ottawa and the city authorities to the case so that further action may be taken to prevent such conduct. The Army and Navy Veterans believe in loyalty to the throne and the flag and will not tolerate in its ranks any dangerous "Red," hence the drastic and instant action of last evening.

LINDSAY, Aug. 26. — Robert Turner, the Belleville laborer, who was injured at the G. T. R. station on Tuesday afternoon, succumbed the same night at the Ross Memorial Hospital.

A jury was immediately empannelled by Chief Short and met in Cains' Undertaking Parlours.

Coroner Dr. Blanchard explained that death had been caused by a crushed skull, crushed leg, abdominal and other internal injuries.

The jury then adjourned until today when the investigation will be continued.

The deceased, Robert Turner, was a young Irishman, aged 38 years. He was born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1882, and came to Canada 16 years ago. He settled in Belleville where he has made his home ever since, his present residence being on North Front Street. He has been a railway worker ever since coming to Canada, and for the past several years has been an employee of the bridge and building crew of the Grand Trunk. A little less than a year ago he was married. His wife, Lily, and his parents, in Ireland, are the sole survivors.

CANUCKS STRANDED IN THE OLD COUNTRY

WORK IS SCARCE, WARNS THE MINISTER OF IMMIGRATION.

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Aug. 26.—Hon J. A. Calder, Minister of Immigration and President of the Privy Council, who is in England, has cabled the Department of Immigration to the effect that there are now 500 Canadian ex-soldiers in London who are unable to get employment and who have no means of returning to Canada.

Following their discharge, the majority of these men returned to England under the impression that they would be able to obtain employment at good wages. Conditions in England had altered, however, and with the return of that country to a peace basis every available position was snapped up. Finding themselves unable to obtain employment, these ex-soldiers applied to the Canadian authorities to be returned to Canada, but the Government had no authority to pay their passage, and consequently they are stranded.

Mr. Calder, who is in England looking over the Canadian immigration service with a view to reorganization, emphasizes the point that there is no work to be had in England, and that unemployed men had better stay away from the Mother Country.

HEAVY SNOWFALL FOR WINTER IS PREDICTED.

SOUTH PORCUPINE, Ont., Aug. 26.—Next winter will be featured by heavy snowfalls in the north country, according to old timers in the bush reporting here. They base their deduction on the fact that wasps' and hornets' nests are so plentiful in the woods this year that they are something of a menace, and they declare that the presence in numbers of these insects is an unfailing sign of much snow.

COAL OUTLOOK WILL IMPROVE LATER IN FALL

FUEL ADMINISTRATOR HOLDS OUT HOPE OF AN INCREASED SUPPLY.

BUT COST HAS RISEN

What is the coal situation in Ontario to-day?

This question, which is on the lips of almost every householder in the Province at present, particularly with summer fast slipping away, was put to Provincial Fuel Controlleer H. A. Harrington. He explained that the supply in the Province at present is much below normal, partly due to shipments being diverted to the West, but expressed the hope that after the navigation season closes Ontario consumers will receive an adequate supply.

"When we started the coal season on April 1," Mr. Harrington explained, "the merchants and manufacturers did not have a ton of bituminous coal on hand as a reserve. The requirements of central Ontario are approximately ten million tons of bituminous coal per year, which is the equivalent of an average of 600 cars per day.

Far Below Normal.

"The total amount of bituminous coal that has been received from April 1 to August 15 is 2,169,597 tons, whereas we should have received 4,110,000 tons. The total amount of anthracite coal that has been received from April 1 to August 15 is 920,000 tons, whereas we should have received 1,650,000 tons.

"In consequence of the long haul, the interior towns and villages are the greatest sufferers from the shortage," the Fuel Controller said; "the chief centres, being in a position to handle cars expeditiously, are receiving the preference. The shortage is accentuated by the fact that the requirements of the Western States and the Canadian Northwest must be cared for during the season of navigation, and in order that the shortage existing at those points may be relieved, the Interstate Commerce Commission of the United States issued priority orders whereby a steady flow of coal is being maintained to the Lake Erie ports for shipment to the Northwest.

Supply Will Increase.

"These priority orders were subsequently extended to cover the requirements of the New England States. Consequently the decreased shipments into central Ontario will continue until after the close of navigation, when the normal supply of coal will, in the absence of unforeseen obstacles such as strikes and storms, be speedily resumed."

As evidence of the seriousness of the shortage in the towns and villages of the interior, Mr. Hardington mentioned that he had had to bring into the Province by water 1,400 tons of antracite, and that he was negotiating to secure a further supply of 3,000 tons to relieve the situation in the small municipalities.

The Fuel Controller pointed out that the increase of 40 per cent. in American freight rates becomes effective. This increase will boost the present freight of $2.60 a ton from the mines to the International Bridge to $3.44 a ton, which, of course, has nothing to do with the probable increase of freight on the Canadian roads. The exchange further increases the amount to $3.89, so that there is a net increase in price of $1.29 a ton because of the American freight increase.

FEED NERVES PLENTY OF PHOSPHATE IN SUMMER

Keen Minded Men, Energetic and Successful Rely on It Asserts Prominent N.Y. Physician.

Bitro-Phosphate a Godsend.

Men and women, nervous and fretful, easily upset and often fatigued, need plenty of organic phosphate, and the sooner they heed this advice the better their health will be.

In every one of the millions of cells that make up your body, phosphorus is a most important part.

Your nervous system, your brain, your blood and even your bones must have a sufficient supply of phosphorus or weariness, nervousness and a general run-down condition, as well as back of normal mental power is sure to result.

Big men of affairs—mighty men who control industries because of sheer will power and nervous force, know this, or, if they don't are clever enough to have a physician who does.

Physicians more and more are realizing that Bitro-Phosphate, as dispensed at drug stores, is a necessity to over forty per cent. of men and women, because present day foods do not contain enough phosphate to give the body and especially the nervous system the ...ly it needs.

Speaking on this very subject, Dr. Frederick S. Kolle, Editor-in-Chief of Physicians' "Who's Who," and a nationally known author of medical text books, in a most emphatic statement said:

"If I had my way, Bitro-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor and used in every hospital."

Later, Dr. Kolle said: "When the nerve tissue begins to lose its vitality, woman begins to lose her youth and vivaciousness. Her lively, pleasant disposition fades away—she becomes irritable, uncompanionable, moody and despondent. It would indeed be a god-send if more men and women were aware of the efficacy of Bitro-Phosphate."

Hot weather is dreaded by men and women who are weak, thin, nervous, timid and lacking in vigorous development because it saps their vitality almost to the breaking point.

To all such people Bitro-Phosphate is recommended because it is the one organic phosphate which, when absorbed by the system, will supply the element necessary for a vigorous, healthy body free from any suggestion of weakness or disordered nerves.

Your druggist has Bitro-Phosphate in the original package with complete instructions for best results.

CHICAGO VISITORS

Mr. Albert ("Bun") Wright and Mr. J. Bletcher and son Harry, of Chicago, are registered at the White House. They are here renewing old acquaintances—Mr. Wright after an absence of 14 years, and Mr. Bletcher after an absence of nearly a score of years. Yesterday they joined some old friends who were taking the in the "Geneva's" trip to Bewdley and report a very enjoyable outing. Both these former residents of Peterborough are marking August time with—

With Mr. Wright it's "full cases all the time and plenty of leads and slugs," and with Mr. Bletcher, he combines motoring and business in a practical way.

DECLARED FEE SYSTEM MUST GO

MAGISTRATES AS WELL AS COUNTY OFFICIALS WILL BE AFFECTED BY CHANGES.

LONDON, Aug 25.—Not only in the county police system of the province is the fee system of remuneration likely to be abolished, but, according to E. A. Pocock, the London member of the commission appointed to re-organize the outside offices of the Attorney-General's Department, the magistrates' and all other offices through which justice is administered will in all likelihood be put on a permanent basis. The fee system is not considered to be conducive to the awarding of fair and disinterested judgments.

Although no recommendations have yet been presented to the Government, nor has any definite decision been reached by the commission yet, the consensus of opinion is that the entire system of appointing squires and inexperienced and improperly trained magistrates, who at times cannot even sign their names, is all wrong, said Mr. Pocock. The fact that these officials are remunerated only by the fees for convictions made has a tendency to induce them to make convictions when the case dos not warrant it.

Travelling Magistrates.

Along with a plan to put a permanent police force in each county, the London member has prepared a plan of appointing magistrates and other offices, which he will lay before the commission. In the opinion of Mr. Pocock, travelling magistrates in career should be appointed to administer justice in the counties.

These officials must be the best that can be had, properly trained and educated. Instead of a magistrate or a squire in each town and village, the travelling magistrate would hold court in one town one day, and in another the next. Paid a permanent salary, they could give disinterested judgments.

From the data gathered from the legal profession and others in the province, it is almost certain that the sheriff's office has outlived its usefulness. The majority of the lawyers according to Mr. Pocock, favor its abolition. The duties now accomplished by the sheriffs could be easily combined with those of different other offices. The doing away with this appointment would mean a big saving to the province.

An Evil Practice.

One other thing which, Mr. Pocock said, had been brought to the attention of the commission as working much evil is the practice of allowing every part-time magistrate and justice of the peace to issue warrants on complaints sworn by anyone. By this system many characters are injured through spitefulness.

In proof of this was the case, it was proved to the commission, that 80 per cent. of the rape cases on which warrants have been issued were sworn out for the express purpose of injuring someone. In the majority of the cases the county magistrates and justices of the peace do not know enough about law to know whether a person has sufficient grounds for a warrant.

To remedy this evil, Mr. Pocock said that the warrants should be sworn out by crown attorneys who were trained lawyers, and could prevent anyone taking revenge by this means. When a person went to his office to lay a complaint the crown attorney would be able to talk the case over with him and would know whether there was sufficient ground to warrant an arrest.

CARS COLLIDE ON GEORGE STREET

Yesterday afternoon an automobile driven by J. T. Lang, Chemong Road, struck the car driven by Miss Lillian Hurley at the intersection of George and Simcoe Streets. At the time of the accident, Miss Hurley was proceeding south on George Street and Mr. Lang was going west on Simcoe Street. Miss Hurley, the police say, had the right of way. Lang, however, did not stop when he saw Miss Hurley's car approaching. She endeavoured to avoid an accident by accelerating her car, but Lang's car struck one of the rear wheels, bursting a tire.

ADVANCE IN FISH NETS.

(Canadian Press

VANCOUVER, B.C., Aug. 26. — Fishermen in British Columbia are faced with another and serious advance in the price of nets and net twine. A net which has sold for $300 up to the present time will henceforth command $450.

The scarcity of the basis of the twine, flax, is given as the cause for the increase

Many fishermen declare that they will be unable to follow their craft this fall on account of lack of capital to finance high-priced nets, unless there is an improvement in the market for salted dog salmon in the Orient.

SCIENCE PROVES THE DANGER OF BLEEDING GUMS

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause serious ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced in many cases to the Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time, and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean.

RULER OF JAPAN SERIOUSLY ILL

(United Press).

TOKIO, August 26.—While for some years the poor health of the Emperor Yoshibito has been the subject of serious concern to his subjects, and while it has often been rumoured that he was far more seriously ill than proved to be the case, it is evident that during recent weeks his condition has become fairly serious.

During the past week rumours have several times had it that the Emperor had died. Such reports gain credence owing to the fact that in Japan the death of an illustrious person is often concealed for many days. One of the first indications that matters were becoming serious was the announcement that the Lady Aiko Yankahara Niino Tsubone, the Emperor's mother, has gone to the great shrine at Ise, to pray for his health.

One daring newspaper even stated that the Emperor was suffering from brain trouble, as has been quite generally reported, but this paper was very soon visited by the police. It is understood that it has been warned that a second offence of this kind will result in its suspension for good.

In the meantime the Emperor returned to Tokio from the country, with the expecation of going to Nikko at the end of July, as he generally spends the summer at his villa there. The fact that he was not able to carry out the programme was probably what led to the announcement being made by the Imperial household to the effect that the Emperor "has been "seriously ill, but is now recovering." It adds that he is suffering from "glucoria, "hip gout," nervous trouble and difficulty of speech. While the official announcement speaks hopefully of his improvement and probably speedy recovery, it is quite generally believed that his illness has taken a serious turn, and the worst news would come as no surprise to the thinking elements.

WEIGHING SCHOOL CHILDREN MONTHLY

Oshawa Board of Education has rejected Trustee Smith's proposition that scales be purchased for use in the schools.

A weighing system is maintained in Brantford schools, where all pupils are weighed monthly and a record kept of their weight. The idea is to report to parents in the case of children who are losing weight so that proper measures may be taken to safeguard their health.

The Ottawa School nurse expresses herself much in favour of this monthly weighing.

The scales proposed were also equipped with measuring rods so that the pupil's height could be taken at the same time.

ALLEGED "RED" WAS EXPELLED

KINGSTON, Aug. 26.—At a meeting of the Army and Navy Veterans here, a member was expelled as a dangerous 'Bolsheviki.' For some time past he had been using seditious and treasonable utterances against His Majesty the King and other members of the Royal family and promulgating matters against the Crown and constituted authority, as well as stirring up strife of a most serious character calculated to produce in peaceful Canada the coidition which now prevails in parts of Europe. It was decided to draw the attention of Ottawa and the city authorities to the case so that further action may be taken to prevent such conduct. The Army and Navy Veterans believe in loyalty to the throne and the flag and will not tolerate in its ranks any dangerous "Red," hence the drastic and instant action of last evening.

A jury was immediately empannelled by Chief Short and met in Cains' Undertaking Parlours.

Coroner Dr. Blanchard explained that death had been caused by a crushed skull, crushed leg, abdominal and other internal injuries.

The jury then adjourned until today when the investigation will be continued.

The deceased, Robert Turner, was a young Irishman, aged 38 years. He was born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1882, and came to Canada 16 years ago. He settled in Belleville where he has made his home ever since, his present residence being on North Front Street. He has been a railway worker ever since coming to Canada, and for the past several years has been an employee of the bridge and building crew of the Grand Trunk. A little less than a year ago he was married. His wife, Lily, and his parents, in Ireland, are the sole survivors.

CANUCKS STRANDED IN THE OLD COUNTRY

WORK IS SCARCE, WARNS THE MINISTER OF IMMIGRATION.

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Aug. 26.—Hon J. A. Calder, Minister of Immigration and President of the Privy Council, who is in England, has cabled the Department of Immigration to the effect that there are now 500 Canadian ex-soldiers in London who are unable to get employment and who have no means of returning to Canada.

Following their discharge, the majority of these men returned to England under the impression that they would be able to obtain employment at good wages. Conditions in England had altered, however, and with the return of that country to a peace basis every available position was snapped up. Finding themselves unable to obtain employment, these ex-soldiers applied to the Canadian authorities to be returned to Canada, but the Government had no authority to pay their passage, and consequently they are stranded.

Mr. Calder, who is in England looking over the Canadian immigration service with a view to reorganization, emphasizes the point that there is no work to be had in England, and that unemployed men had better stay away from the Mother Country.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26. — Prices were generally irregular at the opening of the stock market tod-ay. U.S. Steel was unchanged at 89 1-4; Mexican Pet., 162 up 1 1-4; Canadian Pacific, 119 1-2 up 1-4; Bethlehem Motors, 5 1-8 off 1 1-8; Texas Co., 47 1-4 up 1-8; General Motors, 21 1-2 off 1-8; Reading, 91 up 1-8; Baltimore and Ohio, 39 1-4 up 1-4; Pan-American Pet., 87 1-2 off 1-4; Studebaker, 62 7-8 (unchanged); Southern Railway, 27 1-8 off 1-4; Union Pacific, 118 1-2 (unchanged); Crucible, 137 up 1-8.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—All quotations except francs were slightly higher at the opening of the foreign exchange market today. Sterling opened. 3.57 3-4; francs, .0702 off .0002; lire, .0463 up .0001; marks, .0205 up .0004; Canadian dollars, $.8850.

The market displayed a firm tone in early trading. Southern Pacific advanced to 96 1-4, a net gain of 1 3-8. Reading touched 91 5-8. Shortly after these best figures were reached, a bear raid was started with pressure on industrials. This carried all rails downward and Southern Pacific lost all its early gains. Mexican Pet. was forced below 160.

CHICAGO VISITORS

Mr. Albert ("Bun") Wright and Mr. J. Bletcher and son Harry, of Chicago, are registered at the White House. They are here renewing old acquaintances—Mr. Wright after an absence of 14 years, and Mr. Bletcher after an absence of nearly a score of years. Yesterday they joined some old friends who were taking the in the "Geneva's" trip to Bewdley and report a very enjoyable outing. Both these former residents of Peterborough are marking August time with—

"Holiday hearts for such holiady weather."

With Mr. Wright it's "full cases all the time and plenty of leads and slugs," and with Mr. Bletcher, he combines motoring and business in a practical way.

A SWEET MYSTERY.

Sugar is not the only sweet stuff that Canadians have to pay much more for than do people in other countries. Honey takes its place on the list of products which seem to have reached the top notch in this country. While its use is not general yet the figures are so striking as to attract attention. The Ontario Beekeepers' Association has recommended a price for Ontario honey wholesale of from 27 to 32c. And yet honey is being brought thousands of miles over sea and land from New Zealand and delivered in Toronto at 23 1-2 cents a pound. In the United States the honey prices too are much lower, extracted clover honey being quoted at 17c. per pound, with buckwheat honey at 12c. and light amber alfalfa honey at 15c. Why the difference between the prices here and in New York State? Frankly, the Examiner does not know. The Board of Commerce, which Ottawa advices report as coming to life again, may be able to supply the information. Let us hope so.

MR. MORRISON'S POSITION.

J. J. Morrison, the uncrowned king of the United Farmers of Ontario, has some very pronounced theories in regard to democratic government, but has evidently no desire so far as he is personally concerned to trust to the judgment of the people. He has announced that he does not intend to ever be a candidate for office. Mr. Morrison's motto is, apparently, "safety first." He prefers to stay on the outside and to endeavour to rule the government from U. F. O. headquarters rather than to run any risk of being rejected by the people. And perhaps the big boss of the U.F.O. is wise in his decision. His recent speeches, his repeated declarations in regard to the aims of the United Farmers, and the principles he has enunciated have not gone unnoticed by the electors and many who voted for Farmer candidates at the last election will undoubtedly swing their allegiance somewhere else if Mr. Morrison continues to raise the class banner and to sound the class rallying cry. It is very poor advertising for the Ontario government that Mr. Morrison is conducting, and Premier Drury must read his daily papers with a good deal of trepidation these days, knowing that the U.F.O. secretary is busy at farmers' picnics sowing a doctrine that may prove a sorry harvest not only for himself but for the present government.

CANADA'S NATIONAL GAME.

On Saturday the people of Peterborough are being given an opportunity of seeing a championship lacrosse game, the visit of the Mimico team to meet the local exponents of Canada's national pastime being the first occasion in many years when a league match has been played here. In recent years lacrosse, in spite of its many meritorious features has been surpassed in interest by the American game of baseball, a fascinating pastime it must be admitted, but one that is not perhaps as effective in developing brawn and muscle as is Canada's own summer game. But there are many citizens who have lamented the absence of lacrosse, who have looked back with longing eyes at well-remembered contests of their young days when a lacrosse match was one of the big events of the summer and the whole town forgot business and its cares and gathered to see the home boys beat the visiting aggregation. To these citizens Saturday's game should have an appeal as irresistible as that of a circus, and it is to be expected that they will be in attendance to help in the revival of lacrosse here.

And if ever a local sporting organization displayed gameness and perseverance and merited support it is the Peterborough lacrosse club of this year of grace. Organising at the beginning of the season in the face of the indifference of a large section of the sporting public to the game, the club found themselves unable to secure a group in the O.A.L.L. in which they might play, with the result that they have been without any league games. To practice from the beginning of May until nearly the end of August without engaging in a championship match is a test of spirit that might have wrecked many an organization, but the Peterborough club has never lost its enthusiasm and through the long weary weeks, varied only by a couple of exhibition fixtures early in the season, the players have worked out steadily and faithfully. The spirit they have shown should be recognized by a large attendance on Saturday, for if they never score a goal the players have earned the support of their fellow citizens by the manner in which they have stuck to their guns.

RED RUSSIA CHALLENGES THE WORLD.

Once more Soviet Russia shows herself in her true colors and the blood that is staining the soil of Poland and Northern Galicia is directly chargeable to her breach of faith, her subterfuges and her vacillation.

Throughout their negotiations with Poland the Bolshevists have employed every possible evasion and have sparred for time from motives that are contradicted by their professions. They added delay to delay, and when the Poles appealed for a truce pending the negotiations for an armistice the offer was rejected. The conference at Minsk was time and again postponed on plausible excuses until it was clearly apparent that if the Bolshevists desired to make peace, as they averred, they would have hastened their diplomacy and slowed down the march of their armies.

Kameneff who acted as spokesman for the Soviet Government in handing to the British Premier the terms on which the Bolshevists would consider an armistice stated implicitly that nothing that was not of a secondary nature had been omitted from the summary. On this point Lloyd George laid stress in his speech in the House of Commons. He reverts to it again in the statement now issued from Lucerne:

"To have such a condition (the arming of the industrial workers of Poland) after Kameneff's pledges to the British Government is a gross breach of faith, and negotiations of any kind with a Government that so slightly treats its word becomes difficult, if not impossible."

The London Times, which has consistently and vigorously attacked Lloyd George since the days of the Paris conference, has nothing but praise for his handling of the delicate Russo-Polish negotiations. "In an address admirable for reasoning and for courage," says the Times, "he has laid before the nation an explanation and a defence of the Allied attitude towards the Polish problem so frank and clear, so convincing, moderate and firm that it will command the approbation and the confidence he demands."

Soviet Russia gave notice to the world that she would not interfere with the domestic government of Poland, and that she would recognize her independence. She endorsed the promise thus given in the statements issued by her leaders after the first meeting at Minsk. Yet she treats this promise with scornful disdain and issues supplementary or "secondary" terms contrary in letter and spirit to the promises she had made to the British Premier, which set forth as a fundamental of any armistice that the proletariat shall be armed.

Soviet Russia allied with both Communist and monarchial Germany by secret bonds is seeking to upset the Versailles Treaty and to join hands across an annihilated or a Sovietized Poland. Fortunately, the Bolshevist cards are on the table and strength of purpose, determination, unity of effort and common sense will resist the blandishments of the enemies of civilization by firm and conciliatory methods so long as their efficacy prevails, and, if needs be, by force, in the last resort, to the utmost limit of endurance.—Montreal Star.

FRENCH HARVEST IN LIGHT.

Country Must Import 2,200,000 Tons of Cereals, Says a Paris Paper.

PARIS, Aug. 26.—French harvests, which are now being gathered, are proving deceptive, says Le Petit Parisien. There are plenty of sheaves, the newspaper says, but the yield of grain will be light. The total yield is estimated at 7,315,000 tons of cereals, and it seems that 2,200,000 tons must be imported to meet the deficiency. All of this, it is remarked, will come from North America.

THE STONEY LAKE HOLIDAY SEASON IS RAPIDLY DRAWING TO A CLOSE

SCHOOL DAYS AND BUSINESS CARES START COTTAGERS HURRYING BACK TO THE GAY LIGHTS OF THE CITY.

STONEY LAKE, Aug. 26. — The season of 1920 is wearing to a close, and with the advent of the last week in August, cottages are being closed and the exodus to the city has commenced. As the Toronto Exhibition is due next week business people are compelled to fold their tents or nail up their shutters and betake themselves once more to the crowded thoroughfares of the city.

The season has been a gay one and though there was very little heat the lake has been as popular as ever and may be more so. Hotels were filled to capacity and cottages were all, or nearly all, occupied.

The dances at Juniper have been very popular when weather conditions made it impossible for people to get there.

The Pioneers.

The pioneers on the lake took their pleasures more simply and the social life consisted of afternoon calls, unaccompanied by tea or fine raiment, and with a big camp fire and singsong as the evening entertainment. In the earlier days these were very popular and some excellent concerts were given out in the open by the light of the bon-fires. Camping parties combined forces and made trips together to points of interest and a "little jaunt" to the Blue Mountains was not thought to be an undertaking beyond the strength even of the older people.

A point of interest which passed away many years ago was the art gallery of Mr. and Mrs. James Claque on the Dummer shore, near Boschink. This was a favorite place among the campers in the early days on Stoney Lake and the quaint old couple made many friends among the young folks. They were guests at many a camp fire and contributes their part to the informal concerts. There were no dances or teas or bridge parties in those days and old clothes, too shabby for wear at home, were put aside for Stoney Lake. Any one who has visited Stoney Lake recently will say "times have changed," and so they have, but so has the outside world. Stoney Lake has been known for many years as a place for a jolly time and hundreds of people have happy memories of its blue waters and woods and rocks, and as comparisons are always odious, one will not attempt to say whether the past was jollier than the present, but one always realizes the past.

"That's only a feeler, too," he said, frowning. "When they find England's in it too, it'll all sputter out. The Germans aren't fools enough to tackle that combination—you'll see!"

"Hope you're right," said his neighbor nervously.

"Of course I'm right," he assured himself. "The thing was too incredible — two thirds of civilization drenched in blood! Never."

"If it did, think what would strike the stock market!" said his neighbor with a huge sigh.

Forrester had been thinking of that, too. More than once in the past days he had felt an impulse to sell out and take his losses. But he was not a speculator who plays for the shifting of the wind. He was an investor who had been speculating—an investor who held to one idea obstinately. Then, too, the unfolding drama of his internal life had obsessed him to the exclusion of all other considerations. He was convinced of the sanity of his judgment when so many others were swept by hysteria, yet the doubt that rose shrilly about him was disconcerting. The stakes were heavily against him, if the incredible should happen. He rose and drifted back in search of Irma. He jostled some one as he avoided an outstretched cue, and turned to apologize. It was Rudolph Dellabarre, of all men!

The accidental meeting gave him an unpleasant sensation, for his nature was a frank one, and, coveting what he did, it was repugnant to him to face the weak yes which had the right to accuse him.

"Beg pardon. How are you?" he said gruffly, passing hurriedly, to avoid giving his hand.

"Wonder what he'll do?" he thought, despite himself. Then he snapped his fingers angrily. What became of Dellabarre was the one thing he did not wish to consider. After all, Dellabarre was a failure, a miserable, weak failure, and must take his punishment.

"We have a right to our happiness," he said, thinking of Irma. "Even for the children's sake, she should leave him!"

If only he, the husband, had been of man's stature and strength, if he had the sensation of taking her from an equal—

The feeling was so strong that he could not go from him to her; the thing was repugnant. He saw Irma, caught her eye and smiled, and his face, untrained in dissembling, showed too plainly his happiness. Then he turned for a stroll on the piazza. Again Dellabarre crossed his path.

"That's strange! Why is he here? When he's in that condition can't he stay at home?" he thought angrily. "Confound him, is he following me?"

He seated himself on the railing, crossed his arms, and, to convince himself watched Dellabarre who continued aimlessly to wander back and forth, avoiding recognition. Finally he perceived Forrester's look, straightened up and went off hurriedly.

It was almost midnight when Forrester finally found his opportunity in the thinning crowd.

"I've been waiting to see you," he began in a low voice.

"Be careful," she said in warning, "and don't show so much of your face; others are looking."

"Walk outside, then. It's vital—I've got to talk to you!"

She hesitated, searching a moment in the crowd with an unease which she hid behind her fan, before taking his arm and moving down to the shelter of the summer-house that jutted over the water. From the first look into his eyes she had guessed, not what news he brought her, but that the inevitable moment had come when she would have to set him right, readjust him to her own changed caprices. She did not like these inevitable moments of reckoning, that always left their little sting. She would have avoided explanations altogether, only she was afraid of the crudity of his nature, afraid of the social blunders he might commit.

"Well, now for it!" she said to herself, summoning up all her wits. After all, he was a man and could be handled like others, without ruffling her moral coiffure. Distressing scenes were so mussing—and she had the feline need of appearing neat in her own eyes—and in the world's.

"At last!" he began precipitately.

"Be careful, Andrew!" she said in warning. "Voices carry over the water. It's rather imprudent."

"Imprudent?"

"There has been a good deal of talk about us."

He broke in, sweeping aside trivialities.

"Well, it's done; we separate and divorce!"

It came to her as a shock.

"I—I didn't believe she would," she said slowly. This complicated the situation decidedly.

"She has and—I admit it—she's been very decent. Well, you can understand what this means to me."

She felt the demand that was coming, and sought desperately to turn it. She had long ago realized her true feelings, as she always did after a little pardonable self-deception in the first delights of a new adventure. She was not insensible to the electric quality of his vitality and stubborn strength. Free, she might have married him. The trouble was that she had adopted an attitude toward him that she had found a constant effort to maintain—the attitude of the maternal, ministering woman. Frankly, it bored her now. Curiously enough, when she examined herself dispassionately, she admitted with a laugh that, of the two, it was Amy who was necessary to her.

The game had interested her. Now that she had won, all her sympathy was with Amy—the sympathy of one woman of the world toward another. That Amy had taken it so to heart weighed on her conscience. She had revenged herself for Amy's trespassing, and now she felt kindly disposed. Then she missed her; she was sympathetic, a good companion, a truly intimate friend—and intimate friends are rarer than adorers, and harder to replace

"You have suffered a great deal," she said mechanically, still seeking her attitude. "I am glad—very glad for your sake!"

"The last weeks have been hideous. I felt everything. I did was a lie. Well, the thing is cleared up. I've not said anything to you until I knew I had the right Irma. I respect you too much, but, well—I guess we both understand! Now I want you to end this hell you've been living in!"

"How do you mean?" she said faintly.

"Leave your husband and start a new life. The rest is easy. There isn't a court in the world would refuse you a divorce!"

"Divorce!" she cried, so surprised that she blurted out the truth. "Oh, never! I couldn't do that!"

He stopped point-blank, not believing his ears.

"I can't—I can't!" she cried, recoiling as though she were clearing her dirty skirts from the filth of a threatening scandal. "I never thought of such a thing!"

In the darkness she felt that he was staring at her so still that she could not even hear the taking of his breath. Alarmed at this ominous silence, she laid her hand on his arm.

"But, Andrew, why? What made you believe that? I never thought of such a thing—I never said a word."

Still he made no answer.

"He is suffering," she thought, and her emotions inclined her to pity. She would have the tooth out and the consolation afterward. "If we were free, both free, to-day of course I'd marry you—you know that. But that's not the point!"

"What is the point?" he said brusquely.

"Why, other things. We are not living in a prairie. There are my friends—my position in society—what people would say."

"Does that mean anything to you?"

"Yes, of course—everything."

He put his head down into his hands and began to laugh—a laugh that made her shudder at the nudity of her soul which she had exposed to him.

"Listen, Andrew," she said, pleading against this silent arraignment. "Don't think I don't care. I never meant to do you harm. I'm weak perhaps—but that's what I am. I am what my surroundings have made me; I can't be different."

"And I am a parvenu," he said mercilessly.

"No, no," she protested. "You are much finer than I am, than we all are. And then—and then—"

"Of course, the children," he said dryly.

"Oh, Andrew, don't be angry with me. I can't help it if I am as I am. If you despise me I don't know how I shall go on. You don't know—you don't know what it is. You can't understand. You force me to say what, is terrible—what I hoped you'd spare me—"

"And what is that?" he said, in the tone of a prosecuting attorney.

She hesitated a long moment, and then she laid her hand over his

"Wait!" she said in a tragic whisper. "It'll only be a short time now."

He looked at her and saw her as she was. She felt again the baring of her soul before him, and she struggled to hide behind the cloak of plausibility.

"It's terrible, what I've said; but that I've been willing to say it should convince you—"

"Of what?"

"That I care," she said in a low voice. "All I ask is to be protected. Do this as a man of the world would do it, Andrew, and all will come out in the end."

"I see."

She breathed a sigh of relief, assuring herself that she had convinced him.

"You are such a child in worldly matters, Andrew," she said softly. "A man can stand up against slander. But think what it would mean to me just at present to have my name dragged through the mud."

"And, of course—the children," he added.

She drew back, started to speak and stopped.

At this moment, outside on the gravel path they heard a crunching sound.

"Say something—talk to me—" she whispered.

"Despite which," he said, raising his voice, "I am certain that England cannot stand quietly by and—"

In the darkness the steps came nearer.

"Hello, is that you Rudy?" said Irma, breaking in. "I'm here with Andrew."

The steps came to them, and in the blurred light a short figure loomed in the entrance to the summer-house

"Are you ready to go home now, Irma?" said her husband, and the voice that reached them quavered unsteadily.

NEW WHARVES BADLY NEEDED

CAMPBELLTOWN AND GORE'S HANDING AMONG THE NUMBER.

The attention of the Superintendent of the Trent Valley Canal is directed to the disgraceful condition of the wharf at Gore's Landing and one or two of the smaller landing wharfs on the Otonabee River below Peterborough. Accidents are happening every little while on the wharf at Gore's Landing caused by rotten and defective planks, which demand immediate attention before more serious trouble occurs.

On Thursday, while the "Geneva" was waiting for passengers a lady hurrying along the wharf to the boat was traped in a hole caused by a decayed plank. Her foot went down suddenly through a rotten plank and was caught in the timbers of the wharf, causing her to fall heavily, but fortunately with only a nasty shock from the fall.

Many of the planks on these wharves are old and decayed, and need immediate attention. The repair man should be instructed to proceed at once on an inspecting trip, in order that serious accidents and probable damages may be avoided.

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

On legal affidavit, John Hart Brittain, business man, certified to this: "My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. The scalp was shiny. An expert said that he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth.

"Yet now, at an age over 66, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs." Mr. Brittain certified further:

INDIAN'S SECRET OF HAIR GROWTH

"At a time when I had become discouraged at trying various hair lotions, tonics, specialists' treatments, etc., I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian 'medicine man' who had an elixir that he asseverated would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith, I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as prolific as in my youthful days.

That I was astonished and happy in expressing my state of mind mildly.

Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the mysterious pomade.

I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this mysterious elixir, now called Kotalko, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist.

That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved."

How YOU May Grow YOUR Hair

It has been proved in very many cases that hair roots did not die even when the hair fell out through dandruff, fever, alopecia areata or certain other hair or scalp disorders. Miss A. D. Otto reports: "About 8 years ago my hair began to fall out until my scalp in spots was almost entirely bald. I used everything that was recommended but was always disappointed until at last I came across Kotalko. My bald spots are being covered now; the growth is already about three inches." G. W. Mitchell reports: "I had spots completely bald, over which hair is now growing since I used Kotalko." Mrs. Matilda Maxwell reports: "The whole front of my head was as bald as the palm of my hand for about 15 years. Since using Kotalko, hair is growing all over the place that was bald." Many more splendid, convincing reports from satisfied users.

BADGES WERE PRESENTED TO THE CHILDREN—MRS. W. R. MORRIS WELCOMED PARENTS.

Well over three hundred school children, their parents and friends, attended the Peterboro Play Grounds Field Day at the Queen Mary School grounds yesterday afternoon and the results of the formal closing of the grounds more than justified the expectations of all interested in organizing the field day.

The Programme.

From an early hour in the afternoon the children entered into such sports as baseball games, volley ball races, group games, folk dancing, singing games and nursery rhymes, all of which were convincing proof of the splendid results of supervised play.

At the conclusion of the play, Mrs. W. R. Morris, representing the Board of Education, welcomed the parents, and spoke of the progress playground work had made about the city.

Presented Badges.

Mr. G. N. Gordon later presented the playground badges which were given for points won by the children during the past two months. He explained that the six girls and six boys obtaining the highest number of points on each ground received a badge, red indicating the two highest, blue the second, and white the third. The plan of grading was adopted to encourage the children to work hard in the future for badges with a red honor for each year.

All the children scored points for atendance, behaviour, help with equipment, games played, swimming, leadership in games and inter-playground events. The girls scored for handwork, such as basketry, needle work, etc. The boys were given credit for special help with equipment, entertaining by good stories, etc. This year a special feature used by several grounds was giving points for doing chores and running errands at home. This found great favor in the homes and has done considerable toward knitting the home and playground together.

The contest on all grounds was close and on most grounds the winners had to fight very hard the latter three days of the contest.

Each badge was in the form of a felt shield with the name of the school worked in silk floss in the school colors.

Presented the Pennant.

In presenting the school pennant won by Queen Mary School in the inter-play ground competition and donated by the playground instructors, Mr. G. A. Gillespie, ex-M.P.P. suggested that it should be contested yearly, and the school winning it three times should retain the emblem permanently. He heartily congratulated the Queen Mary School upon winning the pennant and the instructors for their splendid work reflected in the work of the children. He impressed the children with the fact that play is as important as work and that to play well requires skill as well as to work well. He spoke of the deep interest he takes in all schoolwork and concluded by wishing the Playgrounds Association every success in the future.

Handiwork Display.

The display of embroidery, cross-stitch etc., the work of little girls at the play grounds, was particularly interesting to all visitors who were delighted with the many and varied useful articles made by the little ones whose ages ranged from 5 to 12 and 13. Sweaters, cushions, raffia baskets, scarfs, table napkin rings and all kinds of embroidery, which testified to the splendid purpose to which the children had devoted their otherwise idle moments. Many a little girl who had never threaded a needle at home, had learned under the instruction of the playgrounds supervisor to make useful articles, to mend clothing and to generally handle a needle and thread skilfully.

Won Badges.

The pupils winning badges were:

The Ball Games.

In the ball games which started at two o'clock the senior all star team representatives of Queen Alexandra, Central and King Edward played the Queen Mary team, beating them by a score of 7-4. Meanwhile the juniors were running a very close score on the other diamond. Playing overtime the all star team beat in the junior game also.

The Games.

In the games the senior dash was won by Jack Thornton with Hopkins a close second and Howard Young third. In the junior dash Alex Rogow broke the tape, with Orrin Seabrook close behind and Hilliard Acchamble easily holding third place. Great interest centred in the high jumps. Thornton again starred in the standing broad, but had to resign Wolfe in the running broad.

After the races, games and tournaments in quoits were run, accompanned by group games. Blind-fold boxing by various fellows, afforded much amusement for a time. Some of the more novel games such as peek-a-boo and barrel throw filled the programme until the presentations were called for.

Sergt. Deannard Present.

The interest of many of the parents was typified by Sergeant Deannard. Sergeant Deannard has spent a good many of his off-duty hours this summer at Lake street bathing beach. His help in officiating the swimming meet of a week ago was repeated yesterday in his help with the boys' events. Two of Mr. Deannard's children are badge winners this year and though he could not win a badge he wears the playground colors and has been quite an asset this year to the playgrounds.

IMPROVEMENTS AT ALLEN THEATRE

With an eye to the safety and comfort of their ever increasing patronage, the Allen Theatre management has instituted a number of alterations and changes during the past week.

Safety taking precedence over any other feature of theatrical management in the eyes of Mr. R. G. Furlong, the manager, he has placed new weight fire escapes on all sides of the building which are in readiness for instant use at all times and will by this evening be made stationary. For the comfort of the public he has placed 24 exhaust venilators about the building which, without endangering the health of the people, by waves of draught exhaust all impure air and keep a constant supply of fresh air in the building, making it a cool spot on the hottest day in the summer.

Completely Overhauled.

The exterior of the building has been completely overhauled and repainted, making it a beauty spot for George street, while extensive improvements have also been made in the interior.

The management contemplates the installation of two new members in the orchestra, the class of pictures being shown in the city by the Allen demanding an even better class of music to be in keeping.

The management considers itself under obligation to all who give criticism either of an adverse or otherwise nature and any points needing correction will be given immediate consideration.

NOTE UNPAID 4,000 YEARS.

Borrower Obtained Four Shekels in 1962 B.C. at 40 Per Cent Interest.

PHILADELPHIA. — An unpaid note for four shekels in silver bearing 40 per cent. annual interest for nearly four thousand years recently was found among the clay tablets at the University of Pennsylvania Museum by Dr. Leon Legrain. The note was given by a man named Bur-Mama to Il Sinnutum in October, 1962 B.C., the "year in which King Rim-Sin occupied the town of Dur-Damigilisha."

There were four witnesses to the note. Instead of signatures the witnesses placed their seals on the document, and were not liable for payment unless it was shown they knew the character of Bur-Mama was bad when they swore it was good.

Although comparisons are difficult, Dr. Legrain said, a shekel of silver at the time the note was made was equal to about $100 at the present time.

LINDSAY, Aug. 25.—No person here is suffering to any extent through a scarcity of houses. Nine new moderately-priced homes will be ready in a few weeks. High-priced houses, however, are at a premium. In municipal quarters satisfaction is expresse that the Council did not take up the Municipal Housing Scheme, as wages and material are both very high. In Oshawa the Housing Commission is erecting a number of frame houses, comprising two rooms downstairs, and three upstairs including a bath. They were built on an eight-inch cement wall and are selling for over $2,000.

SYRIAN CLEANS UP $8,000,000 WITHOUT CHANGING OF LUCK

PARIS, Aug. 23. — "Gambling, drinking and tangoing have become the very existence of the world's richest people congregated in Deauville," says the Paris Satire Weekly, Cri d'Paris. "Sums of money sufficient to provide a life income for a large family are won and lost in a few seconds at the baccarat table, to which anyone is admitted after the pretext of examining identification papers."

The most picturesque figure in the Casino is the Syriau Ghi Kahn, who several months ago was a humble carpet seller in the Paris streets, but who subsequently won $3,000,000 in a night, coming to France from Jaffa in June, he sold five carpets, realizing 1,000 francs. He immediately placed the entire sum on "Meddiesome Maid," A. K. MacComber's horse, at the Long Champs races, and won at the odds of 11 to 1.

He retired from the trade and joined the Baccarat Club at Enghein, where he won $22,000 before the club was closed by a scandalized parliament. It was too close to Paris. From Enghein Kahn went to Vichy, where he repeated his extraordinary run of luck, finally ending up at D'Eauville, where is is living in the Imperial suite in the Royal Hotel. He is estimated to have cleared up a total of $8,000 000 without a sign of his luck changing.

He told the police that it was the first time he had left it unlocked in the street in two years.

IMPORTANT GAMES ARE ARRANGED

NEW LISKEARD AND UNIVERSAL BALL TEAMS COMING TO PETERBORO.

The local baseball fans will be glad to learn that the Peterborough baseball club has arranged several important games. On Saturday, Sept. 4th the New Liskeard team, champions of the Temiskaming League, which included Cobalt, Haileybury and Porcupine, will clash with the Petes at Riverside Park. The Northern Ontario champions are coming south on a tour and Peterborough has been lucky enough to secure them for the Saturday fixture. They play fast ball in the north and Manager Solomon with his experience of baseball in New Ontario, is looking forward to a hard battle.

On Labour Day morning, Sept. 6th, the fast Universals team of Toronto, runners up to the Classics in the Riverdale League, will be here. The Universals have won their last seven games in the Riverdale League, which is a convincing proof of their class. Among the well known players on the Universal line-up is Darcy Smith, famous hockey goalkeeper.

These games will tune the Petes up for the O.B.A.A. semi-finals. The Belleville team or some other fast aggregation will likely be brought here on Sept. 11th. On the following Saturday the Petes play in Toronto against the Toronto city champions, the return game here on the following Saturday.

LAWN BOWLING

Arrangements are now complete for the local tournament which opens on Monday night next. There will be primary and consolation series, with first and second prizes in each event. A good number of entries have already come in, including two rinks from the Brinton Carpet Co. Members wishing to take part, who have not already entered, are asked to notify the secretary at once, so that the rinks may be made up in time for the draw which takes place on Friday night.

OLYMPIC OF 1922 GOES TO BRAZIL

NEXT MEETING OF COMMITTEE TO BE HELD IN GENEVA.

ANTWERP, Aug. 26.—At a meeting of the International Olympic Committee it was decided that the Intermediate Olympic games of 1922 should be held in Brazil. They are to be known as the South American Olympic games.

The next meeting of the committee will be held in Geneva, in June, 1921, when applications for the holding of the 1924 Olympic games will be considered. Applications already have been received from Atlantic City, Chicago, and Pasadena, California. There is, however, no indication as to which place is favoured at the present time.

LAKEFIELD GAVE LINDSAY A SCARE

SWAN SONG OF SOLOMON'S U.F.O. LEAGUE.

In the second game in the intermediate O.B.A.A. series at Lindsay yesterday afternoon, Lakefield failed to win, but they gave the Lindsay team a big scare, the score being 5 to 2. The Lindsay club are now winners of the series and their next games will probably be with Delora.

The Northerners lived up to expectations and gave George Logan's crowd a tight argument. Manager Morrison was again unfortunate in not having all his regulars available, in consequence of which Nelson had to do the twirling. He held Lindsay to seven hits and struck out six batters. Batteries:

Lakefield—Nelson and Adams.
Lindsay—Mann and Logan.

WILL PRACTICE TO-MORROW NIGHT

The Comrades' Football Club will practice to-morrow night (Friday) at 6.30 p.m. at the Exhibition grounds. All players and prospective players, also the executive, are requested to be present.

A WONDERFUL STUDY

A wonderful study in courage is afforded in "The Sheriff's Son," the new Paramount picture in which Charles Ray is starred, and which is being shown at the Allen Theatre Friday and Saturday. The hero is a young man who has inherited a great fear from his mother, who witnessed an attack on his father before the boy's birth. He grows up with this sense of fear hanging over him, but the story is constructive throughout and shows how he battles splendidly to overcome his weakness and how he succeeds, winning the girl he loves in the bargain.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—When the big newspapers of Canada speak so highly of Mr. J. H. Burnham and his work in Parliament for Canada, it seems needless to notice the little buglers blowing their own trumpet, and that never would be known, like "The Kingston Standard," if it was not for the prominence of the people they attack. When critics can vilely spit at a man he must be biting them mighty hard. The Examiner is a fair paper, and gives all sides.

(Sgd.) "FAIR PLAY."

Editor of Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I would like to ask through the columns of your valuable paper, if we have to put up with the unsightly billboard now being erected at the corner of Charlotte street and Monaghan Road

When we passed a by-law restricting this district for residental purpose only, we didn't look for bill boards. The fact that this was restricted has given us a better class of residents and houses and held the price of property up in the west end.

It was bad enough for the city to put down the pavement in front of this property without first making the owner put in sewer connections. They must now lay themselves liable by allowing this nuisance.

BLACKSTONE, GREAT MASTER MAGICIAN

With the title of the "ace of achievement" in the realm of magic, Blackstone, one of the few of the modern magicians, whose work has aroused the greatest interest, will make his first appearance at the Grand September 1st and 2nd.

Blackstone is a master in the art of small magic and has a programme comprising over 100 tricks, nearly all of which he is the originator. For one hour he keeps his audience mystified by his dexterity, producing from "nowhere" pigeons, doves, rabbits and numerous articles of wearing apparel. In the manipulation of cards he is conceded to be the world's greatest, and even watching him at close range the spectator is left mystified. The early portion of his programme arouses the interest of his audience for the big illusions and spirit phenomena which follow. He presents a levitation act that is said to be the most daring and bewildering illusion ever shown on a stage. It is called the levitation of Princess Azrah, and is absolutely new in principle. This dream in mid-air of the dainty princess surpasses the fabled feats of Aladdin, and it bears a semblance to the miraculous tales of levitation that came out of India. Its perfection represents ten years of patient research and study and the expenditure of many thousands of dollars. The result of these experiments is a masterpiece of magic and the crowning achievement of Blackstone's brilliant career.

Blackstone also has a big musical act which is presented between his first and second parts, said to be one of the most artistic specialties offered with any production.

The programme in its entirety is one that all lovers of sleight-of-hand, mind-reading, spirit manifestations and cabinet rappings will find interesting and entertaining. The little folks will also find much to wonder at, as this master of magic has several special numbers for their entertainment. During the engagement matinees will be given.

AMENDMENT RATIFIED.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. — The proclammation announcing officially that the suffrage amendment to the constitution had been ratified, was signed to-day by Secretary of State Colby, on receipt of certificate that Tennessee legislation had ratified the amendment.

"SLEEPING PARTNERS"

Beautiful Edna Goodrich, herself, the only star of nation-wide reputation to go on a transcontinental tour this season, will appear at the Grand Theatre on Saturday, 28th August, for an engagement of one night only. Although the day of the travelling star seems to have passed, there still remains the desire to see a beautiful woman whose photograph appeal has been felt through the movies and in the present instance theatregoers will have the opportunity to see an actress whose co-starring tours with Nat C. Goodwin won her international fame, and whose engagement in pictures with the Mutual endeared her to thousands who follow the photoplay. The management guarantees that Miss Goodrich will personally appear here, and that the original production of "Sleeping Partners" which was used during the run of seven months in New York will be seen in the local presentation. There are no "number two" companies of "Sleeping Partners." Miss Goodrich has bought the exclusive rights for the United States and Canada; and will cover the most important cities this season. After that she may lease it to another star.

"Sleeping Partners" is now a substantial success in Paris, London, and New York. The translation into English is by Seymour Hicks, who is still playing in the London production. It had a record of seven months of success at the Bijou Theatre, New York, and has never been seen in this country outside of that city and Chicago. It is said to be very French, somewhat risque, full of daring lines, which the translator has dared to retain in the American text. Yet it is never offensive, and in all teaches a wholesome lesson that a girl of seventeen or eighteen can safely expound to her grandmother.

"MAPLE LEAF"

The famous Fourth Division "Maple Leafs" theatrical unit are now on a homecoming tour of Canada, presenting their greatest overseas musical comedy success, "Camouflage," which they will offer at the Grand Theatre for two days, commencing Monday, 30th August. This clever aggregation of all-soldier talent are touring under the personal direction of Capt. M. W. Plunkett, whose "Dumbells" proved the big sensation of the Canadian theatrical world last season. The "Maple Leafs" company includes a number of wonderful "girls" of all types, from the baby "vamp" to the grand society dame, and the piece derives its title from the way they fool the boys.

There are some twenty brilliant musical numbers interspersed throughout the action, while the costuming and staging leave nothing to be desired.

"THE LITTLE SHEPHERD OF KINGDOM COME"

The declaration is made by the management of "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," that cast and production are intact and that the company and settings of this dramatisation of the John Fox, Jr., novel of the same name are identical with those seen recently at the premiere in Philadelphia at the Walnut Street Theatre. The organisation is coming to the Grand Theatre on Thuraday (tonight), 26th August, for an engagement of one night only. Sidney Toler who made the dramatisation is a skilled actor, who is this season playing in the cast of the May Irwin comedy, "On the Hiring Line." Toler has been at the head of his own company and plays that he has written alone or in association with others have brought him substantial profits. In this instance he is said to have done his best work, and Mr. Wee, the manager, who produced the piece, has shown his faith in the value of the production by providing a magnificent scenic investiture and a company of unusual distinction. George Simpson plays the role of the little hero, Chad, and Dorothy Dunn is the exemplar of Melissy. Fay Brennan, a Washington society girl of rare beauty, has the role of Margaret. Types are finely represented by other players, including James Kennedy, Ralph MacDonald, J. M. Bradford, David Callis, Bart Ray, Grace Fries, and Edward Kenyon. There is an unusually intelligent dog who has the part of Jack, put on trial for sheep-killing.

BURNHAM NOT ORDERED TO LEAVE MONTENEGRO

(Canadian Press.)

MONTREAL, Aug. 26.—"There is no truth in the statement that Serbia has requested a Canadian doctor, Col. W. F. Burnham, to leave Montenegro," said Capt. A. V. Seferavitch, Consul-General of the Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slavs, yesterday morning. "This statement, which has appeared in the press, is credited with having been given out by the Montenegrin Minister of Foreign Affairs in London. Since the signing of the Peace Treaty there has been no Montenegro as a separate State, for then it became part of Jugo-Slavia. To-day I received word from my Government in Belgrade that there was absolutely no foundation for the rumor. The cable stated that if Col. Burnham has left Montenegro he has done so of his own free will and desire."

ENGINEER ASLEEP AND TRAIN WAS DERAILED

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Aug. 26.—C. E. Bassett, engineer of the Lake Shore train which ran into an open derailer near Schoolcraft last Saturday, killing himself and two others, was asleep at the time of the accident, according to a verdict of the jury returned on Tuesday afternoon.

The verdict was based on the indirect testimony of the engineer himself, the doctor and the night operator at Schoolcraft having repeated statements purporting to have been made to them by Engineer Bassett just before his death.

Bassett, they said, admitted he was asleep at his post when the engine flew past the block signal.

WEDDING BELLS

HENRY—MANN.

On Wednesday, August 25th, a very pretty wedding took place in St. James Church when Miss Mabel Mann, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Mann, Lafayette ave., became the bride of Mr. Frederick Henry, eldest son of Mr. Frederick Henry, also of Peterboro.

The bride looked charming in a gown of pale pink satin with embroidered georgette overdress and hat to match. She was attended by her sister, Miss Pearl Mann, in cream georgette, with hat to match. Mr. Delbert Henry assisted the groom.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's bridal chorus and during the signing of the register "O Promise Me" was played by Mrs. Ernest Kitney. The church was tastily decorated with flowers.

After the ceremony the guests assembled at the home of the bride's parents where a delightful dejeuner was served to about 50 guests.

BEST GRANULATED SUGAR OFFERED IN MONTREAL AT 18 CENTS POUND

The Refiners Have Dropped the Prices Two Dollars a Hundredweight—Lower Prices on the Way.

Canadian Press.

MONTREAL, August 27. — Local brokers who seem to have heavy stocks, were yesterday offering the best granulated sugar to the wholesalers at eighteen cents a pound in lots up to one thousand bags, containing one hundred pounds each, while the refiners were quoting $22.80 net a hundred for the same grade. It was explained that brokers have been holding heavy stocks for higher prices but in view of the outlook for a decline they are now anxious to unload. It was said that some of the stocks accumulated by the brokers had been bought as low as fifteen and sixteen cents. Refiners, after consultation with the Board of Commerce yesterday agreed to reduce the price to twenty-two cents a pound.

BUSH FIRES ARE CREEPING UP TO MATLOCK BEACH ON LAKE WINNIPEG.

(Canadian Press.)

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27. — Unless wind swerves from the south-east, heavy bush rifes, which have been creeping steadily towards Matlock Beach on Lake Winnipeg, summer resort of hundreds of Manitobans, for several days will threaten the entire beach. Starting about five miles south of Matlock fires have been pushing towards the village fanned by a steady wind. Large gangs are fighting the fire but this morning it was within one-quarter of a mile of an outlaying cottage. Winnipeg families summering at the beach are returning to the city.

WANT PUBLIC TO PROTECT THEM IN SUGAR DECLINE

That the two cents per pound drop in the price of sugar announced by the sugar refineries to-day will not have an immediate effect on the local market was the opinion which several local grocers expressed to the Examiner to-day.

They explained that the grocers had bought up their stock at the old price and that should they reduce the price in proportion to the drop announced by the refineries, they would be selling at a loss.

The Peterborough grocers protected the citizens to a considerable extent when sugar began its upward climb some time ago by selling at a price considerably lower than that of the outside market, and now they feel that the public should be willing to protect them from a loss in turn.

THE ORATORICAL THUNDER WAS CONFINED TO MR. THOMAS TOOMS, M.P.P., MR. S. S. STAPLES AND MR. A. A. POWERS—A GOOD PROGRAMME PROVIDED.

Clear skies and ideal weather conditions attended the U.F.O. picnic at Exhibition Park yesterday afternoon, but the crowd was not nearly as large as was expected, and the unavoidable absence of the Hon. F. C. Biggs was an added disappointment. Hon. Mr. Biggs was unable to attend because of an important conference, and as all the other Cabinet Ministres were out of the city, it was impossible to secure a substitute.

There were three speakers—A. A. Powers, president of the U. F. Co-operative Company, Sam Staples, M.P.P., Ida, and T. Tooms, M.P.P., West Peterborough—R. B. Rogers, president of the West Peterborough U.F.O., acting as chairman.

The Great War Veterans' Band was in attendance, and a long and closely contested programme of sports, including a baseball game and a football match, was run off. At four o'clock dancing began on the platform in front of the grand stand, excellent music being provided.

T. Tooms, M.P.P.

The first speaker was T. Tooms, M.P.P. for West Peterborough. In opening, Mr. Tooms commented upon the remarkable success of these U.F.O. gatherings, and stated that they were a step in the right direction. Mr. Tooms explained that in every way he was in co-operation with the U.F.O. party, and that the ideal of the Farmer-Labour coalition was the promotion of public improvements. They sought by common ownership and taxation to do away with the concentration of great wealth, he stated, and meant to shake off the shackles of tradition.

"I am in full accord with the Drury Government's inquiry into the Hydro radials," he declared. He based his conviction of the justice of the inquiry upon the fact that the inquiry was merely a sound business proposition, as the Government wished to determine the financial status of the radials and their prospective future.

Surely such an inquiry as that instituted by the Drury Government is but a plain, business proposition. The Farmer-Labour Government are taking over a big business. Their reputation rests with the proper control of public finance. Their object is to avoid the "squander mania" epidemic that has beecn prevalent in the past. As far as the Labour section is concerned, the Labour Party is committed to course of electrical and radial development under a system of public ownership. It will stand for and uphold those principles unflinchingly. Hence Labour supports Premier Drury in his efforts to secure information and the fullest facts and details in connection with the carrying out of the projects now contemplated. This policy was unanimously adopted and endorsed by the Provincial Executive of the Labour Party of Ontario which we believe will meet with the approval of a majority of the Party's adherents."

Mr. Tooms then took the opportunity of explaining Labour's views of the present political tangle in West Peterborough, brought about by the resignation of J. H. Burnham from the Federal House. West Peterborough, he stated, is the only constituency between Toronto and Ottawa capable of electing a Labour member. As a result, unless West Peterborough has a Labour representative, all the industrial workers in the district between Ottawa and Toronto will be disfranchised under the present system of voting. Consequently, be inferred, West Peterborough should be allowed to elect a Labour representative.

Mr. Tooms also made a plea for the proportional system of representation.

A. A. Powers.

The next speaker was A. A. Powers, president of the U. F. Co-operative Company. Mr. Powers was frank in condemning the Drury Government for refusing to be represented before the Board of Railway Commissioners when the railways asked permission

DOLLAR DAY RESULTS BROKE ALL PREVIOUS RECORDS FOR THIS CITY

THE WINNING NUMBER—A PHENOMENAL INCREASE—PRIZE MONEY WILL BE PAID AT THE EXAMINER OFFICE AFTER MONDAY, AUGUST 30TH.

As an evidence of the growing interest in Dollar Day, both by the merchants and the public, the number of estimating blanks used and dropped in the box at the Examiner Office showed a phenomenal increase of over 7,000 more than any previous Dollar Day, the surprising total amounting to 22,880.

This unexpected jump was something not counted on by the vast majority of shoppers who marked their blanks close to the figures reached on last August and January events. There were thousands of estimates in 14, 15 and 16 thousand, a fact that greatly simplified the work of sorting out the prize winners. Only a meagre few made a try at higher numbers and none managed as in former contests to hit on the exact figure. However, the two winners showed a sufficiently uncanny foresight by coming within only four and five respectively of the actual figures, and the entire sixteen winners managed to keep their estimates within 100 of the 22,880 mark.

For the shopper rom the greatest distance there were many contestants, proving that Peterborough is a tourist centre known all over the continent. Claims were made from not only distant Ontario points and Montreal, but there were several from British Columbia, South Carolina, Texas, Ohio, Michigan, Saskatchewan and Southern California. As this prize will be not be paid out till a week from Dollar Day, the winner cannot yet be announced, but up to the present the claim of Wilfrid Staunton, of Los Angeles, Califronia, places him at the head of the list of claimants.

Following are the names of the winners, who are asked to call at the Examiner Office any time after Monday, August 30th and receive their money:

CASUALTIES IN FIGHTING IN BELSAST

TROOPS GUARD PRISON

(Canadian Press).

BELFAST, Aug. 27.—Disorders in Belfast ceased after two this morning, and a portion of the military was withdrawn from the streets, special constables patrolling the thoroughfares.

Last night's casualties included one person killed and a considerable number wounded. The military had to fire repeatedly in the Netownards Road, where snipers fired on the soldiers in the darkness. Enormous damage was done by fire, of which there were twenty during the night.

Troops Protect Prison.

(United Press).

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Cordons of troops were thrown about Brixton Prison to-day.

The military took this action after the discovery that a number of the persons demonstraing for the release of Lord Mayor MacSweeney of Cork were armed with revolvers and bombs.

Soldiers and police promptly charged and broke up every group that gathered in the vicinity of the prison. Several additional arrests were made.

After visiting the Lord Mayor this morning, his wife and his sister Annie said his death was imminent.

Guard Lloyd George.

(Special to the Examiner).

LUCERNE, Aug. 27.—Swiss police took extra precautions to guard Premier Lloyd George to-day, following the reported departure of Sinn Feiners from Ireland, who plan to assassinate him.

"Heroic" Defiance.

(Special to the Examiner).

ASHVILLE. N.C., Aug. 27.—Terence MacSweney's defiance of the British Government, which may cost him his life, was described as 'heroic' to-day by his sister, the Reverend Madame M. MacSweney, an official of St. Genevieve's College.

POOR ESTIMATING IN EXAMINER CONTEST

CITIZENS HAVE NOT HAD SUFFICINNT EXPERIENCE IN HANDLING SMALL COPPER COIN.

The results of the Examiner contest on Dollar Day, which called for the estimating of the number of new penny coins in a glass bowl made plain the fact that the public as yet has very little knowledge of the new Canadian coin. No one made the exact estimate, which was 1380 coppers and in any other Examiner contest a winner 47 away from the correct number would never have secured a prize.

However inext Dollar Day will likely see the public more proficient if the same kind of a contest is carried on.

The winners are as follows:

1 D. J. Moloney, 388 Rogers street, 1377 .... $6.00
2 R. C. Heard, 178 Dalhousie street, 1373 .... $5.00
3 R. C. Heard, 178 Dalhousie street, 1390 .... $4.00
4 J. A. Robinson, 505 King street, 1364 .... $3.00
5 Bert Graham, Lakefield, R.R. No. 1, 1400 .... $2.00
6 Louise White, 511 Stewart street, 1401 .... $1.00
7 A. H. Allen, 158 Charlotte street, 1345 .... $1.00
8 R. C. Heard, 178 Dalhousie street, 1415 .... $1.00
9 M. T. Brekenridge, 315 Pearl street, 1344 .... $1.00
10 M. T. Brekenridge, 315 Pearl street, 1,333 .... $1.00

Mr. R. Heard winning 2nd, 3rd and 8th prizes gets $10.00. He had several other estimates that were nearby winners.

The prizes will be paid at the Examiner Office on Monday next. We desire to thank the public for the interesting and satisfactory day experienced throughout the city on Dollar Day.

MILLING INTERESTS ARE PREPARING TO ANNOUNCE DROP IN FLOUR PRICES

Decline Reported in the Market Price of Number One Northern—Drop in Bread Prices Will Follow.

Canadian Press.

MONTREAL, August 27. — There is a distinct possibility that within the next month or so, following the big wheat crop in the West and the resumption of competitive dealing by the millers, that the price of flour will decrease, and be followed by a drop in the price of bread. Already it is stated by representatives of the milling interests that there has been a decline in the market price of No. 1 Northern, which is standard wheat for flour purposes. When the old competitive system of buying and selling is resumed the expectation is that in the course of time this will result in a reduction of costs, but when asked when this will take place the millers were not inclined to predict.

HASTINGS HELD CARNIVAL IN HONOUR OF WAR HEROES

PLAN ON FOOT TO ERECT A PERMANENT MEMORIAL—THE SPEECHES—PROGRAMME WAS OPENED WITH PARADE.

memorating the bravery of the heroes she sent overseas and of raising money to erect a lasting memorial to those who went overseas and those who made the supreme sacrifice. Hastings yesterday cast care to the winds and entered into an all-day carnival. A holiday was proclaimed by Reeve J. H. Hess and the entire town joined hands in making the day a complete success. The town was fittingly decorated and every flag pole flew the colors of the Allies.

The Memorial.

A committee of Reeve J. H. Hess, chairman; Alex. Wilson, secretary; J. M. Thomson, treasurer; Rev. Father Bretherton, Rev. D. A. Thompson, Rev. J. H. Hirton, Rev. Courage, Mr. P. Doughty and Dr. Delamater formed for the purpose of deciding upon the memorial and its location, took complete charge of the arrangements for the day and saw everything through to a successful finish, from the parade at 12.30 o'clock, which opened the day's activities, to the big dance in the Town Hall, which wound up the biggest day in the history of Hastings.

The Parade.

Headed by fourteen automobiles, which presented a gala and festive appearance with their decorations of flags of the Allies, evergreens and banners flying and through which countless gaily decorated bicycles circled the parade, started from the Town Hall on schedule time for the Athletic Grounds, where the sports were held. Immediately after the automobiles came the Hastings Band, followed by eight of the veterans, Father Bretherton with his kazoo band, the school children, two hundred strong, each carrying Union Jacks, while six little girls, Jean Doughty, Helen Grindlay, Myrtle Dodd, Margaret Taylor, Helen Smith and Gertie Franks, carried the school flag and lastly the citizens who turned out almost to a man.

The Speeches.

At the Athletic Grounds the automobiles, augmented by many from the neighbouring towns, formed a circle about the base ball grounds and the speakers, Hon. Nelson Parliament, speaker of the Legislature and representative of Prince Edward Island; Mr. Sam Clarke, M.P.P.; Father Bretherton and Reeve J. H. Hess, were invited to a prettily decorated platform in the east end of the grounds.

In a very brief address Reeve Hess explained the object of holding "Heroes' Day", and after thanking every one for the splendid response they had made in contributing toward making the day a success, he concluded by remarking that it is the patriotic duty of every one to recognize the heroes and dealt upon the wonderful record the Canadians had made in securing the world's freedom.

Rev. Father Bretherton said he hoped that yesterday was but the first of many other such days for the same purpose. After inviting the speakers to come to his church, Our Lady of Mount Carmel, to see the splendid monument which had been erected in the church grounds to the "unreturning brave," he said that he thought it was the first monument erected in Canada to the heroes of the war 1914-1918. He also dwelt upon the glorious heritage Canadians shared owing to the response of her sons during the war.

Hon. Nelson Parliament.

After reviewing natural resources of Canada, Hon. Nelson Parliament spoke at length of the splendid heritage Canadians shared in the freedom of government and of speech. He dwelt particularly upon the debt Canada owes her heroes and reviewed the history of the British Empire, contrasting her glorious history with that or the fallen empires from the Roman to the German Empire. He concluded by speaking to the Canadians on the field when with their JOB ASSIGNED TO TURKEY'S HAREM KING—GREEKS ATTACKED.

(Canadian Press.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 27.—Sultan Mohammed VI must personally lead the Turkish troops against the Turkish Nationalists in Antolia to prevent dissolution of the empire it has been decided at a special cabinet meeting. The Sultan's army virtually does not exist, but the Allies apparently are willing to permit the organization of a Turkish force to cooperate with the Greeks in attacking Mustapha Kemal's armies under conditions guaranteeing them against desertions to the Nationalists such as occurred when Anzavour Pasha attempted to lead the Sultan's troops.

Mustapha Kemal, according to reports from travellers returning here from Asia Minor, has taken the supreme court of the Nationalist government from Angora to Sivas, where preparations are being made to receive the government should the impending military movements threaten the former city.

Greeks Attacked.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Aug. 27.—Nationalist forces of Mustapha Kemal are reported to be concentrating in the vicinity of Eski-Shesr, Asia Minor, according to advices reaching the French Foreign Office. These advices say that clashes already have occurred between the British and Kemalists a few kilometers south of Ismid, while the Greeks have been attacked by the Nationalists in the vicinity of Demirdje. There were casualties in both frays. The Armenian government is said to be striving to gain time before ratification of the agreement permitting Soviet troops to cross their territory to lend a hand to the Kemalists and awaiting the developments of the offensive in Poland and by General Wrangel in South Russia. Foreign Office hears that two Armenian ministers have been killed by Bolsheviki while attempting to obtain immediate ratification of the agreement.

LIBERALISM MAGNET FOR DEMOCRATS

MACKENZIE KING SAYS FARMER AND LABOUR MOVEMENTS ARE EXPRESSIONS OF TRUE LIBERALISM.

TRUSTS THE PEOPLE

RENFREW, Aug. 26. — The civic element, rather than the political, predominated in the welcome extended by Renfrew to Hon. Mackenzie King, A. R. McMaster, M.P. and Joseph Archambault when the party arrived here this evening at 6.40 from Ottawa.

Mr. King at the outset of his address said it was cheering evidence of a new spirit of toleration and democracy in Canada that Mayor Moss, a lifelong Conservative, should present him with an address, written by himself and uncensored. For that reason he appreciated the kind words that had been spoken of him.

Toryism Belongs to the Past.

"We are in Canada getting down to real democratic principles," said Mr. King, "and Toryism, which is the reverse of toleration, now belong to a past century."

They owed much to the lifelong service of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who always put to one side differences, and thought of the things that Canadians had in common. Canadian peole were now becoming one, not only in national ideas, but in feeling.

He spoke at length of the essential differences between the Liberal and what he described as the autocratic or Tory line of thought. The Labor and Farmer movements were but an expression of Liberalism in its truest form. The work of Liberalism is to gather those who are out for a better life, such as the returned soldiers. These were things that Liberalism was trying to gather together to sweep like an ocean over the land and give much needed improvements.

Start with the People.

The Labor movement was formed to represent every branch of Labor and give expresion of labor all over the country. This was truly democratic. The Farmer movement came into being in a similar way. They started with the people themselves.

Liberalism, he said, placed its trust in the people. They talked about government by the people, but the people had not had a say in the returning of the present government, and the Liberals were out to remedy this.

Did Not Consult People.

Where did the new party name come from and where did the Leader come from? Was there one present who could say that he had a voice on either question? And yet they called it government by the people. From one end of Canada to the other no one had had a word to say as to the naming of the party, policy or policy except the men in power themselves.

Any group of men able to draw to its side the strong financial parties and combinations and give and accept favors between each other was an invisible government. It represents not the will of the people but the desires of the few. The Government has felt justified to resort to any means to hold the reins of office.

wonderful bravery and fearless devotion to duty they were more feared by the Germans than perhaps any other of the Allies.

Sam Clarke.

The next speaker, Mr. Samuel Clarke, Provincial member for West Northumberland, insisted that he is just Sam Clark, and in addressing the veterans, said that even should no other monument ever be raised Canada, a free country, is the greateest they need. Those who gave their lives and those who came back have alrealy got their reward in saving Canada, for in saving her they saved the greatest country in the world and the country with the greatest future, a country which has room and needs millions of men to develop her wonderful possibilities. He also dwelt upon the debt every one in the Dominion owes her heroes and assured them that every one appreciates the debt. Concluding, he gave as the supreme recipe for happiness the application of the Golden Rule always, he said, lend a hand to help rather than to hurt. His address throughout sparkled with the typical Sam Clarke humor and one of his biggest hits lay in assuring the gathering that he had taken Rev. Father Bretherton to be a Metodist.

Vote of Thanks.

At the conclusion of the addresses a vote of thanks, moved by Mr. J. M. Thompson, seconded by Rev. Father Bretherton, was tendered the speakers, and responded to by Hon. Mr. Parliament and Mr. Clarke.

War Trophies.

A trench motor and two German machine guns, which Reeve Hess has been instrumental in securing for the town, and publically displayed yesterday for the first time, afforded a point of great interest for the large number of visitors at the Athletic Grounds. They will be placed in the grounds of the Town Hall.

So far the nature of the memorial to be erected to the heroes has not been made public and the committee refuses to divulge any of the suggestions of plans which have been made.

The Dance.

In the evening a splendid dance, under the patronage of the Daughters of the Empire, who have already donated $50 toward the proposed memorial, was held, at which a considerable sum of money was realized.

Hastings' Heroes.

The boys who served and who sleep in Flanders fields are:

THE PETERBOROUGH BAKERS HELD A DOWN-RIVER PICNIC

A VERY SUCCESSFUL OUTING ORGANIZED AND CARRIED OUT BY BAKERS OF THE CITY.

Thursday afternoon was another of those delightful days when one feels thankful to be living; a beautiful sunshine, tempered with a mild breeze. And evidently a number of people were in the same happy frame of mind as was your scribe, who boarded the good ship Stoney Lake, lying at the George Street Wharf, at somewhere around 1.20 p.m. There was an almost capacity crowd on board; all happy ,all looking forward to a delicious afternoon's enjoyment.

Who are these? and whence do they come? and whither go they? One soon learned that the boat had been chartered by the bakers of the town who were trying their 'prentice hands at excursion boosting. Anyway the first attempt was a success; so much so that later on it was decided to make an annual event of it.

But not only were they bakers and bakeresses—if one may coin a word. And why not? For we have (male) Quaker, (female Quakeress; and in like manner tailor and tailoress—and all sizes of children of both sexes, some of whom would probably at a later period become themselves members of "the staff of life" trade; but there was on board a party who were members of the All Saints' choir.

At 1.30 the Commodore of the Fleet, Frank Young, who was on the wharf with his usual cheery smile, gave the signal for departure, and off the boat started. At the Street Railway Wharf a few more embarked, and then off again for a steam down the river. This Thursday was the last half-holiday in August, and one could but be thinking that in another fortnight or so, in the usual run of events, one would find the summer afternoon trips down the river would be things of the past, for this year anyhow.

At 3.15 Wallace's Point was reached. Here the steamer was moored for a stay of one and a half hours. Many then began to attack their tea or supper baskets, while others took possession of the swings and other amusements. A printer notice requested the public to use "commonsence" (sic) in the way they handled them; I hope this sentence was correctly translated and adhered to.

Then came off a number of events—races, etc. The prizes were provided by the bakers, but the committee generously threw all the events (except two) open to all comers. A list of these and names of winners will be found subjoined. After these sports were concluded the steamer's whistle sounded. Those who were so disposed were at liberty to go on board for an hour and a half's sail down the river, the boat calling back again at Wallace's Point. Many availed themselves of this, while equally as many preferred to stay on terra-firma.

It was a pleasant trip down river, and back; the clerk of the weather was just good; it was neither too hot nor too cool; and what can one desire better than a happy medium? Captain Scollard was out and about among his passengers, with a genial smile here and a hearty hand-clasp there, all being glad to have a word with him.

During the homeward trip many availed themselves of the dancing facilities. Others sang chorus songs, notably some of those old, delightful Southern plantation "nigger" melodies so full of real music and pathos. What a comparison with some that followed—"Blighty," for instance. The same idea seemed to seize two parties of singers, one in the bow, the other in the stern of the vessel. They both started "Annie Laurie," only that one party was about two bars behind the other. The effect about the 'midships of the boat may well be imagined. Anyway, everybody seemed happy; they were thoroughly enjoying themselves; and is there anthing on the face of God's earth equal to the feeling of being happy? I trow not!

At 7.30 Street Railway Wharf was reached. A goodly number got off here, cars being in waiting. Then the Peterborough Lock was again negotiated, and at 8 p.m. the happy, joyous throng was disembarked safely at George Street Wharf, cars being in waiting on the new siding.

The following is the list of events:

Girls' race, 6 to 9 years—1 Dorothy Saddler, 2 Rosie Foulger, 3 Evie Young.

Boys' race, 6 to 9 years—1 Laurence Roland, 2 G. Young, 3 W. Reid.

Maried men's race, 100 yards, in 3 heats—1st heat: 1 McFeat, 2 W. Stuart, 3 Babbs. 2nd heat: 1 Jack Brady, 2 E. Mitchell, 3 W. Nesbitt. Final heat: 1 McFeat, 2 W. Stuart, 3 Nesbitt and Bailey tied and divided prize.

Race for bakers only, 100 yards, handicap—1 McFeat, 2 Stuart, 3 Thompson. (McFeat handicapped 5 yards, and was an easy winner.)

Thread and needle contest—1 Mrs. Simmons, 2 Mrs. Mitchell, 3 Mrs. Brierly.

Tug-of-war, Drivers v. Bakers—Won by Young's team of Bakers.

The following members of committee may well congratulate themselves on the success of their first venture in pleasure catering: Messrs. William Nesbitt, Wiliam Wheeler, John McFeat, Eugene Mitchell, Noble White, and Robert French. To them much credit is due. It was a financial as well as a social success.

The "bar" was in the able hands of some of the G.W.V.A.

to increase their freight rates 40 per cent. and their passenger rates 30 per cent.

He advocated greater production sa the solution of the adverse exchange rate with the United States. In answer to Premier Meighen's suggestion, "Where is an additional $160,000,000 revenue to come from?" he stated that the millions of acres of land in the West offered a solution of the problem, but that they had been allowed largely to pass into the hands of speculators.

He expressed himself as fully in accord with the Dru. Government's investigation of the Hydro radials.

He lauded the record of the U. F. Co-operative Stores, and told of their immense saving to the people. He wished it to be distinctly understood that any company or group of people, no matter what their political prejudices, could, by buying stock in the U. F. Company, secure the services of the machinery of the U. F. organisation.

Sam Staples, M.P.P.

Sam Staples, M.P.P., Ida, next spoke. He stated that he was only invited to speak in order to add variety, and he had little to say on political questions other than praising the Drury Government. He dwelt upon the democracy of this Government, and stated that the people were now studying politics as never before.

Football Match.

Warsaw and Smith were on the programme for the football match, but the Smith tea mdidn't appear in uniform, and could muster only about half the regular team. After long consultation they picked up a team and were defeated by one goal to nothing.

There was also a decided hitch in the baseball game. Douro and Keene were matched to play, but Douro had not their complete line-up, and in the delay it was decided to match the 11th Line of Otonabee team against Keene—the latter winning by 19 runs to 3.

LOCAL SLEUTH CAPTURES MEN

WENT ALL THE WAY TO MUSKOKA DISTRICT AFTER THEM.

After a chase which lasted four days and led back into the Muskoka Lakes district, Sergeant of Detectives Newhall captured the two men at Dorset yesterday, who on Sunday last stole two horses here, one from Middleton's livery and one from Robinson's.

The men hired the horses here on Sunday, saying that they wished to drive about the city. By evening they had not returned, and the police were notified. The first trace of them was found at Chemong, where Harold Gibbs recognized one of the horses on Sunday evening. Detective Sergeant Newhall set out in pursuit of the men, and next picked up their trail at Fenelon Falls. Thence he followed them to Bracebridge, Muskoka Lakes, where yesterday he learned that they had stopped there at the hotel of which ex-Fire Chief W. A. Howard of Peterborough is proprietor. He caught up with them at Dorset, beyond Bracebridge, and arrested them.

Sergeant Newhall is bringing them back to Peterborough to-day.

The police have a suspicion that they are the convicts who escaped from the Kingston Penitentiary some time ago, and who were believed to have made their getaway in the direction of Central Ontario.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"THE LITTLE SHEPHERD OF KINGDOM COME."

Both those who had read John Fox's famous story of the Kentucky mountains and those who became acquainted with its characters for the first time, found pleasure in the stage version of "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" at the Grand Opera House last night. The play follows the book closely and most of the well known characters are introduced. Chad, the waif around which the action centres, was most effectively presented by Mr. George Simpson, who did a really creditable piece of acting in this important role. The comedy was supplied by that veteran actor, Mr. James Kennedy, formerly at the head of the Kennedy players, whose portrayal of the part of Squire Middleton, was responsible for gales of laughter. Nothing funnier than his work in the famous trial scene in the second act has been seen here. The Kentucky mountain dialect was effectively used by the company, giving the proper local colour to the production, although the effect was somewhat spoiled in one scene by the introduction of a 1920 piano lamp in a setting that was supposed to represent an 1861 drawing room. All in all, however ,the offering was most enjoyable.

To-morrow night Edna Goodrich visits the Grand in her most successful farce comedy, "Sleeping Partners" and on Monday and Tuesday the Maple Leafs, the concert party of the 4th Canadian Division will present their famous revue, "Camouflage."

SOVIETS SELLING FLAX BELONGING TO SWEDES

(Canadian Press)

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 27.—Despite a protest from the Swedish Government, 400 tons of flax belonging to the Swedish Flax Association are being offered for sale in Reval by the present Soviet authorities. The flax had been seized in 1918 by the Bolshevists.

The Swedish Foreign Office has notified both the United States and the British Governments that the flax has been misappropriated. The Swedish owners are apprehensive that the British organization for the purchase of flax in the Baltic countries may be induced to buy the consignment.

MEALS ARE ONE OF THE CHIEF ATTRACTIONS AT THE CADET CAMP

THE MENU FOR TO-DAY—BOYS SPENT FIRST NIGHT UNDER CANVAS—ACTIVITIES AT CADET CAMP.

Activities at the Cadet Camp were in full swing to-day. This morning the boys had drill and a musketry lecture, and this afternoon they were taken to the rifle ranges for rifle practice.

Last night was their first night under canvas, and as a result many of the cadets did not sleep well. It is expected that to-night they will be more accustomed to camping.

Experienced officers were rapidly whipping the various corps into shape this morning, and considerable improvement was noticeable after their short training in the way they executed their manoeuvres.

The officers are grateful to the following companies and citizens who have offered to take the cadets to the rifle ranges this afternoon in their cars: Quaker Oats Company, Canadian Woollens, Ald. R. V. Copping, Lt.-Col. C. H. Ackerman, C. G. Graham and Louis Yeotes.

Meals are one of the chief attractions of the camp, and are by no means of a bully beaf nature. The following is the menu for to-day:

Breakfast.

Dinner.

Supper.

Hashed brown potatoes, sliced tomatoes, bread and butter, biscuits and cheese, tea.

Drumhead Service.

A drumhead service will be held on Sunday morning for the Protestant cadets, and arrangements are being made for a church parade for the Roman Catholics.

General King, O.C. Military District No. 3, will be here on Monda and will inspect the camp.

Following are the units attending the camp:

Cadet Corps 88, Cobourg Collegiate—R. N. McKenzie, instructor.

OBJECTIONABLE CLAUSE WITHDRAWN FROM TREATY.

Russians Willing to Comply With Allies' Demand.

(Canadian Press).

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Russian Soviet's reply to the note of Arthur J. Balfour, Lord President of the Council, signifying the willingness of the Russian Soviet Government to withdraw that clause in the Polish peace terms concerning the army of Polish workmen, is under consideration by the British Government. A copy of this reply has been sent to Premier Lloyd George at Lucerne.

No Need For Action.

In unusually well-informed quarters it is held that as the Soviet Government has agreed to withdraw the offending clause, there is no need for further action at present by Great Britain.

WILL INVESTIGATE LOCAL CONDITIONS

CANADIAN FIRE UNDERWRITERS ON THE JOB.

It was learned on good authority this morning that an inspector of the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association is in the city conducting a private investigation into the affairs of the local Fire Department, with instructions to keep his identiy unknown to municipal oficials.

This bodes ill for Peterboro, as the insurance men say that the mere fact that the local Department is now undermanned is sufficient to cause the underwriters to advance Peterboro fire insurance rates Added to this is the present unsettled condition of affairs at the fire hall and the apparent disinclination of certain members of the City Council to investigate the Fire Department's alleged inefficiency

For many years the Fire Underwriters have advocate three fire stations for Peterboro and should the rates be raised now it would cost Peterboro thousands of dollars to bring Peterboro's fire protection facilities to the standard demanded by the underwriters by building two additional stations, the buying of more equipment ,and the increasing of the force, in order to bring the fire rates back to normal.

It is understood that the meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, at which the firemen's grievances will be aired in a sort of preliminary hearing, will be held on Monday evening.

SUNDAY CONCERTS.

On Sunday the G. W. V. A. Band will give its last concert of the season at Victoria Park, the fixture being transferred from to-night at the request of many citizens. The inauguration of Sunday band concerts this season has been a source of pleasure to the people, and may be counted upon as a permanent feature during the summers hereafter. When The Examiner first suggested a series of Sunday concerts at the beginning of the season it was with a feeling that there might be some objection to the proposal, but no opposition materialized, and the concerts have been given on a number of Sundays to the delight of the people generally. Church services have not been interefered with in the least for care was taken to choose a time that would not conflict with the churches or Sunday schools, and The Examiner is sure that the Sunday concerts have been approved of and enjoyed by the citizens, and that the permanent adoption of such concerts will be received with approbation.

A FEW QUESTIONS.

There are many points which the Fire, Water and Light Committee, in dealing with the question of an investigation into the Fire Department, might do well to consider. These are questions which will be asked by the citizens which require answering, and the information should not be withheld.

Is the brigade as at present constituted 100 per cent. efficient?

Is the city getting full value for the thousands of dollars spent each year on the fire department?

Are the men individually efficient? Have they received sufficient training to familiarize themselves with their duties? Are they physically fit for the work?

Is there the proper kind of discipline at the fire hall?

Is it advisable to have the men on night duty go to bed each night?

Is the affiliation of the Firemen with the Trades and Labour Council in the interests of the city?

These are a few of the questions that are heard on the street. They are important, and the people want to know the answers. The ever-increasing cost of fire protection is not a light burden, even if it yielded one hundred per cent. returns. It becomes doubly objectionable when there are doubts as whether or not the results justify the expenditure.

WHERE THE TROUBLE IS.

Replying to recent references to him in the Globe, and other newspapers, Mr. J. J. Morrison, secretary of the U. F. O., maintains that there should be no criticism of the Farmers' organization because it may happen to find fault with the Drury government. The papers themselves, he points out, criticize their political opponents. That is quite true and so far as The Examiner has noticed, there has been no newspaper attempt to blame Mr. Morrison and his friends for criticizing the government which is their privilege as citizens of the province. But the trouble is that the U.F.O. leaders want to go further than fault finding,—they desire to control the government—to lay down the policy that Premier Drury should follow. The system that they want in force in Ontario would leave the Members of Parliament at the mercy of a section of the electorate as represented by the Farmers' Clubs. Over their heads Mr. Morrison proposes that the U.F.O. organization should hold a recall club, so that if their actions did not please the Farmers' headquarters in the riding they could be forced to resign. The opinion of the rest of the electorate would have no weight. Even in a riding in which the U.F.O. candidate, although successful, was elected in a three-cornered fight in which he did not get a clear majority of the votes, Mr. Morrison would have the Farmers hold a tight rein over the member. That is what The Globe and other newspapers, The Examiner included, complain of—not mere criticism of the government's policies.

The permanent buildings at the Canadian National Exhibition are valued at over $3,000,000.

PROHIBITION AND EXTRAVAGANCE.

The extravagant expenditure that is said to be characterisic of city working people to-day is not all a thing to be deplored, points out Farm and Dairy. In thousands of cases the money that is being spent on finer clothing and more comforts and luxuries for the home was formerly spent over the bar. Money that previously was spent in selfish indulgence by the man of the house is now being used for the comfort and enjoyment of the rest of the family. A merchant tinsmith who employs half a dozen skilled workmen recently illustrated this phase of the situation for us from his own experience. Three of the men in his employ were always met at the door by their wives on pay night; not otherwise would any of their wages have reached home. Since the bars have disappeared the women have discontinued their Friday night visits to the shop door as no longer necessary. This same employer is now putting furnaces and bathrooms in the homes of men who a few years ago would not have been considered good prospects for improvements to the extent of a kitchen sink and, in many of these cases, it has been the banishing of the bar that has made the difference. We have inquired of other employers of labour and of social service workers and all are unanimous in their conclusion that much of the money that is now being spent by working people, whether extravagantly or otherwise, was previously spent in the service of John Barleycorn.

It would be better for the country and better for these people themselves if the money going into superfine clothing and needless extravagances were being saved for a rainy day. Even these expenditures, however, are prefer able to the demoralising traffic that previously consumed the earnings of these same people. That homes are being made more comfortable and wives and children relieved of worry and want is a cause for much joy. Prohibition has been an unmixed blessing and an incentive to temperance workers to carry on the war for the bone-dry conditions that will relieve John Barleycorn of the last vestige of his influence.

PUBLIC HEALTH IN RURAL ONTARIO.

The health movement has made much more progress in urgan than in rural Ontario, and in fact has only just begun to touch the latter. In the matter, for example, of the prevention and the treatment of tuberculosis, the smaller towns, villages and counties have done practically nothing. Most of the larger centres of population now have dispensaries, clinics, and in some cases sanatoria. These are almost totally lacking in the counties and small towns, and the latter pay nothing for those which do exist in the nearby cities. This means that cases of tuberculosis from country districts are compelled to seek admission into sanatoria, toward the cost of which their own municipalty has paid nothing. The township and county officials are not only making no effort to establish these necessary health services, but frequently do their best to evade the per diem payment for maintenance for their own indigent consumptives, and in a variety of other ways attempt to pass on their social problems to the cities. The establishment of an adequate public health service, including medical inspection and nursing service n schools, the movement for the care and segraton of the feeble-minded, the control of venereal disease, the prevention of infant mortality are all matters which are receiving but scant attention from local authorities.

The Provincial Department of Public Health, in cooperation with the Ontario branch of the Red Cross, has now under training a small group of nurses who will shortly be sent out to a number of the smalled centres to establish a public health service. They will act as missionaries of the public health movement, and their chief value will be in the social education of the committees to which they are sent as to the need of such serves, so that the local municipality will be willing to provide these from their own funds.

The people living in these communities are not selfish and indifferent to the social needs of their fellow-citizens, above all others. It simply meant that a more intelligent propaganda has been carried on in the cities, and when the necessary information has been placed at the disposal of rural Ontario, in a sufficiently attractive and intelligent way, there is no doubt that action will follow. They will learn, as city residents are painfully learning, that health is a purchasable commodity and a community gets in this regard exactly what it is willing to pay for. The country cannot presume on its natural advantages in the way of fresh air and sunshine over more congested sections, for these advantages are not in themselves sufficient unless reinforced by efficient public health measures. It has been found in certain instances that the ratio of some diseases to population has been actually higher in the country than in the city.

There can be no lob-sided advance. The whole province must move together for progress made at one point is jeopardized by neglect elsewhere. With the constant movement of population no one is safe unless all are safe. The fact that the good health movement is beginning to reach out into rural Ontario is of great significance, and it is to be hoped that the experiment now being made by the Ontario Public Health Department will prove an influential factor.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

EDNA GOODRICH IS IRRESISTIBLE IN "SLEEPING PARTNERS"

CLEVER, VIVACIOUS ACTRESS COMES TO THE GRAND THEATRE SATURDAY NIGHT.

Miss Edna Goodrich, the star in "Sleeping Partners," which comes to the Grand Saturday night, together with her acceptable support, makes a host of real comedy talent. She herself is a bewitching vivacious actress, whose versatility is quite irresistible. This play is credited with being in truth a Garden of Eden episode in three merry acts, taken from the French. It is replete with piquant lines and convulsively humorous situations, in which Miss Goodrich and her talented support give abundance of entertainment.

The plot itself is slight, and is a story in which the principals are a flirtatious young Parisian matron and a Lothario who has had much experience with affairs of the heart. While the play calls for little deep histrionic action, it is full of sparkling comedy and is exceptionally well handled by Miss Goodrich, whose part is one of exceedingly difficult interpretation. Her delightful accent, called for by the character she impersonates, fascinates and holds, and her whole conception of the role may be classed as artistic.

Miss Goodrich's chief support is Mr. Bernard Thornton, a finished actor, who carries his audience with him in a manner that reflects discernment and capability

The whole piece is admirably staged, while the costumes worn by Miss Goodrich are beautiful in the extreme. Lovers of bright dialogue, wit and humor, and arresting stage settings are promised a treat in "Sleeping Partners" at the Grand Saturday.

QUARREL OVER FIVE DOLLARS CAUSES STRIKE.

THAT SON-IN-LAW OF PA'S — Would Pa Let a Poor Flea Starve? — By. WELLINGTON

By OWEN JOHNSON

"Goodness, no! So early?" she cried, jumping up. "Don't worry. Andrew's here. He'll take me home; you needn't wait, dear."

Audrew Forrester stood up.

"You'll have to excuse me," he said. "I'm off early to-morrow. I'm turning in now myself."

For a moment no one spoke. Had she dared she would have touched his arm in mute entreaty.

"Well," she said at length, in a tired voice, "if every one's going, I suppose I might as well. Is the launch here, Rudy?"

"Yes—here," he said thickly.

"We can put Andrew down at his wharf."

"Thanks, my car is here. No need to trouble you," he said obstinately.

They had left the summer-house, making for the lanterns of the landing. She delayed purposely, letting her husband pass ahead.

"Do come," she said quickly. "I'm afraid of him lately—terribly afraid."

"I think you worry unnecessarily about—Rudy," he said slowly.

She stopped and caught his sleeve in the darkness.

"You hate me, don't you?"

He made no answer.

"I wish I were different," she said plaintively. "I wish—I wish it could have gone on just as we were, without any one knowing—"

"Don't!" he cut in harshly.

"I must see you!"

"Why?" he answered, with a shrug of his shoulders.

"You don't understand."

"The trouble is, I do understand—too much!"

They were at the launch now. There was nothing or her to do but to accept his hand and get in.

"Not coming?" said Dellabarre from the stern.

"No, thank you," he said loudly. Good night, Irma. Good night, Dellabarre."

"Good-by, Forrester!"

The husband's voice alone replied, and the note of rising excitement made him stop short. He turned back uneasily. Was Dellabarr really worse drunk usual? Irma had half risen from her seat.

"Rudy—it's awfully rough! Do you think we're safe?"

"Sit down!"

The command rang out. The water widened between the boat and the dock. The motor spun and began its chugging iteration. The next moment the curtain of the night dropped between them. Forrester stood listening. He heard again Irma's voice in pleading, once, twice, more faintly. Then the chugging of the motor dwindled away.

He called up his car and went directly home. Gregory was up, waiting, and in his hand a letter which he seemed to have been holding before him for hours.

"Mrs. Forrester, sir," he said, stammering.

"Well, what?"

"Mrs. Forrester left—was called suddenly to town— She said I was to give this letter to you."

"All right, Gregory," he said gently. "Give it to me, and don't worry. I know all about it."

He took the letter and went up to his room.

"I know what that means," he said aloud.

He sat down and opened the letter.

"Andrew!—I have chosen this way. I am leaving openly, so that you can have your divorce for desertion. It is only right—for it's been my fault. Do try to think a little kindly of me if you can—and be careful—do be careful what you do now. You have the right to be happy. AMY."

X

At ten o'clock Monte Bracken had arrived in his automobile, and five minutes later Morley, pale and frightened, had brought down her mistress' luggage and seen to its storing. Bracken, who remained in the back seat without descending, made no offer of explanation.

"Good evening, Morley."

"Good evening, sir," she had replied, and to herself she thought, "He looks more like a ghost than she does."

"Put the bags in front."

"Yes, sir. Mrs. Forreseer said to say she'd be right down."

"Very well."

It was all done quite openly. There could be no question of what was happening. Gregory, who was aiding with the bags, did not dare to question Mr. Bracken's chauffeur, even with his eyes. Among the servants was the terrified calm, the panic of all the senses, that comes below stairs with the approach of a catastrophe above. Morley hesitated as though half expecting some explanation would be volunteered — some plausible lie that would deceive no one. Then she ran back upstairs hurriedly, out of breath.

Amy, cloaked and veiled, was waiting by the trunks. She had been entirely calm and matter-of-fact until now, but at the last moment her fingers faltered on the keys. Try as she might, she could not manage the lock.

"The key sticks; lock the trunks," she said hastily.

Morley obeyed. One lock stuck. She was quite a moment before she rose.

"You will join me later with the trunks," said her mistress slowly. "I will telegraph you in a day or so. You understand?"

"Yes, Madame—yes."

"That is all now," she said, looking around and going over to the desk. She took up the letter she had written Andrew. "You will give this to Mr. Forrester immediately when he returns. Or, no—you need not stay up; Gregory will attend to that."

She gave the letter to Morley, who stood transfixed, turning it over in her hand.

"Well, I am quite calm," she thought. "It's strange, I am doing something that is going to upset everything, and I don't feel as though it were anything out of the ordinary. I am calm, and I know just what I am doing."

Nevertheless, as she was descending the stairs, Morley came running after her with her handbag, which she had forgotten. She took it with a first feeling of agitation. She was annoyed to have betrayed an emotion before a servant—emotion which she was certain she did not feel.

She passed through the hallway. Outside, standing by the door, Monte was waiting for her. She nodded, took his hand and stepped immediately into the car. Each instant seemed long and horribly decisive. She heard them going as though a clock were ticking them of. He entered, closing the door.

"Well, I am here," she said in a low voice.

"You are quite—quite sure?"

"Absolutely."

It never occurred to her that he also might have been hesitating before the cost, before what he too might have to face. She was not thinking of him at all, only herself was important. The one thing that was important was that she should prove to herself that she had the heroism to make the great sacrifice.

"Drive on!" she heard him say. The next moment they were moving — out from the region of light into the darkness ahead.

"Well, it's over—I have had the courage," she said to herself. "It's decided now. I wonder what they'll say?"

From the moment she had come to him at the edge of the pier and held her hand, it had all been settled. It could not be otherwise. She had seen him again the evening of the second day after, and all had been said. It was out on the veranda of the Challoner's, where they had met for dinner.

"You know what it meant when I came to you the other day?" she said directly.

"I know."

"I came because I could not help it—because I found I could not live without you."

"I too—" he began hurriedly.

"Yes, I know—I saw," she said, nodding. "Monte, all that you said of me was true—at least, was true then. Now I ask only one thing of you."

He looked at her apprehensively, struck by the note of exaltation in her manner.

"I want to leave openly with you. I want the world to know that it is my act—my responsibility, and that I am not afraid to take it on myself."

He was silent a long moment.

"Do you realize all this would mean?" he said slowly.

"Yes, all," she said firmly. "But I am tired of cheating, tired of being just what you told me I was. I don't want to fall back on subterfuges—sacrifice others. I want to do what I do proudly—I want to believe in myself."

"Yes—I see," he said gravely.

"And then, it is only fair to him."

"And—after?"

"I shall go to a hotel in New York—to Europe perhaps. Andrew will sue at once for a divorce on the grounds of desertion. I think it would be better for you not to join me until then. As long as I bear his name—I shan't do anything against that. You would not want me to either!"

"You have thought this all over, Amy?" he said again.

"All! Again and again!"

"When—" He hesitated, "when do you want to go away?"

"Andrew will arrive Friday—the next night."

He was surprised at the imminence of the thing, at every word she had said, at the complete assumption of his acceptance of what she had decided. Down the porch a door opened and Kitty's voice called,

"What are you two whispering about down there? Come in, you're necessary!"

"And Monte," she said, quickly, her voice growing gentle, "when I do, then you will believe that I am capable of love—won't you?"

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

BARN DESTROYED ON WELLER STREET

WAS LOCATED ON THE PROPERTY OF WALTER STOCKER.

Fire, which broke out in the second story of a barn owned by Walter Stocker at the rear of his house, 514 Weller street, about 5.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, badly gutted the south end of the second storey and damaged the roof. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is thought that it originated from an overheated chimney. This section of the barn is used by Mr. Stocker for boiling paste, and it is believed that the chimney which leads from the boiler became overheated.

Mr. Stocker was away from home at the time that the fire started and it was discovered by William Bradshaw, who lives next door. Mr. Bradshaw saw flames on the roof of the barn and at once rushed to the barn, and with the assistance of Kenner Brown, 517 Weller street, attempted to smother the fire with a garden hose. In the meantime, the alarm was given. The garden hose, however, soon burst and the fire was breaking out on to the roof rapidly when the Fire Department arrived.

Laid Line of Hose.

The firemen rapidly laid a line of hose from the hydrant at the corner of Weller and Walton streets and threw a stream of water into the second storey of the barn, where the fire was at its worst, through the open doorway. After getting the fire here partly under control the roof was was scaled and ineffectually drenched. At last it was necessary to hack away part of the roof and through the opening thus made a stream of water was thrown on the vitals of the fire.

The fire was extremely hard to get at, but was extinguished after some difficulty.

Mr. Stocker arrived home just as the firemen were leaving and seemed not in the last non-plussed by the sight of the fire truck in front of his house. He stated that before leaving home he had feared that something was wrong but that upon investigating he could find nothing apparently unusual.

The amount of the damage is as yet unknown.

MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

Doubtless, if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepsin, bismuth, soda, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble — in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little bisurated magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, oxide or milk, but the pure bisurated magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn, and the bloated or heavy lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little bisurated magnesia immediately after a meal you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover, the continued use of the bisurated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

LEARN GERMAN ADVISES PRESIDENT POINCARE

(Canadan Press)

PARIS, Aug. 27.—"Learn German' is the advice former President Poincare has given the French through the Association of Language Professors. He said:

"To dominate German science we must understand it. And to maintain the independence or the superiority of our literature we must not close our eyes to foreign literatures, not even that of Germany."

M. Poincare said German must be known by those who undertake the administration of the occupied regions and also to restore French to its proper place in Alsace-Lorraine.

Army officers recently were urged to learn German. The Government has reinstated that language in the officers' training schools.

Ennismore Reported Overlooked When Invitations Were Sent Out.

It is rumoured that there is dissention in the ranks of the U. F. O. in West Peterborough. Somehow the Ennismore U. F. O. was overlooked when the invitations to the postponed nomination convention to be held here on September 11 were issued. As a result the Ennismore politicians feel slighted, not to say peeved.

SAY ALL GERMANS SHOULD STAY HOME

(By Frank Lehnoff, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

BERLIN, Aug. 26.— The German government and especially the emigration office are opponents of emigration.

They are convinced that such persons as desire to emigrate are just the people Germany ought to retain at home to help rebuild the nation. The prospective "Auswanderer" are among Germany's most industrious folk; for the most part, they are laborers and craftsmen. And, for the craftsman there is work at home so soon as raw materials are at hand. As for the laborer, he is needed in the fields and the factories, say the government people.

PAST GLORY OF ADRIANOPLE

"The entry of Greek troops into Adrianople is an event in secular history fairly comparable to the investiture of Jerusalem by Allenby's army, for this Turkish city has for nearly 2,000 years been a weather vane of world politics," says a bulletin of the National Georgraphic Society.

"The rebuilding of the ancient Thracian town by Hadrian, who gave it his name, signalized a high point in the power of the Roman Empire. The decline of Rome was foreshadowed some two centuries later when the Goths defeated Valens there and made their first break through the Roman frontier.

"Next Adrianople was the setting for the Turk's advent into Europe. There Murad I. established himself, planned the capture of Constantinople and sent out expeditions to subdue various Christian peoples. For a time the European capital of the Sultans. Adrianople was relegated to be the chief bulwark of Constantinople. There Turk first met Slav, and there the Russians finally forced their way to the Black Sea by a treaty which also loosened the Turkish hold on the Caucasus and compelled recognition of the independence of Greece.

"Adrianople is on the Maritza, Hebrus of Grecian legend, where Orpheus was dismembered by the Thracian women, also celebrated, under its later name, in Bulgarian song and story. It is 137 miles by rail northwest of Constantinople.

"To-day the city wears its past glory with a sort of shabby gentility, with no pretension of prosperity, but less squalor than the usual Turkish city. It possesses the grave of the first Murad, or Amurath, who was assassinated in his tent after he had vanquished an army of Christian allies on the field of Kossovo.

"A mosque bearing the name of Sultan Baiezid recalls that monarch, whose first official act was to order the execution of his brother, who was the first Ottoman ruler to call himself Sultan, whose conquests finaly were checked when he was taken prisoner by Tameriane. But the architectura masterpiece of Adrianople is the Selimiek, product of a Greek tribute-boy's genius and reign of Selim II., the Louis XV. of Turkey.

"Yearly the Turks would seize a certain number of sons of their Christian subjects, and in Sinan they found they had acquired a skilled bridge builder. They allowed him to follow his bent, and the Shahzadeh, at Constantinople; third Suleiman, at Stamboul, and the third famed Mosque at Adrianople, were given to posterity. The Selimieh rests upon the highest hill in Adrianople, and four lofty minarets tower far above a massive dome.

"Formerly Adrianople was a thriving commercial city. But its foreign trade was reduced greatly within the last fifty years by Russian penetration into Turkey's dominion and by tariff barriers of Balkan States. It is on the railway from Belgrade and Sofia to Constantinople.

"Bazaars line narrow streets, and it has been said that these, in pre-war days, with their Austrian crockery, German iron pieces, French jewelry, English textiles and American phonographs to do duty as 'barkers,' contained 'nothing Turkish save the dirt.' The city's population is a conglomeration of Turks, Greeks, Jews and Armenians."

Even Now There Are Many Captivating Fall Hats To Be Seen

PRINCIPAL AMONG THESE ARE SOME FEATHER CREATIONS

Here are hats which are representative of millinery fashions in advance of the mode, which are away from the ordinary in conception and are so diversified that they will satisfy the taste of all women. Moreover, they have been priced conspicuously low considering their fine materials and trimmings.

There are many tailored hats, dress hats of velvet for afternoon and evening wear, and jaunty little models for in between times, becomingly trimmed with ostrich, and many made of feathers entirely.

Fitting the Feet and Completing the New Costume Is the Task Assigned to Our Shoe Dept.

and it is well looked after—even at this early date. We had our fall footwear arrive early, for past experiences taught us that there are many women who give their fall wardrobe their attention ere the summer has gone.

There are shapely boots, graceful pumps and neat Oxfords. Some are black and some are dark brown, and there is something distinctive about every pair, and there should be after the hundreds of samples we went through before selecting these.

Ushering in the First of the Fall Fashions

Now comes the turning point in the showing of fashions. Summer here to-day will be gone to-morrow. Everywhere women not only recognize but feel the need for new clothing. We, therefore, take pleasure in presenting all that is most becoming and authoritative in the new fashions. All the industry and prosperity of this year are reflected in the beautiful elaborations and tastefulness of design, the choicest fabrics and the most skillful workmanship. Not only service but beauty have been combined in these wonderful new creations.

Winter Wraps and Coats with Variety the Keynote in Style, Fur and Fabric

Autumn has given a new impetus to the fashioning of wraps, or perhaps it was the luxurious new fabrics which inspired the many delightful versions of the mode. Be that as it m , never were so many charming things done with collars and pockets and belts, with embroidery and furs. There are Redingote effects, which claim Paris as their source, and wrappy blouse effects out-and-out American. Altogether an ingenuous and original array.

Autumn and Winter Tailored Suits In Variations of Style to Suit the Well Groomed Woman

Tailoring that will bear the most careful scrutiny with infinite attention to detail and finish—every line carefully modelled and sewed in—these are the characteristics women who know clothes look for. With each, however, design is a matter of individuality and taste. Whether the tailor-made is to be under the new Redingote influence—slightly nipped in at the waist, long and straight of line or finger tip length is for the individual to decide. Suffice to say that variety is great here.

Such furniture as this is the kind we select and are not ashamed to pass along to our patrons.

There are still many excellent pieces left, for new shipments have arrived regularly since this sale began. If they had not, it would be a scanty looking stock that we would now have to display.

CANADA PLANS TRAP FOR SALMON EATERS

WILL DESTROY HAIR SEAL IN FRASER RIVER.

(United Press).

VANCOUVER, B.C., August 27.—Besides being the greatest enemy to salmon in the great Canadian fisheries in the Fraser River and the Gulf of Georgia, the hair seal is a clever beast.

And that is why the Government is planning a strategic coup to bring to a climax its long war of extermination against the destroyers. And because the tricky seals have outwitted the fisheries agents on other occasions, the Government is not going to let the seals hear an inkling of the plan until it is all ready for "pulling" it off.

For years these seals have defied all efforts at their extinction. When the tide is out, thousands of them may be seen sunning themselves on the sand near the railroad terminals here. They raid the nets of he fishermen, They raid the nets of the fishermen, holes in the nets ,through which the imprisoned salmon escape. They even trail in the wake of the fishing boats and steal the fish right off the lines.

The Government began by offering a bounty for their tails. But as getting the bounty meant getting the tails first, the plan was a fiasco, for riflemen could not get within range of the seals before they scampered away. Next the Government tried explosives. It planted dynamite under the sand and when the seals had come out to enjoy the sun, the agents would touch off the explosive with electricity. The jolt merely threw the animals far out into the sea, and it was not long before they came back to enjoy the sport some more. Very few of them were killed in that manner.

Now exasperated, the Government believes it has the idea that will turn the trick. It will stretch across the salmon beds long lines hung closely with short ropes to the ends of which will be fastened great hooks of barbed steel. When the seals plunge through the net-like barrier in pursuit of a salmon dinner, it is believed they will impale themselves on the spars.

A few fishermen believe the seals will see through the trick and refuse to take the fatal plunge. The seal, they maintain, is a smart animal.

Voice Of The People

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Your report respecting the Matthews sidings which came before the Council Teusday night says that the Council had assented to the crossing on George street, as if that were also. They also had assented to the construction of their sidings along Wolfe street in the front of my property leading to George street, my only outlet. It also stated that my lot faces on an unopen part of Wolfe street, whereas it fronts on the open part of Wolfe street, being the south half of the street, the north half having been closed by the Council of that day for the accommodation of the C. P.R. freight shed without my consent.

Mr. Gordon's gratuitous remarks at that meeting had nothing to do with the matter as the questions before the Council had reference to the facts of the case and not to points of law, but he took this means of mystifying the case and misleading the Council. It shows the lengths to which the friends of the big interests will go to ride rough shod over private interests. Mr. Gordon knows that the Council had no judicial power to decide questions of law, and therefore, being a lawyer he misquoted the law bearing on the case to accomplish his purpose. Mr. Gordon, like all other lawyers, has access to the Law Reports, wherein he will find that when a former Council closed this same street to accommodate the C.P.R. I took action, not against the C.P.R. or the Matthews Co., but against the Corporation of Peterborough, my only recourse allowed by law, when an order was granted quashing the by-law that had been passed. The Judge in his remarks animadverted strongly upon the conduct of the Council and added a further reason why the by-law should be quashed, thus inflicting heavy costs of all parties on the town .Again, when the present spur line was built, the Council from past experience recognized the right of action of property owners on the street against the city and forthwith settled with them although it was for the benefit of the C.P.R. and the Matthews Co.

It was only on Monday that I learned from Ottawa that the plans allowed the alterations of the present two spurs besides the new one, thus blocking up the whole of the remaining half street and leaving no access to my lot. I also learned from the same source that the same interests were asking for an order dispensing with the notice of publication required by law and thus keep me in the dark as long as possible. I asked permission to see the revised plans but cannot get access to them. It will therefore be impossible for me to take exception to the revised plans unless I have an opportunity to examine them.

The Council having sent down their approval of the plans without sending my protest which I had requested and thought they had, it becomes notice to the Railway Commissioners that the coast is clear and that no one is affected by the proposed sidings, and coming from such a source it would be futile for me (an interested party) to make any claim against the wishes of the Council. I would therefore, under all the circumstances, respectfully ask the Mayor to put himself in communication with the Railway Commissioners before it is too late, and put the full facts before them, which I am willing to furnish and thus save me from an irreparable damage and show in a practical manner the sincerity of my friends for my protection.

Yours truly,
August 26th, 1920. J. GREEN.

Aunt Ruth's Beauty Notes

Brilliant fans to permit a graceful motion of a perfect hand. Sleeveless gowns that lead the eye down the slender arm to rest on the finger tips. Beads with which finger tips may top. These, and a dozen other pretty fancies, are especially designed to display the hand.

The chief beauty of the hands is the nails. The cuticle must be slender, even firm. If possible, each nail should show a pretty half-moon at its base. It is unpardonable this year not to have perfectly kept nails and cuticle.

So many busy women are keeping their nails in wonderful condition with Cutex, that ill-kept ones are no longer excused. They are considered an evidence of personal carelessness.

Try Cutex to-day. You will be delighted to find how much beauty it gives your hands.

The lacrosse executive hadn't decided last night on the exact line-up for to-morrow's game with Mimico. Johnnie Sutherland declined to announce the team as it will take the field, not that there is any dearth of players, but one of the men has an injury that may keep him out of the game. At any rate it will depend largely on Dr. Sutton's advice. However, there is no objection in forecasting the team as follows:

Goal, Scriver; point, Dillon; cover point, Mein; 1st defense, Goodfellow; second defense, Lowes; centre, Creighton; 1st home, Thirnbeck; 2nd home, Tudhope; outside home, Angus Rice, and inside, Bert Todd. Louie Rice, Peter Regis, Bill Meagher, Lou McCoy, Jim McCoy and others will be in uniform and some of these may be sent in when the game is called.

Patient and Persistent.

The lacrosse team might properly appeal for the support of the sporting public on the ground that despite the lack of a local group the players have kept together since the first days of spring and have practiced as faithfully as could be expected throughout the summer. They have had few conditioning games and have had to be content with the workouts and several exhibition matches. Their persistence and patience alone deserves encouragement, especially when it is considered that they are attempting and succeeding in reviving Canada's old favorite game.

But the lacrosse team confidently promises the public a good game at Riverside to-morrow. It will be the first league fixture in years, and really the most important league match in more than a decade.

It is almost certain that the home team as given above will begin the game. Bert Todd, president of the Lacrosse Club, seems to be as good as ever and with Angus Rice, one of the C.G.E. structural steel workers, alongside him, they should give the Mimico inner defense a lively afternoon. Harry Tudhope, of the Bank of Nova Scotia, and young Jack Thirnbeck will complete the home. Both these boys are fast youngsters. Tudhope is speedy and Thirnbeck, who has developed during the summer into a great stickhandler, has proved the boys of today who take to a strenuous game can make rapid progress under good coaching. Thirnbeck, in a sense, is a novice, but he is expected to make a good showing in the company of the experienced players.

Jack Creighton will start at centre and according to Manager Sutherland has overcome the indisposition that threatened to put him out of the game for good early in the seaeson.

The defense includes the reliables, Dillon, Mein and Goodfellow. Bill Meagher will likely have a stick in the game and Lowes has been mentioned a likely starter. Scriver in goal is a veteran, rounding out a team that will give a good account of itself.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, August 27. — Generally higher prices prevailed at the opening of the stock market here today. Pan Amer Pet opened at 88 1-4 up 1-4; Baltimore and Ohio 39 7-8 up 1-4; Baldwin 110 up 5-8; U S Steel 90 5-8 up 3-8; Beth B 77 3-4 up 3-4, Reading 93 off 1-4; Mexican Pet 163 up 1-2; Can Pac 120 3-4 up 1-4; Amer Sugar 114 3-8 off 1-8; Southern Pacific 96 1-2 up 1-4; Union Pac 120 1-4 up 3-8; Norfolk and Western 94 3-8 up 1-8; Crucible 113 1-2 up 3-4; Republic Steel 85 1-2 up 1-4; Texas Co 47 5-8 up 1-2.

The advance continued right up to noon and shorts in some of the high priced specialties had a lot of trouble covering these stocks without bidding up the prices. Steel Common satisfied the dull contingent with a new high on recovery, 91 1-4.

Bears were particularly aggressive to-day following reports that the Bolsheviki had begun a counter offensive in the Brest-Litovsk region. There was considerable selling in the belief this might oresage a Polish reverse. An additional bearish factor was the higher renewal rate of 8 per cent. compared with 7 per cent. yesterday.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 27. — Foreign exchange opened easier to-day. Demand sterling was $3.56 1-8 off 1 7-8c, francs .0097 off .0009; lire .0465 off .0002; marks, .0203 off .0006.

Canadian dollars were up .0015 to dot .8875.

ATTAIN BEST POSITIONS.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, August 27.—The Foreign Ministry announced to-day that France had counselled Poland to attain the best strategical military position possible until peace is signed, regardless of her ethnographical front because the military situation will influence the peace terms.

MEN WANTED TO MAN CANADA'S WARSHIPS

CANADIANS WILL HELP BRING DESTROYERS AND CRUISER ACROSS ATLANTIC.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, August 27.—The Department of Naval Service is making an effort to obtain a limited number of ratings to man the warships which the Mother Country has presented to this country, and bring them to Canada. Men with experience are desired, and when obtained will be sent to England.

As far as the officers of the new vessels are concerned, it is understood that two-thirds of them will be Canadians, and it is stated that both destroyers will be commanded by Canadians. The cruiser will, for the time being, be commanded by an experienced British officer.

The three vessels will probably sail for Canada early in October.

A BIG DAY'S FISHING.

Ex-Alderman J. T. V. May, of Toronto, who is summering at Lake Simcoe, came down to Chemong to visit his nephew, Mr. Edgar Burnham, and enjoy the fishing of Chemong Lake. Mr. May, who is called the Fisherman Wizard of Lake Simcoe, evidently qualifies in this particular, as yesterday he secured eight fine 'lunge, and first thing this morning had also secured a 'lunge and a bass, with the balance of the day ahead of him. As 'lunge have been scarce in Chemong Lake this year, the catch yesterday is a remarkable one for one man.

TORONTO, August 27.—John Milton Godfrey, of the legal firm of Robinette, Godfrey & Phelan, has been appointed Judge to the High Court of Ontario, and the official announcement will probably be made in the next few days.

ANOTHER NURSE NOW MAKES FACTS PUBLIC

Sixteen Years of Stomach Trouble Overcome and She Gains 20 Pounds Taking Tanlac—Work is Now a Pleasure.

Mrs. Alice Minnick, who has been a professional nurse for thirty-six years and resides at 1815 Twenty-third Ave., Seattle, Wash., adds her voice to the hundreds of others in this profession who have already indorsed Tanlac.

"Since I began taking Tanlac I have not only gained twenty pounds in weight, but for the first time in sixteen years I am free of pain and enjoying good health," stated Mrs. Minnick. "I constantly had cramping, gnawing pains in my stomach all these years, my appetite was extremely poor and the little I did eat caused me great distress. After every meal my food began to ferment and sour almost at once, I would bloat up with gas, and those terrible pains would get so bad could hardly stand them. I became badly run down, lost weight and strength, and felt so tired and worn-out all the time I could hardly get around. I had pains in every part of my body just about all the time, but they were especially bad in the small of my back. I also suffered with severe headaches and dizzy spells, and my nerves were so badly upset I could get but little sleep, often lying awake all night long.

"I had heard so much of the good Tanlac was doing others I decided to try it myself, and it proved to be the very thing I needed. I began to improve right away, it was only a few days before my appetite returned and I can now eat anything I want without having a particle of trouble afterwards. Those terrible gnawing pains that had troubled me so many years have entirely disappeared. I never have a headache or become dizzy ,and the pains that were throughout my body have all gone. In fact, my whole system has been built up by Tanlac. I have regained my strength so I can do my work as a nurse, which keeps me on my feet for hours, day and night, without a particle of trouble. Several of my patients have taken Tanlac ,and it has proven beneficial in every case. After what Tanlac has done for me I can never say enough for it."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co. Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son Adv.

Aunt Ruth's Beauty Notes

Brilliant fans to permit a graceful motion of a perfect hand. Sleeveless gowns that lead the eye down the slender arm to rest on the finger tips. Beads with which finger tips may top. These, and a dozen other pretty fancies, are especially designed to display the hand.

The chief beauty of the hands is the nails. The cuticle must be slender, oven firm. If possible, each nail should show a pretty half-moon at its base. It is unpardonable this year not to have perfectly kept nails and cuticle.

So many busy women are keeping their nails in wonderful condition with Cutex, that ill-kept ones are no longer excused. They are considered an evidence of personal carelessness.

Try Cutex to-day. You will be delighted to find how much beauty it gives your hands.

The lacrosse executive hadn't decided last night on the exact line-up for to-morrow's game with Mimico. Johnnie Sutherland declined to announce the team as it will take the field, not that there is any dearth of players, but one of the men has an injury that may keep him out of the game. At any rate it will depend largely on Dr. Sutton's advice. However, there is no objection in forecasting the team as follows:

Goal, Scriver; point, Dillon; cover point, Mein; 1st defense, Goodfellow; second defense, Lowes; centre, Creighton; 1st home, Thirnbeck; 2nd home, Tudhope; outside home, Angus Rice, and inside, Bert Todd. Louie Rice, Peter Regis. Bill Meagher, Lou McCoy, Jim McCoy and others will be in uniform and some of these may be sent in when the game is called.

Patient and Persistent.

The lacrosse team might properly appeal for the support of the sporting public on the ground that despite the lack of a local group the players have kept together since the first days of spring and have practiced as faithfully as could be expected throughout the summer. They have had few conditioning games and have had to be content with the workouts and several exhibition matches. Their persistence and patience alone deserves encouragement, especially when it is considered that they are attempting and succeeding in reviving Canada's old favorite game.

But the lacrosse team confidently promises the public a good game at Riverside to-morrow. It will be the first league fixture in years, and really the most important league match in more than a decade.

It is almost certain that the home team as given above will begin the game. Bert Todd, president of the Lacrosse Club, seems to be as good as ever and with Angus Rice, one of the C.G.E. structural steel workers, alongside him, they should give the Mimico inner defense a lively afternoon. Harry Tudhope, of the Bank of Nova Scotia, and young Jack Thirnbeck will complete the home. Both these boys are fast youngsters. Tudhope is speedy and Thirnbeck, who has developed during the summer into a great stick-handler, has proved the boys of today who take to a strenuous game can make rapid progress under good coaching. Thirnbeck, in a sense, is a novice, but he is expected to make a good showing in the company of the experienced players.

Jack Creighton will start at centre and according to Manager Sutherland has overcome the indisposition that threatened to put him out of the game for good early in the seaeson.

The defense includes the reliables, Dillon, Mein and Goodfellow. Bill Meagher will likely have a stick in the game and Lowes has been mentioned a likely starter. Scriver in goal is a veteran, rounding out a team that will give a good account of itself.

CRESSMAN'S BALL TEAM WENT TO HASTINGS YESTERDAY AND WON GAME WITH SULPHIDE NINE

TEAM TOOK PART IN BASEBALL TOURNAMENT—THE SCORES.

Cressman's ball team played a big part in the baseball tournament at Hastings yesterday afternoon, winning the first game with Sulphide by 8 to 6, and playing in the finals with Campbellford. The latter team had a battery that did not grow up with the town, and it was good enough to defeat Cressmans by 6 to 1. Perrott, the heaving artist, allowed Cressman's four singles and struck out nine in five innings, fanning the side in the second and third. Stoddard, his catcher, put up a dandy game behind the bat. These two walloped the ball hard in the game with St. Michael's of Belleville, which Campbellford won by 10 to 2, but Leith Bartley held them hitless and fanned Perrott twice.

Campbellford tallied first in the third. Kerr hit out to the automobiles and Long made an excusable muff. Holmes' hit took a high bound over Cherrett and Kerr scored. Four more runs came in the fourth on nice hitting, a single by Graham over short scoring a brace. In the fifth Soden threw the ball to the cars in middle field, allowing Weston to score after Long had given him the base by dropping his fly.

Three singles in a row by Harrison, Soden and Cobb in the fourth, the latter scoring Harrison, gave Cressmans their only run.

By innings:	R.	H.	E.
Campbellford	00141	6	6 1
Cressmans	00010	1	4 4

Batteries— Perrott and Stoddard; Bartley and Soden.

Cressmans 8, Sulphide 6.

The Cressmans-Sulphide battle was the most interesting of the tournament, there being a sufficient mixture of hits, errors and fielding plays to keep the crowd on their toes all the time. The teams made a garrison finish, each hitting safely four times, scoring four runs apiece and each making an error. The features of the game were Cherrett's home run over the cars in the outfield, Harrison's long drives and a nifty running catch by Cotton, Sulphide's middle fielder.

Campbellford greeted Harrison with a pair of doubles by Houston and Brown that netted a run in the first. Errors by Hunter and Soden and Cotton's infield out gave them another in the third. For the next three innings they were turned back, Harrison fanning six, and bringing a cheer from the crowd by stabbing a hard drive from Fillian.

In the seventh came four runs on as many singles and an error.

In Cressman's first, Cherrett walked and held first to watch Rutherford and Bartley fan. With Harrison at bat, Cherrett was caught stealing.

In the second, Harrison slammed the ball into deep centre, Cotton dropping the ball and giving the runner three bases. Soden and Cobb sent up flies. Harrison came home, when Carter erred on Hunter's grounder. Hunter went out stealing.

With one gone in the fourth, Harrison hit cleanly for three bases. Soden dumped a hit in front of the plate, Harrison reaching home when Fogg in fielding the ball to the catcher hit the runner. A single by Cobb, Hunter's out on a fly to left and M. Long's hit scored Cobb with the third run. Hawk made another fine catch when Rutherford flied to left. Cherrett's circuit drive made the fourth run. Lively hitting which got Sulphide infielders throwing the ball, brought four runs in the seventh. The box score:

SPLENDID PHOTOPLAY

To see Charles Ray in a motion picture is at all times a treat, but in his latest Paramount picture, "The Sheriff's Son," which is being shown at the Allen Theatre to-day and to-morrow, the popular young Thomas H. Ince star appears at his best as a young man who struggles against and masters pre-natal fear. It is a splendid photo play and well worth seeing.

EDUCATIONAL PICTURES.

(Canadian Press.)

VICTORIA, B., August 26.—"Director of patriotic and educational picture service" is the title which has been conferred upon Dr. W. Baker, chairman of the Game Conservation Board, by order-in-council passed by the provincial cabinet.

The picture service, authorized by the legislature will produce moving pictures of scenes and events in British Columbia, to be exchanged with other provinces and shown abroad.

BLACKSTONE, GREAT MASTER MAGICIAN

On Sept. 1st and 2nd the Grand offers the great Blackstone, known as the World's Master Magician. This is the first time Blackstone has ever appeared here, and the superman of mysticism is prepared to open the eyes of those who doubt that the hand is quicker than the eye. He comes with twenty-two attendants, the largest troupe carried by any magician. He also has a carload of scenery and magical paraphernalia, offering the same programme of novelties and sensations that made New York City gasp with amazement. His mysterious and weird performance runs the gauntlet of magical innovations covering oriental mysticism, psychic phenoniena, spiritualism, black and white magic, mind reading and card manipulation.

"MAPLE LEAF"

Peterboro people are to have a rare treat on Monday and Tuesday, August 30 and 31, when Captain M. W. Plunkett, who will be remembered as the producer of the "Dumbells" last year, is sending here his latest production in the soldier-show line. He has gathered together all the lads from the Fourth Division Theatrical party, the "Maple Leafs," so well known to all who were in France during the war and is presenting them in their overseas musical play "Camouflage."

There is a plot to "Camouflage," which name is derived from the side-splitting situations that insue when so many of the deceitful dolls who in reality are disguised soldier boys, by their clever make up and artistry fool the audience and their pals.

We have seen several ex-soldier entertainments here and every one has been par excellence, but wait till you see the "Maple Leaf." You will be surprised. There are twenty real artists in the company and there is not a dull moment in the entire evening's performance. Female impersonators there are; indeed there is an entire beauty chous of dazzling dolls. The seat sale will be open on Thursday, Aug. 26th, and those wishing a good evening's entertainment should make early reservations.

Importation into the U. S. of German made clocks is said to be increasing.

HIS FIRST VISIT HERE IN FIFTY-SEVEN YEARS

An interesting visitor to the city this week has been here in the person of Mr. George J. Bradbeer, a metal manufacturer now living in Detroit City. This is Mr. Bradbeer's first visit to Peterborough in 57 years.

When living here he was an apprentice under the late Mr. Robert Romaine, in the Review office, but before his apprenticeship was up, went to Quebec, and completed his trade with the "Chronicle" of that city, following the printing trade in that place and other American cities for some few years, going to Cleveland and finally to Detroit, where he now lives, and has a vry prosperous manufacturing plant.

Mr. Bradbeer is the guest of Mr. Chas. Stapleton, while in the city, and this morning Mr. W. H. Bradburn was showing him the business, manufacturing and residential sections of the city, and Mr. Bradbeer stated that it was one of the finest cities of its size he had ever visited. The residences, all substantial and showing great care. The city had a very fine selection of manufacturing plants and the business section of the city showed enterprise and business acumen.

Mr. Bradbeer is very much interested with Peterborough, and has had a very pleasant visit, renewing old acquaintances both in the city and in Cobourg, where he was previous to coming here.

BATHER LOST LIFE IN OTONABEE RIVER

The Otonabee claimed another victim last evening in the person of Jack Ring, a labourer employed at the Peter Hamilton Company, and boarding with Ira Simmons at 263 Bethune Street. The body was found this afternoon at 1.50 o'clock by Police Sergeant Reid.

Ring left his boarding-house last evening, saying that he was going bathing. He did not return, and this morning his landlord, Mr. Simmons, becoming alarmed, as he knew that Ring could not swim, notified the police, first having gone to the boat-houses at the Canadian Pacific Railway Bridge and searched in vain for Ring's clothes. The police instituted a search, and at first looked elsewhere for Ring, because of Simmons being unable to find Ring's clothes at the boat-houses.

About 1.30 o'clock Police Sergeant Reid and P. C. Young went to the boat-houses, and after searching for a time found clothes which were identified as Ring's. Sergeant Reid procured a skiff from the Peterborough Canoe Co., and proceeded to drag the river near the boat-houses. Within a very few minutes he found the body.

The face was blue and swollen as though suffocation had been the cause of death, and it is believed that Ring got beyond his depth, and, being unable to swim, and weakened by the suffocating influence of the hearty meal which he had eaten shortly before, drowned without being able to attract attention.

The body was found about 20 feet above the boat-houses, and was removed to Comstock's undertaking rooms.

Ring was about 24 years of age, and had lived in the city for about ten years. He was employed as a labourer by the Peter Hamilton Company, and had formerly worked on street railway construction. He has no relatives here, and his only known relative is a brother in Borness, Scotland, whose last letter he had in his pocket at the time of his death.

Among his effects was found two life insurance policies, for $1,500 and a Bank of Moptreal bank book in which was registered deposits amounting to $216.73. The insurance policies indicate the beneficiary as the estate, but no will has been found.

HIS FIRST VISIT HERE IN FIFTY-SEVEN YEARS

An interesting visitor to the city this week has been here in the person of Mr. George J. Bradbeer, a metal manufacturer now living in Detroit City. This is Mr. Bradbeer's first visit to Peterborough in 57 years.

When living here he was an apprentice under the late Mr. Robert Romaine, in the Review office, but before his apprenticeship was up, went to Quebec, and completed his trade with the "Chronicle" of that city, following the printing trade in that place and other American cities for some few years, going to Cleveland and finally to Detroit, where he now lives, and has a vry prosperous manufacturing plant.

Mr. Bradbeer is the guest of Mr. Chas. Stapleton, while in the city, and this morning Mr. W. H. Bradburn was showing him the business, manufacturing and residential sections of the city, and Mr. Bradbeer stated that it was one of the finest cities of its size he had ever visited. The residences, all substantial and showing great care. The city had a very fine selection of manufacturing plants and the business section of the city showed enterprise and business acumen.

Mr. Bradbeer is very much interested with Peterborough, and has had a very pleasant visit, renewing old acquaintances both in the city and in Cobourg, where he was previous to coming here.

BATHER LOST LIFE IN OTONABEE RIVER

The Otonabee claimed another victim last evening in the person of Jack Ring, a labourer employed at the Peter Hamilton Company, and boarding with Ira Simmons at 263 Bethune Street. The body was found this afternoon at 1.50 o'clock by Police Sergeant Reid.

Ring left his boarding-house last evening, saying that he was going bathing. He did not return, and this morning his landlord, Mr. Simmons, becoming alarmed, as he knew that Ring could not swim, notified the police, first having gone to the boat-houses at the Canadian Pacific Railway Bridge and searched in vain for Ring's clothes. The police instituted a search, and at first looked elsewhere for Ring, because of Simmons being unable to find Ring's clothes at the boat-houses.

About 1.30 o'clock Police Sergeant Reid and P. C. Young went to the boat-houses, and after searching for a time found clothes which were identified as Ring's. Sergeant Reid procured a skiff from the Peterborough Canoe Co., and proceeded to drag the river near the boat-houses. Within a very few minutes he found the body.

The face was blue and swollen as though suffocation had been the cause of death, and it is believed that Ring got beyond his depth, and, being unable to swim, and weakened by the suffocating influence of the hearty meal which he had eaten shortly before, drowned without being able to attract attention.

The body was found about 20 feet above the boat-houses, and was removed to Comstock's undertaking rooms.

Ring was about 24 years of age, and had lived in the city for about ten years. He was employed as a labourer by the Peter Hamilton Company, and had formerly worked on street railway construction. He has no relatives here, and his only known relative is a brother in Bo'ness, Scotland, whose last letter he had in his pocket at the time of his death.

Among his effects was found two life insurance policies, for $1,500 and a Bank of Montreal bank book in which was registered deposits amounting to $216.73. The insurance policies indicate the beneficiary as the estate, but no will has been found.

VOL. XVLII. NO. 49 PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, AUGUST 28, 1920 PRICE THREE CENTS

D. B. NICHOL DIED FROM EFFECTS SEVERE INJURIES

POLICE OFFICIALS EXAMINE THE SCENE OF THE ACCIDENT—CAR WENT OVER EDGE OF CULVERT.

As a result of injuries received when his car turned turtle on the Keene road on Thursday night, Dickson Best Nicholls died this morning at five o'clock in Nicholls Hospital.

Deceased, who was born in the city, was thirty years of age, and received his education at the Public schools of the city and Peterborough Collegiate Institute. He had been employed for some time with the Swift Canadian Company.

He leaves of the immediate family his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Nicholls, city, his wife and one child, also two brothers, Warne and Gordon of Smith township.

The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon at 2.30. Service at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Nicholls, 203 Dalhousie street, at 2 o'clock. Interment at the Little Lake cemetery.

Inspected Scene.

Chief of Police Thompson and Detective Meagher examined the road at Downer's Corners yesterday, where D. B. Nicholls and Rupert Gliddon met with an accident yesterday morning which proved fatal to Mr. Nicholls.

Chief Thompson says that at the point where Nicholls' car turned turtle into the ditch there is a culvert which is so covered with long grass that it is noticeable only to one who knows the road well. The sod at the side of the road here has been broken off and the Chief believes that the wheel did not come off Nicholls' car, but that he was driving close to the edge of the road and that he did not notice the culvert, due to the long grass. When he reached the culvert the sod at the edge of the road gave way and Nicholls' car was precipitated over the four-foot drop into the ditch at the side of the road where the car turned completely over.

At the time of the accident, a second car, driven by Mr. Gliddon's son, Paul, with whom was George Logan, was about 200 yards ahead. Paul Gliddon, hearing the crash, went back with George Logan and found Mr. Nicholls beside the wrecked car holding his head and Mr. Gliddon pinned underneath the car. They lifted the car off Mr. Gliddon and notified the police to send an ambulance.

Police Sergeant Dennard went with the ambulance and states that Mr. Nicholls was conscious but very dazed.

Upon being removed to Nicholls Hospital, where he died this morning, Mr. Nicholls lost consciousness.

PETERBORO WAS WELL REPRESENTED

Had Biggest Deputation of Four Ontario Cities at Montreal Meeting.

Press reports of the meeting of the Union of Canadian Municipalities in Montreal show that only four Ontario cities were represented, Ottawa, Peterborough, Toronto and London. Ottawa sent Mayor Fisher and City Solicitor Proctor; Toronto was represented by Controllers Ramsden and Cameron; London sent Alderman A. Cunningham and Peterborough made a good showing with Mayor McIntyre, Ald. Crowe and City Solicitor Widdifield. Other municipalities including Sault Ste. Marie, Windsor and Galt were represented by letters expressing full sympathy with the objects of the meeting which was called to arrange for opposing the Bell Telephone Company's application for increased

Footwear Climbing Kneeward

SHOES, NOT HATS, NOW THE LATEST CRAZE—HEADED FOR PETERBORO.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Shoes are keeping step with the fall fashions fad for all that is bizarre, exotic and ornate. Retailers say that never before have they displayed such novel and elaborate styles as their Fifth Avenue windows are showing to-day. Beads, silver-topped nail-heads, golden buckles, chenile embroideries, hand-painting, cut-work patterns and insets work their festive art upon milady's boots and pumps.

Going Up Slogan.

"Going up" is the season's slogan, for the high boots are the most il faut, a ten-inch height seems to be the favourite. These boots come in black, taupe, golden-brown and blue. The latter colour is the season's innovation and is seen everywhere. An electric and turquoise blue reigns in satin and kid evening pumps, and a mid-night blue abounds in the street boots.

Vamps are long, three inches plus being the average, and heels are the kid-covered Louis or the regular military.

The very new touch, however, is given by the variety of designs and trimmings that are put upon the boots. Cut-work effects in designs of the fleur de lis, the swastika, or a geometrical pattern, run riot over practically all of the high boots. These designs are placed across the toe, run ring-round-rosy at the top of the boot and down the side of the lacings, or inset in the middle of the upper.

For the very modest, albeit up-to-the-minute woman, there are insets of contrasting material under the cut-out pattern. Thus, a mouse coloured kid boot with a fleur de lis pattern has insets of taupe under the apertures.

The oriental craze is loading very dressy boots with gold and silver cloth, brocades and beaded tips of many colours. The eastern fleck of colour is given to even sedate black street boots by embroidering the eyelets in some gorgeous silk. The Dutch sabot is a favoured style in low shoes, the one strap generally being of contrasting leather or suede, copiously adorned. The leg strap is hitched to many of the brand new pumps. This strap is of narrow leather which closes about the calf from its diagonal fastening to the pump.

Naturally, a very fine hosiery display goes hand in hand—or should we say limb-and-limb—with the cut-work effects and hosiery makers are championing this open secret by furnishing the loveliest hose possible.

CITY SOLICITOR WIDDIFIELD SO MOVES AT MEETING OF MUNICIPALITIES.

ANOTHER STILL FINDS RESTING PLACE IN LOCAL INLAND REVENUE OFFICE

"Toddy" Was Strong Enough to Kill Any Ordinary Individual—Woman Fined Two Hundred Dollars and Costs.

Up in the Inland Revenue Office reposes a still, the boiler coated with a hard, yellow substance, where the mash has boiled over, the bottom of the boiler blackened from much usage, and the tin dented where too much pressure of some sort has been applied. It is lying in a dismantled condition in the main office, a subject for speculation on what might have been.

The apparatus, however, has placed four people in danger of the arm of the law, and on Thursday its most recent guardian, Hannah L. Young, of Myersburg, three miles south of Campbellford, was fined $200 and costs by Magistrate Payne in Campbellford, for "concealing an apparatus suitable for the manufacture of spirituous beverages." In default of payment the woman will spend the next six months in the County Gaol at Cobourg, at hard labor. W. R. Parker, Deputy Colector of the Inland Revenue Department, conducted the prosecution. This is thefirst case of this sort tried in this section when the new minimum fine has been given and the first such charge against a woman.

Sons Apprehended.

The two sons of Mrs. Young were likewise taken into custody, but they jumped their bail and are still at large.

The original possessor and user of still, acording to the Inland Revenue Officers, is William Rogers, of Madoc, and a warrant for his arrest has been issued by the Chief of Police of Belleville.

The still is quite evidently not the work of an amateur. The receptacle in which the mash is boiled is an old wash boiler but a funnel has been cleverly soldered on to the top of the boiler, and this is connected by means of a long heavy lead pipe to the coils. The vessel which held the water which cooled and condensed the vapour in the coils, connected to the pipe, was smashed, and hence the apparatus is incomplete.

Asked what was done with the confiscated stills, Mr. Parker said that they were stored in the basement until the supply exceeded he space, and then they were renderd unfit for further use, and turned over to the junk dealers.

"The stuff made by that apparatus, passing as it does, through the lead and zinc, would poison an ordinary individual," stated Collector W. H. Buller.

THREATENED STRIKE COAL MINERS AROUSES CONCERN

BALLOTING CONTINUES IN THE BRITISH COAL FIELDS—MAJORITY IN FAVOUR OF STRIKING.

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, August 27 — The threatened strike of the coal miners, continues to engross the attention of the newspapers and the public.

Balloting in South Wales on the question of whether the men shall strike, has virtually been concluded. The result of the balloting as announced to-day, is as follows:

In favour of striking, 143,417.
Against striking, 42,013.

The newspapers point out that employees in mines whose ages range between 14 and 18 years, are voting heavily in favor of a strike. According to the Daily Mail they are believed to cast seven out of every ten of the votes recorded in the Scotts coal fields.

FUNGUS DISEASE AFFECTS POTATOES

EXPLANATION FOR LOCAL GARDENERS, AS WET WEATHER FAVOURS GROWTH.

An agricultural expert of the Farm and Dairy supplies the following information:

Editor, Examiner:

Dear Sir,—At different times I have noted letters in your publication from vegetable growers and gardeners, stating that they had found small potatoes growing on the stocks of their crop this year. This peculiar development of the little green tubers in the axils of the leaves is due to a fungus disease, known as Rhizoctonia or Black Scurf.

This disease has been particularly bad over a great deal of Ontario this season, due to the fact that the exceedingly wet weather has favoured the development of the fungus which causes this trouble.

REV. C. E. CLARKE AT ST. JOHN'S

MR. CLARKE IS INTERESTED IN COMMUNITY LIFE AND WELFARE.

A PRACTICAL PHILANTHROPIST.

Rev. C. E. Clarke, M.A., of Campbellford, will officiate at all services in St. John's to-morrow in the absence of Archdeacon Davidson, who will pay official visits to Campbellford and Havelock on Sunday and also to Norwood and Hastings.

Mr. Clarke is one of the progressive clergy of the diocese and has made considerable advances in his parish since his appointment, taking a leading part in forwarding the community life and welfare.

His special efforts have been directed towards the well-being of men. While many reformers have been discussing substitutes for the bar-room, Mr. Clarke has taken vigorous action, resulting in the building of a fully-equiped men's club with reading room, coffe bar, gymnasium, entertainment hall and other adjuncts in the middle of the town. This community building is under the direction of the church and a special working men's committee with membership open to all denominations.

Altogether this is an enterprising experiment in modern social service of the most practical kind and all concerned in this much talked of department will be interested in the visit of one of its exponents.

CONDEMNS ACTION TORONTO LABOUR

MAYOR MACBRIDE CONDEMNS LABOUR COUNCIL'S MESSAGE TO SOVIET.

TORONTO, Aug. 28.—"Brantford labor does not endorse any such resolution as passed recently by the Toronto Trades and Labor Council supporting Sovietism in Russia," said Mayor M. M. MacBride, of Brantford, to a reporter. "So far as we are concernel, we are thankful to be able to say that Brantford is a city 'entirely surrounded by Canada,' and you can't emphasize those last four words too strongly.

"I think I have as wide an acquaintance with labor thought throughout Canada as anyone," continues the labor M.P.P., "and I want to say it is 90 per cent. Canadian and it will be found just as loyal to British institution in time of crisis as labor has shown itself to be in the past.

Injury to Labor.

"Such resolution do labor a deal more injury than labor's enemies are able to do to it. If I wanted to entirely destroy the labor movement I would proceed along the lines of the resolution of the Toronto Trades and Labor Conucil. Nothing will bring the movement into disrepute more quickly.

"The Toronto Labor Council may commend the Soviet system if they see fit. They may even send greetings to what they are pleased to term the proletariat of Germany. They may send a resolution to 'Old Nick' himself so far as we are concerned in Brantford, but labor throughout Ontario and Canada will not concur to any extent in such matters.

A Blessed Country.

"I thank God for the privilege of living in a country where governments can be made and unmade by the simple process of making a ballot. So far as Sovietism is concerned I think it is well if we confine such doctrines to Russia. Russia is Russia and there are peculiar conditions prevailing there that do not prevail here. Canada is prosperous and progressive and merely because a few profiteers have seen fit to outrage the great ideals for which so many Canadians died is no reason why the sane elements of all classes should not bend their united energies to the building up of a great homeland here."

ADDITIONAL VESSELS FOR NAVAL FLEET

UNITED STATES WILL ADD SIXTEEN NEW DREADNAUGHTS—BIG GUNS ADOPTED.

THE PROGRAMME

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. — By 1923 the nUited States Navy is to be increased from nineteen ships of the dreadnought type to a total of thirty-five, which will give the nation a war tonnage of 1,150,000, and of the units in this fleet, sixteen will be mounted with 16-inch guns. In addition to the ships referred to, the navy, in 1923, will also have under way of construction six giant battle cruisers, each of 43,000 tons displacement, as well as ten light cruisers of the speediest craft afloat.

The Navy Department makes the announcement of the above figures, in a public report of the relative strength of the British and American navies. The report is taken from a translation appearing in La Vie Maritime et Fluviale, entitled "The American Navy." Important excerpts from it are as follows:

"A short time ago Colonel F. Hall and Sir Kinloch Cooke, members of ous of knowing the relative power of the American and English navies, questioned Mr. Long, First Lord of the Admiralty, in regard to this matter The answer, wsich created considerable excitement among our neighbors was as follows:

"Battleships which will be ready in 1923: First, 18-inch guns, America none, England none. Second, 16-inch guns, America 16, England none.

"Ships, having a speed of 33 1-2 knots or more: Battleshijs, America six, England none. Light cruisers, America 10, England none.

"Let us review the situation of this new fleet which, in so short a time, has managed to equal, and even to surpass the oldest navies of the Old World.

Compared to 1914.

"In 1914 America possessed ten dreadnoughts. Nine others were being completed, during the first years of the war The Tennessee, the last of the series, has just been equipped.

"In 1916 the events of the great war began to cause serious uneasiness in the United States. At this period Mr. Daniels had the Naval Board draw up an extensive programme calling for ten capital ships, and succeeded in having it adopted by Congress.

"In 1923, when the ships will be finished, America will possess a superb fleet of 'capital ships,' having a displacement of 9,150,000 tons; sixteen of these will be equipped with 16-inch guns, using projectiles of 945 k. and not to be found in any other navy; let us add that there is some question of replacing the 16-inch guns on the Saratoga and the United States by 18-inch guns.

"With respect to the units of small tonnage, the American navy is less fully equipped; our friends have not one modern light cruiser in service; however, ten are in the process of construction and will probably be finished in 1922 or 1923; these have a displacement of 7,400 tons, a speed of 35 knots, and are equipped with eight 6-inch guns (52 calibre.

For Bigger Guns.

"In closing, we wish to call attention to the general tendency in America to increase the calibre of their heavy guns; the last mentioned capital ships and the six battle cruisers will be equipped with 16-inch guns, 190 of which have already been constructed; an official report of the Naval Board gives as reason for this increase the fact that the trajectory becomes flatter, and, in addition, that in the Jutland battle it was shown that the destructive action of a heavier projectile was much greater in practice than had been calculated.

"The American ships under construction will be faster than the English types, and their armor will be on an average of 5 c.m. (2 inches) stronger."

MILITARY FUNERAL TO-MORROW AFTERNOON

Protest Strike.

(Canadian Press).

NEW YORK, Aug. 28. Hostilities were resumed to-day by five Sinn Fein women pickets, who yesterday started a demonstration that resulted in the walk-out of more than two thousand longshoremen employed on British ocean liners as a protest against Great Britain's Irish policy. Plans are said to be on foot to spread the protest strike to other alliance ports to extend, if possible, to ship crews as well as longshoremen. The action taken was not expected to prevent the sailing to-day of a number of ships due to clear port during the day.

Devalera is to go on hunger strike if MacSweney dies.

POLISH ARTILLERY PURSUING THE REDS

Willing to Transfer Peace Negotiations.

(Canadian Press.)

WARSAW, August 28.—The Polish artillery has wiped out the principal column of the retreating Soviet forces on the north-eastern frontier, catching the Bolsheviki at short range, according to an official statement issued here.

More than six hundred men, including two general staff officers and all the line officers have been captured.

Among the killed was the commander of the 57th Division and his chief of staff.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, August 28.—Willingness to transfer the Russo-Polish peace negotiations to a neutral country is expressed in a wireless message from Moscow, picked up by Eiffel Tower Station to-day.

Debates of the Soviet offer could not be deciphered, however, the Foreign Office announced.

Strength Manifest In Rails

STOCK MARKET WAS MORE ACTIVE DURING THE WEEK—MOTOR STOCKS WEAK.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Stock market was more active and higher in most branches during the week, but any inclination towards speculative expansion was promptly restrained by credit restrictions.

Call money was available in large amounts at 7 per cent., but borrowers were forced to pay as much as ten per cent. for this form of accomodation over the week-end. Time funds were increasingly scarce, partly as a result of further drain on local reserves by the Federal Government and interior banks. Rails were the only stocks to manifest consistent strength, particularly obscure or low grades, issues whose potential values are enhanced by higher freight and passenger rates. Bonds of this class also participated in the activity at substantial gains, notably Western and South-Western groups.

Motor Stocks.

Unsettlement among motors and affiliated shares are believed to proceed from trade advices which again tressed matter of cancellations of orders and other signs of reduced production. These reasons applied with equal force to metal industry.

Improvement in Polish situation brought temporary relief to foreign exchange, but renewed pressure of grain and cotton bills caused another reversal of rates on London and Paris remittances to Holland also reacting.

LONG CHASE AFTER THE HORSE THIEVES

DIFFICULTIES ENCOUNTERED BY NEWHALL AND MIDDLETON.

Nearly 200 miles through bush country, over corduroy roads and backwoods trails, in au automobile to the bush beyond Dorset in the Muskoka Lakes, is the record that Sergeant of Detectives Newhall and James Middleton, livery keeper, made in pursuit of the two men who stole two horses here on Sunday last.

The stolen horses are nearly dead from fatigue as a result of the merciless driving over corduroy roads and backwoods trails and from being mired in a lake in the Mukoka district for three hours when they were attacked by bloodsuckers as long as a man's finger.

Detective Newhall had innumerable difficulties to content with and was seriously handicaped by wrong trails and the fact that the telephone wires were down beyond Bracebridge and it was impossible to communicate with the authorities ahead.

Doubled Back.

After leaving Dorset the thieves struck back into the bush over a trail which it was impossible for the police car to follow and which seemed almost inacessible to horses. Detective Newhall and Mr. Middleton were compelled to walk 17 miles over this trail to the deserted camp which the thieves were occupying, and upon reaching the camp nearly lost the quarry when one of the horses recognized Mr. Middleton, its owner, creeping through the long grass and whinnied. One of the thieves was armed but before he had an opportunity of using his revolver the pursuers were upon them.

The thieves were exhausted from the long trek and almost starving, and gave in without a fight.

The horses are being driven back to Peterborough by easy stages as should they be shipped by train it is believed that the standing in stalls through the long journey would kill them.

In all the journey the car which Detective Newhall used, owned and driven by James Middleton, had no trouble other than a puncture at Orillia on the return trip, which was repaired in eleven minutes.

LOANS FOR HOUSING.

(Canadian Press.)

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 28.—In a special message just sent to Congress, President Pessoa points out the urgency of solving the housing problem in the Federal district. He deprecates the actual building of houses by the government, but recommends indirect assistance by the granting of loans to private building companies and individuals at a low rate of interest.

WHY BEAUTY FADES

A Condition Due Entirely to Poor, Watery Blood.

The girl who returns home from school or from work thoroughly tired out will be fortunate if she escapes a physical breakdown, because this getting tired so easily is probably the first warning symptom of a thinning blood that must not be disregarded if her health is to be preserved.

When the blood becomes thin and impure the patient becomes pale, haggard, and angular. She not only tires out easily, but suffers from headaches, palpitation of the heart, dizzy spells, and a loss of appetite. This condition will go from bad to worse, if prompt steps are not taken to increase and enrich the blood supply. To make the rich, red blood that brings the glow of health, no other medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. If given a fair trial their use brings rosy cheeks, bright eyes, a good appetite, and good spirits. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have made thousands of pale, languid girls active and strong. On the first sign of poor, thin blood mothers should insist upon their daughters taking a fair course of these pills. They will not only restore health, but will save further doctor bills.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MODERNIZING THE 'PHONE.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Aug. 28.— An automatic time recorder for pay-station telephone calls has been installed in one of the Paris exchanges. It is one of a number of modern devices and methods now being tested by the government in an effort to modernize the French telephone system. Eventually, it is planned to re-string copper wires, and greatly enlarge telephone facilities throughout France and to install modern switchboards.

TELLS HOW WRANGEL ROSE IN GREAT WAR

PROMOTED ON SPOT FROM "NON COM." TO CAPTAIN WHEN HE TOOK GERMAN BATTERY.

PARIS, Aug. 27.— How General Wrangel first distinguished himself is told in the Liberte. In the first weeks of the war horsemen of the Russian Imperial Guard, in which Wrangel was a non-commissioned officer, charged a German battery which was protected by concealed machine guns. It was a replica of the fatal trap into which fell the Household Cavalry of England on that sunny August day which plunged two-thirds of Britain's aristocracy into mourning.

The Russians were thrown into confusion by a stream of bullets, and the order to retreat was sounded, but Wrangel, rallying a handful of troopers in the medley of dying men and plunging horses, charged right at the German guns. He actually reached the battery and sabred the gunners. His comrades recovered from their disorder and the German machine guns were also captured. Wrangel was promoted captain on the spot.

He was born at Petrograd in 1879, a son of Baron Nicolai Igoritch Wrangel, who, after having lost his fortune, had obtained a position as administrator of a Petrograd bank. He put his son through the Petrograd College of Engineers, on graduation from which he was engaged in mining operations in Siberia until the war.

By 1915 he was commander of a Cossack regiment. About that time he married the daughter of a rich Ukrainian landlord named Ivenko. When the revolution broke out he was commanding a Cossack division, with which he served brilliantly, first under Kaledin, then Alexiev, and then Denikin, where his advance toward Saratov was, according toallied officers, the one bright spot in that wrecheily conducted campaign. Already he had won the good will of the peasants in the territory he occupied and his liberal measures were so little liked by some of his colleagues that he was for a time without a command in onstantinople, whence he returned in the darkest hour of Denikin's army to reorganize them with conspicuous success.

oNt the least interesting thing is that he is not a Russian, but Balt of Swedish origin. Descendants of the Teutonic Knights of the Sword and the Cavaliers of Charles XII. of Sweden, the Balts have always been the dominant race in Russia. They have more "iron in their blood" than the temperamental, talented but lazy Slav, and if Red rule is to be overthrown by battle, Wrangel, by his character and past, is the man to do it.

ROBERT TURNER WAS KILLED BY ACCIDENT

NO BLAME ATTACHED TO GRAND TRUNK FOR LINDSAY FATALITY.

LINDSAY, Aug. 27.— At the inquest into the death of the late Robert Turner of Belleville, who met his death at the Grand Trunk railway depot here, Tuesday afternoon, the coroner's jury brought in the following verdict:

"We, the jurors, find that the death of the late Robert Turner was purely accidental. We feel that no blame can in any way be attached to the Grand Trunk Railway Company or any of its employees. We feel that when the Company is engaged in work similar to that upon which the deceased was employed, as a busy centre, there should be a man attached to the working party whose sole duty would be to warn the members of the working party of approaching danger."

Evidence by Engineer Jeffrey, Fireman Westbrook, Brakesman Shuttleworth, and men working with deceased when the accident occurred, all clearly showed that every effort was made to avert the fatality.

FIRST PAPER ESTABLISHED FORTY-TWO YEARS AGO

NORTH BATTLEFORD, Sask., Aug. 27.— Forty-two years ago this month the first newspaper was published in Saskatchewan. After a journey of 650 miles over boundless prairies and unbridged streams, the late P. G. Laurie, following the brigade of Red River carts which carried his plant, reached Battleford, the capital of the Northwest Territories ,and printed the first edition of the Saskatchewan Herold on the 25th of August, 1778. It was a four page sheet 14 inches by 10, and contained as well as the news of the vast territories, telegraphic communicaltons from all parts of the world. The Herald has continued to publish weekly from that time to the present with the exception of during the Northwest Rebellion in 1885, when publication was suspended for six weeks while the late editor did garrison duty in the fort.

Allen Theatre Enterprises

Magnifying a Nickleodeon to a World Industry

With many theatres in Canada as yet in the early constructive stages or taking form in the architectural department, the Allen Theatre Enterprises already have invaded the amusement field in the United States and Great Britain.

In this respect the Allen Theatre Enterprises are unique in the amusement field, extending their theatres, methods and Canadian influence into more countries than any other concern connected with motion pictures.

Having a plan and an ideal for motion pictures and motion picture theatres—to stand by the master pictures, to influence production toward the finer art in pictures and to add something more in beauty of theatre architecture and the inspiration of music—means that the Allens are believers in and masters of their own policy.

They have adhered to that policy. They built scores of theatres on that policy. They turned a deaf ear to the scoffers and a friendly ear to the humblest critic. They carried their theatres and their policy into every province and every city in Canada. The people responded.

They are carrying their theatres and their policy into the great centres of the United States. And in the face of opposition worthy of any competing institution, the people will respond.

They went over the ocean and secured theatre location in the heart of the British Empire. And in the name of welcoming Canadian courage and enterprise, the British people show themselves ready to extend a crowning greeting.

Through the Allen Theatre Enterprises at home and beyond our borders radiates the influence of an all-Canadian achievement, born from an acorn of hope, courage and desire to serve, grown to a sturdy young oak of more potential strength. 2

SATURDAY, AUGUST 28TH, 1920.

A CRITICAL SITUATION.

The labour situation in the United Kingdom is rapidly approaching crisis, and if the extremist leaders of the miners' organisation are supported by the vote now being taken, the results will be most serious. The miners are attempting to force the nationalisation of the coal mines. Ostensibly the object of the proposed strike is to secure higher wages, but behind that aim is the desire of the miners to have the Government take over the mines and operate them. The result of a general strike in the mines would be a crippling of nearly all the activities of the United Kingdom, for manufacturing and transportation would be demoralised and there would ensue a state of chaos out of which disaster would inevitably follow. There is the hope, however, that labour will decline to be led astray, that there will be enough level-headed members of the miners' union to recognise that the strike they are asked to endorse will mean an explosion, in which they themselves will be the first victims. The miners must know that direct action on their part would be bitterly resented by millions of people who are not themselves trades unionists, the people who defeated the railway strike.

RESTAURANT PRICES.

In Toronto the Acting Chief of Police, acting on complaints of profiteering in the city restaurants, is calling a conference of the proprietors of the principal eating houses in order that he may be able to investigate the conditions and decide whether or not the price scale is exorbitant. Certainly it will seem to the average citizen, whether in Toronto or elsewhere, that some of the prices exacted by restaurants are unreasonably high. It is true that the overhead expenses of such places has increased enormously since the days before the war, but there is doubt as to whether the increase warrants some of the boosted prices that the consumer is called upon to meet. With fruits and vegetables in abundance and selling at more reasonable prices than for some years, it is surprising to find that on the restaurant menu the prices of the small portions that are served are as high as in the days of scarcity—in some instances indeed actually higher. The result of Chief Dickson's investigation in Toronto will be awaited by restaurant patrons everywhere with much interest.

ENDORSING THE SOVIET.

Mayor McBride of Brantford, a member of the Provincial Legislature, his enemies declare, talks too much. Perhaps he does, but it must be admitted that there is sound common sense in much of what he says, and his reference to resolutions lately passed by the Toronto Trades and Labour Council, supporting Sovietism in Russia, are more representative of the real sentiments of Canadian Labour than was the motion of the Toronto Trades Council. The action of the latter is generally viewed as unnecessary and foolish, and as Mayor McBride put it, "Such resolutions do Labour a deal more injury than Labour's enemies are able to do it." There is no disputing that statement. It is a sad commentary on the good sense of some of the Toronto Labour members that such a resolution should have been passed in a country where the people have the power to achieve any reform they desire, to instal any government they wish, by the use of the ballot. Mayor McBride declares that Labour throughout Canada is 99% Canadian, and loyal to British institutions in times of crises. Accepting this opinion, the Toronto trades unionists, who endorsed the Soviet system, must belong to the other one per cent. Their action in passing such a resolution is difficult to understand. Surely they do not want to substitute for the privileges they enjoy in this country the awful conditions that are prevailing in Russia. Sympathizers with the Soviet government should be invited to take themselves to where they can see the system in its full bloom.

ANOTHER CHANCE.

On several ocasions recently cabled press despatches have announced that a large number of former members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force who took their discharge in England are without employment and finances. These statements are now officially confirmed in a cable from Hon. J. A. Calder, Minister of Immigration, who is at present in Great Britain, although the number is not so large as the news despatches stated. Mr. Calder is authority for the statement that there are five hundred ex-Canadian soldiers without funds to pay their passage to Canada, and who are stranded in Englnd. These unfortunte men are perhaps to blame for the plight in which they find themselves. They had their chance to return to Canada with their comrades, but elected to remain in England. Now that things have turned out badly they are anxious to return to the Dominion.

There seems to be a general opinion that the Government might close its eyes to the fact that the men are responsible for their misfortune and bring them back to Canada. The people of this country do not want half a thousand Canadian soldiers starving and destitute in England when the payment of their passage money would give them a chance of employment here. As the Toronto Globe puts it:

"Apart from patriotic and humanitarian reasoning, this country must protect its own good name from any suspicion that it heartlessly left so large a number of its brave wartime defenders to face enforced poverty and want overseas. In many cases it may be their own fault, but they have earned from their country another chance."

REMARKABLE FINANCING.

A man who is known to be thoroughly honest in regard to meeting all his debts does not need to worry if the time ever comes when he needs a little credit. This is a rule among merchants, too. As with individuals and business men, so with nations. The same principle works out exactly. In connection with this the whole world has been paying a most remarkable tribute to British integrity. Everyone knew that Britain was carrying a tremendous load not only financially, but in war strain. There never was during the five-year period or since any question of British credit. Britain was regarded as "good pay," and this reputation stood her in good stead. No matter what she wanted or when she wanted it, she could always buy. This ability to pay her debts is one of the real reasons for the soundness of Britain's reputation.

Just what a real achievement this is with the handicap of a war debt may be gathered from the figures given below. During the six years just past the expenses were more than the total costs of running her Government, fighting eight great wars, and a multitude of expensive "little" wars of building and rebuilding navies, of maintaining peace-time armies, colonising and meeting the cumulative expenses of improving the socil coandition of her population over a period of two and a quarter centuries preceding the world war.

The sum of £11,268,000,000 (roughly 56 billion dollars) represents the British Government's expense from 31st March, 1914, to 31st March, 1920. In the previous two and a quarter centuries the total outlay by the Government was £10,944,000,000.

The British people have already paid in various forms of taxation and war contributions 36 per cent.—about 20 billion dollars—of their tremendous war-period expense. In other words, they have paid in six years' time on behalf of their Government more than one-third as much as they had been previously required to pay in 225 years. Last year, burdened with interest charge for national debt fifteen times greater than the antional debt charge before the war, and also with a very heavy peace-time budget for running the Government, Britain paid outright about 80 per cent. of her year's expenses. These are some of the more striking facts of recent English public finance.

With reference to the past the study discloses that England has been "good pay" in the matter of her debts. Since the Revolution of 1688 she has scrupulously kept her engagements with her creditors. The records show that she has done so in times of greatest stress. Her burdens to-day, while heavy, are, according to the study, not much greater in proportion to national wealth and income than those which she has borne at times in the past. To illustrate: With estimated wealth of £2,70,000,000 at the end of the Napoleonic wars Britain had a debt of £850,000,000. To-day, with estimated wealth of £24,000,000,000, the debt is £8,000,000,000, approximately the same ratio as in the Napoleonic period.—London Advertiser.

MONTE CARLO'S GAMES SHOWER FORTUNES ON LUCKY CONVENT GIRL

Out of the sanctity of a Scottish convent, Mary Grant, through whose veins flowed the blood of her gambler-father is thrown into the glamor of Monte Carlo's famous society. This is the central thought of Katherine MacDonald's latest production, "Passions Playground," adapted from the world-famous story, "The Guests of Hercules," by C. N. and A. M. Williamson. This picture will be shown on the screen of the Allen Theatre, commencing Monday.

Role of a Lifetime.

Never in Miss MacDonald's career has she been afforded a role with the romantic and dramatic possibilities that come to her as the convent girl warned aforehand to beware of the alluring resort and reminded of the memory of a chum who had three years before fled from the convent to become lost in the maze of gambler passions.

It is in the strange meeting with the mystreious runaway girl that the Messrs. Williamson have provided a climax for their great plot. Pledged to secrecy, Mary Grant takes upon herself the disgrace that accompanied the strange fate of the "missing" girl. "Passions Playground" will be received with the greatest favor of any production to be shown at his theatre in months. He declares that in none of Miss MacDonald's successes has she equalled her remarkable work in this production, and in no previous effort has her beauty stood forth in such manner.

Millions have said that about Blue-jay.

Others tried it and told others the same story. So the use has spread, until corn troubles have largely disappeared.

If you have a corn you can settle it tonight. And find the way to end every corn.

Apply liquid Blue-jay or a Blue-jay plaster. The pain will stop.

Soon the whole corn will loosen and come out.

Think what folly it is to keep corns, to pare or pad them, or to use the old harsh treatments.

Here is the new-day way, gentle, sure and scientific. It was created by a noted chemist in this world-famed laboratory.

It is ending millions of corns by a touch. The relief is quick, and it ends them completely.

Try it tonight. Corns are utterly needless, and this is the time to prove it.

He nodded, touching her hand lightly. He would have liked to have said a hundred things that were in his perturbed mind—but others were bearing down on them. He felt as though he were struggling hopelessly against something that could not be avoided. Every word he had said had been enforced on him—every action dictated by his code of honor, which was the Samurai creed of his kind.

XI

The car, as though pursued by the consciousness of some guilty deed, turned and twisted through tortuous roads, throwing its searching glare into the sleeping secrets of the woods. Ten minutes, fifteen minutes had elapsed, and still they sat silently side by side, each immersed in his own thoughts. He had not bent toward her. He had not put forth his hand to take hers. The silence of the night, the guilty light away, oppressed him—and ahead was the waking reality of the morrow. His mind had been filled with the sweeping imminence of the great events that were impending in the world. France, the country he loved with a Crusader's adoration, was on the brink of a shattering war. Men whom he had known and played at life with were turning with hallowed eyes toward the great sacrifice, the final deed of atonement that washes away all selfishness and the sins of the flesh. All these last days of July and the opening of the bleeding month of August he had had before his eyes the spectacle of the titled idlers, the play-boys of fortune, leaving their reveiries; the simple, faith-borne peasants waiting in the fields; the crowded workmen scanning the bulletin board; the women listening in the night. The leaping moment of heroit regeneration was sounding on the bugle's call, and the soldier of fortune, was powerless to respond, entangled in the trivialities of an infatuation that had mastered him. It had always been so.

"It's curious," he thought bitterly, "that with all people say against me, it is I who have always yielded with women. It is I who have followed where they would go!"

The woman he loved was there at his side, and yet something inexorable intervened between them. Perhaps it was the man's further vision that could not dwell on the present before the specter of coming consequences. He saw the headlines in the papers, the flaunting colored stories, the apposition of photographs, the whole shrieking clamor of a prying public's satisaction in a new scandal among those it meanly envied and pitilessly pulled down. Did she realize what was coming?

"We are wounding each other—irreparably," he thought, and yet how can I tell her?"

For she had done the thing he had believed her in capable of doing. It was mad, it was theatric—and it was from her heart. She was doing it as a spritual rebellion, and to show him that in her awakened love she was willing to sacrifice all for him. How could he refuse that? Suddenly he bent over and said resolutely:

"Amy dear—it is a fearfully serious moment. You are sure, there is no doubt—you want to do this? Just this way?"

She looked at him in amazement. Had he read her thoughts? Yet she answered:

"Yes, yes—I do—I'm sure!"

Ever since they had fled from the house she had had but one figure before her eyes—Andrew. When would he return? Would he read her letter when it was handed to him by Gregory at the door, mastering his emotion before the servant as only he knew how? Or would he go with it to his room? And then? What would be the emoton in his eyes, there alone where no one would be present to see? His shadow was there in the car, intruding and inexorable; his voice kept crying in her ears.

She felt like seizing the trumpet and crying:

"Faster, faster! Get it done with!"

And then this question from Monte!

What must he think of her silence? Perhaps he too was thinking of the one left behind, of Andrew. Perhaps it was a touch of remorse that held him so silent.

"Listen, Monte," she said suddenly "There are some things now I must tell you. It is your right to know. You may suspect, but I want you to know, so—so you won't feel any responsibility."

She told him of Andrew and Irma Dellaharre, of the new infatuation which had come to her husband, of his own desire that she should take this step to set him free.

"I tell you all this," she repeated insistently, "so that you won't feel that you or I—that we have anything to reproach ourselves with."

"I am glad that it is so," he said gravely. It was not quite what she had led him to believe of their relations, yet it was a justification.

"I don't think Irma will ever do what you have done," he said slowly, but his mind was on other things.

"Nor I," she said impulsively. "And for Andrew's sake, I hope not." She explained, "I want to be generous towards him. It was not his fault. I don't blame him—I was not the wife for him—it was a great mistake. Yet I—yet there is nothing petty about him. He has been very fine in his attitude toward me—that is why I want to see him really happy. You understand, don't you?"

"Yes, of course," he said somberly. This mention of the other jarred on him. She really might have spared him such praise at such a moment.

What sort of a wife would she be to him?

A sudden report, and the car grounded hastily to a stop.

"What's that?" she cried, jumping.

"Only a blow-out."

He descended and went to consult with the chauffeur. It would be necessary to change a rear tire.

The accident seemed to her something ominous. She got out and walked in the shadow, while the two men busied themselves with the tires. Would it never end? Surely they would miss the train now! A whirr of motors, and she shrank back into the protection of the wood.

"If it were Andrew!" she thought, with a leap of her pulse.

The searchlights glared, swept the ground and passed.

"How foolish! What possessed me to imagine that?" she thought.

"All ready now," said Monte Bracken.

She sprang into the car before he could offer his hand, and shrank into a corner.

"Oh, do hurry!"

"Make time," he said, and got in.

"I'm horrid, Monte, but don't mind me—it is up-setting!"

"I understand, dear," he said in his quiet voice.

They were on straight roads now, and the speed at which they fled shook the car so that conversation was impossible. She was grateful for this, leaning forward, her chin in her hands, staring out of the window. Above, in the moonlit skies, great banks of clouds were scurrying.

"It doesn't look real," she thought. "Just like the way they put it on in the theater."

The next moment they had made Burnham Village and swung up to the station. She sprang out, leaving Monte to bring up the bags, and ran up the steps. The platform was deserted. They had missed their train by three minutes! Monte came up, valises in hand.

"It's too provoking!" she said tearfully. "We've lost it!"

"Never mind, there'll be another soon. I'll go and make sure. I'll keep the car, we can always run in—"

"No, no—I don't want to go in the car!" she said hastily. To go in the intimacy of the car seemed to her something indelicate, something that couldn't be done. He ought to have understood that!

She went up the platform toward the red, sinister lights. The night was hot and flat. Each minute that kept her from her purpose undermined her resolution. Would she be able to go through it? Even now she was seeking the obscurity to avoid a chance encounter, and in a moment they would have to enter the crowded, lighted train together!

Up the platform came a shuffling step—a train hand, with smudged lantern at his feet, smelling of ram-tobacco. What was Monte doing all this time? Everything he did irritated her, even to the languid way in which he returned, when he must have known her impatience.

"Well?"

"Ten minutes, that's all."

She drew a breath of relief. But ten minutes passed, and no answering shock of steel.

"I thought you said ten minutes?" she said irretully.

"It must be late."

"Go and see—and please don't take forever!"

First the accident to the tire, then the missing of the train, and now the third delay! It was ntolerable. All at once, in the distance, a roar, a white belch of steam and along the rails long slivers of light ran down.

She started hastily back to the bags as the train came rocking in. Where was Monte? Why didn't he come? What could he be doing?

The passengers were streaming about her when he came up.

"Oh!"

She turned, took two steps, and suddenly, without warning, came face to face with Claire Bracken!

"BIG SISTER ASSOCIATION" TO BE FORMED IN OTTAWA

OTTAWA, Ag. 26.—T meeting to organize a "Big Sister Association," in the City of Ottawa, has been called for Wednesday, September 8. Judge Archibald, of the Juvenile Court, will address the meeting on the needs for such a movement.

The object of the "Big Sister Association" is to promote the welfare and uplift of women and girls, whether delinquent, under-privileged or firendless and whose physical mental and moral development has suffered because of bad environment or other conditions.

The aim is preventive and corrective social service work and it is desired to enlist women, who, individually, will take a personal and friendly interest in such women and girls and help to eliminate wrong conditions before they give birth to trouble.

There are an even hundred different classes of chickens provided for in the Canadian National Exhibition prize list.

The grounds of the Canadian National Exhibition are owned by the City of Toronto and the Exhibition is carried on by a board of 25 directors, 8 of whom represent the city.

MERCHANTS SUGGEST CO-OPERATION TO GET GREATEST RESULTS FROM DOLLAR DAY

SOME RETAILERS WOULD ALSO REMAIN OPEN ON THURSDAY AFTERNOON FOR TOURISTS TRADE. GIVING CLERKS EXTRA HOLIDAY.

RECENT PROPOSALS.

The success of Dollar Day has inspired among the merchants suggestions for the improvement of this semi-anual merchandising event. It is felt that there should be closer co-operation by all retailers and that an effort should be made to enlist every store under the Dollar Day pennants. With a greater degree of concerted action it is believed that this seasonal sale could be made a bigger feature than ever throughout the entire district, with increased business for the city as a whole.

Some merchants propose that their Association take over the preliminary arrangements for the next Dollar Day with the object of making it as attractive as possible to customers. Mr. J. H. Callander, of The Examiner advertising department, has been practically unaided in preparing for past Dollar Days, which, steadily increasing in their business turnover, have shown to merchants that with greater attention to this special sales day its advantages could be vastly improved.

In this connection it is said that the merchants should act together for remaining open on Dollar Day night, and also in closing all the next day, which in summer is the regular Thursday half-holiday. A committee of merchants could evolve new ideas that would not only be advantageous to the retail trade, but also to purchasers from the city and district.

The Thursday Half-Holiday.

Discussing the Thursday half-holiday, some merchants have questioned whether the Peterborough trade should continue this custom. They argue that this city is in the centre of the tourist trade, that it is the leading city in the Kawartha and Trent sections, and that the many visitors during the summer months bring business that should not be lost by the Thursday afternoon holiday. If the stores remained open, the clerks could be compensated by four extra whole days added to the regular holidays now given the employees of practically every store in this city. This substitution, it is blieved, would satisfy the clerks, would prevent the disturbance of business by the half-holiday, and would secure the extra transient trade from tourists.

These are a few of the suggestions that have been heard on the street since Wednesday. They may not meet with general approval, but they are favoured by some of the retailers who would like to have them carefully discussed by the entire body of merchants.

LOST IN WOODS FOR TWO WEEKS

DAVID KINCAID, A RETURNED SOLDIER, CRAWLS ON HANDS AND KNEES TO SAFETY AT LAST.

For fifteen days lost in the woods surrounding Mud and Loon Lakes, in the vicinity of Fort William, David Kincaid, a returned soldier, suffered hunger, thirst, and wounds worse than active warfare in France and Flanders.

Kincaid, who saw service with the 8th Battalion, and lost a leg, went fishing near Loon Lake on 23rd July, and on starting for home got hopelessly lost in the jungle tangle of the bush. When news of his non-return was heard in Fort William, friends and relatives, assisted by Indian guides and experienced woodsmen, combed the bush for two long weeks without gaining even a trace of the missing man. All hope of ever seeing Kincaid alive again had been abandoned by Saturday, 7th August, when a C.P.R. freight train en route for Fort William was signalled from the tracks at mile post 97, between Pearl and Loon, by a ragged, unkempt man. This man proved to be David Kincaid, who after fifteen days of terrible suffering, had managed to crawl on hands and knees over hills and through dale and woods, to rescue in the eleventh hour.

He was conveyed by the freight's crew to Fort William, and taken to McKellar Hospital, where he is now receiving the best treatment the city affords.

When the freight train reached Fort William, David Kincaid was met by his brothers and Dr. B. C. Hardiman; and in the reaction of joy at his escape from death by starvation and from injuries, the principal actor in a thrilling Ontario episode broke down in tears.

In his fight to reach civilization, Kincaid climbed hills, listened for train whistles, and tried to follow their sounds to the railway tracks, only to find himself deeper still in a jungle, from whence there seemed no road to home and friends.

On the third day of his dangerous adventure, his artificial leg was broken when wading down a creek, and from that time onward the lost man dragged himself on all fours in search of some way out of the woods. When the stump of his severed lef began to bleed he used his necktie as a tourniquet to stop the flow from that limb's artery. During his two weeks' terrible experience all the young man had to eat was chokecherries, one small supply of blueberries, and a small amount of spawn bait he had in his fishing kit. When the few matches he carried with him were exhausted, Kincaid had no means whatever of starting a fire from which to get some measure of comfort against cold nights and penetrating rains. It is piteous to hear him tell of how he used his last match in frantic efforts to fire the bush and thus attract attention.

At the hospital Kincaid was found to be suffering from terribly lacerated knees, as a result of ten days' crawl over root and rock, exhaustion following two foodless weeks, thousands of fly-bites, and a general breakdown.

He has been pronounced out of danger.

OFFER TO BUY NEW BRIDGE DEBENTURES

An enquiry from A. E. Ames & Company asking whether the Council would consider an offer for the $100,000 bridge debentures which have been authorized by the public, was the chief item of business before the Finance Committee of the Council last night. Ald. Whitehouse moved, seconded by Mayor McIntyre, to the effect that an offer for these debentures would be accepted if it was as favorable as the price for the main issue of bridge debentures which this company recently bought by tender.

STREET INTERSECTIONS OBSTRUCTED BY SIGNS

Members of the City Council have called attention to two big sign boards, one at the corner of Charlotte street and Monaghan Road and the other on Park street near McDonnel street, both of which are said to block the view of the intersection approaches and to endanger traffic. They were mentioned at the Finance Committee meeting last night and may be brought up at the next meeting of whatever committee should consider them.

TIME BETWEEN PRESIDENT'S ELECTION AND INAUGURATION INVOKES DISASTER

REPORT TO CONVENTION OF AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION RECOMMENDS SHORTENING OF PERIOD.

(Canadian Press)

ST LOUIS, Aug. 27. — The long period between the election of the President of the United States and his inauguration is "a serious evil fraught with much danger," according to the report of the Special Committee on the Change in Date of the Presidential Inauguration, presented yesterday to the convention of the American Bar Association, in session here.

The report recommends that the period be shortened, and that the short term of the old Congress be eliminated. It, however, does not suggest any other date for the inauguration, explaining that March 4 has been recognized by constitutional amendment as the date of inaugural.

Disaster to Republic.

It adds: "The committee, however, is of the opinion that it is the duty of this association representing the great body of lawyers of the country to call the attention of Congress to those provisions of the law and of the constitution which are fraught with serious danger and which are liable to bring humiliation and disaster to the republic."

It states that the period between election and inauguration is "liable to leave the administration in hands which have been discredited by a popular vote of want of confidence and that such a situation greatly weakens the prestige of the Government, both at home and abroad.

"The three months' session of the old Congress occurring after a new Congress has been elected is also most unsatisfactory and serves as an opportunity for partisan activity of the worst kind."

SHORTAGE OF CEMENT.

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—The shortage of cement in the capital has driven not only contractors but also the city engineering department to dire measures to repair roadways. The contractors are using bricks to replace cement in the building of foundations while the city engineering department is using tar instead of cement to cement cobble stones together.

ALL CANADA BACKING GREAT SCHEME FOR NEW HIGHWAY FROM LAKES TO SEA

NEW YORK CITY IS HOSTILE BUT WILL BOW TO THE INEVITABLE —PROJECT WILL BE REALIZED.

(Canadian Press).

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—While the attitude of the people of New York City and State towards the proposed St. Lawrence deep water ship canal project continues to be one of hostility, due largely to the fear that the new highway to the sea would in some way interfere with the natural prerogatives of New York Harbour, there appears at the present time to be a tendency to accept the inevitable, and to regard the St. Lawrence project as one certain to be carried to realization.

This point of view was expressed in a recent editorial in the Sun and New York Herald. The newspaper said:

"Plans for the development of the upper St. Lawrence to provide for an open waterway from the Great Lakes to the ocean are maturing rapidly. With all Canada backing the great scheme and with strong support from the grain-growing western states of the Union, it seems not improbable that it will soon be pushed through to completion. Before another half decade has passed, ocean-going vessels may be sailing from Chicago to Duluth directly for London or Rio de Janiero or Sydney.

"The advantages of cutting away the barriers between America's inland seas and the Atlantic are visible. To do so obviates the necessity for overland transportation. The great and meat of the North-West may be shipped at nearby lake ports and carried without interruption to foreign markets in all parts of the world.

Many Objections.

"On the other hand, many objections present themselves. New York State has expended first and last $280,000,000 on her own system of inland waterways. Many of her people look with disfavour upon the appropriation by the United States of large sums for a purpose which they believe can but divert commerce along other channels and injure not only the barge canal but the port of New York City.

"It is contended also that it would be unwise to develop an outlet for American goods through foreign territory and thus create for the United States a situation similar to that in Belgium, where the commerce of the principal seaport, Antwerp, has egress to the ocean only through Dutch waters, the estuary of the Scheldt. No matter how friendly the relations between this country and Canada, it would be unwise, they say, to plan deliberately to thrust through her territory a vast artery of American trade.

"Still other opponents of the plan contend that it will result only in a waste of money. They point out that the St. Lawrence is ice choked for several months of the year, making winter commerce impossible; that the long delays of a journey through locks and the narrow, circuitous channel of the river would be expensive and troublesome; that the ocean passage from the mouth of the St. Lawrence to Europe is endangered with icebergs.

"So far, however, this opposition has been ineffectual in blocking the scheme, and it now bids fair to become a reality in the near future. It will then be possible to test the prophecies both of its friends and opponents. Of one thing, however, we may even now be sure. The new project will not injure with finality the port of New York. The prosperity and greatness of this city and harbour are the result not only of geographic advantages but of centuries of business foresight and energy. No new scheme of transportation, no new outlet for the West, can seriously impair its supremacy."

HUGE POPULATION LOSS FROM WAR INFLUENCES.

(Canadian Press).

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Due to war influences, ten European nations engaged in the world war show a potential loss in population of thirty-five million persons since 1919, according to a statistical research conducted by the Copenhagen Society for Studying the Social Consequences of the war, made public to-day.

At the end of 1913 these nations had a population of nearly four hundred and one millions, and under normal conditions this should have increased by twenty-three millions. Instead, their population has fallen to three hundred and eighty-nine millions —one fifteen.

CHANGE IN THE PROPRIETORSHIP AND MANAGEMENT.

The aerated-water business which has been carried on in East City for a number of years past by the Peterborough Aerated Water Co., under the management of Mr. Gordon Logan, has recently changed hands. The plant and business has been taken over by Mr. Ernest Singer, a practical business man, who has been known to many in this vicinity for a considerable number of years past. Mr. Singer has retained the former staff of the company, including Mr. A. Johnston, sales manager, well known throughout the city and country.

The bottled beverages turned out are safe and refreshing drinks that have had a rapid increase among all classes of consumers, and include soda water in bottles, syphonated soda water, ginger ale, lemon sour, cream soda, sarsaparilla, cherry phosphate, raspberry, etc. These beverages are made with pure distilled water, pure sugars and syrups, in a clean and sanitary manner, the bottling system being quite modern. An additional bottling machine will shortly be installed.

YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN WANTED IN BUSINESS

These days the demand for efficient office help exceeds the supply, and prosperous careers are assured bright, intelligent young men and women who enter the business field. Modern mercantile houses and manufacturers, however, seek assistants trained in such schools as the Peterborough Business College, whose graduates are found holding lucrative positions in large Canadian and American centres. The Peterborough Business College enjoys so enviable a reputation for educating students in twentieth century business methods that the call for its graduates is insistent. In fact, all capable students who graduated here last term are now comfortably placed in modern establishments with a rosy future ahead of them. And although taxed for room at all times, still students are not offering fast enough to meet the demand upon the school for its trained office help. To meet such conditions, this year Principal J. A. McKone is preparing to accommodate enlarged classes to keep apace if possible with the openings which assuredly await graduates at the term's finish. Ambitious young people should make a note of this, and accept the opportunity now knocking at their doors of acquiring a thorough up-to-the-hour business training to fit them for posts in offices where merit is awarded by generous salaries.

Established in 1885, the Peterborough Business College, over the Dominion Bank, corner of George and Simcoe streets, is an institution of which this city is proud. Thousands of dollars have been expended on modern office machinery, such as the Burrough's Calculator, Bookkeeping Posting Machine, the Dictaphone, and a practical knowledge of these machines opens to young men and women positions in super-modern business houses where cheerful conditions exist, all office drudgery is eliminated, and in most cases at initial salaries of $780, and possibly upwards. The principal, Mr. J. A. McKone, is supported by a staff of capable assistants, and the school's curriculum includes every line of business tuition. Students are registering every day now for the fall term, which opens Tuesday, September 7th. This college's reputation draws patronage from Peterborough and adjacent counties, while many students come from distant points in Ontario. Comfortable room and board is available, and Mr. McKone sees that the students are well placed.

The class rooms are bright, cheerful, lofty and admirably ventilated. Every modern convenience for students of both sex obtains.

PETERBORO'S COAL PROSPECTS BRIGHT

HARD WINTER MAY CAUSE SERIOUS SHORTAGE.

Coal is selling at $18.50 a ton and at present is coming into the city fairly rapidly. How long this will keep up the dealers do not know. The transportation is being facilitated by the use of barges on Lake Ontario, but with the closing of navigation on the lake and the expected increased car shortage when the movement of crops commence the situation may change radically. The dealers do not wish to prophesy but say that the winter will have the greatest influence on the situation. A winter like that of two years ago may cause a serious shortage, while a mild winter may alleviate conditions.

Peterborough's prospects are brighter than those of most other Ontario cities, the dealers say. While the city is not plentifully supplied with coal, nevertheless it is far better situated than almost any other Ontario city or town.

One local dealer is securing more coal than he can deliver, but some others are having great difficulty in getting coal.

The dealers' advice to the people is to buy their coal as early as possible as the future is extremely doubtful.

It is estimated that 200,000 people from the United States annually visit the Canadian National Exhibition.

SKIN DISEASE AND CONSTIPATION

What Dr. G. Prouton, Gordon St., Ottawa, says:

Gentlemen,—It is a great pleasure for me to recommend Dr. Henderson's Herb-Treatment for constipation, having received great benefit from them in that respect, also your Hou-Tan Ointment. Ten months ago my youngest child which was then eight months old, had her head all covered with boils. We purchased a box and in a short time they all disappeared and she now has a beautiful head of hair which convinces me that it is a splendid preparation for the hair, as well as curing the disease. No family should be without out a preparation of that kind in their home.

Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets and Hou-Tan Ointment are two excellent preparations for all forms of skin diseases. Don't fail to give them a trial, and you like others, would not be without them in your home. They are for sale at Warne's Drug Store, Peterborough. The Herb Tablets are 25c, 50c and $1 per box. The Hou-Tan Ointment 50c per box.

Why Milk is Good for Hot, Tired, Thirsty Youngsters

Give them milk as a beverage at meal-times. Light cereals with milk at breakfast, light puddings with milk at lunch or supper. Fresh fruit with milk for dessert. Creamed vegetables for supper.

Milk is the most economical food you can buy.

All milk that cannot be certified as clean, fresh and SAFE should be pasteurized.

Voice Of The People

RE TELEPHONE RATE INCREASES.

Peterborough, Ont., Aug. 27, /20.
Editor The Examiner, Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sir,— In connection with the possible increased cost of telephone service, would it not be well if the people in Eastern Canada would take a leaf out of the experience of some of our western cities and install the automatic telephone system.

For several years past the writer has had the opportunity of using the automatic telehone such as installed in Calgary, Edmonton, Saskatoon, etc. The people in these cities seem entirely satisfied with the service they receive and wouldn't exchange it again for the system we have down in Ontario for any consideration.

We should not, however, think of the automatic system as used in Edmonton, Calgary, etc., as being identical with the part-system of one still installed here in Peterborough. The system in use in the western cities is infintely superior and much handier.

Under the automatic system no local telephone operators are required. This obviates mistakes in calling up wrong numbers, delays, etc. With the automatic, if the speaker doesn't get his proper number, it is invariably his own fault. If the line is busy a slight burring of the phone advises him. He cannot listen in as on a two party line, or as on the rural telephone system. He saves time invariably in getting his number. Each 'phone is equipped with a small light nickle-plated dial perforated with ten holes through which the numbers from one to zero show.

In calling a number, (supposing it were 456) the speaker lifts his receiver, turns the dial from number 4 to the stop block, allows it to swing back and then repeats the same operation with 5 and 6. This makes his connection with the mechanism at Central and rings the number 456 that he desired. It is simple, quick and much easier on the nerves and on 'Central' than our present system.

I am told that the automatic system of local telephones is much more economical of operation than the present system we have here in Ontario. It obviates the need of any 'Central girls' and is especially convenient for making calls late at night when operators are sometimes not on the job. The same system of wiring as now established in Peterborough could be used for an automatic system (except for the two party line as in the automatic system individual lines are required to the Central mechanism for every phone.)

For long distance telephone calls a small staff of operators are of course required in each city. Some day an improvement in the system may be available to make this unnecessary.

May I suggest that our City Council investigate the possibilities of having the automatic systems installed in Peterborough. Possibly the Bell Telephone Company would even see their way clear to take the matter up. If it is more economical of operation, it would eliminate the necessity for increased 'phone rates. The present time is an opportune one for the proper authorities to go into the matter. There is no reason why we should lag behind with an inferior system when a better one is available.

The writer desires that this letter be regarded as a protest against the increased cost rather than the service enjoyed here. Peterborough is kindly favored with a local service that compares more than favorable with that of any other city of equal size in Ontario. Any criticism of our local service, is probably a reflection from the intolerable accommodation Toronto receives.

Yours very truly,
J. E. SMITH.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

On Wednesday evening next there will be a public meeting which is being called by the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association. The purpose of tsis meeting is the adoption of a constitution and the election of officers for the coming year.

For the benefit of those who do not know about their organization, I might say that the association was formed a few weeks ago to fulfil the conditions necessary to have Albert Smoke represent Peterborough in the Olympic games. At this time officers were elected to carry on temporarily and to make arrangements for the meeting which is to be held next Wednesday.

The question at once arises, "What are the aims and objects if this organzation and how will it benefit the city in general and each class in particular?"

The aims and objects are the encouragement and providing of all forms of recreation and sport in the city and district. This will be done, (1) by assisting clubs to put the best team in the field when representing the city in outside competition; (2) by the encouragement of local competitions such as the formation of city and district leagues, the holding of meets and regattas; (3) by the revival or fostering sports requiring assistance; (4) by the providing suitable funds of recreation and sport for classes of citizens who are unable to secure them for one reason or another; (5) by acting in an advisory capacity in all matters of sport and recreation to those in need of such advice.

In order to secure these ends the association must have the support and co-operation of the people of the city. That the association has the approval of those interested in these matters will be shown by a large and enthusiastic meeting in the Board of Trade rooms on Wednesday evening next.

A. W. McPHERSON,
Acting President of Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association.

MRS. LUCY DOUCETTE, of Manchester, N. H., who says she's just so happy over the way Tanlac restored her health she can't keep from telling people about it.

"I am just so happy over the way Tanlac has restored my health that I can't keep from telling people about it," said Mrs. Lucy Doucette, of 76 Stark street, Manchester, New Hampshire a few days ago. "I suffered so long with chronic indigestion that I didn't know what it was to sit down and enjoy a good meal. My stomach was so badly disordered I had to live on the strictest diet and nothing appeared to agree with me. At times my breath appeared to be cut off and I would suffer terribly for hours at a time.

"I lost my strength completely and became so weak and run down I would give out several times during the day and would have to stop and rest. I was extremely nervous and irritable and felt like I would break down completely.

"One day I saw a statement from a friend of mine who said Tanlac had helped her wonderfully so I was convinced that it was a dependable medicine and I began taking it immediately, and I am more than pleased at the splendid results. My appetite improved right from the start, and the horrible indigestion from which I suffered so long has entirely disappeared.

"I have now finished my fourth bottle and can eat just anything I wish without any bad after effects. I also sleep better and have more strength and energy. It is a pleasure to tell others what Tanlac has done in my case."

MAN WITH HIGHEST ASSESSMENT TO BE ELECTED TO OFFICE

PRIVATE BILLS PROVISION IN 1910 FOR ACTION ON TIE VOTE FOR ALDERMAN.

In municipal and other elections there is always the chance of a tie vote occurring, and at such times the proper course of procedure is not infrequently disputed by citizens. Last year Peterborough was faced with a tie in the mayoralty balloting, which was quite properly decided by the City Clerk. Had the issue, however, been that of an aldermanic seat, it seems a different method for decision would have had to be resorted to in compliance with an act of Legislature ten years ago. For, in looking over the Examiner files the following despatch is in evidence:

Toronto, Feb. 23, 1910.—Henceforth the man with the highest assessment shall be declared the successful candidate in the Peterbosough aldermanic field in case of a tie vote. This question was straightened out by the Private Bills Committee this morning.

On inquiry it is learned that the above applies to aldermanic elections only, and not to the mayoralty. Tie votes come but rarely, and when they do confront an electorate the situation is somewhat embarrassing all round, and much questioning as to what action should result naturally arises. Therefore, under such circumstances, in the case of a tie between candidates for alderman, the foregoing despatch, dug up from the Examiner's "morgue," has its interest.

BRAUNDPORT NEWS

BRAUNDPORT ,Otonabee River, August 28.—Bonfires are the order of the day, or rather the night, Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays, with big roasts of corn, potatoes, and sausage.

Mrs. Ensign F. Beer and son Bernie returned to Toronto after a week's visit at R. C. Braund's camp.

Mr. N. Routly and family moved up from camp on Thursday.

Adjt. Bunton, Mrs. Bunton and children and Ensign Mabb visited at J. T. Braund's tent and camp generally on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Richardson spent Thursday visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Theobald and family motored to camp for the Weiner roast.

Mr. and Mrs. Christie, of Toronto, with Mrs. Carlos Greene, spent a happy day at camp on Tuesday and then motored back to Toronto.

Mrs. R. Routly and family and Mr. and Mrs. D. Law also removed home on Thursday.

Sunday morning at 11 is the last camp meeting service at the grounds. All campers and city folk are invited to the service. Motor to Braundport and take part on Sunday morning.

A general moving up from camp will take place next week.

This week Mrs. J. T. Braund received a letter from Mr. Joseph Braund, father of the Braund Bros., from Devon, England, with the address as follows:

"Mrs. J. T. Braund,
Braundport Camp,
Otonabee River,
Ontario, Canada."

As there is no post office at Braundport, it sems rather a special happening for a letter to find its way from Devonshire, England, to camp. Good for the Post Office Department!

LARGE QUANTITY OF PRODUCE ON THE LOCAL FARMERS' MARKET

The market this morning was literally flooded with farm produce. There was more butter, eggs, and poultry on sale than in many weeks previous, while the outside market was similarly well stocked.

Apples which bulked the prodhce, were fairly high selling at from 20 to 35 cents a peck for an excellent quality. Potatoes ranked second from a point of quantity, and sold at a higher price than is being asked at the local stores, most of them bringing from 25 to 30 cents a peck. The farmers assured their customers that they have now dropped to as low a level as they will reach this year, and that the greater part of the crop has been dug.

The Vegetables.

All small vegetables were sold at a low price. Cabbages of huge dimensions sold at 10c and 15c each, cauliflower the same, beets at 35 cents a peck, and onions at 75 cents a peck. Squash sold at 20 cents each.

Crab aples made their first appearance this morning, and large baskets were sold at 25 cents. The crop is exceptionally heavy, and the price will probably drop by next week.

All ingredients for the pickling season were on hand—gherkins selling at 35 cents a peck, green peppers at 90 cents a basket, and beans at 30 cents a basket.

Lower Prices.

On the inside market the price for poultry was easier than last week, two-pound chickens selling at 75 cents each. Eggs sold as low as 55 cents a dozen, and botter at 63 and 65 cents a pound. Ducks sold at $2.50 a pair. Cream, of which there was a large quantity on sale, brought 70 cents a quart. Honey sold at 32 cents a pound.

Plums sold at 15 cents a quart, onlons at 5 cents for a very small bunch, cucumbers at 3 for 10 cents, carrots at 5 cents a bunch and 3 for 10 cents, turnips at 5 cents each, and lettuce at 5 cents a bunch.

FINED FOR BREACH OF ACT.

T. J. Lang of the Chemong Road, was fined $20 and costs of $5.10 in this morning's police court on a charge of breach of the Highway Travel Act. On Wednesday last Lang, while driving his car west on Simcoe street, struck a car driven by Miss Lillian Hurley of Hunter street, who was driving south on George street and had the right of way at the time, at the intersection of Simcoe and George and Simcoe streets.

How to Lose Your Tan, Freckles or Wrinkles

A day's motoring, an afternoon on the tennis court or golf links, a sunbath on the beach or exposure on a water trip, often brings on a deep tan or vivid crimson or, more perplexing still, a vigirous crop of freckles. A very necessary thing then is mercolized wax, which removes tan redness or freckles quite easily. It literally peels off the affected skin—just a little at a time, so there's no hurt or inconvenience. As the skin comes off in almost invisible flaky particles, no trace of the treatment is shown. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at your druggist's and use this nightly as you would cold cream, washing it off mornings. In a week or so you will have an etirely new skin, beautifully clear, transparent and of a most delicate whiteness.

Wrinkles, so apt to form at this season, may be easily and quickly removed by bathing the face in a solution of powdered saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint. This is not only a valuable astringent, but has a beneficial tonic effect also.

PROGRESSIVE AND GROWING INDUSTRY

FITZGERALD & CO. WILL NOW BUILD CARRIAGE AND AUTO TOPS.

It is interesting to note that Fitzgerald & Co., carriage makers, 131 Brock Street, are about to add a new department to their rapidly-expanding works, by which considerable business heretofore going out of town will be retained in this city. Commencing September first, this progressive firm will manufacture tops for automobiles, buggies and carriages of every class. The new annex will be in charge of Thomas Cuthbert, who comes to Peterborough with a reputation for exceeding skill endorsed by Messrs. Cutten & Foster, of Toronto, for whom the past eight years he has designed auto and carriage tops in keeping with the ever-increasing demand for modernization in such output. Under these auspices, and backed by the general business progressiveness, coupled with a policy of efficiency and service, which obtains at Fitzgerald & Co's., this new department will undoubtedly meet with that substantial patronage in both Peterborough city and county, which enterprise and guaranteed workmanship and up-to-the-hour design warrants.

FINED $10 AND COSTS FOR GAMBLING AT G. T. R. STATION

Two local cab drivers apepared in this morning's police court on a charge of gambling at the Grand Trunk Railway station. They were fined $10 and costs of $2.10 each.

This may put a stop to the gambling among some of the cabdrivers at the railway station which in some cases had assumed such proportions that the drivers were quite evidently adverse to dragging themselves away from the game to take passengers.

DELORO BEAT PICTON TEAM

THE DECIDING GAME WILL BE PLAYED ON MONDAY.

Deloro beat Picton yesterday by a score of 5 to 1. The game was one of the best of the season. The play of the day was made by Auger, centre fielder, cutting off a Picton runner at the plate, on a perfect throw from deep centre. As Picton won at home, the deciding game will be played on Monday at Belleville. The winner will then play Lindsay. Score by innings:

"SLEEPING PARTNERS"

This evening at the Grand for an engagement of one night only, beautiful Edna Goodrich, herself, will appear in "Sleeping Partners," an adaptation by Seymour Hicks of a French comedy by Sacha Guitry. This is the only company on tour in this play which has been presented with great success in London, Paris and New York. Miss Goodrich, who is known as the best dressed woman on the American stage, will wear some stunningly handsome gowns, furs and jewels, in each of the three acts. The farcical contrast of the characters is indicated in the description of the four leading roles: "The husband"—just a husband with a beard. "She" is like all "shes"—extraordinary. "He" is, as others are, only he is an American. "The Servant," and therefore he is English.

ACCUSED YOUNG MAN MAKES RESTITUTION.

Victoria County Police Magistrate Moore visited Fenelon Falls Thursday, when a young lad appeared before him on a charge of petty thieving. The lad is a dishwasher in a large boys' camp on the shore of Balsam Lake. The accused pleaded guilty and after making restitution and paying the costs, was allowed to go on suspended sentence.

DECIDING TOURNAMENT IN AMERICAN TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP BEGINS MONDAY

TWO OUTSTANDING FIGURES ARE WM. M. JOHNSTON, OF SAN FRANCISCO, AND WM. T. TILDEN, PHILADELPHIA.

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Aug. 28.—Two figures stand forth boldly as the players assemble for the deciding of the 39th national lawn tennis championship singles the tournament that begins Monday, August 30, on the turf of the West Side Tennis Club here. On the one hand is William M. Johnston, San Francisco, the famous holder of the national title, who held a place as the No. 1 man of the victorious American Davis Cup team. Strongly opposed to the star from the Pacific coast is William T. Tilden, 2nd, Philadelphia. Possessed of scintillating brilliancy of action and stroke Tilden, as the No. 2 man of the Davis Cup forces, gained unusual popularity in England. Also, by a stroke of fortune, he won the world's championship at Wimbledon to secure which he lowered the colors of Gerald L. Patterson, the Australian, who played here last season.

Title Lies Between Them.

Many American followers of the game of the courts are inclined to believe the title lies between these two men. While the most ardent admirers of Johnston concede that he did not display his best game abroad they expect him to rise to its topmost title-winning flights backed by his wonderful grit and courage in the battles for the title. He first won the crown of the courts of this country in 1915. Last year, after two years' active war duty in the navy, Johnston made a sensational comeback. In coming through last year he conquered such formidable oppostion as Gerald Patterson; R. Lindley Murray, champion of 1918; Wallace F. Johnson, and, lastly, Tilden in the final, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

Achieved Distinction.

Tilden achieved marked distinction during the seasons of 1918 and 1919. Each year he came up to the final of the national tournament a practically unbeaten man. In the 1918 match he was mastered by Murray in the most unexpected fashion. The paramount question as to Tilden is whether he can duplicate his success gained in England to gain the laurels of the United States, a thing which Patterson attempted to do last year and failed and one that no player in the world has ever placed upon the record.

While Johnston and Tilden, respectively the representatives of the West and East, hold the greater attention of the multitude of lawn tennis followers the entry list of 128 competitors, all qualified by ranking, includes men who may possibly lower the colors of these stars aided by a fortunate break. Foremost in this group is R. Norris Williams, 2nd, Boston, champion in 1914 and 1916 and Charles S. Garland, Pittsburgh. Both were members of the Davis Cup team and played with distinction abroad.

Those who have closely followed the championships for years know that it is by no means a foregone conclusion that any of the four named will win. It is only that on form their chances are more favorable. Much depends upon the luck of the draw, for, it is entirely possible with the "blind draw," in which place the pairings is left to chance, that several of the stars will fall within the same half and so kill one another off on their way to the finals.

Reversals Expected.

Clarence J. Griffin, San Francisco, demonstrated that reversals may be expected because of his sensational defeat of M. Washburn, New York, won at Sea M. Washburn, New York, wo nat Sea Bright, N.J., against a formidable field in which he mastered Willis E. Davis, San Francisco, in the final. There are also the resourceful veterans, William J. Clothier, Philadelphia, national title holder of 1906, and F. B. Alexander to be taken into account. Davis, who holds the Pacific coast honors, and Roland Roberts, San Francisco, may strike the topmost flights of their abilities at a critical period of the tournament, sweep all before them and duplicate the performances of the California Comet, McLoughlin, in the years before the war.

As it stands the list is rich in the greatest players of this country. It includes Wallace F. Johnson, Philadelphia; N. W. Niles, Boston; S. Howard Voshell, Brooklyn; Walter T. Hayes and Ralph H. Burdick, both of Chicago; Craig Biddle, Philadelphia; Dean Mathey, New York; Walter Merrill Hall and T. R. Pell, New York, the latter famous as the master of the back hand stroke, and others of top ranking ability who are certain to exert an influence in the decision of the championship.

Newcomers From West.

From the west theer is a larger number of newcomers than in any other year. Among the most formidable are Marshal Allen, Seattle; John Hennessy and Fritz Bastian, Indianapolis, Walter Westbrook, Detroit; William Sweeney, Baltimore; Frank T. Anderson, Brooklyn; Fred O. Josties, St. Louis; John W. Dudley, Washington; and C. M. Charest, Baltimore, a one-armed player who has achieved surprising success in Maryland. Altogether it is to be strictly an American tournament this year as there are no foreign entrants.

George T. Adee, formerly president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, is to act as referee of the tournament. He will be assisted by more than 200 officials for umpires and linesmen. Seats for 7,000 have been provided in the big stands and standing room for 4,000 about the main courts. Theere is the promise in the list of competitors and arrangements of one of the greatest competitions ever held in this country for the crown formerly worn by Larned, Wrenn and others.

"DON'T TELL"

Playgoers of the present generation seldom have an opportunity to enjoy what their parents and grandparents would have called a "treat" such as the joint starring tours of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall, Booth & Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Royle and the various other combinations of talent that were wont to be popular in the so-called "palmy" days of the theatre. Tastes have changed and with them the fare provided by the theatrical entrepeneur of to-day, who must needs cater to his public or close up his playhouse. The same condition, however, does not exist in Europe, and especially in England and Scotland, where the play-going public is still loyal to its favorite players.

MRS. GRAHAM MOFFAT, who will appear with Mr. Graham Moffat in "DON'T TELL," the newest comedy by Graham Moffat, author of "Bunty Pulls the Strings."

In spite of these ultra-advanced ideas in America there is doubtless a public for the kind of entertainment which our cousins abroad still enjoy, and with that idea firmly in mind, William Morris, who sends us Sir Harry Lauder each season, induced Mr. and Mrs. Graham Moffat to come to America this season and show their new Scottish comedy. Mr. and Mrs. Moffat and their Scottish company of players have been touring the English-speaking countries of the world for these many years and although Mr. Moffat's "Bunty Pulls The Strings" has been seen here frequently, he has never attempted to play in this country personally. Mr. Morris, after seeing the new Scottish comedy, "Don't Tell," decided that it would be an almost hopeless task to secure a company of players here who could adequately interpret its quaintness, chaarcters and preserve the delightful charm of Mr. Moffat's newest work and so he induced the Moffats to come to America for their first annual tour. "Don't Tell," is described as a comedy of life in Glasgow of today. It will be shown here at the Grand on September 4th for one night only.

BLACKSTONE, GREAT MASTER MAGICIAN

The Great Blackstone, the world's master magician, and his company, are coming to the Grand, September 1st and 2nd, and the superman of mysticism will open the eyes of those who doubt that the hand is quicker than the eye. Blackstone has twenty-two attendants, the largest troupe carried by any magician. He has a carload of scenery and magical paraphernalia, offering the same programme of novelties that made the theatre-goers of the big cities gasp with amazement. The mysterious and weird performance of Blackstone must be seen to be fully appreciated. It includes oriental mysticism, psychic phenomena, spiritualism, black and white magic, mind-reading and card manipulation.

"MAPLE LEAF"

"Camouflage" in this particular instance, is the apt title of the joyous musical comedy revue which the famous fourth division party, the "Maple Leafs" are offering on thier first home-coming tour of Canada, and is the vehicle in which they found greatest favour when entertaining the boys behind the lines in France and Flanders.

The piece has been re-written and given an elaborate staging by Captain M. W. Plunkett, whose experience in staging entertainments for the boys over there has given him an ability along this line which probably no other theatrical producer posseses.

The company is composed entirely of ex-service men, all of whom have done thier bit in the trenches. It is this fact, combined with their unquestioned artistry and exceptional ability, which has made the soldier-actors so popular in Canada. The realization that these same boys, who now don the gayest frocks and add the proper dash of rouge, were once designated by a number, and fought side by side with the boys from our own town and country, carries an appeal of such sentimental force that their ventures upon the legitimate stage are bound for success.

However, this is unnecessary except for an initial drawing power, as the performances they give are the equal, if not the superior, to the better class of musical entertainment offered by the regular attractions.

The "Maple Leafs" will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House for Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 30th and 31st, two days.

The U. S. railroads claim increased freight rates should not cause appreciable advance in the retail prices though coal they admit will cost the consumer at least 75 cents extra a ton.

DANCE MADE EXCUSE FOR DRUNKEN BRAWL.

North Wilberforce correspondence to Minden Echo: It is sincerely to be wished that the next time a dance is held in the hall, that some effort will be made to preserve an atmosphere of decency—not to say respectability. The affair held last Thursday night was without exception one of the worse ever held in town and so long as dances are made an excuse for drunken brawls so long will the decent element in town keep away. It is not edifying to see young ladies dancing with men under the influence of "moonshine" and it is much to be regretted also that children of 10 years old and thereabouts are admitted to these affairs.

Make no haste to be rich if you would prosper.

NOTICE.

Parents of children are asked to take notice that the public schools will not re-open for the fall term until Tuesday, September 7th, the day after Labour Day.

SUCCESSFUL MOONLIGHT.

The moonlight excursion last nigh under the auspices of L.O.L., No. 80, proved a success in every way and the committee in charge is to be congratulated on the perfection of all arrangements. The comfortable steamer "Stoney Lake," carried a very happy crowd, numbering fully two hundred, about 15 miles down the picturesque Otonabee, returning home at 11.30. Acceptable refreshments were served, and the excellence of the orchestra's efforts was reflected in the unstinted response to a dance programme quite irresistible to lovers of the light fantastic

At the meeting of the Executive of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association yesterday afternoon, the constitution and by-laws were passed upon and will be submitted to the association at its annual meeting, which will be held on Wednesday evening, September 1st. The constitution is wide in scope and leaves no possible contingency unprovided for.

The temporary officers and executive will resign, and a new executive will be elected at the meeting.

CADETS WILL HOLD A DRUMHEAD SERVICE TO-MORROW.

The usual parade at the cadet camp to-day will be followed by a field day, commencing at two o'clock, at which a list of various sports will be carried out. Prizes will be awarded. This service will be a drumhead service, and will be held just inside the main gate at the band stand. The public are invited to attend this service. It will last upwards of half an hour, and at the close those in attendance will be at liberty to attend any of the churches in the city.

At 10.30 o'clock the Roman Catholics will parade to the Sacred Heart Church and at the close of both services the Cadets will be free for the remainder of the day.

On Sunday evening the Y.M.C.A. will give a sacred concert, assisted by local talent, and augmented by moving pictures.

"UNCHARTED CHANNELS" WELL ROUNDED PICTURE.

Stirring action, good acting, and pleasing humour are the principal ingredients of "Uncharted Channels," the Jesse D. Hampton production, starring H. B. Warner, which opens at the Regent Theatre on Monday for a run of three days.

The picture, a Robertson-Cole release, shows Mr. Warner in a delightfully new characterisation which serves to emphasise this capable actor's versatility. He is given satisfactory support by a cast which includes Kathryn Adams, a screen actress of long experience, Sam de Grasse, the well-known "heavy," Evelyn Selbie, and a number of lesser lights of the screen world.

ALL SAINTS' CHOIR PICNIC

The choir of All Saints' Church held their annual picnic on Thursday to Wallacee's Point, per Str. Stoney Lake. The day was delightfully fine and a most enjoyable time was spent at this most beautiful summer resort. The ladies had most appetizing baskets provided and ample justice was done to a splendid meal. Races were run for the boys and ladies and very useful prizes were presented to the winners. So well was the handicap arranged that a prize was won by every boy present. One amusing event was the tug-of-war, "Decani versus Cantoris," and three pulls had to be made before a decision could be given to the Cantoris side of the choir. The return home on the boat was spent in sweet harmony and songs, featuring "The End of a Perfect Day." The choir desire to thank the choirmaster and the committee who had charge of the arrangements.

LOCAL POLICE PAINTING STREET SAFETY ZONES.

The police are making good progress with the painting of safety zones at the intersections of important streets. The work is practically complete and will contribute largely to the avoiding of accidents at such corners as that of Charlotte and Park Streets, where the buildings coming close to the street, and the standing cars, block the vision of motorists.

Last year painters were hired to do the work, but a considerable saving is being made this year by having the police paint the zones.

A Chain is No Stronger Than Its Weakest Link

and a body is no stronger than its point of least resistance. As long as you have a vulnerable part which fails to resist outside conditions, you have a weak link in your resistance to disease. This weakness manifests itself in different forms in various individuals. A susceptibility to colds is a common form in which lowered resistance expresses itself. Headaches are prevalent among women especially. Costiveness is also very common.

These minor ills, harmless in themselves, have a tendency to decrease bodily powers and vigor, reducing not alone bodily functions but also the expression of our power to accomplish and our ability to live our lives to the fullest.

Prevention is better than cure, even when Nature does the curing.

Chiropractic vertebral adjustments as a preventive are unexcelled. By warding off lurking disease and keeping the body tone and vigor up to par, the "weak links" are allowed to strengthen and build up resistive powers. If you are subject to any of the above forms of lowered resistance or any of the other numerous forms in which lowered resistance expresses itself, the best kind of life insurance which you can "take out" is a course of Chiropractic adjustments. Chiropractic adjustments do insure life by prolonging it, fortifying it against sickness, or eradicating any disease which may already exist.

We will be pleased to give a complete explanation of this wonderful new health science, and tell you frankly just what it will do in your particular case, all of this without cost or obligation to you.

Western Siberian Peasants Have Overthrown the Soviets

THE SOVIETS OVERTHROWN BY PEASANTS

SEVERAL UPRISINGS REPORTED—RUSSIAN OFFICERS RELEASED.

(Canadian Press)

HARBIN, Manchuria, Aug. 30. — Western Siberian peasants have overthrown the Soviets at Tomsk, Novonikolaevsk, Omsk Barnaul and other important towns, it is reported here from reliable sources. Isolated peasant uprisings, which have been in progress since spring, appeared to have culminated in a general insurrection. This was led by uprising of Kirghiz tribesmen, which followed a withdrawal of Bolshevik troops, presumably for the Polish front. Tribesmen were joined by Cossacks and detachments of anti-Bolshevik troops, which furnished them competent leadership. This force marched on more important centres but found them already in the hands of insurgents. Two thousand Russian officers released from Bolshevik prisons also are said to have joined the new anti - Bolshevik forces. Insurgent movement is reported to be spreading. Outbreaks are already frequent in the Far East where it is expected that the Soviet regime will soon fall. Eastern Siberian authorities are dazed by suddenness of new developments. Main support of uprising appears to come from Mujk farmers of the provinces of Altai, Tomsk, Tobolsk, Semipalatinsk and Akmolinsk, which are the richest farming districts of Siberia.

THE WEATHER

This has been an unusual summer. For one thing there has been an absence of the excessive heat which is usually experienced to a more or less degree. The highest the thermometer has reached this year was 88 degrees. Over 90 degrees in the shade has been common other years, and 95 to 98 not infrequent, with even a still higher figure on occasions. Yet even with the absence of very high figures the average each week has been about the usual figure, showing that the temperature is steady and the fluctuations not great. —W. P.

LINDSAY MAN KILLED BY A C.P.R. TRAIN

DAVID KIRKPATRICK WAS A SCALER IN A LUMBER CAMP —HOLIDAYING AT TIME.

LINDSAY, August 30. — David Kirkpatrick, of Caroline Street, was killed near Iroquois Falls last night when he was run over by a Canadian Pacific Railway train on the Port McNichol line.

Fitzpatrick, who was spending his holidays at Iroquois Fals, was walking along the railway track, and it is believed that he stubbed his toe and was stunned by the fall. The crew of the train which passed over the line at midnight, saw his body on the track, but not in time to stop.

Kirkpatrick was a scaler at a lumber camp.

A FIRE DAMAGES THE LINDSAY FIRE HALL ON SUNDAY

ALL THE FIREMEN EXCEPT CHIEF WERE AT CHURCH.

LINDSAY, Aug. 30.—The fire hall here was slightly damaged by fire of unknown origin which broke out in the horse stables about 11 o'clock yesterday morning while all the firemen except the chief were at church. The fire was extinguished with chemicals after it had done about $300 damage.

The horses were got out of the burning stable with difficulty and one fireman narrowly escaped suffocation in rescuing the horses.

JUDGE HUYCKE ADDRESSED CADETS

A MUSICAL PROGRAMME WAS ALSO PROVIDED.

An open air service was conducted last evening at the Cadet Camp, under the auspices of the military Y.M.C.A. A number of local artists took part in the programme. Judge Huycke, who was the first speaker, gave the Cadets a splendid talk on 'Character,' drawing their attention to the one perfect gentleman, Jesus Christ. A musical trio, consisting of violin, saxophone and piano was much enjoyed. Two solos by Mrs. Macdonald and a solo by Miss Sucee were also greatly appreciated.

Capt. Geo. Young of the military Y.M.C.A. acted as chairman and Mr. D. G. Magee led the singing. After the service ice cream, donated by Mr. Gillespie and Mrs. Kendry, was served to the Cadets. Much credit is due to Mrs. Dr. Frederick and Mrs. Col. Stevenson for arranging the programme. The ladies of the 57th Regiment I.O.D.E. and the Peter Robinson Chapter I.O.D.E. also rendered valuable assistance in making the service a success.

EXPECT TO MANUFACTURE PRE-WAR WHEAT FLOUR.

DROP OF $1.00 A BARREL ON HIGHER GRADES EXPECTED.

(Canadian Press.)

WINNIPEG, August 30.—Winnipeg millers expected to-day to resume the manufacture of pre-war grades of wheat flour on Wednesday, following the relinquishment of the control of the grain markets by the Dominion Board. No more than 95 per cent. of flour will be milled, they say.

A drop of $1.00 a barrel on the higher grades and $1.50 on the Government standard grades is expected to result immediately.

It was believed probable to-day that many of the mills in this district would resume full operations by the latter part of this week.

PRESIDENT WILSON HAS APPROVED REPORT ANTHRACITE COMMISSION

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30. — President Wilson to-day approved of the majority report of the Anthracite Coal Commission increasing the wages of the contract miners twenty per cent. over the present rates. The miners employed as company men are given an increase of seven per cent., and the same amount is given consideration miners and miners' laborers and monthly men. The findings, the report said, would fix a minimum rate of 52 1-2c per cent for the lower paid men in the anthracite industry. The anthracite mine workers will receive about eighteen million in back pay under the retroactive feature of the award which makes it effective April 1, and the total increase will average at least eighty-five million dollars annually.

TWO DOLLAR WHEAT ANTICIPATED IN FEW WEEKS BY LOCAL MILLER

THE WHEAT MARKET IS IN A VERY UNSETTLED CONDITION AT PRESENT TIME—FRUITS AND VEGETABLES ARE VERY PLENTIFUL AND PRICES ARE GOING DOWN.

The wheat market is very unsettled at the present time, and a uniform price for wheat will not likely be reached for several weeks. While it is impossible yet to say definitely what price will be paid in a few weeks when this year's crop starts moving to the elevators, a local miller predicted a price in the neighbourhood of $2.00 a bushel. He pointed out that in addition to a good crop the wheat was of a quality far higher than other years.

When asked if the flour prices would fall, he said that at the present time they could not give any definite information. The unsettled market is not entirely confined to wheat alone, a change in the other grain prices being anticipated at any time.

Fruit and Vegetables.

The fruit and vegetable markets are sluggish due to the immense crops of all fruits and vegetables. The market is seemingly flooded with vegetables and prices have necessarily lowered. The "dear public," after five years of eager waiting, are at last seeing what they have so long dreamed about—cheap vegetables and cheap fruit.

"Everything is cheap except sugar," [illegible] The Examiner when asked to detail the prices. Tomatoes are selling at 50 and 60 cents a basket, the lowest price in some years. At Port Hope a bushel brings only this same price. The cannery there, it is said, pays only 1 cent pound. The potato crop appears to be large and predictions that the farmers will feed their pigs on them may yet be realised.

Plums Plentiful.

Such prodigious quantities of plums are on the farmers' hands that they are being consigned to the pig pens, a report states. The price in the stores ranges from 75 cents to $1.25.

The price of oranges is due for a grand ascent, as the season is practically over. Only 30 cars a day are being shipped out of Sunny California, fornia.

Mr. W. J. Oke has been fortunate enough to secure one, in all probability the last to enter Peterborough till after the new crop comes in in the beginning of the year. Wholesale, they cost in the neighbourhood of $10.00 a box—a price that has only bee nexceeded once in many years. The highest, in reference, was that of the fall of 1918 during the "flu" epidemic, when $15.00 and $16.00 a box prevailed. Oranges will soon be a novelty in Peterborough fruit stores, and an orange for breakfast will be considered a real treat.

Lemons are obtainable in as large quantities as ever, due to the comparatively [illegible] that has prevailed all summer, causing no drain on the supply as has been the case in warmer seasons.

Prices in hides and wool, meats, and dairy products have been steady.

BRIGADIER-GENERAL W. B. M. KING MAKES OFFICIAL VISIT TO CITY

Brig.-Gen. W. B. M. King, C.M.G., D.S.O., recently appointed G. O. C. Military District No. 3, arrived in the city this morning accompanied by his aide, Major W. J. McManus. At 10.30 o'clock he inspected the Cadet Camp at Exhibition Park.

The inspection opened with the various corps in review order on the parade grounds in front of the grand stand. Following the march past, which was very creditably done, the corps were addressed by Brig.-Gen. King, who complimented them, their commanding officer, Lt.-Col. G. H. Gillespie, O.C. and Inspector of Cadet Corps, Military District No. 3, and the other officers of the camp upon the smariness of the boys.

Brig.-Gen. King spoke of the value of the Cadet training and instanced several cases of Cadets who during the war won the V.C. He told of the interest and activity of himself in Cadet work in former years, and reminded the boys of the value which their training would be both to themselves and their country. He emphatically discounted the alleged "militarism" of the Cadet movement.

Met Officers.

At 11.30 o'clock he met representatives of the officers of the 57th Regiment, the artillery, cavalry and machine gun section at the armouries.

This afternoon he left by motor for Millbrook and Port Hope, where he will meet the officers of the militia there.

Brig.-Gen. King was appointed G.O.C. of this military district about a week ago to succeed Major-General V. A. S. Williams. He saw service in the Boer war in South Africa and while there was attached to Baden-Powell's force. He went overseas in the recent war with the first contingent as a major in the 10th Battery. He had a number of Peterborough men under his command in this unit He was rapidly promoted and a week ago was appointed to succeed Major-General Williams as General Officer Commanding this military district.

GIVE FIREMEN A HEARING TO-NIGHT

FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT COMMITTEE WILL MEET AT EIGHT O'CLOCK.

This evening at 8 o'clock the firement will be given an opportunity of airing their grievances before the Fire, Water, and Light Committee. What attitude the committee will take is not known. The Mayor is evidently unbiased. He told The Examiner this morning that in this matter his concern was for the protection of the city only. Whether the others will take this stand and give the men justice or whether they will allow the matter of the men having a union (of which the men say Chief Grange is a member) to distort their sense of perspective remains to be seen.

TROOPS OPENED FIRE ON MOBS

(Canadian Press.)

BELFAST, Aug. 30.— Rioting and destruction of property was renewed in this city early this morning; the Unionist quarter being the scene of serious disorders. Troops rushed to centre of disturbance opened fire to clear the street, a young woman being gravely wounded and a man injured. Further grave developments are apprehended. Shipyard employees who were unarmed were on their way to work at 8.30 this morning when they were attacked, it is charged by police, by Sinn Feiners and shooting soon began. Soldiers arrived soon after the disorder commenced and assumed a firing position across York street, giving the crowd three minutes to clear the thoroughfare. Most of the people fled to cover. At an early hour this morning other disorders occurred in the neighborhood of Ewart's Row, the Unionist quarter, which was attacked by Sinn Feiners yesterday morning. Shops were wrecked and to clear the streets troops opened fire from an armoured car. Falls Road, which traverses Joseph Devlin's political division, was simmering this morning. Great excitement prevailed in other affected areas and the crowds were gathering during the early forenoon.

THE WORST YET.

(Canadian Press.)

BELFAST, Aug. 30.—To-day's rioting was said by police to be the worst Belfast has yet seen. Up to one o'clock this afternoon it was definitely known that four deaths had occurred as a result of disorders. These included young woman named Grace Orr, who was shot early this morning when troops opened fire to clear the street in the Unionist quarter. Numerous persons with wounds were admitted to hospital.

MACSWEENEY IS WORSE.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Aug. 30/—Hunger strike of MacSweeney, Lord Mayor of Cork, has progresed so far that he is in such a condition that even if he took food now it would do him no good, according to a statement by Brixon prison doctors to the Mayor's wife, who visited her husband this morning. Mayor MacSweney is said to be even moregravely ill than at last reports and change for worse may come at any time in the next twenty-four hours.

MACHINE GUNS USED.

BELFAST, Aug. 29—An armored military car dashed through Belfast streets early Sunday morning with a Lewis machine gun crackling and made the bloodiest episode in the recent Irish riots.

Five youths were killed outright, more than fifty persons were dangerously wounded. When the military declared order restored the road was strewn with the bodies of the dead and dying and the pavements reddened with their blood.

Sinn Feiners started the battle by emerging in heavy force from the Sinn Fein Marbone district and penetrating the Unionist stronghold —Ewarts Row. Furniture was dragged from houses, piled in the streets and burned.

The Sinn Fein was master of the situation until hundreds of Unionist reinforcements arrived and got into the fight with revolver, clubs into the fight with revolvers, clubs and stones. The police looked on, helpless.

After the battle between the forces had continued for more than four hours the military commandant ordered the armored car to the scene. It dashed up with a stream of bullets whistling from its Lewis gun. They pelted into the crowd at the rate of 300 a minute. The crowd broke and vanished in a few seconds, leaving the dead and wounded.

Just after daylight a Unionist Party sallied out on a misson of vengeance. The party wrecked the homes of Catholics on Crumlin Road district and burned down the meeting hall of the Independent Labor Party.

A sniping rifle fire continued all day long. Many were admitted to the hospitals suffering from gunshots wounds and from injuries inflicted by stones and clubs. The northern section of the city is in a state of extreme tension.

WONDER WORKING STATUES OF TEMPLEMORE HAVE GIVEN IT FAME EXCEEDED ONLY YB LOURDES.

TEMPLEMORE, County Tipperary, Ireland, Aug. 30.—Tens of thousands of the faithful are still flocking to this small Tipperary town to gain religious and physical balm from the wonder-working statues belonging to James Walsh, the former Cistercian novitiate, who has conferred upon Templemore a fame that is exceeded only by Lourdes.

The statues have been placed in a flower-bedecked yard on the premises of Timothy Dwan, Walsh's uncle. The yard overlooks the market place and Battery Park. Here thousands of the afflicted gather, bearing crucifixes and rosaries.

While waiting for admission to the yard by twos and threes, the whole congregation, as though moved by a single devout impulse, periodically sinks silently to its knees and, with twitching lips, offers prayer to the Virgin Mary, imploring her to vouchsafe a continuance of the miraculous healing.

Moving through the throng are men and women who claim to have been mysteriously cured by the saint's intervention. Dan Egan, the local harnessmaker, is striding about like a fit, sound man, after being crippled for five years with sciatic rheumatism.

A milliner, almost crazed by nervous disorders, was cured after a magic crucifix was laid on her brow. The most wonderful case is that of Martin Monahan. His story has gone throughout Ireland, and is bringing people here in every conceivable kind of conveyances from cars to the backs of asses. Monahan was discharged from the army two years ago, suffering from a broken left knee.

"When I heard of the miracles," he tells the story, "I limped across the square to the house. Walsh took me up the stairs and lifted me up to the crucifix. It was bleeding. He rubbed my bare knee against it. I was in great pain. He prayed over me and ordered me to pray. We left the room together. Then before I left the house I felt a sudden shock. All pain left me. I was not lame. I have not been lame since."

Edward Gleeson, a young soldier who was blinded, was admitted Thursday. He was seated at a table. A woman held a crucifix over his eyes. The others in the room sank to their knees and prayer. After a few moments of prayer Gleeson began to see dimly. He did not recover the normal use of his eyes.

A peasant woman walked fifty miles with an imbecile son 13 years old. She touched his head to the statute of the Virgin. Mrs. Dwan offered a prayer. The couple went away On their way home they met other pilgrims coming in. To these the mother related that her son's mind was clearing.

Walsh a Frail Youth.

Walsh, whose visits started the pilgrimages, is a frail youth. He has convincing sincerity and seems one manifestly destined to a religious vocation.

"As I lay in bed one night," he tells his story, "I saw a dazzling object in the darkness. It was shaped like a communion particle. The letters I.H.S. stood out distinctly in the centre."

Thereafter, he related, the Virgin frequently appeared to him, sometimes at his house and sometimes beside the road.

The pilgrims to the place of miracles are from all stations in life, business and professional men, as well as peasants. Almost every describable human ailment is represented, from warts and chronis tuberculosis to club foot.

Every inch of space in the town has been converted into lodgings for the cure-seeking pilgrims.

The pilgrims are not all disabled. Many are youths imbued with a religious and patriotic exaltation. They come to Templemore to invoke divine and saintly aid in the fight for Irish independence.

THE LEADER ADDRESSES BIG MEETING

MACKENZIE KING SAYS HIS PARTY ALONE STANDS FOR PEOPLE'S RIGHT.

BROCKVILLE, Aug. 30. — Addressing an open air meeting held under the auspices of the Leeds and Brockville Liberal Assembly on Saturday afternoon, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal Opposition in the Federal House, made a strong bid for the rallying of the Farmers and Labor to the ranks of the Liberal party on the plea that it would be better for democratic forces of all classes and shades of opinion to unite against what he termed reactionary Toryism.

In laying down the Liberal platform Mr. King stressed his claim that the Liberal party alone stands for the right of the people to govern themselves. He contended that at the present time there is neither a representative Parliament nor a responsible ministry.

Other speakers included Hon. Jacques Bureau, who made strong protestations against the supposed cleavage between Quebec and other provinces and sought to correct what he held to be misrepresentations of the oldest province.

The Hon. G. H. Graham and J. H. J. Logan, ex-Member of Amherst, N. S., also spoke.

FUNERAL HELD THIS AFTERNOON

REV. F. E. MALOTT CONDUCTED SERVICE AT FUNERAL OF D. B. NICHOLS

The late Dickson Best Nichols, who died on Saturday morning as a result of injuries received when his automobile turned turtle on the Keene Road near Downer's Corners early on Friday morning, was buried at Little Lake Cemetery this afternoon at three o'clock from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Nichols, 203 Dalhousie Street.

The many beautiful floral tributes received testified to the esteem in which the late Mr. Nichols was held not only in this city, but throughout the Province, and the large number of friends who attended the funeral testified to friendships the deceased had made in his lifelong residence here.

Practically all of the commercial travellers of this city attended the funeral of their brother. Business men, professional men, and the friends and immediate family made up the large number who filled the house.

Rev. F. E. Malott, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, conducted an impressive service. He emphasised the uncertainty of life and its brevity at the best, and the need to prepare for the life beyond. He referred to the tributes he had always heard paid to the deceased. His fine, upright character and kindly manners had made him many friends, to whom his sudden death had caused untold pain.

The pall-bearers were all life-long friends of the deceased. They were: Messrs. Bert Heard, C. R. Banks, Percy Hooper, James Lundy, Charles Ackerman, and Charles Huffman.

WHISKEY IS ACCEPTED AS TOOTHACHE REMEDY

SARNIA, Ont., Aug. 28.—Whiskey is a toothache medicine, it was proved in the local Police Court and the ruling saved George Rotan, charged under the Ontario Temperance Act with having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling from a $200 fine. Following the evidence of Provincial Detective Airy, who told of the finding of a bottle of liquor in the car of the defendant, Rotan told the court that he owned the whiskey which was found in the pocket of his car, and stated that he was using it as a toothache medicine. Magistrate Gorman accepted his story and dismissed the charge.

OSHAWA "OVER-PARKED."

Oshawa Park Commission "stands pat" on its notice to the South Ontario Agricultural Society to vacate Alexandra Park. If that decision is definitely maintained, the Oshawa Fair will very likely be a thing of the past after a year or two, for to secure an entirely new site and new buildings would be too expensive an undertaking. It looks to be a case of "killing the goose that lays the golden egg," for no one will deny that Oshawa Fair means a great deal to the business men of the town. Mayor Stacey, of Oshawa, says the town is getting to be "over-parked."—Whitby Chronicle.

Western Siberian Peasants Have Overthrown the Soviets

SEVERAL UPRISINGS REPORTED—RUSSIAN OFFICERS RELEASED.

(Canadian Press)

HARBIN, Manchuria, Aug. 30. — Western Siberian peasants have overthrown the Soviets at Tomsk, Novonikolaeivsk, Omsk Barnaul and other important towns, it is reported here from reliable sources. Isolated peasant uprisings, which have been in progress since spring, appeared to have culminated in a general insurrection. This was led by uprising of Kirghiz tribesmen, which followed a withdrawal of Bolshevik troops, presumably for the Polish front. Tribesmen were joined by Cossacks and detachments of anti-Bolshevik troops, which furnished them competent leadership. This force marched on [illegible] important centres but found

The ladies of the 57th Regiment I.O.D.E. and the Peter Robinson Chapter I.O.D.E. also rendered valuable assistance in making the service a success.

THE WEATHER

This has been an unusual summer. For one thing there has been an absence of the excessive heat which is usually experienced to a more or less degree. The highest the thermometer has reached this year was 88 degrees. Over 90 degrees in the shade has been common other years, and 95 to 98 not infrequent, with even a still higher figure on occasions. Yet even with the absence of very high figures the average each week has been about the usual figure, showing that the temperature is steady and the fluctuations not great. —W. P.

EXPECT TO MANUFACTURE PRE-WAR WHEAT FLOUR.

DROP OF $1.00 A BARREL ON HIGHER GRADES EXPECTED.

(Canadian Press.)

WINNIPEG, August 30.—Winnipeg millers expected to-day to resume the manufacture of pre-war grades of wheat flour on Wednesday, following the relinquishment of the control of the grain markets by the Dominion Board. No more than 95 per cent. of flour will be milled, they say.

A drop of $1.00 a barrel on the higher grades and $1.50 on the Government standard grades is expected to result immediately.

It was believed probable to-day that many of the mills in this district would resume full operations by the latter part of this week.

PRESIDENT WILSON HAS APPROVED REPORT ANTHRACITE COMMISSION

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30. — President Wilson to-day approved of the majority report of the Anthracite Coal Commision increasing the wages of the contract miners twenty per cent. over the present rates. The miners employed as company men are given an increase of seven per cent., and the same amount is given consideration miners and miners' laborers and monthly men. The findings, the report said, would fix a minimum rate of 52 1-2c per cent for the lower paid men in the anthracite industry. The anthracite mine workers will receive about eighteen million in back pay undder the retroactive feature of the award which makes it effective April 1, and the total increase will average at least eighty-five million dollars annually.

TWO DOLLAR WHEAT ANTICIPATED IN FEW WEEKS BY LOCAL MILLER

THE WHEAT MARKET IS IN A VERY UNSETTLED CONDITION AT PRESENT TIME—FRUITS AND VEGETABLES ARE VERY PLENTIFUL AND PRICES ARE GOING DOWN.

The wheat market is very unsettled at the present time, and a uniform price for wheat will not likely be reached for several weeks. While it is impossible yet to say definitely what price will be paid in a few weeks when this year's crop starts moving to the elevators, a local miller predicted a price in the neighbourhood of $2.00 a bushel. He pointed out that in addition to a good crop the wheat was of a quality far higher than other years.

When asked if the flour prices would fall, he said that at the present time they could not give any definite information. The unsettled market is not entirely confined to wheat alone, a change in the other grain prices being anticipated at any time.

Fruit and Vegetables.

The fruit and vegetable markets are sluggish due to the immense crops of all fruits and vegetables. The market is seemingly flooded with vegetables and prices have necessarily lowered. The "dear public," after five years of eager waiting, are at last seeing what they have so long dreamed about—cheap vegetables and cheap fruit.

"Everything is cheap except sugar," [illegible] told The Examiner when asked to detail the prices. Tomatoes are selling at 50 and 60 cents a basket, the lowest price in some years. At Port Hope a bushel brings only this same price. The cannery there, it is said, pays only 1 cent pound. The potato crop appears to be large and predictions that the farmers will feed their pigs on them may yet be realised.

Plums Plentiful.

Such prodigious quantities of plums are on the farmers' hands that they are being consigned to the pig pens, a report states. The price in the stores ranges from 75 cents to $1.25.

The price of oranges is due for a grand ascent, as the season is practically over. Only 30 cars a day are being shipped out of Sunny California. fornia.

Mr. W. J. Oke has been fortunate enough to secure one, in all probability the last to enter Peterborough till after the new crop comes in in the beginning of the year. Wholesale, they cost in the neighbourhood of $10.00 a box—a price that has only bee nexceeded once in many years. The highest, in reference, was that of the fall of 1918 during the "flu" epidemic, when $15.00 and $16.00 a box prevailed. Oranges will soon be a novelty in Peterborough fruit stores, and an orange for breakfast will be considered a real treat.

Lemons are obtainable in as large quantities as ever, due to the comparatively cool weather that has prevailed all summer, causing no drain on the supply as has been the case in warmer seasons.

Prices in hides and wool, meats, and dairy products have been steady.

BRIGADIER-GENERAL W. B. M. KING MAKES OFFICIAL VISIT TO CITY

Brig.-Gen. W. B. M. King, C.M.G., D.S.O., recently appointed G. O. C. Military District No. 3, arrived in the city this morning accompanied by his aide, Major W. J. McManus. At 10.30 o'clock he inspected the Cadet Camp at Exhibition Park.

The inspection opened with the various corps in review order on the parade grounds in front of the grand stand. Following the march past, which was very creditably done, the corps were addressed by Brig.-Gen. King, who complimented them, their commanding officer, Lt.-Col. G. H. Gillespie, O.C. and Inspector of Cadet Corps, Military District No. 3, and the other officers of the camp upon the smartness of the boys.

Brig.-Gen. King spoke of the value of the Cadet training and instanced several cases of Cadets who during the war won the V.C. He told of the interest and activity of himself in Cadet work in former years, and reminded the boys of the value which their training would be both to themselves and their country. He emphatically discounted the alleged "militarism" of the Cadet movement.

Met Officers.

At 11.30 o'clock he met representatives of the officers of the 57th Regiment, the artillery, cavalry and machine gun section at the armouries.

This afternoon he left by motor for Millbrook and Port Hope, where he will meet the officers of the militia there.

Brig.-Gen. King was appointed G. O.C. of this military district about a week ago to succeed Major-General V. A. S. Williams. MACKENZIE KING SAYS HIS PARTY ALONE STANDS FOR PEOPLE'S RIGHT.

BROCKVILLE, Aug. 30. — Addressing an open air meeting held under the auspices of the Leeds and Brockville Liberal Assembly on Saturday afternoon, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal Opposition in the Federal House, made a strong bid for the rallying of the Farmers and Labor to the ranks of the Liberal party on the plea that it would be better for democratic forces of all classes and shades of opinion to unite against what he termed reactionary Toryism.

In laying down the Liberal platform Mr. King stressed his claim that the Liberal party alone stands for the right of the people to govern themselves. He contended that at the present time there is neither a representative Parliament nor a responsible ministry.

Other speakers included Hon. Jacques Bureau, who made strong protestations against the supposed cleavage between Quebec and other provinces and sought to correct what he held to be misrepresentations of the oldest province.

The Hon. G. H. Graham and J. H. J. Logan, ex-Member of Amherst, N. S., also spoke.

FUNERAL HELD THIS AFTERNOON

The late Dickson Best Nichols, who died on Saturday morning as a result of injuries received when his automobile turned turtle on the Keene Road near Downer's Corners early on Friday morning, was buried at Little Lake Cemetery this afternoon at three o'clock from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Nichols, 203 Dalhousie Street.

The many beautiful floral tributes received testified to the esteem in which the late Mr. Nichols was held not only in this city, but throughout the Province, and the large number of friends who attended the funeral testified to friendships the deceased had made in his lifelong residence here.

Practically all of the commercial travellers of this city attended the funeral of their brother. Business men, professional men, and the friends and immediate family made up the large number who filled the house.

Rev. F. E. Malott, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, conducted an impressive service. He emphasised the uncertainty of life and its brevity at the best, and the need to prepare for the life beyond. He referred to the tributes he had always heard paid to the deceased. His fine, upright character and kindly manners had made him many friends, to whom his sudden death had caused untold pain.

The pall-bearers were all life-long friends of the deceased. They were: Messrs. Bert Heard, C. R. Banks, Percy Hooper, James Lundy, Charles Ackerman, and Chrales Huffman.

WHISKEY IS ACCEPTED AS TOOTHACHE REMEDY

SARNIA, Ont., Aug. 28.—Whiskey is a toothache medicne, it was proved in the local Police Court and the ruling saved George Rotan, charged under the Ontario Temperance Act with having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling from a $200 fine. Following the evidence of Provincial Detective Airy, who told of the finding of a bottle of liquor in the car of the defendant, Rotan told the court that he owned the whiskey which was found in the pocket of his car, and stated that he was using it as a toothache medicine. Magistrate Gorman accepted his story and dismissed the charge.

OSHAWA "OVER-PARKED."

Oshawa Park Commission "stands pat" on its notice to the South Ontario Agricultural Society to vacate Alexandra Park. If that decision is definitely maintained, the Oshawa Fair will very likely be a thing of the past after a year or two, for to secure an entirely new site and new buildings would be too expensive an undertaking. It looks to be a case of "killing the goose that lays the golden egg," for no one will deny that Oshawa Fair means a great deal to the business men of the town. Mayor Stacey, of Oshawa, says the town is getting to be "over-parked."—Whitby Chronicle.

TRUE GENTLENESS.

True gentleness is founded on a sense of what we owe to Him who made us, and to the common nature which we all share. It arises from reflections on our own failings and wants and from just views of the condition and duty of men. It is native feeling heightened and improved by principle.—Blair.

CLAIMS HE CAN RAISE THE DEAD.

Paris Surgeon Has Created Sensation in the French Capital.

PARIS, August 30.—Resurection from the dead is no longer merely a Biblical legend, but an authenticated fact, according to the celebrated French surgeon Tuffier, who asserts that a heart which has stopped beating can be reanimated.

"Injections of andrenalin in the cardical cavity," says Dr. Tuffier, "may restore life to a heart already dead. The heart may also be kept beating artificially for a certain length of time by means of massage or certain chemical excitants."

Dr. Tuffier's statements have created a great sensation in Paris, where medical circles are discussing the possibilities of saving lives by artificial heart stimulation just as is now practised by artificial breathing.

Dr. Tuffier also claims that a man can live for years with a bullet in his heart. In fact, says the eminent surgeon, the heart is far from being the fragile organ it is generally supposed to be. Delicate operations, he claims, can be performed in the heart tissues without mortal effect.

CANADA'S IMPORTS AND EXPORTS ALMOST BALANCE.

(Canadian Press).

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—Canada's exports and imports almost balance, as far as shown by a summary of the trade of Canada for the twelve months ending July 31, as prepared by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The total imports are valued at about a billion and a quarter, and exports exceed this amount by a little more than eleven millions. In 1918 the exports exceeded the imports by five hundred and twenty-one millions, and last year by four hundred and two millions. Therefore the unfavourable trade balance which his distinguished Canada's trade during the war years is in process of disappearance.

R. M. GLOVER, MANAGER

TRIED TO SUICIDE IN MORRISBURG JAIL.

CORNWALL, Ont., Aug. 28. — Orvall Duval, aged 19, Mariatown, was brought to the county jail here a few days ago, having been committed to stand his trial on a charge of theft. The young man was in the employ of Miles Marcellus of Dunbar, and is alleged to have decamped a few days ago with $23 of his employers' cash. In Iroquois he was arrested by Constable Burnett of Morrisburg. He was taken to the latter town where he was locked up. While under detention there he was presented by a friend with a bottle of ice water for drinking purposes. During the night he broke the bottle using the pieces in an attempt to commit suicide but only succeeded in inflicting a number of flesh wounds in his throat. His wounds were attended to by Dr. Mulloy and will not prove to be serious. He appeared before William Eager, the police magistrate, at Morrisburg, for a preliminary hearing and was committed to jail here for trial.

TO RAISE FUR-BEARING ANIMALS FOR THEIR PELTS.

A brand new industry for this part of the country is being started just outside the town limits. Mr. Lewis Colin, from near Pittsburg, Pa., has a property on the old Bracebridge Road, and intends to take up the business of raising fur-bearing animals for their pelts. Mr. Colin has had previous experience in this line, but his venture in Muskoka will be watched with interest.—Gravenhurst Banner.

INVESTIGATED ASSASSINATION THE ROMANOFPS

LATE REPORTS SUBSTANTIATE THE ORIGINAL ACCOUNT OF CRIME.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Aug. 28.— All possible doubts that the former Emperor Nicholas of Russia and his family were assassinated in the basement of their prison at Ekaterinburg seem to be dispelled by accounts of two independent investigators which are published here. Both writers agree on important details of the story stating that the victims numbered eleven. They were the former Emperor, wife son and four daughters, Dr. Botkin and three servants. Yurovski, their jailor, arranged the assasination, which was carried out by twelve soldiers.

Story by Capt. McCullagh's says all the party except Nicholas were on their knees crossing themselves as Yurovski shouted the order for the execution of "Nicholas Romanoff bloody and all his family." The former Czar then steped quickly in front of his wife and children, saying something that could not be heard and was shot by Yurovski. The remainder of the party were shot down with revolvers and later the soldiers bayonetted the bodies, he said. Lenine has made Yurovski commissioner of insurance for the province of Ekaterinburg and the murderer now lives in the most handsome house in the town. Even the Bolshevik of the town, however, are declared to shun him. On the square overlooking Nicholas' last prison the Bolshevik local government has placed a large sign bearing the words, "Square of National Vengeance."

U.S. WILL BID FOR FOREIGN TRADE

ADMIRAL BENSON CHALLENGES NATIONS SEEKING TO BAR AMERICAN MERCHANT MARINE.

WASHINGTON. Aug. 27.—A militant announcement that the United States will vigorously seek its share of the carrying business of the world's ocean trade was made here by Admiral Benson, chairman of the Shipping Board. It breathed defiance both to the Japanese and to the British.

Admiral Benson especially denied that in the recent Harriman-Hamburg-American agreement the United States is joining in a compact with Germany in a trade war against Great Britain. The Admiral's statement is especially frank and charges the excess of British propaganda in the United States to create the impression that the Jones shipping law will do more to disturb British-American relations than any law now on the American statute books. This propaganda, Admiral Benson says, "is an insult to every red blooded American." Continuing Admiral Benson says:

"Certain British propagandists seem to be under the delusion that the United States is still a British colony. That feeling is unfortunately fostered by a spineless type of American, happily not numerous, who believes the peace of the world and the dignity of the United States can be best preserved by kowtowing to Great Britain at every turn. It ought to be made plain that the United States has become one of the important maritime powers of the world and that we will maintain and protect our merchant marine and foster American commerce in American bottoms against any and all nations.

"We do this by legitimate means, openly and fairly, and not by separate trade war compacts with other nations. Such cases often lead to war.

"Trade wars are deplorable. I sincerely hope we shall have none, but we must protest and will protest against the acts of any nation aimed at strangling the foreign trade of the United States of the development of our merchant marine.

"It is charged that in the Harriman Hamburg-American agreement we are joining with Germany in a trade war against Great Britain. Are those who make this charge aware that Great Britain has chartered to Germany many of the former German vessels to compete with us for German trade? The United States has not and will not take the initiative in measures that are frankly acts of trade war. Neither will we submit to insulting restrictions by any foreign nation.

"We seek a fair field in our competition with other nations for foreign trade, but we refuse to submit to other disabilities. If such restrictions are imposed we will fight them, and we have the means to fight them successfully.

"What I resent most is the underhand means that are being taken to hamper the growth of our merchant marine and the development of our foreign trade. A short time ago a Japanese official called on me to protest against certain provisions of the Jones law. I replied that he evidently considered I was unaware of means now being taken by his nation to hamper our trade in the Orient. He threatened a rate war on the part of Japan. I showed him that we could cut rates until every Japanese vessel was driven from the seas. He then departed."

WATCH YOUR GUMS— BLEEDING A SIGN OF TROUBLE

Medical science knows how serious is the sign of bleeding gums. For it knows that tender and bleeding gums are the fore-runners of Pyorrhea, that dread disease which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

If the disease is unchecked, the gum-line recedes, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the Pyorrhea poisons generated at their base—poisons which seep into the system and wreck the health. They cause rheumatism, nervous disorders, anaemia, and many other ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums. Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult your dentist immediately for special treatment.

MATURE FORESTS BEING WIPED OUT

ADVOCATES EXPENDITURE OF $1,000,000 ANNUALLY FOR PROTECTION.

NEW LONDON, N. H., August 27.—An expenditure of $1,000,000 a year for the protection of the American forests against the $30,000,000 a year fire loss was advocated here by Chas. Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry Association, in addressing a conference of foresters, owners, paper, pulp men and lumbermen. He also urged a $2,00,000 a year apropriation for the acquisition of forest land by the government for the purpose of growing timber to replace our rapidly disappearing supplies."

Mr. Pack spoke before the meeting of the Society for the protection of New Hampshire forests.

Government Should Act.

"Our mature forests are not only being wiped out by destructive conflagrations as well as by numerous small fires but these fires also prevent the natural reforestation of hundreds of thousands of cut over land," he said. "Our direct loss in timber by these fires is $30,000,000 a year. Altogether there are 315,000,000 acres of state and privately owned forest land in the protection of which the government should cooperate. At present half of this vast area is wholly unprotected and protection for the other half is entirely inadequate. Legislation authorizing the government to spend $1,000,000 annually in cooperation with the states for fire protection is immediately needed.

Much Money Needed.

"There should be immediate completion of the original programme for the protection of watersheds of navigable streams by spending $1,000,000 a year in acquiring 1,000,000 acres in New England, 1,000,000 acres in the Southern Applacians and forest lands in the principal forest regions.

"Speaking for the American Forestry Association I can say without reserve that the Association is heartily in favor of the prompt enactment of legislation along these lines.

An expenditure of over $350,000 is required to stage and prepare the Canadian National Exhibition each year, much of which goes for special attractions.

STORIES OF EASY WEALTH IN KANSAS WHEAT BELT FROM VOLUNTEER CROPS

HUGE YIELDS SPRUNG INTO BEING FROM SEEDS WHICH FELL IN PREVIOUS HARVESTING.

(Canadian Press.)

TOPEKA, Kansas, August 27.—Stories of sudden wealth in the Kansas wheat belt are numerous this year, due to the unusual acreage of "volunteer wheat," a crop grown from seeds which fall in the previous harvesting. Officially estimated there was 1,500,000 acres of volunteer wheat in Kansas this year, or about a sixth of the total harvested acreage. This wheat yielded probably 40,000,000 bushels or representing a monetary value of about $100,000,000. The total Kansas crop of wheat is estimated officially at 150,000,000 bushels.

The large acreage of volunteer wheat is due to the fact that a great deal of this acreage was deserted as wheat land by the owners after last year's none too bounti,ful crop had been harvested. The 1919 acreage was in excess of 11,000,000, by far the record for any state in the union. A wet fall caused the kernals of wheat which had fallen to the ground during the harvesting, to germinate.

Ideal Growing Weather.

Finding the "volunteer" crop making a stand, farmers did not disturb the growth, and, with ideal wheat growing weather this spring, the volunteer wheat made yields fully as bountiful as the rest of the crop.

Innumerable stories of "deserted acreages," producing $5,000 to $25,000 worth of wheat come from Western Kansas where the bulk of the volunteer wheat was grown. Others tell of farmers who purchased farms this year and paid for them with the returns of this year's wheat harvest. Illustrating the "sudden wealth" general throughout the Western Kansas counties, where land has been cheap and favourable seasons few and far between, a recent canvass of wheat yields in the vicinity of Oakley, a small town 60 miles east of the Colorado line, in Logan County, showed at least 50 farmers whose wheat crops this year are worth more than $50,000 each; at least 25 have more than $75,000 of wheat each, and every farmer has a good crop. Thirteen counties, most of them of North-west Kansas, this year are yielding 43,701,637 bushels of wheat ,according to the latest official estimate by the State Board of Agriculture.

One Big Drawback.

The one big drawback to the Kansas wheat growers' prosperity this year is the lack of facilities in which to transport his wheat to the market centres. Cars still are scarce, especially in the central and western parts of the state, but the situation is not as desperate as it was two months ago, grain dealers report.

Favourable summer rains have practically assured a big crop in Kansas this season. The crop has been officially estimated at 140,000,000 bushels and the official forecasters now assert that the continued favourable weather means the yield will amount still higher. The Kansas weather bureau here reported that it is the first year in its 33 years' existence that Kansas had "bumper" wheat and corn crops the same year. A banker who has lived in Kansas 52 years, is authority for the statement that in that time such a favourable crop combination never before occurred.

Similar conditions prevail with the oats and barley crops which have been harvested. The state raised 20,000,000 bushels of barley — four times the average anual yield of the last 20 years.

Alfalfa and grain sorghums, to which millions of acres are devoted in Kansas, likewise are producing bountiful crops. Kaw Valley potato growers report one of the best crops ever grown. As one editor of Western Kansas puts it: "The horn of plenty appears to have been dumped right into the lap of Kansas this year."

An electric tower in the centre of the grounds will be among the new night devices of the Canadian National Exhibition.

RENT PROFITEERING.

Charges of profiteering in rent have been many and vigorous throughout the country, and the defence made by the landlords has been equally spirited. The whole question may be investigated if the Board of Commerce is given the necessary authority as suggested by the Chief Commissioner of the Board, Chairman W. White. At present the Board has no power to investigate rents and there has been no opportunity of an official inquiry. It is in the interests of all concerned that such an investigation should be conducted. If property owners are only making a reasonable profit from their investments as they claim they can surely have no objection to have this fact established so that they may be freed from the charge of profiteering. On the other hand if the present rent charges are exorbitant and tenants are being made the victims of unfair demands it is to the public interest that the real facts shall be brought out and a remedy provided, if possible. Chairman White is at present in Ottawa and it is to be hoped that the government will recognize the desirability of conferring the necessary powers upon the commission.

THE U.F.O. WAY.

The U.F.O. intend to see that their representatives in Toronto and Ottawa are made to "toe the mark," declares the Farmers' official organ and adds, "We do not believe in the infallibility of any representative or any individual and the farmers of this province intend to advise their elected members to the fullest possible extent, co-operate wth them and in turn be advised and consulted by their members." In other words the statement of policy made by the Farmers' Sun means that the farmers have no confidence in their members and intend to take no chances with them. They propose that the members shall be little more than rubber stamps to be operated by the leaders of the farmers' clubs. A member who from his contact with other members and the widened outlook he secures from the nature of his position, is likely to have a broader view on public questions than his constituents, is not to be allowed to use his judgment or profit from his experience. If the U. F.O. is to have its way the members need only have a voice with which to vote—brains, initiative, judgment are unnecessary qualities.

THE FUEL SITUATION.

Although the hot weather of the past few weeks makes the consideration of the fuel question an unseasonable task, yet the fact remains that there is a serious shortage in Ontario and there is apparently no relief in sight. Some time ago the Railway Commission were given power by the Federal Government to deal wth the fuel question, but beyond a statement from Mr. Carvell that there is nothing to be worried about the commission has been silent as to its plans for dealing wth the question. It is all very well for Mr. Carvell to say that there is no occasion for alarm, but the people want something more substantial than that in view of the statements published by Mr. H. A. Harrington, the Provincial Fuel Controller, whose latest report shows that up to the present time Ontario has only received half of its normal supply of coal. From April 1st to August 15 only 2,169,597 tons of bituminous and 920,000 tons of anthracite coal have been received in Ontario, whereas the normal supply for that period is 4,-110,000 tons of bituminous coal and 1,650,000 tons of anthracite. How can people carry out Mr. Carvell's advice not to worry when figures like these are staring them in the face?

THE CHALLENGE OF LABOR.

It is not unlikely that Mr. Smillie prides himself on the blunt directness of his diplomacy in stating publicly that "the miners are determined that the nation shall own the mines and the time has come when the present exploiters will have to give them up." This plain declaration, issued at the very time when the miners are balloting on the question of a general strike is clear evidence that the object of the miners is political rather than economic.

Economically, the case for the miners in Great Britain is far weaker than it was three months ago. Figures of output recently made public indicate that there was a reduction in the second quarter of the year of 2,-278,000 tons and in value of nearly $24,000,000 at the normal rate of exchange. There was dissatisfaction among the miners when the Government on May 15 increased the price of industrial coal by four shillings and house coal by fourteen shillings. Yet the figures produced by the Government in support of these advances showed that the labor cost per ton had risen from $1.51 in 1913-1914 to $5.55 in the quarter ending March 31, while it is admitted that the labor cost has increased from fifteen to thirty-five cents per ton since that time. With largely decreased output, due mainly to the abnormal increase of stoppages and idle days and an advance in labor costs, the time seems inopportune to force both a reduction in price and to demand, under threat of a general strike, an increase in wages.

Yet the handling of the case for the coal miners shows evidence of considerable shrewdness on Mr. Smillie's part. He has made a bid for public support by linking the interests of the consumer with those of the miners. He is well aware—and his colleagues in the Labor movement are well aware—that there has been well founded sentiment among the general public, who are vitally interested in industrial disputes, that the strikes and threats of strikes of the past year are mainly due to the selfish ambition of the strike-mongers ,regardless of the inconvenience or pecuniary loss which the general public is forced to suffer It has been openly charged that the desire of the miners in their negotiations has been to raise their own wages, rather than to reduce the cost of living. The two-fold demand now put forward will, to some extent, mitigate that feeling, for it is not in human nature to be incensed with a proposal which, if successful, will lessen materially the cost of one of the staples of living.

The main question which the miners have raised is as to the disposal of the surplus realized by the sale of export coal, which is estimated to bring a sum of over $300,000,000 into the public exchequer. The miners want to divide this among themselves, with a small share for the consumer, and there are, doubtless, many men, unskilled in the intricacies of public finance, who will prefer the lowering of their coal bills by three and a half dollars a ton to the indirect relief of the taxpayers by the action of the Government.

Yet it seems as if the miners have overlooked the one great factor that will defeat their own aims, or have minimized its strength. Britain is weary of war and strife. The Labor party, which is protesting against the renewal of the blockade against Russia and against military intervention in Poland, cannot consistently take steps that hold the menace of an industrial blockade of Great Britain and the possibility of civil strife.

Mr. Smillie, Mr. Clynes, Mr. Hodge and other leaders, some of whom hold even more radical opinions, have during the past few days, in connection with the Polish-Russian negotiations, palpably abandoned their social and industrial sphere and have used the threat of a general strike in an attempt to influence British foreign policy.

They talk glibly of the rule of the proletariat and attempt to subvert the constitutional government of the country by strike threats.

Britain is war-weary, but these men mistake the sentiment and the character of the great silent British public if they imagine that by threats of coercion or by shadowy promises the liberties hammered out on the anvil of stoical determination for a thousand years will be bartered away for the mess of pottage, mixed in Russia and stirred in the pot of Communism.—Montreal Star.

PROF. FORSTER AT ST. LUKE'S CHURCH

PREACHED AN INSPIRING SERMON AT MORNING'S SERVICE.

In St. Luke's Church yesterday morning Professor A. Haire-Forster, of the Chicago Theological College, preached an eloquent sermon touching on the contrast between the beauty of nature and the evil in human society. His text was St. Luke 10, "Go and do likewise."

"The beauty of nature," Professor Haire-Forster said in part, "is found in small as well as great things, and even in places man seldom penetrates. It seems," he said, "as though beauty had a value of its own to God, and also seems as if God cared more for beauty than for goodness. But we notice God has a free hand in producing beauty, but cannot produce goodness without our help.

Purpose of the World.

"So perhaps the purpose of the world is to make the goodness of society equal the beauty of nature. It may be noticed that an imperfect world is necessary in order to produce beauty of character. If the world were perfect there would be no testing such as producing strong character. Perhaps then God's chief need is increased production of goodness so that goodness and harmony of human society may at length correspond to the beauty and harmony of nature."

He pledged himself, if elected president, to make immediate effort with the advice of the ablest men of both political parties, to form such an association ,either by "putting teeth in the Hague court, or by revising the covenant to protect national aspirations."

VII

Recognition was so swift that she had no time to protect herself. She put her head down hastily—the one betraying movement she should not have made—and fled up the platform. Mrs. Bracken stood puzzled, looking after her. The next moment she saw Monte.

"Why, what are you doing here?" she said, shaking hands.

"Going up to New York," he said hastily.

"But wasn't that Mrs. Forrester?" she said, glancing up the platform at the little figure seeking the obscurity.

"That? No indeed!" he said readily.

"Are you alone, Monte?" she said abruptly.

"Absolutely—let me take your things."

"John will attend to them," she said, surrendering her bag to the footman who came up.

They stood a moment, awkwardly.

"Are you going to New York?" she repeated slowly.

"Why, yes! Is there anything surprising in that?" he said with a forced laugh.

The light was on his face, and her glance hung on his eyes. He did not dare to turn away.

She hesitated, took a step, and he began to breathe freer. All at once she turned and took his arm.

"I want to talk to you," she said quietly. "Walk up the platform with me."

He stood without moving.

"I had rather not."

"Why?"

"I cannot tell you."

"What I have to say is to be said to Mrs. Forrster also," she said with decision. "Come."

Amy was at the foot of a great telegraph pole as they came up. She did not turn at the sound of their steps but put her head down and swayed against the fence. So abject a picture of mortification and shame was she that Mrs. Bracken in pity hesitated a moment. Then she went to her and threw her arm about her shoulder.

"It is I, Amy."

"Oh, go away, please go away!" she said desperately.

"I think God has directed me to you," said Mrs. Bracken solemnly.

"It is quite evident what you are doing."

"You are making a mistake," she cried, cut to the quick. "I have left my husband's house with his knowledge and consent."

"Then you should do it alone," said Claire Bracken, more gently, "and not in this mad public way."

"Mrs. Bracken, you have no right to judge me—"

"The way you resented what you thought I might have thought, ought to open your eyes," she answered, without yielding. "And if you care nothing for your own reputation—" She hesitated. "This means, of course, that you are going to marry Monte?"

They stood faintly in the obscurity, straining their eyes—like three white shadows.

"That is, of course, what it means," she said.

"Then, Amy dear, if you are taking his name you should protect it as though it were your own."

"Oh, don't—don't try to stop me now!" The cry was wrung from her. All the long days of deliberation and soul-anguish were useless now—if the thing had to be again delayed, if she must pass through another day of doubt.

Claire took her hand in hers, bending toward her like a mother to seek the truth in the face of a wayward child.

"You child, do you know what you are donig—are you capable of knowing? You want to be free—but do you want to face all the ugly stories that will spring up now?"

"Oh, you don't understand! I must do one thing or ther other—and do it now! I can't fight it all out all over again. I want to be honest with myself and—and with him!" she cried bitterly.

"With Monte? Then don't you see that you are sacrificing him?" said Claire firmly, as Monte began to protest.

Amy had not meant that. It struck her as tragically grotesque that Monte should have taken it to himself. She had been thinking of her husband, the shadow that was at her side, blending with her shadow.

"I say, Claire, you've no right to say that!"

"You know I'm telling the truth, whether you'll admit it or not to her," she swept on. "You are a gentleman born and bred, whatever you may have done, and you don't wish your name and the name of your wife dragged into every filthy sheet!"

"One thing—you may have misunderstood something I said. After I was engaged to Allan—I met Monte, and—well, it was a question—if I had broken that engagement Allan could not have stood up alone. We knew it—both of us. That was the decision to make!

"Hush! I feel like a criminal!" she said, drawing back—and though her tortured imagination she remembered only the look on Monte's face when he had answered Claire's request—immediately, reverently, without thought of any one else. What was she, to replace such an deal in Monte Bracken's memory!

The next day the world was torn asunder with the catastrophe of a colossal war. The first pages were filled with headlines that cried out the tramp of mustering armies; Austria attacking, Germany, declaring war, France hastily mobilizing, England deliberating, Russia moving ponderously. And on the fourth page, crowded out by the tempest in the air, a bare half-column of what a week before would have been featured on the front page:

"DRAMA IN SOCIETY
ACCIDENT OR MURDER

At Chilton late last night the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Dellabarre were recovered from the bay."

VIII

It was on the second morning after Amy's leaving Andrew Forrester was in the library alone, sunk in a great chair, hands clasped before him, staring at a mass of papers on the table, which he had not touched. At any moment Amy would return to take up the comedy of respectability which they would play a little longer before the word. So much had happened in these last forty-eight hours, so much had crowded in against his waking brain, that he could not realize clearly the full measure of any one grief. All was in a daze, through which he tried weakly, patiently, and wearily to see clear. Amy had gone away publicly with Monte Bracken—he had her letter there in his pocket—read and re-read—the servants knew, every one must know that. But now she was coming back. She hadn't eloped. She had been with Claire all the time, it seemed. What did it mean, and why was she coming back? Respectability, the great god Respectability, the god of all her kind, the god of Irma Dellabarre.

He passed his hand nervously across his eyes, to shut out a picture that intruded upon them—a pier in the mist of the night, a boat with the water widening, and a woman's voice in fear. He must not think of that, or he would not be able to hold down his nerves. For if he continued to think, he must answer that fearful, obsessing question which had been beating against his brain ever since that fatal night.

"Was it an accident?"

"But I—I am not responsible!" he took up wearily. "There is no reason why I should torture myself!"

He had not affected Irma Dellabarre's life the swaying of a hair. She had loved him no more than she loved the man whom at the moment she wished to love her. He had been the dupe, the fool who had plunged from one chasm into another. Yet the retribution to her had been swift and horrible. He could not think of Irma as they had brought her in, as he had been forced to look upon her. He had loved her and then he had despised her, and yet her death had seared into his soul.

"Was it an accident, or was it through mistaken jealousy of him that Rudolph Dellabarre had done this thing?"

There was no refuge from pain but in other trials. For there was more. The unbelievable had happened. The world had gone mad. The Stock Exchange had gone mad, and in three hours' panic everything he had had been swept away. All was to begin over. Of all the phantoms which oppressed him, this was the least. There was an acute satisfaction in the completeness of his isolation, in the knowledge that nothing could be added to the cup of bitterness and failure which he had filled with his own hands.

Outside he heard the motor. In a moment Amy would be here. Ordinarily he would have shrunk from the unnecessary pain of the meeting. Now he waited it indifferently—the measure had been exceeded—he could feel nothing more.

She came in and shut the door behind her, before he realized her presence. Then he got up slowly and said,

"I beg pardon—I didn't hear you."

The sound of his voice shocked her. She came forward, peering up into his face, so close that she could have put out her hand and touched him. He straightened up with a fighting return of pride that could not quite replace the settled sadness of his face.

She was shocked by his appearance. The room shocked her, too—the chairs out of place, the litter of envelopes spilling on the floor, the yellow telegrams trailing to the fireplace. It was so shockingly unlike the Andrew she had known. She found it harder to explain to him than she had thought. And yet she must—to have it over and to be away. She stood fighting down a desire for tears, plucking at her gloves.

"I am sorry I went away as I did," she said hurriedly, in a low tone. "I thought it was the right thing to do; I didn't realize what would have been said."

"Glad you came back," he said, nodding. "It would have been a mistake. For I want you to get the divorce—"

"No—" she broke in.

"Yes," he said, "you have been my wife—you have borne my name. Some things we can't forget. I want always to protect you. There mustn't be the slightest imputation against you. I insist on that. I ask it."

He had begun firmly, he ended gently, the gentleness that comes with an overwhelming sorrow; for sorrow and happiness, in their fullest realization, are alike cleansing to the soul.

"Oh, Andrew!" she said, and turned away hastily.

"I am very glad that you came back in time."

"That's The Best Looking Suit He's Had Yet."

FATHER looks approvingly up from his paper at his son and heir as Mother slowly turns him around for inspection.

"He does look nice, doesn't he," she answers fondly. "I made up my mind to get him a good suit this time so I bought Wearbetter. The others he had were a little cheaper but they lasted no time at all—and he looked horrid in them!"

Father nods his head.

"It never pays to buy cheap clothes. You may save a dollar or so on the price but, when you figure up what we have had to pay in the past because that young man was so hard on clothes, you can see we'd have saved money if we had always fitted him with Wearbetters."

FIGHTING CHOLERA EPIDEMIC IN CHINA

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, August 27.—American Baptist medical missionaries and students from the Union University Missionary Medical School are aiding the Chinese authorities in fighting a severe cholera epidemic in Chengtu, Sze-chuan Province, West China.

W. P. Lipphard, secretary of the American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society, has just received a message from Dr. W. R. Morse, of Chengtu, stating that the provincial officials called upon the French doctors of the Pasteur Institute and Dr. Morse and Dr. Allan, of the China Medical Missionary Association, to help fight the epidemic. The Chinese officials accepted the advice of these medical men and placarded Chengtu with instructions for preventive measures. Dr. Morse's message stated:

"We are here where plague and epidemic and pestilences begin. Were Asiatic cholera entering San Francisco, the American nation would spend millions gladly to stop it, but here, for hundreds or thousands, we can kill the trouble before it can raise its head away from home. We are doing what we can with an inadequate force and little money, but we are putting our schools and pupils to a very real test and we'll win out!"

Secretary Lipphard stated that as a result of the Baptist New World Movement it is hoped to enlarge the medical school and hospital at Chengtu, and also to send approximately 85 missionaries to the several missions in China during the next four years.

A CHEQUE CAME THROUGH TO-DAY

AFTERMATH OF POLICE COURT CASE IN CAMPBELLFORD.

The Inland Revenue Department here have received a cheque for $219 from George A. Payne, magistrate at Campbellford. This is the aftermath of the conviction of Mrs. Hannah Ellen Young, of Myersburg, by Magistrate Payne in Campbellford on Thursday morning last on the charge of "concealing an apparatus suitable for the manufacture of spirituous beverages." Mr. W. R. Parker, deputy collector of the Inland Revenue Department, conducted the prosecution and fined her $200 and $19 costs, which were finally determined. After considering during the night whether she would pay the fine or spend six months at the Cobourg gaol, she chose the former, the cheque for the full amount coming through to the local office in Saturday's mail.*

STRIKE ON THE TRANSIT SYSTEM

BROOKLYN RESIDENTS HAD PLEASURE OF WALKING TO WORK.

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—More than one million Brooklyn residents, who depend largely upon the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company to take them to business, to-day were reduced to improvised and even primitive methods of conveyance by strike by company employes that virtually paralyzed the entire transit systems, subways, elevated road and trolleys. The strike went into effect Sunday morning after the men had previously voted to postpone action pending further attempts to adjust wage demands.

SIKHS OCCUPY BAKUBA.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, August 30.—Bakuba, a town 30 miles north-east of Bagdad, which was taken by Arab tribesmen recently, was occupied by Sikh troops on Saturday, according to a despatch from Bagdad. Only slight resistance was offered by the Arabians in the town, it is said.

Elsewhere in Mesopotamia the situation is without change.

SAWMILL OWNERS IN PETERBORO COUNTY REMINDED OF THE TAX

MR. W. H. BULLER, INLAND REVENUE OFFICER, RETURNS FROM A LONG TRIP TO THE NORTH COUNTRY.

The duties of Mr. W. H. Buller, Inland Revenue Officer, carry him at certain periods far away from the comfortable, commodious offices in the Customs building. His objectives are generally "stills" or "taxpayers," but since the former business does not flourish as it did a year or two ago, and the government put the collection of the luxury and sales tax in this district under him last May his trips now are practically all made to stir up delinquent storekeepers, wholesalers and manufacturers

A northern trip, with this object last week carried him far afield but the results he anticipated will warrant the time and trouble involved. One day he spent in Kinmount, the next day he motored through to Maple Lake, Carnarvon, Minden, Gelert, Lochlin Donald and on to Haliburton. Besides calling on all the stores in these places and impressing on the proprietors the necessity of making speedy and accurate tax returns he paid a flying visit to all the saw mills in the district. If these mills will sell their lumber locally they are required to pay a 2 p.c. sales tax, if sold to a wholesaler only 1 p.c. Mr. Buller explained fully to the managers the tax and how to make the required returns. On the following day, Gooderham, Tory Hill and Wilberforce were visited with the same object and the next day the revenue officer returned to Peterborough.

Road Bad.

Mr. Buller states that the returns of the general stores are not large because of the few lines of taxable goods they carry, but the saw mills needed stirring up for they carry on a business that is not inconsiderable

The roads are very bad in sections particularly around Wilberforce, he states, but all through the northern country hundreds of cars, including many Americans, are passed on the road, mostly laden with camp equipment. Haliburton is seething with tourists, who are attracted by the excellent trout fishing in that district. To accomomdate the week-end crowds that flock up from Toronto a special train is run on Saturday afternoon from the city and reports state that the train is generally crowded with Torontonians eager to get away from the stifle and roar of the city to the northern vastness of rock and water with the manifold pleasures to be enjoyed there height of the battle, two of the wounded died to-day.

A feature of the rioting was the extent of the destruction of property by incendiarism. The fire brigade had an especially hard time during the night in fighting the flames. Their work was rendered hideous by the constant rattle of machine guns. The Sinn Feiners were in strong force, and appeared to be well supplied with arms and ammunition.

The greates tof bitterness was displayed during the fighting. There was a great amount of wrecking of houses and the burning of furniture, both indoors and on the streets. The yells of the mob, and the shrieks of women and children and the groans of the injured were audible throughout the fighting. When the rioting was at its worst women could be seen, clad in their night attire, rushing from their homes attempting to lead their families from the danger zone

GIVEN UP HOPE.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—"There has been no change in the Premier's decision and there will be none," was the answer of the Premier's office when asked whether Lloyd George had ordered the release of Lord Mayor MacSweney, the Irish hunger striker, from Brixton Prison.

All day long crowds of people waited autside of Brixton Prison for news from the cot where the Lord Mayor lingered through the day, at one time going into a collapse, from which he was revived with difficulty.

When his sister Mary visited him this morning, he recognized her at once, but could only utter a few whispered words. She asked the doctor how long he expected the Lord Mayor to live. He shook his head gravely and said that he could not say.

Emerging from the prison, Miss MacSweney told her friends. "The news is the worst. He is sinking fast. I cannot say that he will live another day." Many rosaries were produced and the group prayed.

FRUIT BASKETS VERY SCARCE

LOCAL FRUIT DEALERS FIND IT DIFFICULT TO SECURE CONTAINERS.

At the present time there is a great scarcity of fruit baskets in this vicinity, the situation being more acute in all parts of Ontario than at any time during the season. This information was given to the Examiner by Mr. W. J. Oke this morning. Mr. Oke stated that every measure was being taken to make the supply hold out. The growers are saving their baskets as much as possible and using them over and over. One local fruit wholesaler declared that he did not think he could secure any baskets to-day anywhere in the province. Fortunately he secured a supply last fall before the box factory was destroyed by fire and this has been a great factor in tiding the local growers over the season.

ABSENT RELATIVES REPRESENTED BY G.W.V.A. AT FUNERAL

LATE JOHN J. RING BURIED WITH MILITARY HONOURS ON SUNDAY.

The late John J. Ring, who was drowned in the Otonabee River last Thursday evening, was buried with military honors at St. Peter's cemetery on Sunday afternoon. The funeral was held under the auspices of the Great War Veterans' Association from their club rooms on Murray street. Although Mr. Ring's home is in Scotland and he has been boarding for some time in Peterboro, and was practically alone in this country, nearly two hundred members of the G. W. V. A., including their band, attended the funeral. The body had remained at Comstock's undertaking parlours from Friday night, when it was recovered, until Sunday, when it was removed to the Veterans' hall. The funeral proceeded to St. Peter's Cathedral, where the requiem prayers were said by Rev. Father Phelan, who in a short address expressed his admiration of the deep fraternal spirit the War Veterans displayed and of their fidelity to the comradeship that was formed under arms in France. The funeral continued to St. Peter's Cemetery where the burial prayers were said and the last post sounded.

The G.W.V.A. band was practically at full strength and many of the executive and members of the Association attended.

In referring to the late John Ring, Bishop O'Brien on Sunday morning spoke of his exemplary practice of receiving holy communion nearly every Sunday. The sorrow his tragic death brought to his friends and to his relatives so far away would be lightened somewhat by the knowledge that Mr. Ring was prepared to die.

The ceremony of investiture was performed by Bishop O'Brien, of Peterborough. The church was artistically decorated and there was special music for the occasion.

An address of welcome to Bishop O'Brien was delivered by Mr. J. B. McColl, ex-M.P., and Mr. James Bulger delivered an address congratulating Monsignor Murray.

Right Rev. Monsignor Murray has been parish priest in Cobourg for forty-one years of fifty-four in the service of the church.

SUGAR PRICES ARE STILL UP

CUBAN GROWERS BLAMED FOR THE PRESENT HIGH COST.

While the grocers in the city differ materially from a point of the date any drop in sugar will come, all are of the opinion that the date will at least be after the preserving season is over and that when it does come it will not be as great as the public has been led to expect.

Mr. W. H. Hamilton told the Examiner to-day that the factor having the real influence in holding the price is the price of raw sugar. The Cuban growers have become so rich that they don't care whether they sell the crops or not and that while years ago they had to appeal to New York to finance the harvesting of the crop, the refineries now look to the growers. To-day raw sugar which sold some years ago for 2 and cents a pound is bringing 13 and 14 cents. The cost of refining brings the price up to 18 and 19 cents. To this the freight, wholesale and retail profit must be added, bringing the price up to over 22 cents.

Effected Price.

The recent drop of two cents in sugar was due to several speculators sellingout and to the action of the Board of Commerce, which resulted in the fixing of the sugar profits at 2 cetns a pound less.

Wholesalers Stocked.

Another grocer stated that the wholesale men are well stocked with sugar and that while they raised the price on what they had in stock when the raise came they will doubtless hesitate to lower the price and lose money on what they have on hand.

No Drop Yet.

Most of the retail men are selling to-day at the same price as last week, 25 cents a pound, the two cent drop not having effected the city so far.

The Other Side.

A number of householders interviewed state that it is their intention to purchase as little sugar as possible until the price is lowered. 'If the retailers and wholesalers hold their prices up until their present stocks are disposed of they will have to wait a long time for their money," said one consumer. "I am just buying one pound at a time," said another.

SULTAN OF TURKEY WILL NOT LEAD HIS TROOPS

Their Valor not Sufficient to Attack the Nationalists.

Canadian Press.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 30. — The Sultan of Turkey has refused to lead his forces against the Nationalists, declaring that they are too few in number.

The Sultan's forces at present consist of only two battalions. The valour of these was not sufficient to withstand the two days' campaign on the Black Sea coast. They made the landing on Thursday but returned on Saturday, and once more bivouaced on the bathing beaches along the Bosphorus.

PICNIC WAS A SUCCESS.

Over three thousand policy holders of the Metropolitan Life Assurance Company and their friends attended the third annual picnic given by the company on Saturday at the T.A.S. park, and outside of several people being disappointed in not being able to find accommodation, so crowded was the boat, the affair was a complete success.

At 9.30 in the morning the Stoney Lake commenced her hourly trip to and from the T.A.S. park, each time arriving with a capacity boat. Arrived the park the picnicers after lunch entrede whole-heartedly into the sports, for which splendid and suitable prizes were given.

Good Organization.

Every detail was worked out in an admirable manner by the staff of the Metropolitan Life Assurance Company, all went like clock work and everyone's comfort was assured from time of boarding the boat until the return trip was accomplished.

Splendid music was provided on board and at the park by Tucker's orchestra.

Returned by Moonlight.

The ideal weather held out all day and the return trip was made by moonlight at about 10.30.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

SLEEPING PARTNERS.

"Sleeping Partners," the French farce comedy in which Edna Goodrich and a talented company was seen at the Grand on Saturday evening was a production that did considerable skating on thin ice, momentarily threatening to break through, but never meeting with that mishap. It was clever and bright, with a host of witty lines and amusing situations and was staged in perfect style, the New York production down to the last piece of furniture being presented. Miss Goodrich was most successful in the leading feminine role, her beauty and her gowns as well as the cleverness of her acting making her portrayal of the part a very convincing one. She was ably assisted by her associates, notably by Mr. Bernard Thornton who did magnificent work. The other roles were all in good hands and carefully looked after. 'Sleeping Partners" is from the French of Sachas Guitry and was translated by Seymour Hicks.

To-night and to-morrow night, under the direction of Capt. M. W. Plunkett, the Maple Leafs, the concert party of the 4th Canadian Division, will present their successful overseas revue, "Camouflage."

BEGINNER'S LUCK MAKES GIRL RICH IN ONE NIGHT

Beginner's luck favored Mary Grant, the sweet and unsophisticated little novice from a convent ,the first time she tried the roulette wheel at Monte Carlo in "Passions Playground," the First National picture starring Katherine MacDonald, which will be the attraction at the Allen Theatre, beginning to-day. And this luck stayed with Mary until she had made a fortune. It didn't lift her in the eyes of Prince Vanno, however, and it only served to single her out as the victim of a pair of human parasites. That game marked the beginning of some tragic and romantic experiences in the career of Mary. The story is from "The Guests of Hercules," the well known book on Monte Carlo life, by C. N. and A. M. Williamson.

Y.M.C.A. MINSTRELS.

The Y.M.C.A. Minstrels will meet on Thursday evening of this week at 7.45. The dates for the 1920 minstrel show have been set, and the services of Mr. Huycke have again been secured as musical director, which means that there will be no question about the class and high quality of the performance. The tradition has been established that each show must be bigger and better and different from the last, and this will be no exception.

The mixed chorus again will be a feature. All members of last year's east are asked to be present on Thursday evening, as well as any others who wish to take part this year. The positions of end men as well as the solo parts are open to all, and those who are ambitious to appear in the spot light will be given every opportunity.

Remember the date and the hour, Thursday, this week, at 7.45.

Real-Fruit Desserts The Rarest Sort

The only gelatine dessert which has fruit-juice flavors sealed in glass is Jiffy-Jell.

No artificial flavor can take the place of fruit. For Jiffy-Jell the fruit is crushed, condensed and sealed in vials. A bottle of this liquid essence comes in the package. And sugar is used—not saccharine—to sweeten Jiffy-Jell.

Jiffy-Jell comes in ten flavors. Try loganberry and pineapple for desserts. Try lime-fruit flavor for tart salad jell. Try mint for a refreshing mint jell.

A Cross-Arm Brace— And Your Telephone!

"WELL" you may say, "What is a cross-arm brace?"

"What has it to do with me? What do I care if——"

A cross-arm brace is an uninteresting-looking piece of iron. One end is fastened to the telephone pole, the other to the cross-piece to hold it firmly at right angles across the pole.

We use at least two on every pole, and they have increased in price 249% since 1913.

A small item! But only one of scores of the vital parts of a telephone system the costs of which have advanced in like manner.

Here are a few other items:

Batteries	121%
Pole line brackets	275%
Insulators	359%
Poles	136%
Transmitters	257%
Top Pins	204%
Cross-arms	151%
Ground Line	247%

This is but another reason why telephone rates must be increased.

Some Are the Celebrated "Barnet" and Others Are "The Ontario"

Both Are Made by The Renfrew Refrigerator Co.

The "BARNET" has no equal in America. It is constructed with eleven walls and keeps perishable foods longer with less ice than any other Refrigerator on the market. This is not a mere statement, but a fact that has been proven by test.

There is just one Factory where the "BARNET" is made, and that is in Renfrew, Ont., but the "BARNET" is shipped to and sold in every important city in America.

The "ONTARIO" is an eight-walled Refrigerator, constructed by the same maker. It has eight walls, and is lined with white enamel. It is equipped with a siphon that keeps it free from poisonous gases.

Genuinely Handsome Are These New Blouses

One after another we lifted them from their boxes and expressed delight when each was revealed. The materials are Georgette, Tricolette, and Crepe de Chine. There are a goodly number with V and square shaped necks, and Silk or Wool Embroidery, Lace—often metallic—and buttons are much in evidence. Some are priced as low as $6.95 and others as high as $33.95, and many at in-between prices.

At $7.75 there is a very charming model of Georgette that can be had in White, Flesh, or Turquoise. It is collarless, V-necked, and smattered with Silk Embroidery Workings.

FEW CASES IN CHARITY DEPT.

RELIEF OFFICER MILLER ATTRIBUTES CAUSE TO WORK AND PROHIBITION.

Poverty in Peterborough is steadily decreasing, and has been for some time, Mr. F. W. Miller, City Relief Officer, told The Examiner this morning. His department is handling fewer cases than before, and he attributes this to the fact that work is plentiful, wages are high, and in some cases to Prohibition.

Other than cases of want brought about by sickness, the Relief Department has had comparatively few cases to handle.

HAS NOW THROWN HIS CRUTCH AWAY

WEATHERDON SAYS HE IS ENTIRELY FREE OF RHEUMATISM SINCE TAKING TANLAC.

"I feel I ought to let everybody know how Tanlac has relieved me of rheumatism, for I doubt if anyone has suffered worse than I have during the last ten years," said William Weatherdon, of 118 Agricola Street, Halifax, N.S.

"I used to ache all over with pain that seemed to go right to the marrow of my bones and drove me almost frantic. At times I couldn't bend my arms enough to get my coat on, and it was only with great pain and difficulty that I could stoop over at all.

"My feet swelled up so that I was unable to get around with the help of a crutch. My hands were all drawn up so I couldn't use them, and at night my whole body ached so I couldn't sleep.

"The way Tanlac helped me is simply wonderful. I have taken seven bottles altogether and the rheumatism seems to have left my system entirely. To-day I haven't an ache or a pain in my body, and all the stiffness and swelling has left my joints. I no longer need crutches to get about, and although I am working every day, exposed to all kinds of weather, the rheumatism never gives me a bit of trouble. Never in my life have I known a medicine to do what Tanlac has done for me, and I strongly recommend it to all who suffer as I have."

RICH LINGERIE TO BE FAD IN FASHION'S NEW SEASON

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The lower world of fashion will be quite as gorgeous and elaborate for this oncoming season as the upper strata. Do not be confused. We are not saying that the Bowery will go forth swathed in rich garments of metallic lace and brocade that will put even the fashion denizens of Fifth Avenue to shame. The comparison lies between Milady's sumptuous outer garments and the inner layer of intimate "undies" which the stage has taught us to roughly classify as lingerie.

It is no exaggeration to say that a proper inner wardrobe from the epidermis to the outer layer will cost as pretty a penny this year as the suit, coat or dress that conceals all this hidden treasure. Never has there been such a season for riotously rich and lovely lingerie. For the Gotham upper crust it means real jewels old laces, ribbons of great price, handwork involving years of labor in some far-off Eastern land, novel and freakish effects in embroidery and divers trimmings, and—most noticeable of all—a scarcity of background for all this applied wealth.

"Lingerie shall cost much and be little," is the slogan of the inner garment makers. They say that the fitted lines of outer apparel make this shortage of inner materials a necessity and that since lingerie shall be largely absent; what remains shall atone in beauty and richness.

Negligees are the most opulent of all lingerie. Good taste fixes no limit to the money that can be put within these boudoir confections. A leading Fifth avenue house shows a model of heavy, lustrous peach satin with an overdrape of the finest Chantilly lace. Atop of this is a Mandarin jacket of baby blue georgette lined with cloth of silver. Festoons of genuine seed pearls drip from the loose sleeves. The skirt is pantaloon style, and the wearer is guaranteed a ticket of admission to the most exacting harem.

Teddies and nighties favor the vogue of pastel-shaded linens and other fine cotton fabrics. Apple blossom pinks, baby blues, lemon, apple-leaf green, and orchid are favourite colors. These cottons are favored with costly hand-work rather than much applied trimming. One three-figured nightie of flaunts twenty rows of hand-tucking, six bands of drawnwork, about six of a hand embroidered floral motif, and a ribbon drawstring that alone is valued at twenty dollars a year.

The last season's vogue of patterned lingerie which specialized in cerulean-hued bluebirds and butterflies is on the wane—probably because our Bluebird guest has been back on his native shores for some time. Whenever any pattern is used, it is some bizarre, weird creation such as a wriggling green snake, a garmented cannibal, or a bevy of alligators.

Petticoats are almost entirely usurped by pantalets. It is considered very smart for these silken "pettis" to hang an inch or so below the skirt. The most chic effect is considered achieved if the panties are of a vivid contrasting color, berUffled or lace-edged. The bona fide petticoats have substituted deep fringes for ruffled flounces. The fringes are of the self-material and are deemed an aid to perambulation.

The yoke fad of 1830 is back in the vogue. It is prophesied that crocheting will step into the limelight once more as the most popular feminine indoor sport. However, the most elite yokes are of rare old lace or embroideries. Scalloped effects are very good, especially if the scallops are worked in some brilliant color.

(Canadian Press)

CALGARY, August 30.—From five to eight hundred men are needed in the mines in the Drumheller District at once.

Paris Fashions In False Teeth

Paris, Mar 8.—We may safely predict for the coming season that styles in artificial teeth will include their being worn snug-fitting and smoothly cushioned in place by means of the dental plate comfort-powder Corega, procurable at drug stores and dental dealers.

This antiseptic adhesive powder gives a pleasing sense of security to wearers of false teeth. It allows complete mastication of foods with ease, relaxes facial muscles and prevents sore gums.—Adv.

CAT AND CAMEL JOIN IN NEW DANCE STEP

KANSAS TEACHER UPHELD

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—After further discussion of the ban on dancing prevailing in the recreation rules of the Methodist church and citing instances of injustice, the delegates to the Convention of the National Association of Masters of Dancing at the Hotel Astor yesterday set about to create new steps for the followers of Terpsichore. All days long they worked away, singly and collectively.

Following these endeavors such dances as the Cat Step, Camel Walk, Chic Walk, Fox Trot Artistique and the Triangle One Step were announced and the delegates were optimistic about the future of their creations. Interest in dancing is much greater since prohibition, they say, and they are eager to furnish variety for patrons.

The Cat Step is a rather unusual dance. You step along rather cautiously for three or four steps or more and then turn to right and left with equal caution. These fundamental rules can be elaborated upon, of course, but one less adept can dance it with greatest ease. In the Camel Walk the position of the dancers is the most imoprtant thing. They must stand very straight and the ballet step is incorporated. The Chic Walk is a modified one step, such as the French dance ,and was inspired by the way so many of the soldiers danced when they returned home.

At the morning session the executive board heard the grievance of Miss Edna L. Shaw of Wichita, Kan., who charged that she was being denied the right to transfer her membership from one Methodist church in that city to another, solely because she was a dancing teacher. After hearing Miss Shaw the board unanimously adopted a resolution calling on the amusement profession to fight what the board called narrow-minded policy not laid down by John Wesley. The resolution follows:

"Whereas, Miss Edna Shaw, a newspaper woman, in 1918 was a member in good standing at Grace Methodist Episcopal church at Wichita, Kan., where she had been superintendent for three years of the primary department of the Sunday school and otherwise active, and

"Whereas, Miss Shaw took her letter from Grace church and by invitation applied for affiliation with the First Methodist Episcopal church, also in Wichita ,and

"Whereas, Miss Shaw states that she was denied membership in the First church solely because she was and is a teacher of dancing and conducts a dancing school in Wichita. such action practically expelling her from membership in the church, therefore

"Be it resolved that the American National Association Masters of Dancing resent this treatment of a member of the profession."

A Truck Tire Guarantee Without a Limit

There is an unlimited guarantee on Goodyear Solid Truck Tires.

No matter how long they have been in use, or how far they have gone, they must show no defects of material or workmanship. If your tire runs 25,000 miles, and then shows defects, it will be adjusted. If it has been in use two years, and proves defective, it will be adjusted.

Contrast this with the definite mileage guarantee. The guarantee cannot be more than the average life of all tires of that make, or the manufacturer would lose money. The careless, abusive driver pulls down this average. The man who cares for his tires must accept a lower mileage guarantee than he is entitled to.

More than this, Goodyear maintains, through Goodyear Truck Tire Service Stations, a service which lengthens the life of tires, keeps trucks in use.

WOMAN HAS $500 TO MEET $111,310 DEBTS

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—All the money possessed by Mrs. Marion Gilhooley Curry is $500, (and that is the Liberty bond she deposited with immigration authorities last October in exchange for one Mike Gilhooley, considered the world's champion stowaway, and supposedly removed then from all further misfortune and lifted upon the lap of luxury by Mrs. Curry.

For a time Mike lived with his sponsor at the Vanderbilt Hotel, and once he accompanied that lady's chauffeur to court and left $50 to settle a score with a traffic cop; his velour hat, his spats, his slender bamboo cane and his cheerful neckwear being only eclipsed by his announcement that he was negotiating with a motion picture company which desired to pay him $50,000 every once in a while for the privilege of photographing his Irish grin and his Irish freckles.

For a time, it seemed, Mike revelled in the embrace of Fortune; but then came a rumor of how Mrs. Curry had inquired at Ellis Island with a view to returning Mike whence he had come. Yesterday came a long petition, filed with the Clerk of the United States District Court, setting forth that Mrs. Curry was a self-acknowledged bankrupt, owing divers hotels and individuals, including T. Coleman du Pont, the sum of $111,310, and possessing one Liberty bond as assets, but unavailable because deposited at Ellis Island.

Signs that Stowaway Mike's benefactress was "broke," or nearly so, developed a few weeks ago when Edward B. Toole, a broker of 3176 Broadway, sued her for $1,800, and she testified in the Supreme Court that she was in the midst of a financial embarrassment wsich she believed would be relieved by August 12. Her bankruptcy petition of yesterday revealed that all the debts were unsecured and that beside the $500 there is nothing to pay them. Most of them are in notes.

Mrs. P. H. Gilhooley of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., was listed as the largest creditor with a claim for $48,750, representing loans from 1914 until the present. Mrs. Curry professed at the time she adopted Mike that she was the daughter of the late Judge Patrick Hamilton Gilhooley of New Jersey. In fact it was her maiden name that kindled her interest in the persistent stowaway, she said.

Gen. du Punt, according to the petition, advanced her while in Mexico in 1919 $2,500 "for business purposes," while other claims were $5,484 owed to Mme. Bertha, 17 West Forty-fifth street, for "money and merchandise"; $1,085 owed to Kirkpatrick, Fifth avenue, for "merchandise"; $21,067 owed to E. R. Graham of Chicago and $1,104 owed the Vanderbilt Hotel. The Hotel Shoreham, Washington; the Dutchess Nursing Home, London; the Hotel Powhatan in Washingeon, and the McAlpin here were other creditors. A $36 item for photographs of Mike was also in the list.

For rent, it was set forth, Mrs. Curry owes $1,434 to E. C. Derr of 142 Fifty-seventh street, which she gave in the petition as her address.

Estimates show that there are 26,883,356 women and 29,577,690 men of voting age in the United States.

DEFEATED PETERBORO BY 13 TO 5, DISPLAYING SMOOTH TEAM PLAY AND A SYSTEM BORNE OF TWO SEASONS' EXPERIENCE.

GAME WAS CLEAN

Mimico blasted Peterborough's lacrosse hopes at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon by winning the local end of the home and home intermediate O.A.L.A. semi-finals by the score of 13 goals to 5. It was a fast clean exhibition of Canada's one-time national game and both teams deserve special mention for the fine sportsmanship that prevailed from the first whistle to the last bell. The fairly large crowd was prepared for defeat by Mimico's dashing play in the first period, which put them ahead by four goals to one, but it was evident from the outset that Peterborough's lack of league games all summer seriously handicapped them against a big husky team that went through their district without a loss and with the aggregate score of more than fifty goals, thirteen against them.

At that Jack Sutherland's men carried the battle to the visitors for the first seven minutes, but even then their chief weakness was manifest. They showed the need of experience in working together, of team play and combination. Then Carson Cooper slipped the first one past Scriver. The next was in two minutes, the third four minutes later and Mimico got the next in a brief sixty seconds. Peterborough couldn't get through the Mimico defense. Clifford Lowes scored Peterborough's first after he had tried to rush through. He bumped off Teddie Harrison and swung around with a back-hand grass shot that rolled into the net from thirty feet or more outside.

Early in the first period Tudhope was slowed up by a stiff check, including a rap on the knee and the half period was nearly over before he had shaken off its effects. The local home was noticeably weakened during that time.

Peterborough's best session was the second when they held Mimico to three goals to two, leaving the half-way score 7 to 3. Mimico added two more in the third and got four in the last frame to Peterborough's two.

The Line-up.

The teams were as follows:

Mimico—Goal, Sutherland; point, Toots Harrison; cover point, Ernie Johnston; 1st defense, Cecil Johnston; second defense, Teddie Harrison; centre, Earl Smith; 2nd home, Alf. Taylor; 1st home, Carson Cooper; outside home, Roy Purvis; inside home, Dave Thomas. Subs—J. Logan, Chuck Northcote and Roy Simpson.

Referee—L. S. Coombes, Toronto.

Thirnbeck Good.

In the second period Thirnbeck and Regis went on in place of Creighton and Todd. Thirnbeck fulfilled the good reports that had been heard of his development by having a stick in both the Peterborough ... scored in that session. According to Jack Sutherland this boy hadn't handled a lacrosse stick until this year. He certainly showed a marked improvement over his earlier appearance in the Oshawa and Hastings exhibition games and performed like a veteran. Pete Regis got Peterborough's second goal, putting a fast one past Sutherland after taking the pass from Thirnbeck in a combination McGee started.

Tudhope got the next a few minutes later on a pass from Thirnbeck, but that ended the scoring for the half. Todd and Creighton were on again in the third with Thirnbeck replacing Tudhope. Mimico's pace had slackened from their furious first lap, and while they got only two in the third, at the same time blanking the locals, they came back strong in the final period, scoring five, while McCumber and Tudhope each notched one for Peterborough.

Mimico a Heavy Team.

Mimico trotted out a big husky team, most of them G.T.R. train men, hard as nails and with plenty of speed. Individually, Peterborough compared favorably wth them, but in team play the visitors were decidedly superior. For example, time and again Todd took the pass from centre but was stranded outside the defense with the local home players checked to a standstill. On the other hand Mimico's home usually drew one or two of their centre field players in with the attacks and sifted through the Dillon-Mein defense by the simple means of having a man or two uncovered to take the pass.

Mimico's attack was decisive and certain. They exhibited all the traits of two years' play together, and went in on Scriver at top speed. In hockey terms their centre men, that is second home, second defense and centre, back-checked continuously and got away with it without much opposition. Their outer defense men frequently followed up passes and worried the Peterborough defense all afternoon, while Jack Sutherland's players were too often satisfied to make their pass then stand and watch the ensuing play. That was a vital difference in the methods of the two teams, and it is explained by Peterborough's lack of experience. As previously mentioned this was understood by the fans, and also by Mimico who congratulated President Todd on the game under the circumstances of a season's comparative idleness except for practises. But just as shadow boxing doesn't make a champion fighter so are ordinary practises totally insufficient to prepare a lacrosse team for a semi-final game against a team of Mimico's class and size.

Deserve Praise.

Jack Sutherland's players have nothing to be ashamed of in Saturday's game. They have held together all summer mainly in the desire to revive the game, and they gave lacrosse lovers one afternoon's sport that will be the forerunners of more next summer. The Mimico management declared that they would assist Peterborough in securing a grouping next season, and with the evidence of available ability here, lacking only experience, it is to be hoped that the Athletic Association will preserve a special place in its programme for the lacrosse team of 1921.

It is unnecessary to single out the local players for individual mention. The defense took care of their checks satisfactorily but they couldn't stave off attacks in which they were frequently outnumbered by Mimico's methods of trailing their centre men down with the ball.

Smith at centre played a useful game all the way for Mimico and Carson Cooper and Dave Thomas, the Indian, made a good home pair. Cooper has a wicked shot that got a big share of the visitors' goals. Purvis and Taylor, the other home players, completed a fast squad that worked together until the last quarter when Dad Brown put in his first substitutes, Northcote and Logan. The whole team make a good impression. They are big and well balanced and are probably not worrying about next Saturday's game in Mimico. Coombes handled the game well. The only penalty was a rest for Ed. Dillon that seemed uncalled for. The swarthy Thomas took more than one bump, but played the ball all the way. Goodfellow retired in the last quarter with a clip over the knee that called for Dr. Sutton's first aid, and Creighton showed a lump on the neck, but the game was clean on the whole and in that respect was all the fans desired.

CANADIAN WOOLLENS TURN TABLES ON THE COMRADES BY SCORE OF 2-0

GOOD GAME AT THE EXHIBITION GROUNDS ON SATURDAY—CHAMBERS GETS THE FIRST, THORP THE SECOND—YOUNG'S GOOD GOAL-KEEPING—BEACH'S FINE DEFENCE.

The supporters of the Canadian Woolens and the Comrades football teams who were on hand at the Exhibition grounds on Saturday afternoon witnessed another good game. Although neither team played with their usual pep and ginger there were few slack moments during the whole game.

The Woollens had the better of the play and were able to turn the score of 2-0 by which the Comrades beat them on Tuesday around in their favour. The first goal came to them through their inside right in the first half, and though the Comrades tried to even up the score they were not successful and half-time arrived with the score 1-0 in favour of the Canadian Woollens.

Jolliffe sustained a nasty injury on the leg but kept at his place during the game and Houghton, in attempting to head a low ball was kicked in the cheek and eye by Chambers, but played through the game with a good spirit, both injuries being quite accidental and no one was to blame.

With the second half well advanced the Woollens, through C. Thorpe, further increased their lead, and the score at the end of full time stood, Canadian Woollens 2, Comrades 0.

Referee Alex. McKinley was in charge of the whistle and as usual held the game well in hand.

"MAPLE LEAF"

The "Maple Leafs" are the Fourth Canadian Division Overseas Entertainment Party, who played many times in the war zones of France for the amusement of our boys while on rest from the trenches. There were numbers of these entertainment parties in France, every division having its own particular company picked from out its various units on account of their ability in this line. So each and every one of the members of the "Maple Leafs" has seen excellent service in France before being chosen for amusement work, and in the Fourth Division there must have been much talent, judging by the very clever work of each and every member of this all-soldier show. Pretty girls there are a-plenty, all portrayed by men who a short while ago were living in dugouts, barns, trenches, etc.

The "Maple Leafs" have been organized in their originality for an all-Canadian tour by Capt. M. W. Plunkett, who last year so successfully produced the "Third Division 'Dumbells'."

"Camouflage" is the name of the screamingly funny musical fantasy which they will produce here exactly as played so many times in France. No expense has been spared in this production, and the gowns, scenery and lighting effects are the last thing in up-to-date stage-craft.

The "Maple Leafs" will open at the Grand to-night for a two days' engagement.

BLACKSTONE AT GRAND THEATRE

FAMOUS MASTER MAGICIAN TO VISIT PETERBORO NEXT WEEK.

The attraction at the Grand next Wednesday and Thursday will be the appearance of Blackstone, the master magician, whose work has been compared with that of Herrman and Kellar. Blackstone is the man who is said to have the cleverest hands in the world and his performance is conceded to be one of the most entertaining as well as mystifying ever given on a stage. He has a varied programme of small magic and one trick follows the other so quickly that an hour passes, in laughter and amazement. Between the first and second parts of the entertainment there is introduced a musical act that in itself is a big feature of any performance, and prepares the way for the master magician to offer his illusions, spirit manifestations and levitation demonstration. This latter is said to be a wonderful achievement and is performed under the close scrutiny of a committee from the audience. Its completion leaves them completely mystified. Blackstone has not forgotten the children. At every performance he presents a number of features that will appeal to them, for he knews that every child likes a magic performance. The engagement at the Grand opens Wednesday and seats go on sale on Monday morning.

TO-NIGHT'S SHOW EQUALS DUMBELLS

MANAGER OF GRAND PERSONALLY GUARANTEES PRODUCTION.

Mr. W. J. Philips, manager of the Grand Opera House, personally guarantees "Camouflage," the musical comedy revue offered by the "Maple Leafs," the famous Fourth Division company who are now on their first tour of Canada, which will be the attraction at the Grand to-night and to-morrow night.

The cast is composed entirely of men who saw service in the front line trenches, and the vehicle is one which found great favour behind the lines in France.

The piece has been re-written and given an elaborate staging by Captain M. W. Plunkett, famous as the producer and director of "The Dumbells" and other overseas entertainments. Captain Plunkett directs the production personally.

Manager Phillips states that "Camouflage" is fully up to the standard set by "The Dumbells."

"DON'T TELL"

While the announcement that Mr. and Mrs. Graham Moffat, Miss Winifred Moffat, and their Scottish company, are making their first tour of America, will undoubtedly be of unusual interest to the Scottish residents of the United States and Canada, theatre goers in general are promised an unusual treat when "Don't Tell" the newest work by the author of "Bunty Pulls the Strings," with the original Scottish cast, is revealed here at the Grand on September 4th for one night only.

Mr. and Mrs. Moffat have been appearing jointly in every other English-speaking country of the world, in a repertoire of Mr. Moffatt's plays these many years, but apart from a short visit when "Bunty" was first played here, they have never been in this country. "Don't Tell," which has just concluded a most successful engagement in Glasgow and Edinburgh, is described as a new comedy of Glasgow life to-day. Its chief character is a plumber who is suddenly elected to the Magistracy and yielding to the demands of his family, consents to hold a private rehearsal, at his home, of the duties that he will be called upon to perform officially, as the baillee. During the mock trial he discovers that his eldest daughter is seriously concerned in a matter that effects the whole family, and it is upon this promise that the complications of the new comedy are based.

Mr. William Morris, the Manager of Sir Harry Lauder, is bringing the Moffats and their Scottish company to America. After seeing the play in Glasgow Mr. Morris induced Mr. and Mrs. Moffat to come to America rather than attempt to secure a cast in New York for the interpretation of a play which is so essentially Scottish, and so necessary of interpretation by a company of native players.

IN MEMORIAM.

FROST — In loving memory of our dear boy, Pte. Arthur Frost, killed in action, August 30th, 1918.

Far and oft our thoughts do wander
To a grave so far away,
Where they laid our darling loved one,
Just two years ago to-day.
Do not ask us if we miss him—
There is such a vacant place,
Can we e'er forget that footstep,
And that dear familiar face?
Friends may think we have forgot you,
When at times they see us smile,
But they little know the sorrow
Which that smile hides all the while.

Also his brother, Pte. Tom Frost, who died in England, September 21, 1916.

Peacefully sleeping till Jesus calls him.

COBOURG VETERAN DEAD AS RESULT OF ACCIDENT.

COBOURG, Auyust 30.—Mr. James Morrison, who was severely injured in a runaway accident on 16th August, died in Cobourg Hospital on Saturday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison were driving along the Front Road just east of Cobourg, when their horse became frightened at a number of ponies from the Pontiac Stock Farm, which were being driven from the field on to the Front Road, and ran into the ditch.

In an attempt to regain the horse collided with a large stone, which caused both Mr. and Mrs. Morrison to be thrown out of the buggy. Mr. Morrison alighted on a stake and his leg was broken near the hip. Mrs. Morrison sustained serious bruises, and had three ribs broken.

Messrs. Feakes and Barnes rushed to their assistance and had them at once removed to the hospital. Mrs. Morrison had recovered sufficiently to be able to leave the hospital three days ago.

Mr. Morrison was a returned soldier and resided north of Grafton, near what is locally called The Gulley.

ARMENIANS NOW HAVE GRAIN FOR 8 MONTHS

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Aug. 28.— The Armenian republic now have sufficient grain supplies for eight months, according to a telegram to the United States' Grain Corporation executives here from Colonel William N. The telegram says that the grain supplies will come largely from the harvest, there being a small amount remaining of 40,000 tons of flour sent from America.

WILL NOT TALK ON TIMBER PROBE

G. C. HURDMAN'S MISSION TO SUDBURY DISTRICT DEPARTMENTAL MATTER.

SUDBURY, Aug. 29.—Mr. G. C. Hurdman, former Liberal M.P.P. for West Ottawa, when asked if he had anything to say regarding recent developments in the timber probe, would not make a statement.

"It has really nothing to do with me or my work, so I do not care to say anything about it," he said.

Mr. Hurdman regretted very much that there had been any disagreement between Messrs. McEvoy and Harding, "if there has been one."

In an interview granted a local paper upon his arrival in this district some time ago, Mr. Hurdman said that his mission was to organize several gangs of competent men to take test scales in the saw-mills throughout the North. He was especially careful to state that it was strictly a departmental matter and was in no way connected with the timber probe.

McEvoy Also Mum.

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 30.—J. M. McEvoy, of this city, who recently left his position as assistant Government counsel in the timber probe, refuses absolutely to discuss his action or the speculations that have been made as to his reasons. Neither would he comment upon Premier Drury's declaration that, "it is an absolute lie" to say that Mr. McEvoy dropped out because of what he knew.

"I never said that was the reason I got out," was Mr. McEvoy's only statement. He said he has not received any summons to take the stand in the timber probe

SENTENCED FOR BIGAMY.

WINDSOR, August 26.—William Reason, a salesman living on Grove Avenue, was convicted of bigamy in the Police Court here, and sentenced to six months in jail. His second marriage to Miss May Dawson, of Toronto, took place last spring, while wife number one and two children were living in Detroit. The couple were wed in 1905. The discovery that she was not his first love led the Toronto woman to investigate, and she soon learned that she had been married under false pretences. She will return to her home in Toronto.

GIRL NEARLY DROWNS WHEN WATER WINGS FAIL.

TORONTO, August 28. — Thirteen year old Audrey Cochrane, 214 St. John's Road, had a narorw escape from drowning at Sunnyside when the water wings which she was using in learning to swim suddenly slid from under her, and she sank. She was rescued by Lifeguard Switzer after she had sunk for the second time. The accident happened in about five feet of water. Switzer saw the girl's danger from the shore, and running to the spot, caught her as she was sinking for the last time. The girl was unconscious when she was brought to the shore but artificial respiration soon brought her around.

HOW WOMEN CAN GET ON VOTERS' LIST.

In view of a recent amendment to the Municipal Act women can be placed on the voters' list on the husband's property and vice versa. The qualification is $400 worth of assessment for each. Every unmarried son or daughter at home can also get on the rolls for each $400 of the assessment per person. If any assessment is under $800 then only the person assessed can vote. As the amendment did not come into force until July 28, those entitled to votes can have their names added by the Court of Revision, if application is made.

DAIRY INDUSTRY HIT BY SHORTAGE OF LABOR

According to W. Owens, of the Lindsay Creamery, labor shortage has seriously interfered with the dairy industry in this province. Previous to the war, he said, farmers in the vicinity of Lindsay were milking from ten to twelve cows a day; now they only average about four or five.

"There are considerably fewer milch cows in the country," states Mr. Owens. "For instance, we have many more patrons this year than last, the pasture and feed situation is much more favourable, nevertheless our receipts of cream last month show a slight falling off when compared with the same period in 1919. The men around here are getting out of dairying and going into beef raising. They have no other alternative. Farmers really want help, and are willing to pay a good price for it, but if this deficiency is not made up soon they will be forced into other lines requiring half the amount of labour."

It is estimated that there will be 75,000 globes used in the lighting scheme of the Canadian National Exhibition this year.

The biggest list of starters on record for a bicycle race, 76 in all, were sent away over the Canadian National Exhibition course on one of its athletic days.

CANADA NATIONAL EXHIBIT HAS MANY STRIKING FEATURES

GREAT PANORAMA OF THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS AND WIRELESS TELEPHONE DEMONSTRATION TO ATTRACT VISITORS

The Canadian National-Grand Trunk Railways have this year combined to make one of the most striking displays in the history of the Canadian National Exhibition. The exhibit which occupies two of the three main sections of the Railway Building gives a new vision of the extent and resources of the Dominion.

One of the sections is devoted to a vivid portrayal of the beauties of the Canadian Rockies at the point where the peaks reach their greatest heights. The grandeur of the Yellowhead Pass and its surrounding peaks is shown on a scale commensurate with the magnitude of the great mountain chain. The visitor stands under the shadow of a giant pine, the branches of which arch over the whole of the ceiling. At his feet are the Maligne Falls and the turbulent silver stream of the Maligne River threading its way among the foothills. In the background is a panorama 100 feet in length of the magnificent mountains in Jasper National Park and Mount Robson Park, the two great scenic reserves through which the Canadian National and the Grand Trunk Railways make their way to the Pacific Coast.

The atmosphere of Canada's mountain world has been retained in a wonderful way, and it is difficult for the observer to realize that he is not viewing the scene from some favorable vantage point in the Rocky Mountains. The system of lighting has been arranged to give, in various periods of the day, the effects seen among the Mountains at sun-rise, noon-day and evening.

In the second section of the Exhibit the working of the Canadian Government Marine is featured in connection with the great network of railway lines that is now the Canadian National system. Adding a graphic toluch to this display the ships of Canada's Merchant Marine are seen flashing actual wireless messages, and these are picked up in turn by no fewer than 43 wireless stations along the Dominion's chain of waterways from Cape Race to the Pacific Ocean. In order to make this possible the Marconi Company has installed an aerial system above the Railway Building to receive messages from all points, these being handled by an operator housed in an exact replica of a steamship's wireless cabin. Simultaneously the messages are spelled out in a Morse by a wonderful system of miniature lamps spread over a gigantic map of the Dominion of Canada. In addition to the wireless telegraph apparatus there is kept working the new system of wireless telephony. Expert engineers are on hand to explain in full the working of the various forms of apparatus.

The Canadian Government Department of Marine is also lending its assistance in making the Canadian National Exhibit complete, and is showing a remarkable series of aids to navigation including large revolving light house lanterns and beacon lights, fog horns, etc.

Emphasis is also placed in the exhibit on the opportunities awaiting the settler along the lines of the Canadian National Railways, the whole display being excellently planned and carried out on a high scale of excellence.

REDS TAKE 4 VILLAGES IN COUNTER-ATTACK

MAJORITY OF RUSSIAN REINFORCEMENTS UNARMED—SEVENTY THOUSAND BOLSHEVIK FUGITIVES

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, August 30.—The Russian Soviet forces engaged in a counter-offensive against the Poles east of Brest-Litovsk have occupied four villages in that vicinity. Near Lemberg there is heavy fighting going on.

UNARMED REINFORCEMENTS.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, August 30.—Military operations in Poland seem, for the moment at least, to be limited to local actions, and the Polish commanders are utilising the period of inactivity along the front to re-grouping their forces which were separated during the recent rapid advance.

Advices from Warsaw state a wireless message from the Bolshevik commander-in-chief to Warsaw was intercepted, and that in it he made protests against the sending of unarmed reinforcements to the Polish front.

FUGITIVES DANGEROUS.

(Canadian Press.)

WARSAW, August 30. — The German Government has advised the Polish Government that there are now seventy thousand fugitives of the Red Army interned in Germany. The German authorities consider it dangerous to leave such a hotbed of Bolshevik propaganda in the neighbourhood of the frontier, and request permission of the Polish Government to take them across the Polish corridor in order to convey them to the centre of Germany.

TRANSPORTATION WANTED FOR PULP RESOURCES.

WINNIPEG, August 28. — Pulp resources in northeastern Manitoba will remain undeveloped until means of transportation are established, F. H. Herchmer, inspector of Dominion forest reserves, said on his return from a forest inspection trip in the district northeast of Norway House. He reports a good quality of spruce is found which would make excellent pulp, but there is no outlet for the finished product, the rivers being unnavigable except by canoe.

NEW YORK, August 30.—Prices were generally lower at the opening of the stock market to-day. U. S Steel was off 5-8 at 89 1-4, Sinclair 29 unchanged, Mexican Petroleum 160 1-2 off 1 3-4, Baldwin 107 1-4 off 1 1-8, Pan-American Petroleum 87 off 3-4, Bethlehem B, 76 1-2 unchanged, New Haven 33 1-4 off 1-2, Southern Pacific 95 3-8 unchanged, Industrial Alcohol 86 unchanged, Tobacco Products 64 off 1, Retail Stores 68 1-4 unchanged, International Paper 35 up 1-4.

add New York —

Most of the leaders were disposed to await the results of the many strikes and near-strikes before taking any position in the market. As a result, trading was extremely dull.

Shortly after the opening the bear operators, who have been hammering down prices, ceased their bearish tactics when some fair sized-buying orders came into rails. Southern Pacific was leader in the buying and advanced to 96 1-8, up nearly a point on the day

EXCHANGE MARKET.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, August 30.—All European quotations, with the exception of marks, were slightly lower at the opening of the foreign exchange today. Sterling was off 1-2 to $4.55 1-4, France .0696 off .0002, Lire .0465 off .0002, Marks .0202 unchanged. Canadian dollars demand $.8875.

The Fighting in Belfast Assumes the Aspect of a Civil War

FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT COMMITTEE OFFICIALLY HEARD EVIDENCE IN SUPPORT OF ALLEGED INEFFICIENCY AT FIRE HALL, BUT ALL THE MEMBERS OF THE COUNCIL WERE PRESENT—LACK OF TRAINING ADMITTED—CHEIF SAID HE HAD NO FACILITIES.

At 5.30 o'clock this morning the Fire, Water and Light Committee adjourned after hearing the complaints of the firemen upon which the Trades and Labour Council's request for an investigation of the Fire Department was based.

They had sat continuously from 8 o'clock last night in a seven and a half hour session, perhaps a record in the business vigils of the Council.

Ald. Morrison presided, as chairman, with the following members present: Aldermen Crowe, Whitehouse, Jones, and Mayor McIntyre. Howeves, the Council was fully represented, excepting Ald. Turner, who is in Europe. Ald. Gainey arived late, about ten o'clock, but after all, he was almost early.

Not only were three dismissed firemen, Bruce Menzies, Victor Lebarr, and William Copperthwaite, heard, but also all the men who signed as witnesses the written list of stated cases. In the long run the entire fire fighting force was called in couples before the committee.

The hearing wound up with Chief Grange's defence, and the committee dispersed after deciding to digest what they had heard before preparing a report for the Council as to whether or not they deemed an investigation warranted.

Chief Grange wasn't present when the committee convened, but the Mayor and Aldermen Whitehouse and Jones asserted that he should attend.

Chief Grange himself, on arriving, asked to be excused, stating that the firemen would probably feel freer to speak if he were not present. His expressed wish, however, was overruled.

Mr. Thomas Tooms, M.L.A., was there as a citizen. His only remark was a question as to what capacity Ald. Gordon was filling.

Ald. Gordon replied tht he was present as a member of the Council without power to vote.

The firemen were examined chiefly by Alderman Whitehouse, Gordon, Jones, Morrison, Crowe, Mayor McIntyre, with occasionally questions from Aldermen Hamilton, Phelan, and Gainey.

Ald. Crowe made the following statement:

"I understand you have called your Committee together to-night to hear any grievances or irregularities that are reported to exist in the Fire Department of this city. I am quite prepared to listen to the fullest inquiry, and to see, first of all, that the citizens, and we who are entrusted by them, are getting full value for the amount of money so generously given. This, I claim, is our first duty, and the most necessary, for us to deal with. I could better come to a decision if we had, for instance, the Fire Marshal of the Province or one of the underwriters to advise us or me. For I am not capable of deciding as to ability or efficiency and what is required to attain those qualifications. I do not wish to shirk the responsibility as one of your committee. I think we would be better able to judge. In a sense, we are trying a case in which we are involved, and we are acting as judge and jury."

Fireman Bruce Menzies.

Bruce Menzies, one of the three dismissed men, asked first that it be proven that he was inefficient.

At the Metal Products fire a stone got in the nozzle of a line. I got a new nozzle. The chief ordered another line. I tried to tell him the stone was in the first nozzle, but he seemed to be too excited to understand what I said. We put up a ladder and the chief wanted it turned. I yelled not to turn it, but he was bound to have it. The ladder broke off and fell down among the men.

Ald. Whitehouse: Why didn't you lay this complaint before?

Mr. Menzies: There's lots of things you kept your eyes shut to.

Ald. Gordon: If the department was inefficient, why didn't you report it?

Mr. Menzies: I didn't think it my place. That's for the chairman and aldermen.

Ald. Jones: The aldermen don't attend fires.

Mr. Menzies: I've often seen them there.

The Bell Apartment Fire.

At the Bell Apartment fire I suggested that we put a ladder on the flat roof at the back. There was a railing around it. The chief said the building was condemned. We stood on the ground throwing the water up at the fire.

The Neill Fire.

At the Neill fire I suggested that we get up on the roof of D. Drummond's store and shoot the water across. The chief started to walk away when I said that, but a business I think it was Mr. Bradburn asked if it could be done. The chief then turned back and asked me the same question. We got a line up there and after a while they hitched it to an automobile and dragged the line out of our hands.

At the Peterborough Canoe Co. fire Lieut. Warde called for a ladder to get on the roof. The chief waved for the ladder wagon to stop up the street. If we'd had a ladder that fire could have been put out with a small chemical.

Training of Horses.

In regard to the alleged inefficiency of the horses, Ald. Morrison said three of them came this year.

Mr. Menzies: The grav was there last fall. I've seen horses there a shorter time than these and were well trained. They don't run them out at 12.30 and 8 o'clock as in the old times.

Regarding drills Menzies said that Chief Howard used to call the men out and time them. There were also ladder drills.

"I asked Chief Grange for drills and also suggested boxing as exercise. We got no exercise. The men are eating hearty and they have nothing to do but light dusting.

Ald. Morrison: Did you ever report to the committee that you were having a good time?

Mr. Menzies: It was not my business to report.

Ald. Morrison: I'm just asking if you did?

Mr. Menzies: No. I never made a habit of button-holing aldermen. We were forbidden to do that.

Regarding a quarrel in the tower between Assistant Chief Johnston and Captain McDonald, Menzies said the chief should have meted out some punishment.

Of Frank Degen's demotion from lieutenant, the chief had put practically the last man taken on over all the others.

Ald. Morrison: Hasn't he that power?

Mr. Menzies: Yes: but there's nothing for firemen to look up to.

Recalling the fire at the rear of J. T. O'Connell's office, he said that Police Sergeant Deannard came out and called for a hose. Menzies dragged one in and found it badly needed. That fire could have been extinguished with chemicals.

Menzies said there should be more exercise for the men. A cup for competition between the two platoons would create interest.

Victor Lebarr.

Firemen Victor Lebarr said he had served nearly four years with the local department, nine months under Chief Howard and twenty-two months under Chief Grange. When he quit the first time it was of his own accord.

Mr. Lebarr said that according to the chief there was no hurry for the ladder truck since the department was motorized. The new horses were trained only three or four times and wouldn't come out when the doors of their stables opened.

Ald. Morrison remarked that the need of the truck depended on the fire.

Mr. Lebarr: We don't know anything about the fire till we get there.

Ald. Gordon: When did the chief tell you the waggon wasn't needed as much.

Mr Lebarr: Time after time. I've had no drill in Chief Grange's time.

Ald. Crowe: What should training consist of?

Mr. Lebarr: Scaling roofs, climbing ladders, jumping into nets, coupling hose to hydrants.

Ald. Morrison: You get training at fires.

Mr. Lebarr: Huh!

Regarding the complaint that the men's equipment was allowed to be taken off the waggon, Mr. Lebarr said that men off duty responding to fires often found that their equipment had been taken by somebody else. They have to work without the equipment and get their uniforms or civilian suits damaged. Then they are blamed for getting their uniforms dirty.

Ald. Jones said that the chief couldn't be expected to watch the waggon, and Mr. Lebarr replied that there should be some way of keeping the equipment for the men who needed it.

Degen's Demotion.

"We were called to the pole for a talk on discipline," Mr. Lebarr continued. "The chief said there was going to be a change in officers. A few days later Degen was put back as an ordinary fireman and Jones was made lieutenant.

Ald. Jones: Hadn't the chief the

The Cadet Camp closed to-day, with the boys unanimous in the wish that the camp might last another week. The camp has been such a success for an initial attempt, that Lieut.-Col. G. H. Gillespie said this morning that an annual camp here is almost assured.

Ideal weather conditions have prevailed throughout the six days of the camp and the programme of activities has been run off without a hitch. Under the supervision of efficient and sympathetic officers the boys have received a training that they will not soon forget and have been given six days of recreation and sport which could hardly be equalled under other circumstances.

They have been put through a course of drill and physical training such as leads to development of a healthy body, sound mind and a sense of discipline. Under the supervision of the military Y.M.C.A. they have been given organized sport and swimming and, with the kind assistance of local organizations and individuals, recreation has been provided. The out-of-town boys are leaving with pleasant memories of Peterborough and the local boys have found that their home town provides almost unequalled holiday facilities.

To-day camp is being struck and the various corps are departing in relays.

Camp Orders.

Lt.-Col. G. H. Gillespie, O.C. and Inspector of Cadet Corps, Military District No. 3, who is acting as Camp Commandant, is highly satisfied with the success of the local camp and in the orders of the day expresses his thanks to citizens and organizations of Peterborough as follows:

"The camp will be closed on Tuesday, August 31st, and in this connection the Commandant desires to express to the Cadet Instructors and all those who asisted in the administration of the camp his appreciation for their hearty co-operation in making the camp one of the most successful that has ever been held in this district."

He also desires to take this opportunity of expressing his thanks to the citizens of Peterborough who contributed to the success of the camp, particularly to the Y.M.C.A., under Mr. Young, the Daughters of the Empire, Mrs. (Dr.) Frederick, Mrs. Arthur Stevenson, Judge Huycke, Ald. G. N. Gordon, Ald. R. V. Copping, Mr. C. G. Graham, Lt.-Col. Ackerman, Canadian Woollens, Quaker Oats Company, and the Peterborough Examiner for their generous support in newspaper services.

Following is the entraining schedule 11.30 a.m., Cobourg, Bowmanville, Newcastle, Port Hope, Millbrook, Lakefield, 1.15 p.m., Stirling, Campbellford and Belleville.

RECEIVERS SEIZE THE HOME OF CHAS. PONZI

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—The receivers of Charles Ponzi's affairs seized his home and estate at Lexington, Mass., purchased during the height of his affluence. His three motor cars were also taken. His wife and his mother have been occupying the home. They have not yet been ousted, but this is expected in a few days.

The seizure of their home was a bittr blow to the young wife, although she has voiced no criticism, but she complained that "all the fair weather friends have deserted her."

"I have dismissed all my servants," she said. "I have to-day sent my automobile to town to the authorities, and they will probably sell it to some one for a couple of thousand dollars. They can add that to the assets.

"I am penniless and without friends, but, thank God, I am strong and can work."

She said she expected to hunt up a small tenement in which to live.

She again visited her husband at the East Cambridge Jail, and for the first time made the trip in a street car. Practically all her money is gone, she admitted.

Ther home, which a month ago was alive with servants and life, to-day has nearly all its shutters closed and all is quiet and changed.

Strong Boxes.

The half dozen strong boxes wihch Ponzi had scattered in as many banks about the city, from two of which impressive looking parcels were taken during the hunt by receivers, netted about $15,000 to be added to the total of assets, although Ponzi had declared he "thought he had $300,000 in Liberty bonds in one of them."

In their effort to secure everything that might be listed as an asset the receivers have filed a bill in equity against Joseph Daniels to regain possession of $40,000 paid him by Ponzi in settlement of his million dollar suit in which he claimed a partnership with Ponzi. Judge Sisk issued a temporary injunction forbidding Daniels from disposing of his shares in the Daniels & Wilson Furniture Company, in which he is a stockholder. In the event of his refusal to refund the receivers ask that equivalent of these shares be converted to furnish the cash demanded.

The receivers also issued a statement and large advertisements calling upon all persons who are holding Ponzi assets to turn them in at once. This statement is believed to be a preliminary "warning" to give all persons involved an opportunity to "deliver up" before action is taken against them.

Attorney's Fees.

Ponzi operated under the last eight names, it is diclosed in the receivers' statement, in handling the various phases of his business. These names, in addition to the firm name, the Securities Exchange Company, are Lucy Martelli, John S. Dondero, Rose M. Ponzi, Pio Conti, Imelda Ponzi, Mary C. Bosselli and Joseph Daniels. The receivers add that Ponzi had upward of 15,000 "clients," principally in New England States.

Receiver John E. O'Halligan of Ponzi's rivals ,the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Company, announced that during the three or four weeks of its existence the firm paid out more than $21,000 to attorneys. At least two office clerks received $100 a week, plus 2 per cent. of all the money they took in, he said. Two others of the office staff received $22,400 each in two short weeks on a 1 per cent. basis. The receiver "has hope" that some of the money received by attorneys will be returned.

Ponzi's liabilities continue to move steadily upward. Officials have been estimating them at $7,000,000, but there is every indication, they now say, that they will amount to $10,000,000.

GIRL BATHERS BOMBARD RV. FREDERICK KOPFMAN

PREACHER ESCAPES IN PASSING MOTOR AS OVER RIPE TOMATOES FLY THROUGH AIR.

TRENTON, Aug. 31.— The Rev. Frederick S. Kopfman, who achieved considerable notoriety by his criticism of the bathing costumes and the other evidences of frightful wickedness of the summer colony at Washington's Corners, N.J., went back to the Corners to-day. But instead of being received with open arms the minister was received with a volley of overripe tomatoes, eggs, stones and other missiles which smashed the wind shield of his motor car, raised a big bruise on the ministerial countenance and lavishly decorated his clothing with tomato seeds and the fragrance of eggs that once were all right, but which at the time of throwing were totally abandoned and depraved.

The Rev. Mr. Kopman's first adventure in the peaceful village of Washington's Corners was a lecture in the Titus ville Methodist church on the wickedness of present generation. Dr. Kopfman talked to a large crowd and aroused large volumes of laughter when he hastened from the pulpit, sat down in a front pew and shouted: "Look! This is the way girls sit in the subway!"

Everybody looked. The minister was exposing his socks.

"Some of the girls wear so few clothes," he said, "that I think they must be tatooed."

The minister then walked to a large bouquet of flowers and plucking a red dahlia he smelled of it and said:

"We must bow to the Nineteenth Amendment, giving the women the right to vote."

A Bad Corner.

The Rev. Mr. Kopfman then declared that Washington's Corners was the worst place morally that he had ever been in, and pretty soon after that he left the church and embarked in his automobile and started on the ride to the station to catch a train to Brooklyn. Several newspaper reporters, who will know better next time, were with him in the automobile.

In the centre of the village the preacher's car stopped abruptly in the midst of a crowd of more than 100 people who had been the subject of his discourse. Dominie Kopfman began to talk to them, but some one shouted, "Duck him in the river," and the preached decided that this was not a propitious moment for a sermon.

Then some one threw a stone and smashed the windshield of the automobile, and after that a girl on the outskirts of the crowd let fly with a frightfully ripe tomato, which hit the ministerial chest with a resounding splash. Acting on this hint ,the crowd uncovered ammunition dumps of astounding proportions and proceeded to bombard Mr. Kopfman with tomatoes and eggs and other missiles, none of which were abroad in the land with the permission of the Board of Health.

Nobody tried to drag the preacher from the automobile, but they hurled things at him and hit him until they got tired and then they let the automobile move on. But after a few yards the car was stuck and the Rev. Kopfman immediately hopped on to the running board of another passing car and begged to be taken to Trenton.

"But I'm not going there," said the motorist.

"Then I'll go wherever you are going!" cried the preacher.

The automobilist relented and took Mr. Kopfman to Trenton, where he brushed some of the marks of battle from his person and caught a train. He said, however, that he would go back to Washington's Corners next week to present his evidence on immorality to the township board, and if nobody listened then he would go on the lecture platform.

"MADE IN GERMANY"

(Canadian Press).

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31. — Germany is dumping its surplus of inferior goods in Great Britain and United States, and is marking its exports to Great Britain "Made in America" and its exports to United States "Made in England," official advices received here to-day states.

German exporters are following this practice, advices said, in an effort to regain their former foreign trade and to realize quickly large sums on manufactured articles which otherwise might not be sold because of popular prejudice. Such tactics are discrediting United States manufacturers in Great Britain and British manufacturers in United States, advices declared.

SILVER WEDDING ON THE OTONABEE

MR. AND MRS. WALTER NAISH HONOURED BY HOST OF FRIENDS.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Naish, 336 Mark street, East City, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary at their camp on the Otonabee River on Saturday, August 28.

"Camp Goodcheer" was the scene of brilliant festivity, guests arriving from all points.

Mr. and Mrs. Naish were the recipients of some very beautiful and appropriate presents.

Over one hundred guests sat down to a sumptuous supper in the early evening.

Among the guests from a distance were Messrs. Barnard, Webb and Hogarth, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson, of Baileboro, and Mr. R. J. Naish and daughters, Gladys and Margaret, of Montreal; Mr. Allan Whyte, also of Montreal.

Three or four canoes and skiffs were kept busy during the afternoon, bringing the guests across the river until the camp was an unusual scene of gaiety and activity, never before excelled in thae locality.

After supper was dispensed with, music was furnished by Messrs. Naish, Smith, Brown, Jones and Ardell, which was greatly enjoyed by all.

The camp was gaily decorated with Japanese lanterns and Union Jacks, and when lit up at night, presented a pleasing spectacle to those passing up and down the river.

During the evening a good old-fashioned corn roast was provided and everyone declared the party a success and wished Mr. and Mrs. Walter Naish long life and happiness and expressed a wish that all would meet again at their golden wedding anniversary.

GENERAL WRANGEL SUFFERS CRUSHING DEFEAT ON THE TWO BLACK SEA THEATRES

PART OF HIS FORCES HAVE BEEN COMPLETELY ANNIHILATED—BOLSHEVIKI HAVE INCREASED COUNTER OFFENSIVE.

WAR COMMUNIQUES

(United Press)

MOSCOW, via wireless to London, Aug. 31.—General Wrangel has suffered a crushing defeat on two fronts in the Black Sea theatre of war, according to an official statement issued here to-day.

Wrangel's Kuban expedition has been wiped out, the communique said, while his Crimean forces have been bottled up on the paninsula.

"Wrangel's forces in the Kuban have been completely annihilated," the statement said.

After defeating them the Soviet forces cut their communications and surrounded and destroyed their headquarters.

"In the northern portion of the Taurida Province the Wrangel columns have been completely beaten and now hold only the Crimea."

INCREASED OFFENSIVE

(United Press)

WARSAW, Aug. 31.—The Bolsheviki have increased their counter offensive in the Lemberg region to the proportions of a major engagement and are seeking to encircle that city by driving in from the northward, it was indicated in to-day's Polish official communique.

Terrific fighting is going on between Lemberg and Cholm, where the Poles are desperately resisting this attack. President Pilsudski, in an interview to-day, clearly indicated his belief that Poland cannot afford to remain on the defensive after it has cleared its territory of the Russians

VILLAGE OCCUPIED.

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, Aug. 31.—Anti-Bolshevik forces landed in the Province of Kuban, east of the Sea of Azov, by General Baron Wrangel have been completely annihiliated, according to a statement issued here last night by M. Kameneoff, head of the Bolshevik trade delegation here. The statement was based on a wireless received from Moscow. An official Soviet statement received here says that Russian forces north of Brest Litovsk have occupied a number of villages from ten to twenty miles southeast of Bialysiyok.

TO JOIN SOVIETS.

(Canadian Press

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 31.—General Semenoff, anti-Bolshevik Cossack leader in Eastern Siberia, has applied to Leon Trotsky for permission to join Russian Soviet army, says Moscow despatch quoting reports printed in Izvestia of that city.

THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

(Canadian Press)

WARSAW, Aug. 31.—Letvia has agreed to permit Poland and Soviet Russia to transfer Minsk peace conference to Riga. This was done on the request of the Poles. Exact date of the new conference will probably be announced as soon as Foreign Minister Sapieha returns from Brest Litovsk.

U.S. Red Agents in Mexico

Pamphlets Calling for Dictatorship Handed to Huerta.

MEXICO CITY, August 30. — A delegation of factory owners called upon Provisional President de la Huerta yesterday, exhibiting specimens of Bolshevik literature which they declared had been distributed in their establishments. Workmen were called on in some of the pamphlets to unite with the soldiers to bring about a dictatorship by the proletariat.

Announcement is made that evidence has been found which points to the entrance of this propaganda from the southern United States. Discovery that similar literature has been distributed among the men making up the garrison here recently created a sensation in this city.

Fighting Involves Hundreds

SITUATION IN BELFAST IS RAPIDLY BECOMING WORSE—CASUALTIES INCREASE.

(United Press).

BELFAST, Aug. 31.—Fighting between various factions which has broken out here at intervals during the last four days, assumed the aspect of a civil war here to-day.

Virtually the whole adult population, including hundreds of women, was gradually drawn into the fray, Heavy reinforcements of British troops were being rushed here from Dublin on a special train. Renewed fighting brought the total casualties up to eighteen killed and more than 200 wounded. Among the dead was a woman and child.

Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Ulsterites, has issued an appeal to all Loyalists to co-operate in the restoration of order.

The rioting, which previously had been limited to the shipyards district and the Catholic quarter, to-day spread until it had involved several of the principal sections.

Casualties Heavy.

(Canadian Press).

BELFAST, Aug. 31.—Nine persons are dead as the result of yesterday's rioting in this city, another man being killed last night and two of these wounded in yesterday's disorders dying. Revised reports as to the casualties show that since the rioting began last Wednesday, twenty have been killed and two hundred injured. To-day the only actual outbreak reported was the stoning of the employees of Mackie's foundry in Kashmire Road district, but groups of men are collected at many corners, giving unmistakable indications that trouble might come.

MANNING DOHERTY WILL OPEN FAIR

THIS YEAR'S EXHIBITION WILL BE BIGGER AND BETTER THAN EVER.

To-day word was received that the Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture, would be in Peterborough on Tuesday, September 21st, to officially open the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition. This year the Fair will extend over four days, commencing Monday, September 20th, and closing on Thursday evening of the same week. One of the largest and best displays of fireworks ever seen in Peterborough has been secured for the occasion, also a much larger vaudeville programme than usual. There will be three night performances and three full days, in addition to the opening day.

HEARING OF THE FIREMEN'S COMPLAINTS

authority?

Mr. Lebarr: Certainly, but it has been proved since the man wasn't capable.

Ald. Jones: Whose opinion is that?

Mr. Lebarr: The general opinion of the men. The man admits he's not capable.

Ald. Gordon: He's neither modest or honest.

Chairman's Promise.

Dealing with the complaint that the men couldn't get in touch with the Fire, Water and Light Committee, Mr. Lebarr said Ald. Morrison promised to have the men's representatives before the committee. They waited in vain on two occasions. That was when the wage question was under consideration.

Ald Morrison: If you were not called it was because the committee thought it wasn't necessary.

Ald. Gordon: I can explain that. It was suggested that the Committee of the Whole deal with the wage question instead of the Fire, water and Light, and we invited the firemen to meet the Committee of the Whole.

Ald. Hamilton: It was Ald. Gain-ey's suggestion because he wasn't on the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Mr. Lebarr: When Ald. Crowe called he was in ignorance of the wage question having been previously taken up in the Fire, Water and Light Committee. That was why he didn't understand that we were asking for an increase not to meet the high cost of living, but because of the disparity between the officers' salaries and responsibilities. The wages had never been equalized in proportion to responsibilities.

Ald. Whitehouse: I think this question important, because I never had a request from the men to appear before us.

Mr. Lebarr: You told me on the street you wanted co-operation between the department and the committee. It is against the rules of the department to talk over the chief's head to aldermen. We are not permitted to discuss the department affairs without the chief's consent. Had I met you on the street at any time and asked for a meeting with the committee I would have overstepped the chief.

Ald. Jones: What about this present affair?

Mr. Lebarr: When Ald Morrison was talking to five of us we told him some of the complaints.

Ald. Morrison: I must be a woodenhead for I don't remember that.

Mr. Lebarr: There were five of the men present. You must have a poor memory. We told you we wanted an investigation.

Ald. Jones: When was that?

Mr. Lebarr: About a week or ten days before this cropped out.

Ald. Gordon: Was that after the chief made some statement at the convention?

Mr. Leebarr: What the chief was reported to have said came up first, the other things were brought out. The reason they didn't come out before was because we were hiding them.

Ald Whitehouse: What prompts you to bring them out now?

Mr. Lebarr: Why are we disciplined now?

Ald. Whitehouse: Did you ever make any complaints to the chief?

Mr. Lebarr: No!

Ald. Whitehouse: Shouldn't he have been recognized?

Mr. Lebarr: Matters were suggested to the chief time and time again. We can't step over the chief to come to the committee.

Ald. Whitehouse: That's news to me.

Mr. Lebarr to the Mayor: We thought Ald. Morrison would take it up after we talked it over to him.

Ald. Whitehouse: Why were the complaints taken to another body?

Ald. Morrison: The Trades and Labor Council for instance.

Mr. Lebarr: They were not taken to the Labour Council. I had nothing to do with the complaints. The chief's reported statement at St. Thomas was brought up in a letter to the Trades Council. I suggested that before action be taken it be referred to our local so we could get the facts. That was done and the chief interviewed and our report was taken back as instructed by the local. There were eleven firemen at the Labour meeting and three of us were picked out for dismissal. I told the Labour Council that the chief denied the newspaper report and that he said he had praised the Government.

Ald. Whitehouse: How did we come to hear of the complaints through that source?

Mr. Lebarr: Some of the others put in their own personal grievances.

All. Jones: Were they off duty?

Mr. Lebarr: Yes; or they had some one substituting for them. That is often done.

Ald. Crowe: Do you consider the city isn't getting value for its money at the fire hall?

Mr. Lebarr: Yes.

Ald. Morrison: By inefficient firemen?

Mr. Lebarr: Yes

William Copperthwaite.

A new point mentioned by Fireman Copperthwaite was that he and another fireman, with the chief's permission, had gone to Young's Point to get a scuffler to work a garden on Crescent street in which the chief and four of the men were interested.

Copperthwaite had a share in the garden.

Ald. Gordon: Who suggested to go after the scuffler?

Mr. Copperthwaite: I suggested we could get mine if we could go after it.

Another charge against the chief was that men went outside the city to work in the chief's garden contrary to a city by-law. They drew manure to it and also drew potatoes away. One of the city's horses was used.

Thomas Hatley.

Fireman Hatley said that at the Metal Products fire a hose line broke and the Chief sent a man to the wrong nozzle to turn off the water. At the Bell apartment the fire could have been cut off from the rear roof. "We were on that same roof after the fire was out," said Hatley. "The picture framery on George street, south of Charlotte, could have been handled from the rear with chemicals, avoiding so much water being turned on."

Ald. Jones— Are you allowed to make suggestions to the Chief?—No.

Ald. Morrison—What about the Mc. Donnel street fire?

Mr. Hatley—The fault there was in getting the apparatus up. One of the men was sent to the station for the waggons instead of the box nearby being pulled. They followed the Captain's orders.

Ald. Morrison—You blame the Captain in that case?

Mr. Hatley—My complaint is inefficiency of the brigade. I joined the brigade in 1914, went overseas in 1916 and was back the next year. I can't recall any drills.

Regarding the fight in the tower he said Chief Grange didn't show discipline .He was there and saw what happened, but didn't punish anybody.

"At J. T. O'Connell's office fire there should have been a line of hose in there. I think it was Sergeant Deanard who called for a line of hose."

Ald. Gordon—About that McDonnel street fire, should a man who appreciates his duty take orders from an officer without question?—Yes.

Ald. Gordon—Notwithstanding as in that case that the men might have realized they were passing a box that could have been pulled?—Yes.

Frank Degen.

At Ald. Whitehouse's suggestion. Ald. Morrison asked Fireman Degen if he had any complaints to make.

Degen replied that he had none against his Chief.

Ald. Whitehouse— Is the department up to standard now?—No. The new men are not yet efficient. I presume they will be if they stop long enough.

Is that the fault of the Chief?—The Chief or under officers.

Ald. Morrison—Did you ever ask the Chief for drills?

Mr. Degen—No. I don't think that was my place.

Speaking of the Lock Works fire, at which men had to be sent back to the hall for the ladder waggon, Degen said: "I was always taught that when a fire broke out in the centre of the city all the apparatus responded."

At McDonnel street fire when the man was sent back for the apparatus the man at the station put up the wrong number and the waggon went to the corner of Park and Charlotte streets instead of to McDonnel and Waterford streets. That was the watchman's mistake.

Had Two Drills.

Degen recalled two drills when Chief Grange began his duties, but there had been none in the last two years.

"About the Chief's garden, I was off duty and went with the Chief of my own free will as I'd do to-morrow."

"In 1919 the Chief made me a lieutenant, which I held until January of this year. When I was put back in the ranks the Chief gave no cause. He had told me I was as good a man as he had."

Ald. Jones—As a fireman, not as an officer.

Degen— He never said anything about that.

Ald. Crowe—Do you think the men should be employed more?

Degen—I think a little drill wouldn't hurt us.

Ald. Crowe—A little drill?

Degen—Once or twice a week. Every other day wouldn't hurt.

Norman A. Pammett.

"Why is the Chief in here?" was Fireman Pammett's first question.

Ald. Gordon—That doesn't concern you.

Mr. Pammett—The only complaint I have is that at the C.G.E. fire we were told to keep back the flames, but the water was suddenly cut off.

Ald. Morrison—Because there were motors in there. Do you know anything about drills?

"We've had none in my time, some two years."

Pammett said that when the men wanted the Council to recognize the Union he had seen Ald. Whitehouse and Ald. Morrison. There was a promise that the Fire, Water and Light committee would visit the fire hall, but when the aldermen came only two of them were members of the committee.

Ald. Morrison—I asked some members of the Council if they thought it a good time to introduce that question and they thought it wasn't. Nothing has been done since.

Mayor McIntyre and Ald. Crowe said that this matter hadn't been mentioned to them.

Mr. Pammett—I asked Ald. Morrison several times if he had taken up this question and he said an opportune time hadn't come.

Ald. Morrison—I didn't do it with the intention of keeping anything

Twenty-Five Year Ago

It was as cold as this in Summer, but not since. This year it has been overcoat weather every night. Think of numbers of nights last summer when our throats were thirsty and our foreheads feverish. We'll forget about the minor obstacles.

WELL!

In spite of all this, our Ice-cream sales have been greater than ever. We have sold 35% more Ice-cream than last year, so far.

WHY?

Because the Toronto City Dairy know how to make Quality Ice-cream Creations, and we know how to serve them, and our Customers know where to get them —That's why.

OAK HALL

FORECASTS DROP IN FOOD PRICES AND OTHER COSTS

WASHINGTON. — Marked indications that living costs apparently have started on their long awaited fall was said by the Federal Reserve Board to be contained in its latest reports. An "important downward tendency" in prices of all commodities excepting food is evidenced in all parts of the country, the board stated, adding that a sharp reduction in the price of raw products forecasts lower food prices.

The board's reports reveal that within the last two months price changes have been marked in all basic raw products, but have been most noticeable in wool, silk and leather. These reductions are said to have been accompanied generally by a corresponding drop of prices in the retail field on clothing and shoes and several other staples.

In wool, the termination of Government control in various parts of the world and the steady marketing of the raw supply held by the United States Government has had an important effect."

A "depressed situation" was said to exist in the leather and shoe industry. Shoe manufacturers are slow in placing orders with leather dealers with the result that prices on raw material have suffered a heavy decline.

"Large stocks of leather and hides which had accumulated," the board asserted, "coupled with a falling off in consumption demand for leather products resulting directly from the very high retail prices which were being charged, are correctly regarded as primarily responsible for the drop in leather prices."

The break in the silk market and subsequent falling of retail prices of that textile were attributed to speculative activity in Japan, where heavy losses have been sustained by dealers as a result of the refusal of Americans to buy at exorbitant prices. Financial difficulties which developed in Japan last spring also are showing effects and are aiding in forcing a price reduction on silk.

Lower prices on cotton and cotton products were forecasted because of an expected heavy crop combined with a slowing up of demand. The mills were said to be approaching completion of orders already in their hands. Few new orders are being placed, partly because of the lateness of the season and because jobbers and retailers confidently hope for a prevailing lower level of prices when sales on cotton goods reopen next spring.

"For the coming autumn and winter seasons it is likely, however, that this downward movement will be evident in a comparatively small degree," says the report. "In many lines higher retail prices are predicted, due to the fact that purchases for the autumn and winter trade had already been contracted for at the old level of prices, the changes in the prices of materials at the present time showing their effect early in the spring of 1921."

AUSTRIAN SERVANTS GET VACATION BONUS

WASHINGTON. — Household servants in Austria don't have to worry about vacation money since a new law regulating domestic service passed by the Austrian National Assembly, became effective this summer.

The law provides that in addition to full wages during the time they are on vacation leave, each servant is to receive a cash bonus (or subsidy as it is called) ranging from two weeks' to six weeks' pay.

The details of the new law are given in the Vienna newspaper, Die Gewerkschaft, the official organ of the Austrian labor unions. As regards vacations each servant is to be allowed one week of annual leave during the first week, two weeks in his second year, and in his fifth year his vacation period is to be three weeks. During his annual leave he is to receive full pay and in addition a subsidy, as follows. In case of one week's leave, half a month's pay; in case of two weeks' leave, one month's pay; in case of three weeks' leave, one and a half months' pay. If a domestic servant is discharged by an employer with the obvious intent of depriving the servant of his leave, the latter may claim compensation in the amount of the allowance that would have been due him had he been granted leave.

The law provides that a domestic servant immediately upon entering employment may require a written contract of his employer, and this instrument will govern his relations in the household, showing his rights and his duties. The wages are to be fixed acording to the local usage but must be paid not later than the first of each month.

One feature that will appear rather startling to American householders is the provision that if an employer moves to another locality the servant may not only refuse to go but may demand and receive the full amount of the wages for the unfilled period of his contract. Not only may he get money for the months that he does not work but he can force his employer to pay an allowance for his board during that period.

After ten years of continuous service with the same employer, a servant on discharge is entitled to a bonus of three months pay. The bonus increases by 5 per cent. for each additional year of service beyond ten, though a maximum limit is placed at 2 months' pay. If the service relation is however terminated through the fault of the servant himself he loses his claim to a bonus.

The law contains special provisions for servants rendering services of a high order, such as governesses, tutors and the like. They shall be furnished a separate room in each case, whenever possible, and shall be granted a rest period of three hours daily. After one year's service they are entitled to two weeks' leave, and after two years' service to four weeks leave. They must be given six weeks' notice in case of discharge, whereas common servants get only two weeks notice.

TONE IN A PIANO

A piano that is wanting in tone is really wanting in all that goes to make a satisfactory piano. Tone in a piano made by Ye Olde Firme of Heintzman & Co., Limited, George and Hunter streets, Piano, is the great outsanding figure of these world famed Canadian made pianos. During their long history of 70 years every emphasis has been put on tone.

A SHORTER SESSION?

Ottawa advices declare that the Federal government is arranging not only for an earlier session next year but a shorter one. There have been so many promises of that kind made that the latest one will not inspire the public with much hope, but at least there is a germ of satisfaction in the announcement. It has been a specialty of Canadian parliaments to waste time, to drag out the sessions to a wearisom length, the early weeks being devoted to unnecessary floods of oratory, with the result that the real business of the session is crowded into the last month and legislation of the most important kind is rushed through without any time for consideration. Reports have it that the next session will commence about Jan. 20th and come to a close in the middle of May. This would be a manifest improvement over present conditions and would undoubtedly be welcomed not only by many of the private members but by the public as well, for there has been general criticism of the wasted time that has characterized sessions of the House in previous years. Anything that can be done to expedite the business of the House, to eliminate the superfluous speeches and substitute business for talk would be in the country's interest.

WELCOME THE LETTER CARRIERS.

Although perhaps not as large in numbers as some other gatherings that have been held here, the annual Dominion convention of the Federated Letter Carriers' Association which meets in Peterborough on Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be one of the most representative that this city has had the honour to entertain. There will be delegates present from all parts of the Dominion and the local letter carriers hope that their fellow citizens will co-operate with them in making the visitors feel at home during their stay. The committee have arranged an excellent programme for the entertainment of the delegates and the merchants are asked to do their part by flying their flags as an indication to the visiting letter carriers that their convention is regarded as an event of unusual importance. The business section no doubt will gladly accede to this request which should be generally carried out on the down town streets. Make the Dominion "posties" welcome and let them carry the news all over the country that Peterborough is not only a live but a hospitable city.

HELPING THE CHILDREN.

Surely no one could gaze at the happy faces of the children as shown in the photographs on view in a down town store of the work done by the Peterborough Health Association in its camp for delicate children at Jackson Park without being convinced that the effort has proved a success and that the Association is deserving of the hearty support of the community. Very little has been said about this feature of the Health Association's work. It has been carried on quietly, without any effort to advertise, but in the homes of the children who have benefitted and among the little folks themselves there is no possible doubt of the success of the undertaking. The children who have regularly attended the camp throughout the summer weeks and who have spent long hours in the open air, receiving nourishing food of the kind most suited to their needs are in themselves living advertisements for the Association. It is difficult to look at the photographs and imagine that the youngsters should have been considered delicate. They are all smiling and happy and look the picture of health. It is a splendid work and the Association deserves the thanks and assistance of the community for what they have accomplished.

SUNDAY'S FUNERAL.

It is on occasions such as that of Sunday when two hundred members of the Great War Veterans' Association turned out on the long dusty march to St. Peter's cemetery to pay the last tribute of respect to a departed soldier that the Association shows its real value and true character. Although the young man whose mortal remains were laid to rest on Sunday was known only to a few of the Veterans and was not a member o fthe G.W.V.A., the Association saw to it that a man who had worn the King's uniform in the time of the country's need was buried with the honours consistent with his action in offering himself for service. The existence of the G.W.V.A. is justified by such incidents as this, which show the organized body of returned soldiers in a much better light than all the resolutions that could be passed at the regular meetings. Just as long as the Association continues to be of service when service is needed will it continue to thrive and flourish, and the funeral of Sunday proved that the local branch is alive to its responsibilities and its duties.

THE OLYMPIC GAMES.

The Toronto Telegram argues that the Olympic games should be abolished because they tend to promote enmity and stimulate ill will, illustrating the point by a reference to the incident at Antwerp the other day when a Belgian crowd hooted the British flag and the British national anthem because the one was displayed and the other sung in honour of the victory of the English water polo team. The incident should not be taken seriously. There was no real resentment against Britain in the action of the crowd; the Belgian people have not forgotten the sacrifices made by the British fighting forces on behalf of Belgium and the "booing" of the flag was merely an exemplification of the rooting that has become a part of most athletic contests. The baseball fans who jeer a visiting team do not do so because they have a genuine grievance against the members, but merely because they want to see the home team win. They know the visitors are decent enough fellows and after the game is over are willing to admit it, but in the heat of the contest they allow their loyalty to their own team to run ahead of their judgment. And so it was with the Belgian spectators at the Olympic water polo game. There is no necessity for making an international issue of it nor does it seem of sufficient importance to form a reason why the Olympic contests should be eliminated in spite of the Telegram's belief that the Olympic games "are the nurseries of international jealousy and international ill will."

ANTIDOTE OF UNREST.

Work is the antidote of unrest. It is, as Prime Minister Meighen pointed out in his Truro speech, the normal condition of man.

"But," says the pessimist, "it is all very well to tell a man to work. What he wants to know is where to find it and how much he is going to get out of it if he finds it."

If there is unemployment surely it is not because industry is unready or unwilling to absorb the available supply of labour. Industry, since the war, has been handicapped by its inability to secure efficient and sufficient labor, and it has been forced to pay unheard of wages, in many cases to unskilled men. In many lines there is the same story of decreased production because of the lack of efficient operators. Wages have been boosted abnormally, chasing or being chased by our old enemy, High Cost of Living, around a circle. The cost of labor is governed to some extent by the ability of employers to find adequate help. That there is no sign of a slump in wages or the cost of the necessaries of life points to the conclusion that there is little surplus labor.

However, no matter how desirable the conditions of the labor market from the worker's viewpoint, we have with us always, and particularly at this time when men's feelings are readily harrowed, a precious crew of agitators, political dyspeptics, and blind leaders. "Now is your time," they shout to the satisfied worker. "Make the capitalist pay while he has it." The socialist doctrine that to the toilers alone belongs the gain, the increment from profitable industry, is calculated to drive men from their benches and fill the streets with a restless mob. It is well known, in connection with the study of mob psychology, that the passions of a crowd of peace loving men are often inflamed in an instant by a word skilfully employed by a practised agitator It is easier to agitate a crowd of apparently sane individuals than to repair the damage caused by some crack-brained anarchist

If the men and women who are voluntarily absent from their employment would return to their benches and speed up production the cause for a great deal of the present unrest would disappear. The world is short on production and long on workless crowds who refuse to connect with desirable employment except at figures employers can't afford to pay.

And the trouble is complicated by the fact that many men won't do real work. They will accept employment at highly remunerative wages but it is the religion of many workmen, fed on socialist poison, to shirk real labor; they won't do a man's job and they won't earn the money they get.

Such a condition has well-nigh paralyzed many lines of industry. Building contractors refuse to tender because of the unsettled condition of the labor market. There is no stability anywhere and ie is difficult to estimate with a reasonable degree of accuracy what a contract is worth to a builder. Our great cities are suffering from a house famine. Thousands of people in Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa and other cities will soon be returning from lake resorts and country homes and will be forced to "double up" with others. But who, under the prevailing conditions of industrial unrest, will risk an attempt to relieve this undesirable condition? There is an inclination on the part of builders to wait "till things settle down."

But how are we to prescribe a remedy for such a disordered state? It is easy enough to suggest that it lies in getting back to normal; but it is doubtful if there ever will be a recurrence of the old conditions. It is not desirable that they should again exist. Workmen are entitled to full compensation for their labors and they are perfectly justified in making demands to that end, but they should give a fair return. "A reasonable amount of production for a reasonable day's pay" should be the slogan. The whole world is working on short hours. A little pep please!—Ottawa Journal.

WOMEN FORM OHIO JURY.

First Panel of Kind in State Saves Couple from Eviction.

AKRON, Ohio.—State history was made in the municipal court-room of Judge A. F. O'Neil when a jury of twelve women returned a verdict for the defendant in an eviction case.

It is the first time a woman jury has ever passed on a legal case in Ohio, and one of the few women juries that has ever been impaneled in the country.

The decision of the jury saved a newly wedded couple from being evicted from their home. Attorneys for the plaintiff said they were satisfied with the verdict and would not appeal.

COAL IN CHINA FOR A THOUSAND YEARS

CAN SUPPLY WORLD WITH BILLION TONS ANNUALLY.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Chinese imports from Japan increased 714 per cent. between 1904 and 1919; from the United States 244 per cent., and from England 49 per cent. In Shantung the trade of Tsingtao has nearly doubled since the Japanese occupied the port. The Japanese administration at Dairen, in Manchuria, has been active in trade promotion, and the commerce there has increased, in eleven years, from $22,000,000 to $198,000,000. The United States has made substantial progress in selling merchandise to China, shipping $117,000,000 worth in the fiscal year 1919, as against $57,000,000 in 1914, just before the beginning of the war. In one notable item, however, a great decrease has occurred; American sales of cotton goods in China have fallen off from nearly $30,000,000 in 1906 to $1,200,000 in 1918. China's foreign trade is five times as great to-day as it was thirty years ago. When the per capita foreign trade is equivalent to that of Australasia, the total will be $65,000,000,000 instead of the present $1,200,000,000; it is believed that this figure may eventually be attained because of the country's vast wealth in coal and basic metals, in vegetable and animal products, and the industrious, adaptable character of its population. Taking the single item of coal, it appears that China has enough to supply the world with a billion tons a year for a period of a thousand years. Hundreds of millions of tons of iron ore are available. All the prerequisites of industrial development are present, and even now cotton mills in Shanghai, Hankow and Tientsin are paying dividends as high as 25 per cent.

EARLY HOME OF BATHS—NOW HAS NONE AT ALL.

(United Press.)

VRAJNE, Serbia, August 27.—There was a time in Vrajne when the people included whatever the Serbian word for bath may be in their everyday vocabularies and not infrequently suited the action to the word, but that was hundreds of years ago. To-day it is with difficulty that the envoys of the American Red Cross at Vrajne are teaching the people the practical meaning of the word.

And yet, of all the towns in Serbia Vrajne is the one which should be most familiar with baths and bathing, for it is the home of the biggest and oldest Turkish bath establishment in the country. The ancient baths were built in the sixteenth century by the Turks themselves, who then ruled the country. They are housed in an ancient stone structure with a red tile roof.

The water, in the days when the baths were operating, flowed into huge vats above primitive underground furnaces from a spring whose crystal stream, now released, still bubbles through the vaulted cellars of the ancient establishment. The steam from the vats was led to the hot rooms above through channels cut in the solid rock walls of the building, for in the days when the Vrajne baths were constructed there was no such thing as an iron or lead pipe.

To-day the Vrajne baths are deserted. Bathing is a ritual of which the city's population has known nothing for generations. The youths of the town are learning the art from the Red Cross workers, but the elders still look on the regular ablution of the body as a troublesome superfluity, and the ancient baths of Vrajne may crumble into ruins ere the subterranean steam vats boil and bubble again.

TAKE PHOSPHATE WITH MEALS IN SUMMERTIME

Your Nerves Demand It. Your Blood Needs It, Say Physicians.

There's not enough phosphorus in modern foods to benefit nearly one-half of the men and women of American scientists declare.

To overcome this lack of an element of your body that is necesary to your health, your happiness and even your success in life, weak, anaemic, nervous, run-down people are advised to take Bitro-Phosphate as dispensed in leading drug stores in the original package.

Speaking of people who are easily fatigued, who lack ambition, nerve and are ofttimes thin, weak and sadly lacking in firm, healthy flesh, Joseph D. Harrigan, formerly Visiting Specialist North Eastern Dispensary, N. Y., says:

"Patients who were apparently physical wrecks, who foolishly thought they needed only a blood tonic to enrich the blood, have come for treatment trembling and shaking, their nerve froce almost exhausted and in many such cases the administering of Bitro-Phosphate has produced seemingly magical results."

People who feel the heat of summer, tire easily and often become irritable and depressed, will find Bitro-Phosphate an inexpensive and helpful friend.

Druggists report a wonderful increase in the demand from men and women who are anxious to renew old-time ambition and who are making an honest effort to become vigorous and keen-minded with a power of endurance that denotes almost perfect health.

THAT SON-IN-LAW OF PA'S — Pa and Cedric Both Feel the High Cost of Painting — By WELLINGTON

By OWEN JOHNSON

"I didn't do it," she said in a burst of frankness. "It was all an accident. Claire Bracken found us. She made me see!"

"Then I am deeply grateful to Claire," he said solemnly.

She turned, and without warning the cry burst from her: "Andrew, did he do it on purpose?"

He shrank back, and the hunted look flashed into his face.

"Don't!"

"Oh, I didn't mean to!" she cried instantly. "I couldn't help it—I have dreamed—"

"Don't, Amy, don't!" he cried. He pressed his hands against his temples as though to still their leap. Then he said in a voice that fought for calm, "It is more than I can bear. It is horrible,—it is ghastly! I don't know—I shall never know! All I know is, there was no reason why Rudolph Dellabarre should have done this hideous thing!"

"But—"

"Irma Dellabarre never would have left him—for me or any other man. She couldn't—it wasn't in her. I tell you this to clear her memory in your eyes. I did not realize it until that night."

"But—"

"Until I knew I had the right. I had never asked anything of her. That night I realized just how little it all was to her. God! I cannot reproach her—now!"

His voice had risen in his excitement. He mastered himself, went to the mantelpiece and leaned on it looking down into the grate.

"But you loved her?"

"Then? I suppose so."

The moment of silence stretched endlessly.

"Andrew, I shall never forget your chvalry toward me," she said, clasping her hands. "I thank you from the bottom of my heart for all you've done—and all you're going to do for me."

He stiffened abruptly, and the old demon of pride seized him. He would not be pitied by her.

"That is nothing—nothing more than a gentleman must do," he said quickly.

"No, no; don't say that! I mean it," she cried passionately. "There was so much that you could have reproached me with—and you didn't. I've been such a failure!"

His face softened.

"Those are such little things now, Amy, with what we have both got to face. They're all forgotten, believe me. There is no bitterness in me. No, it isn't fair to blame all on yourself. I've been all wrong too—all wrong!" He stopped, again caught by his pride, and added, "Just one thing—when you marry Monte Bracken—pray God to send you a child soon! It will make all the difference. The other thing isn't marriage!"

She stood fingering the papers on the table, her eyes blurred with tears. He saw her head bent over, and believing she was reading what lay there, said hastily:

"I don't know whether you heard—I have been rather badly caught in the stock market."

"I'm sorry," she said mechanically. "Not too badly, I hope?"

"Well, yes. The bottom, you know, dropped out of everything, and everything I had was margined—and, well, I guess it's a pretty clean sweep."

"Do you mean, Andrew, you've lost everything?" she cried, wrinkling her forehead.

"Yes, that's about it. Fortunately," he said wearily, "there's my salary, you know. There's always that. Try to be a little careful these next few months until you get the divorce."

She was staring at him incredulously. Andrew bankrupt! Andrew, who was the breath of success itself! Andrew bruised and overthrown!

"Fortunately, I placed a certain sum of money in your name when I realize that we would separate," he began. "It's not much, but—"

"Oh, don't talk of that!" she cried indignantly. She took a step toward sim. "Does this mean that you—that you have nothing left?"

"Not in the bank," he said, shrinking, "but there's the salary. Half of it'll have to go to squarng up debts, but I can't starve on the rest," he added, with the simulation of a smile.

"But if—if you didn't have that?"

"I'm not worrying about that," he said, frowning, though the very suggestion brought such a panic to his nerves that he bit his knuckles without noticing what he did. "Gunther knows my worth."

"But then you are starting over—all over again," she said, bewildered.

He nodded. "Other men have done it. Don't worry about me. I'll win out, too."

The news overwhelmed her. Andrew bankrupt! What was the world without money? What could he do, all alone, without money? She watched him, dazed, unable to readjust her conception of him all at once, and slow yirdew 8k kpi, uw slowly drew off her cloak. She looked around helplessly, still striving to seize the full impost.

"I think I'll go to my room," she sad, her brain in a turmoil, "I'll come back in a moment."

She went out and up to her bedroom and stood in the middle of the floor, thinking. What had happened changed all. Before her were two doors, both open, one nto the obscurity of the hall and the other into the riotous glow of the flowering porch. That was her choice, and she was free to make it: Monte, and all to pleasant things of life, the luxuries she had learned to crave, ease, brilliancy, the jewels of existence spread before her; and below, through the other door, her husband and struggle—Andrew, stricken and staggering, under all his assumption of bravado.

She shrieked, and in a blind, unreasoning panic, ran down the stairs, crying his name, and flung into the library. He stood up, staring at her in surprise. She put out her hands as thoguh to touch him, and fell back against the wall, her hands to her heart.

"Andrew! Andrew—I heard—I thought—Good God, I thought you had killed yourself!"

He had started hurriedly to her side. At her words he drew back.

"I am not made of that stuff," he said, cut to the quick. "I should think you would have known that."

She looked at him and shook her head sadly, once, twice. His pride could no longer wound her. She had seen, beneath the mask, the raw wound in his soul. What she did came on the impulse of the moment, born in the revealing horror in her soul. A moment before she had seen him stretched before her on the carpet, dead—a bleeding, trickling gash across the forehead which he had held so high.

"Andrew, listen!" she cried in anguish, as though there in the room the shadow of death were still lurking. "Andrew, listen to me—answer me! Oh, don't be hard—don't be bitter; answer me honestly."

He stood staring at her, no longer defiant, but so broken that in his need he put out his arm, seizing the table to steady himself.

"Andrew, is it too late?"

A look of fear, as though before an impossible solution, came to him. He put his hand to his eyes wearily.

"What do you mean?" he said in a whisper.

"Oh, Andrew, if you'll only hold out your hand to me!" she said incoherently. "If you'll only do that, I'll come. I'll stand by you, I'll make you forget it all! Can't you—won't you just hold out your hand—to show you want me?"

And all at once the bars broke in his soul. He tried to speak—nodded, and held out his arms to her.

GENERAL PAID FOR TREACHERY WITH OWN LIFE

JESUS GUAJARDO, WHO TRICKED REBEL LEADER, HIMSELF FELL VICTIM OF DECEPTION.

(Canadian Press)

MONTEREY, Mexico, Aug. 27.—General Jesus Guajardo, who treacherously tricked and slew the wily rebel leader, Emiliano Zapata, himself fell a victim to deception when he was captured by Government troops and executed here July 18 last. The tale of his latest and last adventure is thus told here:

Thirteen months ago Guajardo, a colonel in Carranza's army, attacked a detachment of his own faction's troops, killed and wounded several of them and convinced Zapata that he had a new adherent. Then, as Zapata, greeted him in salute, he had ordered his men to fire on Zapata and the noted rebel chief was blown out of his saddle, dead.

Double-Dealing General.

To reward this act, Carranza made the double dealer a general, and a little over a year later he turned upon his benefactor and joined the successful revolution of Obregon and de la Huerta.

After many misgivings they accepted him as a general in the new army, and gave him the command of a brigade and he started for Torreon on a campaign, against Villa. While enroute he stopped his trains, assembled his regimental commanders and explained that he had resolved "not to recognize" the de la Hurerta regime any longer but to go into the field for the newest revolution and join Ozuna, Ricardo Gonzales and the others fighting to eastward around Monterey. But several colonels, his chief of staff and half his command deserted him.

Finally Guajardo abandoned the trains and started to march for the mountains of Nueva Leon. Soon he learned that Amaro, leaving the chase of Villa for the time, was on his track and that the risings around Monterey had been failures. The remnant of his command melted away under attacks of Government troops until there remained only one faithful colonel and an orderly.

Hid in Relatives' Home.

Meanwhile Colonel Antonio Cano, one of Guajardo's colonels who had abandoned him, had been captured by Federal troops, taken to Monterey and released there. Next day Colonel Cano called at the house where Guajardo was hiding to visit the owner who also was his relative. To his surprise he found there his late commander, General Guajardo, who asked him not to reveal his whereabouts. Cano, however, revealed Guajardo's hiding place, an order for his arrest was issued and with several other colonels Cano was sent to execute it.

Cano again was admitted to see Guajardo and pretended to unfold to him plans for the future. While they were talking the Federal colonels entered, and arrested Guajardo. He was taken a prisoner to the state penitentiary.

Tried at Night.

Orders came from Mexico City directing that he should be tried by court martial, which was done that night, July 17. With practically no defense to offer, he was found guilty, the sentence was approved by General of Division Eugenio Martinez at Monterey, and early in the morning General Jesus Guajardo stepped out of his quarters in the old barracks at the Plaza de Armas, where he had been tried and said farewell to a few faithful friends.

Then he stepped in front of the firing squad and paid with his life and final penalty of his treachery to the new Government.

There are 9 specified sheep classes exhibited at the Canadian National Exhibition, divided up into 123 sections.

FATAL ATTACKS OF INFLUENZA DECREASE

WOOD ALCOHOL, HOWEVER, KILLED FORTY IN FOUR MONTHS.

August 30.—As a cause of death influenza practically disappeared from the records of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. during May, according to a summary of the company's experience for that month published in the Bulletin, the house organ. Pneumonia fell away to a place of unimportance among the diseases that caused death to Metropolitan policyholders.

But during the first four months of the year the company paid claims arising out of the death of 40 persons who died from the effect of drinkng wood alcohol. This cause of death did not persist in the later experience of the company either, but its appearance during the first four months was its first in the history of the company.

The decrease in deaths from influenza and pneumonia is attributed to the exhaustion of subjects during the preceding epidemics. In ordinary times deaths from influenza and pneumonia occupy an important place in the list of fatal diseases, but it is a medical theory that certain persons are more susceptible to the disease than others and that these persons are liable to be taken in an epidemic, with the result that only a few are left over to make up the normal number who die from the disease in ordinary times.

SOVIET IGNORES RIGHTS OF LABOUR

LENINE ORDERS IRON MILITARY DISCIPLINE AND OVERTIME IMPOSED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Russian Soviet officials have put human labor under an iron military discipline and declared it to be the property of the State, according to a study by the International Labor Office of the League of Nations. A digest of the study, material for which was gathered by a commission appointed for that purpose was made public here to-day.

According to the report the original labor program of the Bolsheviki when they nationalized industries was liberal, providing for the eight hour day, a living wage, strict regulations regarding women and children workers and other reforms. Nationalization, the report said, was followed by a decrease in production, causing living costs to rise faster than wages. Workers began to leave the cities for the country where food was more plentiful.

Soon Change Tune.

This movement was followed by official steps including exceptions to the rule against overtime, the organization of labor armies and the declaration that labor is a commodity the report said, and quoted from Bolshevik authorities: "The fundamental transformation process which we should know and understand is that of goods into men and men into goods."

Another quote, from Kukharin, was "Let us introduce military into Labor and we shall thus increase the productivity of Labor."

Lenin is quoted for the following: "We must now adapt our war apparatus to new work. We must create armies of labor, we must concentrate our forces on the labor front with the maximum amount of tension, with a truly military spirit of implacable decision."

The International Labor Office report follows a similar document issued by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor On the basis of his study Gompers said the Bolshevik system was "monstrous" and held out no hope for Labor.

STRUCK BY TRAIN; ONE HORSE KILLED

TORONTO, Aug. 30.—William J. Tyrrel, 1213 Dovercourt Road, a driver for the City Dairy Company, had a narrow escape from death on Saturday afternoon when the wagon he was driving was struck by a G.T.R. passenger train at the St. Clair crossing near Keele street. One horse was carried 150 yards and killed outright, the other was carried 25 yards, badly hurt and thrown down an embankment and Tyrrell was hurled with the wreckage of his wagon clear of the track. He was badly cut about the face and hands by flying glass from the broken bottles.

The police say that the cause of the accident was due to the neglect of the signalman to drop the gates as the train approached the crossing. The regular man was away at the time and a temporary employe was substituted. This man, it is understood, instead of dropping the gates, ran into the middle of the tracks with a red flag and waved it warningly to traffic. Tyrrel claims that he did not see the flag. The gateman was nowhere to be found after the accident and has not yet been located.

Beautifully Curly, Wavy Hair—In Three Hours!

Girls, have you tried the silmerine method of curling your hair? It's simply grand! Gives you the most beautiful, natural looking curls and waves within three hours keeps the hair soft silky and glossy—and nothing harmful or messy about it. The curls will last the longest time—in spite of heat, wind and dampness. You won't have to be continually fixing and mussing with loose flying hair. It's foolish to singe and blister and deaden your tresses with a hot curling iron—and altogether unnecessary now.

Liquid silmerine is pleasant to use, being neither sticky nor greasy. Get a bottle from your druggist to-day; follow the simple directions—the first trial will make it your steadfast friend.

ANOTHER BIG FLOW OF GAS NEAR MEAFORD.

MEAFORD, August 30.—Another flow of gas equal in pressure to that of the first well has been struck in well number two at the Doran oil fields, a few miles from the town.

Both wells are said to maintain an even pressure of 145 pounds each.

At a meeting of the Doran Development Company held here, it was decided to form a joint stock company to be capitalised at $100,000, and to allow the present shareholders shares to the value of two dollars for every dollar invested. As soon as the company is incorporated, steps will be taken to pipe the gas to Meaford for heating and lighting purposes, as it is confidently believed that there is enough gas coming from the two wells to supply the town for years to come.

OVERSEAS ARTISTS SCORE IN SPLENDID NEW REVUE

MAPLE LEAFS, THE CONCERT PARTY OF THE 4TH CANADIAN DIVISION, PLEASE LARGE AUDIENCE AT THE GRAND.

HERE AGAIN TO-NIGHT

Captain M. W. Plunkett, who put the Dumbells over the top last year, for one of the greatest successes in the history of the stage in Canada, a success by the way that promises to be repeated this season, introduced another troupe of overseas performers to a Peterboro audience at the Grand last night, when the Maple Leafs, the concert troupe of the 4th Canadian Division, presented their revue, "Camouflage."

The verdict was unanimous that the Maple Leafs should repeat the triumphs of their 3rd Division artists. Their performance was bright, snappy and clever, with costumes that are gorgeous and a stage setting that is perfection itself. Captain Plunkett has assembled a splendid cast of vocalists and comedians, the overseas men making every number of the two dozen or more on the programme a hit. There is variety as well as merit in the offering and not a dull moment anywhere.

Wisely the management has eliminated much of the war atmosphere from the production. Members of the cast are all veterans but most of their numbers have no reference to the war, although there is one military skit that is screamingly funny, and there are a few jokes that are reminiscent of the late conflict that the men with the bronze buttons in the audience found particularly amusing.

Like the Dumbells, the Maple Leafs have some clever "girls." In fact there are half a dozen or more with the 4th Division troupe, and so realistic is their impersonation that it is difficult for the audience to realize that they are not the "vamps" their appearance would indicate. Ormond Perley, Harry Ashton, Jack Kelly, Leslie Benson, and Hughie Williamson are the "ladies" of the company and they score heavily. Ormond Perley is especially prominent by reason of his graceful dancing, the Oriental dance, which he offers in the second part of the programme being a feature of the programme. He also make a hit in his number, "Just Dance, My Dear." The costumes worn by the "girls" are magnificent.

There is plenty of comedy in "Camouflage." Ernie Petch with his funny monologue and his comical hit, "Sullivan will be There;" Sam Birch, as "Jonathan Jay," with a most amusing patent medicine "spiel." Jim Graham, and other members of the cast, all help in the funmaking. A sandwich board quartette, with a number of witty posters, makes a big hit with the humour of the notices as they do in the singing of "What Did You Do in the Great War, Daddy," while later on they were happily entertaining in "Another Little Bunk."

There is some really delightful vocal work. Syd Walsh, the possessor of a splendid tenor voice, sang a selection from "Pagliacci," in a most effective manner, while Bobby Scott is heard to advantage in several numbers, notably in "Swing Me in the Moonlight," and "That Old Fashioned Mother of Mine." Bert Wilkinson sings "Neptune," in fine voice, and with an evident appreciation of its spirit. Morley Plunkett and Harry Ashton score in "My Orchart is Short of a Peach Like You," and other numbers are equally successful.

The Maple Leafs will be at the Grand again to-night and should be greeted by a capacity audience. The performance deserves it.

THIEVES BROKE INTO HOME AT LINDSAY.

LINDSAY, Aug. 31.—On Saturday afternoon last, at about 4 o'clock, thieves broke into the home of Mr. John Devitt, 196 Dennison Street. Entrance was gained by means of a front window, and the thieves, thought to be boys, ransacked the house, removing a variety of articles, including foodstuffs, tobacco, writing material, a gold watch and chain valued at $65, and a $5 gold locket and chain.

KIRKPATRICK STRUCK ON HEAD BY ENGINE

STORY OF RAILWAY FATALITY BY WHICH MAN LOST LIFE NEAR LINDSAY.

LINDSAY, Aug. 31.—An inquest into the death of David Kirkpatrick, who was killed on the C.P.R. track by a Port McNichol train on Sunday will be held here to-day.

From information of the accident, already made public, it appears that a freight train, driven by Engineer Burnett, of Havelock, was travelling down the C.P.R. yard from the station. When about half a mile north of the station and near Scott's crossing the crew noticed a man walking across the track. Relatives give their opinion that the man stumbled and was struck before he could escape. The engine caught him on the head, crushing his skull. Dr. Blanchard was immediately summoned, but the man died a minute before his arrival.

The late Mr. Kirkpatrick was well known in town, having resided here all his life. He was engaged in the lumbering business and for 21 years was foreman in a local mill. Recently he has been engaged as a Government scaler for the Abitibi Power and Paper Company at Iroquois Falls. He had been enjoying a two weeks' holiday and was to return to work Monday.

In connection with the death of Mr. Kirkpatrick, it was reported yesterday that the deceased took a trip south in an automobile on Sunday with three other men, and on his return accompanied one of the party to his home. On his return down the track, it is supposed deceased tripped and fell, stunning himself. The parties referred to have been subpoened to give evidence at the inquest.

Women are smoking choice Cuban cigars in England and some have even commenced to use pipes.

THOUGHT LINDSAY FIRE DUE TO DROPPED MATCH.

Further particulars of the fire in Lindsay's Fire Station Sunday morning reveals the fact that Fire Chief Beadle and Mrs. Beadle were seated on the lawn in front of the hall and did not know the premises were on fire until notified by an alarm sent in by Mr. James Begg, who saw smoke issuing from the rear.

There is a feed box between the two stalls and the fire had eaten its way to this receptacle and was crawling into the loft. Fire Chief Beadle, realizing the danger, groped his way through the loft to the feed box and checked the flames at this point. After a hard fight on the part of the firemen the fire was subdued, but not until considerable damage was done the stables, two rooms upstairs and the basement, where water ruined a pool table besides damaging other articles.

Fire Chief Beadle is at a loss to know how the fire occurred. Someone must have entered the stable from the rear and carelessly dropped a match.

The record day's attendance at the Canadian National Exhibition is 189,500, reached on Labour Day, 1919.

back. Others agreed with me that the time wasn't opportune, and I still think it wasn't.

Chief Grange—Didn't the men say that they would withdraw the letter for the time being?

Ald. Morrison—The men drew up a revised by-law while the Chief was away. I didn't agree with some paragraphs and suggested that they be changed.

Ald. Gainey— Whether you agree with the men or not isn't it your duty to tell them to send their communications to the Council through the City Clerk?

Ald. Morrison—Yes, if it is anything that is required.

Ald. Gainey—They thought it was required.

Ald. Whitehouse— It is clear the men didn't know how to approach the Council.

Firemen D. Carr.

Mr. Carr's role was the recovery of the horse that broke out of the hall. He had no personal complaints to make. He had no drills since joining the brigade in March.

Ald. Whitehouse— Have you any other grievances.

Ald. Jones—He hadn't any at all.

Ald. Whitehouse—It is simply drawing this man into trouble.

Ald. Hamilton—Ald. Gordon's instructions to Mr. Tooms called for the signing of the complaints submitted and these men simply signed as witnesses.

John Drummond.

Mr. Drummond—The Chief issued an order not to sit on a couch in the watch room. I forgot about it and sat on it just as the Chief came in. That's why I was dismissed. At the C.G.E. fire the Chief ordered me to cut off the water while the men were in at the fire.

To Ald. Gainey Drummond said he wasn't in good circumstances when he was dismissed. It was in January Drummond said he had seven children.

Robert Wilson.

Fireman Wilson said he had not seen any attempt on his shift to train the horses.

Mayor McIntyre—Were any of the horses in Chief Grange's time trained?

Mr. Wilson—Those trained in Howard's time were, but the last two teams were not trained.

Ald. Crowe—It takes a long time to train them.

Mr. Wilson—If they had the practice every night as we had under Howard they'd soon get on to it.

Ald. Morrison—It isn't as necessary to have the horses trained so much since we motorized the brigade.

Edward Marchand.

Fireman Marchand said that personally he had no complaints to make, but had signed the charges covering events he had witnessed. Referring to the incident of the horse getting out of the hall, he said that when the button was pushed to open the doors they had caught and didn't work. They had to be pushed open. When the horses were turned out one of them went through the main door, snapping the chain. The watchman wasn't there to stop it.

Mr. Marchand said that the new team had been trained three weeks. The other horses went under their collars well.

Ald .Gordon—Did the doors confuse the horses so that they didn't act normally?

Mr. Marchand—I don't think so.

Ald. Whitehouse—Had they sufficient training?

Mr. Marchand—They were trained for twenty-one days. They could have been trained every night as far as that goes. The new horses have been there three months or more.

Of the Lock Works fire Mr. March and said that the Assistant Chief stated that the ladder truck wasn't needed, but the horses were hitched up and ready.

Mr. Marchand said he hadn't seen any drills since joining the department.

Ald. Crowe—Do you think drills are required?

Mr. Marchand — I think we need training the same as any other trades.

George Crouter.

Fireman Crouter had no complaints. The horses should be trained to run out under the harness.

Lieut. Warde.

The Fanning laundry fire was handled all right in Lieut. Warde's opinion. Rows were not rare occurrences at the hall, and there were occasions when the Chief should have punished some of the men.

J. A. Perdue.

Mr. Perdue added nothing material to the hearing. He told of Assistant Chief Johnston's slapping of Munden.

Ernest Munden.

Fireman Munden considered the department efficient except the new men. At the Laundry fire he and the Assistant Chief were alone outside to handle the hose and the rest of the men were in the building. There should have been other men outside to handle a ladder the Chief called for.

Munden told of the dormitory fight. Gordon Johnston, Copperthwaite and himself had been detailed for dormitory duty. On that Sunday morning Gordon Johnston came downstairs saying that there were others sitting around who got more money than he. He complained to his brother, the Assistant Chief.

"The Assistant Chief asked me why I wasn't upstairs doing the work. He worked himself into a fury. I said that the beds were getting an airing. The Assistant Chief said: "The Chief wants me to drive you and by G—— I'll drive you." I told him he'd never get the chance. He reported to the Chief and when the Chief called us together I told him Gordon Johnston was at the bottom of the trouble. The Assistant Chief attacked me and his brother joined in." Munden said that the incident blew over and he had had no trouble since but he considered that the Chief should have disciplined the Assistant Chief.

Lieut. Jones.

It was Lieut. Jones who mixed up the number of the McDonnel street fire. When the man came back with the Chief's car he called out 37, or Lieut. Jones mistook 27 for 37. The correct number was 27. In the London fire department, where Lieut. Jones served nine years, he said there were daily drills and special weekly drills. They included roof and ladder work, jumping out of windows, lowering out of windows, and everything concerning apparatus, in addition to dumb bell exercises, club swinging and other drills that kept the men busy all the time.

"I've had no drill with ladders here," said Lieut. Jones, "and they're different to ladders used in other cities.

Ald. Whitehouse—Is there enough space for drills here?

Lieut. Jones—No. I think you would need the space back to Bethune street.

He stated that some of the firemen were too ld for physical drill. Other departments had age limits of from 18 to 25 years for men joining.

Ald. Whitehouse— What do you think of the efficiency of the brigade for a town of this size?

Lieut. Jones—I think it is good. Of course there are always hitches somewhere, when we see defects that might have been altered.

Mayor McIntyre— You think the brigade capable of handling a fire like the Quaker Oats?—Yes.

Assistant Chief Johnston.

Assistant Chief Johnston, with nine and a half years in the department, had been assistant to the chief for more than two years.

"Lately we don't pay the same attention we did before we got the motor but the horses had a fair amount of training."

Ald. Crowe: Is the brigade in an efficient state?

Mr. Johnston: I don't know, but it could stand improvement. I never saw a horse run past the chain in my time.

Ald. Whitehouse: Is the brigade as efficient as ever has been?

Mr Johnston: Yes; we keep a full staff all the time.

Mayor McIntyre: Is that the only reason?

Mr. Johnston: I don't know that they're better than in Howard's time. If we had the work, this trouble mightn't have occurred. Idleness breeds this kind of thing.

Referring to Drummond's dismissal, Johnston said that the chief's order to the men was not to sit on the head of the couch.

Ald. Whitehouse: Do you think these man have cause for grievances?

Mr. Johnston: In regard to work there's no cause for complaint.

Mr. Johnston gave his version of the fight over the work in the dormitory one Sunday morning. The men detailed to do it had been neglecting it. They were congregated in the stable. "I went out and gave them a talking to. They got saucy. I asked them what would have been the results had it been under assistant chiefs. I told them things were easier, but if they wanted to be driven I'd drive them. I never brought the chief's name into it. That was a lie and when the chief called us together he persisted I cuffed one of the men on the ear. Afterwards two of them said they had lied. I said I was sorry and we shook hands.

Ald. Gordon: To whom did they acknowledge the untruth?

Mr. Johnston: I don't think it was in those words, but they said they had made a mistake. The matter had blown over until this matter came up.

James Weir.

Fireman Weir's experience included, he said, three years under Chief Howard. He had no complaints to make.

Ald. Whitehouse: Have there been any grievances at the fire hall?

Mr. Weir: There have been some. After every fire the men get talking over of what has happened.

Ald. Whitehouse: Is there anything you know that demands investigation?

Mr. Weir: To tell the truth I don't think this should have happened. These are personal grievances of the dismissed men.

Mr. Weir said he had seen horses in Chief Howard's time fail to come out of their stalls when the doors opened.

E. G. Johnston.

E. G. Johnston, brother of the assistant chief, said he had four years with the department. Except a little agitation at times everything was satisfactory at the fire hall, and the complaints shouldn't have been brought before the committee as they had been.

Mr. Johnston said he wouldn't condemn the chief on his reported speech at St. Thomas as the local papers there gave a report different from The Toronto World's. Mr. Johnston believed that the chief, as a member of the firemens' union, wasn't justified in making the statement quoted. However, there was some doubt about the report.

Capt. A. McDonald.

Ald. Whitehouse asked Captain McDonald if he thought anything warranted an investigation.

"The officers I think have let things run loose," he said, "but they can be altered without an investigation. But in regard to an investigation, I'm not giving an opinion one way or another."

To another question the captain said: "Things are not so serious that they require an investigation, but they could have a big improvement.

Chief Grange's Reply.

Morning was not far off when the statements of the firemen were concluded and the committee decided to hear Chief Grange's defence.

Mayor McIntyre insisted on having some of the firemen present and a delay ensued until eight of them were called from the fire hall.

Dealing with the written complaints seriatim, Chief Grange first explained the Metal Products fire. The fly piece of the ladder that had been raised caught in the railing of the water tank which was on fire. "I ordered the men to turn the ladder over. The fly piece fell out because the grooves in which it worked were badly worn. That ladder gave us trouble in Howard's time. I had reported it out of repair to the committee but no action was taken."

The Bell Fire.

At the Bell apartment fire the Chief said he did not think it advisable to use ladder work because he feared the cornice might fall, and because of the dangerous condition he knew the building to have been in previous to the fire. His action was to safeguard the department. It was impossible to get on the roof because it was a mass of flames.

The Neill Fire.

"At the Neill fire I ordered Firemen Menzies and Johnston to take a line to Drummond's roof. There was a network of hose in the alleyway. I wanted two lines taken around to Simcoe street. In the excitement Harry Beatty snubbed a rope around the two lines and also around the line held by Menzies and Johnston. That rope was hitched to their hose in the excitement of the moment.

The C. G. E. Fire.

At the C. G. E. fire there was a vat of varnish blazing. I ordered a chemical line laid to it. The first of three lines of hose was also turned into the vat spreading the contents all over the gallery, spreading the fire to such an extent it went to the roof. I ordered that line of hose cut off so I could smother the fire with sand.

Peterboro Canoe Fire.

When I saw the ladder waggon coming to this fire I held up my hand to stop the speed of the horses. I ordered a ladder put up and sent a man up on the roof. About the horse getting out of the hall, two men were left to hitch up the horses. They were Marchand and Lebarr. I gave instructions for the horses to be led out owing to their not being properly trained. I heard that Lebarr drove one of the horses out of the stable without anyone being in front to catch it. Whether the horse was struck or not I cannot say, but it went out so fast it broke through the chain and got into the street.

Lock Works Fire.

I instructed the Assistant Chief that except in the business district, the ladder truck was to stay in the fire hall until it was sent for. Arriving at this fire I saw that it was in the roof. We were using chemicals and there was a line the lock works were using inside under the fire. I called out the truck as an extra precaution in case I wanted it, but I did not need it at all.

Fanning's Laundry Fire.

At this fire three men were left outside to handle the hose. Two were sufficient to lay the line. The other men should have used better judgment than all going into the building together.

Picture Framery.

The complaint about this fire was that there had been unnecessary flooding.

Chief Grange said that when he arrived the men were using the large chemical from the rear, also a line of hose. When the chemicals became exhausted he ordered two more lines of hose to be laid as a precaution.

Efficiency of Horses.

Chief Grange said that he got three new horses this spring. He gave orders that they were to be trained every night by the assistant chief's platoon. They were trained for three weeks, but owing to the condition of the floor the Chief regarded it inadvisable to continue the training fearing the horses might break through and injure themselves. The flooring has since been repaired.

Drilling of Department.

"The statement that we have had no drills is not correct," said the Chief, submitting a list of those he had held. They showed that 21 drills had been held under the Chief's regime, eight since January 1st, 1919. These were all hose and engine drills.

Johnston's Fight.

Regarding this complaint, the Chief said that Munden and Copperthwaite had tried "to choke a lie down the Assistant Chief's throat. He wouldn't stand for it. He lost his temper and hit Munden an open hand slap. When the apology was made, I didn't take further action except to tell Johnston he had done wrong.

Quarrel in Tower.

That hapened three years ago. Assistant Chief Johnston and Capt. McDonald had a chewing match. I smoothed it over so as not to have anything come out in the press. That was shortly after I took charge of the Department.

The Car to Young's Point.

Five of the men, including myself, had a garden on Crescent street. When the question of scuffling came up, Warde and Copperthwaite said they had a scuffler at Young's Point if they could get it. I had a private car at the station and gave them permission to take my car. I notified Ald. Morrison of what I had done. About using the horse for scuffling, Ald. Morrison said there would be no harm in using a horse. We had a spare team at the hall at the time. Ald. Morrison said the exercise would do the horse good. About my garden outside the city, four of the men who were on day duty offered their services to go out to the garden after supper to plant the lot. I told Ald. Morrison I had a lot near G. W. Hatton's at the head of Charlotte street. I had his permission.

Taking Men's Equipment.

The police are usually at fires and anxious to give a hand. They would take the men's equipment out of the waggon. I had spoken to the police and asked them to discontinue that practice.

Degen's Demotion.

Degen was only provisionally appointed lieutenant. He didn't make good owing to two reports. A citizen seeking aldermanic honours came to the station. Degen and Jones were there. When this man asked how they were going to vote, Degen pointed to a charter on the wall and said that was the way all were going to vote. It was the Union charter in the watch room. I told Degen he did wrong by insulting the gentleman. I had him go and apologize. On another occasion he and Drummond responding to an alarm nearly came to blows in a dispute over the car in the presence of an electrician of the Northern El-

CRACK NEW LISKEARD TEAM TO PLAY HERE ON SATURDAY

Two weeks from Saturday the Peterborough Central League champions will travel to Toronto to meet the Toronto champion team in the semi-finals of the Ontario championships. In the meantime the Petes are practising faithfully to keep in shape, and have arranged a series of games that will help to tune them up for the big test as well as to give the local fans a chance to see some baseball.

On Saturday the crack New Liskeard team, champions of the Temiskaming League and of New Ontario, will meet the Petes at Riverside Park. The Northerners have cleaned up Cobalt, Porcupine and Haileybury, and have a rattling fine ball club, whom the Petes will have to meet with their very best wares if they want to earn the verdict. They play real ball up in the mining country, and Saturday's game should be easily one of the season's best.

On Monday the Universals, of the Riverdale League, Toronto, will be here for a game on Labour Day morning. The Universals were a close second in their League race, finishing up with seven straight wins, and they will take some beating.

ANNUAL MEETING OF ASSOCIATION

ALL ATHLETIC ORGANIZATIONS INVITED TO ATTEND MEETING.

Invitations have been issued to all the athletic organizations of the city to send representatives to the first annual meeting of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association, which will be held in the Board of Trade rooms to-morrow evening.

Officers and an executive will be elected, a constitution and by-laws passed upon, and the policy of the association which will be the chief factor in athletic activities in Peterborough will be outlined. It is expected that there will be a large attendance of all those interested in the future of sport in Peterborough.

THE FARMERS HAVE STARTED THRESHING

GRAIN IS TURNING OUT WELL IN PETERBORO COUNTY.

The farmers are perhaps the busiest, and it might be added, the happiest people in this district to-day. They are busy because they are in the throes of harvesting, or beginning the threshing, and they are happy because the crops have turned out far better than they ever expected last spring.

The weather, they state, has been ideal for harvesting; in fact, since the dry spell last June, it has been all that they could desire. There have been few real hot days; the rain has been satisfactory, and the growth in all grains has been better than in years.

The oats, the last crop to go in the barns, was about the best, the farmers declare, and they expect to record unusual yields when the crop is threshed. Threshing is general throughout the country. The first of this year's hay appeared on the market yesterday and brought $28.00 a ton. Whether this price will continue when large quantities are brought to the city is a question the farmers would like to have answered.

Gardeners Discouraged.

The market gardeners in this district are greatly dismayed over the stagnant vegetable and fruit market. The public, they declare, are not buying to any appreciable extent, and they have considerable quantities of vegetables on their hands, for which they can find no sale. With their waggons loaded with tomatoes, corn, cucumbers, and other perishable vegetables, they make the round of the stores and houses only to find, they say, that every one is stocked up, and the fruit dealers themselves in a state of trepidation.

While there is admittedly unusual plentitude of all vegetables, they say the citizens are not buying, holding back waiting for a lower price. Meanwhile the season is drawing to an end, and corn and tomatoes will soon go off the market, and the public will get "stung."

The hot weather has ripened up the tomatoes very quickly, one market gardener told The Examiner, and has done the same with corn. They advise the citizens to buy now or take the consequences.

As far as potatoes go, the gardeners are "out of luck." Seed cost them $5.00 and $7.00 a bag, and if the present price of spuds continues at $1.00 or $1.50, they stand to lose considerably.

The plums are a poor crop around here, and in South Monaghan, well known as a plum growing district, the crop has been a failure. Apples look like a bumper crop from present indications, and the great crops of early apples would tend to assure this.

STOCK MARKET

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 31. — Prices were generally irregular at the stock market opening to-day. U S Steel was off 1-4, at 88 5-8; Baldwin 107 5-8 unchanged; Baltimore and Ohio 41 1-2 up 1-4; New Haven 34 1-4 unchanged; St. Louis Southwestern 25 up 3-8; Chesapeake and Ohio 60 off 3-4; Texas Co., 46 3-4 off 1-4; Pan Amer Pet 86 1-2 off 7-8; C P R 118 unchanged; Mex Pet 161 off 1-2; Penn 41 3-8 off 1-8; Rep Steel 83 3-4, off 1-4; Union Pac 121 7-8 up 1-4.

Expected developments in the tobacco industry caused those stocks to become active around non. American Tobacco advanced 7 points to 122, United Retail Stores and Tobacco Products gained 1 point each. This was the first market activity shown in tobacco stocks in weeks.

Many rail issues advanced to new highs during the early trading. Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, and St. Louis South-Western led the list.

The advance in rails caused Steel Common to go up to 89 3-8 and Mexican Petroleum to 163 1-2.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

(United States.)

NEW YORK, August 31. — Foreign Exchange showed little radical change at the opening to-day. Demand sterling was unchanged at 3.55; francs were off 3 at 14.52; lire 21.57 offff 1; marks .0202 up .0001; Canadian dollars 88.90 unchanged.

WILL POUR MAIN ARCH NEXT WEEK

THE FALSE WORK IS NEARING COMPLETION—CARPENTERS SCARCE.

Work on the Hunter Street Bridge is progressing satisfactorily, the Examiner learned at the bridge to-day. It is expected that the falsework for the long span across the river will be completed this week, and the pouring of the cement in the span will commence next week. The falsework has been erected without hardly a hitch. The long ribs were all finished and assembled in readiness to put up and the construction of the falsework was for this reason effected with little delay. The lumber in the wooden link between Ashburnham and Peterborough was estimated at 300,000 feet by Mr. Fred. Christie, the city's inspector on the work, this morning. The under structure is almost complete, and the flooring is complete except for a small space at the eastern end. Part of the side walls have been begun, but this will only require a few days to complete, it is stated.

The cement pouring will require about three weeks, the concrete being poured in sections.

Practically all of the men are now working on the central span of the western abutment, which is now being poured. This will not take much more time to complete, but the cement pouring on the span cannot begin until the western abutment is finished. The Examiner was informed that there are now about twenty carpenters on the bridge, and probably fifty or sixty labourers. That they have had considerable difficulty in securing carpenters, due to the scarcity of this class of skilled labour, was the information given by Mr. Christie. Building activity all over the province is on the increase, and carpenters are not to be had for "love or money." Unskilled labour is plentiful, he said.

Mr. Christie stated that he believed that they would not meet with any serious difficulty in securing cement for filling the central arch.

There is enough timber to finish the falsework, he also stated. Two arches have yet to be built at the western side. These will be finished after the central span is completed.

MESSAGE RATES ARE NOT FOR PETERBORO

THE TELEPHONE CHARGES FOR THIS LOCALITY ARE ALL ON FLAT RATE BASIS.

The proposed message rates for business telephones apply only to Toronto, Montreal, Hamilton, Ottawa and Quebec. The active discussion in the papers of those cities may have created the impression that such a charge is intended to apply on business telephones here.

This is not the case.

The charges proposed for this locality are all on the flat rate basis as heretofore.

VENERABLE JUDGE DIES IN TORONTO

JUDGE EDWARD MORGAN, NEARLY FIFTY YEARS ON COUNTY BENCH, PASSES AWAY.

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, August 31. — Judge Edward Morgan, who for nearly half a century was a most picturesque figure on the County Bench, died at his residence here early this morning.

The late Judge Morgan was born in 1838 at St. Vincent, British West Indies, and 19 years later came to Canada, settling first in Barrie, Ont. His father was inducted as Rector of that Anglican parish.

Nearly 60 years ago Judge Morgan was made a barrister, opening a law office at Orangeville. In married a daughter of the late Dalton McCarthy, father of the famous statesman of that name. His wife died in 1904.

In 1913, when 74 years old, Judge Morgan married Miss Theresa M. Roadhouse, of Toronto, who with three daughters of his first wife, survive the venerable judge.

OTTAWA ENJOYED "DON'T TELL"

SCOTTISH MEMBERS GAVE MR. MOFFAT A WARM RECEPTION.

OTTAWA, Ont., August 30. — In the Russell Theatre here to-night William Morris presented for the first time in America, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Moffat, Miss Winnifred Moffat, and the entire original Scottish cast and production which he brought from Glasgow, in "Don't Tell," described as a new Scottish comedy by Graham Moffat, author of "Bunty Pulls the Strings." In the large audience attending the premiere were the full membership of the local Scottish societies to welcome their countrymen and women to this side of the Atlantic. During the day a band of Scottish bagpipers and a committee of Scottish members escorted Mr. Moffat to the local Club where the Scottish a thor made an address. The members of the local Rotary and Kiwansis Clubs also turned out en masse to welcome the Moffats, who will play in Canada four weeks before their New York premiere, which is scheduled for September in a theatre, the name of which cannot be divulged at present in deference to the attraction now playing therein.

PREPARING FOR THE EXHIBITION

FAIR BOARD HELD A MEETING SATURDAY EVENING.

All automobiles and other vehicles must enter the Exhibition Grounds by the west entrance and no deliveries will be allowed at the grounds while the fair is in progress after noon of each day, was the decision which the Exhibition Board reached at the meeting on Saturday evening.

Little else was done other than the completing of details in connection with the exhibition.

MEN SATISFIED WITH HEARING

The firemen generally express themselves as satisfied with the preliminary hearing of their grievances before the Fire, Water and Light committee of the City Council last night.

There seems to be no animosity against Chief Grange. Instead, the spirit of the men appears to be merely a desire for the righting of the wrongs which they consider they have received at the hands of the Chief and a desire for increased efficiency in the fire Department.

"DON'T TELL"

One of the most important theatrical events of the season is scheduled for the Grand on Saturday, September 4th, for one night only, when Mr. and Mrs. Graham Moffat, Miss Winifred Moffat and their entire Scottish cast will make their appearance here in Mr. Moffat's newest comedy, "Don't Tell!" which has just concluded a most successful run abroad. The Moffats are making their first American tour under the direction of Mr. William Morris, known to play-goers throughout the world, as the manager of Sir Harry Lauder, and, who was in London last spring when he acquired the rights to "Don't Tell!" for the United States and Canada. After seeing the play in Glasgow Mr. Morris decided it would be almost futile to attempt to secure an adequate cast in New York and so he induced Mr. Moffat to bring Mrs. Moffat and the original company to this country and thus preserve the charm and atmosphere of this latest work by the author of "Bunty Pulls the Strings." While "Don't Tell!" is said to be purely Scottish in its theme, atmosphere and characterization, it is said to be totally unlike anything Mr. Moffat has heretofore written. In "Bunty" the quaintness of Scottish rural life was depicted, while in "Annie Laurie," which has not yet been produced in this country, the idyllic appreciation of the native traditions are expressed. In "A Scrape O' The Pen," the tragedy of Scottish stoicism, is the key-note. "Don't Tell!" is described as a comedy of modern Glasgow life in which a plumber, suddenly elected to the magistracy, is the chief character. From which promise it will be seen that even Glasgow has its ultra-modern ideas.

BLACKSTONE, GREAT MASTER MAGICIAN

What lady or little girl would like to have a beautiful brown or white bunny, a live, educated, well trained bunny?

The great Blackstone will ask that question from the stage of the Grand on September 1st and 2nd when he is booked to present his large company of mystifiers in the most stupendous congress of magic and psychic sensations ever brought to this city.

There is a remarkable feat of prestidigitation involved in the production of the rabbit and when his bunnyship finally emerges from it all Blackstone offers it as a souvenir to a lady or little girl in the audience.

Of course there will be many applicants for bunny, but as only one person can have him, Blackstone selects from the number the one who appears to be most eager to take home a souvenir of his engagement in the city.

The selection made, Blackstone invites the recipient to the stage and the rabbit is placed in her hands with the magician's permission to take it home.

Now the question is, if you wanted a bunny and a handsome man actually gave you one, placed it in your hands—your own to do with as you please—could you hold it in your hands?

Could you make sure all the while that bunny actually was in your hands? It's right there, before your eyes, you see it, you hold it and you feel it, but with the proof of your own eyes, your own hands, your own knowledge, could you be sure?

Bunny's part in the big production of the master mind of magic and superman of mysticism is not unimportant by any means and when Blackstone gives it away one of the most interesting and amusing incidents of the show keeps the audience applauding and laughing with unmistaken enthusiasm.

STRIKE TALK NOT SO GENERAL NOW

ANTHRACITE COAL WORKERS ARE LIKELY TO ACCEPT AWARD.

(Canadian Press.)

WILKESBARRE, Penn., Aug. 31.—Although expressing dissatisfaction with the award of the Anthracite Coal Commission, made public yesterday by President Wilson, strike talk was not so general to-day among loyal members of the United Mine Workers of America. The award gives the men wage increases of seventeen and twenty per cent. They asked for at least twenty-seven per cent.

Forceful Language.

President Wilson's forceful language in his telegram to a group of miners that if their communication to him not to approve of the award was a threat to strike the challenge would be accepted, is expected to cause dissatisfied workers to act slowly, according to leaders of the Miners' Union.

END OF MAYOR MAY COME ANY MOMENT

MACSWENEY STILL ALIVE, BUT STANDS ON THE PRECIPICE OF DEATH.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Aug. 31.—MacSweney, Lord Mayor of Cork, who has been on a hunger strike since August 12, was still alive this morning, but his sister Mary, who visited him, said he was growing weaker and that the end may come at any moment.

MacSweney spent a restful night, and his sister remained near Brixton prison, thinking she might be called for.

An official who saw the Mayor early to-day, described his condition as being like that of a man on a precipice, and the slightest breeze might blow him over at any time.

BELIEF OF SUPERIORITY CAUSE OF WAR UNREST

Attorney Joseph Wearing of This City, Preaches in London.

The belief that one is better than the other fellow, that one nation is better than the other was claimed by Attorney Joseph Wearing, B.A., LLB., of Peterborough, in his sermon at Adelaide street Baptist church, London, on Sunday morning, the subject being "What's Wrong with the World?" to be the cause of social unrest, strikes and wars. "There is a lack of brotherly love in the world. People must stand on more common ground before strikes and wars are eliminated. The people of one nation believe that their nation is superior to any other and to prove that theory they go to war. It is practically the same between individual persons."

VOL. XVLII. NO. 52 PETERBOROUGH, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1920 PRICE THREE CENTS

DENIES U.F.O. SLUSH FUND

J. J. MORRISON SAYS NO POLITICAL SUBSCRIPTIONS WERE RECEIVED—EXPENSES OF SPEAKERS PAID.

REPLIES TO FERGUSON

Special to The Examiner.

TORONTO, Sept. 1. — "Not a solitary soul ever subscribed any money to the political fund of the U.F.O. through the central office," said J. J. Morrison, secretary of the U.F.O. in connection with the particulars filed in the cross-petition by Hon. G. Howard Ferguson against G. A. Payne, the U.F.O. candidate in Grenville at the last election.

"That gives a wrong impression," he said, in commenting on a statement in an afternoon paper which quoted him as saying that "the amounts spent in the various constituencies, as sent out from Toronto would run all the way from less than $200 to less than $1,000 per riding."

"The idea interpreted is that the whole thing was sent out from the central office," complained Mr. Morrison, "whereas all we paid out was the cost of the speakers and some printing. We sent no money into the ridings at all. The whole of the money we paid out came back again with the exception of about $400, which might properly be charged to organization expenses."

He stated that the whole election costs ranged from $150 to less than $1000 per riding."

"LIE," SAYS MORRISON.

(Special to the Examiner.)

TORONTO, September 1. — Mr. Morrison categorically denied the charges that he and a few others had attempted to intimidate Farmers' Clubs into political action, and that he and others had collected a campaign fund from the opponents of conscription, public ownership and the Ontario Temperance Act.

"Nail that as a lie," he urged. "Public ownership is one of the planks in our platform. Conscription does not appear at all. As for temperance—we are for a bone-dry Canada."

OCEAN FREIGHT RATES DECLINING

ROBERT DOLLAR PREDICTS BIG BREAK IN PRICES OF COMMODITIES.

OTTAWA, Aug. 31.—"Prices are coming down in almost all commodities," said Robert Dollar, president of the Robert Dollar Steamship Co., of the Pacific coast. "At the present time," he said, "ships can be obtained twice as cheap on the Clyde as they can be built in the United States or in Canada. I am not as familiar with Canadian prices as I am with the United Stes ones, but there is no question as to facts.

"Ordinary cargo boats to-day are selling on the Clyde at £20 or $100 a ton. When the money is sent from the United States, and the difference in the money of the two countries is taken into account because of the exchange situation, this means just about $70 per ton in United States money. The same ships in the United States cost $160 a ton to build.

Ocean Freight Rates Down.

"Ocean freights are coming down materially. At the present time charters are being made from the lower provinces in Canada to the United Kingdom at 100 shillings. A year and a half ago the rate was 300 shillings. The moral of this is that freights, like all other commodities, are going away down in price.

"There are ten million tons more shipping to-day than there were in existence at the beginning of the war, according to Lloyd's last statement. Freights on the Pacific are away down also; the condition is a general and world-wide one. There is nothing unusual or unexpected about this, we have all been expecting it."

Has First Job in Ottawa.

Mr. Dollar has just returned from a two months' trip to Europe. He stopped off in Ottawa last night to visit his boyhood friends. It was here as a young Scotch boy he obtained his first position in Canada, and from which he set forth to win wealth and fame.

Those familiar with the "Cappy Ricks" stories of Peter Kyne, in the American magazines will recognize in Robert Dollar the living hero of the numerous tales that have been built around Cappy Ricks.

Tomato Crop Rotting On Vines Because of The Price of Baskets

With baskets at 15 cents each and a crop so heavy that 50 cents is the highest price tomatoes can be retailed at, the local growers claim that it is not worth their while to pick them, and hundreds of bushels are rotting on the vines. The wholesale men have been assured that the cost of containers plus the cost of picking, leaves a margin of about five cents' profit, which the market gardeners deem inadequate, considering the work which had been put into growing them. For this reason, while the wholesale men expected to place tomatoes on the market at 25 cents a basket, they remain at 50 cents, with a possibility of their going up if more are not brought in.

Peaches Plentiful.

Peaches were so plentiful yesterday that the wholesale price for an eleven-quart basket of clingstones dropped to 90 cents, while to-day, when there are fewer on the market, they are retailing at $1.00. Freestone peaches of the earlier variety are coming in freely, and retailing at from 50 cents to $1.50 a basket. The best of the peaches, however, are not expected in until the beginning of the week when Crawfords will arrive from Grimsby and Niagara. The heavy crops indicate a reasonable price if enough pickers may be secured in time. A price varying from 90 cents to $1.20 a basket is anticipated locally.

Oranges Up.

Oranges took a big jump this week and are retailing as high as $1.25 a dozen—the highest the price has ever reached in Peterborough. This is caused, the retailers say, by the short crop in the orange plantations. A few of the smaller varieties are retailing at 40 cents a dozen.

Potatoes Steady.

The retailers do not look for any better price for potatoes until the late varieties are dug, which will probably be two weeks hence. At present they are wholesaling and retailing at practically the same price, from $1.50 to $1.75 a bag. Onions remain steady at $3.50 a bag. Early apples are fairly easy selling, retail, at $3.00 a bag, and 25 nd 30 cents a peck.

Plums at Best.

The earlier varieties of plums are at their best at present, and are selling at 90 cents and $1.00 a basket. Lombards will be on the market in the course of a week or ten days and will reach about the same price as the early varieties. Local grown pears are on the market this week, retailing at $1.70 a basket ,with little possibility of any better price owing to the short crop. California pears are selling at 50 and 60 cents a dozen.

Vegetables Cheap.

All vegetables are cheap, due to the splendid crop conditions. Cabbages are wholesaling at 80 and 90 cents a dozen, and retailing at 10 and 15 cents each. Cauliflowers are the same price. Onions, carrots, and beets remain at 5 cents a bunch, and three for 10 cents. Corn is selling at 45 cents a dozen.

Crabapples are also within the reach of all housekeepers, retailing at 20 and 25 cents a large basket. The crop this year is exceptionally heavy, and the fruit in almost perfect condition.

Sugarless Preserving.

Most of the housekeepers, one retail fruit man stated, are finding out that preserving may be done absolutely satisfactorily without sugar by merely sealing the jars tight and adding sugar in the winter when it will probably have reached a better price. For this reason fruit sales have been more brisk during the past week.

Hydro Radial Crisis, Says Toronto's Mayor

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Sept. 1.—Speaking before the Ontario Municipal Association to-daqy. T. J. Moore, Guelph stated that all municipalities were of the belief that a great deal depended on the development of the Hydro-Electric system. They were all carefully watching applications for increased rates.

Mayor Church in welcoming the delegates stated that they were assembled at a critical hour in the history of public ownership. He maintained that the steam roads of the country did not want Hydro radials, while Montreal interests were doing everything to throttle the Hydro radial systems. He maintained that municipalities must present an united front against all applications for increased telephone rates.

BELFAST TROUBLE CONTINUED TO-DAY

SOLDIERS REINFORCE WORKMEN AGAINST SINN FEINERS.

(Special to the Examiner).

BELFAST, Sept. 1.—Desperate fighting between Irish faction broke out again in Belfast to-day.

Sinn Fein gunmen fired upon Unionist workers in the Sankhill shipyards from Carrick Hill. Soldiers reinforced the workmen, and a pitched battle resulted. At the same time minor disturbances were reported from other parts of the city. The casualties were increased to-day by the death of two men and the wounding of a woman and several soldiers.

214 FIRES IN WEEK.

Canadian Press.

BELFAST, Sept. 1 — North street was thronged with shipyard workers at eight o'clock, when suddenly a series of revolver shots caused disorders.

Military pickets rushed to the scene and shots were exchanged but matters finally became too hot for the Sinn Feiners and they were dislodged with the aid of an armoured car.

One man was known to have been killed in the encounter, while a doctor was killed in a riot in another part of the town.

The total number of serious fires in Belfast since Wednesday reached 214 this morning.

GIRL WIFE STARVING

A complaint to the Ogdensburg police that a family living near the shipyard was in want, caused an investigation last week and uncovered a pitiable condition of affairs. A girl wife, aged 17, and her husband, 25 claimed that she would not allow him to leave her and go to work. No food was in the house when officers arrived. The husband told the police that the girl when she married him gave her age as 19, and that she was at one time an inmate of a reformatory Food was sent to the home by the overseer of the poor and arrangements are being made to have the girl admitted to the hospital. She is in need of an immediate operation.

DELEGATE LETTER CARRIERS ARRIVING

FOR DOMINION CONVENTION OPENING HERE TO-MORROW.

Some thirty delegates to the Dominion convention of the Federal Letter Carriers, which opens in Peterborough to-morrow, were in the city at noon to-day. Many more are expected in on the afternoon and evening trains and when the big convention opens at 9 o'clock in the Business College to-morrow morning, it is confidently expected that nearly one hundred delegates will be in session.

President Perry Menard, of Montreal, and Secretary Alec. MacMordie, of Toronto, arrived in the city this morning. These were the first officers to arrive in the city up till one o'clock to-day. Postmaster John Corkery will take part in the welcome to the delegates to-morrow morning at 9.15.

CATTLE MARKET

TORONTO, Sept. 1. — Cattle receipts light, trade brisk. Quotations: Heavy beef steers, $14 to $15. Butcher steers, choice, $13.50 to $14.50. Butcher cows, medium, $6.50 to $9. Calves, $17 to $19. Ewes, $8 to $10. Lambs, $14 to $16. Hogs, f.a.w., selects, $20.75 to $21.

OFFENCE TO TELL PRESS.

KINGSTON, Sept. 1.—It is now a penal offence for any employee of the Portsmouth penitentiary to tell his troubles to the newspapers. Guard Everton Reynolds, who was recently suspended from duty on the complaint of Night Watchman Clayton that he suspected him of knowingly permitting prisoners to have tobacco and later published his letter to the Warden in explanation of position, is reported to have been fined by Warden Ponsford the sum of ten dollars for complaining about his treatment. It is further stated that this guard, in addition to being suspended, during which time he ceases to draw any salary, has been fined three times during the month of August.

TRY TO ORGANIZE ONTARIO CONSUMERS AGAINST HIGH PRICES

Conference Will Be Held in Toronto To-morrow By Consumers' League.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Sept. 1.—A dozen cities and towns of the province will be represented, it is expected, at the meeting called by the Toronto Consumers' League for to-morrow afternoon in the City Hall, for the purpose of organizing a provincial League.

At or about the time the Toronto League was formed, for the purpose of making a vigorous protest against the high price of potatoes, similar organizations sprang up in St. Catharines, Peterborough, Hamilton, Kingston, Trenton, Orangeville, St. Thomas, Guelph, Stratford, Oshawa and Thamesville.

Invitations have been sent out to all of these by the Toronto executive to be represented at tomorrow's conference and, according to Mrs. A. M. Huestis, the local President, most encouraging responses have been received in a number of cases.

22 REFUSING TO TAKE FOOD

DOCTORS PROVIDED

(Special to the Examiner

LONDON, Sept. 1. — The government physicians reversed their previous predictions to-day and declared their belief that Lord Mayor MacSweney of Cork would live for a week to ten days longer.

The government is providing the best medical experts obtainable and ha sdeclaredofficially that McSweney will not be permitted to die from complications if science can prevent it. This was his 19th day without food.

The hunger strikers at Mount Joy Prison have capitulated and began eating this afternoon. Twenty two hunger strikers in Cork, however, continued their voluntary starvation and several of them have collapsed.

The remaining hope of some that the government would alter its decision not to release MacSweney vanished to-day when the King sent a letter to Horatio Bottomley, member of Parliament, saying that the intervention by the King would be unconstitutional and would be a dangerous experiment. Thus the matter rests with Premier Lloyd George. He is at Lucerne on a vacation and has said flatly that the government will not release the Lord aMyor.

Government Pledged.

It is stated on good authority that the military authorities of Ireland warned Lloyd George that it was no use passing the new Irish Bill unless the government intended to enforce it—that those arrested intended to employ hunger strikes as a weapon of defence and that if they were to be released the law would become a farce. The Premier at that time gave his pledge that the law would be enforced and that those who were convicted would not be released if they resorted to hunger strikes.

PRESAGE OF LOWER PLANE OF PRICES

LONG DECLINE IN WHEAT BENDING BACK OF OLD H.C.L.

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Sept. 1.— Announcement of a long drop in the price of both new and old crop wheat is viewed as a serious bend in the back of the high cost of living bogey and the fore-runner of a general decline in prices. Though bakers state that the price of bread will not be affected for some time yet, it is conceded that the break in the wheat market is the beginning of a new standard of living costs.

SPRING WHEAT FLOUR AT REDUCED PRICES

FIRST PATENTS QUOTED AT $13.75 A BARREL

(Canadian Press.)

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—Prospects for a decrease in the cost of bread were reported yesterday when leading Canadian spring wheat millers announced considerable reductions in the price of the new crop of spring wheat flour, the announcement coinciding with the exit of the Canada Wheat Baord with prices running from $1.00 to $1.80 lower than the price the government standard flour was selling at. The price for first patents was announced at $13.75 a bbl., with similar reductions along the line for various grades used by the bakers.

New Russian Volunteer Army Swelling Ranks; Poles Press Advances

BOLSHEVIKI'S ATTEMPTED OFFENSIVE NEAR LEMBERG SHATTERED —EASTERN GALICIA RE-OCCUPIED BY POLES—NEW ARMY LEADER IS LESS RADICAL THAN BOLSHEVIKI.

(Canadian Press)

WARSAW, Sept. 1.—Polish forces advancing toward Grodno have nearly reached the banks of the Neimen River, which flows past Grodno toward the north, according to reports from the northeastern front. A great part of Eastern Galicia has been recovered by Polish and Ukranian troops, who are masters of all the left bank of the Dniester River.

The pursuit of Bolshevik forces, which appeared along the upper reaches of the Bug River, near Sokol, continues in the region of Przemysl, 25 miles southeast of Lemberg. Poles have scattered the Soviet forces that attempted to start an offensive operation. General Pawlenko's Ukranian columns, which crossed the Dniester River south of the City of Buczacz, have developed their offensive successfully, obliging the Bolsheviki west of the Sereth River to hurriedly retreat in order to avoid being surrounded.

SOCIAL DEMOCRATS NOW IN RUSSIAN OFFICIALDOM

(Canadian Press)

WARSAW, Sept. 1.—The new Russian volunteer army, which is already assuming respectable proportions, is being formed by the Russian National Committee, founded in this city by Boris Savinkoff. Russian War Minister during the Kerensky regime, and M. Kobitchev, social Democratic leader in Russia. The committee's program comprises the establishment in Russia of Republican Democratic regime distribution of land among peasants and wide provincial autonomy.

POLISH TROOPS ATTACK LITHUANIAN FORCES

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Polish forces have attacked Lithuanian troops near Augustowo, northwest of Grodno, according to a telegram from Kovno to the Lithuanian representative in London. Recent advices from Lithuania have referred to the boundary dispute between that country and Poland.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH AND DISTRICT

It is an acknowledged fact that a first class Fall Exhibition is a great asset to a community. It makes the Town or City in which it is held a meeting place for thousands who do not get together at any other time. It creates competition, the result of which is that better quality of stock is produced by the breeder who exhibits, an effort is made to raise better grain and vegetables; that the woman exhibiting fancy work will put her best efforts into an exhibited article, when there is competition, which is the case with every class covered by the Prize List.

Since the close of the 1919 Peterborough Industrial Exhibition the Directors have been planning and working to make the 1920 Exhibition much more attractive, and be of more service to this district than any previous year. New buildings have been added by the Board and a magnificent new Manufacturers' Building will be open this Fall as a gift from the manufacturers of the city. This year's programme is one of the best obtainable. The Prize list is well balanced with adequate prizes and there is not an item that has failed to receive the attention of the Board that would be of any value for this year's show.

With the preparations that have been made by the Directors, the 1920 Peterborough Industrial Exhibition can be made the greatest in the history of Peterborough's Fairs, if the citizens in the city and district will bring in their horses, cattle, poultry, sheep, pigs, vegetables, fruit, flowers, fancy work, etc., in all the classes described in the prize list in goodly numbers. You never know how good your own article is until you have seen it in competiton.

Many Classes are going to be better taken care of than previously. For instance, the Flower display will have a larger tent, and the conditions will be better. The Ladies' Work, a department which has grown both in quantity and quality, will have all of the top floor in the old Main Building. A new Poultry Shed will take care of the fowl. The Cattle Sheds are in first class shape. The Horse Barn is of course new, and the best in the circuit; in fact everything is just as convenient and correct as it is possible to make it, and the purpose of this announcement, while exhibits have been excellent in other years, is to make the Fair this year, from an Exhibitor's standpoint, keep pace, or in fact get beyond the development of the Fair that has taken place during the past four or five years in other departments.

The Directors are, therefore, looking for the competition in all classes to be very keen, and feel they have every reason to be optimistic of the Exhibits at the Fair this year.

For prize list and all particulars as to how to make entries write or call on the Secretary or the President.

F. J. A. HALL, Secretary. ROLAND DENNE, President,

IT'S YOUR FAIR—MAKE IT THE BEST.

CANADIAN GENERAL ELECTRIC ACTIVE

MOST DEPARTMENTS FULLY EMPLOYED—EXTENSIONS TO COST $1,500,000.

There has been but little trading in Canadian General Electric stock of late, and the price has weakened somewhat in line with the progress of the market generally, though making a 2-point recovery yesterday. Recent information regarding the operations of the company is to the effect that most of the departments are fully employed, although production is lost during the continuance of a somewhat protracted strike at the Peterborough works. It was pointed out in the company's last annual report that the great demand for equipment tended to promise great activity for the company for some time to come, and the series of additions and extensions was announced to cost about $1,500,000.

"This company is not looking for new markets," said President Frederic Nicholls to The Globe yesterday, "for the reason that the domestic demand at present is ample to keep all our facilities well employed, notwithstanding the numerous extensions to our plant and equipment which have been recently completed or are now in process of completion. As a matter of fact, our orders received for the first seven months of this year exceed in value those of the corresponding seven months of the previous year by upward of eight million dollars, and I can foresee no reason why the demand should not continue, and for this reason the company has adopted a forward policy of providing for very largely increased manufacturing output. It should be remembered that Canada is a country of great water powers, many of which are being utilized to only a small extent, so that the demand for electrical apparatus must continue in volume for many years to come, irrespective of the demand in the near future for equipment for the electrification of sections of our trunk line railways."

BIG PROGRAMME FOR INDIAN RIVER

Indian river will celebrate Labour Day with a big programme of athletic sports, the feature of which will be a baseball game for the Thompson Cup between the Lakefield and Keene teams, betwen whom there is great rivalry. Messrs. Kay and Lebarr of Peterborough, have promised to officiate as umpires.

Agony of Average Diner Touches Hotelkeeper's Heart.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 31. — Hotel managers here will meet to-night to determine whether to issue a declaration of independence from French influence of their menus.

Thomas Cagwin, manager of one of the largest hotels here, is a leader in the revolution. He called a meeting, he said, after watching the agony of the average diner trying to decide whether cafe au lait is French for hash, filet mignon a breakfast food and poulets du printemps a la Cafe Royale an imported cigar.

TRANSPORT MEN ALOOF

BELIEVED THEY WILL NOT JOIN BRITISH MINERS IN THEIR DEMANDS FOR HIGHER WAGE.

FACING NEW CRISIS

(Special to The Examiner.)

LONDON, Sept. 1.— Despite the action of the "Triple Alliance" in adopting a resolution supporting the miners' demands for increased wages, the belief was general to-day that the transport workers won't join the miners in the latter's schedule strike.

Labor Minister Horne announced he is ready to confer with the miners again, providing they have any new offers to make.

FACING FATEFUL WEEK.

LONDON, Aug. 13. —The Lloyd George Government and British labor are facing a fateful week in the great English industrial struggle.

Robert Smillie, leader of the coal miners, has been given a mandate to order a strike. He received a plurality of about 250,000, unofficial count, in the polling on the strike question.

So, both the miners, who may be said to have the sympathy of a great section of other labor unions, and the Government, are preparing themselves for a great industrial battle, while the general press and the more moderate Laborites are pleading with both disputants to mediate the trouble. In any case the public does not want another one of those disastrous industrial battles.

The miners demand an increase of two shillings per man for each shift worked. They also demand that the retail price of household coal be reduced by 14 shillings a ton. This latter demand the mine operators have been refusing to consider at all declaring it to be insincere and a mere piece of propaganda by which the miners hope to gain the support of the people.

The Government has refused to force the coal operators to give in. It is learned on good authority, however, that the Administration is willing to negotiate in the demand for more pay if the miners will guarantee to increase the rate of production per miner.

LONDON, Aug. 31.— A strike by the British coal miners seemingly was brought nearer to-day by a resolution passed by the Triple Alliance, comprising the railwaymen, the transport workers and the miners, supporting the claims of the miners.

It was decided by the meeting to assemble to-morrow to consider the further policy of the alliance.

The miners by a majority of 367,917 have voted in favour of a strike, it was announced officially to-day. There were 606,782 votes for the strike and 238,865 against.

GUELPH HOSPITAL CONVALSCENT HOME

SPEEDWELL MAY SOON REVERT TO ORIGINAL SERVICE.

(Special to the Examiner).

GUELPH, Sept. 1.—Since the recent trouble which occurred at Speedwell Hospital, several changes have been made in the staff, and it was learned to-day that another important move is to take place within the next ten days, when the institution will no longer be a tubercular hospital, but re-converted into a convalescent home such as it was when it first opened in September, 1917. At present there are some 186 patients confined to the institution, but it is believed the intention of the medical branch of the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment is to have all the men transferred to other places before the middle of September.

AUTOMOBILE BANNERS.

For the purpose of advertising the Exhibition, the directors have obtained a number of automobile banners, and would be pleased if auto owners would call at President Denne's store and obtain one to put on their car.

GOOD EYES INCREASE PRODUCTION.

The need of to-day is increased production, but if your eyes are not efficient you cannot do your share. If your vision is poor or if you cannot comfortably stand working or reading for any length of time, your eyes need attention. See W. H. Lacey, Optometrist, 410 George St.

Allen Theatre Enterprises

The Picture Patron's Court of Appeal

If you could attend one of the regular luncheon-meetings of Allen Theatre managers, you would find that the subjects discussed are similar to those debated by the people who patronize the theatres.

In no other way could the Allen Theatre Enterprises secure the viewpoint of the theatre patron more effectively than through the medium of these meetings. A score or more of these "branch managers" get together at frequent intervals, and discuss every picture, past, present and future, with which they are concerned.

Pictures are brought up for criticism. One manager will report that his patronage was large and satisfied, while another will explain why a different section of the community did not respond to the same photoplay.

Sometimes there is uniform disappointment regarding the worth of a certain film, and again there will be a chorus of approval. But out of these meetings may be derived a fairly accurate estimate of the public attitude toward a particular picture.

In one sense these meetings are the court of appeal for the public. Anyone may influence the course of the modern picture by giving intelligent expression to his opinion of any film shown at an Allen Theatre. Criticism is welcomed, but the patron should consider to make his criticism constructive.

The opinions of "the patronage" do count with the managers and with the Allen Selection Board; these meetings are the link between the public and the producers of pictures. Your influence counts there. It is a phase of Allen policy, that the opinions of the public influence the producers of pictures. Suggestion boxes for the use of patrons are found in every Allen Theatre.

And the influence of the Allen patronage is a vital force with the makers of pictures. Every maker of motion pictures seeks to show his pictures in the Allen chain of theatres—and it is then he is confronted with the Allen standard which in a broad sense is the expression of taste and desires of the Canadian motion picture public.

"Y" GIRLS HAVE "DARKIE PARTY"

"Young people, old people, everybody come
Join our happy circle and make yourself to hum.
Please check chewing gum and wraps at the door,
And we'll give you such a time as you never had before."

Such was the invitation that invited all the cottagers from Burleigh Falls and vicinity to the grand darkies party at the Y.W.C.A. camp. From far and near the "darkies" came—the Brownscombes, Footes, Ingalls, Sheltons, Cooksons, Blewetts, Mrs. McWhinnie, Mrs. Booth, the Munroe boys, the folks from Burleigh Hotel and others. At the boat house two big darkies, in the person of Ida Sanderson and Mary Gardiner checked their wraps—and their chewing gum— and then they were conducted by Topsy through the grounds lit by Japanese lanterns up to the house. There they were welcomed by Aunt Jemima of pancake fame, who made each guest repeat the following serious pledge: "I hereby promise to enter into the spirit of the evening with due solemnity, taking no offence, verbally or otherwise, and not objecting to making a fool of myself."

Passing through the dark house their hair stood up on end and the shivers ran down their backs as they were embraced by a tall ghost from Lakefield, but little Maurice McKenzie came to their rescue and conducted them to the big bon-fire down on the rocks where they were received by the rest of the "darkie" girls. Toby Jones, alias Laura Gardiner, announced each guest and a merry time was spent over the stunts they were required to do. There were songs and all kinds of merriment, and then big ears of corn to eat, and finally all went back to the house, where lemonade and cake was served.

Many a jolly evening the "Y" camp girls have had, but certainly the one they will never forget is the darkie party.

U.S. STILL AT WAR WITH GERMANY

BUT TRADE BETWEEN TWO COUNTRIES RAPIDLY INCREASING.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1. — Although a technical state of war still exists between the United States and Germany and Austria, trade with those countries is rapidly increasing. Reports of the Department of Commerce show that exports to Germany totalled $202,176,079 during the twelve months ended 30th June, as compared with $8,818,882 during the corresponding twelve months the year before. Imports from Germany jumped from $944,981 in 1919 to $45,085,975 during the year ending 1st July.

Exports to Austria as distinguished from Austria-Hungary were valued at $11,847,127, as compared with nothing the year before. Imports from that country or the same periodf were valued at $587,108.

Trade with Russia in Europe also showed a substantial increase in the past year, exports being valued at $34,639,901, as compared with $11,000,000 the year before. Imports from that country, however, were valued at only $2,443,288.

The Art Gallery, with 7,084 feet of floor space, is the smallest of the more important buildings at the Canadian National Exhibition.

MAJORITY IN FAVOUR OF STRIKE

PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT FOR CONCILIATION AMONG BRITISH MINERS.

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The result of the miners' ballot definitely confirms the forecast that the executive would get the necessary two-thirds majority for a strike. The Yorkshire vote, though comprising the third largest coal field of the kingdom, shows very slight majority, due, doubtless, to the Yorkshire association being without funds. Other figures plainly indicate that there is no whole-hearted enthusiasm among the general body of miners themselves for extreme action. Prospects for conciliation are bright, according to the newspapers.

VICTORY BONDS AT NEW PRICES

BRINGING ALL CANADIAN GOVERNMENT ISSUES INTO LINE.

OTTAWA, Aug. 31. — It is officially announced that the prices for Canada's Victory Loan bonds have been reduced to the following levels:

1922—98 and interest, yielding 6.37 per cent.
1923—98 and interest, yielding 6.15 per cent.
1927—97 and interest, yielding 6 per cent.
1933—96½ and interest, yielding 5.88 per cent.
1937—98 and interest, yielding 5.68 per cent.
1924—97 and interest, yielding 6.27 per cent.
1934—93 and interest, yielding 6.24 per cent.

The above prices bring all the Canadian Government issues well into line with world conditions, even considerng the abnormal finacial demands of the crop movement period. It is felt that at the new prices the demand will quickly absorb any floating supply of bonds. More than one hundred and thirty five millions of Canada's Victory bonds have been redistributed among investors since the close of the last loan, thus affording an outlet for bonds which subscribers have required to sell from time to time.

The old prices and yields were:

1922—99 and interest, yielding 5.86 per cent.
1923—99 and interest, yielding 5.82 per cent.
1927—99½ and interest, yielding 5.58 per cent.
1933—99 1-2 and interest, yielding 5.55 per cent.
1937—101 and interest, yielding 5.41 per cent.
1924—98 and interest, yielding 6.01 per cent
934—96 and interest, yielding 5.92 per cent.

TELEPHONE RATES.

There are angles to the Bell Telephone Company's application for permission to increase their charges for telephone service throughout the Dominion that the public is liable to lose sight of in the storm of protest which the request has caused. The opposition originated in Toronto under the inspiration of the dynamic Mayor Church, and has spread from centre to centre, increasing in volume to such an extent that one might be pardoned for thinking that the only increase in business or household costs during the past few years is the one now proposed by the Bell Telephone Company. As a matter of fact during the past quarter of a century telephone rates have been raised only once, a matter of ten per cent. In that asme period the cost of wages and of material has increased as rapidly with the Bell Telephone as with any other business, practically all of which have been forced to increase their charge.

The application for higher rates has been made the signal, too, for a bitter assailing of the company on the service given, especially in the larger centres. In Peterborough there has been little to complain of in this regard, especially when the conditions under which business has been carried during the past five or six years are considered

It is perhaps only human to immediately register an objection when any act, law or condition extracts more money from our pockets and the desire that the affairs of the Bell Telephone Company should be investigated as far as possible to determine whether or not the new rates are fair is a perfectly natural one. Few concerns are doing business on the same basis now as they were before the war and while some of the rates the company desires to be authorized may be too high, yet the Examiner believes that more could be accomplished by a more conciliatory attitude on the part of the municipalities, if they would go at the question in the spirit of wanting to be shown rather than with the bitterness that is entering into some of the remarks of those opposed to the increases and which is bound to do more harm than good. And the company on its part should be willing to give, without hesitation, all the information that is necessary in order that a proper finding may be reashed.

A VICTORIA CROSS HERO.

More than one newspaper reader was undoubtedly struck by the story of the adventures in Toronto of Sergt. George Richardson, of Lindsay, Canada's oldest living Victoria Cross hero; particularly by the statement that after completing his visit to the Exhibition this eighty-nine year old veteran, who won his coveted cross at the Crimea, is going back to his home—the House of Refuge at Lindsay. There is pathos in the thought that this gallant old soldier who has shown that his nerves and his vitality are still strong by dashing through the clouds in an aeroplane with Col. Barker and tearing to a fire with the deputy-chief of the Toronto department in his forty-mile an hour motor, should in a few days have to go back to the institution in which he is spending his last years. No doubt he is well looked after there and is comfortable and happy but a County House of Refuge hardly seems the suitable environment for a Victoria Cross hero, particularly one of the type of Sergt. Richardson, in whose veins the blood seems as red and as warm as on the day when he won the coveted cross which he is so proudly wearing in Toronto.

WHAT IS NEEDED.

In the present controversy over the fire department the average citizen is concerned only so far as the efficiency of the brigade is involved. He is anxious to have all the facts brought out and to know whether or not Peterborough is receiving the protection that the heavy expenditure in the fire department calls for. The evidence heard by the aldermen on Monday night is sufficient to render a further inquiry necessary. Particularly will there will be surprise at the knowledge that there have been practically no drills for the members of the department. Surely the firemen should be given a thorough training in the duties that they are called upon to perform. One of the aldermen suggested that they received sufficient training when actually fighting fires, but that is a theory that fails to carry conviction—a method that resembles the heroic plan of teaching a person to swim by throwing him into deep water. He may perhaps learn to swim, but the chances are that he may drown during the experiment. Just as there are better methods of learning how to take care of oneself in the water than the one mentioned, there is surely a more satisfactory way of training fire fighters than to trust to what they learn when a fire is in progress.

The men must have more drills—that is a self-evident fact. They cannot be expected to take a line of hose up a long ladder with any degree of speed if they use a ladder only when actually fighting a fire. Nor is it reasonable for men who receive practically no physical training to be expected to be energetic and active. Paid firemen should be athletes; it is only too evident from the exhibitions at some recent fires and from the admissions of the men themselves, that Peterborough's firemen are far from being in that class.

There is manifest need for improvement. Peterborough is paying a high price for fire protection. The salaries are good, the conditions as regards hours are excellent, and under these circumstances the citizens have a right to look for efficiency in the department. Is there any one who read the statements of the firemen as given before the Council, and published last evening, who is convinced that the morale and efficiency of the brigade are as they should be? The public, if the Examiner reads public opinion right, wants more light thrown upon this subject and the aldermen are not alive to their responsib lities if they do not recognize the necessity of a thorough inquiry. And there is a widespread impression, too, that an investigation by an independent commission would be more satisfactory than a probe by the Council.

4,000,000 PEOPLE

Annually use these tablets of organic iron—Nuxated Iron—to build up red blood, strength and endurance.

Dr. H. B. Vail, formerly Physician in the Baltimore Hospital and a Medical Examiner says: "There are thousands whose bodies are ageing and breaking down at a time when they should be enjoying that perfect health which carries defiance to disease simply because they are not awake to the condition of their blood. By allowing it to remain thin, pale and watery, they are not giving the natural life forces of the body a chance to do their work. Iron is red blood food and in my experience I have found no better means for building the red blood corpuscles and helping to give increased power to the blood than organic iron—Nuxated Iron." Nuxated Iron comes in tablet form only and does not contain any ordinary metallic iron but only the finest quality of predigested organic iron which is easily assimilated by the blood.

EASIER TO KILL.

Every young man is warned by some wise teacher or another to guard against allowing himself to get into a groove. It is such an easy thing to let the mind drift into one channel until it becomes accustomed to its environment, and so deeply hemmed in, that it is unable to move out. This is what seems to have happened to some of the men who turned their attention to military pursuits on and after 1914. Their energies were directed to the invention and perfection of engines for the destruction of human life, and they were so taken up with their job that they were unable to think of anything else. And now that the majority of men have had a surfeit of killing and wish for nothing better than to put an end to the organized butchering and slaughter of war for all time, those single track enthusiasts who got switched on to the killing business cannot leave it alone. So it is that from day to day we are treated to long dissertations on new and highly efficient methods of killing men. One school specializes on gas warfare and informs us that the time is coming when a belligerent power can flood large zones with suffocating fumes which will kill every living thing within its reach. Others are rather inclined to favor disease spreading tactics. They tell us of ingenious methods whereby an enemy country may be infested with foul and leadly diseases which will kill off men, women and children alike. All of these look to the development of large mobile forts modelled on the tank which will assist them to carry out their nefarious designs. The latest idea is contained in a dispatch which comes from Paris. "Flying torpedoes directed by Hertzian waves would be used if a new war broke out to-morrow," says an aviation expert in the Petit Journal. The writer declares that the latest experiments of the French aviation service have proved that five or six small and inexpensive bombing planes without a pilot or mechanic can be successfully guided by a "shepherd" in a large plane through means of the Hertzian wave. Already, during the last year of the war, we are told that the Dutchman Fokker had received an order for a similar apparatus from the German war office. Neither he nor the French had then developed the machines to a practical point, but in the winter of the same year, just after the armistice, the Vossin firm conducted a series of experiments at the aerodrome of Crotch. The flying torpedo was then too light and swift for its shepherd. During the first half-hour it manoeuvred obediently, but finally got too far away from control and fell into the sea. Comparing this result with the present achievement of having a flock of little planes under perfect control, the enthusiastic writer makes the comforting prophecy that within a year or two it will be possible to accurately direct the former from a land base to a distance of 100 miles or more.

In the present state of the world, men who are giving themselves over to such pursuits are as much use to humanity as a man who devoted his energies to breeding new and more voracious species of grasshoppers would be to the wheat farmers of the prairies. Instead of holding in honor men who invent instruments of destruction they should be looked on, more or less as enemies of humanity. For, in the last analysis, that is what they are. No man can claim to be a friend to humanity, nor to have accomplished a good thing, whose only achievement is the creation of more efficient methods of destroying men. Of course the other hand, it may be that enthusiasts will defeat their purpose. Some day one of them may evolve a machine so thorough that it may make possible the rapid and complete extinction of the whole human race. That would probably arouse men to the seriousness of conditions and make them consider that a perfect apparatus of destruction or the men who took delight in building such machines were not comfortable things to have around.—Turner's Weekly.

SEPTEMBER IN ALGONQUIN PARK

September is one of the most delightful months of the year in the "Highlands of Ontario" and Algonquin Park offers attractions that are not found in other districts. It is situated at an altitude of 2,000 feet above the level of the sea, assuring visitors of pure, bracing air that rejuvenates body and mind. "The Highland Inn," a charming hotel, affords comfortable accommodation at reasonable rates. The Inn is heated by steam. The cuisine is all that can be desired. "The Highland Inn" is operated by the Grand Trunk Railway. Make your reservations early. Illustrated descriptive literature telling you all about it from any Grand Trunk Agent, or write Mr. N. T. Clarke, Manager, Highland Inn, Alonquin Park, Ont. 2d-1-3-54-2291.

"DON'T TELL"

Thee quaintness of "Bunty Pulls the Strings," the typically native revelations in "A Scrape O' the Pen," the homely idea of farce is "The Concealed Bed," and the idyllic appreciation of the home-land in his "Annie Laurie" are all living examples of the versatility of Graham Moffat, than whom no other Scottish writer has done more for the theatre of his country. Each of these plays seems to have struck a new note in its individuality and now Mr. Moffat has written another play which seems to have been received with equal enthusiasm in Glasgow and Edinburgh, according to press comments received from abroad. The new work is called "Don't Tell!" and is described as a comedy of Glasgow life as it is lived to-day, the to-day being of 1919. The story is concerned chiefly with a Glasgow plumber who is suddenly elected to the magistracy and, yielding to the demands of his family, consents to hold a private rehearsal, in his home, of the duties he will be called upon to perform officially as the baillie. The complications of the story develop when, in the mock-trial, he suddenly discovers that his eldest daughter is concerned in a matter which seriously affects the entire family

William Morris, known to playgoers as the manager of Sir Harry Lauder, has secured the rights to "Don't Tell!" for the United States and Canada and after seeing Mr. and Mrs. Moffat and their Scottish company in the play in Glasgow, he induced them to come to America and appear in it here, rather than attempt to have it played by other than the original cast. Mr. and Mrs. Graham Moffat, Miss Winifred Moffat and the Scottish cast will appear here at the Grand on Saturday, September 4th, for one night only.

BAKER'S WIFE KILLED IN DOUGH-MIXING MACHINE

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Mrs. Filimina Mustaccia, 33 years old, was mangled to death early yesterday morning in a dough-mixing machine in the bakery owned by her husband, Sylvio Mustaccia. Word spread about the neighborhood of the bakery that the baker had forced his wife to work while she was ill. A crowd quickly gathered, and was planning vengeance on the baker, when the police appeared. After the mob had been dispersed Mustaccia was taken to the Maxwell Police Station. The police believe his wife's death was due to an accident. She was baking with her mother, Mrs. Joseph Daugustina, when the accident occurred. Mrs. Daugustina heard her daughter scream, but before she could reach her she was drawn into the mixer and crushed so that she diel almost instantly. Mrs. Daugustina told the police that Mustaccia was asleep when the accident happened. He was asleep when the police aroused him.

COMMITS SUICIDE BEFORE TITLE COMES TO 320 ACRES

(Canadian Press.)

EDMONTON, Aug. 31.—The unknown man found hanging from a tree on the river bank west of the High Level Bridge Saturday afternoon has been identified as Sinclair Sutherland, a recent arrival from Prince George. Sutherland a few days ago had his bank account in Prince George transferred to a local bank here. At that time he appeared to be worried about a letter he was expecting. This morning a letter arrived at the post office addressed to him, which contained a clear title to 320 acres of land in Wildmere district, north of Wainwright.

DOWN COME PRICES FOR FOOD IN STATES

DUN'S REVIEW REPORTS INCREASE OF RECESSIONS OVER ADVANCES THIS WEEK.

Prices in the leading United States wholesale commodity markets this week continued to move toward a lower level, and, though a few important articles improved their position, 48 recessions appear in the quotations received by Dun's Review, as against 26 advances. Light receipts and a brisk cash demand strengthened quotations of corn, but a disappointing export movement and favorable crop advices had a depressing effect on wheat, oats, rye, and barley. In live meats, beef and sheep were sustained by limited offerings of desirable stock, but hogs were inclined to yield, because of lack of interest on the part of buyers. Provisions moved within a narrow range, and net changes for the week were relatively slight.

FRANCIS WEIRATH, foreman at Goodrich Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who declares he has improved so since taking Tanlac that no one would ever take him to be the same man. Says he gained fourteen pounds.

"To look at me to-day no one would ever take me to be the same person I was before I began to take Tanlac. It has simply done wonders for me, and I want everybody to know about this medicine," said Francis Weirath, foreman of a large department of the Goodrich Rubber Company plant at Akron, Ohio. Mr. Weirath resides at 210 West State Street, that city.

"I was in an awfully bad state of health for fourteen years, and during the past ten years I got to the point where life was a burden. I suffered terribly with indigestion and dyspepsia. I never had any appetite, and all I could eat for breakfast was a soft boiled egg and a little milk. I would get so nervous and miserable that many a night I never slept a wink, and when nothing would bring me any relief I had just about come to the conclusion my case was hopeless.

"I haven't taken but three bottles of Tanlac, but I feel better than I have felt for twelve years. I've gained fourteen pounds in weight, and am getting heavier and stronger every day. I never have indigestion any more, my appetite is splendid, and I eat just anything and everything I want. I sleep sound every night, and all that tired, worn-out feeling is gone. In fact, I am a well man in every way.

"The men at the plant all tell me I am looking fine these days and getting fat. They all want to know what Iam doing to myself, and it's always a pleasure for me to tell them about Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son. Adv.

CITIZENS TO BUY NEW UNIFORMS FOR THEIR OWN BAND

It has come to the public notice that by a communication from the Department of Militia the G.W.V.A. Band will be deprived the privilege of using the Government uniforms after October 10th next. This will leave this wonderful organizations without uniforms of any description, which will prove rather a sad blow to the members of the band and the citizens alike. We ll want a real citizens' band, but it does seem a bit too democratic to have one dressed in mufti of various hues and vintages, doesn't it?

However, it is gratifying to know that a citizens' committee has already taken this matter in hand, and needless to say they are a bunch of optimists. The personnel of the committee is ex-Mayor Harry Rush, Alderman Whitehouse, Alderman Copping, John Corkery, R. J. Soden and G. O. Cameron.

The public are asked to co-operate with them in their efforts to secure sufficient money to purchase fifty uniforms at from $35 ta $38 each, and the same number of caps at about $3.50 each.

In order to do this they are not going to have a hum-drum campaign, bothering busy men and women during the rush hours of the day—quite the contrary. Peterborough is to have a gala week of real band concerts covering the whole city, so that after tea when the dishes are washed and put away and the head of the house has donned his slippers, lighted the favorite briar and everybody is in good humor, you will be favored with a concert brought right to your own block. Not only will the grown-ups be thus favored, but also the hundreds of little kiddies who have never been at a band concert, because their parents were either too busy or too tired to take them. They to will be able to enjoy this treat.

Starting Tuesday evening next, September 7th, these concerts will continue for one week, till the whole city has been covered. When you hear the band, call the children and get the real community feeling well set in your heart. And when a pair of those good-looking men mentioned above greet you with a most affable smile to receive and thank you for your material assistance, be sure and show that old-time generosity, and above all, be still more sure that the youngsters have something to give. Let them have an interest in the band, for after all who loves a good band more than a small boy or girl? No one except the big grown-up boy—their daddy!

COAL OIL STOVE UPSET; BOY DEAD

ANOTHER LITTLE FELLOW VERY BADLY SCALDED AT COBOURG.

COBOURG, Ont., August 31. — A very sad accident occurred on Saturday last on the Danforth Road, a few miles north of Cobourg. Two young sons of Mr. Stanley Macklin, aged five and three years, were playing around the coal oil stove on which had been left a pot containing hot water. In some manner, during the absence of their mother, who had just left the room, the youngsters managed to upset the hot water. Both were severely scalded. The stove fell on the elder, who passed away in a short time, and the other child is still in a very serious condition.

AN EXCURSION!

BELFAST, August 31.—During the rioting this morning, an elderly lady became "storm-bound" with workers trying to proceed toward the city along the Crumlin Road.

At the railroad depot she stared at the crowds, and remarked to na over-all-clad worker:

"Is there a big excursion on?"

"Yes, ma'am," was the reply. "To heaven or the other place."

CLAIMANT TO PROPERTY WORTH $50,000,00.00

OWNERSHIP OF CHICAGO'S FAMOUS LAKE SHORE DRIVE SECTION DISPOTED BY CAP. STREETER.

CITY'S "GOLD COST"

(Canadian Press.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—"Streeterville," in the "Deestrict of Lake Michigan," a part of Chicago's famous "Gold Coast," is about to be the scene of the thousand and first battle in its history, according to notice served on United States Marshal Bradley by Captain George Wellington Streeter, 80-year-old claimant to a $50,000,000 portion of the exclusive Lake Shore Drive section.

"Cap" Streeter and Wiliam H. Niles, one time "military governor" and commanding general of the army of the "deestrict," having notified the federal authorities that they are about to again try to enforce their claim that Streetervilie is not in any state in the union, have invited the American Legion to assist them and set the date for the opening of hostilities as 6th September. A letter to the Legion posts, a copy of which was also sent to Marshal Bradley, invites former soldiers to "meet me at the foot of Superior Street in uniform, armed and carrying a flag, and help to end by force of arms the treasonable acts of judges or stand up against a wall before a firing squad." A postscript invited the Legionaires to bring their lunch.

Captain Streeter has been fighting since 1886 to establish his claim to one of the most valuable sections of Chicago's lake front. In that year his steamer, the Reutan, stranded on the beach during a storm. Captain Streeter built a breakwater about the stranded boat, 450 feet off shore, and made it his home. The rapidly shifting sands filled in the space between boat and shore, and added 103 acres to the city's area. To this land Captain Streeter laid claim, and in the next quarter of a century battles by the hundreds were fought in an effort to oust him.

Stood Off the Police.

On one occasion 50 police besieged Streeterville. "General" Niles proclaimed himself "military governor of the district of Lake Michigan," and with 50 men of his "escort" erected breastworks, surmounted by barbed wire, and stood off the police for several days, before desertions in the ranks so weakened the defending force that a lone policeman finally executed a flank attack and carried the fort.

The courts in 1915 ruled that Streeter had no title to the property, and his brick castle, which had succeeded the steamboat home, was wrecked by deputy sheriffs and then burned.

Convicted of Manslaughter.

In 1902, Streeter and two friend were convicted of manslaughter in connection with the death of John S. Kirke, killed in one of the frequent assaults on the castle. All were sentenced to life imprisonment, but after a few months were released.

The site of the "deestrict" is now covered by more than a dozen sky-scraper apartment buildings and hotels. The land is valued at more than $50,000,000. Many of the present owners have purchased deeds from Streeter as well as the state, in order that their occupancy may not be interfered with by the 80-year-old fire-eating veteran.

Basis of His Claim.

Streeter's claim is based on the contention that the act creating the state of Illinois fixed the "meander line" of the lake as the boundary, and that therefore his "deestrict" was outside the state and owed allegiance to no one except the United States. The courts held, however, that Illinois extended to the centre of Lake Michigan, that all land created by natural secretions of the lake belonged to the adjoining property owners; and that all land created artificially belonged to the state. The stranding of Streeter's steamship created land artificially, it was held.

McCrimmon's Odorless Disinfectant
DISINFECTANTS are necessary to every household and stock man. They are the weapons with which we combat diseases. Disease is caused by germs or bacteria. While humanity has been well equipped by nature to guard against disease by giving power to see, hear, feel, taste, and smell, still none of these warn you against the presence of disease germs, which occur in air, water, food, and houses, and are an ever-present danger. Disinfectants are a necessity in life, but the popular objection to their use is their disagreeable odors. To eliminate this without impairing their disinfecting and deodorizing qualities has been the aim of much chemical research. McCrimmon's Odorless Disinfectant, that both disinfects and completely destroys all kinds of odors in a few minutes, has been put on the market as a Sanitary, Odorless Disinfectant. Itself being Odorless, it does not overpower one odor with another, but as soon as applied leaves the atmosphere pure and sweet. The real test for a disinfectant and the only one that interests the user is what it will do in the presence of organic matter, such as filth, fæces, blood, etc. This is the practical test, and to make good our claims we guarantee refund of money if McCrimmon's Odorless Disinfectant does not do everything we claim for it. It is used to-day by leading physicians, veterinaries, dentists, etc., in their practice and homes.
It is also being used throughout the Dominion in leading hospitals, asylums, public buildings, banks, hotels, restaurants, colleges, schools, packing houses, factories, dairies, laundries, stables, hen houses, dog kennels, etc.
You should use it, because it is a disinfectant that disinfects.
Lasts longer than other disinfectants.
Cheaper than inferior brands.
Has no disagreeable odor.
Tested and endorsed by leading laboratories on the Continent.

EFFICIENCY.—Used by government institutions and hospitals, after being thoroughly tested by them.

LABOUR IS PRINCIPAL CAUSE FOR INCREASED GROCERY PRICES

As far back as 1910 when war had not provided a convenient explanation for high prices the country was in arms against the advanced cost of living, but on taking a retrospective glance into a grocer's account book of 1865 it was ascertained that living had actually decreased almost one hundred per cent. in the intervening forty-five years. To-day when the grocer would comfort his customers by reminding them that at the close of any war prices are bound to be high, it is interesting to note that the same grocer's note book shows that a representative account of to-day shows the price on the whole account to be three times what the same account would have been at the close of the American War of 1865, and while prices fluctuated during the past half century, they never reached the high level they have come to to-day on any one article outside of molasses.

Taking a representative grocery bill, upon which no luxuries, merely daily necessities figure, what would have cost $44.43 in 1865 cost $26.42 in 1910, and to-day would total $116.68.

Labor Responsible.

Talking over the account with a wholesale man, it was ascertained that labor is the principal cause given for increased prices. Labor, he claimed, affects each process and each stage any article goes through from the producer to the consumer. Salt is one instance of the result of labor, as while the country has inexhaustible supplies, it has gone from one-half a cent a pound to the present price of five cents a pound. Of course, containers, such as barrels and bags used in handling salt, have also gone up about one hundred per cent.

The war has undoubtedly upset the market by limiting production of several household necessities, such as mustard and tea in some of the tea producing countries. The Japanese, who have not suffered from labor difficulties like the other allied countries, the possibilities in limited tea production and raised the price for what they grew. This they also did did in the case of rice, bringing it up from 3 to 15 cents a pound.

Raisins, which have risen more in proportion than any other grocery line, were boosted principally to the making of home brew by such a large percentage of the United States people and an even higher price is looked for. Soap's chief excuse for going up is the amount of grease utilized by the warring countries, which left the world practically destitute of tallow.

Extended Market.

Butter, cheese and eggs have increased in a directratio with the extension of the market. A large percentage of Canada's production is to-day being marketed in the European countries, a condition unknown half a century ago when eggs sold at one-third the price they sell at to-day and butter a little less than half.

Asked why molasses should alone remain at the price quoted 55 years ago, the wholesale man stated that the manufacturers have at all times been glad to market molasses at any price as it is manufactured out of what would otherwise be absolute waste and while sugar kept climbing the price of syrup remained the same.

A Representative Account.

The following representative account covering prices during 1865, 1910 and to-day was furnished by the Examiner fyles and a Peterborough grocer:

MUSIC AND DRAMA

ALLEN THEATRE'S BIRTHDAY.

To-day, the first birthday of the Allen Theatre, will be fittingly celebrated by the showing of one of the biggest pictures ever brought to the city, "A Virtuous Vamp," starring Constance Talmage, and by the introduction of the augmented orchestra, two new pieces having been added to the already proficient band of musicians.

Outside of these attractions Mr. R. G. Furlong, the manager, has had the house completely cleaned up and all is in perfect order for the celebration of the first anniversary.

Future Shows.

Mr. Furlong returned yesterday from Toronto, where he booked all the first class shows for the city, which are being shown by the Allen circuit. Including in these are 'Scratch My Back,' 'Going Some,' and 'Crooked Streets.'

THE MAPLE LEAFS.

Another large audience greeted the Maple Leafs at the Grand last night, and Captain Plunkett's overseas entertainers gave a sparkling performance, every number being well received. "Camouflage" gives promise of proving as big a winner as "Biff, Bing, Bang!" and should enjoy a successful tour of Canada.

The performance given here on Monday night was the first public presentation of the revue in Canada, although the audience would hardly credit that statement, so smoothly was the production staged. There was, however, a manifest improvement last night, and when the Maple Leafs come back to Peterborough in November their programme should be one of the hits of the season.

No expense has been spared in the stage fittings or in the costumes, and with the fine caste Captain Plunkett has secured, the Maple Leafs will be as enthusiastically received by Canadian playgoers as The Dumbells. Incidentally, the latter, who are now in their third week of a successful run at the Grand in Toronto, will pay a visit to Peterborough this season.

To-night and to-morrow night Blackstone, man of mystery and magician extraordinary, will be the attraction at the Grand.

On Saturday afternoon and evening one of the big events of the season will be the visit of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Moffat in their Scottish comedy, "Don't Tell."

The committee met in the Board Room of the Confederation Life Building, with Chairman Shaw, of Woodstock, presiding, and the following in attendance: Messrs. Y.W.C.A. SWIMMERS GAVE EXHIBITION OF SUMMER'S WORK

MERMAIDS WOULD HAVE ENVIED THE SKILL AND GRACE OF MISS PAYNE'S PUPILS.

Twenty-five pupils of the Y.W.C.A. swimming pool, pupils of Miss Payne, took part last evening in a swimming demonstration of which mermaids might be envious, such was the grace, agility, and fearlessness of the water displayed by the girls.

One of the principal features of the demonstration was an exhibition of life-saving, breast and side strokes, somersaults, and diving by little Mollie Wood. In all her performance, she more than merited the generous applause given by the large assembly.

Mary Brookes, a tiny girl of six years of age, delighted the audience by her fearless dive into the water, and subsequent quick swim across the pool.

Perfect Demonstration.

A perfect demonstration of swimming and diving was given by Miss Eleanore Hyland, who, although but a first year pupil of Miss Payne's, swam with the grace and precision of one used to the water for years. Her diving, swimming with her feet tied, somersaults, etc., were done with the finish of a professional.

Difficult Tricks.

Miss Dorothy Fenwick gave an interesting exhibition of several difficult tricks, including propelling, sculling, the pendulum stroke, and rolling log, each of which was repeatedly encored by an appreciative audience.

Miss Helen Huff's trick swimming marching on the water and revolving was exceedingly clever.

The Race.

During the evening a series of races introducing some new and difficult feats, added greatly to the success of the exhibition. Several girls raced blindfolded, others with their feet tied, and some took part in a chariot race, the latter with its quick turns being a difficult as well as pretty feature.

Miss Payne's Exhibition.

Miss Payne gave an exceedingly graceful exhibition of swimming brought down to a fine art. Her dives were thrilling and her trick, fancy, and plain swimming done with perfect ease and confidence.

At the conclusion of the evening's performance, Miss Payne was presented with a huge bouquet of roses by little Miss Irene Foster on behalf of the girls of the pool.

The Grand Stand at the Canadian National Exhibition is 725 feet long, built of brick, steel and concrete, has a seating capacity of 16,800 people and cost $262,000.

LINKED IN HEARTS BUT ABYSS DIVIDES

SIR JAMES AIKENS SPEAKS OF RELATIONS WITH THE UNITED STATES.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—Speaking before the Canadian Bar Association at the opening meeting this morning, Sir James Aikins, President and Lieut.-Governor of Manitoba, evoked continuous cheering when he referred to the close ties of kindred and interests between Canada and the United States.

"We are of the British Empire, an autonomous nation in it. We are also of America, but we are not Americans. While cordial friendship has existed between us and them for over a century there has also existed an impenetrable barrier of sovereign statehood as deep as an abyss which both nations mutually regard as holy," he said. "With them we will hold against all other states this continent for our common civilizatilon from the Rio Grande to the North Pole."

The man who is always punctual in keeping his appointments loses a lot of value time waiting for the other fellow.

INSPECTOR STEWART SEIZED TWENTY BOTTLES FROM AYLMER STREET MAN

COUNTY POLICE COURT CASE AN EFFORT TO DISCOURAGE ANY WHISKEY RUNNING INTO THE BACK COUNTRY.

GUIDE GOT A BOTTLE

In this morning's county police court David Seigle was charged before Magistrate Langley with selling liquor. V. J. McElderry conducted the prosecution and G. N. Gordon appeared for the defence. License Inspector Stewart has for some time been working on the alleged bootlegging in the back country and the arrest of Seigle is his first step toward suppresing the liquor traffic which is said to exist there.

The first witness called was License Inspector Stewart. He testified to having seized 20 bottles of liquor from Seigle and his brother, Soloman, on Aylmer street, on August 18th. They had the liquor in their car at the time and claimed that it belonged to Soloman, who was taking it from his home on Hunter street to his summer cottage near Burleigh.

David Duval, an Indian guide residing at Burleigh, was next called. He stated that during the early part of August he helped David Seigle to put ice in the refrigerator at his cottage. For this work he was to have received about $6. He asked Seigle if he could get him some whiskey. Seigle said that he would try. He gave the whiskey later. Witness stated to the defence that he had later received money from Seigle and that there was no understanding that the whiskey was to have been in payment for the work. To the prosecution he later admitted that the money he later received and the liquor was in payment for the work.

Joshua Johnson, another Indian guide, was next called. He testified that he had bought a bottle of whiskey from David Seigle for $6. The delivery was made on the road at this side of the Burleigh bridge about 9 o'clock in the evening. G. N. Gordon attempted to show a difference between the story of the finding of the liquor which he had told to Inspector Stewart and his present testimony. He also endeavoured to fix the date of the transaction evidently with the intent of establishing an alibi, but to all the questions of the defence the witness answered vaguely and stated that he had a poor memory.

This concluded the evidence of the prosecution and the case was adjourned until 2.30 o'clock this afternoon.

POTATO CROP BIG ALL OVER CANADA

SELLING TO BROKERS IN QUEBEC AT ONE DOLLAR A BAG.

MONTREAL, Aug. 31.—Prospects are excellent for a bumper potato crop this year, and a crop of excellent quality. It is reported that in the country farmers are offering tubers at $1 a bag to brokers, who, however, are unable to take them all.

A wholesaler in Bonsecours market said this morning that he has already potatoes of this years' crop selling at $1.75 and $2.25, according to quality, and reports from all districts indicate a crop of unusual excellence. He did not think they would go so low as $1 a bag at the market, but there was no question that they were going to be plentiful and cheap.

"It is too early to speak for Maritime Provinces," he said, "as they are later tha n in these parts, but they expect to get plentiful crops. Of course it is early yet, and there might be frosts or other causes to interfere with a good harvest. We have already been told of a little dry rot, but that may be the earlier varieties only. Wire worm is notably absent, and the potatoes coming in are of excellent quality, clean and is good condition."

Another wholesaler had the same optimistic outlook, and thought there is little chance of potatoes going up to $7, as they did last year, "but that was because the Americans had a bad crop, and bought up all they could get of the Canadian harvest. We hear this year that the Americans have had a much better crop, and do not think the will be in this market much. If so, Canadians can expect cheap potatoes of excellent quality. All over Canada we hear the same thing, and there is hardly any disease or trouble."

"The army worm, of which there were reports in New Brunswick, does not affect the potato, which is underground, but eats the tops, and we have not heard that they have done much damage, nor is there any sign of dry rot or frost. Prices in the market to-day are $1.75 up per bag, but we hear cars are being loaded with $1 potatoes in the lower provinces, down Rimouski way, and freight and handling would not raise their price here to more than $1.50 a bag, and we look to see them still cheaper before long. Those Aimouski cars should be here this wek-end, and a few days later we expect there will be another drop in prices."

WHISKY IN COAL PILE.

Last week Government Agent Silas W. Day, Ogdensburg, made a seizure of 25 cases of whisky which were buried in one of the big coal piles of the Hall Company at the lower derrick there.

The whisky was taken to the Custom House. It is presumed that the booze was unloaded for one of the boats plying between the United States and Canada.

SUMMER'S PASSENGER TRAFFIC WAS HEAVY

EXCEEDED BUSINESS OF YEARS BY WIDE MARGIN.

This summer's traffic on the G. T. R., now the Canadian National Railways, has far surpassed that of last year or for many years previous, stated Mr. Alpine MacNab, local agent of the C.N.R., to The Examiner yesterday. The Lakefield line has never known such a business, both in passengers and freight, and during the entire summer there has hardly been a let-up. Train service both in and out of Peterborough has been taxed to capacity, due to the large numbers of American tourists who have been flocking in and out of this city, either headed for or leaving the northern lakes.

The hotels, both in the city and at the Kawartha Lakes, have had an unusually good season. More and more Americans are coming into this district each summer, and to say that they are delighted with their summers spent at the lakes, is to put it mildly. Now that they are familiar with the lakes, their one desire is to tell all their friends about it. This enthusiasm is the best advertisement the northern lakes could have.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 1. — Prices were generally irregular at the Stock Market opening to-day. U S Steel was up 1-8 at 88 3-8; Studebaker 61 up 7-8; General Motors 20 3-4 off 1-8; Sinclair 29 up 1-8; Reading 93 1-4 up 1-2; Baldwin 106 5-8 unchanged; Crucible 118 3-4 up 1-4; Republic Steel 83 3-4 off 1-8; Baltimore and Ohio 42 1-4 up 1-4; Tobacco Products 65 3-4 up 1-2; N Y C 74 1-2 off 1-8; Beth B 75 unchanged; Texas Co 47 5-8 up 3-8.

There was fairly heavy selling in the industrial list, following the announcement that a receivership had been asked for the Owen Magnetic Car Corporation. Traders were bearish on all motor concerns.

Union Pacific, which got well above 122, was the leader of some of the rails which advanced around noon close to yesterday's high, after being somewhat reactionary during the first hour. Most of the industrials continued heavy, however, Republic Motor reaching a new low with 27 Pierce Arrow also reached a new low for the year at 35. Bears apparently were making the most of the strike troubles in an effort to break the market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 — Demand Sterling was 3.56 unchanged at the opening of the Foreign Exchange to-day. Francs were up .0001 at .0698 1-2; lire off .0002 at .0466; marks .0203 off .0001; Canadian .8915.

TAKE THREE SAFETY PINS FROM THROAT AFTER TWO YEARS

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Relieved of an open safety pin and two closed ones which lodged in her throat two years ago, four-year-old Clara Kucher began to take an interest in eating again to-day.

The pins were removed yesterday by a surgeon to whom Clara's mother took her, suffering from malnutrition. The mother expressed surprise saying an X-ray examination had failed to locate the pins in Clara's stomach and physicians had concluded she had coughed them up.

BRING BACK CARS FROM UNITED STATES TO TRANSPORT WHEAT

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, September 1. — Efforts are being made by the Canadian railways to reduce the number of their cars in the United States in order to make provision for handling the 1920 wheat crop.

In recent weeks, the balance of Canadian cars o nthe United States lines as against American cars in Canada has been greatly reduced but the railway department officials here point out that while the United States is actually suffering from a car shortage herself it is a hard matter to get Canadian cars back to this side of the line. So far as possible, however the Canadia nrailways are getting their own cars back here and are not loading for shipmnet to the United States points any Canadian cars which would be serviceable for the handling of wheat and other grains.

A TORONTO NURSE CURED OF MUSCULAR RHEUMATISM

Miss Pearl Rennicks, Camden St., Toronto, says: It is the greatest pleasure of my life to be able to give a testimonial in favour of DR. HENDERSON'S HERB TABLETS, for they have done wonders for me. I was nursing in one of the hospitals when I was taken sick with muscular rheumatism, and had to go home. For three months I was unable to move one of my arms or even a finger and the pain that I suffered was something dreadful. I tried different kinds of treatments and remedies, without any results whatever. I was advised to try Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets, and after using one box and part of another I was completely recovered from the trouble.

If you are suffering with Rheumatism, Constipation, Eczema, Kidney, Liver and Nervous Complaints, get a box at once and see the results. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00, per box at Warne's Drug Store, Peterboro.

SATURDAY'S GAME SHOULD BE ONE OF SEASON'S BEST

The visit of the New Liskeard team Temiskaming champions, to Peterborough on Saturday afternoon will give the local fans a chance to compare the brand of ball played in New Ontario with the calibre in the Central League. The northerners are undisputed champions of Temiskaming, a district that has always had the reputation of playing clever baseball and they are counting upon cleanng up all along the line on their present tour, which opens at Belleville to-day. The New Liskeard team will be here on Friday so that they will be in good shape for Saturday's battle, which is called for 3 o'clock.

The Peterborough fans have not had a chance to see a game for a month so that there should be a big turnout on Saturday.

The holiday attraction is equally as strong for the Universals of Toronto, who will play the Petes at Riverside Park on Labor Day morning, are one of the best amateur teams in the Queen City.

The two games will tune the Solomon crew up for their big battle for the Ontario championship.

LAWN BOWLING

CASH PRIZES REPORTED.

It is reported that the Oshawa rink which won the W. F. Eaton trophy at the Bowmanville tournament also carried off $40 in cash of the entrance money.

If the story is true the Oshawa rink have put themselves in the professional class and debarred themselves from taking part in any bowling competition held under the auspices of the Dominion Lawn Bowling Association, which embraces all the big district associations in Ontario.

Strictly Amateur.

Lawn bowling is a sthictly amateur sport and the rules specifically define what constitutes a professional. The clause in the constitution covering professionalism states "No person shall play bowls for a weekly wage or other fee, nor shall he take part in any competition for money prizes.

The acceptance of a cash prize for bowling would not only disqualify any player from competing in any of the big tournaments or championship events, but would put him on the black list in all other amateur sporting organizations.

BOHUNKS HAD LEAD ON MILLBROOK TEAM

RAIN BROKE UP GAME IN FOURTH INNING.

Bohunks entertained the Millbrook baseball team at Riverside park last evening and won in four innings by 4 to 2. Millbrook defeated Bohunks at Millbrook recently by 3 to 2.

Rain and wet grounds interfered with the game last evening, and the local nine were minus several of their regulars. Al. Doughty, pitching for Bohunks, gave his team a start in the first by hitting through third, scoring two runners. Chris. Bergoine worked behind the bat.

Father and son played on the Millbrook team, Ross Edmunds on the firing line and his father at second base. Our old friend "Skid" Janes, a former Peterborough intermediate O.H.A. goaler, performed at shortstop. The visitors presented a formidable line-up and favorable playing conditions would give any of the local teams a real battle.

NEW GAME INSPECTORS.

Changes Coming in Fish and Game Outside Service.

TORONTO, Sept. 1.—The outside service of the Games and Fisheries Branch of the Ontario Government is to be reorganised within the next ten days. According to the Hon. F. C. Biggs, "the lame, the halt, and the blind" have been engaged in this branch, and 240 employees of the branch have received notice to quit. Among them were men nearly eighty years of age. One was blind. The wages paid to them were in some cases as low as $20.00 per annum, "usually paid near election time," according to Mr. Biggs.

A permanent force of about forty young men on a good annual salary basis will be taken on instead.

Mr. Biggs, who is back from the Nipigon fish plant, says it is an excellent one. He will not decide for a month whether or not the Government will drop out of the fish business. Eight hundred commercial fishermen in the Province have asked the Government to quit, while retail fish merchants in Toronto who handle the Government fish, ask the Government to carry on.

BLACKSTONE, GREAT MASTER MAGICIAN

This morning there was an atmosphere of red devils, spooks, bogie folk and mystery at the Grand. The sidewalk at the stage entrance was covered with big crates, boxes and queer looking containers, from which the stage mechanics were removing the queerest looking freaks of handiwork, curious and awe inspiring contraptions, which kept a crowd of onlookers on edge and whetted their anticipation of the work of wonder to be revealel at to-night's performance. If there was ever a city literally living on the edge of excitement, it is Peterborough to-day, for it is the day that the Great Blackstone will make his widely heralded bow and will present the mystery and magic production that has made his name the household word in the north, east, south and west since the days of Hermann, the Great. With a carload of scenery, effects and 'props" and a company of twenty mystifiers and mirthmakers, Blackstone will appear at the Grand to-night. The hand of death, the hand of Cogliostro, the seer of ancient history, will be a sensational phenomenon, it raps its answer on a glass plate. Its truths are strikingly realistic. Its revelations are nothing short of marvelous. Its forecasts are miraculous. If there was ever a creator of heart-throbs it is the Hand of Death. Wherever the superman of mysticism, heralded as possessing the cleverest hands in the world, has appeared, history has repeated itself in the matter of complete sell-outs. Peterborough is expected to be no exception, as the advance sale has been very large, although there are still good seats available.

"DON'T TELL" OPENED IN OTTAWA WITH FINE PRODUCTION

SPLENDID COMPANY IS HIGHLY PRAISED IN PRESS REPORTS—RIVALS "BUNTY."

When the orchestra in the Russell Theatre last evening broke into a Scottish medley as an overture to the Graham Moffatt production of "Don't Tell," the atmosphere of the land of the heather seemed to settle comfortably over the whole house. The first spoken word from the stage intensified the effect and five minutes after the curtain had ascended, the large audience realized that the entertainment offered was far out of the ordinary.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Moffatt have long been successful exponents of the drama on the English and Scottish stage. In fact they have given pleasure by their productions practically all over the world. Last evening marked the premiere production in America of Mr. Moffatt's latest play, one which promises to rival in popularity and success his other vehicle, "Bunty Pulls the Strings."

"Don't Tell," presents a story of occurrences which might easily happen in any family but a particular treat about the production lies in the fact that while the scenes are laid in Glasgow, Scotland, and the characters are such as can be found in practically any Scottish family of the middle classes, the actors and actresses presenting the types are also Scots; their accent is not acquired but real. From Mr. Moffatt himself down to the smallest character in the production, none of them act—they live the parts they portray. It is art, but art at its highest; simple, unaffected, winsome, naturalness, which carries the audience through three acts and leaves it at the final curtain delighted with the play and the players.

A plumber has been appointed a magistrate in his native city. His charming elder daughter, (a militant suffragette), becomes involved with the police, as the suffragettes had a habit of doing in Scotland a year or two before the opening of the war. It falls to her father's lot to try her for a minor misdemeanor, and every member of the family—even to the magistrate himself—attempts to make arrangements for the payment of the fine imposed. The ensuing complications can easily be imagined, and they furnish the fun of the play. The comedy is, however, far different from the American farce or farce comedy, inasmuch as it holds a delicate, subtle humor, and depends for its success upon naturally developed situations, instead of forced though possibly more intense action. With its quiet pawky Scottish humor it is most delightful, a real triumph of comedy.

Of course it is well produced, so well in fact that it is unnecessary to particularize the different members of the cast. While Mr. and Mrs. Moffatt and Miss Winfred Moffatt are featured there is not a weak member in the entire company. Each actor or actress fits the role for which he or she is cast as if melted into it. Altogether it is an unusually artistic performance and well worthy of patronage sufficient to tax the capacity of the theatre. Nothing more really excellent will be seen in Ottawa during the present season.

"Don't Tell," will continue at the Russell this and on Wednesday evenings and Wednesday matinee. This evening the vice-regal party will attend.

YOUNGER BROTHER FORCES SISTER INTO MARRIAGE WITH EMPLOYER SHE VAMPED

CONSTANCE TALMADGE AS "A VIRTUOUS VAMP" HAS FAMILY TROUBLES OVER VICTIM OF WILES.

A younger brother is just as troublesome as a younger sister, Nellie Jones learns, much to her disgust, in "A Virtuous Vamp," starring Constance Talmadge and which will be seen at the Allen Theatre, commencing to-day and to-morrow.

Vamping Business Into Ruin.

As Nellie Jones, Miss Talmadge plays the part of a girl who innocently vamps everyone in her office from the elevator boy to the cashier. On account of her ability as a stenographer, the president of the company is reluctant to dismiss her from his employ, though he has just reason because she has demoralized his office.

Instead, however, he takes her into his private office as his secretary. He is proof against her wiles and she promptly falls in love with him. This is a new ailment for her, as her previous experience has shown her to be the "heartbreaker" instead of the "heartbroken."

Enraged because his pretty sister Nellie is suffering from heartaches, a younger brother visits her boss and insists on a marriage. A detective is hired and the boss's snobbish sister take a hand in the matter.

The story is worked out in a most entertaining manner by John Emerson and Anita Loos, screen's foremost writers.

FAMOUS SCOTTISH COMPANY'S FIRST AMERICAN TOUR

The announcement that Mr. and Mrs. Graham Moffat, Miss Winifred Moffat and their Scottish company are making their first annual tour of America, should be of especial interest to theatre-goers, in that, until this year, Mr. and Mrs. Moffat have appeared, personally, in every other English-speaking country. When William Morris, who is best known here as the manager of Sir Harry Lauder's tours, was abroad last spring, his attention was directed to an article chronicling the production of a new Scottish comedy by the author of "Bunty Pulls the Strings," and without waiting for further advices he journeyed to Glasgow, saw the new play and promptly secured the rights for the United States and Canada. The result is that he will present here, for the first time in America, Mr. Moffat's newest comedy of Scottish life, "Don't Tell!" and with it Mr. and Mrs. Moffat and their Scottish company in their original roles.

"Don't Tell!" is best described as a Scottish comedy of the present decade. It deals chiefly with a Glasgow plumber who is suddenly elected to the Magistracy and yielding to the demands of his family, consents to hold a private rehearsal, at his home, of the duties he will be called upon, officially, to perform. During the mock trial he suddenly discovers that his eldest daughter is really concerned in a matter which seriously affects the entire family and it is upon the premise that Mr. Moffat has developed the complications of his latest opus. The play will be seen here at the Opera House on Saturday, September 4th only, for two performances, both matinee and night.

HINT OF SURPRISES IN PONZI BANKRUPTCY.

Receivers Call Business Men to Testify—Questionnaires to Two Thousand Police.

BOSTON, Sept. 1.—At least a score of persons, some of them once connected with the business, and others, including men prominent in the city, have been called to testify as to their knowledge of Charles Ponzi's assets at the resumption of the hearing on the involuntary bankruptcy proceedings.

Among the number are several who have not been mentioned heretofore in connection with the financial collapse. The names of the persons summoned are kept secret by the receivers, who, however, have made the admission that some of them will "cause a surprise."

The arrest of a few of the agents of the Ponzi organisation and of the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Company, the 'rival" concern, has caused several former agents of the two companies to come forward and turn over varying sums of money which, they declared, represent the commissions they received during the period of their activities.

The total turned over by these few is only a few hundred dollars, and the authorities, in the belief that they have not made a "clean breast" of their earnings, will give them further attention.

The receivers hope to retrieve the greater part of the money paid out by Ponzi during the four months preceding the action in bankruptcy, as under the bankruptcy laws such amounts can be legally demanded for the benefit of all the creditors.

The naming of four inspectors, one lieutenant, and several patrolmen of the Boston Police Department as having been involved in the selling of Ponzi notes, securing personal profits of thousands of dollars, is said to be a forerunner of other and greater disclosures following questionnaires sent out to 2,000 men on the force.

ELEVATOR TRAGEDY IN NEW YORK BUILDING

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Two men were killed and sixteen injured, some of them seriously, when an elevator containing eighteen persons fell ten storeys to-day during the home rush period, in a building at 215 Fourth avenue. The car jammed at the first floor, which prevented greater loss of life, fire department officials said, than if it had crashed to the basement. The dead are: Albert A. Caplan, and Max Lauter, both employed in the building.

Officials investigating the accident said they believed the elevator cable snapped and that the balancing weights crashed through the top of the car. The injured, chiefly men, suffered broken arms and legs. All were taken to hospitals. Firemen worked for nearly an hour, with acetylene torches to release the bodies of the dead, after police had taken the injured out of the wreckage.

BOLSHEVIK FORCES ARE OUTFLANKED

NOTED "RED" CAVALRY LEADER LOST HIS ENTIRE FORCE IN THE SCRAP.

CASUALTIES HEAVY

(Canadian Press).

WARSAW, Sept. 2.—The Bolshevik army of General Budenny, noted cavalry leader, was annihilated during the operations in the Lemberg sector, which began on August 29 and ended September 1st, says a Polish official statement on military operations, issued to-day.

Isolated detachments of the Budenny forces succeeded in escaping, and are now in disorderly retreat.

The Soviet General's mounted men had been endeavouring to break through the Polish lines and march upon Lublin. They had virtually completed an encircling movement against Zamosz, but were outflanked by the poles and attacked from the east, the communique states.

The engagement resulted in the defeat of the Soviet forces along the entire centre of the front. They lost heavily in killed and wounded, the Poles capturing thousands of prisoners, sixteen guns and enormous quantities of material.

The communique also reports successes along the entire centre and southern fronts.

The Poles have occupied Seyny, Lithuania, for strategic reasons, the Foreign Office announce to-day.

The Poles also are advancing beyond Suwalki for the same reason, it was added.

B. CHESLER PURCHASES THE WALK EASY AND PETERBORO SHOE STOCKS AT AUCTION.

Yesterday at the auction rooms of Suckling & Co., Toronto, Mr. W. R. Morris, the assignee in whose hands the assignment of H. G. White was place, offered the stock of the two stores, Walk Easy, and Peterborough Shoe Stores for sale to the highest bidder. Mr. B. Chesler, whose bid was 50 cents on the dollar, was the purchaser and he is commencing at once to take stock in preparation for the final settlement of the deal. Mr. Chesler states that it will be several days before he can offer the goods for sale, as he intends moving the stock now at the Peterborough Shoe Store into the Walk Easy Store and open his sale in the one place. He also has in view still another high-class stock of boots and shoes which he expects to secure within a few days and combine the whole lot into one sweeping slaughter sale that will be well worth waiting for. It will be ten days at least before he will be ready to open the store for business, but he promises a sensational drop in prices of footwear that will arouse Peterborough and last until he has cleared out the entire bankrupt purchase.

A labourer on the Hunter street bridge by the name of Plumpton received a severe cut on the head yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, when struck by a heavy beam which was being removed from the falsework at the arches on the west side of the river. First aid was rendered by the foreman and men on the bridge and Dr. J. V. Gallivan later attended the man and had him removed to St. Joseph's Hospital. Several stitches were required to close the deep cut but to-day he is resting easily.

ANTICIPATE DROP IN FOOD PRICES

Experts in United States Sure Prices Will Fall in Autumn.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Crop indications for 1920 are so favourable that in spite of increased railroad rates and other factors tending to increase costs, a decided drop in the price of all staple foodstuffs should take place this autumn.

The statement was made here by crop experts at the Department of Agriculture. Wheat, they state, will be but little short of the record crop raised last year, and the corn crop promises to be a record-breaker.

To Secure Fast Boat

PREACHER-INSPECTOR FIRES AT RUM-RUNNER NEAR SANDWICH.

WINDSOR, Sept. 2.—The pilot of a motor boat, engaged in rum traffic below Sandwich, escaped in a fusillade of shots yesterday.

The shots were fired by Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, license inspector, and one of his aides.

The officers, passing in an auto, espied a man loading cases of whiskey in a launch, and called on him to surrender. He leaped into the boat and started for the Detroit side. A shower of bullets cut the water about him, but he escaped.

On the dock officers found a new auto and five cases of whiskey. When they reached the police station they heard that a farmer of Petite Cote had lost his car, which answers to the description of the one found on the dock.

"The Provincial Government officials at Toronto," said Rev. Spracklin, "are going to supply us with a speedy motor boat and an auto to aid in apprehending rum-runners. We expect to have the boat within a week."

STEPHEN HILLIER HIT WITH A HEAVY STICK

WAS REMOVED TO NICHOLLS HOSPITAL THIS MORNING.

Stephen Miller, a sectionman on the G.T.R., received a scalp wound over the right ear from a blow by a heavy tie that was being unloaded out of a car on the C.G.E. siding at 11.10 this morning. Six men were unloading a car of ties. Two were in the box car and four, amongst whom was Miller, were handling them as the others passed them out. One of the ties slipped and, falling, struck Miller a glancing blow over the right ear. Dr. A. Moir happened to be passing, and was able to attend the unfortunate man at once. Miller was removed to Nicholls Hospital, where the wound was closed with stitches. It is believed that Miller will be able to be out in a week or two.

RELIC FOUND ON THE BRIDGE SITE

MAN'S FOOT WAS UNEARTHED BY WORKMEN THIS MORNING.

An interesting find has been made at the eastern abutment of the Hunter street bridge. The object was excavated from under the Otonabee in digging for the abutment, but was unnoticed in the pile of stones, till they began to fill the excavation several days ago. It is a petrified man's right foot, and, judging from its size, it belonged to some colossal giant who inhabited these parts some hundreds of years ago. In length it is 14 inches and at the instep it measures 5 inches across. In color it varies from light to dark brown. The toes are not individually distinguishable, but the general shape is apparent. The big toe has evidently been broken off.

There is no mistaking the outline of the foot. Broad, smooth and flat, with no instep, it is plainly the foot of a colossus, who must have stood 12 or 15 feet. Narrow boots were certainly not in vogue at that time.

This petrified reminder of a long extinct giant race now reposes in Mr. C. G. Townshend's office, but Mr. Townshend in the near future intends taking it to the museum at Toronto University.

A petrified fish head or reptile head was found in the same excavation las fall.

Hears Application.

(Special to the Examiner).

TORONTO, Sept. 2 — Railway Board hears freight companies' application for increased rates.

APPLICANTS REFERRED TO THE COUNCIL

MATTER OF APPOINTING A NEW MEDICAL OFFICER OF HEALTH BEFORE COUNCIL.

SALARY QUESTION

Three applications for the position of Medical Officer of Health were received by the Property Committee, which met last evening. The selection of a successor to Dr. A. W. MacPherson, who is resigning to become Medical Officer of the Peterboro Public Schools, and who desired to be relieved by yesterday or as soon after as possible, and the adding of new duties to the M. O. H.'s work occupied much of the hour and a half the committee spent last night in the committee room.

The three applicants for the position were Drs. Sutton, Young and King.

Ald. Jones presided with Ald. Whitehouse, Ald. Hamilton, and Ald. Crowe present.

Ald. Hamilton did not delay matters any. He recommended the appointment of Dr. Sutton and in a few words gave his reasons for advocating the appointment of this physician. Ald. Crowe seconded his motion to this effect.

Ald. Crowe thought they should have a word to say on the salary. None of the applicants mentioned salary. Dr. MacPherson when he first took the position last year received only $1200. Now his salary is $2000. The increases were granted him without recurrence to the county judge which is within the M.O.H.'s legal rights if he considers his salary inadequate. The salary paid Dr. MacPherson is not necessarily the salary that will be paid his successor but all the members of the committee were unanimous that he be paid an adequate salary.

When the chairman told the committee that Dr. Amys, although he did not formally seek the position, might be influenced to take it, Ald. Hamilton withdrew his motion, "that the committee recommend to the council that the resignation of Dr. MacPherson as Medical Officer of Health be accepted, his resignation to take effect after his successor is appointed," read Ald. Hamilton's new motion. Ald. Crowe was the seconder, the motion carrying unanimously.

James Lynch, E. F. Mason and ex-Mayor G. H. Duncan, of the Board of Health, were present on the invitation of the committee to advise them in the matter of the M. O. H.'s duties and salary.

Ald. Jones told them that the council considered asking the M. O. H. to report to it, as the council was not in as close touch with his work as they considered that they should be.

The chairman of the Board of Health said that at each meeting a full report was given to each member from the matron of Queen Mary's Hospital and if the doctor had any report to make he usually made it verbally.

It's a simple matter to have a report made in duplicate and one sent to the council, said Ald. Hamilton.

Ald. Crowe favoured slicing the salary. Mr. Lynch pointed out that the work interfered with a doctor's practice. Furthermore good men are not cheap in any case, he added.

"Well, you are in a better position than I am to know," admitted Ald. Crowe. "I was thinking we might put it down to $1500 or so."

Ex-Mayor Duncan cited several instances where the M.O.H.'s work had proved detrimental to his private practice. Because of this he should be given adequate remuneration for his services.

I think it is wise to pay a man an adequate amount so he can give the best service that is in him, stated E. F. Mason.

Ex-Mayor Duncan told the committee that the M. O. H. had lost many friends; he found that his practice was being undermined by his civic duties, and for this reason had resigned.

Both he and Dr. Amys gave good conscientious service, he stated further.

Ald. Crowe said that all the extra work the council would require of him was a monthly report. His motion, seconded by Ald. Whitehouse, carried, "that the following clauses be inserted in the bylaw covering the M. O. H.'s work:"

I. To report monthly on all inspections made by him, the name and addresses of the person or companies inspected, and their class of business.

II. To report the number of contagious and infectious diseases inspected and sent to the Isolation Hospital or placed under quarantine.

III. An agreement that he will perform such extra duties as the council may call upon him to perform as Medical Officer of Health.

Ald. Hamilton submitted his formal motion for the appointment of Dr. Sutton. Again Ald. Crowe seconded it.

Ald. Whitehouse recommended Dr. Young.

Ald. Jones wavered whether to sec-

STRIKE NOTICE SENT OUT TO MINERS IN BRITISH COAL FIELD

(Canadian Press).

LONDON, Sept. 2 — Strike notices calling for a walk-out of members of the British Miners' Federation on Sept. 25 will be sent out to-day, according to a decision reached at a meeting of district delegates of the federation here this morning. The executive committee of the Transport Workers' Union and of the Railwaymen in session have shown a disposition to support the miners, but nothing definite was known this morning relative to a sympathetic strike.

STOP, THIEF!

HAMILTON, Sept. 2.—Although a civic official stated to-day that profiteering in restaurants was as high as 1,200 per cent. on a cob of corn, and as much as 4,000 per cent. on a side dish of tomatoes, no action is being taken by the Mayor to investigate. The tomatoes, the official said, were charged for at the rate of 20 cents a dish, which was one tomato sliced raw, while a basket of between thirty and forty could be bought for 35 cents.

ALD. CROWE'S IDEAS ENDORSED BY THE LABOUR COUNCIL

ASK FOR INVESTIGATION OF FIRE DEPARTMENT INDEPENDENT OF COUNCIL.

Ald. Crowe's proposal that any public investigation of the Fire Department be conducted by the Provincial Fire Marshal or some other persons independent of the City Council found favour with the Trades Council, who passed a resolution supporting it at their regular meeting last night. They also decided to request Ald. Morrison to discuss his attitude toward the investigation at the next regular meeting on September 15th, and advised the firemen to remain on duty until an investigation was concluded. The latter resolution was prompted by a report that two of the men had resigned yesterday and that the Department was now five men short of the required strength.

Prepare for Labour Day.

Prepartions for Labour Day's celebration at Exhibition grounds occupied most of the evening. The Labourers' Union in their plans to carry off the honours of the parade, reported that they couldn't secure a band and asked for advice. The 57th Regimental band and also the new pipe band have already been engaged by other Unions, and the Labourers want some other band if possible. They were advised to apply to the secretary of the Musicians' Union. Most of the Veterans' bandsmen are going to Toronto.

The programme for Labour Day includes a long list of sports, a league football game and possibly a baseball game between Peterborough and the Universals of Toronto. One of the delegates was authorized to close a deal with the baseball management if satisfactory terms were offered.

LOCAL INSPECTORS WERE RELEASED BY THE GOVERNMENT

Some of Them May be Reinstated, Says Mr. T. Tooms.

Asked this morning whether or not the Government had decided to quit the fish business, Mr. T. Tooms, M. P. P., told The Examiner that that was not as yet decided. The outside service of the Games and Fisheries Department is being re-organized and 240 of its employees who are considered inefficient have been notified to resign. A permanent force of about 40 young men, receiving a good annual salary, will succeed them. Mr. Tooms believes that some of the Peterborough County officials may be reinstated.

THE WEATHER

"When the frost is on the pumpkin," is one line of a familiar poem by an American author picturing the advent of the fall season. While the pumpkin may not have been nipped this morning it had the closest shave it could have and escape the blackening influence of Jack Frost. White frost has been apparent on several mornings lately.—W.P.

SCOUT NOTICE.

Full particulars will be given at the meeting. All boys wishing to go must have their names given in to-night. Full attendance urgently requested. By order, V. Sedgwick, Scoutmaster.

WELCOME TO DELEGATES OF POSTMEN

CITY THOROUGHLY REPRESENTED IN OPENING FEATURE OF LETTER CARRIERS' CONVENTION.

FROM ALL CANADA

Peterborough extended an impressively warm and friendly welcome to the delegates of the Federated Letter Carriers of Canada at the opening of their convention in the Business College this morning. The programme of welcome proceeded without a hitch and its cordiality evoked from President P. Menard of Montreal, the statement that Peterborough was known all over the country for its hospitality and that the Letter Carriers of the Dominoin had looked forward with pleasure to their visit.

Mayor McIntyre and Ald. Whitehouse conveyed the city's greetings, Mr. T. H. Lane, taking an hour off from the Hunter street bridge work, spoke for the Trades Council, Mr. Edgar Worth, arriving directly from his office, extended a welcome on behalf of the Board of Trade, Mr. George Carter for the local letter carriers and Mr. Toom and Mr. John Corkery, postmaster, added their greetings.

Mr. Robert Reid, of the local committee, upon whom devolved the details of the arrangements, was particularly gratified that every one of the representative citizens had fulfilled their promises to assist in the opening of the convention.

The Dominion officers present included P. Menard of Montreal, president; Mr. W. A. MacDonald, of Hamilton, vice-president, and Alex. McMordie of Toronto, secretary. About seventy-five delegates were registered.

Freedom of the City.

Mayor McIntyre said it was a pleasure to give the Letter Carriers the freedom of the city. He hoped that the convention would be completely successful and that the delegates would take away high opinions of Peterborough.

"I also welcome you as chosen representatives of the Federated Association of Letter Carriers," said the Mayor. "The letter carriers of this city have established a reputation for regularity and gentlemanly conduct, and no class of the public service—in fact no class of citizens—are held in higher esteem than the letter carriers of Peterborough. No body of men would be more cordially received here than the members of this convention.

"While we hope that your business sessions will be beneficial to your Asociation, we are pleased to know that arrangements have been made to show you some of the sights of the city and its surroundings, and we also hope that your stay will be most pleasant and that you will give us the opportunity of again welconing you to Peterborough"

Ald. Whitehouse.

Ald. Whitehouse endorsed Mayor McIntyre's welcome from the citizens and assured the delegates that Peterborough desired to make this convention a memorable one. He remarked that some of the members were accompanied by their wives and that he felt sure some of the ladies of the city would assist in making their stay pleasant "Our own ladies will be glad to meet them," he said, "and to show them our city I sincerely trust that the Letter Carriers will be impressed by Peterborough."

T. Tooms, M.L.A.

"We are pleased that from the whole Dominion you selected Peterborough for this convention," said Mr. T. Tooms. "We appreciate your presence and we hope your deliberations will be carried out in harmony to success. We are proud of our city and just as Hamilton is known as the Ambitious city and Toronto as the Queen city, so is Peterborough called the Electric city. The Letter Carriers are an esteemed class of men. They are welcomed by everyone, and in their convention we desire to assure them of our welcome."

Mr. T. H. Lane.

Mr. Thomas H. Lane, President of the Peterborough Trades Council, said that Labour had advanced rapidly in recent years. It was branching out into independent political action in the hope of electing representatives in the parliaments by which better conditions could be secured by legislative methods instead of by strikes. We realize that when labour finds it necessary to call strikes they realize that they often work injury to the community, to the men themselves and to the employers. If employers won't co-operate, and I'm glad to say many of them do co-operate, we want to find means to get them to hear us. After all most workers don't ask for much and are easily satisfied. We don't want to rule the world, but we should have a larger share in it than we've had. Don't you think that if you had members in Parliament you would

TAMPERING WITH THE PEACE TREATY

Overtures Made to the German Government--Germans Rejected Tnem.

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, Sept. 1.— Dr. Walter Simons, Foreign Minister, to-day declared he had been urged to collaborate with Russian Bolshevik agents to the western powers as a means of breaking the bonds imposed by the Versailles Treaty, but that after mature reflection he had rejected this course.

The Foreign Minister sad proposals also have been made that Germany co-operate with the western powers against Russia, which he considered an equally impossible course.

Mentally Defective

ARNEL LOVE'S BELIEF THAT HE IS A MURDERER IS A MENTAL OBSESSION.

TORONTO, Sept. 2.—The confession of Arnel Love that he murdered his mother, for which crime his father was hanged at Owen Sound, has been shattered by statements made by him since he has been under the observation of alienists at the Queen Street Asylum. The story he told at the trial has been compared with his confession and with statements made by him since his confinement, and the doctors are now convinced that he had nothing to do with the actual killing of his mother.

Is Wrong About Knife.

The doctors at the trial were unanimous that the woman was killed, not with a butcher knife, but with a hunting knife, but Love sticks to his story that he used a butcher knife. He told the doctors that he had revisited the scene of the crime only once before he was brought here for observation and that he did not think seriously of the crime. From this statement alone the doctors are sure that the confession made to Rev. Mr. Sharpe was an "obsession which drifted into his mind."

There is on record a statement made by the father to Dr. Phelan, coupling with a general denial of the crime "a declaration that he hoped nobody would ever point a finger at the boy." The father protested that while the lad was in the house at the time, he was asleep and knew nothing of the crime until the next morning, when he pressed his father to tell him where his mother was.

May Not Be Released.

From the confession made by the boy, and certain peculiarities noticed since his confinement, the authorities are of the opinion that Arnel Love is a mental defective and must for some months yet remain under observation and treatment. Whether or not he will recover sufficiently to secure his release cannot be decided now, but in any event if he is given his freedom it will be conditional upon his not returning to Grey county, where the murder was committed

The friends of Arnel Love in Grey county are still active in his behalf, although they have been denied communication with him.

Crime Nearly Eight Years Old.

Mrs. Hannah Love was murdered, doctors who made the autopsy declared, on December 9, 1912. The body was found by her husband, Henry Love, in the cellar of their home at Ceylon, in Grey county three days later. Henry Love was arrested. His son, Arnel, said that his father had told him to say that he had seen a stranger in the neighborhood, whom the lad later admitted he had not seen. The father was found guilty in the Spring Assizes of 1913 at Owen Sound, and sentenced to be hanged by Mr. Justice Lennox. The hanging took place on May 27, 1913.

TAX RETURNS WERE HIGHER FOR MONTH

Mr. Buller is Satisfied With the Response Made by the Merchants.

Inland Revenue returns for this district for the month of August were $36,219.21, announced W. H. Buller this morning. While this figure is some $900 lower than in July. Mr. Buller stated that there were one or two thousand dollars that should have been paid this month that must be carried over. If all returns were in a considerable increase over July would be shown, he said. Each month shows a steady upward trend of returns and Mr. Buller is well satisfied with the working of the tax.

GOVERNMENT WILL IGNORE ALL APPEALS

"NONE OF THE MERCY WHICH SOME SEEK TO INVOKE FOR MACSWENY WAS SHOWN EIGHTY POLICEMEN."

WILL STAND FIRM

(Canadian Press).

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Appeals on behalf of MacSweney, Lord Mayor of Cork, will not be recognized by the British Government, Sir Hammar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, strongly intimated, in an interview with the Times correspondent at Lucerne to-day. "None of the mercy which some seek to invoke for the Lord Mayor," he said, "was shown eighty policemen who have lost their lives in Ireland."

"The present lawlessness in Ireland," the correspondent quotes Sir Hammar as declaring, "is the work of a small body of men who are striving by carefully planned anarchy to impose secession from the British Empire on eighty per cent. of the people of Ireland who do not want to secede."

Sir Hammar also indicated that the Government would unswervingly adhere to the Irish policy.

Sinn Fein Raid the Air Force Department.

(Canadian Press).

LONDON, Sept. 2.—A Sinn Fein raiding party invaded the Royal Air Force Headquarters at Baldoyle, near Dublin, Saturday night, and carried off a large number of secret military documents, including the army code and cipher used at the present time, according to the Daily Mail. It is declared the coup was the most daring and important that has been attempted in Ireland since the present unrest in that country began. Among the papers stolen, it is said, were orders relating to the joint operation of the army, navy, air force and Royal Irish Constabulary scheme of Irish defence plans, details for light airdromes for night flying, and proposals for new developments of the Royal Air Force in Ireland. Revolvers, ammunition and field glasses were also taken.

Rain in Belfast.

(Canadian Press).

BELFAST, Sept. 2.—Dripping skies canopied Belfast this morning, and rain was greeted with relief by the military, in the hope that it would discourage rioting. Soldiers, instead of being grouped at street corners, were posted in doorways and other vantage points to deal with snipers. During the night the death list was increased to twenty-seven in the present rioting. A soldier was shot by his comrades in mistake, and a civilian died from wounds.

CANADA NOW THIRD IN SHIP BUILDING

ORDERS FROM ALL COUNTRIES OF EUROPE GIVE STIMULUS TO INDUSTRY.

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 2.—Since the outbreak of the war, Canada has become the third shipbuilding nation of the world. Figures for 1918-19 show that $60,000,000 was invested in the industry. The number of plants was 204, of which ninety were shipbuilding and 114 boat building. Nineteen plants were turning out steel vessels of a tonnage as high as 10,000 deadweight tons.

Of the total number of plants seventy-two were in Nova Scotia, sixty-nine in Ontario, twenty-six in British Columbia, twenty-three in Quebec, six in New Brunswick, four in Manitoba, two in Prince Edward Island and two in Alberta. The number of men employed was 22,466, receiving wages amounting to $27,148,628.

Shipbuilding is an old Canadian industry. In 1863 wooden ships valued at $9,000,000 were built and sold to the United States. When the purchasing power of money in those days is considered, this ranks as a remarkable performance for a country that had only 3,400,000 people. With the incoming of iron and steel ships the industry declined.

During the late war activity in the industry revived remarkably. Canada constructed 148 ships in the fiscal year 1918-19 of a tonnage of 225,264. This record gave it third place among the nations in the number of ships and fourth place in tonnage. Since 1914 Canadian shipyards have built for other countries vessels valued at $50,000,000. In addition, home demands have been met, including 150,000 tons of shipping for the Dominion Government with 200,000 tons now under way as part of the Government programme.

Most of the ships built for other countries were for Great Britain, though France also was a heavy purchaser. Other buyers were Belgium, Norway, Sweden, Italy and Russia. Nearly all the engines for the Canadian merchant marine have been made in Canada. The placing by the Dominion Government of an order for 250,000 tons of steel ship plates produced at home led to the establishment of a $5,000,000 plate mill at Sydney, N.S.

BIG AUTOS CRASH BOY MEETS DEATH

MORPETH, Aug. 31.—The 14-year-old son of George Neville, of Detroit, was instantly killed here late Sunday afternoon, when two big automobiles crashed together at a cross road, and one of the cars was turned over, pinning the lad under its weight and crushing him to death.

Mr. Neville, who was driving a big Overland motor, was proceeding from Detroit to Aylmer, East Elgin, accompanied by his two sons, aged 14 and 12, to visit some friends and was crossing a road at Morpeth, a clear view of which, it is stated, was obscured by some buildings, when a big car driven by Miss Shirley Lawton, daughter of Dr. Lawton, of Ridgetown, crashed into the Overland, turning it completely over.

Mr. Neville and his younger son escaped with a severe shaking and some minor injuries. Drs. Marr and Gillies, of Ridgetown, were called, and an inquest has been ordered for Tuesday next. Miss Lawton escaped injury.

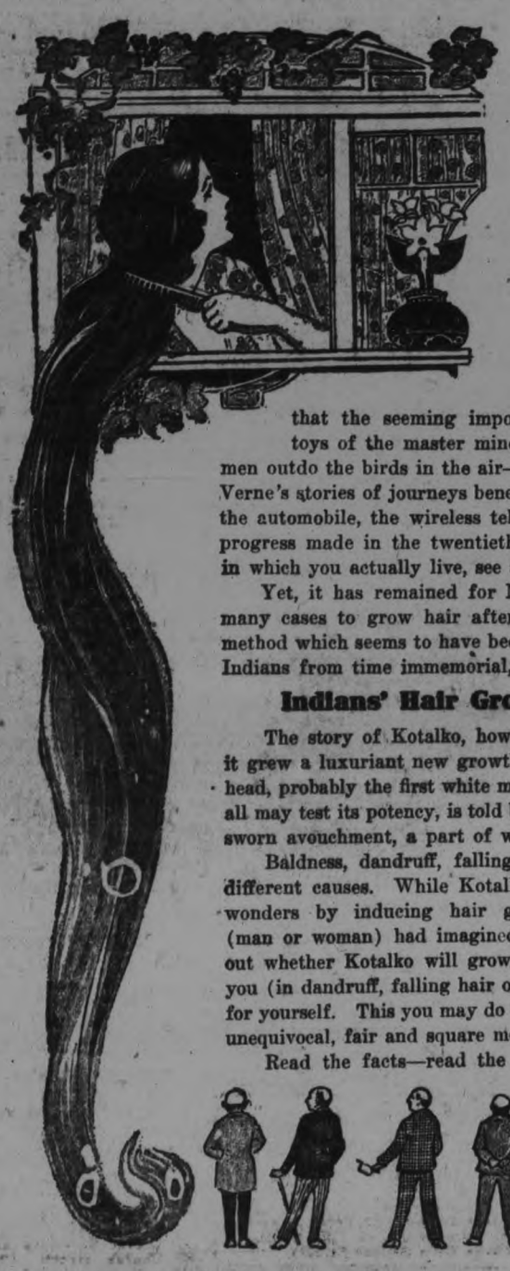
HAS SECRET OF AGES BEEN UNEARTHED AT LAST?

Unquestionable Affidavits show New Hair Growth after Baldness!

Remarkable Preparation was Known to Indians—How Long?—No white Man seems to Know! Contains genuine Bear Oil and other Potent Ingredients from Three Kingdoms of Nature



FOR ages man has sought the secret of growing hair on human heads after it had fallen out from one cause or another. Many theories have been advanced as to the best means for preserving the hair, for increasing its growth, and for the prevention of dandruff, falling hair and baldness. Yet scientists have come and gone, leaving behind them the task of solving one of Nature's greatest problems.

Has it at last been solved?

Has Nature herself opened her portals to the wonderful secret? Your own observation in recent years proves that the seeming impossibilities of yesterday are but mere toys of the master minds of today. The aeroplane, in which men outdo the birds in the air—the submarine, which has made Jules Verne's stories of journeys beneath the sea come true. The telephone, the automobile, the wireless telegraph, all go to show the marvelous progress made in the twentieth century—that history-making period in which you actually live, see and understand.

Yet, it has remained for Nature herself to show us the way in many cases to grow hair after baldness. And this simple, natural method which seems to have been known to certain tribes of American Indians from time immemorial, can now be yours.

Indians' Hair Growing Secret Revealed

The story of Kotalko, how the Indians' secret was obtained, how it grew a luxuriant new growth of hair on John Hart Brittain's bald head, probably the first white man to try it, how it is now obtainable so all may test its potency, is told by Mr. Brittain in his own words, under sworn avouchment, a part of which is printed in the next column.

Baldness, dandruff, falling hair and grayness each have several different causes. While Kotalko cannot create papillae, it has done wonders by inducing hair growth when the baldheaded person (man or woman) had imagined there was no hope. The way to find out whether Kotalko will grow hair in your case or otherwise benefit you (in dandruff, falling hair or grayness) is to make a test of Kotalko for yourself. This you may do under the $300 guarantee—an absolutely unequivocal, fair and square money-refunding offer.

Read the facts—read the additional overwhelmingly convincing evidence of the success of Kotalko submitted by men, women and children who have tried this hair elixir. Decide to have new hair, make the test for yourself. Don't stand and doubt. Use Kotalko now!

A Fortunate Discovery

The Cherokee promised that Mr. Brittain's hair might be grown again if he used a certain exilir.

"WHILE traveling on business (in the old Indian territory, near Tahlequah) I came in contact with an Indian 'medicine man' of the Cherokee tribe, who told me that my hair could be grown again if I used a certain peculiar salve.

"If you have had any experience with American Indians you know that every tribe has one or more men who understand healing, surgery, etc., in a primitive way, yet they often achieve astonishing cures. The scope of these 'wizards' also includes the ability to improve the appearance and welfare of their tribesmen.

"Although I had foresworn any more speculation in hair-growing lotions or the like, as probably you, the reader of this narrative, have done several times, already, the picturesqueness of this old Indian sage and the rather peculiar odor of his ointment fascinated me. I agreed to use it."

Applied it to His Scalp

"Faithfully I applied the pomade to my bare, shiny pate. It became even more shiny. That was easy enough to understand. Nevertheless, I persisted.

"Quiet perseverance is a very valuable factor in life sometimes. So it proved in this test, for after a little while a light fuzz, or down, became visible upon my scalp.

"This pleased me. It gave me encouragement.

"Thereafter I watched the top of my head in the mirror as persistently as a scientist observes the development of anything under his microscope.

"Slowly the fuzz changed into real hairs and they actually grew. Yet, they grew and grew.

"It seems almost ridiculous to tell it, but I felt unusually good—I was mighty happy.

"Finally there was enough hair for me to apply my brush upon!

"What joy!

"I could actually part my hair! Think of it! This was after complete baldness and after being told that the hair roots were dead."

No Trace of Baldness

"My hair today is as luxuriant as anyone could ever wish.

"Explain, if you can, why a certain mixture of animal, mineral and vegetable components, compounded in a special manner, can induce hair growth when all else fails.

"Even the old Cherokee could only say that the recipe came to him through his predecessors. He was wont to remark that among the real—the full-blooded—Indians of most of the big tribes there was never any baldness."

Traded Rifle For Secret

"I must now tell a most important fact of my experience—one which will interest you.

"I came into possession of the Cherokee wizard's secret. That of Ko-tal-ko—which I now call Kotalko.

"It contains three potential classes of components—animal, vegetable and mineral. These are combined in certain proportions and compounded in a certain manner. I am neither a chemist, doctor of medicine nor scientific theorist. I don't pretend to give any reason for the peculiar action of this pomade.

"The primitive men of our country did not have the advantage of our modern scientific chemistry. They operated upon elementary principles. For example, if an Indian was given to attacks of biliousness, the 'medicine man' made a decoction of selected herbs and surrounded the delivery of it with mysterious incantations. The patient was soon well.

"And so with this hair ointment. It was easy for me to prove to the wizard of the forest that I had no thought of entering into competition with him. Consequently, by the giving of a valuable rifle, I obtained the principle of the compound and was taught just how to prepare it, and since then it has been improved by the processes of practical chemistry."

Victory Over Baldness

"When the old Indian gave me this recipe—with considerable ceremony—he asseverated to me that the most important feature was the combination of the animal, vegetable and mineral elements. He allowed that even his formula could be modified and improved (which has been done), so long as these kingdoms were represented. He gave me specimens of the ingredients that he employed.

"I had given most of the contents of my jars to men who were bald and to ladies who were distressed because of the thinness of their hair. The reports which I received were so convincing that I was positive of having found at last just what the world needed."

NOTE: Although Mr. Brittain for many years kept the secret of his victory over baldness to himself, Kotalko is now obtainable at druggists' everywhere. Or get a proof box, postpaid, with book on hair and many testimonials by sending 10 cents to Kotal Company, Limited, 366-H Adelaide Street W., Toronto, Ont.

Reports in Legions of Cases Now Prove Astonishing Results in Hair Growth Almost Beyond Belief. Voluntary Statements from Men and Women of All Ages Causing Wide-Spread Demand for Kotalko

Above are from Photographs of John Hart Brittain Before using Kotalko, and After

REPORTS: An endless quantity of reports on Kotalko, because they are constantly coming in. Full addresses and sworn avouchments on file at our offices. Here are excerpts:

WILLIAM SHAW: "My looking glass is ample proof that Kotalko will grow hair. I had a bald spot over 12 years that has become covered. I am sure that Kotalko will become the most famous hair preparation in the world."

MISS MARY FERREIRA: "When I began to use Kotalko my hair had nearly all fallen out. Then the hair grew again."

GEO. M. SCHWANK: "Even after the second application of Kotalko I could see a difference, for the hair stopped falling out. When I had used two full boxes my hair growth was as good as ever."

LOUISE A. GRAY: "My head is the surest proof that Kotalko is all that it is claimed to be. After a few months of Kotalko my hair is twice as thick and long as it was."

G. K. SKINNER: "I had bald spots on my head for a number of years, and they are now entirely covered with a new growth of hair. Kotalko is what did it."

C. F. HEISER: "I had a large bald spot. Kotalko has developed real, healthy hair all over my head."

AFFIDAVIT re HAIR GROWTH

While completely bald on the top of my head as shown in my photograph which I accompanying this affidavit, I adopted a hair cosmetic and formula given me by an old Cherokee Indian. Within six months my head was covered with a new and luxuriant growth of hair. I now supply Ko-tal-ko, a pomade prepared according to the original formula which resulted in my own hair growth. The statements in my advertisement are true and my photographs are correct.

John Hart Brittain

Personally appeared before me John Hart Brittain, this fifth day of June, 1917, who signed the foregoing in my presence and who being duly sworn, attested that same is true.

Dear Miss Tucker,

It is with deep regret that the people of Warsaw Presbyterian congregation learn of your intended departure. We will miss you for yourself. We will miss you as our organist. We will especially miss you because, so far as in you lay, you have been faithful, cheerful, and obliging. As a church member and as an organist, you have shown your colours. We wish you every success and joy in the new vocation which you have chosen. You will have many a heartache and many a time a tired, aching body, but you must always appear bright and alert. The same faithful cheerfulness which you have shown here will help you there. That same Saviour who has helped you bear your burdens here will help you there, will indeed bear the heavier end of them for you. You have not chosen for yourself a bed of roses, but the roses are there, very thick, among the thorns, and the more you look for them, the more you will find of them.

Will you accept this little purse, not in any way as remuneration, but as a slight token of esteem. No one who does his or her duty is fully rewarded financially. The great reward comes from a clear conscience and a knowledge of work well done, and that lies within you.

Again we wish you every joy and every success.

Signed on behalf of the congregation,—

T. H. Crowe.
David Miller.
E. Hawthorne.

Miss Tucker thanked the people and Mr. Munro replied for her.

A bounteous supper was served, and the crowd dispersed after a very enjoyable time.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

THURSDAY, SEPT. 2ND 1920.

THE EXHIBITION.

The invitation of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition Board to the people generally to assist in making this year's Exhibition a record-breaker in point of exhibits is one that should meet with hearty approval. The facilities in the way of accommodation for displays of all kinds have been greatly improved by the new buildings that have been added and the residents of Peterborough city and county have an unusual opportunity this year to make the exhibition an unprecedented success. While they realize that there must be amusement and entertainment features in connection with the annual exhibition, and these are not being neglected, yet the directors are anxious that the educational and instructive side of the big fair shall keep pace with the general progress made by the annual event. Hence the desire to make the exhibits in all lines surpass in number and in quality anything that has been shown here. People who are in a position to make exhibits should regard it as a civic duty to help the Exhibition by entering various competitions. In every department the 1920 Peterborough Industrial Exhibition should reach a new mark. That this ambition will be assured if the plans of the Board are backed by the enthusiastic co-operation of the citizens there is no reason to doubt. It is everybod's exhibition and everybody can help.

AN ALARMING SITUATION.

In view of the recent statement of Provincial Fuel Controller Harrington that Ontario has only received about half its usual supply of coal, it is doubly disquieting to find from Montreal despatches that there is practically no coal coming into that city from Nova Scotia. In the years before the war large quantities of Nova Scotia coal were brought by steamer to Montreal, but the supply vanished during the war and apparently has not begun to flow in again, for the Montreal Star declares that Nova Scotia coal has not yet made its reappearance there in any quantity.

What would happen if the United States were to decline to furnish Canaad with sufficient fuel for the needs of the country? So generously have our neighbours treated us in this respect that people are liable to lose sight of the fact that there is always the possibility that lack of production and a failing supply in the American mines might produce a demand from the United States consumers that the coal must be reserved for them and that Canada must look after her own fuel supply.

In this country are huge coal deposits undeveloped and lying idle, while Canada has to depend upon another country for fuel. It seems high time that the question of the development of Canadian coal mining should receive the earnest consideration of Canadians generally. We are only carried safely through the rigors of our cold winters because the United States has seen to it that we shared in the available supply from the American mines. If the sentiment of the American people should change how would Canada fare? The situation is indeed alarming.

WARNE DRUG CO., LTD.

MOTOR ACCIDENTS.

The declaration of the President of the Ontario Motor League, Mr. George Hodgson, that the majority of motor accidents are the result of the carelessness of pedestrians, is one that may be considered open to question, although undoubtedly lack of precaution on the part of pedestrians has been the cause of many accidents. Mr. Hodgson should not lose sight of the fact, however, that there are many motorists who act as if people on foot have no right to be on the streets at all. The Motor League can accomplish a great deal towards making conditions safer for everybody if it will endeavour to impress upon these careless motor car owners that pedestrians are entitled to the protection of the traffic laws and to the consideration of motorists.

At the same time the public should understand the necessity, especially on down-town streets, of exercising reasonable care and precaution. There are too many people who wander across a street anywhere they take the notion, ignoring the street corners and oblivious to the numerous cars passing. The practice is a dangerous one for even the most careful motorist might have difficulty in averting an accident if a pedestrian were to suddenly decide to cut across a busy street. Both motorists and pedestrians have a responsibility in the matter of "safety first," and there would be fewer accidents if reasonable care were exercised by both parties.

THE WAY OF THE WORLD.

"Will some kind persons help Lady, 72, lost all through war, recently lost last few pounds.—Write Box Q. 470, The Times, E.C. 4."

"Gentleman, having just received delivery if his 1920 Rolls-Royce Car, ordered since 1915, and having been unable to wait, purchased another car, will Sell his Rolls-Royce, fitted with extremely handsome 5-seater touring body and every equipment, at £3,500, or offer. As owner not in need of cash he would be willing to acept deposit and balance can remain unpaid for reasonable period to approved purchaser.—Letters only to W. Owen, 2 West Chapel Street, Mayfair, W."

What irony of fate huddled these two advertisements together in the personal columns of the London Times. Wrapped in these short sentences lies all the baffling contrast of life, the age-old question that has tortured pagan and Christian since the dawn of reason. On these words the philosophy of a hundred creeds is founded, the text of a thousand sermons. They epitomise the inequalities of all human relationships and crystallise the basic failure of our civilisation.

A lady sitting at her old-fashioned escretoire, dressed in black bombazine, with a mob cap trimmed with priceless lace, a faimily heirloom, hesitates a hundred times before she writes to The Times. The "last few pounds" that were to help to "husband out life's taper at the close" are spent and she appeals to strangers—and if they be not "kind" she will have none of them—to aid her in her misfortunes.

Cheek by fowl, with the words that set the heart a-throbbing is the loud-toned announcement that is the very antithesis of her restrained grief. A "gentleman"—his boastful and blatant tone gives small assurance of his gentility—desires to dispose of "an extremely handsome motor car," with "every equipment," for a sum which would sustain the old lady until kind Death summons her to the Great Assembly. The gentleman is resentful that the car ordered in 1915, a year after war had been declared, has only now been delivered. He chooses to forget—perhaps the stern years of war touched his household lightly—that every machine shop and factory was "turning out the paraphernalia of war that was eventually to tip the scales in the fight for liberty and justice. After the war He finds himself with a superfluous car on his hands, but She has "lost all in the war."

He is not in need of cash, but She has parted with "her last few pounds."

The purchase money of His car "can remain unpaid for a reasonable period," but the wolf of want is yelping at Her door, and She has passed the allotted span of working days.

So poverty jostles wealth in the personal columns of the newspaper, faithful mirror of the great world, and the voice of proud despair is drowned in the vaunting boasts of the rich man and his possessions.—Montreal Star.

THE HEALTH OFFICER.

In considering the question of appointing a successor to Dr. McPherson as Medical Officer of Health, the City Council might be well advised to investigate the possibilities of securing an official whose whole time could be devoted to looking after the public health. The necesity of a higher standard of community health is becoming more and more recognized in enlightened centres and one important step towards better things along that line is the appointment of a medical officer of health who shall have no duties or occupation other than protecting the citizens against disease. A suitable salary would of course have to be provided to secure the services of a man with the necessary qualifications, but the results would undoubtedly justify the additional expenditure.

"Public Health," a publication issued by the Michigan State Department of Health, refers to this question in its latest issue as follows:

Within the last few years the general public has come to realize more fully the importance of sanitation and public health protection. With this growth of the knowledge of the necessity of public health work has come a realization of the increasing need for full-time health officers. The term "full-time health officer" is applied to the health official who is not permitted to engage in other gainful occupation, but devotes his entire time to the work of protecting the health of the district, county, or city by which he is employed.

A person who has to engage in some other occupation for a livelihood and who attends to the duties encumbent upon the health officer during spare time cannot be expected to render the best service. A competent full-time official who has complete supervision of the health affairs is the best protection for the health of the public that can be obtained.

A full-time health officer has many important duties to perform. The presence of cases of communicable diseases must be known before their occurence can be controlled; hence one of the most important duties of a health officer is to collect statistics as to the prevalence of disease, and as to births and deaths. In order to combat disease in a given community, it must be known what diseases are occurring and where such cases are located. The public must be educated as to the cause, modes of spread, and prevention of the more common preventable diseases. Special campaign direction toward the eradication of the more preventable diseases in a community requires the attention of the full-time health officer. In fact, the work of a full-time health officer is very broad and can be extended and developed in many ways.

The average rural county in the United States with a population of 30,000 loses at least $60,000 each year from preventable diseases. Would it not be more economical from the standpoint of dollars and cents, not considering the humanitarian standpoint of the saving of needless deaths and unnecesary suffering, to establish full-time health officials in all communities and thus prevent the needless waste of human lives and money?

WORKMAN KILLED BY A LIVE WIRE

TORONTO, Aug. 31. —While at work repairing an electric motor at the filtration plant, Centre Island, yesterday morning, Frank Woods, aged 42, of 241 Waverley Road, came in contract with a charged live wire, and was electrocuted. Death was instantaneous.

According to the police, Woods was at work with other electricians on a motor. All were on the ground. Suddenly Woods was seen to collapse, and when his mates picked him up they saw that his hands and left side were burned. Dr. Little, of the Lakeside Home, was called, and after examination pronounced the man dead. The body was brought from the Island to the city, and taken at once to the Morgue. An inquest is to be held.

It is believed that Woods accidently touched a live wire while working on the floor.

THAT SON-IN-LAW OF PA'S — 'Twas a Very Doubtful Compliment for Pa — By WELLINGTON

WHAT IS THE PROFIT ON MILK?

What is the profit in producing milk for city consumption? A York county dairyman who loves dairy cows, and has farmed for over forty years in this province, looks back over his well-kept records, and comes to the conclusion that the profit is a loss.

His books are open; the facts speak for themselves, and if the herd can be shown to give a profit on the milk it is because the feed is "given" to the cattle and estimated at less than the market value. If the market value of the feed is charged against the herd, the milk fails to show a profit at prevailing prices.

Has the dairyman any right to expect market value for the feed produced on the farm, and at the same time expect a profit on his milk? He has, though the late lamented Board of Commerce was not willing to concede the point.

It may be well illustrated by applying the same principle to other lines of business. There is a leather company which buys hides and tans the leather. It sells the finished leather—at a profit. The same company carries a portion of its product through a still farther manfuacturing process, and makes leather belting for power purposes. It sells this belting at the cost of the tanned leather (with all its profits), to which is added the cost of manufacturing it into belting, and on top of this a profit on the cost of the latter process is charged. If the company did not do this it would be failing to carry out a well-recognized business principle.

No person takes exception to this. A company (or a man) has a right to a profit on their operations. But the contention of dairymen is that the same applies to their business.

Selling to the Herd.

When a man labors hard and long to produce a crop of grain he has a perfect right to expect a fair price for the grain that will cover his cost of production, and at least allow him something as wages and profit on investment. If he sells his grain he probably gets that—but not always. And he EARNS all that he gets for the grain.

If he sells the grain to his dairy herd he has a right to expect that price, plus a further price to cover the cost of producing the milk from the raw materials, and a profit on the labor required.

No man in his right senses would sell his grain to his neighbor (instead of to his own cows) and go over to the neighbor's farm and care for the dairy herd all year in order to get his neighbor to buy the grain at current market prices. If he went and worked for the neighbor he would have a right to expect wages from that neighbor. Equally, if he sells his stuff to the dairy herd he has a right to expect that herd to pay him something back, not merely to take the feed at the price he could get elsewhere, without a thank you.

The man who dry nurses a dairy herd for 365 days of the year, early in the morning and late at night, as well as buying feed for it and tieing his money up in an expensive herd, is deserving of all the returns that he ever gets—and then some.

This is the view that failed to satisfy the satellites of the Board of Commerce when it was trying to "Borden" the dairymen of Ontario, and did so to the extent of helping the distributors in their fight against the milk producers something like a year ago.—A. S. T., in Farmers' Sun.

APSLEY RECEIVES TWO WAR TROPHIES

VILLAGERS DELIGHTED WITH RECOGNITION OF ENLISTMENTS.

APSLEY, Aug. 31.—The residents of this district are elated at the successful result of their application for a war trophy, Reeve Brown having been notified by the Director of War Trophies that a machine gun and a trench mortar have been allotted to Apsley. This is a fitting and graceful acknowledgment of the patriotic spirit displayed here during the war and is much appreciated.

Miss Ella Brown and Miss Marjorie Spence lately returned from attending a six weeks' course at the Model Summer Schools at Sharbot Lake and Madoc respectively. Both young ladies passed their examinations successfully and have been awarded their certificates from the Education Department. Miss Spence has accepted a reappointment at the school at Gwenbrook and commenced her duties Aug. 25th; while Miss Brown has accepted the school at South Burleigh.

The late Mrs. Hannah Haord, of Chandos township, whose death was chronicled in these columns two weeks ago, left a long line of descendants. She was the mother of nine children, seven of whom are living, the oldest being 78 and the youngest 54. There are also 42 grandchildren, 55 great grandchildren and 3 great great grandchildren. This is not the complete record, one daughter in the States, the number of whose children and grandchildren is not known accurately and is therefore not included in the above list.

Jack's Lake is becoming a favorite resort for fishermen, several fishing parties from Stoney Lake and other points having recently visited there, all reporting good catches.

The only drawback to an excursion to this grand fishing point is the difficulty of reaching it owing to the bad road, which even a Ford is unable to negotiate, so one is reduced to the necessity of walking two miles or risking dislocation of one's bones in a waggon or buggy ride.

Apropos of bad roads Mr. Neil Whitmore and his gang have recently done some remarkably fine work on Wolf Hill and the hill leading to the Long Swamp, and deserves a word of praise from motorists and teamsters, to whom these two places were a veritable nightmare. The work withstood the severe test it was subjected to by the great storm of Saturday week in fine shape.

The improvement at these two spots seems to accentuate the frightful condition of the long swamp and the hill beyond, but hopes are entertained that an effoft will shortly be made to repair this road.

FORM "LITTLE ENTENTE."

Czechs, Serbs and Roumanians Said to Have Formed Alliance.

ROME.— An agreement has been reached between the Prague, Belgrade and Bucharest Governments, called the "Little Entente," for the self-protection of Czechoslovakia, Serbia and Roumania against Russia or enemies in the Balkans, according to the Giornale d'Italia to-day. To make this coalition more effective, says the newspaper, the "Little Entente" is anxious to have the Adriatic problem settled, so that Serbia may be free from any threat on the part of Italy.

The Giornale d'Italia expresses the view that the present affords a good opportunity to insist upon the application of the Compact of London, while letting Fiume look after her own independenec.

PLAYER'S NAVY CUT CIGARETTES

MAKING THE STREETS SAFE FOR MOTORISTS

Now that the auto dodging season is with us again we feel that we can confer a signal honor on pedestrians by publishing safety propaganda. So if you would save yourself a broken limb, read the following carefully:

1. Pedestrians crossing street at night shall wear a white light in front and a red light in the rear.

2. Before turning to the right or left, they shall give three short blasts on a horn at least three inches in diameter.

3. When an experienced automobile driver is made nervous by a pedestrian, he shall indicate the same, and the pedestrian shall hide behind a tree until the automobile has passed.

4. Pedestrians shall not carry in their pockets any sharp instruments which may cut automobile tires.

5. In dodging automobiles, pedestrians shall not run more than seven miles an hour.

6. Pedestrians must register at the beginning of each year and pay a license fee of $5 for the privilege of living. There shall be no rebate if they do not live the entire year.

7. Each pedestrian before receiving his license to walk upon the streets must demonstrate before an examining board his skill in dodging, leaping, crawling and extracting himself from machinery.

8. Pedestrians will be held responsible for all damage done to automobiles or their occupants by collision.

9. Pedestrians must wear a mirror on left shoulder so that they will be able to tell whether traffic is approaching from the rear and shall always signal with left hand when turning to the left.

SPEAKERS'S CHAIR TO BE READY NEXT SESSION

Will Be Similar to One in British House, But Smaller.

When in Canada last week attending the meeting of the Imperial Press Conference, Sir Harry Brittain, representing the British Parliamentary Association, interviewed the architect of the new Canadian Parliament Buildings and the Speaker of the House regarding the new Speaker's chair which the Parliamentary Association desires to present to Canada. The original intention was to make it a replica in all respects of the chair used in the British House of Commons. It was found however, that such a chair would be too large for our purposes; so that the new chair, while similar in all other respects, will be considerably smaller than the one used in the British House. Work will be begun on it immediately on the return of Sir Harry Brittain to London, and it should be here in time for the next session. The custom hitherto has been that the old chair was presented to the Speaker when he left office. Hon. E. N. Rhodes will probably be the last Speaker who will enjoy this privilege, as the chair to be presented will, of course, remain permanently in the House.

SUGAR FROM SAWDUST NOT FOR TABLE USE

The recent announcement that sugar can be produced from sawdust is true, but it will not help the housewife, for the kind of sugar which can be so produced is not the same kind as the ordinary "table sugar," the "cane sugar," or even the "beet sugar" of the breakfast table. It is glucose, an entirely different substance chemically, and will not help for a long time to come, if ever, to relieve the sugar famine.

This is the announcement of the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse, N. Y., through Dr. Louis E. Wise, profesosr of forest chemistry of wood, who says:

"An important sugar can be prepared from sawdust by hydrolysis with acid, but it must not be confused with the sugar of the breakfast table. This sugar prepared from wood is dextrose or glucose, and is is identical with the sugar obtained by acid treatment of starch. The sugar is not identical, however, with sucrose, commonly termed 'cane sugar,' or 'beet sugar.' Glucose is however, widely used commercially and is an important foodstuff, being the principal component of corn syrups and the like and has distinct nutritive value. As sucrose cannot be prepared from glucose, either commercially or in the laboratory, there is little prospect that such a synthesis will be an accomplished fact in the near future."

LETTER FROM MR. J. H. BURNHAM

A MATTER OF GRAVE IMPORTANCE.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—The following appeared in The Mail and Empire editorial columns of August 31, 1920:

"The millers of Canada want flour carried to Britain at the same rate as wheat, and ask that the Government merchant marine make the necessary rates, instead of lining up with the North Atlantic shipping conference. Why should the Government marine, which was built to make Canada independent of the shipping rings, be aligned with them in the making of rates? The policy of Canada should be to sell her wheat in the form of flour wherever possible, and thus retain the offal to build up our cattle-raising industry."

It would be difficult to exaggerate the importance of the grim fact here disclosed. For four years I hammered at the same point in the House of Commons, but beyond risking my popularity with the Government in its relations to this constituency, I accomplished practically nothing. The Atlantic shipping pool has had the exporter, especially of agricultural produce, by the neck for many years. It is a pool of all the shipping interests that do seat trade on the Atlantic. It discriminates a favour of its own favourites. But it always skims the cream for itself. Some of us in Parliament have been calling aloud for years to be delivered "from this body of death," for it is nothing less than that. We asked that Canada should establish her own mercantile marine. For a time this was effectively barked but as the demand for relief for the shipper became more insistent a national shipping development was at last granted—only to be divided, as we see above, into the mow of the interests.

One would think that a sense of common decency would have prevented such a thing. If the people of this country permit scuh an outrage to continue they can only thank themselves for it. I did not dare refer to this matter before as it is not wise to unnecessarily risk defeat, but when The Mail and Empire will not stand for it we may well suppose that the time to protest has come. It seems impossible to get public men to do the fair thing by the people and when a "row" takes place we pretend to wonder at the cause of it. Great Britain has always discriminated against our flour and in favour of her own flour-milling interests. Tariffs are not the only means of protection. But that is not the point at issue here.

J. H. BURNHAM.

HOLD-WYOMING MAN FOR MURDER

GERALD STACK DECLARED TO HAVE ADMITTED SHOOTING AT ROADHOUSE.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Gerald Stack, wealthy real estate man of Lander, Wyoming, was held by police here in connection with the death of Paul Brown, 22, Chicago clerk. Detectives who took Stack and members of his party into custody said Brown was shot after a quarrel with a young woman in the Stack party. Stack, who detectives said, admitted shooting Brown, said he acted in self-defence when Brown's friends interfered during their quarrel over an alleged insult to one of Stack's companions.

Mrs. Stack, at a hotel here with their two children, was prostrated.

Held with Stack as witnesses to the tragedy were George Harsh, Webster Grove, Mo., member of the St. Louis Board of Trade; Henry Garneau, member of the Chicago Board of Trade, and Mary Kane, alleged cause of the fatal quarrel. Police sought three more feminine members of the Stack party and Charles Gharrity, wealthy Chicageon, also said to be of the party.

According to the detectives who made the capture, Brown with three men and three girls, was leaving the roadhouse at about 3 a.m., but returned for cigarettes. In passing Miss Kane he made a remark for which she slapped him. He made a hot retort and Stack hit him over the head with a revolver, then fired four times, the detectives said. Stack said Brown's party had re-entered the inn and was rushing him.

"DON'T TELL"

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Moffat, known throughout the English-speaking world, as the representative Scottish players of the day, will make their first American tour under the direction of William Morris this season in "Don't Tell!" described as a new comedy of Glasgow life by Graham Moffat. Of course Mr. Moffat's "Bunty Pulls the Strings" may be said to have really established the worth of Scottish playwrighting throughout the world ,although he is the author of several other works of equal merit. His "A Scrape O' The Pen," "Till the Bells Ring" and "Annie Laurie" have all been performed in England and Scotland although he is best known here as the author of "Bunty." When Mr. Morris, the manager of Sir Harry Lauder, was abroad last spring, he secured the rights to "Don't Tell!" for the United States and Canada but, after realizing the almost impossible task of securing an adequate company of players, he induced Mr. and Mrs. Moffat, Miss Winifred Moffat, and their Scottish original cast to come to America. They will be seen here in "Don't Tell!" at the Grand on Saturday, September 4th, for one night only.

HEADLIGHT LAW WILL SOON GO INTO FORCE

TESTING HAS BEEN ABOUT COMPLETED PREPARATORY TO ISSUING ORDER.

TORONTO, Sept 1.—Spoken to with reference to prosecutions which have been reported of motorists who use strong headlights an their cars, Mr. W. A. McLean, Deputy Minister of Highways, remarked: "The going into effect of the law, as I see it, must necessarily await the issuance from the Minister of a list of approved headlights I would say prosecutions are somewhat ill-advsed in view of the fact that the Department has not been able up till now to issue an approved list. We have exercised every means we could to hasten matters.

"In order to issue an approval, which we could defend, a complicated and complete scheme of testing was necessary. It involved the obtaining of certain optical equipment and the adjusting of it in a way that took up time beyond our anticipation. The matter of organizing these tests was put in the hands of Professor A. T. Lang, of the School of Science, Toronto. He has been co-operating with the optical department of the Toronto Hydro-Electric. These tests I understand are about completed and we hope to issue a list within a few days."

get more of what you want, such as ond it or not in view of the deadlock that was approaching.

Ald. Hamilton smoothed everything out by a timely motion that sent the whole matter back to the council because of the committee's inability to reach a decision on the matter.

Messrs. E. F. Mason and Henry Rush of the Protestant Home Board, sought an additional piece of land west of the Home and the square piece recently granted them by the City Trust but now in the legal process of transfer. The land desired is a triangular area with one side on Hilliard street. It is less than half an acre in area. The land already granted them, Mr. Mason said, will be used to build a caretaker's residence on. The triangular piece is of little value but would be useful to them for pasture or gardens, he said.

Ald. Crowe wanted to know if the loan of the lot to them wouldn't be equally satisfactory.

Couldn't we lease that to the Protestant home? went on Ald. Whitehouse.

"At the last meeting they said they wanted it," said ex-Mayor Rush.

Ald. Whitehouse could not see why they wanted possession, but declared that if they built on the other piece it would spoil the value of this triangular section permanently.

The committee felt that an inspection of the grounds would help them in reaching a decision and on motion of Ald. Hamilton they will inspect the land with representatives of the Peterborough Protestant Home Board.

The present market bylaw is full of flaws, according to the city clerk. It does not mention automobiles at all as regards the tariff and the words market place and market square are very much confused.

The discussion of a new bylaw came up. The chairman alleged devious and sundry ways in which the sharp witted farmers' wives escaped the big part of the tax on baskets.

The city solicitor on the motion of Ald. Hamilton, seconded by Ald. Crowe, was directed to prepare a bylaw to amend the market bylaw, to correct the inconsistencies in it, to include motor vehicles in the scale of fees and to make it comply with the law as at present.

The chairman was instructed on motion to sell the scales not in use at the market.

The City Engineer was requested to report on what disposition could be made of the tins at the incinerator.

The chairman of the committee and Ald. Whitehouse, were authorized to get an estimate of the cost of lighting the market clock and to report on the matter at the next meeting of the Committee.

FINED $200 EACH FOR BOOTLEGGING

MAGISTRATE LANGLEY DECLARED HE WOULD STAMP OUT WHISKEY TRAFFIC IN COUNTRY.

"I intend to stamp out the illegal liquor traffic in Peterborough County," stated Magistrate Langley in the County Police Court yesterday afternoon when he fined David Seagle $200 and costs of $29.96 for selling liquor at Burleigh Falls. "Bootlegging in this county will be a dangerous profession to follow and those found guilty will receive the maximum penalty and probably be committed to jail in accordance with the attorney-general's advice to magistrates."

The case was continued from the morning, and before court went into session G. N. Gordon and V. J. McElderry, counsel for the defence and prosecution, respectively, held a conclave. As a result the defence changed its plea to guilty, the prosecution dropped the charge of having liquor for sale against David Seagle's brother, Soloman, and the liquor which had been seized from Soloman in transit to his home at Burleigh, was ordered confiscated.

In imposng the fine the magistrate impressed upon the young men the fact that the disposal of their cases had been very lenient and stated that in the future no minimum fines would be imposed. He was determined, he stated, to put an end to bootlegging and no offender need look to him for leniency. He advised the two to look to some profession other than the selling of liquor for a livelihood as it would go hard with them should they be brought before him again.

OFFER OF REWARD FOR A. J. SMALL HAS EXPIRED

MAY NOT BE RENEWED—ADVISERS TO CONFER WITH MRS. SMALL AS TO FURTHER ACTION.

TORONTO, September 1st. — The offer of a $50,000 reward for information as to the whereabouts of Ambrose J. Small, the millionaire Toronto theatre owner, who mysteriously disappeared on Dec. 2 last, expires automatically under the time limit set when the offer was made several months ago by the Capital Trust Company, trustees of Mr. Small's estate, on behalf of Mrs. Small and the estate. Dr. G. B. Connolly, president and managing director of the Capital Trust Company, stated last night that, while the offer of the reward had undoubtedly been productive of a great deal of effort on the part of police forces and other agencies all over the world, there had been nothing of a really tangible nature as a result.

"Of course," he added, "it is impossible to say what this work might yet bring forth. Beyond question an immense amount of interest in the case was aroused, as is evidenced by the inquiries which have come from all parts of the world."

Asked as to whether the reward offer would be renewed, Dr. Connelly, said that so far that matter had not been considered. The present offer, he said, expires automaatically on Sept. 1, and he thought it likely that either to-day or to-morrow he would have a conference with Mrs. Small and Mr. Frank Hughes her solicitor, to decide what further steps, if any, would be taken.

The reward offered was $50,000 for the discovery of Mr. Small, if alive, or $15,000 or the finding of his remains, while another $5,000 was offered for information leading to the arrest of John Doughty, former secretary to Mr. Small, who also disappeared on Dec. 27. Warrants for Mr. Doughty's arrest on charges of conspiring to kidnap his former employer and of stealing bonds to the amount of about $100,000, belonging to the latter, have been in the hands of the police for some time, but the search for him has been as fruitless so far as that for Mr. Small.

Half a Pineapple For One Dessert

In Jiffy-Jell desserts the fruit flavors are abundant. For instance, half a pineapple is crushed to make the flavor for one pint dessert. This is done in Hawaii from fruit too ripe to ship.

All Jiffy-Jell fruit flavors are made from condensed fruit juice. They come in liquid form—in vials—a bottle in each package. That is true of no other quick gelatine dessert.

A few cents will serve a real-fruit dessert for six people. No artificial flavor, no saccharine. It is the most delicious fruit dessert available, and it comes in ten choice flavors.

OTTAWA MUSICIANS MAY STRIKE TO-DAY

OTTAWA, Aug. 31. — Unless the members of the Local Musicians' Union decide to modify their demands somewhat before Thursday it looks as if the Ottawa public will have to enjoy their favourite picture or play without the usual musical setting. The present agreement between the theatre owners and the union expires on Sept. 1, and so far neither side has expressed the slightest intention of changing its attitude. The manager of one of the largest theatres in the city said that, as far as he was concerned, the musicians in his employ might walk out at any time if they persisted in what he termed their unreasonable demands.

A deadlock now exists and the men are prepared to strike to-morrow morning.

The demands forwarded to employers for the proposed new scale are as follows: Side men $45 weekly, and leaders $60 weekly, for 12 performances; $23 weekly for side men for six performances.

The present rates are: Side men $32 weekly, and leaders $42 weekly for 12 performances, and $16.50 per week for side men for six performances.

The theatre managers held a meeting recently at which they offered the musicians in their employ $40 per week for full time men and $20 for part time and $55 per week for leaders. Since that time they have held several meetings, but refuse to meet the demands of the men, which are on a whole $5 higher per week than what has been offered.

In the Case of Detroit—

IN granting increased rates for telephone service in Detroit the other day, the Michigan Public Utilities Commission said :—

"An increase in telephone rates may be unpopular. A collapse in telephone service would be a calamity. It would be easy to jeopardize the investment of stockholders, impair the value of the company's property, cripple its service and destroy its credit, but in the long run the rate-paying public would bear the burden of re-establishing the business."

Public Utility Commissions everywhere, are recognizing the fact that if telephone companies are to continue to give good service and to meet demands for new installations, they must have rates that will produce adequate revenue.

C.P.R. EXHIBIT AT EXHIBITION

UNIQUE FEATURE OF THE TORONTO EXHIBITION WELL WORTH A VISIT.

The exhibit of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company at the Toronto Exhibition this year is unique and very representative of the glories and beauties of the Canadian Pacific Rockies. It is housed in the popular Railway Buliding, and immediately catches the interest of the visitor. It is the C.P.R. Sun Dance Lodge and quite typical of the Rockies and the Indians of the west. The premier attraction on entering the building is the huge Sun Burst which throws its rays around the gigantic tepee in which are garnered the side scenes portraying in miniature form some of the gorgeous settings which none but the Canadian Rockies can produce. The roof of the Indian tepee is hand painted with symbolic writings and signs typical of the Rocky and Plain Indians. The side embellishments are finished in white birch, the bark of which was always a favorite with the Indian not only for the construction of his canoe but for the building of a quick camp fire. On each side of the entrance office accommodation has been worked into the setting where information of every description can be obtained and telegraph service is also installed. This has the tepee finish and real Indian tepee poles transported for the purpose have been used. The lighting effect of these elaborate interiors are electric with miniature tents as shades producing an interesting effect.

Model of Banff.

The scene from Sulphur Mountain overlooking Banff Springs Hotel in the foreground, and the beautiful Rundle and Tunnel Mountains, and the stretch of the Bow River in the background is undoubtedly realistic. A fine model of the C.P.R.'s famous hostelry built especially for the occasion by Messrs. H. Morgan, Ltd., Montreal, is electrically illuminated and gives the visitors the impression that he is paying a visit to Banff instead of sweltering under the atmosphere of an exhibition. The Banff Hot Springs, famous for their healtth giving qualities, especially for curing rheumatism, were known to the Red men long years ago and accidentally discovered by some engineers when surveying for the C.P.R. The huge swimming tank hidden from the view, but situated directly in front of the hotel, has a depth of water of from three to eight feet and is one of the great summer attractions. The beauties of Banff are to be found on all sides. There are mountains to the left, mountains in front and also behind, and the Bow river seen in the back of the picture reminds one of opals with its pale green color, and its ever changing fires. The view is entrancing, and one need never feel dull or suffer from ennui, in this delightful spot. The scene cannot be eclipsed for grandeur, although Lake Louise depicted on the opposite side of the tent certainly gives it a close running, and many people prefer this exquisite location high up amidst the ennumerable peaks of the Canadian Rockies. This picture is a representation which meets the eye of the tourist looking for the grandeurs of Lake Louise from almost any spot behind the Chateau with a glimpse of the wonderful gem of a lake and a gigantic glacier and mountain in the rear. On arrival here feelings of wonder, awe and admiration grip the mind, compelling a reverential silence. The Victoria Glacier which forms the background feeds the lake which is shown by real water, while the towering peaks of Mount Lefroy and Mount Aberdeen are observed in the distance. The model of the Chateau is another masterpiece from Morgan's. The frieze of Indian decorations and the magnificent transparencies lend a perfect finishing touch to the whole Sun Dance Lodge effect. The remaining sides of the "Lodge" are of typical white birch interspersed with panelling of beautiful real Indian mats made from cedar bark, and there are many reproductions in miniature of the famous Totem poles from Alert Bay. There is also on exhbition a very valuable collection of Indian relics from the West Coast, all of which are original, and many over a hundred years old. They include eating and cooking utensils made of wood and whalebone, bows and arrows, coffins and tom toms, cedar chests and model Indian houses. The illumination effect is perfect, comprising some five hundred lights. The scenic paintings were executed by Mr. Hal Ross Perrigard, assisted by Mr. A. Robinson, and the decorations by Mr. Perrigard, assisted by Mr. James Crockardt, all of Montreal. Taking the exhibition as a whole, fifteen or twenty minutes could be spent to advantage in the Railway Building, as it is not only an historical representation, but educational from every viewpoint.

MINISTER OF PUBLIC WORKS IS ATTACKED

CRITICIZED FOR FAILURE TO AMEND VEHICLES LOAD ACT.

GLENCOE, Sept. 1.—Speaking yesterday at a picnic of the U. F. O. of Mosa and Ekfrid Townships, Harold Currie, a member of the Provincial U.F.O. Executive, made an attack on Hon. F. C. Biggs, declaring that the Minister had consented to amend the Highways Act in the clauses relating to proportionate cost to be borne by the counties and Government only after much persuasion. Mr. Biggs' failure to amend the Load of Vehicles Act, the speaker said, was one of the things the Minister of Public Works did not do that he should have done. He expressed the wish that Mr. Biggs were present that he could tell him something to his face.

MASS MEETING CABLES ITS SUPPORT OF LLOYD-GEORGE.

Citizens Strongly in Favour of British Rule in Ireland.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—Approval of Lloyd-George's policy toward Ireland comes from Winchester, Ont., where, at a mass meeting of the citizens last evening, a forceful resolution assuring the British Premier of sympathy and support in his battle for equal justice was unanimously passed. A copy of the resolution was cabled to Lloyd-George. The meeting was called at the instance of Reeve J. F. Ault, and was under the chairmanship of Mr. A. Sweet.

The resolution follows:

"A mass meeting of th citizens of Winchester, Ont., heartily approves the stand taken by you in opposition to the traitorous propaganda of the Sinn Feiners and other disloyal elements, and assures you of the sympathy and support of the loyal population of Canada in your determined stand for equal justice to all."

Most people's tempers are fairly decent when they are sound asleep.

PEAT SUPPLIES FOR PETERBORO

TWO CARS HAVE BEEN SOLD ON THE LOCAL MARKET.

Forced by the acute fuel situation to try any substitute for coal and wood the citizens of Peterborough have already bought two cars of peat and interested inquiries indicate a big market locally for the fuel.

At Mr. J. E. A. Fitzgerald's office, where local orders have poured in for peat it was ascertained that from the peat fields in Alford, near Ottawa, an inexhaustable supply can be supplied to the Dominion from a field of 10,000 acres. The only difficulty confronting the dealers is the short season nature provides for the drying of peat. As it must be dug after the frost is out of the ground and before it enters again in the fall the whole process must be accomplished in one hundred days.

Used Extensively.

So far the orders placed for peat locally have come mainly from Old Country people who have had previous experience with it in England and in Ireland. They have reported the Canadian peat to be almost if not quite as good as they had used previously and that it is absolutely satisfatcory for range use, and that they will try it out in the furnace this year.

One of the local coal men had it tried out in his own range and reported absolute satisfaction with the results, the fire being hotter and lasting longer than hardwood. For use in the furnace, those who had tried it previously state it is satisfactory and makes a lasting fire when banked by ashes by means of which the speed at which it burns is regulated.

Lights Easily.

One convenient feature of peat is the facility with which a fire may be lighted, only a few drops of coal oil and a match being necessary to set it in action or a very small quantity of kindling wood.

Depends on Demand.

Asked if more peat will be brought into the city this fall, Mr. Pratt of Mr. J. E. A. Fitzgerald's office, stated that provided the public demand it, it will be brought in. One minor difficulty presented in the handling of peat is its bulkiness, one ton requiring twice as many bags as a similar amount of coal.

WOOLLEN PRICES PASS THE PEAK

FROM NOW ON GRADUAL DECLINE MAY BE LOOKED FOR IN FINISHED GOODS.

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—That woollen prices had now reached past their highest point and that from now on a gradual decline may be looked for in the finished goods for the future, was the context of a discussion of the woollen situation by E. S. Bates, of E. S. Bates and Company.

Mr. Bates, in reviewing the situation from the time the slump in prices of raw materials started in the United States, said that this, of course, was due to the cessation of buying by the consumers and the piling up of huge stocks, which, on a tightness of money, had to be liquidated to meet loans. The speculative demand stopped and the bottom fell out of the market for coarser grades of wool, of which there has been a surplus ever since the war.

The Canadian situation was provoked by these conditions and though wool prices did not drop to the levels indicated by some, yet there was a decline in raw materials of from 20 per cent. on the finer grades to 40 per cent. on the coarser grades. There is a large quantity of wool now on hand and the demand is not great. The Canadian mills are busy on orders taken from nine months to a year ago, and although there are some cancelations on the poorer grades, of the staple few are made.

BEWARE OF TENDER GUMS

Unhealthy soil kills the best of wheat. Unhealthy gums kill the best of teeth. To keep the teeth sound keep the gums well. Watch for tender and bleeding gums. This is a symptom of Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

Pyorrhea menaces the body as well as the teeth. Not only do the gums recede and cause the teeth to decay, loosen and fall out, but the infecting Pyorrhea germs lower the body's vitality and cause many serious ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection. And use Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

BRUTAL MURDER OF OTTAWA GIRL

ONLY TWENTY YEARS OLD, IS VICTIM OF FIENDISH ATTACK—FARMER HELD FOR SHOOTING.

OTTAWA, September 2. — Horribly wounded in the thigh by a bullet said to have been fired by a neighboring farmer, who resented her trespass upon his farm, Miss May Casey, the 20 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Casey, 329 Lyon street, Ottawa, died less than three-quarters of an hour after receiving the injury, and her assailant, John Neil, Althorpe, was held guilty of her murder by a coroner's jury sitting Tuesday afternoon at the scene of the crime.

Residents of the hamlet of Althorpe first heard of the horrible occurrence Tuesday morning when police officers from Perth arrived in the district of South Sherbrooke and arrested John Neil on a charge of being responsible for the death of Miss Casey. During the afternoon Dr. McCallum, coroner, Smith's Falls, empanelled a jury at the farm house of Mr. Raymond Gillis, where Miss Casey was a guest at the time of the murder, and after hearing the evidence of Mr. Raymond Gillis, returned a verdict of murder and indicted Neil to stand trial on charge. Neil was removed to Perth on Tuesday evening where he will be held until his preliminary trial within the next few days.

No evidence beyond the fact that Neil objected to Mr. Gillis and Miss Casey trespassing on the farm, was adduced at the inquest as a motive for the repulsive crime. Both Neil and Gillis had previously been good friends.

Was Viewing Gully.

Mr. Raymond Gillis, the only witness examined at the coroner's inquest, outlined the salient facts leading up to the crime.

In his evidence Mr. Gillis stated that Miss Casey had recently arrived at their home on a visit to his sister. Attracted by a view in a gully near the Gillis farm, Miss Casey had several times visited the gully during the daylight hours. She requested him to visit the gully on Monday night, being anxious to see the gully by moonlight, and the two set out together.

Heard Shot Fired.

They went to a hill on the Neil farm and after they had been t : for a short time he saw Neil approaching a barn, carrying an ordinary lantern. Suddenly the lantern was extinguished, and a few minutes later both he and Miss Casey, who had decided to go home, were startled by the sound of a shot. Believing that Neil had fired a blank round to frighten them off he turned to reassure Miss Casey, and then walked towards his neighbor, who was then about 65 yards away. Neil was carrying a gun.

Found Girl Unconscious.

When he returned to the girl he found her lying unconscious on the ground, and believing that she had fainted through fear, he asked Neil to get some water, while he immediately knelt down and made efforts to revive her. He was dumbfounded when he discovered blood upon his hands. Then realizing that Neil had shot her, he acused him of the crime and asked him to help to carry the wounded and unconscious girl to the Gillis home.

Refused to Help.

Neil refused, he said, and told him that he and Miss Casey should not have been trespassing on his farm, and then quietly walked away. Unaided he raised the girl and carried her for some distance but finally he was overcome by fatigue, and he was forced to go to his home for assistance. Miss Casey was carried to the Gillis farm house and Dr. Hamilton of Westport, was summoned. Miss Casey had sustained terrible injuries, and in spite of the efforts of the physician, passed away three-quarters of an hour after receiving the fatal wound.

A Horrible Wound.

The bullet struck the left hip, shattered the femur, and then mushrooming tore a huge gash in the muscles and ligaments of the thigh. Shock and los of blood were the primary causes of death.

An Old Resident.

John Neil, the acused, has resided on the farm where the tragedy happened for a number of years. His wife is dead and he has lived alone for some years. At the inquest Neil did not seem to realize the gravity of his position.

BLACKSTONE PLEASES ARTIST ARTIST PLEASES BLACKSTONE

An artist's conception of the Blackstone Show as he saw it at the Grand last night.

This morning while Blackstone, the magician, who closes his engagement at the grand opera house to-night, was strolling along George street, near the Grand, a young man walked up to him and handed him a roll of paper, with the remark "I liked your show and here is what I saw."

With the remark the young man walked away, leaving the magician wondering whether somebody with Bolshevistic tendencies was handing him a bomb or whether some other magician was playing a trick upon him and whether or not a rabbit might jump out of the rolls when it was opened.

But he opened it at any rate and found a local artist's conception of his show. The picture drawn by the local artist appears above.

Blackstock, master magician, amazed and amused a large audience at the Grand last night with his wonderful demonstrations of modern magic and illusion. No cleverer exponent of the art has been seen here than Blackstone who rapidly executes one amazing trick after another, deceiving and mystifying his audience with a bewildering ease. Surprise follows surprise until the spectators do not know what to look for next. And many of the experiments are productive of a great deal of fun, aided by the witty remarks of the magician, who has a most pleasing personality.

Most of the illusions presented by Blackstone last night originated with him, and they are clever and novel. Space does not permit a mention of them all, but one in particular entitled "Tanzar the Girl of the Air," was particularly effective. In this act Blackstone puts a lady assistant into a hypnotic sleep. She is placed on a divan and covered with a robe. Then she appears to float in the air When a committee from the audience is asked to lift her down they find the robe empty and the lady has disapepared—apparently vanished into thin air.

Blackstone does some most clever card tricks, the dexterity with which he manipulates the paste boards being a feature of last evening's performance.

Using the "hand of Cogliostro," he entertained the audience with spirit rapping, questions on every subject being answered. Some one in the gallery asked, "Will Mr. MacSweney die?" and somebody else wanted to know if "Ham Burnham would be elected at the next election?" The questions caused a good deal of amusement.

Blackstone must be seen to be appreciated. He is at the Grand again to-night and for the benefit of the children, for whom a matinee could not be arranged, a special price of 50c has been fixed for the little folks to-night and a number of rabbits will be given away.

The delegates to the Dominion Letter Carriers' Convention will attend in a body to-night. A special rate had been secured through the Kindness of Manager Phillips of the Grand and Blackstone.

THE BOYS HAD A HARD SEASON

"OLD TIMER" COMES THROUGH WITH A LITTLE CHEER STUFF.

Peterborough, Sept. 2, 1920.

Sporting Editor, Examiner:

A few words in regards to lacrosse game played on Saturday. The boys having lost on the first real game, need not be discouraged, and the public should endeavor to encourage them, but instead all they hear is a knock hereand there. That is no way to encourage sport. The boys, under the management of John Sutherland, practised right through from early spring and they deserve great credit for the way they turned out. On the other hand a club without support can not make good. If the citizens took an interest in their national game, lacrosse, and gave more support, Peterborough would have the best team in the circuit, and the citizen who trys to hag the players for Saturday's game is, my opinion, no sport; it is not if a man falls to kick him. No. Put your hand out and help him up. So it is in any kind of a game. If a team loses encourage them to win the next time. Peterborough boys deserve great praise and I only wish them the best of luck next Saturday. Keep up, boys, don't lose courage; go with a heart to win. Thanking you, Mr. Editor.

An Old Timer.

CHILDREN CAN SEE MASTER MAGICIAN TO-NIGHT FOR 50c

A DOZEN LIVE RABBITS WILL BE GIVEN AWAY TO TWELVE LUCKY CHILDREN.

Unfortunately the great Blackstone, World's Master Magician, arrived too late yesterday to give the promised matinee for children at the Opera House. Therefore, rather than disappoint the hundreds of little ones who have been looking forward to an exhibition of marvellous magical wonders, in which the great Blackstone excels all others, all children will be admitted to to-night's performance for FIFTY CENTS (50c.)

A special feature of this evening's programme will be the giving away of twelve little rabbits to a dozen lucky children who happen to be selected for these gifts . So parents should avail themselves of this opportunity to give their children a real treat in the mysteries of clean magic, with the chance of taking home a memento of wonderland in the shape of a little pet rabbit. Remember the price of admission for children at the Opera House to-night is only 50 cents to any part of the theatre.

when you appealed to the government some time ago. We have a Labour member here in the Provincial house and we hope that the movement will spread to other Houses in this country.

Mr. Edgar Worth.

On behalf of the Board of Trade, Mr. Edgar Worth, president, added a cordial welcome and expressed the hope that the work of the convention would be successful.

"I have just heard part of Mr. Lane's remarks and I concur in practically everything he says. There is no doubt that if Labour got together in a sensible way as at these conventions they would bring out ideas that would do good to the community. In regard to strikes if Labour and employers are brought together they will begin to understand one another better. I may say as an employer of 1,000 hands that we haven't had a strike. We have always been able to meet demands in a sensible way and if they were not what just seemed satisfactory we always reached an agreement. I hope you will have a pleasant time in Peterborough and the Board of Trade will be glad to do anything they can."

Mr. John Corwery.

"I have often thought how different is the post office from other departments of the government," said Postmaster Corkery, in expressing his interest in the Letter Carriers. "The post office is surely a democratic and presonal institution. The men are brought in contact with all the citizens, and are usually known personally to them. I have nothing but praise for the letter carriers of Peterborough. The postmaster can't do anything unless he has the loyal support of his staff. No doubt, in your convention you will make suggestions to the government for the improvement of the department, and in that way will benefit the whole community."

George Carter.

Mr. George Carter extended the welcome of the local Letter Carriers. He acknowledged the co-operation of the Board of Trade in completing the arrangements for the entertainment of the delegates.

"There is nothing to grumble at in the condition in Peterborough," said Mr. Carter. "We do the best we can to serve the public and they do their best to help us. A few things crop up but we manage to rub over them."

Welcome Appreciated.

"On behalf of this convention I thank you for coming to the opening," said President Menard. "They seemed glad to see us. We thank the Mayor for giving us the keys of the city. We rather expected a good reception because Peterborough is known all over Canada for its hospitality. Apparently the Letter Carriers of this city are on good terms with the officials with the various organizations, such as the Labour Council and the Board of Trade, and with the citizens generally. That is proof that the citizens appreciate the work of the Letter Carriers and that they are giving good service. Our motto is, "Do you duty so that you give satisfaction to all citizens." The Letter Carriers try to set an example in the way they carry out their duties."

Mr. Robert Reid was given a special round of applause by the delegates. He haid he was gratified with the assistance of those citizens who attended the opening. Everyone who promised to come had kept their word, and had appeared with broad smiles and kind words. Mr. Reid outlined the convention's programme, with special emphasis on Saturday's excursion over the life-lock and to Idyl Wyld.

CLYDESDALE'S INDIAN QUEEN

Clydesdale's "Indian Queen" sign has been treated to a brand new attractive dress "for fall and winter wear," and looks as young and dapper as she did some twenty years ago.

Mr. Clydesdale need have "no kick coming" about the H.C.L., for his well known cigar store queen's wearing apparel. She still wears the same radically modelled garments of her tribe, but transformed in appearance to "a thing of beauty" by Turner's clever sign artist. It's a catchy advertisement of its kind, but it is safe to say that thousands pass it without noticing it the way they would a good ad. in the columns of the Examiner.

NEW LISKEARD TEAM ARE A REAL BALL CLUB

There is no danger of a repetition of the Brighton fiasco in the game arranged by the Petes for Saturday and Monday. The New Liskeard team which plays here on Saturday afternoon will arrive in Peterborough tomorrow, while the Universals will be down from Toronto on Sunday night, ready for their game on Labour Day morning.

These two games should be among the best of the year. "Montie" Montgomery, well-known defence player of the 93rd Battalion hockey team a few seasons ago, whose home is in New Liskeard, and who is here on a visit just now, declares that the New Liskeard aggregation play real ball, and their record shows that he is right, for they have cleaned up the north handsomely. They will give the Petes a battle royal in their Saturday game, which is called for 3 o'clock sharp.

The Universals who visit here Monday were the runners-up to the Classics in the Riverdale League, and they have a sweet ball club, according to all reports from the Queen City.

ANTWERP, Belgium, Aug. 31. — The remainder of the Canadian team leave Antwerp to-morrow for England, and sail from Southampton for Canada on the Scandinavian on September 16. The party will include Merrick, Knox, Wright, the May brothers, Hogarth, Landriault, Everett, Cameron, Phillips and Thompson.

Interviewed to-day, Mr. Merrick declared that Canada has done better at this Olympiad than at any previous one, notwithstanding misfortunes to Cameron, Smoke and Phillips.

The boxers experienced the hardest luck as the result of faulty decisions by the international judges. The crowning performance of the Olympiad, in his opinion, was Earl Thompson's performance over the hurdles.

ANNUAL MEETING OF RE-ORGANIZED PETERBORO ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS ADOPTED—OFFICERS ELECTED—THE MEETING WAS REPRESENTATIVE.

The best representative meeting of sportsmen in the city convened last evening in the Board of Trade Chambers, on the occasion of the first annual meeting of the re-organized Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association, with Dr. A. W. McPherson, acting president, in the chair.

The Chairman gave a short survey of the activities of the association during the past few months, and spoke of the necessity of organizing all sports in the city under one parent organization, so that sports and recreations of all kinds shall receive uniform encouragement in developing the best talent in the city.

With this end in view, the acting executive of the association in numerous previous meetings had thoroughly considered a comprehensive constitution, which with but a few amendments, was passed unanimously by the meeting.

All those interested in sports in the city, will readily recognize the large scope which the association will have to work on, by reading the constitution and by-laws, as shown below.

The Chairman laid particular emphasis upon the development and encouragement of sports and recreation for the working men of the city, and also for the juvenile population, but in no wise would conflict with present existing organizations, but that in some cases would act in an advisory capacity, and also create activities from a central point, which would cover the whole city, irrespective of class or creed.

NEW DUNCAN SERIAL BOOKED AT THE REGENT

To those who like red-blooded tales of the West for their entertainment, the management of the Regent Theatre announces that they have something on tap that will just suit them. It is the coming of William Duncan, the Sandow of the Screen, in a new and high-powered 15 chapter serial, entitled "Smashing Barriers." The first episode, "The Test of Courage," will be shown on Monday, Sept. 6th.

Motion picture devotees, and especially those keen admirers of Duncan, will remember his recent appearance here in "The Man of Might." The coming serial production is said to be even better than that one and the fans are promised a fifteen week trip of adventure and thrills that will make them cry for more.

Besides starring in this production, William Duncan also directed it. A cast of old favourites, Edith Johnson, Joe Ryan and others are in support of him. Cyrus Townsend Brady, famous the world over as an author, wrote the scenario for "Smashing Barriers."

SCOTCH FLAVOUR TO MOFFAT'S NEW PLAY, "DON'T TELL"

"Don't Tell," the new play of Graham Moffat, who also wrote "Bunty Pulls the Strings," has the same genuine artistry, the same thorough workmanship, and the same technical perfection, says the Ottawa Citizen in its review.

It is a Scottish play because it is written by a Scotsman, is played by Scottish players, and is laid in Scotland But to talk of this being a Scottish theatre product is no more true than saying that "Hindle Wakes" is a product of the Manchester theatre. It could be played in any Anglo-Saxon country, in any city, and in any dialect, and not lose its intrinsic merit or human nature. But there are some truly characteristic Scottish aspects to this play. There is the Scottish character, the Scottish habit of mind, and the Scottish humor. All these are finely revealed by the author. There is suspense, surprise and cumulative action right up to the denouement at the end of the last scene.

Space will not permit a recounting of the story of this delightful comedy, save to say that it tells the family life in Glasgow, of a former plumber who has been elevated to the police court bench, whose first case is the trial of his daughter for a suffrage disturbance, of a spoiled son who steals his doting mother's jewels and allows the blame to fall on someone else, of a household of genuine human beings, with fierce puritan beliefs and a code of morals which is as the granite crags of the heather-clad highlands; of, in short, life as it is lived.

There is a large company, and it is made up of 90 per cent. actors. And in this the older members easily take the laurels, perhaps because the play is built that way. Nothing could be more genuinely human than the work of Mr. Mofatt as Bailie Cameron, Mrs. Moffat as Tibbie Tocher, or Margaret Noble as Mrs. Cameron. They fill the parts in every sense of the term. They are the characters, not actors personating them. None the less genuine and painstaking were the performances of Miss Winnifred Moffat as Jessie Bella Cameron, and Eva McRoberts as Mirren Cameron. Both were delightfully human.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF NEW INVENTION

Lorne Hicks, electrical specialist, 206 Dublin street, has been studying alloys and electric welding for several months to effect a successful repair to burned-out elements on electric range hotplates and portable hotplates.

He has made many tests and has discovered a satisfactory method of repair in a few minutes without removing the plate or element in anyway. The new method is a secret, as well as the new alloy in powder form, but a permanent and practical repair is effected, rendering the element again as active as new and good for years.

Eight such repairs has been tried on one element and each repair has proven absolutely satisfactory.

THE CITY WATER NOT IMPROVING

PUMPAGE DURING THE MONTH OF AUGUST—THE TEMPERATURE.

The city water has shown very little change for the better, said Mr. R. L. Dobbin, waterworks superintendant, to The Examiner to-day. For one thing, though he is very grateful, there having been no protracted spell of hot weather this year. If there had been, Mr. Dobbin states, Peterborough would have been faced with a serious problem, greatly endangering the health of the whole city. The city water is now receiving 10 lbs. of chlorine per million gallons.

The Consumption.

During August the average daily pumpage was 3,372,000 gals., 13,000 gals more than in July, when it was 3,359,000. August, 1919, it was 3,183,200.

During July 1,054 lbs. of chlorine was used at the pump-house; during August 1,043.

In August last year it was slightly lower, 65.4, but in July, 1919 the high temperature of 73 was the average. The average temperature of the water was 71 in August, 2 degrees higher than last year.

The total number of samples of water tested at the laboratory during July and August was 121 and 126 respectively. All of the samples from the intake showed pollution during both months and during July about one-third of the samples taken from the city mains. In August this was greatly reduced, only six samples from the city mains showing pollution

Test of Wells.

Tests of wells in the city have shown that there are many in which the water is polluted to a greater extent than is the city water. Many of the city wells nevertheless have excellent water. Mr. Dobbin has tested the spring at Chemong and has found the water to be very pure. This has not been the case with the water at the spring at McCracken's Landing, Stoney Lake. When tested it showed the opposite extreme.

TORONTO MILKMEN MUST NOT INCREASE PRICES.

Board of Commerce Will Hold Sitting on This Question.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 2—Declaring that, in its opinion, practices of the Toronto Milk and Cream Producers' Association are likely to operate to the detriment and against the interest of the public, and constitute a combine, a Board of Commerce order made public to-day demands the appearance of the Association's officers at a sitting of the Board, to be held in Toronto on Thursday next. This order restrains the Association from demanding a higher price than that of August until a new order is issued.

ALLEGED TO HAVE BROUGHT BRIDE ACROSS ATLANTIC, WHILE HAVING WIFE IN CANADA.

LINDSAY, Sept. 1.—Chief Short has received word from Toronto police regarding a young Lindsay citizen who is said to be charged with bigamy. Investigation is being made at the request of the Toronto police.

LOCAL REVIVAL OF RUGBY GAME

FOUR TEAMS MAY BE IN THE RING THIS FALL.

With the tang in the air which has prevailed these last few days has come thoughts of Rugby, and Police Sergeant Deannard is already planning to reorganize the old south-end team, and has hopes of forming a City Rugby League of at least four teams. Three teams are already probable entries, Sergeant Deannard believes, namely, his own team, a bankers' team, and a team from the Collegiate Institute.

Rugby has died slowly during the last few years, but as there are still many of the old players in the city and many potential ones, and a public interest waiting only to be awakened, it is hoped that this autumn may see Rugby back in its former place as the leading autumn sport.

SAYS FAILURE WAS DUE TO LABOUR CONDITIONS.

TORONTO, Sept. 2.—To labour condition and high wages, Mr. Osler Wade, the assignee attributed in large measure the failure of the Dominion Shipbuilding Company. Labour, he said, appeared to have run the company. The men worked a 44-hour week and received double pay for all overtime, and he instanced the case of a carpenter who called for his pay which, in the opinion of the assignee, amounted to a ridiculously high figure. Mr. A. C. McMaster, who represents the creditors, does not expect there will be anything at all for the shareholders unless there is a reorganization of the whole company, whose normal surplus is represented largely by buildings, etc.

BREAD DECLINE IN SEPTEMBER

LOCAL BAKERS SAY THEY ARE STOCKED UP WITH FLOUR.

No definite statement could be obtained from the city bakers as to a possible drop in the price of bread, but none seemed to see any hope for such until at least the end of September.

Mr. H. Stock stated that the drop in flour would effect the price only to the extent of one-third of a cent a loaf. All bakers interviewed stated that they had a considerable amount of flour on hand. They say they kept the price of bread down when the flour price went up until the stock of flour on hand was exhausted, and they should have the right to keep the price of bread up until the present stock, bought at high prices, is used up.

News to City.

"It's news to me," one of the prominent bakers stated when told that C B. Watts, secretary-treasurer of the Dominion Millers' Association, who was a member of the Wheat Board until its ceased to function, had said yesterday that the drop in flour announced by millers in Montreal was equivalent to one cent a loaf on the price of bread. He was much better satisfied with Mr. Stock's estimate of one-third of a cent as a nearer figure.

Cakes Still Up.

No drop has been made in such pastry and cakes as require sugar since the local drop of two cents a pound took effect locally and the bakers refused to anticipate when such a drop would come.

Convention of Municipalities Resolve in This Direction.

(Canadian Press)

TORONTO, Sept. 2.—On behalf of the Canadian Union of Municipalities, of which he is vice-president, Controller J. G. Granmsden welcomed the Ontario Municipal Association delegates, and also as chairman of Toronto's special committee on Bell telephone rates, presented to the committees two resolutions as approved by the Board of Control, and secured their adoption by the convention.

The first of the resolutions called for public ownership of Ontario telephone service and the appointment of a deputation from the Municipal Association to wait on the Ontario Government with that end in view. The other resolution asked the Ontario municipalities and the Government to unite in securing the postponment of the rate increase hearing so as to give time to arrange for an expropriation of the Bell system.

MR. TOOMS BACK FROM TORONTO

HEARD PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION OF VOTING EXPLAINED.

T. Tooms, M.P.P., was in Toronto yesterday to attend the meeting of the committee of members of the Legislature appointed by Premier Drury to investigate the system of proportional representation of voting.

Ronald Hooper, Ottawa, general secretary of the society for furthering the scheme, was present and explained its principles.

The committee decided to meet again on Sepember 20th, and in the meantime, at the Premier's suggestion, the members will study the question. All those having objections to the system may file their objections with the committee, and at the meeting on the 20th all shades of opinion are invited to be present and give their views.

Mr. Hooper, in his address, said the present electoral system contributed so much of the industrial unrest in England to-day. He also said that the single member system of election frequently resulted in disfranchising the minority or when the minority secured representatives it was much less than they were entitled.

MILITARY RECORDS DEPT. CLOSED DOWN

MOST OF WORK OF KINGSTON DISTRICT NOW HANDLED AT OTTAWA.

KINGSTON, Sept. 2.— Yesterday morning the Records Office at the Armouries, where records have been handled for the past four years, was closed, the work being mostly handled direct from Ottawa hereafter, with some local details being handed over to Lt.-Col. B. Brown, D.A.A.

Capt. C. T. Peterson, who for the past year has been Records Officer in the district, yesterday morning relinquished his command, and left in the afternoon for Toronto.

Capt. Peterson is a Cobourg boy, enlisting in 1915 with the 2nd Heavy Battery, Cobourg. He went overseas with that unit, serving with the battery in France. He was in France for two years being invalided home at Christmas, 1916. He later joined the Royal Flying Corps serving for some time in that unit, and afterwards being transferred to the District Depot, on the formation of that branch, becoming adjutant. A year ago he was appointed Records Officer, a position which he has ably filled since his appointment.

For the past three years the entire records of all the soldiers of M. D. No. 3 were handled by the Records Department, entailing an immense amount of work. With the work of handling the records in the after-war period practically completed, the local office is closed and the work divided between Ottawa and the local district headquarters.

SUB-BOAT CREW'S NARROW ESCAPE WHEN VESSEL WAS STRANDED ON OCEAN FLOOR

RESCUE WAS MADE EARLY THIS MORNING—MEN WERE LOCKED IN DISABLED VESSEL FOR TWO DAYS.

THRILLING SEA STORY

(Canadian Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3.—Radio messages from the transport Gen. Goethails to the navy yard here, told of the rescue early to-day of officers and crew of the United States' submarine S5, after they had spent nearly two days locked in the disabled vessel beneath the Atlantic ocean, fifty-five miles south of Cape Henlopen.

It was after three this morning that Lieut.-Commander Cooke, the last man to leave, was taken aboard the steamship "Atlantus." Nine hours had elapsed since the plight of the underseas boat had been made public through a wireless call picked up by an amateur operator at Farmington, Conn.

Raced to the Rescue.

The submarine was kept barely on the ocean's surface last night by a precarious hold secured on her stern by the General Goethels, while a dozen vessels of the navy were racing to her assistance from various points.

Pumping Air to Crew.

With her crew of four officers and 26 men the S-5 had been submerged for thirty-six hours, but through a hole cut in her stern by the crew of the General Goethals enough air was pumped to keep the men alive until naval equipment rushed on the fastest vessels available could get there to complete here rescuei

Telephoned For Help.

A telephone buoy, tossing on the waves in the General Goethal's path, revealed the plight of the submarine's submerged officers and crew.

The bell on thei buoy was ringing, and a small boat was immediately lowered from the General Goethails. The boat reached the buoy, cut in on the telephone apparatus on it, and then from the depths of the seas came this message:

"The submarine S-5 has been submerged for 35 hours. Air is running short. Machinery damaged. Send for help."

The General Goethails immediately sent out radio messages telling of the plight of the submarine, and then stood by to render whatever aid was possible, keeping in communication with the submerged vessel by means of the telephone on the buoy.

Picked Up Message.

An amateur operator at Farmington, Conn., picked up the message and sent it broadcast over land and sea. Later Philadelphia reported thati air was being pumped down to the submerged men by the crew of the Geineral Goethal, who waited for the navy eo send ships with the necessary apparatus for cutting into the submarine's steel hull and thus release its crew.

How the S-5 became disabled had not been revealed last night. It is presumed that her machinery for changing the air became damaged in the accident that caused her to sink, as under ordinary cirmcustances, if the machinery is working properly a vessel of the type of the S-5 can stand under water for seveiral days without injury to her crew. When discovered the submarine was in shallow water with her stern just above the surface.

Got There at Daybreak.

PHIADELPHIA, Sept. 3. — The United States destroyeir Overton, equipped with apparatus to meet any emergency, sailed from the Navy Yard here last night to the rescue of the siubmarine S-5, 55 miles southeast of Cape Henlopen. All speed was made down the Delaware River and she reached the submerged vessel at daybreak this morning.

On Maiden Voyage.

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—The submarine S-5, left the navy yard here on Monday for Baltimore, carrying thirty-five men and two officers. She was recently commissioned, and it is understood that this was her maiden trip. She was built at the Fore River yards of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation at Quincy, and is of the latest type.

PROJECT IS ABANDONED.

The International Paper Company will not carry out its plans to perfect a pulpwood terminal at Cape Vincent, N.Y., ths season. Owing to the shortage of material and building difficulties little has been accomplished in the work begun there. Last spring the company purchased the old terminal property owned by B. L. Taylor and others and announced that a wood handling terminal would be built. Large conveyors for unloading boats and for placing the wood on freight cars were to be built. Sufficient storage would be provided to permit accumulation of wood in summer, during the season of navigation, to last through the winter period.

RECORD FLIGHT IS RECORDED IN OTTAWA

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 3. — Flying from Ottawa to Camp Borden, about three hundred miles, with two passengers, Captain G. O. Johnson, of the Canadian Air Force, set what is probably a record in Canada, in two and a half hours. The journey from Camp Borden to Ottawa took half an hour longer.

Capt. Johnson was accompanied by Col. Scott, Director of Civilian Flying.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—MacSweney, Lord Mayor of Cork, was reported this morning to be sinking rapidly and to be very much weaker. This statement of his condition was made by Sean MacSweney, his brother, after he left the prison this forenoon.

Father Dominic, private chaplain to the Lord Mayor, celebrated special mass in prison this morning.

A report made on Mayor MacSweney's condition shortly after noon said he was rapidly approaching unconsciousness. He was too weak during the morning to carry on conversation, it was said.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—An appeal to Premier Lloyd-George at Lucerne (Switzerland) for the release from prison of Lord Mayor MacSweney of Cork, was cabled by Mayor Hylan to-day.

SOLDIERS' INSURANCE ACT IS NOW IN FORCE

MAY BE INSURED WITHOUT MEDICAL EXAMINATION UP TO $5,000.

Under the Returned Soldier's Insurance Act, passed at the last session of Parliament, any person who became a member of the Canadian forces in the war, whether naval, military or air forces, may be insured by the Dominion of Canada without medical examination for an amount varying from $500.00 to $5,000, provided that at the date of application for the policy he is domiciled and resident in Canada. Persons who served in the forces of allied or associated powers and now domiciled and resident in Canada are also eligible for the insurance.

The widow of a returned soldier who became a widow by the death of her husband, after retirement or discharge from service, is also eligible as well as the widow of a returned soldier dying before Sept. 1st, 1920.

The insurance money is payable only in the event of death or on the occurence of total and permanent disability. Endowment insurance is not issued.

The cash payment on the death of the insured may not exceed one-fifth the amount of the insurance. The remainder is converted into an annuity to the beneficiary. Various options are given in the choice of this annuity. It may be an annuity certain covering a period of five, ten, fifteen or twent years, or guaranteed for such a term but applicable thereafter as long as the beneficiary may live, or it may be an annuity for life.

This scheme is intended to be supplementary to the Pension Act and if on the death of insured a pension becomes payable to dependents, the present value of such pension will be deducted from the amount of the insurance, and the proportions of the premium paid, represented by the amount of the said deduction, will be returned to the beneficiaries with interest of four per cent. per annum.

This Act came into force Sept. 1st, and applications will be received for two years following that date, and must be made direct to the Board of Pension Commissioners, Transportation Buildings, Ottawa. For the necessary application forms and further information apply to S. Whatley, secretary local branch G.W.V.A.

A NEW SOVIET DELEGATION WILL BE NAMED TO CARRY ON PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

(Canadian Press.)

WARSAW, Sept. 3.—M. Danisheviki has resigned as head of the Russian delegation negotiating the armistice with the Poles and has been replaced by Adolph Joffe, former Soviet ambassador to Germany, according to Moscow advices. Danisheviki resigned because the Soviet government agreed to carry on further negotiations with Poland at Riga. The personnel of the new Soviet delegation is not at present known, but will be communicated to the Polish officials later.

REPLIES TO DESPATCH.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Arthur J. Balfour ,Lord President of the Council, yesterday replied to a despatch from M. Tchitcherin, Russian Bolshevik minister sent on August 26th. Mr. Balfour expresses gratification that the Soviet government renounced its demands for a workers' militia, but declares that Tchitcherin is mistaken in supposing that the British government recognized that the reduction of the Polish army to fifty thousand men would be just peace terms. What the British government said was that Great Britain would not consider it sufficient grounds for active intervention.

CASES REMANDED POLICE COURT

CROWN ATTORNEY HATTON RECEIVED A REBUKE.

When Crown Attorney G. W. Hatton hopped out of a taxi into Police Court this morning twenty minutes late, he received a rebuke from Magistrate Dumble, who was slightly annoyed at the delay to the wheels of justice.

The Crown Attorney blamed the telephone service, and laughingly suggested that His Worship fine the company.

Jennie Rigthmeyer's case came up again to-day, but she was remanded till Monday, the 13th, on the Crown Attorney's request. Theft of a $100 Victory Bond from the complainant, Mary Jane Leal, in July, is the charge against the young woman. C. A. Payne, attorney of Belleville, appeared for the accused.

Mr. Hatton asked for the remand to enable a material witness to be present. "There is something very peculiar about this, and we'd like to get at the bottom of it, for the young woman's sake."

Carried a Pistol.

Carrying a pistol on his drive into the north country with Middleton and Robinson's horses formed the basis for another charge against Edgar Wilson, the 21-year-old Picton lad.

Wilson pleaded guilty to having the gun. Wilson's father's presence is desired on the scene, and the case was enlarged till Monday to enable him to be here.

Frontier Uprising

TRIBES IN INDIA CREATE DANGEROUS SITUATION—LEADERS ARRESTED.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Sept. 3.— An official communication from Simla, British India, announces virulent anti-British propaganda among the frontier tribes in the Manshara region, where an attempt has been made to organize a provisional government to supercede the British administration. The British Commissioner hurried from Pessawara and arrested the ring leaders. Armed crowds assembled and demanded the liberation of the men under arrest .Eventually they were persuaded to retire though at one time the situation looked dangerous. Reinforcement troops have been sent into the district as there have been attacks on their posts and unrest continues.

WILL FEED SUNFLOWERS TO STOCK THIS WINTER

CECIL STARK, OF INDIAN RIVER, HAS FAITH IN NEW FOOD.

Cecil Stark, a farmer living near Indian River, intends feeding his cattle a new fodder this winter. The food in question is sunflowers, long associated with chickens and flower gardens. But Mr. Stark, according to farmers in the vicinity, declares that sunflowers are a capital feed, the possibilities of which as a winter fattener he is going to determine this year.

With this end in view, Mr. Stark last spring planted a large field of corn and sunflowers, mixing the seed well. The result to-day is several acres of waving green corn, with the yellow heads of the sunflowers sticking up through the green in all parts of the field.

The two crops have thrived well together, and both to-day stand five or six feet. No little interest has been aroused amongst the farmers in the district by Mr. Stark's venture, and many scoff at his sunflower scheme, declaring that the cattle will never touch the hard stocks, even if they are ground up and mixed with the sweet and juicy corn. The grower stands by his contention, nevertheless.

MANY FARMERS ARE FACING WATER FAMINE

WELLS ARE DRY AND WATER HAS TO BE DRAWN FROM DISTANCE.

Many farmers in this county are facing a serious situation due to the scarcity of water. Innumerable wells are partly dry and many totally so and in the midst of the harvest and threshing those whose wells are in this unfortunate condition have to draw their water from a neighbor or if they live near a river or lake they get it from this abundant source.

While there have been considerable light showers they have not been heavy enough to penetrate the ground to any distance, and the farmers wells have never been replenished to any extent all summer.

On farms where there is much stock the owner has good cause to pray for abundant rains. Creeks and rivulets that in former years carried plenty of water have dried up completely this season—and now the wells have failed them.

The condition is not confined to only one section of the country, for around Peterboro it seems to be general.

TYPOS WITHDRAW FROM TRADES LABOR COUNCIL

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 2.—At an adjourned meeting of Typographical Union No. 416, held on Tuesday evening, among other questions considered was the Union's affiliation with the Trades and Labor Council. Questions relative to the Labor Day demonstration and the completion of arrangements by a committee of the Trades Council in the matter of printed material in connection with the day, took up considerable time and resulted in a motion to withdraw support to the parent trades organization. This conclusion was arrived at after a thorough and comprehensive investigation had been made as to the disposition of the contracts relative to publicity, which Typographical Union No. 416 felt had not been made in the best interests of Trades Unionism.

LABOUR PARADE AT BELLEVILLE.

If all plans carry, there will be a big labour parade on Labour Day in Belleville. It is anticipated that the various unions in the city will take part in the event. Ald. Charles Hanna is in charge of the affair and states that there is enthusiasm among the unions over the scheme.

DISMISSAL OF FIREMEN IS CONFIRMED BY COMMITTEE IN REPORT TO COUNCIL

BELIEVES DRILL ON THE STREETS IS VERY NECESSARY

"If they had a little more of that it would do them good," remarked one citizen this morning, as the Fire Department journeyed to the Auburn to put out a grass fire. "The time to drill the men is when there are no fires," he added.

"Don't you know the absence of drill on the streets has been attributed by Chief Grange to the increasing traffic?"

"Yes I do, but that does not coincide with the experience of the heads of the Toronto Fire Department, who say, 'The more traffic the more need for drill on the streets.' Drill on crowded streets serves a twofold purpose; it educates the public to keep out of the way and also trains the firemen along similar lines."

SUMMING UP OF EVIDENCE AT MONDAY'S INVESTIGATION INTO FIRE HALL CONDITIONS—WOULD HOLD CHIEF RESPONSIBLE FOR EFFICIENCY OF BRIGADE AND GIVE HIM OPPORTUNITY TO MAKE GOOD—CHANGES AND IMPROVEMENTS—COMMITTEE DECIDED 3 TO 2.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee of the Council begs leave to report and recommends as follows:

1. That in respect to the charge in connection with the Metal Products fire, that the ladder was broken, was because it was badly worn, and not through any fault of the Chief or his officers.

2. That in the Bell apartment fire, the hydrants were frozen, and caused delay. That these were under the charge and inspection of the Peterborough Utilities Commission, and the freezing up and delay caused thereby was not through any inefficiency on the part of the fire brigade or the officers. The Chief was justified in his efforts to safeguard the lives of his firemen by not placing them upon the burning roof.

3. In respect to the Neill store fire, an automobile under instructions to draw two lines, was hitched by mistake to three, and drew the third line from the hands of the firemen stationed at the rear of Drummond's store. This was caused by the error of the persons who hitched the lines, and cannot be ascribed to any neglect of the Chief.

4. In regard to the Peterborough Canoe Company fire, no inefficiency was shown to have existed here. Fireman Lebar, in charge of a horse, did not exercise care in having his horse brought out, which got away from him through his own carelessness, as he had only one horse to bring from the stables.

5. The general efficiency of the horses should be improved, as on account of the motor apparatus being so much used, the new horses do not seem to be sufficiently trained and should receive continuous training which would be sufficient for them to run under their collars when the fire signals sound.

6. Drills should take place in the early morning and if there is not room in the yard for this, upon such highways or in such parks as the Chief may select. These drills should suit the requirements of the men, considering their age and the work that they have to do, and should periodically take place in the fire hall or on its grounds.

7. More land is needed in proximity to the fire hall, for extended drills, and a tower should be constructed to improve the efficiency of the firemen.

8. In regard to the men fighting at the pole hole, the Assistant Chief apologized, and his apology was accepted, but we feel that the Chief should have imposed some penalty for this breach of discipline, as well as in the case of the quarrel about three years ago.

9. Regarding the taking off of equipment from the rigs by those who were assisting at fires, this has not been a serious matter s this equipment was used by those who gave assistance at fires until the men of the off-platoon arriveed. This does not seem to have led to confusion, but in a few cases to inconvenience, and it is questionable whether this can be remedied any more than the Chief has attempted to remedy it.

10. Regarding the reducing of Lieutenant Deegan to the ranks and appointing Lieutenant Jones to his place, it appears that Fireman Deegan was appointed Lieutenant provisionally, and that the Chief saw fit to exercise his discretion in appointing Lieutenant Jones, who has had a great many years experience in England and Peterborough on fire brigades.

11. In connection with the Canadian General Electric fire, the reason the water was cut off was to prevent the varnish, which was in flames, spreading over the building, and this action was proper on the part of the Chief.

12. In the Lock Works fire, Fanning's Laundry fire, and the Picture Framery fire, no inefficiency seems to have existed. What some of the dismissed firemen complained about was simply a matter of what course should be adopted, and the choice of one course or another was taken by the Chief, which seeems to have been the proper course.

13. In regard to the car being sent to Young's Point for a scuffler, one of the men complaining of this was the man who suggested this to the Chief, and the Chief notified the chairman of the committee and received his assent to the men going to Young's Point for the scuffler to use in the garden.

14. The Chief also had the consent of the committee to do some work in his garden lot on the border of the city.

15. It would appear that a good deal of the bickering that has taken place has been caused by the great amount of time on the hands of the men in charge, while they were waiting for fires; and to correct this we would suggest that more time should be spent in drills, and that a small library should be placed in the building, containing works relating to drills, fire fighting and simiar subjects, which would be of assistance to the men.

16. The bylaw should be amended permitting the Chief to replace those men he thinks should be replaced from time to time; and the Chief should give a report for each monthly meeting of the council, of the men either resigning or dismissed, and those who replaced them, showing their experience and qualifications, and the report should also show the number of drills, and the date and duration, for each month, and a general report of the operation of the fire department, including the number of fires, losses and the manner of dealing with them.

17. That the Chief's dismissal of Firemen Menzies, Lebar and Copperthwaite be confirmed for it is to him we look for the efficiency of the Department, and upon him lies the responsibility.

REPORT PASSES COMMITTEE.

Division a Tie —Chairman Voted in the Affirmative.

The foregoing is a report on the Fire, Water and Light committee's investigation into conditions at the fire hall, submitted to the committee last night by Ald. Frank Whitehouse.

Ald. Whitehouse had with him a copy of the evidence taken Monday night, upon which after careful consideration, this report, which he contended to be fair and square to all concerned, and covering the whole ground, had been made. There is no doubt, he said, the firemen had too much time on their hands, causing considerable talk. It is also essential, he urged, that fire drills be maintained to keep the men up to a condition of approved efficiency.

Ald. Whitehouse and Jones here moved that this report be adopted and sent to the Council as the committee's recommendation for action. Also that a by-law be prepared to allow of the changes suggested.

The division on this resolution resulted in a tie vote as follows:

For—Ald. Whitehouse and Jones.

Against — Ald. Crowe and the Mayor.

The decision was here up to Chairman Ald. Morrison, who voted yea, and the resolution carried.

Both his Worship and Ald. Crowe were firm for an investigation by an independent authority on fire brigade matters, as favored by the Trades Council at their meeting Wednesday night.

The committee present last night were chairman Ald. Morrison, Mayor A. A. McIntyre, Aldermen Whitehouse, Jones and Crowe. Ald. Gordon and Phelan were also here, while Ald. Gainey dropped in after a decision had been reached.

A Correction.

Alderman Gordon at the opening of the meeting corrected a report appearing in the Examiner of the committee when it heard the firemens' statements.

Alderman Gordon said he was reported as saying, respecting Lieutenant Jones, that he was "neither" honest or modest, and Mr. Gordon said that his remarks were to Firema.. Lebarr, that Lieutenant Jones must have been "either" honest or modest. Alderman Gordon further said that his opinion of Lieutenant Jones was, that with his nine years' experience on the London Fire Brigade and his long experience in Peterborough, he considered him a first class officer.

The Discussion.

The meeting last evening did not last more than an hour, and the discussion was brief. By a majority vote of one the Fire, Water and Light committee confirms Chief Grange's dismissal of Firemen Menzie, Lebarr and Copperthwaite, and would invest the Fire Chief with full powers for dismissal and engagement of men, holding him responsible for the brigade's efficiency. But before the above recommendation to this effect becomes effective Council must pass on same at their regular meeting Tuesday night next.

Ald. Morrison, talking to the report's reference to the lack of general efficiency in the horses, pointed out that some of the animals are yet new to their requirements.

Finding Fault.

Ald. Crowe said officers and men in the brigade are finding fault with conditions at the fire station. Capt. McDonald admits that things are run loosely. In the face of such complaints as submitted at Monday's meeting he thought a thorough investigation independent of the Council was called for.

It was here pointed out that Capt. McDonald had asserted conditions could be altered without an investigation.

A COMMON COUNCIL.

A Scheme Proposed by Lord Burnham in Edmonton Speech.

(Canadian Press).

EDMONTON, Alta., Sept. 2.—The creation of a Common Council visiting in London on which Dominions would be represented by resident ministers for the purpose of taking their proper place in Imperial affairs was advocated by Lord Burnham, speaking at a banquet given to the Imperial Press Conference delegates by the Government of Alberta here last night. What the speaker's aid was almost in the nature of a forecast, for he remarked that he hoped to see such a council established within a year. He places stress upon the necessity and rights of a Dominion for expressing in Imperial affairs, and said that it was not enough that they should have had during the war an Imperial Cabinet. That was purely a war measure.

ANOTHER SORDID MURDER ENACTED

WIFE AND TWO OTHERS CHARGED WITH SLAYING G. N. NOTT.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 2.—Police and fire department searchers found the body of George N. Nott in a swamp at Short Hill, Trumbull, following admission made upon examination at police headquarters of Mrs. Nott, Elwood B. Wade, and John Johnston, of a murder at the Nott home on Sunday morning. The three are held by the police, Mrs. Nott and Johnson accusing Wade of the slaying, while Wade charges Mrs. Nott with shooting her husband.

According to charges of the police Wade, who admits having intimate relations with Mrs. Nott, removed Nott's body from the Nott home in a trunk on Sunday night. Mrs. Nott has alleged, according to the police, that Nott beat her. With serious injuries, said to be inflicted by her husband, Mrs. Nott is under treatment at the Bridgeport Hospital under police guard last night.

Mrs. Nott is 28 years of age and her maiden name was Ethel Hutchinson. She formerly lived in Chelsea, Mass., coming to Bridgeport two years ago.

Nott and a friend, Daniel Ferguson, had been spying upon Wade and Mrs. Nott for several weeks, it was understood. Nott, who posed as a broker, came home at four o'clock every morning. On Sunday morning he was accompanied by Ferguson. As they parted at Nott's door, Ferguson arranged with Nott to meet him at one o'clock that afternoon.

According to the story told to the police, Wade, who is a milk dealer, and Johnson, his helper, entered the Nott home at about 7.45 on Sunday morning by a rear entrance. Thirty minutes later, acording to neighbours, four shots were heard. No one investigated until a child from a neighbouring house informed Ferguson at 11 o'clock that she suspected some trouble in the Nott home.

Ferguson went to the Nott house, and was admitted by Mrs. Nott. Mrs. Nott accompanied him through the flat. He found nothing. Nott had disappeared, and Wade was not about the house. Ferguson left, failing to look into the attic room, now admitted to be the scene of the murder and the probable hiding place of Wade and the trunk with its gruesome contents, while Ferguson was searching the house.

At three o'clock that afternoon, Wade left the house by the rear entrance, witnesses say, hurrying away from the Nott home. At 10.30 o'clock last night Wade, it is charged, drove up to the house with a truck and removed the trunk to the swamp.

The police started an investigation after hearing the story of neighbours regarding the removal of the trunk. The trunk was found in an east side house last night late this afternoon, empty, although Mrs. Nott had previously told the police that her clothes were in it, and that she had sent the trunk by express to her mother's home in Chelsea, Mass.

Mrs. Nott Wade and Johnson are charged with breach of the peace, and are held without bond.

HERE'S a timely suggestion for your vacation kit.

Put in an Ingersoll Maple Leaf with a Radiolite dial—the face that lights up in the dark.

The cost will be $4.00, and for that you'll have a hardy, handy, husky watch, built to keep going wherever you're going; to stand any rough stuff you can stand, to give you faithful record of the time of day and time o' night.

Thus you can give your expensive watch a vacation in a nice comfortable strong box, knowing that the Maple Leaf will tell just as good time and bear hardships much more cheerfully.

Then if you lose the Maple Leaf Radiolite—you should worry, when you realize you've only lost $4.00. Suppose it had been your high priced watch!

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 3RD, 1920.

THE LETTER CARRIERS.

The warm welcome extended from the City Council, Board of Trade and Trades and Labour Council to the delegates assembled here for the convention of the Federated Letter Carriers of Canada is, the Examiner is confident, echoed by Peterborough citizens generally. They recognize the convention as a most representative gathering of workers who come from every part of the Dominion and they are interested in the deliberations of the delegates and anxious to see that they carry away pleasant recollections of Peterborough. There is an especially cordial feeling towards the visitors perhaps because of the very fine body of letter carriers associated with the local post office who give the people of Peterborough fine service and are invariably genial and courteous in their treatment of the public. Postmaster Corkery's tribute to his staff at the opening of the convention yesterday will be endorsed by all classes of citizens. And so because the local letter carriers have paved the way by the manner in which they carry out their duties and because the delegates themselves have by their appearance and conduct while here created a very favourable impression, the Examiner can assure the visitors that Peterborough is glad to have them here and wants them to thoroughly enjoy their visit.

SAFETY FIRST.

Referring to the article on motor accidents which appeared in these columns last evening a reader complains that the editorial was a tacit invitation to motorists to run amuck on the streets. He has undoubtedly read into the article a meaning that was entirely foreign to the spirit in which in was published. In pointing out that many pedestrians assisted in bringing about accidents by their own carelessness the Examiner had no intention of condoning the recklessness with which far too many of our car owners operate their machines. It is a fact that is beyond dispute that the speed limit is trifled with by many motorists, that they are careless as regards traffic regulations, fail to take proper precautions at street intersections, ignore the regulations in regard to passing standing street cars and in general act as if there were no pleasure in motoring unless their own lives or those of others were placed in jeopardy. Of this class of car owner there can be nothing said in the way of criticism that would be too severe. But there are fortunately many other car owners who exercise every care possible to avert accidents and to protect the public and it was with them in mind that the Examiner pointed out that pedestrians have a responsibility too in helping to make the streets safe. In these days of heavy motor traffic the roadway is not a safe playground for children nor is it advisable for anyone to indulge in the habit of cutting across the street at random.

THE LAURIER MONUMENT.

Many Peterborough people, no matter what their political opinions may be, will doubtless be glad to assist in the movement to erect a monument to the memory of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, one of the greatest figures in Canadian history. The fund for this purpose, which is being raised throughout the Dominion has been enthusiastically entered into everywhere, the response to the appeal having been spontaneous and general. The committee in charge desire to have as many Canadians as possible participate in the securing of the Laurier monument and accordingly no large amounts have been solicited nor will they be accepted. On the contrary it is stipulated that individual subscriptions must not exceed five dollars, the object of the committee being to have people in all parts of Canada co-operate in the movement rather than to have the funds assured by a few wealthy admirers of the famous statesman. It is important, therefore, to remember that no subscriptions above the value of five dollars will be received. The Examiner will be glad to receive donations or they may be sent directly to the Honourary Treasurer of the Fund, Mr. P. C. Larkin, 459-463 King street west, Toronto.

QUEBEC AS AN ECONOMIC UNIT.

From time to time there springs up in Canada that desire, which no doubt exists in all countries where the population is diversified in race, language and religion, to bring about greater uniformity in the laws and customs. Unification removes one of the greatest problems of statecraft, but the wiping out of these divisions seems only to intensify the economic struggle between industrial groups, which has become in recent years one of the critical problems of government. France is recognized as being a nation in fact as well as in name, where the people are of one race and religion, and have uniform customs and aspirations, and yet it is not likely that any French statesman would admit that government is easier there than elsewhere. Certainly it does not appear to be conspicuously successful. In Canada, on the other hand, the differences in racial and other differences temper industrial disputes, and in some degree modify those economic lines along which political parties at the present time are so prone to organize.

The fathers of confederation were sufficiently broad visioned to recognize that racial and religious differences were forces to be reckoned with in Canada, whether for good or for ill. Quebec province would, in fact, never have entered confederation had not provincial autonomy in certain fileds been assured. One of these fiedds was education, and no subject has occasioned more dispute than has this one. Quebec is sometimes accused of lagging behind in educational matters, and of using the school system to foster a viewpoint not in the best interest of the Dominion as a whole.

This viewpoint comes to the surface from time to time, and is unfortunately made use of in some quarters to maintain ill-will between French and English Canada. It was not openly referred to at the National Conference on Character Education in Relation to Canadian Citizenship, held in Winnipeg last October, but it is a notable fact that not a French Canadian name is to be found among those constituting the executive committee. In opening the second session of the conference on October 20th, the chairman, Hon. Dr. Thornton, who is minister of education in Manitoba, said: "This conference comes at a psychological moment. As we address ourselves to the problems of peace this national consciousness may be emphasized and directed to educational matters. No single factor is destined to affect national thought so much as our common schools. Let us think and speak of Canadian schools. In Manitoba let us speak and think not of Manitoba schools, but of Canadian schools in Manitoba. In Ontario, of Canadian schools in Ontario. In Quebec, of Canadian schools in Quebec, and so of the other provinces." Mr. Thornton was speaking in a broad way and was not discussing concrete problems of school administration, but his remark was not in accordance with a liberal minded policy which has been found to be the most successful and the most desirable for this country.

Professor Carrie Derick, of Montreal, vice-president of the National Council of Women, was not entirely consistent. She remarked at one point: "I look forward to compulsory education throughout the Dominion on a much higher standard than anything we have now; I shall never be satisfied until every boy and girl in Canada is going to school until 18 years of age." Later, she said, in referring to the work of the school in moulding character, "This character does not need to be the same; the methods do not need to be same; the teachers do not need to be the same; th greater diversity the greater richness in our life. Diversity does not make for disintegration. Diversity, combined with tolerance, is the one best rule for liberty and unity.—Monetary Times.

PROHIBITION FIGHT OPENS IN SCOTLAND

Americans, Including Johnson, to Participate in Campaign for Preliminary Poll.

LONDON.—American prohibition orators and "Pussyfoot" Johnson himself will play a prominent part in the great fight which begins to-morrow to make Scotland dry on the installment plan.

Under an act of Parliament passed some years ago, the vote may be taken this year in local ares to decide whether there is to be any interference with the liquor trade. Each district can make one of three choices. It can go absolutely dry, it can decree a reduction in the number of licenses, or it can stay as it is.

Before voting on these alternatives takes ploce, however, 10 per cent. of the citizens must declare in favor of a poll, and the preliminary contest, which begins to-morrow and continues until Sept. 30, is concerned with obtaining this necessary number of signatures. There is no doubt that in many areas they will be forthcoming, and dry advocates believe they will also succeed in making a number of districts absolutely arid. Brewers and distillers, howeves, are putting up a strong fight to have trained a corps of ex-officers in the art of public speaking and answering objectors, so as to be able to offset the prohibitionists' attack.

OTTAWA TURNS DOWN PLANS FOR HOUSING

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—Questions of outstanding importance coming within the purview of the Board of Control, which had been hanging fire for some time, were finally settled Tuesday afternoon. At the conclusion of a brief private session following the regular meeting, Mayor Fisher announced that the Board would make no recommendations to the city council on the question of issuing debentures to the amount of $200,000 to provide loans for housing purposes. This situation virtually means that the city will take no action whatever this year on the housing problem, and that the plans of several prospective home-builders, based on the hope of a loan from the city, will receive a serious set-back for some months to come. Outside of saying that the Board had valid reasons for not making a recommendation, the Mayor would make no further statement. The next move in the housing situation will likely be initiated in the city council. It is rumored that some aldermen are prepared to suggest a plebiscite on the question of civic loans for housing purposes at the time of the municipal elections next January.

ASKS CANADA NOT TO MAKE WAR ON RUSSIA

Aliens have Idea that Dominion is Near Hostilities.

OTTAWA, September 2. — For some time past the government has been bombarded with demands from Mennonite, Ukranian and other foreign communities that Canada should refrain from going to war with Russia. Apparently the idea has gone abroad amongst these people that the Dominion is on the verge of hostilities with Russia owing to the Polish situation.

In all instances assurance has been given that there is no present danger of the Dominion becoming seriously involved in another war.

SUGAR DROPS TO 15 CENTS.

"Tablets" Featured by One Store—Granulated 17 to 21 Cents.

NEW YORK.—Sugar was offered here at 15 cents a pound by one of the chain stores. It was not granulated but "tablet" sugar. This is the lowest price at which sugar of any kind has been offered in many months. Granulated sugar continues to sell from 17 to 21 cents in most of the stores, 19 cents perhaps being the most common price.

John B. Floyd, sugar statistician of the Flying Squadron of the Department of Justice, is expected to return from Washington, where he has been for the last few days conferring with official there, presumably in regard to the sugar situation, it was said at the squadron office.

The Presbyterian Sunday School will hold their annual pic-nic in Mr. Tucker's grove on Friday afternoon.

Missionary Sermon.

Mr. Vose preached a missionary sermon on Sunday morning in the Baptist Church. A special collection for foreign missions was taken up. A duet was sung by Messrs. Percy and Harold Kidd. The services were well attended.

Both services in the Presbyterian Church were well attended, as was also the Sunday School. Rev. Graham's subject in the morning was "The World in Christ," and in the evening "The Entry Into Life."

There were the regular morning Sunday School service and evening preaching service, conducted by Rev. John Knox, in the Methodist Church

Harvesting Over.

The summer harvest is pretty well under way. Many farmers have all grain in and most are satisfied with the crops. If the frost holds off now for buckwheat and corn, all that will be well. There was a little frost in some places on Sunday night, but not enough to do any injury here.

Several farmers, who had their own grain in, helped their neighbors draw in on Saturday.

FAVOURS UNIFORM DIVORCE LAWS

DOMINION BAR ASSOCIATION MAY SO RECOMMEND AT COMING MEETING.

According to a prominent London barrister the Dominion Bar Association of Canada, which meets in September, will consider a recommendation to be forwarded to Parliament urging uniform divorce laws for Ontario. The Ontario Bar Association has already favorably considered this proposal, and sent out circulars to all county associations asking them to bring the matter up.

The Middlesex Bar Association has recommended uniform divorce laws similar to those in force in the western provinces, whereby the workingman is not denied divorce privileges accorded the rich, and lack of funds is no barrier to divorce.

"Why should an Ontario citizen be compelled to give up his business in the province and take up residence in the west in order that he may secure a divorce," said the lawyer. "We are losing fine young people of both sexes this way, and many of them go to the United States to obtain a legitimate divorce, where they remain permanently, to the loss of Ontario."

A. O'LEARY, NATIVE OF LINDSAY, KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Arthur P. O'Leary, a native of Rochester, N.Y., and nephew of Judge O'Leary, of Port Arthur, met his death in an auto accident Thursday last near Dunnville, Ont.

The late Mr. O'Leary was chief of the Bureau of Accounts and Records of the Department of Public Works, Rochester, and one of the best known and best liked city employees.

The accident that resulted in the death of Mr. O'Leary was caused when a rear wheel of a large touring car, owned by Beekman C. Little, superintendent of the Rochester Waterworks Bureau, came off and allowed the car to overturn. Mr. O'Leary was pinned underneath the automobile, his body crushed and internal and cerebral hemorrhages caused death.

The party of which Mr. O'Leary was a member was on its way for a fishing trip. In the car besides Mr. O'Leary and Mr. Little were L. S. Barnard, Buffalo, agent for the Hershey Water Meter Company, and well known in Rochester; C. R. Wood, of Philadelphia, head of a large cast iron pipe company, and E. C. Andrews, of Buffalo, Water Commissioner of that city.

Arthur O'Leary was born in Lindsay, Ontario, Canada, on June 13, 1876, and received his early schooling in that town. His father, an attorney, died when he was very young, and Arthur went to Rochester with his mother, his three sisters and a younger brother to live with his uncle, John C. O'Brien, at 1159 Lake avenue. When he was about 15 years old he started to work to support his mother, and through his own efforts became an expert accountant and practical engineer. His mother died several years ago.

For nearly 30 years, Mr. O'Leary has been employed in the Department of Public Works, receiving his original appointment as clerk in the street bureau from the old County Executive Board in 1893. In 1902 he was made book-keeper in the Department of Public Works and served in that capacity to February, 1919, when he was made chief of the division of accounts and records. He was married eight years ago to Jane Moriarty Field, of Clyde, and since then has made his home at 364 Seneca Parkway. His younger brother, Gerald, died fifteen years ago.

OLD PIONEER DEAD.

(Canadian Press).

VICTORIA, B. C. — Hon. John Sebastian Helmoken, aged 97, one of the oldest pioneers of Vancouver Island, and of British Columbia, died here yesterday. He arrived on this coast with eighty other pioneers in March, 1850. Five years later he was elected to the first Assembly of Vancouver Island, and was chosen speaker. He held that position for a number of years, and was a member of the Executive Council from 1864 to 1871. In a later year he was chosen a delegate to Canada from British Columbia to negotiate the terms of the union.

OTTAWA MUSICIANS PARLEY WITH MANAGERS

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—"Ottawa musicians will not go on strike till the end of the present week, at least," was the statement last evening of a prominent member of the local musicians' organization. "Negotiations have been re-opened with managers of the theatres in Ottawa, and the question of going on strike has been held in abeyance until the end of the week."

This announcement, following the declaration of the theatre managers yesterday that they were not prepared to recede from the stand which they had taken, and that they had made a final offer to the musicians, is believed to point to an amicable settlement of the difficulty, and hopes were held out last evening that none of the theatres in the city would be forced to adopt phonographs and sound amplifiers; as a solution of their problem.

The truce will be observed until Saturday, and, in the meantime, both musicians and theatre managers are optimistic over the possibility of a final settlement which will be mutually satisfactory.

SAYS HIGHER EXPRESS RATES ARE JUSTIFIED.

Should Have Been in Force Long Ago, is Argument.

(Canadian Press).

TORONTO, Sept. 2.—That the application of express companies for a forty per cent. increase in rates is amply justified and should have been in force long ago, was the argument advanced on behalf of the companies before the Railway Board this morning.

T. E. McDonald, general manager of the Dominion Express Co., was called to prove that had a previous application been granted in full, the company's earnings would have been increased nearly a million dollars, and a deficit would mave been averted. Figures he produced, however, were only for a seven months' period, and he admitted that this increase would have been reduced by changed conditions over the remainder of the year, and by increased wage costs.

SCHOOL TEACHER LEFT BIG FORTUNE

MILLIONAIRE BEQUEATHED ESTATE TO FORMER CHATHAM MAN.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—An interesting account of the Canadian career of Arthur T. Walker, chosen as the residuary legatee of his great estate by Edward F. Searles, the Methuen, Mass., millionaire, is printed this morning by the World. Before Walker set his feet on the highway which led to the well rewarded position as Searles' secretary, he was a school teacher in a small Ontario town. During the three years he was at this school his salary did not much exceed $12 per week. As Searles' heir he is potential possessor of a fortune of $50,000,000. The World says:

Born in Hotel.

"Arthur Walker, the father now dead, ran the village hotel at Cedar Springs. It was in the hotel Arthur T. Walker was born. While he was still a baby his parents moved to Charing Cross, a village south of Chatham, the county seat. The population of Charing Cross to-day is not much more than 100.

"Here the future Searles' heir got his early education in a one-roomed school house, of the type in which he later became teacher. Anglican church services and festivals provided his chief diversion. In spare hours he helped his father with the hotel book-keeping, displaying a talent for such work, which led his father to send him to High School at Chatham.

Taught in School.

"It was here that he obtained the certificate authorizing him to accept his first and only position among his own people, that of teacher of the Merlin Village School. The life was not a lively one, but it was the poor prospect of advancement which impressed the young man most strongly.

"After calculating all the possibilities he resigned his place and headed for New York. That was twenty years ago, when Mr. Walker was twenty-two. He took the first place he could find, a clerkship, and by chance was thrown into the association which led to his selection by Searles as his heir.

"Mr. Walker has a brother, David, a live stock dealer, living on a farm not far from Charing Cross."

ALBERTA DEVELOPS PERSIAN SHEEP

CALGARY, Alta., Sept. 2. — Dr. John Patrick, whose experiment with Karakule sheep on his ranch, near here, has attracted wide attention, has been offered as high as $50 apiece for his Alberta Persian lamb pelts this year.

Dr. Patrick, in addition to five families of pure bred Karakules, has 1,200 grades resulting from crosses between Karakules, Cotswolds and Leicesters. The cross with the English breeds makes the grades much larger than the Karakule. These sheep shear from 8½ to 15 pounds, and 25 pounds in exceptional cases. Their wool is sold in New York to be used in the manufacture of Persian rugs and fetches a 50 per cent. higher price than native wool. Dr. Patrick's grades are being gradually bred up to Karakule type.

The breeding of Karakule sheep, it is believed, will develop into quite an extensive industry in Western Canada. The sheep are being bred already on several ranches. F. E. Dawley, nispector of the United States Bureau of Husbandry for New York, has forty-five head on a ranch north of Calgary, and recently located land in the Kamloops district of British Columbia on which he proposes to establish a similar ranch. Climate and conditions in the Kamloops district are similar to those of the native habitat of the sheep in the Bokhara district of Turkestan.

The fur known as Astrakhan or Karakule is the wool of lambs killed when three days old. It then has a crisp curl, which it maintains afterward in the most humid atmosphere. If the animal is permitted to live the wool gradually becomes straight, losing all vestige of curliness at maturity.

MINISTER CROWN LANDS RETIRING

FREDERICTON PAPER ASSERTS DECISION IS RESULT OF SERIOUS DISAGREEMENT.

(Canadian Press)

FREDERICTON, N.B., Sept. 2.—Hon. Dr. E. A. Smith, Minister of Crown Lands, is said by the Gleaner to-day to be about to retire from the Provincial Government.

Pressure of private business is being given as the reason for his impending retirement, by his colleagues in the Cabinet. The Gleaner says, however, that rates of stumpage far lumber cut upon the Crown lands and matters connected with the location of New Brunswick's first game preserve are the questions over which the differences have occurred, causing the first resignation that has taken place in the Foster Cabinet. One of the Government caucuses last session was the occasion when the row over the game preserve was staged, says the Gleaner. "The location which had been approved by Dr. Smith for the sanctuary interfered with hunting grounds and other interests in Victoria County, and Hon. J. F. Tweedale, Minister of Agriculture, after the matter had been often discussed at Cabinet meetings, took the question to the caucus as a court of last resort. The result was a sizzling row before all the Government supporters, which caused a lot of talk about the lobbies. When the stumpage question came up, it is said Dr. Smith personally favored a rate of not less than $7 a thousand and it is even declared that, supported by his Deputy Minister, he thus recommended to the Government as Minister of Lands and Mines. The Government's decision was a $5 rate and Dr. Smith's impending retirement is said to be the direct result.

When Premier Foster was asked this morning if Hon. Dr. Smith had resigned, he declined to either confirm or deny the report, and said he had nothing to say in the matter at this tme.

HAD NOT BEEN APPRISED OF MENNONITES' DECISION.

(Canadian Press).

QUEBEC, Sept. 2.—When Hon. Antoine Galipeault, Minister of Public Works, was informed of the Winnipeg despatch announcing that the Mennonites from Rhineland, Man., had decided to come and settle in Abitibi, he said that the Government had not yet been officially appraised of the fact.

Hon. L. A. Taschereau, the Prime Minister, is out of town, and is expected to return any moment.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Examiner:

In last night's paper I see that there has been unearthed a relic of Peterborough's prehistoric days in the form of a petrified human foot of gigantic size. I think that it should be placed in the Public Library here, as, found in Peterborough, it rightfully belongs to Peterborough.

Why send it to Toronto Is there not enough petrified relics there now? If it must leave our city and its old home, why not send it to Montreal, and—fill it with the old familiar juice! Perchance it might recover by and bye.

VERY RARE COINS.

Frank Gates, of 238 Victoria street, Kingston, has a collection of old coins, among which is one dated 1707, that he found thirty years ago while working at an excavation at the corner of Clergy and Upper William streets. The coin is in an excellent state of preservation, and the owner believes that its antiquity will be hard to beat in this district. Other coins in the collection are one dated 1768, having on one side the inscription, the legend, "In memory of the good old days," and on the other a replica of George Third. Another with an Irish harp on one side, and the date 1820 is rather original. The collection also includes one with the legend, "Pfenning," dated 1876, and two of 1820. A half farthing of the date 1843 is another interesting and scarce coin in the collection.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief For Acid Indigestion.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache, and inability to retain food are in probably nine cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and neutralise the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teasponful of Bisurated Magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness, or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralises the acidity in a few moments, and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antiacid, such as Bisurated Magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestents. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Bisurated Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.

MURDER VICTIM TO BE BURIED TO-DAY

ALTHORPE RESIDENTS AGOG OVER TERRIBLE TRAGEDY—NEIL SILENT IN PERTH JAIL.

OTTAWA, Sept. 3. — Althorpe, the South Sherbrooke hamlet, which was the scene of the brutal murder of Miss May Casey, 320 Lyon Street, last Monday evening, displayed an interest in the morbid details of the tragedy, and throughout the day residents of the district visited the Neil farm. No new developments, however, which would throw any further light on the inadequate motive which is said to have led John Neil to fire the fatal shot, were forthcoming, and the popular theory in the district tends towards the view that the man who shot Miss Casey was probably demented.

Neil is Silent.

Neil, accused of being the principal actor in the ghastly tragedy, is in the county jail at Perth, but last evening nothing could be learned regarding the probable date of his arraignment for preliminarp trial. It was stated that he had up to the present said nothing in explanation of his action.

The funeral of the victim took place this morning.

Fashions New Each Day!

There has been an endless chain of packages arriving for weeks past and still they come. We would not have it otherwise for we wish to keep our stocks at the high-water mark, in variety and quality. Then there is the style consideration — probably the greatest factor of all with some, for we have known persons who would disregard quality and purchase inferior goods if they had the right appearance. We have a fine regard for good looks, and in every bit of fall merchandise we have purchased we have demanded modishness, but quality first. If they have not the maximum of quality and modishness for the money, they have no place in our stocks.

INDICATIVE OF THE NEWEST TREND IN COAT MODES

THE MOST DISTINCTIVE and endearing garment that has been displayed in our show-rooms this season is this coat of African brown velour. The huge cape collar strikes a new note. It is so large that when permitted it reaches the waist line. It is banded all around with six inches of dyed oppossum and the patch pockets are of the same. A narrow string belt is shown at the waist line. The collar can be arranged in a variety of becoming ways that will afford great protection to the throat. The price is $115.

There are numerous ways for a coat to make its way into your good graces, and we are sure this one relies on the material which is coloured pom pom which falls in graceful lines and also the cape collar of beautiful sable and the deep cuffs to match. The back is fitted with a yoke and the pockets are inset and the lining is a figured Nipon silk to match the material. The price is $165.

Navy blue velour—as irresistible as ever and just a trifle more stylish in this number than in most. There is a collar of oppossum in the natural colour, that can be made high-standing or to lay flat. The skirt is made in set-on fashion with two box pleats at the back. The pockets are jetted and a floral silk in Pekin blue and Nipon quality furnishes the lining. The price is $109.

PORTRAYING THE CORRECTNESS OF THE SUIT MODE

A SUIT WITH MORE FEMINITY about it than most that are to be seen to-day" is a very proper way to describe this one of navy blue tricotine. The collar is dyed oppossum, and when you wish it to fit snugly around the throat you draw it together with two long strings that hang loosely in front. The cuffs are also of oppossum and the narrow string belt fastens with an ebony buckle. The pockets are loose round flaps that could be called saddle pockets, and the side panels they partly conceal are trimmed with shoemaker stitching. The price is $142.

Duvet-Delaine supplies the material for this charming suit of dark brown that follows the straight line silhouette. A high-standing collar of Hudson seal promises great protection on cold days. The back is pannelled with slot seams and pleats at the side; these pleats are edged with a series of bone buttons. You will like the cut-in pockets and the close-fitting sleeves. The price is $125.

This number abounds with neat distinctive touches, but its crowning merits are that it is navy blue and the material is tricotine. It is straight and slender with a little gathering at the waist line and also a narrow belt. The collar is Hudson seal and lays flat when open. On the back and a little of the sides are perpendicular rows of black braid that reach above the waist line. The pockets are braided and are cup shaped. The price is $125.

Gloves to Harmonize with the New Costume

These silk ones are quite different because of their flared cuffs, faced with contrasting colors, narrow, silk, feather-stitched band beneath which is the shirred strip of elastic at the wrist. You can have white with black or green or rose points, and facing, or pongee with brown or taupe with rose. The price is $2.75.

Washable Cape Gloves

They are smart with suit or coat. Some might call them mannish. At any rate they are modish. They have a flared cuff that fasten with a strap and pearl dome. The price is $6.75 a pair and the color is dark brown.

A Chamoisette Glove that is very similar can be had in buck or fawn and is priced at $1.75 a pair. A lower priced one of chamoisette is obtainable in grey or fawn and sells at $1.35 pair.

Overcoat Weather Will Soon Be Here

And You'll Be Looking for a Smart One And Also a Fall Suit

The thing to remember in buying clothing is quality, and the place to find quality is in The Cressman Clothes Shop for Men. There never was a time when it was more necessary to exercise greater care, in this regard, for there i much shoddy goods about that are unworthy even of a low price, and high prices are being demanded for them. When you purchase a Cressman suit you can be sure it is right. If it's not, we'll make it right. We have never hesitated to adjust an honest claim and never will.

Five Garments from the Redfern Store That Give a Correct Interpretation of the Mode

A lovely coat of Silvertone Velour, can be had in navy, brown or taupe. It falls in graceful ripples below the belt and has a broad shawl collar. Button trimming is much in evidence and it is lined to the waist. The price is $61.75.

French velour in moose color plays an important role in the appearance of this garment. The coat is made with a pin tucked back and panels at the side. The collar, cuffs and panels are trimmed with oppossum fur and there is a heavy quality satin lining. The skirt is two piece style. The price is $150.

This number of Silvertone is of that new and much admired shade of brown called Nubian. The oppossum collar contributes richness and dignity, and on cold days serves a purpose besides. The general lines of the garment are graceful and the lining is a floral silk poplin. Priced at $124.75.

The material in this number is a heather mixture and the coat is made in easy fitting style and has a tailored collar and revers. Buttons are discretely used for trimming and there is a narrow belt. The lining is green satin and the skirt follows the coat lines. Priced at $62.00.

This one is of men's suiting serge and can be had in navy, black or brown. The coat is prettily patterned with military braid and fancy stitching, and is pleated below the waist line. The collar is convertible and is a snug looking affair. A floral silk poplin is used for lining. The price is $52.00.

DISMISSAL OF FIREMEN IS CONFIRMED

Ald. Jones remarked that not all the complaints come from the officers. The men had complaints among themselves, which to his mind constitute the main trouble at the fire hall.

The Mayor contended that the chief issue was to secure efficiency in the brigade, and he spoke strongly in favour of an independent inquiry to assure eventually this end.

Has Been Investigated.

Ald. Whitehouse replied that the matter had been investigated. A fair and impartial hearing of all parties was allowed Monday night. He thought the whole thing, like a school children's quarrel among themselves. "We have a fire chief," he continued, "the head of the brigade, and all responsibility should rest with him. If he cannot assure efficiency then it is up to us to get a chief who can. We should probably have heard nothing of all this trouble had it not been first carried elsewhere."

Ald. Gordon did not think the brigade's physique quite as good as at one time; there are some good and some weak men.

Ald. Jones—"Where will one get as good men as obtainable some years ago?"

Give Chief a Chance.

Ald. Whitehouse—"We should give the Chief every chance to run his own department and hold him responsible for efficiency and service."

The Mayor here reiterated his opinion in favour of an investigation by parties independent of Council altogether.

Ald. Whitehouse—"Is not this suggestion of yours emanating from another source? We are always willing to hear suggestions from the Trades and Labour Council, but with all due respect to that body we are not going to allow any one outside Council to run Council's business."

Why the Change.

Ald. Gordon wanted to know why the Trades Council had changed their views. First they asked for investigation by the Council, and now they suggest an independent inquiry?

Ald. Crowe did not know; he was not present at the last Trade Council's meeting, although he fell in line with that proposition, which he urged on this committee Monday night.

Ald. Morrison saw no need for such action. The matter had been discussed fairly and openly at a meeting at which Mr. Tooms, the local labour M. P.P. was present.

A Steady Body.

Ald. Morrison, here turning to the Mayor, asked: "Have we ever had as steady a body of men on the brigade, during your long term on the Council as during the last few years?"

His Worship did not deny this.

Ald. Gordon—"No, we have not."

Lacks Experience.

Ald. Crowe contended that Chief Grange never had the experience to expect of him the fullest measure of efficiency as fire chief. It takes, he said, as evidenced in Toronto, years of experience to qualify a fireman for head of a brigade. There is always the chance to make mistakes, he continued, but Grange is a little despotic, at times sulky, and that aggravates the situation to some extent. Ald. Crowe was glad Ald. Whitehouse had summed up the investigation as submitted, but still he thought investigation from an independent source would be easier on the committee and more satisfactory to the public generally. In fact, he opined that Grange himself would invite such an inquiry. Ald. Crowe further contended that the Fire Marshall had authority to make such investigation, and he declared the marshall had investigated several cases in the province similar to that now before Peterborough's Council.

Ald. Whitehouse did not think the Council should allow petty complaints and bickering at the fire hall to call in outside intervention. "We have to give the Chief a chance to show that he can run the brigade efficiently, and if at the end of the year he has not made good then replace him." The alderman did not agree that there is any cause for an independent investigation.

Run Own Department.

Ald. Jones— "If we are not big enough to handle this department we had better get off the Council and let others who can take our place.

Ald. Crowe did not propose that the Chief should run the department any way he chooses.

SCOTCH FAMILY REACH THE CITY

TRAVEL IN A PRAIRIE SCHOONER, WITH THE SKY FOR A CANOPY AT NIGHTS.

With a gypsy-like cavalcade, consisting of a caravan, a prairie schooner, a couple of carts, eighteen horses and three dogs, Mr. and Mrs. George Stewart passed through the city this morning on their return trip from Ottawa to Toronto, which they have accomplished to date in four months.

The cavalcade halted on Brock Street in front of the Skating Rink, where a detachment of the twelve Stewart children were permitted to run loose for a few minutes; the only time they had struck terra firma since the previous day at five o'clock.

A Good Outing.

After extending a cordial invitation to an Examiner representative to make the return trip to Toronto with them, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart gave a lengthy description of their trip and other trips of a similar nature they had previously taken, the longest of which had been from Toronto to Colorado in 1915, when the Stewart family had numbered but eight, excluding the parents, the oldest of whom was about sixteen years of age.

The trip from Ottawa had been ideal, Mrs. Stewart stated in broad Scotch accent, which she accounted for by the fact that she was born in Scotland, and had been in Canada "just a wee while, maybe twenty-eight years." Nights, she said, were spent in the open, on a clear night, with the sky for a roof; sometimes if they were to be in the district long enough, with a tent overhead, and sometimes in the caravans. Days were spent in fishing and in travelling and in foraging for food, of which they always had plenty, and during all their peregrinations not one "bairn" was ill a day. "It's the life," Mr. Stewart assured the Examiner, "free, open and without a moment's worry outside of a windstorm, which occasionally uprooted the tents." The roughest portion of the journey had been coming through the mountains, when several night stands had been made, and coming through the region about Bancroft.

The party expects to arrive in Toronto, via Port Hope, some day next week, in time for the children to start the fall terms at school.

PLANS FOR EXPANSION DISCUSSED AT TO-DAY'S SESSION OF LETTER CARRIERS

NEED OF A SEPARATE BRANCH FOR THE FRENCH-SPEAKING LETTER CARRIERS.

The need of a separate branch for the English-speaking letter carriers of Montreal was urged by F. M. Healy, one of the delegates from that city, this morning in a debate on a proposal to appoint an organiing secretary.

"The French-speaking members all talk in French at the meetings," said Mr. Healy. "They are willing to translate for the English-speaking members what is said, but if five or six members speak successively in French the translations would take time. I am not saying that the English-speakng members do not get a square deal, but I do say we could get more if the carriers in Montreal had another branch for the English members. We'd have to have an organizer for that work anyway."

Mr. Healy said that an organizer was sorely needed in Montreal for work among the French and English-speaking carriers.

C. J. Only, Toronto, recommended Mr. Healy's suggestion to the convention. The two elements in Montreal could not progress unless there were two branches. There was no question of the speakers using their own language, Mr. Only said, but the possible benefits of two branches in Montreal seemed evident.

R. H. McDonald, of Toronto, also pointed out that an organizer could employ himself in trying to link up the departments of the service.

Vice-President W. A. McDonald, Hamilton, found the convention with him in the contention that an organizer should be under the jurisdiction of the Federated Executive.

"The men will take a cat-fit if they thought their dues were going up to one dollar a month," he said. "The letter carriers have made progress. No department has done as much as we have. The rest want to join up with us now, but its not so long since they wouldn't have anything to do with us. They wouldn't look at Letter Carriers on the street."

Omer Nantel, Montreal, said he was deeply impressed by the spirit of the convention, especially by the Toronto deputation. He would carry back glowing reports to Montreal and would work to make that branch as strong and united as Toronto.

President Menard added to the entente cordiate by recounting the work he had done with Mr. Healy in an effort to enlist more of the Enlish-speaking members. Two branches are not allowed in one city at present, but separate meetings for the English-speaking members had been considered in Montreal, but nothing had been done.

Voice of the West.

Among the Associated Postal Workers there is no such thing as carriers and clerks, said G. Bushell, of Calgary. "They may be too radical, but they have assumed the position that we're dead. We have arrived at a critical stage. We need new life. We are paying only 25c a month and are ten years behind the time. We can't jump ten years in a week. We must have our membership behind us. There must be growth by the education of the members up to the point where they will see the value of paying one dollar a month.

"If you want to get the west you've got to have the powder in your bag, show that we are solid and progressive. If we can go back and report that we are putting on an organizer and preparing to expand that will be an evidence of vitality."

Robert Reid, Peterborough, doubted that the majority of members were prepared to pay one dollar a month.

Resolution Carried

The first vote on the resolution to appoint an organizing secretary with power to adjust disputes between branches and the Post Office departments was 22 to 21 against. It was moved by A. E. Hull, Toronto, and seconded by Chas. Schippanowski, of Kitchener.

H. Bundy, Toronto, pointed out that quite a number of delegates hadn't voted. He asked for a recount with the demand that every delegate vote.

On the first count Montreal and Toronto had stood almost alone.

On the second vote the convention went almost unanimously in favour of the resolution.

A legislative amendment forbidding any Federated executive officer to correspond on an association subject with a member of any branch except through branch officers stirred up a controversy that ended with the convention's rejection of the proposal.

Several incidents a recurrence of which this amendment was designed to prevent, were threshed out yesterday afternoon. John Archer of Hamilton declared that the delegates were wasting time washing linen that was not exactly immaculate.

Communications between the executive and both the Toronto and Ottawa branches were the causes of the dispute.

Secretary McMurdie denounced the proposed restriction and stated that while he did not expect re-election he would not submit to the curtailment of ordinary privileges.

Invitations Received.

Invitations from the Y.M.C.A and G.W.V.A. to visit their buildings and make full use of their facilities were conveyed to the delegates by Mr. Reid, who also distributed this afternoon the souvenir booklets of this convention.

ELECTRIC RESOURCES PEOPLE'S PROPERTY

PREMIER DRURY PLEADS FOR FARMERS AND UNSELFISHNESS.

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—Before the Ontario Municipal Association this morning, Premier E. C. Drury again seized the opportunity to present his views on the Hydro Radial Commission, and to answer criticism of municipality representatives.

Pleads For Fairness.

The Premier pleaded for fairness and unselfishness, stating that he was "merely a man who wanted to know in order to do my duty." The government believed itself responsible he reaffirmed. "I have been misrepresented by interests which seem to be working to destroy the Hydro-Electric Commission as well as the government," he said. "I believe Hydro-Electric resources of the province are as much the property of the province as are mines and forests." He assured the delegates that the government had not and would not place a single straw in the way of development of power for the people.

Speed Necessary.

The Premier admitted that speed was necessary, and that it would be almost a crime to delay the development of a single horse power, with the fast dwindling resources of coal at the present time. He further stated that the Commission might find that there were binding contracts with some municipalities that could not be broken, but the government had the right to know the details.

CARNIVAL SPIRIT AT CHEMONG MASQUERADE

MAGNIFICENT COSTUMES AND EXCELLENT MUSIC CONTRIBUTE TO SUCCESSFUL EVENT.

A carnival spirit pervaded Chemong Park last evening,and every one entered whole-heartedly into the right spirit for carrying the fancy dress ball given by the cottagers to a successful conclusion.

Gypsies, Spanish ladies, Pierrettes and Quakeresses on the arms of bandits, Indians, clowns and pirates, and representatives of every country, filled the hall, and each of the masquerade costumes were so complete and so splendid the judges had considerable difficulty in distinguishing between the guests, and in picking the winners. The prizes, however, were finally awarded to Mrs. Fred Roy, "Harem Lady," first ladies, Miss Helen Thompson, "Egyptian Lady," second, and Mr. Gerry McClennan, "Son of the Soil," the gentleman's prize.

Excellent music was provided by the Syncopated Three.

Sun spots recently discovered are estimated to have covered nearly 500,000,000 square miles each.

NEW BRANCH OF C.N.R. TO BEDFORD

DESIGNED TO OPEN UP FELDSPAR DEPOSITS—LACKING RAILWAY TRANSPORTATION.

KINGSTON, Sept. 3.—There is likely to be a branch line of railway run from the Canadian National Railway into the Township of Bedford, starting probably from Westport. This line is designed to open up the development of feldspar deposits in the district that cannot now be reached owing to the absence of railway facilities. The feldspar in this district is regarded as one of the richest in North America. The only two other important deposits are in North Carolina and Maine, but the deposits in the Kingston district are said to be engaging the attention of the manufacturers of porcelain ware, electrical insulation, old Dutch and Sapolio, bathroom fixtures, fine tile and enamelware, including automobile enamel. The demand for feldspar as the basis of a great many manufactured ornamental articles is growing by leaps and bounds, and the Frontenac deposits have increased enormously in value.

Price Green, of the Canadian National Railway, has made an inspection of the proposed site for the branch railway, and engineers are about to be engaged to make a survey It is stated on good authority that a meeting of the feldspar men has been called to take place in Toronto next week, when strong representations will be drawn up and sent to the Canadian National Railway.

Several local men are interested in the proposal, because it is believed that opening up of the district will be good for business here. One of our factories, the Kingston Tile Company, uses a large quantity of feldspar. There is a likelihood, too, of the location of grinding mills at the pits so that there may be some control over the process of manufacture, thus utilising local labour as far as possible. Up to the present time, however, the ore has been exported direct from the mines by vessels from Kingston and Cobourg to the United States, where it was refined, and some deposits have already been purchased outright by Americans. The revival of local interest is a good sign, and the consent of the railway company to build a branch line will enable those now interested to develop the ores to the fullest extent.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—George Gavin Duffy, the so-called Ambassador of the Irish Republic to France, has been given twenty-four hours in which to leave France, it was officially stated here to-day.

BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY'S HEARING, 21ST SEPTEMBER.

OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—The hearing in the Bell Telephone Company's application for increased rates will open at Ottawa on 21st September, according to information received at the Railway Commissions offices this morning. It will be a preliminary hearing, when the company will be given an opportunity to present their case.

RESIGNATION OF FRENCH PRESIDENT DENIED.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Sept. 3.—An official denial has been issued from the Elysee Palace of the reports published by provincial newspapers, and widely circulated in Paris that President Descanel, at the request of Premier Millerand, had tendered a letter of resignation from the Presidency.

Well-informed circles, however, insist that Descanel will not return to the Elysee Palace. His probable successor is being openly discussed by politicians.

RESCUED BELLEVILLE CHILD FROM DROWNING

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 1. — Mr. George Belcher, caretaker of Belleville Parks, rescued a little girl at Victoria Park about two thirty o'clock yesterday afternoon. The child with another, was on the wall at the west side of the park looking at the water and lost her balance, falling over into the water. Fortunately the cries of herself and her companion reached Mr. Belcher who, rushing to the scene, jumped in and seized the child just as she was going down.

OAK HALL

LETTER CARRIERS HAVE LIGHT IN THE WINDOW FOR ASSOCIATES

MAKE A PLEA FOR UNITY IN THE RANKS OF POSTAL WORKERS THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION—YESTERDAY'S SESSION OF THE CONVENTION.

"The Letter Carriers have always followed the democratic principle that the right to drastic action remains solely in the hands of its membership, and should be called into action only after all other means of securing amelioration have been exhausted."

This clause in the Executive Committee's report, unanimously adopted at yesterday afternoon's session of the Federated Letter Carriers' convention, was a restatement of policy obviously intended for the benefit for the Associated Postal Workers who broke away several years ago following a disagreement over the methods employed in the Letter Carriers' strike.

The report, which was signed by President Pierre Menard, of Montreal, Vice-President W. A. MacDonold, of Hamilton, and Secretary Alex McMordie, of Toronto, dealt at length with the secession, 1918, following a disagreement over the methods employed in the Letter Carriers' strike. Signed by President Pierre Menard, of Montreal, Vice-President W. A. MacDonald, of Hamilton, and Secretary Alex McMordie, of Toronto, it referred to the present cry of the A.P.W. for unity among all postal workers. Why did the A.P.W. secede the report asked and what had their separation accomplished?

The Letter Carriers have the light in the window for the Associated Postal Workers, but apparently it is at a rear window, for the executive recommended that the first efforts toward affiliation or amalgamation be directed to unity of the postal bodies in the east. It also asked for Whitley councils, local and central, with equal representation thereon, and that salary schedules asked for by the proposed councils or otherwise be on the basis of $1,380 for the first year, $1,500 for the second, $1,620 for the third, $1,740 for the fourth and that the maximum be $1,860.

Need a Journal.

The executive mentioned the publication of a journal for the Letter Carriers, if it were thought expedient, providing the association would provide the funds.

It also recommended that the per capita tax for general expenses be increased to $3.00 a year. The A. P. W. tax is $9 a year to their members.

Approved by Committee.

The committee dealing with the executive report found that the Federated executive did all in their power to meet the secessionists, "and we cannot but agree that it was in the interests of the association to recognize and deal with the A. P. Workers as an association.

"We recommend that this association do all in its power to procure a working basis between the present postal organizations as outlined by circular upon the Federation of Postal Employees by affiliation.

"We agree with the Federated executive that the reclassification should be re-opened and fully discussed between the association and the Civil Service Commission; and to obtain this end we recommend that we make every endeavour to obtain a Whitley council form of representation to discuss this and other grievances.

"We consider their appeal for an increase of dues as fully warranted. The cost of administration increased at least 200 per cent. above our 1914-15 costs and we consider that $3.00 is a minimum upon which to base cost of administration

"We can realize that this association is crippled in its efforts to enlarge and to understand each other through the lack of a journal, and we would recommend that each member be asked to contribute 75 cents a year for a monthly journal. We believe that in good hands it will cost less than this to support if good advertising matter is obtained."

Progress in Britain.

Discussing the results of the Whitley councils introduced a short time ago in the Civil Service in Great Britain, Mr. Archer said that this system had been a complete success. Wages had been increased to £7 a week for letter carriers and the eight-hour day had been established. The important position attained by the Civil Service was shown by the fact that the secretary had seconded the recent resolution, which was virtually an ultimatum to the Government, that there must be no war with Russia. This was also an evidence of the power of amalgamation, said Mr. Archer, who asked the delegates if they could imagine the secretary of the Canadian service making a similar demand upon the Government.

Beneficiary Committee.

The Beneficiary Committee recommended non-concurrence in the proposal that the age limit for the Benefit Association be increased from 35 to 45 years. This was finally adopted with the whole report on motion of G. Bushell, of Calgary, seconded by Robert Reid, Peterborough.

J. North, of Toronto, presenting the report, said that it was doubtful whether the extension of the age limit with an increase in the rates would have the result of increasing or decreasing the membership in the Benefit Association. The schedule of rate increases was four cents a month for those over 35 years up to 45 years and over, for which the increase would be $1.92. It was believed that the association would lose more old members than the new members it would gain.

"There's no objection to increasing the rates," said Secretary McMordie, "provided the men will pay them, but it is doubtful whether we would lose or gain."

Last year the association paid $17,750 in insurance, and $7,000 up to the present this year. In two years 31 members had died.

R. H. McDonald, Toronto, suggested that a committee be appointed to approach the Civil Service to enquire upon what terms they would absorb the Letter Carriers' insurance. As an alternative, he urged that a campaign be launched to enlist every letter carried in the association's insurance. Otherwise, Mr. McDonald said, the Government should be asked not to appoint men over 35 years of age as letter carriers.

Easier Positions Available.

Alex. McMordie: They should not appoint men who are incapable of doing their duties. It is not the fault of these men that they are incapable, but there are easier jobs in the department these men could fill.

Increase Expense Account.

Another clause in the report provides that all delegates shall be paid railway fare for attendance at convention and $7 a day for expenses, the time not to exceed 15 days, the money to be paid from the general fund.

Annual Conventions.

The recommendation of the committee on amendments to the constitution that the convention be held annually instead of biennially was adopted on a motion by A. E. Hull and C. J. Only, of Toronto.

It brought up the question of providing for the resulting increased cost. One delegate suggested that this question should be deferred until the financial report was received, but John Archer, of Hamilton, stated that other organizations in the country held their conventions every two years.

Other members argued that it was the duty of the Finance Committee to take steps to meet the additional expense occasioned by holding the convention annually

Entitled to Delegate.

The section permitting two or more branches whose aggregate membership doesn't exceed fifty to unite in sending one delegate, was deleted for the reason that every branch is entitled to its own representation.

It was decided that members nominated by any branch need not be present at the nomination and election meetings, but should signify by letter his intention of acceptance.

Debarred from Office.

The motion allowing any member transferred to sorter, clerk, etc., to hold office in the Federated Association or any of its branches was defeated. When a member is promoted to superviser, senior letter carrier, or to other offices, he may retain membership but he is debarred from office except when promotions are temporary and do not extend over a period of three months.

Trades Congress Delegates.

Delegates from the Letter Carriers' Association to the Dominion Trades Congress shall be one from each of the three sections of Canada—east, centre and west.

U-BOAT PRISONER NOW TELLS HIS EXPERIENCE

Richard Cannon, Officer of Ill-Fated U.S.S. Neptune, Gives Story of Remarkable Adventure and Recovery.

Richard Cannon, Chief Petty Officer of the U.S.S. Neptune whose dramatic capture at sea by a German U-Boat and subsequent experiences aboard the submarine and in a German prison hospital, thrilled the entire country, is still another world war hero to test the remarkable reconstructive powers of Tanlac and give it his strong endorsement. Mr. Cannon's adventures were so harrowing that his constitution was completely shattered, but after months of sufferings he has now regained the wonderful health that enabled him to pull through his adventures alive and is to-day the same straping two hundred pound fighter that embarked on the ill-fated collier. But let him tell his own story:

"When the Neptune was torpedoed off the Irish coast," said Mr. Cannon, who now lives at 707 E. LaFayette, Tampa, Fla., "I had my right leg and five ribs broken by the explosion, and when I came to my senses I found myself on board a submarine bound for Germany. I was kept in a German prison hospital for five months, and you can imagine what I must have suffered when I tell you that I fell off in weight from two hundred and twenty-five to a hundred and thirty-one pounds. When I was repatriated and finally got my discharge in February, 1919, I was little better than a living skeleton. I had no appetite and my digestive system was so upset that what little I did eat always gave me severe pains in the pit of my stomach. Before I joined the service I never knew what nerves were, but after what I went through my nerves were so shattered that I couldn't keep still a minute and the slightest thing upset me. For six months I continued in this condition, unable to pick up strength, and so weak that any attempt at work tired me out completely. I began to think that I would never be a well and strong man again.

"But the way Tanlac overcame my troubles and built me up was nothing short of marvelous. It gave me such an appetite that I wanted to eat all the while, and I sure did make up for lost time. I had no more bother ith indigestion and from then on I picked up strength and put on weight until now I tip the beam at two hundred and four pounds and am as well and strong as I ever was before I joined the service. My nerves are as steady as a die and I'm like my old self again. Tanlac is certainly a grand medicine and I think every suffering person ought to try it."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co. Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

SPORTING NEWS, VIEWS AND GOSSIP

NEW LISKEARD ARRIVED AT NOON READY FOR TO-MORROW'S BIG GAME

The New Liskeard team with a squad of fourteen players arrived in town at noon to-day ready for their big game with the Petes at Riverside Park to-morrow, which promises to be one of the snappiest diamond clashes of the year. The New Liskeard outfit beat Lindsay yesterday despite the fact that Lefty McElroy turned in his best game of the season. The boys from the north hate southpaw pitching and they are bloating over the fact that Manager Solomon has no left-handers on his staff. Freddy Goyer stopped them in Belleville Wednesday and McElroy gave them all kinds of trouble yesterday, so they are glad to learn that all the Petes' twirlers are right-handers.

New Liskeard are very anxious to beat the local gang and have saved "Polly" Winks, their pitching ace, to send into action against the Solomon crew. Winks, one of the best twirlers in the north, is right on edge, and with him working smoothly, the visitors can see nothing but a win over the Central League champions. The Petes, however, have their own views on that subject. The game should be a real battle all the way for the Temiskaming champs are a very likely looking crew.

A census of the 31 members of the Resolute's crew reveals the fact that 22 were Norwegians, eight Swedes, and one a Dane.

"THE TERROR," MIX'S LATEST, IS DUE HERE

"The Terror" is the title of the latest Tom Mix thriller, which William Fox is to present at the Allen Theatre beginning to-day. This will prove one of the most stirring pictures with the rugged West as its background in which Tom Mix has yet appeared, if advance reports count for anything.

Briefly, the story concerns the efforts of "No Limit" Carson, a United States Deputy Marshal, to run down leakages of gold from the Sonora Gold and Copper Mining Company. Following an investigation Carson suspects Sheriff Canby and Con Norton, owner of the Odeon dance hall, who are using as their tools Fay La Cross, a dance hall girl, and Phil Harland, her lover, who is confidential secretary to the president of the mining company. It is only after a series of thrilling escapades that Carson brings the culprits to justice and wins the love of the sister of Harland, one of the suspects, who is found to be innocent.

The cast contains several sterling screen favourites, including the attractive Francelia Billington.

"DON'T TELL"

Nothng in the world is so boring as a pointless play; comedy, tragedy, farce or drama has its individual appeal in this country but, according to the most important of the American playwrights' rules, it must be served up quickly, and of course this very haste robs any thene of its chance to be developed with either finesse or analysis.

One is frequently apt to hear of a foreign play, which is being "adapted" for American consumption and one should just as frequently shudder whenever the "adapted" version comes along, for nine times out of ten its trans-migratory version will be nothing more nor less than another hysterical, fast-moving, highly-paced native work. Much has been written in America about the advisability of offering foreign works in the theatre here but most of these comments may be classed as destructive rather than constructive. When a Jazz Revue is done in America by a company of genuine Jazz artists, Jazz comedians, Jazz scenery all prepared by Jazz composers and authors, it is sure to be a popular form of entertainment. Take the same book, music, scenery, etc., and try to have them performed by a company of Danish, Flemish, French Spanish or even English players and the result is easily imagined. By reversing this statement and applying it to the French, Norwegian, English, Danish or even Russian performances of some of the "imported" works we see in this country, we easily arrive at an understanding of why so many foreign productions fail in this country. After carefully considering these elements William Morris, who is so well known to theatre-goers as the manager of Sir Harry Lauder, induced Mr. and Mrs. Graham Moffat to come to America this season and appear in Mr Moffat's new Scottish comedy, "Don't Tell," for which Mr. Morris secured the rights for the United States and Canada. The Moffats, it seems, have been playing their repertoire of "Bunty Pulls the Strings," "A Scrape o' the Pen," "The Concealed Bed," and other Scottish comedies in every other English-speaking country but until this year they have never appeared in America. "Don't Tell" is a typical comedy of Glasgow life and in order to preserve the dialect, the atmosphere, the characterization and charm of the work, Mr. Morris, afraid to entrust it to a cast of American players, induced the playwright to bring Mrs. Moffat, Miss Winifred Moffat and the entire original Scottish cast direct from Glasgow. They arrived in Canada about a week ago and will open their season in Ottawa on August 30th. After playing four weeks in Canada Mr. and Mrs. Moffat will present their new work in New York at a theatre which cannot be announced at the present writing in deference to the attraction which is now playing there.

"Don't Tell," wth Mr. and Mrs. Moffat will be seen here at the Grand on Saturday for one night only.

LOCAL FOOTBALL GOSSIP

DE LAVAL VS. CALEDONIANS AND WOOLLENS VS. C.G.E. ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON—OTHER ITEMS OF SPORT.

Two games under the auspices of the local Football Association will be played on Saturday afternoon for league points. At present the Caleys are heading the league with 4 points, G.W.V.A. 3 points, Can. Woollens and Comrades 2 points, C.G.E. 1 point and De Laval holding the cellar position. Of course the league is just started, and remember the De Laval will surprise some of them yet.

At the Oval the Canadian Woollens will entertain the great C.G.E. team and anticipate dividing the points. Mr. Frank McKinley will handle the whistle. Kick off at 3.30 prompt.

Down at the Exhibition grounds the De Laval will have the Caledonians as their guests. In last season's second league game the De Laval defeated the Calleys. Kick off at 3.30 prompt, with Mr. Frank Keller officiating as referee.

Canadian football sustained a great loss during the past week in the personof Mr. Tom Watson, President of OF.A., who was buried on Wednesday afternoon. The pallbearers were all officials and intimate friends of his from near and far.

The Comrades will practice to-night at the Exhibition grounds in preparation for the Labor Day game at 6.15 prompt. All players made welcome.

Congratulations, Ben Martin, on the occasion of your marriage and wish you every success in your new endeavour.

The next meeting of the local football executive will be held on Tuesday evening, Sept. 14th, in the G.W.V.A. rooms at 8 p.m. prompt. Please remember gentlemen time and place.

According to rumors a well- known local C.G.E. supporter intends putting himself forward as a candidate for refereeing. The local referees should get together some night and discuss technical points in football—it would be a great advantage to all.

Now that the vacation season is about over the committee that was appointed to confer with Father Phelan on the cup proposition will have to get busy and report to the executive.

The Caledonians have three Shaws, three McMillans and two Willshaws in their team.

Gash of C.G.E., is the first player to ask for his transfer since the local association became affiliated. He notified the local secretary and his claim sanctioned so as to become a G.W.V.A. player.

At a special meeting of the Ontario Football Association this week the Oshawa G.W.V.A. team were admitted members on affiliation basis, also Windsor and Detroit Football Association have made application to become affiliated so as to participate in Ontario and Dominion Cup Ties.

"MY SOLDIER GIRL" ALL DRESSED UP.

"My Soldier Girl," with a brand new book, music and production, is coming to the Grand, September 9th, for one night, with gorgeous costumes, elaborate scenery, clean, wholesome comedy, haunting melodies, a splendid cast and a brigade of bewitching girls. William Moore, the leading comedian, is the bright, particular fun-maker in this new musical show, with a big company of nearly fifty entertainers. "My Soldier Girl" is the work of J. Lorch Baber—that he succeeded in his efforts is attested by the remarkable hits scored by this brilliant musical comedy. Comedy predominates "My Soldier Girl," but the delicious foolishness is interspersed by charming musical numbers introduced by a remarkable chorus of singing and dancing ensembles fetchingly. No more gorgeous costumes have been designed for any of the great successes than are included in this brilliant spectacle. The scenic effects are bewildering from the opening of the first act, showing a grand lawn fete in progress at Colonel Stone's house, Miami, Florida, to the last act presenting a gorgeous Follies' setting on the roof of a New York theatre during a dress rehearsal.

Many friends will be sorry to hear that the well known secretary of the Comrades, Neil Porter, sustained a great loss through the death of his mother, and football enthusiasts extend their sincere sympathy.

The football schedule has only been opened two weeks, and during that period the Comrades lost McDougall, their inside left and the Caledonians Allen and Jas. McMillan. They desired a change of working conditions.

You have got to hand it to Edwards of the Vets for clever cartoon work. In the window of Mr. Fred Sutcliffe's barber shop there is a clever cartoon depicting the defeat of the C.G.E. The Caleys are represented by a brawny highlander with a conspicuous red nose and round his neck he has a horse shoe representing souvenier la guere. On the ground is the C.G.E. player lying with the foot of the highlander upon his back and on the ground is the mouse represented as saying, "He is getting a swelled head." Of course, Sandy is encouraged by the lady supporters crying, "Come on wee Bobbie." Sandy says, "I feel like Julius Ceasar or like the Comrades when they won their first game." There is also one of the Canadian Woollens and Comrades. Be sure and have a look!

On Labor Day in Toronto a great football bill is provided when Toronto and Montreal inter-city game will be played in the morning. In the afternoon the greatest football double header that has ever been staged in Toronto will take place. First game Toronto All Stars vs. Montreal All Stars. Toronto will have to get two clear goals to retain the Carls-Rite Trophy. Second game will bring together Winnipeg Brittanias and Hamilton Westinghouse in the final for the Dominion championship.

At the last minute the Caledonians have had to re-arrange their team owing to a few going to Toronto for the holiday and the team will be: C. Fenner, J. Service and Sam McMillan backs; J. McFeat, S. McMillan and R. McDowall, half-backs; J. Roberts, K. McKay, M. Shaw, Jas. Shaw and J. Willshaw forwards.

The Canadian Woollens team will be: Calladine, gaol; Hillman and Cridland, backs; Montgomery, Jackson and Barton, half-backs; Thorpe, Roberts, Chambers, Hodson and Clarke forward. Reserves, Styles and Rappae.

WINDSOR GETS PALM FOR HIGH LIVING COST

SUCH IS POSTIES' CONVICTION, EXPRESSED AT CONVENTION.

When Secretary McMordie read a telegram from Wm. Foran, secretary of the Civil Service Association, to the Letter Carriers' Convention yesterday afternoon, announcing that he would arrive in the city at eight o'clock to address the delegates at night,

"Tell him that we'll take it into our careful consideration," suggested Clayton H. Taylor, of Montreal, using the terms of official evasiveness.

"I move that we inform Mr. Foran that we have a theatre party to-night, and regret that we can't meet him, but that we will hear him to-morrow morning at nine o'clock," said A. E. Hull, Toronto.

Mr. Foran, however, couldn't fall in with this arrangement, and met a number of the men at the Empress Hotel. There was nothing important in this mission, Secretary McMordie reported.

The palm for the highest cost of living in this country was handed to Windsor yesterday afternoon when R. H. McDonald, of Toronto, contending that the letter carriers in the smaller cities didn't appreciate the economic conditions of the men in Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa and other large cities, declared that it cost 200 per cent. more to live in Toronto than in the other cities of the country.

Thomas Moore, of St. Thomas, pushed Toronto into its place by claiming the high price pinnacle for his own town, but when D. W. Rehder of London got through lo! Windsor's "name led all the rest."

BABY HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

What might be called a miracle occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Rivers, Otter Creek, near Tweed, on Sunday. The four-year-old son went to his father, complaining of a sore wrist, which proved to be burnt. When asked how he did it, he led them upstairs, which was filled with smoke. On investigating they found the mattress was burning on the bed where their 8-month-old baby was sleeping, and was found unhurt, which is remarkable under the circumstances. The lucky discovery of the fire and the presence of a fire extinguisher reverted what would have been a disastrous fire.

FARMERS PAY BIG TAX.

Official returns show that farmers in the Ottawa valley paid over three million in war income tax last year. David Muirhead, Renfrew, one of the auditors who investigated all doubtful cases of imperfect reports, says returns are likely to be less this year as they are based on the crops of 1919, which, in some places, were almost a total failure.

GUNS FOR RENFREW.

Two German trophies allotted to Renfrew have arrived and placed in Low Square. They are both formidable engines of destruction and have evidently been through some hard service. One is an 18-pound field gun, the other a 4.5 seige howitzer. The guns were captured in the war by the 3rd Battalion of Toronto. There were a number of Renfrew men in that unit, including J. M. Airth, a cousin of the Chief of Police.

The band concert that had been arranged to be given by the G.W.V.A. band at Juniper Island and Kawartha on Sunday, Sept. 5 has been cancelled owing to the early departure of so many of the summer visitors. There will no doubt be a number of concerts given next summer by this band when the visitors at Stoney Lake and Kawartha will have the opportunity of hearing them.

FOUR HEAVIEST HOGS.

The four heaviest hogs that have passed over the market scales this year were weighed by Market Clerk Mahood last Saturday. The four totalled 1,880 lbs, and one of the porkers went over 600. FORTUNE AWAITING AN UNNAMED WOMAN

PARIS, Aug. 24. — The Touring Club of France is searching for a woman to whom to hand a fortune.

In 1914 a M. Brunier left half his fortune to the club and the other half to a woman whom they were to find.

They are conducting an active search for her to-day, but the conditions under which she may benefit are so unusual that she will be difficult to find.

She must be the wife of a guide in the French Alps; she must live in a commune not less than 3,000 feet above sea level; she must have not fewer than seven children, and the children must have been born at an altitude of not less than 3,000 feet.

SOLD HIS FARM TO RESTORE BURNED CHURCH.

Eldest of Men Who Burned Building Has Made Restitution.

SUDBURY, Sept. 2.—Felix Courchesne and Ferdinand Rochon, the two Bigwood farmers who pleaded guilty some weeks ago to having burned down the Roman Catholic Church at Bigwood, on June 24, at the instigation of a large number of parishioners, were allowed off on suspended sentence by Judge Kehoe here. Courchesne, the older man of the two, has sold his farm and the proceeds will go to make due restitution. The burning of the church was the culmination of a three-year controversy regarding the situation of the edifice when it was first erected by order of Bishop Scollard. The two men were apprehended immediately after the crime, and acknowledged their guilt when arrested.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The report presented at last night's meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee will, no doubt, not be as satisfactory as was desired by citizens of the city who are interested in the Fire Department of the city from an efficiency standpoint. From the evidence brought out, it is felt by many that someone competent to judge as to the efficiency of a Fire Brigade should have been authorised to make the test.

The Fire Department, with the money that is being spent on it, should be one of the most efficient departments of the public services, and conditions should be such that all petty differences between the men eliminated.

The officers should be able to get men who will make first-class fire fighters, but they cannot be made such unless they are trained, and while not agreeing with the committee as to the manner of proving the efficiency of the Brigade, it is hoped that results will be early apparent in the work of the Department.

HON. F. B. McCURDY HAS BITTER FIGHT ON HAND.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—Hon. N. W. Wigmore, Minister of Customs, leaves to-day for St. John, N.B., for the nomination on Monday. The Minister is expected to be elected by acclamation. From Colchester County, where Hon. F. B. McCurdy is sure to be opposed by Captain Dixon, the news is quite different. It is frankly acknowledged in Government circles that the new Minister of Public Works is having quite a fight on his hands. Farmers have brought many outside speakers into the constituency and the fight is getting hotter every day.

VOL. XVLII. NO. 55 PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1920 PRICE THREE CENTS

Great Britain Is Recovering Her Commercial Position

PRESIDENT WILSON ASKED TO INTERVENE IN BEHALF OF LORD MAYOR OF CORK

TELEGRAM SENT TO AMERICAN EXECUTIVE SIGNED BY TERENC MACSWENEY'S WIFE—WAR-SHIPS SENT TO BELFAST.

TROOPS ARRIVING

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Sept. 4.—President and Mrs. Wilson were yesterday asked by Muriel MacSweney, wife of the Mayor of Cork, who is dying in Brixton Prison, to intervene in his behalf. Her cable to President Wilson read:

"You, sir, enunciated the principle of self-determination for all nations. My husband, Terence MacSweney, Lord Mayor of Cork, lies dying in an English prison because he upholds and fights for self-determination. He is prepared to sacrifice his life for that principle. Tried by a foreign Court, which is not recognised in his native land, and forcibly cast in jail, his only possible weapon of protest is refusal to take food. I ask you to use your influence with the British Government to prevent the perpetration of this outrage on civilisation."

"(Signed) Muriel MacSweney."

TROOPS ARRIVING.

(Canadian Press.)

BELFAST, Sept. 4.—A light cruiser and a torpedoboat destroyer have arrived in Belfast Harbour to protect the shipyards from possible damage in the event of a recurrence of the rioting.

Another battalion of troops reached Belfast yesterday from England.

DUBLIN, Sept. 4.—Inquests by coroners have been prohibited in the counties of Cork, Clare, Galway, Kerry, Limerick, Longford, Lough, Mayo, Roscommon, and Tipperary, according to the Gazette.

The functions of these officials will be performed by Courts of Inquiry operating under the Army Act, the newspaper says.

A BAD NIGHT.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The Lord Mayor of Cork spent a bad night, and this morning was very pale, and was suffering from complete exhaustion, being able to speak only in gasps.

The only indications that he was suffering severe pain were that his brow was heavily wrinkled and his face badly shrunken. He was still conscious, however.

His brother, Sean, remained with him during the night, and the other members of the family are maintaining a constant watch.

WORKED IN TWO MINUTE RELAYS

DESPERATE EFFORTS OF MEN ENTOMBED IN SUBMARINE.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4.—According to a report made by the commander of the destroyer Beaver, who received his information from the imprisoned men, it was the desperate efforts of the men on board the submarine S5 and, not the telephone buoy, as first reported, that attracted the attention of rescue ships and made possible the rescue of the crew of the undersea craft which went to the bottom of the Atlantic off Cape Henlopen. The crew learned that the stern of the submarine was above water, and, working desperately, they gouged a small hole through the iron hull. To do this they climbed up the side of the ship, slanting at an angle of about sixty degrees. Through this hole they thrust a pole with a sailor's white undershirt tied to it and waved signals of distress, which were seen by the "Alanthus," the first vessel to pass twenty-seven hours later. While making a hole, the storage batteries were flooded and chlorine fumes released. The sickening fumes drove the crew from the compartments, and they were forced to work in the darkness, aided only by small flashlights. The men worked in two-minute relays. They could not stand it for longer periods.

6,000 AWAIT SHIPS IN SICILY; MANY AMERICANS HELD ABROAD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—The State Department has received a report from Palermo, Italy, stating that American citizens and Italian residents of the United States, who have gone to Italy to visit their relatives, have been unable to secure early return passage to the United States, particularly in second and third classes as all the accommodations on the passenger steamers are taken up several months in advance.

The report stated that on Aug. 1 there were more than 6,000 persons in Sicily awaiting transportation to the United States and that the steamship service from Palermo consisted of one sailing at intervals of eight days, the steamer embarking an average of 400 immigrants each time. The delays, the report added, have caused considerable hardship.

Politics in States

HENRY LANE WILSON TAKES A SLAM AT HIS NAMESAKE.

OGDENSBURG, N.Y., Sept. 4.—President Wilson was described as an "autocrat of secretive methods and unknown purposes" and his administration was characterised as a "circus of autocracy and incompetence" by Henry Lane Wilson of Indianapolis, formerly ambassador to Mexico, in a speech before a Republican meeting here.

Mr. Wilson said that the Democratic National Convention at San Francisco endorsed the Wilson administration, but rebelled "at the dictation of the French Lick political syndicate," and nominated Cox.

"For the moment this nomination was believed to be the signal for the throwing off of the shackles of Wilsonism," continued the speaker, "but this belief was soon dissipated, for the standard-bearer of the Democratic Party made his pilgrimage to Canossa and, standing bareheaded in the presence of the autocrat of America, made his submission, received the autocratic blessing and the autocratic kiss of peace, and went ou his way to make America safe for democracy.

"The mnatle of Elijah, with all its patchwork of autocracy, wastefulness, internationalism, secrecy, arrogance, and intolerance, was transferred to Elisha and humbly accepted by Elisha. Mr. Hyde was transformed into Dr. Jekyll."

Most of Mr. Wilson's speech was devoted to comment on President Wilson's administration.

He criticised the covenant of the League of Nations along the lines upon which it was attacked in the Senate, and declared the League "a failure and a by-word and a hissing among the nations of the earth."

LOCAL DEMAND FOR LUMBERMEN

MANY APPLICANTS AT LABOUR BUREAU DURING THE WEEK.

The great demand for men now comes from the lumber camps, Hugh Robertson, of the Labour Bureau, told The Examiner to-day. Wages from 70 to 75 dollars a month are being offered, with board, but the men are not being strongly enticed, even by the high wages. There is a surplus of machinists, due to the American car plants laying off many men and the Canadian plants at Oshawa following suit.

During the week they had 51 applicants—348 vacancies were reported, mostly made up of lumbering jobs; 33 men were placed, and 5 shipped to outside points.

The Women's Department experienced a very quiet week. The demand for domestic help continues unabated, and female workers for the factories are also in demand.

Improved Conditions in the Money Market Reported During Week

IMPORT MOVEMENT OF GOLD ENABLES POOLS TO RESUME BULLISH OPERATIONS—MORE HOPEFUL VIEW RESPECTING TRADE PROSPECTS.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Rails were a dominant feature of this week's broader dealings in securities, both shares and bonds showing greater activity and strength than at any time since the return of railroads to private ownership. Extreme advances of 1 to about 5 points were registered by speculative issues of roads traversing western and south-western territories. Their gains were doubtless being accelerated by the forthcoming movement of large crops.

The advent of September brought easier conditions to the money market; rates for call loans relaxing visibly, while time funds, though quotably unchanged, were in moderate supply for three and four month period. This development, together with the inauguration of extensive import movement of gold, enabled pools to resume their bullish operations in industrials and specialties, although further trade advices tended to confirm recent reports of backward conditions. Reviews of general industrial and commercial situation by Federal Reserve Board and other qualified authorities emphasised the need for further caution in the exercise of credits. In the main, however, a more hopeful view was entertained respecting trade prospects, this being based largely on the likelihood of further reduction of commodity prices.

Amend Constitution of Letter Carriers At To-day's Meeting

EXECUTIVE EMPOWERED TO CALL FOR A REFERENDUM VOTE ON ALL CASES OF WAGES OR IN ANY EMERGENCY.

The Federated Letter Carriers this morning amended their constitution empowering the Federated executive to call for a referendum vote on all cases of wages or in any emergency without waiting for instructions from branches. The resolution was vigorously advoacated by the Toronto delegates and was moved by R. H. McDonald and E. V. Browning.

Several times during the convention the question of latitude of the executive's powers in emergent questions introduced itself with the implication that the executive officers had been remiss and had lacked aggressiveness in promoting the interests of the members. Toronto's complaint was that the executive had not been responsive to them when they took a strike vote several months ago at the time Hon. Mr. Rowell told them that if they went out the government would fill their places. There was also a reflection that the executive had not taken sufficient action to oppose the five year clause in the re-classification announced a short time ago. This clause excluded from the salary increase those carriers who had received a raise since April 1st, 1914. Delegates contended that the intent of this discrimianiton was to cause dissention in the Association.

Defended Themselves.

President Menard, Montreal, Vice-President W. A. MacDonald, Hamilton and Secretary Alex. McMordie of Toronto, stoutly defended themselves and denied the insinuations that they had in any way neglected their duties or had failed the letter carriers when questions involving their welfare were at issue. They declared they had adhered strictly to the constitution in its restriction that a referendum will not be taken unless demanded by at least five branches, of which not more than two from one province.

"That's just why this was introduced," said A. E. Hull of Toronto. "We wanted to get the feeling of the convention toward extending the authority of the executive when important questions arise."

"Too Slow."

Mr. Browning said that the Toronto carriers felt that the executive had been too slow, but Vice-President McDonald replied that the Federated executive would never exceed their authority. Had other branches supported Toronto's action and asked for a strike referendum there would have been immediate action by the Federated executive.

Mr. McMordie told the convention that the objectionable features of reclassification had been opposed and drawn to the attention of the Department, but the branches themselves had not pressed their objections.

The First Stage.

This debate went through its first stage on Thursday afternoon and consumed two hours of the late session last night after the automobile trip the delegates enjoyed as guests of the Board of Trade.

Five Year Clause.

The convention decided to ask for the elimination of the five-year clause in the reclassification of the Carriers and also that no discrimination be made between married and single men.

The suggestion of E. Lemire of Ottawa that delegates receive their regular pay while attending the annual convention produced two opposing opinions.

"It's like asking a man whose head your going to cut off to turn the grind stone," said Chas. Schippanowski, of Kitchener.

"I don't agree with that at all," answered F. M. Healy of Montreal, who said that the Carriers were working in the interests of the Postal Department and the general public, apart from consulting their own interests.

"Would carpenters or bricklayers ask their employers for pay while attending conventions?" asked H. Bundy, of Toronto.

Fred Bushell, of Calgary, moved that instead of asking for pay while at conventions the delegates ask the government for free transportation over the national railways and from the convention cities.

"Better ask for first class," said T. Moore, St. Thomas. "They might give you third or a box car."

"A Buffer."

Alex. McMordie remarked that the resolution would be referred to a Railway Board, which was only a buffer. He discouraged the hope that the government would accede to this request.

The government's action in demanding a refund of the extra subsistence allowance of 60 cetns a day granted to military postal clerks to meet the increased cost of living in London where they were serving during the war was condemned. R. H. McDonald's motion asked the government to refund the money that had been paid and that its demand be discontinued. Many carriers who volunteered in 1914-15 had their cheques held up until they signed a promise to pay back that subsistence money at $5 a month. They then had to agree to $20 amonth being kept back in their pay. Some men had to pay as high as $500.

"Other soldeirs were discharged without strings to them," said a delegate, "but because a man is working for the government they are holding back money that was paid him to meet the cost of living conditions under which they worked in London." The motion was unanimously adopted.

Thanks to Peterborough.

John Archer presented a resolution conveying the thanks of the delegates to Mayor McIntyre and the City Council, the Board of Trade, Labour Council and local Letter Carriers and to everyone who had helped make their visit so pleasant.

New President.

Wm. A. MacDonald, of Hamilton, was elected president, defeating E. V. Browning of Hamilton by the vote of 33 to 18.

SCRATCH MY BACK

INDUSTRIES FACE SLUMP

GREAT BRITAIN IS RECOVERING FROM UNFAVOURABLE TRADE BALANCE.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Sept. 4.—Great Britain is well on her way to regain commercial position which she held before the war days, says an official monthly summary issued by the American Chamber of Commerce here. The Chamber based its opinion of July returns received by the Board of Trade which makes the best showing since the war. Great Britain's adverse trade balance being reduced to eight millions compared with thirty-four millions for June. The present outlook is not so good, says the Chamber's statement. Some industries are facing a slump and unemployment was rising slightly at the end of July. It adds, however, that the depression is only thought be to temporary, as the world is still badly in need of goods and a re-adjustment of prices will increase the demand. Among the unfavorable factors mentioned apart from the threatened miners' strike, is the decrease in many lines of British exports to the United States, by which sterling exchange is kept down. Moreover rising costs has continued, notably as regards bread, butter, petrol and railway freight.

FIREMEN HAD RUN TO SAWDUST PILE

A REMINDER OF THE LUMBERING INDUSTRY OF THE PAST.

A relic of the days when saw mills doted the banks of the Otonabee river is to be found on the north side of the London street dam. It is a large sawdust pile diminished only by the erosive action of the water which pours over the dam at that point. The mill that was responsible for this deposit was located on the plateau to the north of the sawdust pile. Near the mill the lumbermen camped and established a beanery which turned out huge supplies of pork and beans. This and many other evidences of the lumbering industry of the past have disappeared, but not so the sawdust pile. The latter, like the Otonabee, runs on forever. It not only refuses to vanish like many other landmarks of the past, but it persists in imposing itself upon the public mind of to-day through the medium of another arch conspirator known as spontaneous combustion. Every year or two it will suddenly burst into flames, and smoke will belch from its vitals. This means a hurry call for the fire department and a little excitement for the small boys of the neighborhood. An incident of this kind was recorded yesterday afternoon. The firemen and about fifty small boys gathered on the scene and after a consultation lasting several minutes it was decided to lay a line of hose and attempt to extinguish the smouldering fire.

CORONER'S JURY BROUGHT IN VERDICT OF ACCIDENTAL DEATH IN NICHOL'S INQUEST

HEARING WAS CONCLUDED LAST EVENING—ROAD TOO NARROW AT POINT WHERE CAR WENT OVER.

THE EVIDENCE

The inquest into the death of Dickson B. Nichols was resumed last night at eight o'clock. Shortly after ten o'clock the taking of evidence on the case was concluded and after an hour and a half the jury brought in the following verdict:

"We the jurors empanelled to inquire into the death of D. B. Nichols find that he died in the Nicholls Hospital in the city of Peterborough on August 28, 1920, as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident which occurred on August 27, near a culvert on the Keene road about three-quarters of a mile east of Downer's Corners in the County of Peterborough. We are of the opinion that the road is too narrow where the culvert is situated and unsafe for travel, and recomend that the road be widened and a proper railing erected on the culvert."

Coroner Dr. Greer presided. Crown Attorney G. W. Hatton examined the witnesses. The jury follows: R. H. Carr, J. B. O'Dette, R. Hardill, W. J. Padgette, M. Neary, J. Pecord, William Tully, William Shea, Charles Stapleton, William O'Toole, J. F. Thornton and George W. Johnston foreman.

J. G'Brien represented the Nichols Estate at the inquest. Eight witnesses gave evidence. As there were no witnesses of the accident the cause of it could only be conjectured. George Logan and J. S. Coons offered two explanations. All witnesses asked agreed that a railing is needed at that place and the jury acted on these statements. The measurements taken by the jury of the road show that the road could stand to be wider and they incorporated this in their recommendation as well.

Doctor Called.

Dr. Malcolm McCulloch was called first to give evidence. He stated that he was called about 3.45 Friday morning to attend the injured men by George Logan. He arrived there he believed about 4.15. He told how when he arrived Mr. Nichols was lying on the side of the road bleeding from the nose and ears. Mr. Gliddon was lying unconscious under the car. They rushed both men to the Nicholls Hospital at once. Mr. Nichols went into a comatose state at the Hospital and his condition grew rapidly worse until he died early Saturday morning.

Dr. McCulloch pointed out that the approximate scene of the accident on the suburban road map. The car he said was on the side of the road, standing on its fous wheels with the lights still on.

The doctor said that he did not examine the ground at the time, but being past the scene to-day he examined it. The culvert he said was no wider than the travelled dust portion of the road and was unguarded by any railing. The drop into the ditch, he believed, would be about three feet.

Cause of Death.

There was no post-mortem examination, Dr. McCulloch said. From the symptoms he said the cause of death he certified to was a fracture at the base of the skull. The doctor said that Mr. Nichols was able to move

CORONER'S JURY

when he first saw him. He spoke to him, asking him about his injuries, he said, to which he replied in a dazed way. "I found no evidences of liquor," Dr. McCulloch replied to the Crown Attorney's queries in this regard.

The deceased offered no excuse as to the cause of the accident, the doctor said.

Dr. J. B. Mann was next called. He assisted Dr. McCulloch at the hospital the following morning about 9.15. He and Dr. Moir were called in consultation with the first physician. He agreed fully with Dr. McCulloch as to the cause of death.

George Logan, the saxophone player in the Syncopated Three, the leader of whom is Paul Gliddon, son of Rupert Gliddon and who was playing in Hastings that night, and one of the young men who found the injured men, gave evidence.

Postion of Cars.

Mr. Nichols' car left first, he stated, their car following directly afterwards. They were ahead of the other car when the accident happened. They passed them at the Campbelltown cheese factory, he said. Here Nichols' car moped for a short time, coming on in a few minutes.

When the accident happened they heard a crash. The three young men jumped out and went back about a hundred yards. The car was on the south side of the road, its four wheels at right angles to the road. Mr. Nicholls was sitting back on the car, while Mr. Gliddon was pinned under the fore part of the car.

The young men took Mr. Gliddon out and then rendered first aid to both men. Mr. Gliddon and he, the witness stated, started out to find a farm house, but gave up their course and came into the city with their car to get a doctor.

Regarding the road Logan stated that he would say the road was wide enough for two cars to pass comfortably. The ends of the culvert were grass grown he stated. The car took the ditch east of the culvert on the south side. The witness was sure the car passed over the culvert and took a complete turn-over from the rebound. The left wheels were lowest down into the culvert, the rights travelling along the top. If the car had got on the road before it struck the culvert it would have been all right, the witness said.

Car Jumped Culvert.

Mr. Stapleton and Mr. Pecord declared that it was impossible for the car to have passed over the deep culvert but the witness held to his contention, giving a full explanation of why he believed this. The impressions of the tires in the ditch, the witness said, plainly pointed to the car jumping the culvert. There were no tire marks for some distance and this corroborated his opinion of the car turning turtle.

Paul B. Gliddon, son of Rupert Glidon, next gave evidence. Gliddon was driver of the first car. He added to Logan's evidence that the car he was in was going about 20 or 22 miles an hour.

Bert Duffus, of the Duffus Motor Sales Co., testified next. He went out to the scene of the accident at 10 o'clock Friday morning with one of the workmen, Llewellyn Douglas. They went out to bring Nichols' car in. The car was a little west of a telephone pole which is about 12 feet from the centre of the roadbed.

All of the wheels were on the car but the left rear wheel was badly smashed up and the tihe and rim torn off it. Such a break might be caused by a complete turn over he said. The windshield was completely smashed.

He didn't notice any wheel tracks about the culvert he said .He admitted that the smashed wheel would not run far. There was no evidence to show that it had run far. He said he had heard of accidents being caused by the rim coming off with the tire.

The rim was taken off by the car when it passed over the culvert, Mr. Logan believed, when again in the box.

Sergeant John L. Dennard, who went back with Constable Boyd and Gliddon to the accident when they came in for help, gave evidence. He added that Nichols spoke to him in the ambulance but lapsed into unconsciousness after they passed the locks. The culvert was fully as wide as the road he said.

Sergeant Deannard gave the following measurements made with the jury: The width of the road at the culvert allowing a safe distance at each side, 13 ft. 8 in., enough for two cars to pass easily with a one-foot margin on the north side.

Drop from the level o' the road to the bottom of the culvert—4 ft. 10 ins.

Distance from culvert to where car found—64 feet.

Ed. Elliott, county clerk, was called to the box to identify the road on which the accident happened.

"Could you tell the jury whether that is a county road a township road, or who is responsible for the upkeep of it?" asked Mr. Hatton.

"The county is. That is a county provincial road."

Mr. J. Stanley Coon, a brother-in-law of the deceased, was the last witness. The last time he saw Mr. Nichols was about 9 o'clock Thursday evening. He knew nothing of the accident except what he heard. He examined the scene on Sunday.

He did not coincide with Logan's version of the accident. "My opinion of the cause of the accident is that he went over the culvert. I did not think his front wheels went into the culvert. The witness said that he thought he might be passing another car and turned out his rear wheels, getting into the culvert. The witness believed the rear wheel with the spokes broken was broken when it slipped over the culvert. He agreed that the car may have turned right over.

He stated that in his opinion if there had been a railing there it would have prevented the accident. He had passed the culvert innumerable times in the last few years and he never knew it was there.

SECOND CROP RASPBERRIES.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Tunks of Centreville, have some raspberry bushes of which they may be justly proud. Miss Florence Tunks has shown a small branch of a bush, probably fourteen inches in length, and on this were to be found no less than fifty-six berries. Twenty-six of these were ripe, and of the most generous size, many of them being almost like medium-sized strawberries. The balance were in varying stages of development, and would have ripened within a few more days. This is the second crop this year for these berries. The first crop ripened in July, and from the bushes a crate was picked. Saturday morning eight boxes were picked from the second crop, which began to ripen the last week in August.

BUMPER CROPS ON LULU ISLAND

GRAIN SO HEAVY IT HAS LODGED FROM SHEER WEIGHT.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 4.—Heavy spring rains and the beneficent sunshine of July and August have coaxed from the fertile soil of Lulu Island one of the best crops garnered in years, and the harvest season will be a short one.

Lulu Island farm lands vary in a most marked degree. This is perhaps true of all "made" land, the alluvial deposit which settles one day being covered the next with shifting sands. Sometimes a one-acre "farm" is as streaked as the family bacon, layers of heavy clay, silt, and sand alternating. This results in varying yields, and the condition is only remedied by the use of fertiliser. One field may yield 100 bushels of oats to the acre, while across the fence a beggarly 30 bushels is the result. This the farmer is largely responsible for.

Near Bridgeport, Sexsmith, and Camble may be seen some of the finest crops ever grown anywhere. Near Branscomb is an oat field where the binder could only cut half a swath, the grain being so high and heavy that a full cut choked the machine, and the sheaves would not pass through. This field will yield well over 140 bushels per acre. Wheat in the same vicinity should thresh 60 bushels, while several of the barley, hay, and rye crops would turn an experimental farm expert green with envy. Reeve Bridge, of Richmond, boasts a crop of hay this season which makes other records look small. From 36 acres, 180 tons were cut, or an average of five tons per acre. At $30.00 a ton, this looks like $5,400.00.

Over on No. 1 road, running south from the North Arm of the Fraser to Steveston, is a section of country reminding the visitor of the Alberta prairie. During the hazy days of August the sea is not visible, and the open country seems to stretch away for miles. Large farms are the rule here, and some bumper crops have rewarded the farmers this season.

The Fowler Farm, given over largely to oats, has a stand of grain—now being cut—which will average 125 bushels to the acre over a large acreage. The grain is so heavy in places that it has lodgd from sheer weight, and has to be raised to be cut.

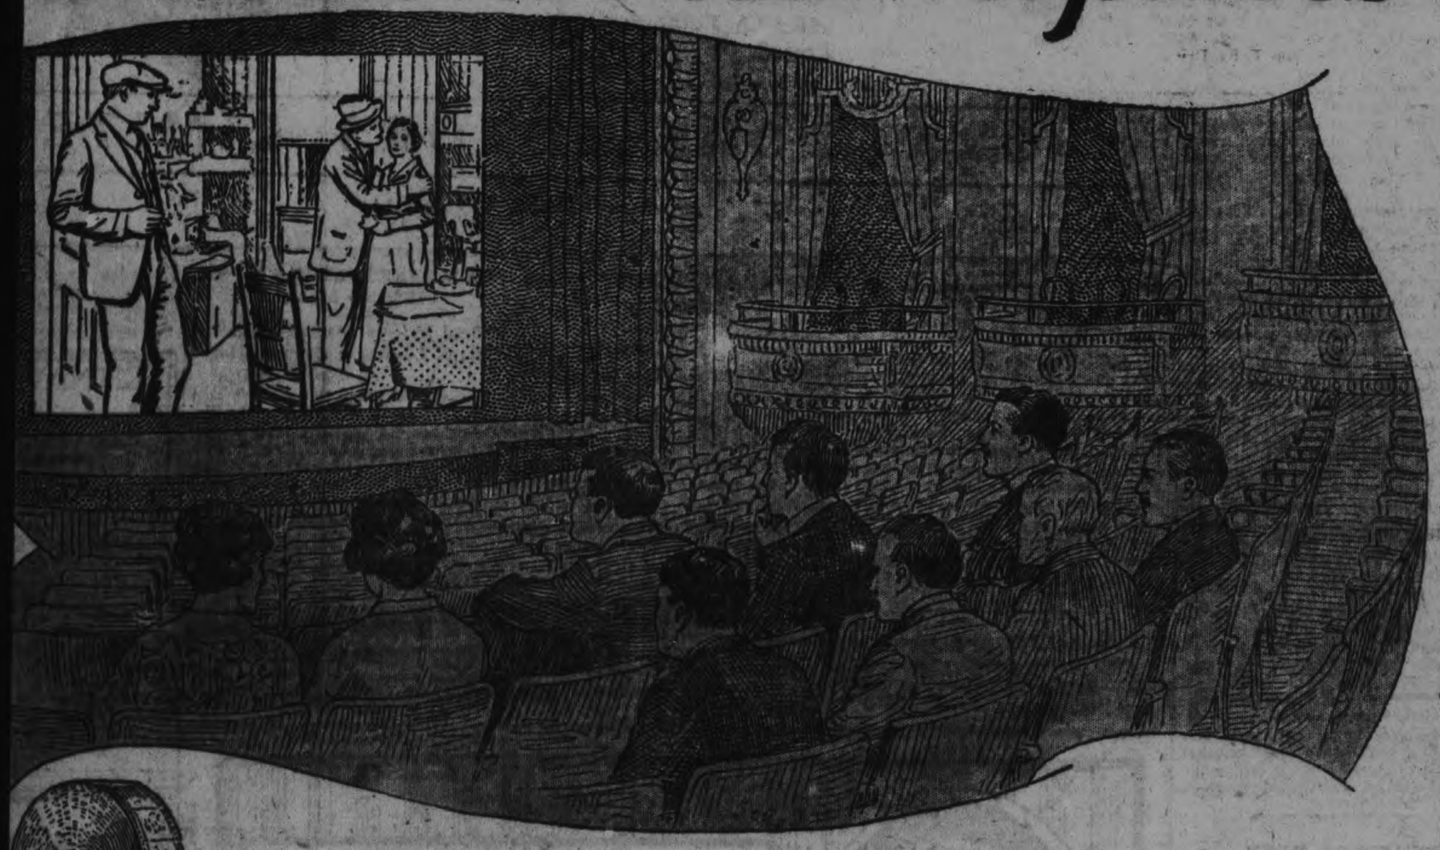
Allen Theatre Enterprises


A Selection Board that Really Selects
Picture the chemist, if you will, or the expert who grades wheat or woollens, teas or fine silks.
They are looking for the element of high quality, rejecting or classifying the impure, the shoddy and the mediocre.
In the building of Allen picture programs for three score theatres, the Allen Selection Board performs a similar service, providing the daily "movie" menu for 100,000 Canadian people.
Feature pictures, comedies, educational pictures, news films, propaganda plays, plays for children and special subjects—these are submitted in numbers for the approval or rejection of the Selection Board.
The Board sits every Thursday at the downtown theatre of the Toronto Allen group. The personnel includes the chiefs of the organization, all of whom view the picture from a different angle.
The executive head responsible for the outside theatres is mentally booking each picture for certain theatres. It may suit Moose Jaw and find a cool reception in Quebec.
The chief director of orchestras is watching the picture closely, arranging a suitable musical score and "cueing" the various scenes.
As the picture proceeds a button at the "reviewing stand" is pressed and a bell rings in the operator's room. A discussion follows as to one scene, and it is decided to eliminate certain features. The film is marked and the "screening" proceeds.
A picture by a Canadian author may attract others to the trial run. The author himself may see the producer's conception of his story for the first time.
Certain standards are observed by the Board and while no "uplift" theories are professed, enforcement of such standards brings about a wholesome program, from which the vicious, the tawdry and low sensationalism are eliminated. Anything that might appeal to depraved tastes is strictly censored. Human, wholesome pictures are the eternal objective.
The Allen Selection Board is the critic of a thousand pictures in a year—from its decision the pictures must pass to the "higher criticism," that of the whole people. They have approved, it may be said with pardonable pride.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

SATURDAY, SEPT. 4TH, 1920.

LABOUR'S HOLIDAY.

Monday is Labour Day, the annual holiday of the workers of Canada. It is a matter of rejoicing that although many parts of the world are in the midst of industrial upheaval and unrest, Peterborough is most happily free from labour troubles on this anniversary and that the conditions in the local plants are such as to make for satisfied employees and amicable relationships between the executive heads and the army of workers. The local labour forces have arranged a fitting celebration for Monday and the citizens generally will doubtless be glad to co-operate with them in making this occasion a memorable one. The best of weather and a splendid attendance will be the general wish for Monday's demonstration.

IMMIGRATION.

One of the Canadian newspaper men present at the Toronto Exhibition for Press Day, in his address at the directors luncheon, expressed the sentiments of his brother editors all over the Dominion when he dwelt upon the question of carefully selecting the immigrants coming into Canada. He declared that they should be either British subjects or people who are willing to become subjects of Great Britain and to adopt the ways of Canada. In the past it has been most certainly true that too little care has been exercised in the selection of immigrants and too much attention has been paid to securing numbers rather than quality. The mistakes of the past should in themselves tend to make the authorities more careful in this regard. Much better it is for Canada to fill up slowly with the right class of immigrants than to throw open the gates to newcomers who wish to preserve their own national customs and habits and who have no intention of becoming citizens of Canada in the true sense of the word. The west especially has had its share of the latter class and western newspapers are a unit in advising more attention being paid to the calibre of the new arrivals from across the Atlantic.

A CALLOUS THREAT.

"We are willing to fight the Board of Commerce with Toronto babies," is the statement credited to J. P. Griffin, secretary of the Toronto Milk and Cream Producers' Association in reference to the order of the Board of Commerce suspending an increase in the wholesale price of milk. Whatever the true facts in the matter under dispute may be, the Examiner is not prepared to say, but at least it is apparent that the Association is ill served by having as secretary a man who calmly proposes that in order to bring the Board of Commerce to its knees the suply of milk upon which the lives of thousands of Toronto children depend shall be cut off. Mr. Griffin declared that if the Board persisted in forcing its orders the milk producers will stop the supply of milk in Toronto. Apparently the producers do not care what would happen to the children in such an event. According to their secretary they are prepared to use the little ones as a weapon with which to fight for a higher price for milk. Surely, however, the members of the Association, or the majority of them at least, will repudiate Mr. Griffin's callous threat and declare that so far as they are concerned the babies shall not be deprived of the milk supply that is so vitally required.

SOUND REASONING.

In announcing an increase in subscription to $2 per year, the Kincardine Review thus goes into "ancient history" in regard to relative values: "When the present publisher of the Review bought the business, a year's subscription would buy a cord of wood two feet long; now we have to give the paper for three years for a cord of wood sixteen inches long. Since then all the products such as we buy directly or indirectly from hundreds of our subscribers have increased in the same ratio. The $1 we got from the farmers for The Review would buy 8 to 12 dozens of eggs, from 6 1-2 to 8 pounds of butter, 15 to 20 pounds of fresh beef or pork, 2 to 3 bushels of potatoes, 18 to 20 pounds of fowl, while now a year's subscription will only buy us a peck of potatoes, less than 2 dozen eggs, 3 or 4 pouds of beef or pork and about 2 pounds of bacon. Flour was in those days only 52 to 52.25 per hundred pounds; today it is over $7. We could add more to this list to make the comparison complete, but these should be sufficient to show any reader that he or she is still getting the best of the deal in an exchange of commodities. A newspaper at the new price is still the cheapest article that can be purchased to-day.

THE QUESTION OF DRILL.

The question of drill for the fire department is one of the most important features of the present controversy and the explanation is made that there have been no drills because there is not sufficient accommodation and because a practice tower is needed for ladder training. However, the average citizen can see no reason why the firemen should not be given daliy "setting-up" exercises such as are used in the army, which will serve to keep them in good condition physically and prove a cure for that spirit of unrest that is bound to creep in among a body of men who have not enough work to keep them busy. At the same time it should be possible to select buildings around the city where ladder climbing and similar training drills could be carried out. A tower such as proposed would be an added expenditure and it is difficult to see how better results could be obtained from its use than could be secured by the method suggested above. The cost of the fire department is already a heavy burden on the taxpayer and eager as they are to have an efficient brigade they are not prepared to assume any further obligations unless they are convinced that what is asked for is necessary. And it has by no means been brought out that further equipment is needed for training purposes.

THE CHURCH AND THE BETTER DAY.

Addressing the archbishops and bishops assembled in London for the great conference of the Anglican Church, King George urged that the church should take the lead in dealing with the solution of vexed social problems. There has been some cynical comment on the suggestion in certain English newspapers which have quoted the old proverb, "Shoemaker, stick to your last," but it is a question if King George was not really voicing the deeper feeling of the nation, and of the world at large, when he looked to the great organised bodies of religion for help in difficulties.

It is possible that there is sometimes a confusion of the word church. There are those who visualise the church only in terms of archbishop and bishop, synod or conference, cathedral or chapel, those whose idea of the church setting itself to the solution of a problem is chiefly the appointment of a new committee of bishops or clergy. We feel sure that it was quite another idea that was in the mind of the King when he asked the representatives of a great church body for their help in making England better and brighter than it is today. We rather think that what the King thought of was the force of "all good Christians" exerted silently but none the less surely on the objective of "making straight the path" and "the rough places plain."

There has recently been witnessed the collapse of a great church effort in the United States that for a time seemed to have within it the possibilities of great things for that country. It is a little difficult, so soon after the tragedy, to estimate all that contributed to the collapse, though the mind recalls that old passage which declares that God is not in the whirlwind, or in the hurricane, or in the tempest, but in the still small voice. And that still small voice, today, as in all times past, is in the hearts of the men and women the world over who prove their love to God by their service to their fellows.

There are great forces at work among the Christian men and women of the world to-day, as there have ever been in times of testing. It is sometimes said that men are not being raised up to-day as they were raised up in days gone by, that there is no Savonarola, no Saint Francis, no John Wesley, to kindle a flame that, sweeping through the hearts of men, inclines them to new love for erring mankind and zeal for its redemption. But men are raised up as William Booth was raised up almost in our own day to be a light to the wandering and the lost, and, as well, to kindle new spiritual zeal in the age-old churches. Of our own day it is perhaps more accurate to say that its spiritual phenomena is not the raising up of men but of masses. It is the day of united effort with not a little of the crusading spirit revived. When has the world seen missionary organisations like those of our time, when has it seen the Sunday School movement so great a force for the betterment of mankind as it is to-day? And when, since the time of Saint Francis, has there been such a gathering of men into Christian service as is taking place to-day? The Brotherhood movement is no little parochial affair, bounded in its vision by its own denomination or its own associates. The Brotherhood movement is realising in the lives of thousands of men to-day the desire they have to lend a hand to the other fellow. Here, in our own city, brotherhoods are doing more than anything else to break down denominational rivalries and sectarian prejudices. It is because these things are absent that an appeal can be made to men and they can be enlisted for a real man's work. The brotherhoods do not sing "I want to be an angel," because to them the life of an angel seems rather inferior to the life of a man among men. Work for the good that is nighest still has some advantages over dreaming of greatness afar.

The world has its fill of troubles these days. After all, it is the work of humble men and women in every street and in every home that betters things far more than all that the politicians or the parliaments or the synods or conferences ever do. King George's appeal to the great army of those who love God is not falling upon deaf ears or indifferent hearts.—London Advertiser.

WINNIPEGGERS TAKE TO WEEK-END HABIT

THOUSANDS PATRONIZE TRAINS TO OUTLYING POINTS.

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 4.—There has been a great development of the "week-end" habit among Winnipeggers this summer. The city's summer resorts have had increased popularity equally among those who camp at the lakes for their vacatoin periods, or who go down for the Saturday-to-Monday outing.

Many thousands of young people have patronized evening trains to Winnipeg Beach and Grand Beach for the bathing and dancing—"Moonlights," these trains are called by the railroads; "Spoonlights" by the jocular These beaches on Lake Winnipeg have the advantage of being comparatively close to the city, but they do not by any means exhaust the resources of the district for those on recreation bent.

The Lake of the Woods district claims its devotees in greater numbers every year, and in addition to the hundreds of Winnipeg folks who have their own cottages, many of them their own islands, the hotels at Minaki, Kenora and Keewatin have been filled all season. Every fisherman has his favorite lake down arcund ehe eastern boundary of Manitoba or just across the line in Ontaro, and the season is close when the duck hunters come into their own.

Chicago and Boston are now on an equality in one respect. In both places the street car fare has been hoisted to 10 cents.

GRAY-DORT

THE nation-wide friendship for the Gray-Dort cannot be based on price alone, for there are cars selling at lower prices.

Evidently motor car buyers have determined for themselves that the value and thrift of the Gray-Dort are very unusual.

In less than five years the Gray-Dort has outstripped, in demand and production, a dozen cars which have been on the Canadian market longer. It is now one of the four largest-selling cars in Canada.

At the present rate of sales, the market will shortly be bare of Gray-Dorts. The wise purchaser will act at once.

COST MILLIONS FOR WATER SUPPLY.

(Canadian Press.)

REGINA, Sask., Sept. 4. — Seven million dollars is the minimum cost at which the southern part of the province can be supplied with water from the South Saskatchewan River. This is the estimate of the Saskatchewan Water Supply Company, and is based on a wood stave pipe line being used. If a concrete pipe line is adopted, th cost will be eleven million dollars. Should it be found necessary to adopt this type of construction to make the scheme a success, it would be financially impracticable at the present time, according to Major A. J. McPherson, chairman of the commission. A steel pipe line would cost thirteen million dollars.

(Canadian Press.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 4.—August 23 was the fiftieth anniversary of the occupation of Fort Garry by the troops under the command of General Wolseley, afterwards Viscount Wolseley. The expedition was undertaken for the purpose of re-establishnig the authorities of the Crown, whch had been usurped by Louis Riel, and when the army reached the fort they found it evacuated and the rebel leader and his followers fled.

In honour of the event, arrangements are being made for a dinner, which will be attended by all the survivors of the party in Canada who can be communicated with, as well as the local survivors, among which are numbered several of Winnipeg's now prominent citizens. The date has not yet been set, but it will be either on or before 15th September, when the last of the volunteers from Eastern Ontario arrived.

Of the veterans of what is known in history as the Red River Expedition Winnipeg has now among its residents: Col. Jack Allen, Sir D. H. McMillan, Sir Hugh John Macdonald, R. I. I. Jones, Joseph F. Tennant, W. A. Shepard, John Post, Dr. Chas. Bell, W. F. Alloway, W. Peel, W. Volumn, Geo. Fulthorp, W. G. Douglass, P. C. Hallady, and Robert Bullock.

STEAMER OVERLOADED.

On the arrival of the steamer Britannic at Kingston on Friday from Brockville, it was discovered that the craft was carrying over the alloted number of passengers and about 100 citizens of Gananoque, who had boarded the boat at that point for the Limestone City, were compelled to return home by rail at the expense of the Cornwall and Montreal Transportation Company, owners of the Britannic.

ANOTHER MIRACLE OF THE MARNE

FRANCE IS VICTORIOUS IN PEACE AS WELL AS IN WAR.

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—France's "victory of peace" is her reconstruction "nails the lie that her people are not working," Herbert S. Houston, New York publisher, declares after a period of research at Paris whence he recently returned.

Offering statistics showing remarkable rehabilitation in former devastated regions, where German divisions wrought havoc in industrial, farming and mining sections, Mr. Houston characterizes the recovery of the French people as another "miracle of the Marne." In an article in the current issue of World's Work, he says:

Government Loans.

With Government support, including loans totalling 9,609,082,916 francs for agricultural and industrial reconstruction in "devasttated departments," the French people have reopened 5,345 out of 6,445 schools existant before the war; built or rebuilt 28,200 temporary wooden and 16,800 permanent stone dwellings, and erected 28,500 wooden barracks to replace houses destroyed; cleared 3,339,000 hectares (a hectare is about 2½ acres) out of 3,950,000 of barbed wire and trenches; employed 1,500 men pumping out and cleaning up flooded mines; rebuilt 475 out of 600 railroad bridges, with 80 more in course of construction; re-opened virtually all of 1,100 kilometers of canals destroyed and rebuilt 136 wharves and built 28 new ones.

"To-day, less than two years from the armistice, the population of the invaded regions has grown from less than 2,000,000 to more than 4,000,000, approximately three-quarters of the pre-war population," Mr. Houston says, adding that the return was "not that of the prodigal son."

Americans Help.

American committees have done much to help France rebuild, Mr. Houston declares, adding that introduction of farming machinery to the French peasant probably was America's best contribution.

"As a result to a considerable degree of this mechanical assistance, greatly increasing the producing power of the fewer workers, the devastated regions in 1920 will raise enough crops for food," he predicts.

On the industrial reconstruction of France, Mr. Houston asserts that 300,000 workers now are employed in French mills and 2,627 of the 3,508 factories destroyed in the war have resumed production. During the war the destruction in mill centers was very great, 80 per cent. of the textile mills in Lille having been destroyed; all 40 mills in Armentieres wiped out; in Fourmies only 50,000 bobbins remained out of 700,000 and Roubaix and Turcoing "had the same degree of destruction."

Chapter of Achievement.

"So it was throughout the whole industrial region of the north, the great workshop of France," Mr. Houston says. "The tale of rebuilding, now to be added to Frenchmen's annals, will always be a chapter of achievement, almost as important and vital as the defense against the German invasion."

By 1922, Mr. Houston asserts, France hopes to have her mines producing again, with about 2,000 miners working where 17,000 labored before the war. Within five or six years after that she expects to be working up to three-quarters or before-the-war production.

Reclaiming Fields.

"The lie that France is not at work should be seared on the lips of everyone who utters it," writes Mr. Houston. "If she is not at work, how can she be reclaiming her fields, rebuilding her roads and houses and factories and towns, and re-establishing the shattered life over one-fifth of her territory? That she is doing that, anyone can see who visits France or who takes the small trouble to look up the facts. And she is doing it before she has received the indemnity pledged to her by the Peace Treaty and re-pledged again and again by every one of her allies."

Rinso

Not a Cake Soap—not a Washing Powder—a wonderful new cleansing soap in fine granules. So rich and pure that it dissolves instantly in water and stirs up in a bubbly tubful of lather. So great is its cleansing power that clothes need be soaked in it but a few hours—then rinsed—and they're clean! Yet Rinso is as absolutely harmless as pure water itself.

Use Rinso continuously and your clothes will stay new and fresh in color, because they are never boiled or rubbed.

NINE-YEAR-OLD GIRL KILLED BY MOTOR TRUCK

Climbed on Vehicle, Fell Between Rear and Front Wheels.

TORONTO, Sept. 2.—Suddenly loosing her hold of the motor truck on which she was hanging yesterday afternoon nine-year-old Marion Perry, of 23 Hounslow Heath Road, fell between the rear and front wheels of the vehicle, was run over and fatally injured. She died in the office of Dr. Gillis, 1435 Lansdowne Avenue, a few minutes after the accident.

The story of the fatality is to the effect that the truck, owned by George Trutch, 117 Caledonia Avenue, and driven by 16-year-old Artex Golden, 116 Gilbert Avenue, was proceeding east on Hounslow Heath Road when the girl ran into the middle of the road and catching hold of the side of the truck, swung herself upwards toward the footboard. Trutch, who was with Golden, warned her off, and in attempting to alight, she fell under the wheels. The unfortunate girl was removed to the doctor's office, where she died. After being examined by Detective Alexander, of Keele Street station, Trutch and Golden were allowed to go. The body of the child was removed to the Morgue, where an inquest is to be held.

CANADIAN AVIATOR FLEW FROM ENGLAND TO EGYPT

TORONTO, Sept. 1.— Captain G. W. Higgs, of this city, a member of the R.A.F., who returned to active military service from sick leave in Canada two days after the signing of the armistice, has arrived back in Toronto, having been demobilized only three weeks ago. Capt. Higgs holds the honor of having successfully made the flight from England to Egypt, a journey so dangerous that at least sixteen lives have been lost in unsuccessful attempts. He is the only Canadian to make the trip. His parents reside at Kemptville, Ont.

INQUIRY INTO GIRLS HOLDING MEN'S JOBS.

KITCHENER, Sept. 1.—The Kingston branch of the Army and Navy Veterans have passed a resolution asking for an inquiry as to the employmen of girls in Government positions so as to find out to what extent thaey were holding positions that should go to returned men. It was felt that in the cases of daughters of soldiers or supporters of widowed mothers their should be no interference.

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—Rev. Dr. Andrew Grant, of Toronto, president of the Social Service Council, and Chief Justice Lemieux, of Montreal, have been invited by the Hon. Arthur Meihgen, as Prime Minister, to represent Canada at the forthcoming meeting of the Anti-Alcoholic League in Washington, D.C.

CHATHAM MAY TAKE OVER STEAM HEATING COMPANY

CHATHAM, Sept. 1.—The proposition to take over the plant of the steam heating company and operate it next winter as a semi-public owned utility is not popular among all of the members of the retail merchants' association. It was stated yesterday morning that a large number of the merchants are considering the installation of thier own heating systems rather than depend upon the steam heating company which fell down badly last year during the cold weather. It is quite likely that before winter sets in a large number of the merchants will have dispensed entirely with the Chatham steam heat.

POINTS TO TRAGEDY.

DEPOT HARBOUR, Ont., Sept. 2—A small gasoline launch was found pounding against the rocks at the harbour entrance during a squall Tuesday night. The engine was running and the boat contained a campine outfit and a man's coat and hat. A search party arrived from Parry Sound and identified the boat as belonging to Henry Kerr, missing from his home in that town. An all day search has revealed nothing more.
